PARIS, March 19.—Senator Naquet, and Deputies Laguerre and Turquet, who are being prosecuted by the Government for their connection with the Patriotic League were arraigned before an examining magistrate to-day. They refused to answer the questions put to them and declared that as their prosecution was of a political nature and illegal they would only justify themselves publicly before the Correctional Tribunal.

An Exciting Day in Hungary's Diet.

PESTH, March 19.—In the lower house of the Diet to-day Herr Eoetoves, a member of the Opposition, charged Premier Tisza with procuring the construction of railways where he owned estates, for the purpose of increasing their value. Herr Tisza, who was received with cheers, refuted the charges. Herr Baross, Minister of Public Works, also repudiated the charges and condemned the attempt to slander the ministers. The House, only the Independents dissenting, resolved to take formal notice of the replies of the ministers. Count Stefan Karolyi said that although he was opposed to Premier Tisza he did not approve Eoetove's tactics and he moved a resolution that the House emphatically repel the calumnies against Herr Tisza. The House applauded but the resolution was not put, Herr Tisza declaring that the manner in which he had been received completely satisfied him.

In the vestibule a man supposed to be a lawyer insulted Herr Rohonczy, a Liberal deputy. The latter fired a revolver at the man, hitting him in the thigh. The wound is not serious. The shooting caused great excitement among the students, who had assembled in large numbers outside, but they dispersed quietly.

Ex King Milan at the Austrian Court.

PESTH, March 19.—Emperor Francis Joseph granted an audience to ex-King Milan of Servia to-day. The Emperor will give a dinner to the ex-King to-night.

The Pope and the Universities.

ROME, March 19.—The American College gave a grand dinner this evening in honor of the leaders of the American pilgrims. Many prelates were present. Bishop Keane, President of the new Catholic University at Washington, spoke in English, Latin and French. His remarks were much applauded. The Pope's vicar, Cardinal Parocchi, delivered a powerful Latin oration on behalf of the Pope. He expressed the Pope's admiration of American institutions and spoke of the deep interest taken by His Holiness in the birth of the Washington University, which he regarded as one of the chief glories of his pontificate. Cardinal Schiaffino spoke in Italian. He sketched the work of the Catholic Church in establishing universities in all ages and in all countries.

Rector Pacquet of the Quebec University tendered his congratulations on the birth of a sister university, and wished it prosperity.

The Pope presented his portrait by Ugolini.

A Change in Saturn's System.

GENEVA, N.Y., March 19.—Prof. Brooks, director of the Smith observatory, has obtained several observations of the new white region on Saturn's ring and announces his discovery that the light is variable and that pulsations of the light at irregular intervals have been detected by him. This evidence of a change in Saturn's system is of the highest scientific interest.

To Investigate Canadian Railways.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—At a meeting of the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce to-day arrangements were made for pursuing the investigation of Canadian transportation matters ordered by resolution of the Senate Aug. 3, 1888. It was determined to meet in New York City May 15 and spend a week there examining witnesses. It is probable that before the summer is over the committee will go as far west as Duluth, if not over the entire length of the Canadian Pacific road.

Oklahoma Boomers Fired Upon.

CHICAGO, March 19.—A Topeka (Kan.) special says: "The United States District Attorney has just received a telegram from Oklahoma Station stating that the boomers at that point had been fired upon by the regular troops and that further violence was hourly expected."

ONTARIO'S LEGISLATURE.

Another Debate on the Teaching of French in the Public Schools.

TORONTO, March 20.—There was another debate in the Assembly yesterday on the subject of the teaching of French in the schools. When the Provincial Treasurer moved the House into supply, Mr. Craig moved an amendment that all the words after "that" be struck out and that there be substituted therefor the following:

> The English language is the language of the Province of Ontario, and no system of public instruction which does not ensure that in every school aided by Provincial funds or supported in whole or in part by local taxation, the teachers employed are capable of imparting instruction in the English tongue and that not recognize and act upon the recognition that every pupil is instructed in it, and which does the English language is to be the language of such schools and require that the books in use in them, except those employed in giving religious instruction when and where such instruction is permitted by law, shall be approved of by the Department having the charge of educational affairs; is satisfactory to this House or will meet with the approval of the people of this Province

Mr. Craig said that he wished to provide not only regulations and laws but to see that they were carried out. Such regulations did indeed exist making the teaching of English obligatory. But unfortunately these regulations had not been carried out. He asserted that there were schools in the Province where English was never taught, and contrary to the claims of the Minister of Education the teaching of English was not increasing in these schools and was being gradually driven out.

The Attorney General replied that while, perhaps, as he understood the motion there might be no objection to it, brought forward as it had been an insuperable difficulty was created. It had been offered as an amendment to go into supply and therefore forced a division upon the House. Secondly, the amendment asserted the right to legislate in regard to the text books used in the Separate Schools. The Attorney-General was not prepared to say that the House had that jurisdiction. It seemed to him that it had not.

Mr. Meredith contended that in all matters of a non-religious character the state should be supreme. He hoped Mr. Mowat would recede from his position, and that it would not go forth that the educational interests did not belong to the people of the country. There was no reason why this question should not be considered on its merits exclusive of party feeling.

The Minister of Education characterized the amendment as a parliamentary trick by which a censure upon the Government might be secured. With regard to that portion of the motion which stipulated that every teacher should be able to teach English, the fact was, said Mr. Ross, that all these teachers could teach English.

Mr. Evanturel claimed that the French of Quebec had made far greater concessions to the English minority there than did the English of Ontario extend to the French minority in this Province.

Messrs. Fraser, Clancy, Caldwell, Creighton and Hardy also spoke and the amendment was voted down on this division:

In the evening the House went into supply. A number of items were passed, after which the estimates with the exception of a few items were concurred in.

In the discussion in committee on Mr. French's bill to amend the law of slander Mr. Meredith contended that the provisions contained in that amendment should extend equally to men as to women. To discriminate against men would be unjust and unfair.

The Attorney-General was of opinion that whatever merits the provisions might possess it would be out of the question to extend them to women. It was decided that the provisions should apply only to women. But little of the original measure could be recognized when the committee rose.

An assorted lot of other bills also received consideration in committee.

Mr. Ley's bill to prevent the spread of contagious disease among horses and other cattle was read a second time. On motion of Mr. Ostrom, his bill to amend the Saw Logs Driving Act was discharged.

The House adjourned at 10.40.

DUE TO DRINK.

A New Yorker Cuts his Throat with a Penknife at Belleville

BELLEVILLE, March 19.—A man named H. D. Smith, aged about 32 years, from Gloversville, N.Y., committed suicide at the Henderson House in this city at 9.30 this evening. He had retired to his room in the second story of the hotel about 9 o'clock and in about half an hour he committed the deed. The instrument used was a small penknife, which he thrust into his neck in close proximity to the right ear, cutting the jugular vein. He then raised the window and jumped to the sidewalk below, a distance of about 15 feet. He was immediately carried into the hotel, but breathed his last before medical aid could be summoned. The cause which led him to commit the deed is unknown, but it is supposed to be drink.

Woodstock Notes.

WOODSTOCK, March 19.—The temperance people are taking a verbatim copy of the petitions for the repeal of the Scott Act. They report that nearly one-third of all the names are from the town of Woodstock, although the whole county was thoroughly canvassed by the repealers. At least 160 of the Woodstock names are duplicates, some of them quadrupled. A large number of Scott Act meetings are being held just now throughout the county and the temperance people are resolved that the white flag shall not come down in Oxford.

Rev. W. McKinley has resigned his charge of the congregations of Innerkip and Ratho. Rev. Messrs. McKay and Robertson with their respective elders are to confer with the people in regard to the matter.

These are the commissioners from the Paris Presbytery to the General Assembly to meet in Toronto next June: Dr. Cochrane, Rev. W. T. McMullen, Rev. John Thomson, Rev. G. Munro, Rev. W. A. McKay, Rev. D. M. Beattie. Six elders are yet to be appointed.

Ida's Revenge.

DETROIT, March 20.—Miss Ida Corneau has entered a complaint in the Police Court against Joseph Brule for intent to kill and murder. Brule is the young man who about two weeks ago shot at Miss Corneau, after which he tried to put a bullet in his own brain. He is still at the hospital but will probably recover.

Peel Reform Convention.

BRAMPTON, March 19.—The Reformers of Peel met in convention here to-day, 120 delegates being present. Mr. K. Chisholm, M. L.A., was selected as the party standard-bearer for the Local House, and Mr. Joseph Featherstone of Toronto Township for the Dominion House.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE BUDGET DEBATE BROUGHT TO A CLOSE.

Sir Richard Cartwright's Amendment Defeated on Division—A Lot of Deputations at the Capital.

OTTAWA, March 20.—In the House of Commons yesterday Sir John Macdonald laid on the table the correspondence and other papers relating to the Jesuit Estates Bill, which were called for under Mr. Barron's motion.

The Budget debate was resumed and continued throughout the day, it being the day when, under the arrangement across the floor of the House, the debate was to be concluded. Mr. Cockburn, the member for Center Toronto, was the first speaker. He tackled his brither Scot, Mr. McMillan of Huron, and sought to turn into ridicule some of the statements he had made based upon figures. He read Mr. Hitt's resolution and his speech to show that the idea of international Free Trade as known in the United States involved American control of the Canadian tariff. On the strength of this he denounced the whole proposal and held up to the scorn of loyalists those who made it. He hoped devoutly never to live to see the day when Canada would be joined to the United States.

Mr. Davies followed. He said he had no doubt that on a question of what taxation the farmers had to bear nine men out of ten would rather accept the statement of a practical man like Mr. McMillan than of Mr. Cockburn, a resident of a city. He took Mr. Cockburn to task for his imputations as to Liberal loyalty, declaring that Liberals did not hold loyalty to the Queen to involve loyalty to that particular fiscal policy which the member for Toronto might think best. He reviewed the question from a maritime province standpoint at length, and in conclusion showed what reason there was to believe that the Americans would negotiate with Canada for a trade treaty which would be mutually advantageous, and urged the importance of taking the step proposed by the amendment.

Mr. Madill and Mr. Cargill followed from the Conservative side of the House and Mr. Semple argued in support of Unrestricted Reciprocity.

Mr. Haggart, the new Postmaster-General, spoke, but not at great length. He condemned the amendment and referred to the loyalty of the Canadian people to the British flag. He contended that the Liberals had noticed how their proposal flew in the face of the loyalists and had changed it. They would drop their present policy for another soon. They did not know what they wanted. He held that Canada could do well under present conditions.

Mr. Paterson of Brant ridiculed the Conservative claim that they did not understand the Liberal proposal. It meant just what it said, to negotiate for a treaty of freer trade with the United States. On the other hand, could a single Conservative say what their view on the subject was. They contradicted themselves, sometimes alleging that Canada could get along best by herself and then declaring that they wanted freer trade with the United States.

The debate was continued by Mr. Dickey and Mr. Weldon (St. John) and then the House divided on Sir Richard Cartwright's amendment, which was as follows:

> That all the words after "that" be struck out and that it be resolved that "Mr. Speaker do not now leave the chair but that in the present condition of affairs, and in view of the recent action of the House of Representatives of the United States, it is expedient that steps should be taken to ascertain on what terms and conditions arrangements can be effected with the United States for the purpose of securing full and unrestricted reciprocity of trade therewith.

The amendment was lost, 77 to 121.

MANY DEPUTATIONS.

The Government Interviewed About Combines, Postage, Flour Duties, etc.

OTTAWA, March 19.—Clarke Wallace's anti-combines bill was the subject of a protest made to the Government to-day by a large deputation including representatives from the principal cities of the Dominion. From Toronto there were A. M. Smith, J. J. Kenny, W. D. Matthews, Wm. Ince, M. McLaughlin, James Carruthers, S. F. McKinnon, H. C. Boomer, E. A. Wills, Alex. Nairn, Hugh Blain, Ald. T. Davies and W. Roaf. Hamilton was represented by J. Glasgow and J. N. Sterling and London by A. M. Smith. The deputation asked that the bill should be referred to the Committee on Banking and Commerce so that they might state their objections there. They claimed that there was no necessity for the passage of such a measure and that if it were passed the uncertainty as to its meaning would seriously hamper commercial operations. The deputation had able support from Senator Drummond. He is specially interested in the sugar combine. Adam Brown, M.P., was spokesman for the cotton and iron industries and Mr. Kenny spoke for the Underwriters' Association.

A deputation from the Toronto and Hamilton Boards of Trade in company with Messrs. Brown, Masson, Roome and Curran, M.P.'s, waited upon the Postmaster-General to-day to protest against the proposed increase in the rate upon drop letters and also against the proposed increase for registered letters. Lastly, they asked that a better quality of mucilage be put upon the stamps. Hon. John Haggart said he would lay the views of the deputation before the Government, but the department must be made as nearly self-sustaining as possible.

Ex-Mayor McMurrich of Toronto formed the head of the deputation which to-day interviewed the Government in the interest of a grant to the Nipissing and James' Bay Railway. They were accompanied by Messrs. Brown, Small Cockburn, Denison and White of Cardwell. They asked a Dominion Government subsidy for the first 80 miles of the road, which with other subsidies promised would suffice to build it from North Bay to Lake Temiscaming. Sir John promised consideration, but said the Government could not satisfy everybody in the matter of railway subsidies.

The Toronto Board of Trade deputation interviewed the Government on the matter of wheat and flour duties, asking a readjustment. Sir John in reply admitted the force of the claim made and said the question was at present receiving the consideration of the Government.

The Sentry Shot Himself.

HALIFAX, March 20.—The result of the military court of enquiry which investigated the case of the sentry of the West Riding regiment who was shot while on duty at the Richmond magazine is now made known. The military are of opinion that the injuries were self-inflicted, but that there is not sufficient evidence to show whether it was done by accident or design.

Fire at Quebec.

QUEBEC, March 20.—Garrigue & Co.'s novelty store in St. John street was badly gutted yesterday through a defective chimney. The stock is a complete loss, uninsured. The building is owned by Judge Tessier whose loss will be about $1000, insured. There was a small insurance on Garrigue's furniture.

Shot by a Wronged Husband.

HARRISON, Mich. March 9.—May Tuttle was shot while in the notorious Carr house at Meredith last night and is barely alive to-day. She is probably fatally wounded. She was shot by her husband who found his wife and daughter there.

BOBCAYGEON'S BUDGET.

A New School Building—A Winter's Wages Lost—Sport at the Rink.

Correspondence of the Review.

PROGRAMME AT THE RINK.—A programme which consisted of a variety of races on the ice, and which afforded a very pleasant evening's enjoyment, was carried out very efficiently at the rink here, on Tuesday evening, the 12th inst. The following won prizes:—Miss Annie Steele carried herself around so gracefully on the steel that she carried off the young lady's prize; Mr. W. Hurchmer went around with such an easy movement that he won the young men's prize; Miss Maud McDermott won with ease in the girl's race; Master Willie Robinson kept the lead throughout and won the boy's prize; Master Wesley Wright won the boy's hurdle race cleverly. The most comical of all races was the barrel race, which was won by Master Joseph Robinson. Last but not least was the potato race, which was won after a hard contest by Herbert Edgar. The Band received an admission free of 10c., which was well deserved, as a good supply of music has been supplied by it at the rink all winter.

SLEIGHING.—These fine days have almost destroyed the sleighing. However, large numbers of teams may be seen tugging heavy loads along the ditch or on the gravel.

NEW SCHOOL.—Mr. Donnell of this place has received the contract of building the new school here. He is to have it completed by the first of August next.

LOST $140.—A young man arrived here one day last week, and became a little more than elevated by a beverage known of late years as "Moxey," but when he returned to his northern abode, and had regained his former stability, he found that he was minus his winter's work of $140.

BENSFORT BRIEFS.

The Ice Bridge not Considered Safe—Other News Notes.

Correspondence of the Review.

THE ICE UNSAFE.—The ice bridge across the river and on the marshes, on account of the recent mild weather, is considered unsafe for crossing and the travelling public will have to forego the convenience of short journeys and take to the highways in the future.

LITERARY SOCIETY.—The Literary Society gave a good entertainment on Thursday evening last. The programme consisted of songs, choruses, readings, recitations and instrumental solos. The committee decided to have no subject for debate at this meeting. Mr. S. Smithson occupied the chair and everything passed off very nicely. After the entertainment was over it was decided by the members of the Literary Society to treat themselves and their friends to an oyster supper, which came off on Monday night last. About one hundred persons sat down to a sumptuous repast and the way the oysters disappeared was a terror to onlookers. The thanks of the Society are due in a great measure to their lady friends, by whose kind assistance the supper was so successful. When ample justice was done to the lucious bivalves, and the tables were cleared, the meeting was called to order and Mr. Wm. Waterman was appointed Chairman, who, after making a few brief remarks, called upon several of the members in turn to address the meeting. Each one called upon responded with a neat and effective speech. The proceedings were enlivened by instrumental music, songs, choruses, etc. A recitation given by Mr. T. Dodds, jr., in the Scotch dialect, was very amusing and highly appreciated by the audience. This part of the evening's entertainment closed with the National Anthem. After this the hall floor was cleared and the young people mingled in the mazy dance, enjoying themselves tripping the light fantastic for a couple of hours, when the assemblage broke up, all well pleased with the evening's enjoyment.

GONE WEST.—Mr. Thomas Truscott, in company with Mr. I. Sullivan and Mr. Deyell, of Centreville, left on Tuesday for the Northwest. Tom is a genial hearted, whole souled fellow, very popular with his associates. His many friends and acquaintances join their best wishes for his future health and prosperity in the far west.

"Hurrah for the Palace."

One would think to see the rush of people going in and out of the Palace Grocery, the loads of goods being taken away by the numerous customers, and their own delivery wagons laden with groceries to be distributed to all parts of the town, Ashburnham and Auburn, that in a very short time the supply would run out; but the public may not know that Elliot & Tierney have the largest store houses and cellars in Peterborough, filled with goods which they are selling very low before stocktaking. WEDNESDAY, March [illegible].—Sale of Bankrupt Stock of Messrs. Porter Bros., Carriage Makers, to take place on the premises, corner of Aylmer and Charlotte sts., Peterborough. Large quantity of carriage makers' stuff to be offered. Terms cash.

An Accident.

Mr. E. Courtney, jr., received some painful cuts on three of his fingers this morning while working on the shaper at his father's cabinet factory.

How Strange it is

To see people starting at the head of George-st., passing all the grocery houses on the street, merely giving them the go by, and coming to a halt at the Opera House Block to secure some of W. J. The St. Patrick's Celebration.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—It was with great pleasure I read your remarkably well written report of the Irish meeting in the Opera House on Monday night, and my pleasurable feelings were much intensified when I found the church to which I belong so well represented, fully sustaining the character for liberality which is so justly its due. While no Episcopalian, Presbyterian or Baptist entered an appearance in support of the Irish cause, two Recording Stewards and two members of Parliament (all Methodists) were on the platform and eloquently assisted in the proceedings. Pardon me if I express my opinion that the heading of your report would have been much improved if it had been "Under the auspices of the Methodist Church," instead of that used by you.

The Birth of Washington.

The birthday of Washington is registered in an old family Bible of quarto form, delapidated by use and age and covered with Virginia striped cloth, the record being in the handwriting of the patriot's father:

> George William, son of Augustine Washington, and Mary, his wife, was born ye eleventh day of February, 1731-2, about ten in the morning, and was Baptized the 3d April following, Mr. Bromley Whiting and Captain Christopher Brooks godfathers and Mrs. Mildred Gregory godmother.

The difference in the Gregorian calendar, or new style of reckoning time, brings the birthday to the 22d of February instead of the 11th.

Almost every one is familiar with the home of Washington through the many engravings which have been published, and which have found their way to almost every fireside. The mansion, very spacious on the ground floor, is architecturally quite pleasing. It stood upon a smooth green, velvety lawn, spreading several hundred feet down to the river, which washed its eastern base. The prospect it commanded was magnificent. The eminence in the rear was crowned with a stately forest. The estate of 2,500 acres was divided into many highly cultivated farms. Much of the region was still covered with the forest which the ax of the settler had never disturbed. Game of every variety abounded on the hills. Washington inherited this property from his brother Lawrence, and the original mansion house was built by him, but when it came into the possession of George Washington he enlarged the mansion and improved the property in every way.

Washington wrote regarding its resources, saying:

"No estate in the United States is more pleasantly situated. In a high and healthy country, in a latitude between the extremes of heat and cold, on one of the finest rivers in the world; a river well stocked with various kinds of fish at all seasons of the year, and in the spring with shad, herring, bass and carp."

Self Sacrifice.

Father Damien, who has been devoting himself to the lepers exiled at Molokai, in the Sandwich Island group, is actually giving his life to them. He is thus described by a priest who is his assistant: "Leprosy has done its work—in turns, at his ears, his eyes, nose, throat, his hands and his lungs. The poor father is completely disfigured; his voice is almost extinct. Fortunately he has yet the use of his hands, which a great number of other people have lost; and also that his feet are not yet falling to pieces, as happens to so many here. He is yet so useful, so necessary, and that for many things. He has under his charge over 100 leper orphans. This in itself is not a light burden, there being no one to help us but leper boys; besides, the number increases every week. The father has also begun (about a month after my arrival) to build a new church (thirty by seventy feet), forty feet of which is of stone, and the rest of wood. We have only one mason, a white leper, an Irishman. Father Damien is the head carpenter, and his helpers are two or three leper boys. Although I am not a leper, I could not leave here to go to any other of these islands without a proper certificate from the board of health. But I have no wish to go anywhere. My mission is here, and here I'll remain." Doubtless this priest will lie in the same grave which is destined for Father Damien.—New York Sun.

Guides for Ladies.

A plan is on foot in this city to form a small company which shall hire out lady guides to strangers who visit New York. Of course, the strangers must be ladies also. The plan will be somewhat similar to that of the district messenger system. A fixed sum will be charged for each hour that the guide is engaged and all the attractive points of the city can be visited. For visitors who wish to go shopping it is believed that the plan will be particularly welcome, as something of the sort has long been needed.—New York Journal.

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate cracked at that. Consider $34,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of seivres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $2,000 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $2,000 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

Father Conway's Condition.

It will be gratifying to the many friends of Rev. Father Conway, of Norwood, who was suddenly stricken down with an epileptic attack on Monday afternoon last, to learn that last night when the last word was received, that the rev. gentleman's condition was much improved. The enlargement was granted and the prisoners were released on their own bail for $200 each to appear to-morrow morning.

The Qu'Appelle Valley.

Mr. A. M. McLane, clerk of the municipal council of Qu'Appelle, N.W.T., was in town to-day. Mr. McLane was sent east by the council to explain the advantages of the Northwest to intending emigrants. He believes that if those who desire to go west understood the two countries none would go from Ontario to the western States, as the Canadian Northwest is the better country. He is well acquainted through the Qu'Appelle valley and says the settlers there are thoroughly satisfied—in fact they are so well satisfied that they have sent him east on this mission. Mr. McLane has with him copies of the Qu'Appelle Progress containing a description of that district and letters from a number of farmers giving their experience in the country. The Snowden House is Mr. McLane's headquarters in Peterborough. He intends to travel through Peterborough, Durham, Ontario, York, Simcoe and Victoria, and may be written to at any station on the C. P.R. between here and Toronto. He will remain in this district for several weeks.

YOUNG MEN AND CHURCH WORK.

A Guild Formed in Connection with St John's Church.

There was a good attendance at the meeting of the male members of the congregation of St. John's held in the school room of the church last evening. Rev. Mr. Davidson presided and Mr. Parker was elected Secretary.

Mr. DAVIDSON explained that the absence of the Rev. Mr. Moore, of Toronto, which he very much regretted, was caused by a case of serious illness in his parish. The meeting had been called, he said, to discuss the position and work of the young men of the church. He gave an outline of the way he thought the work should be carried out. He had been struck by the number of young men in the town relatively to the total population. This was one attraction for him, because he was a young man himself. He took advantage of the opportunity to thank them for the hearty manner in which the young men had received him, and he could say the same for Mr. Kenrick. (Mr. Kenrick—Hear.) He wished this heartiness practically shown in more decided way. They did not, of course, expect him and Mr. Kenrick to do the whole work of the parish. Neither did they expect to see the clergy and the ladies to do the whole work, although the ladies gave good aid. They were present to see how they could advance the interests of the church together. By clergyman and people working heartily together they would have success and genuine pleasure in the work. The clergyman was not separated from the rest of the community; he was a man and there should be more intimate connection between him and the people. Every member of the congregation, to use a mercantile metaphor, was a member of the firm and should be an active agent. The first suggestion he would make would be church-going, and regular church-going with a definite purpose to do their part. The next suggestion was for young men to endeavor to get other young men to attend the church by cordially inviting them to do so. The third suggestion was sociability in the church. Why should not all the young men of the church know each other? Each one had a claim on every other one, and they should have a heartiness and an esprit de corps. The young men, also, could relieve the older officials by acting as ushers. They appreciated heartily the work done by the young men now in the choir, but others could assist. He asked them to give suggestions freely, and not consider the meeting a formal one.

Mr. J. HAMPDEN BURNHAM thought that the young men would be willing to assist and be approved of Mr. Davidson's suggestions. Young men were apt to think that they were only required to go to Church and listen to the tolling clergyman. The men who had gone before them had done noble work and made the way comparatively easy for them, and he did not think that they would wish to fail in their duty. The young men were beginning to realize what it was to assist in the church, and if they did their duty the vital force would develop in them. He moved that, as the church recognized a place in her work for young men, the young men present pledge themselves to forward the work by all means in their power.

Mr. HEATHCOTE seconded the motion.

Mr. A. P. POUSSETTE said that young men were diffident about acknowledging that they were Christians, and he regretted it. The Sabbath slothfulness that kept some from the morning service was to be condemned, and if the young men would pledge themselves to attend much would be gained. The suggestions which had been thrown out were good. Profession was right, but profession accompanied by acts was better and more in keeping with the character of the Church of England. He hoped the outcome of the meeting would be more sympathy among the young men and more active work by them.

Mr. J.H. LONG said he was in accord with the sentiment of the motion. He was afraid the laymen did not take a sufficient interest in the grand old Church of England, which had done such a great work. There were two excellencies of the church that had struck him. One was the liberty she accorded to individuals as to the application of the moral law, and not interfering unduly with matters that should come within the purview of the individual conscience. Another glory of the church was its historic position, having existed from the time of the apostles, ages before the good Saint Augustine landed on English shores. It was of importance, even in these materialistic times, for a church to be surrounded by the halo of historic glory. He regarded that historic existence, that chain of life, as her sheet anchor that had held her to her moorings. There was a tendency among liberty loving men, Christian men and men of culture, to turn to the Church of England as the happy mean between Roman Catholicism and sectarianism. He suggested, in order to increase the regular attendance at church, a system of systematic visiting among young men. That would remove the impression that the Church of England occupied a pedestal and was supercilious, which unfortunately prevailed, and perhaps attract young men who did not now attend.

Mr. PARKER proposed the formation of a society.

Mr. Burnham's motion was put and carried.

On motion of Mr. Parker, it was decided to form a society, and after considerable discussion the name "The Young Men's Guild of St. John's" was chosen.

A committee was appointed consisting of Rev. Messrs. Davidson and Kenrick, Messrs. Parker, J.H.Burnham, H.Morrow, H. Long, J. H.Long, Poussette, Ellis and Somerville, to draw up a constitution.

After prayer the meeting adjourned until Monday evening. A large number signed the roll of membership before leaving the room.

WHAT IS CONVERSION?

REV. MR. CROSSLEY TELLS WHAT IT IS.

Rev. Mr. Hunter's Opinion as to Where a Christian may go—Requests for Prayer—A Quartette Gives some Music—An Immense Audience.

St. Paul's church was packed again at the Crossley and Hunter meeting last evening. The crowd has apparently learned one lesson since the services began and that is patience. At seven o'clock the church was pretty well filled and by a quarter past a seat was hard to find, but still the immense audience sat the three-quarters of an hour and never murmured until the services began.

THE DANCE AND THEATRE.

After the opening hymns and prayers Mr. Hunter prefaced the reading of the evening lesson with a few words, as is his custom. After speaking to the unsaved he said there were but three steps on the ladder that reached from earth to heaven, and he wanted the unconverted to take the first two of the steps that night. The three were—out of self, into Christ and into Heaven. He then read the lesson from Luke vii, beginning at the thirty-sixth verse. In his comments the evangelist said that Jesus Christ was not afraid to sit down with sinners and Christians should not be afraid to go among sinners. But church members should not go to a place where they could not praise God. If they could go to the theatre and praise Him there, all right. But, he said, if any of them went to a dance and asked a man about his soul he would slap them in the face. Or if they went to a theatre and talked to men about their souls, they would ask them "What do you want here? I thought you were a Christian." No. They couldn't mingle these things any more than they could mix oil and water. But he would beseech the Christian ladies, if there were any fallen women in the town, to go among them and pick them up. In closing his comments he pointed to the different sinners in the passage read—(1) the lost sinner; (2) the weeping sinner, and (3) the saved sinner.

Miss Nellie Wrighton, Rev. Mr. Crossley and Messrs. W. Daly and J. Crane then sang a very pleasing and beautiful quartette—"Safe in Thy Arms."

THE OBJECTS OF PRAYER.

The requests for special prayer are increasing in number. Last evening they comprised requests as follows:—For a husband and father; from a mother for her unconverted children; for three brothers and for a young man from Stirling; for a husband and father; for a cousin and a class of boys who were verging into manhood; for a mother, three sons and three daughters; for a brother who was a professing Christian; for a brother who was a drunkard; for a boy; for a brother; for a father who was going to a drunkard's grave; for a dear friend; for an acquaintance; for a father who was across the sea.

CONVERSION.

Rev. Mr. CROSSLEY said the subject for his address was one which they heard frequently spoken of—Conversion. As generally used the term was synonymous with pardon, justification, born again, etc., but this was not a correct way of speaking, as conversion was not any of these, but these were the outcome of conversion. His text was:—

> "Repent ye therefore and be converted that your sins may be blotted out."—Acts iii, 19.

The evangelist said it was most important that they all be converted. What was it not to be converted? A man might be amiable, moral and philanthropic and yet not be converted. Nor it did not consist in being better, for a man who drank might stop, or a swearer might leave off swearing, or a cheater give up cheating and yet not be converted spiritually. Saying prayers or joining the church was not conversion. What was it to be converted? It was not believing a certain doctrine or creed. They could get the best idea of what it was by taking the direct opposite of converted—alienated or averted—averted from God in thoughts, desires, will, acts, affection and trust. To be converted meant to be turned from things which once enamored and to be turned to God in thought, desire, will and life. They could get no clearer idea of conversion then this and they could easily know their attitude, whether converted or averted.

Here the quartette again sang in a beautiful manner the hymn, "Come, Sinner, Come."

Rev. Mr. CROSSLEY, continuing, said some persons could tell by the consciousness of the spirit the exact time and place of their conversion, and others again did not know the time nor could not point to the place. He said it was a disgrace for a person to know when and where he was converted, for they would all consider it a disgrace if they could remember the time, perhaps not until they were 17 years old, when they first began to love their father or mother.

After the quartette sang "Calvary," the evangelist, pointing to Calvary, appealed to his audience to consider themselves and to experience conversion.

After an earnest exhortation by Mr. Hunter a large number stood up as having experienced the change of heart during 1889, and a number solicited prayers and evidenced their intention of trying to lead a new life.

The church was filled for the after meeting and many came forward.

NOTES.

Constable Stewart's Eye.

The young moulder who was arrested on Tuesday morning and who, it is alleged, gouged Constable Stewart's eye, was brought down from the gaol this morning. Yesterday he gave his name as Charles Wesley, but when asked what his real name was this morning he said it was Charles Wesley Hazard. Constable Stewart was present in the Court with an interesting looking bandage around his head, and says that the injured eye is doing nicely, although painful. Hazard pleaded guilty to the charge of having been drunk and disorderly and another information was immediately made out against him, charging him with resisting the police. Mr. W. A. Stratton asked to have the trial laid over until to-morrow morning as he was not ready to proceed, and his request was granted. Bail was fixed at $500, but no bondsmen being forthcoming the prisoner went up to the castle again.

AN AGGRAVATED ASSAULT.

Mr. Robt. Wainwright is Sentenced to a Month at Hard Labor.

At the Police Court this morning Robert Wainwright was charged with aggravated assault upon John Kincaid on March 14th. Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the Crown, Mr. E. H. D. Hall for the private prosecution, and Mr. W. A. Stratton for the defence.

The accused pleaded not guilty to the charge, and Police Magistrate Dumble asked him if he would be tried summarily by him or wait for the court on the 20th of April.

"I prefer to be tried by you, especially if you are one of the doctor's creditor's," replied Mr. Wainwright.

THE EVIDENCE.

Mr. JOHN KINCAID, the complainant, being sworn, said on Thursday last he was coming down George-st. when he saw Mr. Wainwright standing talking; he was passing by when Mr. Wainwright hailed him and said, "He is going for us lively." He answered, "I don't know what you mean," or something like that. He said Mr. Roper is gone in consequence of the doctor's trouble. The witness had said be was sorry to hear Mr. Roper was gone and hardly credited it, and then Mr. Wainwright had began to abuse him, saying that he (the witness) should be ashamed to walk the streets and accused him of stealing everything he could from his brother's premises. He had told Mr. Wainwright it was a lie, when he immediately struck him and knocked him down. He got several blows, but couldn't say whether they were kicks or not. He had got up and gone into Dr. Bell's office, and the doctor dressed his face and had to take a stitch in a cut just above his eye. He had then gone to his brother's, the doctor's house, and laid down, not feeling able to walk home. He had been confined in the house until Monday morning in consequence of the assault.

Cross-examined by Mr. Stratton, the witness said he did not know that Mr. Wainwright was a heavy loser by his brother, but had heard it reported. He never told Mr. Wainwright that he believed that he (Mr. W.) was a partner in the doctor's fraud or knew what he was doing, but might have said something from which that meaning might be inferred. What he had said was, "I don't know as much about the doctor's affairs as you do, and perhaps not as much, as you are mixed up in them." It was when Mr. Wainwright had accused him of stealing that he had said it was a lie.

Dr. BELL being sworn, gave evidence as to Mr. John Kincaid calling upon him on Thursday last. He was a most deplorable sight and he could hardly recognize him from the condition he was in. He told of the wounds and bruises and said that the complainant had suffered since from nervous prostration to a certain extent, and he had to prescribe medicine to relieve the pain. He was threatened with concussion of the brain part of the time.

Dr. FIFE had seen the fracas and had seen the prisoner kick Mr. Kincaid and make several attempts to kick the complainant while he was down.

To Mr. Stratton—The conversation was such as to attract attention; he did not know that Mr. Kincaid talked very loudly until he exclaimed very emphatically "It's a lie." Mr. Wainwright seemed to be half-crazed with his trouble; he was doing the main part of the talking and swearing. He had also heard Mr. Kincaid say "I defy you to prove that I have rogued anyone."

Mr. Wood did not think it necessary to call any more witnesses.

Mr. John YELLAND was then called and sworn for the defence. He said he saw part of the fracas and heard a portion of the conversation Mr. Wainwright was accusing Mr. Kincaid of taking away things from the doctor's and Mr. Kincaid denied it, and finally Mr. Kincaid called the prisoner a liar. He then drew inside and in about a minute or so he looked out and Mr. Kincaid was lying on the sidewalk and the prisoner was hitting him in the face and kicking him. When the former was leaving the latter called out "Will you say that I helped your brother cheat the public now?" Saw Mr. Wainwright kick Mr. Kincaid several times on the thigh. Mr. Kincaid didn't do anything and he had wondered that he had not resented.

THE ARGUMENT AND SENTENCE.

Mr. STRATTON submitted that if, after meditation, the accused had attacked the complainant in the manner shown severe punishment should be meted out, but there were peculiar circumstances in this case, the accused having lost his all and being almost insane from his trouble, was in a state to be easily excited. He wanted the Magistrate to consider it only as a common assault.

Mr. WOOD said there was no evidence to show there had been any difference between the two parties and Mr. Kincaid did not know what state of mind the accused was in at the time and he held there were no extenuating circumstances about the assault.

Police Magistrate DUMBLE said he would have to try the case on the evidence. He had no knowledge of Dr. Kincaid's transactions or doings, nor did he know that Mr. Wainwright had lost a farthing through the doctor. He only knew that a peacable citizen was walking the street and was stopped and insulted and charged with a crime and had said what almost any man would say under the circumstances that it was a lie. It was worse to call a man a thief then a liar. If peacable citizens could not walk down the street without being brutally assaulted then they had had better leave the town, and he would punish the offence severely. The sentence of the court was "that the prisoner be committed to the common gaol for one month at hard labor and I think I am exceedingly lenient."

Mr. E. H. D. HALL asked that Mr. Wainwright be bound to keep the peace as Mr. Kincaid was in fear of bodily harm and the Magistrate fixed the bonds at $500 by the prisoner himself and two sureties of $250 each.

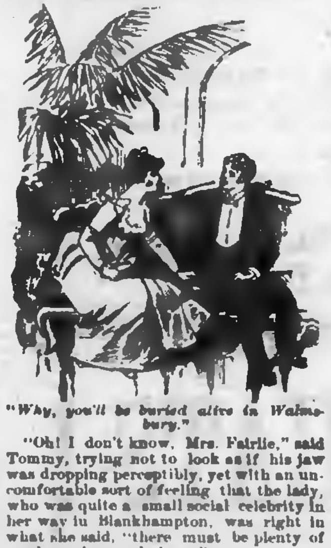
BEAUTIFUL JIM.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER

But the elation of this young Alexander, longing for more worlds to conquer, did not last long. From "the fellows" he learned nothing; indeed, for any information he would have had from them he would have remained in the ignorance which is bliss, doubly so in this case, until he reached Walmsbury itself, but in Blankhampton it was different.

"Going to Walmsbury," cried one lady to whom he told his news with a very "girl I leave behind me" sort of air. "Oh, you poor dear boy, what a shame! Why, you'll be buried alive in Walmsbury. There's nothing to do and nowhere to go, and not a soul in the place that you can possibly know. No society whatever."



"Why, you'll be buried alive in Walmsbury."

"Oh! I don't know, Mrs. Fairlie," said Tommy, trying not to look as if his jaw was dropping perceptibly, yet with an uncomfortable sort of feeling that the lady, who was quite a small social celebrity in her way in Blankhampton, was right in what she said, "there must be plenty of good people round about."

"My dear boy, none," returned Mrs. Fairlie, with an emphasis which killed the last remnant of jauntiness left in him. "Not a soul who will take the very smallest notice of you."

"Take the smallest notice of me!" echoed Tommy, feeling as if an earthquake had suddenly rent the ground under their very feet.

"Yes, of you! Everybody who is anybody in the neighborhood of Walmsbury," Mrs. Fairlie answered, with uncompromising straightforwardness, "is so horridly rich that they only count incomes by millions and daughters dots by hundreds of thousands. Old families like your own they only regard as useful in having got together fine country places for them to buy; and as for any one of them ever asking you to dinner—why, they would almost as soon ask their sweep. Oh! my dear child, I assure you, in going to Walmsbury you'll find yourself in no bed of roses."

"But, Mrs. Fairlie," said Tommy, when he could get his breath so as to speak, "have you ever been to Walmsbury?"

"Never," returned the lady, promptly.

"Then how do you know all this?" he inquired, triumphantly.

"From the unfortunate men who have been quartered there," she replied immediately, and Tommy was crushed forthwith.

But Mrs. Fairlie was only the first of many who condoled with him on the misfortune of being sent to a place so uncouth, so unattractive in every way as Walmsbury. Thus the young Alexander's thoughts and ideas underwent a complete revolution, and by the time half the week—the last week in Blankhampton—was over, his indignation and disgust at his fate had positively reached their furthest limits. And then when they got to the hated place, and he found himself in his own miserable, deserted quarters, he became simply abject. When he saw the dirty, unattractive streets, the pokey little shops, the ill looking men and women, and the utter absence of any and every sort of rank and fashion, he fell into a settled misery of regret.

For the first time since he had joined his regiment Tommy regretted sincerely that he had not, when he had the chance, made himself more popular with his brother officers than he had done. For he found Walmsbury no better that a prison, the very end of the earth, the abomination of desolation! Moreover, he was fairly thrown on his beam ends for lack of feminine society.

And, as the natural result of all this, it was not very long before Master Tommy Earle got into very unmistakable mischief, indeed.

CHAPTER XIV.

A TERRIBLE DREAM.

It is not often that I wish my readers to follow me through a very close description of bricks and mortar, of stairways and rooms, of doorways and windows; but it is really necessary that they should know something of the plan upon which the messrooms and officers' quarters at Walmsbury were arranged.

It was not a barracks intended for the accommodation of a regiment, but only for a detachment of such regiment as might be quartered at Blankhampton. On the left of the principal entrance gate stood the larger of two blocks of buildings—this contained the guard room and cells, the men's rooms, and the married and sergeants' quarters; on the right was a second block, which contained on the ground floor the orderly room and office, the messrooms, and some other rooms used either for married officers' quarters or as quarters for staff officers, such as the doctor or paymaster, if one happened to be needed. On the floor above were seven good sized rooms and a large kitchen used in common by all the officers' servants on that storey.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Suicide of an Old Printer—A Gilded Youth Fleeced by Gamblers.

TORONTO, March 20.—John Armstrong Watkins, an old time printer, residing at No. 102 Mutual-street, retired to his room about 11 o'clock Monday night, taking with him his young son, who slept in the same apartment. Before disrobing he took up a small flask containing carbolic acid and remarked: "I'll have no more bother." Then he swallowed the contents, throwing the empty bottle out into the yard immediately afterwards. He soon lapsed into unconsciousness and died at 12.20 yesterday morning. He leaves a widow and four children, his age being 42. The causes which led up to his death are shrouded in mystery, as his domestic relations were all that could be desired, and he had sufficient of this world's goods to assure him a peaceful and happy old age.

The second C.P.R. excursion for Manitoba and the Northwest was sent off last night. It consisted of ten colonist trains, consisting of about 150 cars of stock and freight, having a colonist sleeper attached to each train, and two passenger trains of 10 cars containing about 600 passengers. The specials carried 425 passengers, making a total of 1025. The passengers are nearly all from Western Ontario, but come from as far east as Peterboro. Another train will join the excursion at North Bay from Brockville, consisting of two colonist sleepers and 36 cars of freight.

The gamblers of the town are considerably excited over a case of "doing up" of one of our gilded youths, and there may be some trouble in certain quarters before the thing is over. This gilded youth was caught in a resort east of Yonge-street. He was roped into a game of poker and drank freely of liquor. Considerable money he lost in the place referred to, and the scene of the game was latter on transferred further west. There the sharper gave him a good dose of his brace game, and when the chips were cashed in, and the rake-off passed, and the gas turned down the young man found that he was out $400 in cash and the sharper held his check for a large sum, said by some to amount to $1000. Payment on the check was stopped at the bank, and there is not a little talk over the matter.

DECIDED TO AMALGAMATE.

St. John (N.B.) and Portland Vote for Union—48,000 Population.

ST. JOHN, N.B., March 19.—The electors of St. John (east and west) and Portland by their vote decided to-day on amalgamation, by which the united population of the new city, which will be called the city of St. John, will be about 48,000.

The Atlantic Mail Service.

OTTAWA, March 19.—Since Sir Charles Tupper's arrival there has been a general understanding that the contract for the fast Atlantic service would be awarded to the Andersons, who have the Canadian Pacific Railway at their back. This means a quasi-amalgamation of the Pacific and Atlantic services and subsidies, and a handsome thing for the Andersons, who as agents will get ten per cent. on the gross earnings of the new company, including the subsidies. The shareholders are not likely to realize a fortune, but the agents will. Such a service as that of the Umbria and Etruria to New York will not at the start pay to Halifax for half the year, even if it should do so in the summer months to Quebec. But it will boom Canada and our transcontinental highway, and as long as it lasts will be a-so-far-so-good sort of arrangement. The introduction of a new and powerful corporation as a candidate for its share in the trade of the St. Lawrence will not be welcomed by the Allan and Dominion lines, which have done so much in the past to build up a business which of late years it is understood has been the reverse of lucrative.

Hamilton Presbytery.

HAMILTON, March 19.—At the meeting of Hamilton Presbytery to-day it was decided to apply for these home mission grants: Niagara, $150; Blackheath, $65; Merritton, $100; Wentworth-street, Hamilton, $90; Port Dalhousie and Louth, $150; Haysavenue, St. Catharines, $150; St. David's, $150; Dunnville, $200; St. Ann's, $100. A call from Ancaster and Alberton was sustained and accepted by Rev. John McClung, formerly of Shakespeare. The induction will take place on April 5 at Alberton. Rev. D. H. Fletcher nominated Rev. Dr. Laing of Dundas, on behalf of the Hamilton Presbytery, for the position of moderator of the next general assembly. The nomination was carried unanimously.

Where is Walter?

HAMILTON, March 19.—A warrant was issued this morning for the arrest of Henry Walter, who came here from Cincinnati last fall and opened a mantle store in Copp's block. He is charged with receiving money by false pretence from John Malloy, from whom he got a phaeton valued at $165. It has also been reported to the poli[illegible]at a horse and set of harness he got fro[illegible]W. Ware have disappeared and have no[illegible] been paid for. Walter cannot be found. His store is empty. The police believe he will not go back to the United States. He has been heard of there under the name of Henry Novack, Henry Wise, Frank November and Henry Engleman, in addition to Henry Walter.

Local Option Repeal in New Jersey.

TRENTON, N.J., March 19.—In the Assembly to-day the Wertz local option repeal bill was passed. All the Democrats and one Republican voted for it.

The Cornwall Weavers' Strike Over.

CORNWALL, March 20.—The weavers who have been out on strike for the past four weeks have decided to return to work.

Burnt at Sea.

NEW YORK, March 19.—A cable received here from Rio Janeiro states that the steamship St. Cloud, which left here for Batavia Jan. 21, had taken fire and been abandoned near that port and the crew landed there. The vessel carried a cargo of oil but no passengers. The vessel was totally destroyed.

Ex-Premier Grashdanin of Servia announces that he will publish the true reasons for Milan's abdication. It is expected the disclosures will cause a sensation.

Mr. Higgins, member for Esquimalt, has moved in the British Columbia Legislature for railway extension on Vancouver Island, which will connect the Straits of Fuca with the northern end of the island.

A serious collision on the Intercolonial railway is reported from Riviere du Loup, Quebec. Conductor Michaud, Driver Whitney and Firemen Fohey and Levesque were killed instantly. No passengers were hurt.

A Windsor plasterer who had secured work in Detroit was turned back by the customs officers the other day, while over a hundred workmen came over from Detroit to work on this side and were unmolested.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery, it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if every thing else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

30 YEARS PAYING RENT IN PETERBOROUGH.

I frequently hear statements akin to above followed by remarks of deep regret for having missed many golden opportunities of buying whole lots at a price they would now have to pay for one lot of the same land. Buying property in Peterborough is the safest kind of a safe and profitable investment. I have at present Cheap Homes, Medium Class Homes and a few exceedingly fine residences and grounds, some of which were built for home comforts regardless of cost. Uncontrolable circumstances have now caused those to be offered for immediate sale much under value. I commence at $475.00 for a good house and lot. I can suit any reasonable buyer. I have also good value in Market Gardens and Farms

TURNBULL'S COLUMN.

DRESS GOODS. "SATEUR CLOTH," commonly called HENRIETTA. It is almost a joke the way these Goods have jumped to popularity at a single leap, but it is now at the zenith, entrenched, fortified, public favor decrees it. We are showing 36 distinct shades. We have never had the like before under 90c., the price 75c. Lift a fold, every ounce of the weight comes from good fine wool, honestly put together, by the yard stick 46 inches plump, test the dye, every shade shows as evenly as the sun on a quiet pool, and are going out like the rolling sea evenly and constantly. See them, they are on the move.

In the last week, heaps of New Dress Goods have come in. The spring gathering is at its flood. Take any sort you choose, Cottons or Woollens, Silks or Satins. Another family of Cashmeres. We show 15 colorings most of which are entirely new, 44 inches wide, price 50c.

Cast your eye to the end of our Dress Goods counter and you will find a range of French Stuffs in 20 shades. We have never had the like before under 25c., but have bought them low and are selling them close price 20c.

BRADFORD GOODS in stripes and checks at 10c. a yard, fresh goods, new colors.

Those wishing to have their dresses made up can have them done on the premises if necessary by our dressmaker, Miss Mercier, who has given up her own business to take charge of this department.

CHAMBERLAIN ON IRELAND

THE BIRMINGHAM M.P.'S LETTER TO HIS CONSTITUENTS

Renewed Scenes of Disorder and Violence in the Hungarian Diet—Antoine's Enthusiastic Welcome at Paris

LONDON, March 20.—Mr. Chamberlain in a letter to his electors says he thinks the time has arrived when the Government should prove its readiness to propose a substitute for Mr. Gladstone's rejected Irish bill. He thinks that if a large and final land purchase measure were passed with the consent of all parties it would immensely lessen the difficulty of giving Ireland a liberal local government measure. This matter, he says, will be openly discussed at the coming Easter conference.

Prof. Gerhardt, the eminent physician of Berlin, was entertained at dinner this evening by Sir Andrew Clarke. Twenty-four leading London doctors were present and 200 attended the reception after the dinner. Prof. Gerhardt was given a most cordial welcome

A Blue Book on Samoan Affairs

LONDON, March 20.—A blue book on Samoan affairs was issued to-day. It contains 356 despatches, the dates ranging from April 29, 1885, to Feb. 28, 1889. The despatches show that England has been throughout in cordial accord with America and that she declined to accede to Germany's request for assistance and co-operation in the restoring of order in Samoa until she had learned the American Government's views on the subject. On Jan. 29 last Lord Salisbury complained to Count Van Hatzfeldt, German Ambassador at London, concerning Prince Bismarck's statement in the Reichstag that in Samoa Germany and England were advancing hand in hand. The British Prime Minister said the views of the two countries were identical as far as the future government of Samoa was concerned, but not otherwise.

British Iron Clads Off for Tangier.

GIBRALTAR, March 20.—Two British iron clads have sailed to join the squadron at Tangier. The Sultan's reply to England's claims regarding the cable and other matters is daily expected.

London's Latest Sensation.

LONDON, March 20.—The sensation of the hour in theatrical and club circles is the mysterious disappearance of Miss Mabel Love, a beautiful young actress at the Gaiety Theatre. Miss Love is only 14 years of age, but she is credited with having already shattered several hearts. Detectives are scouring the country in search of her, but knowing ones intimate that a certain young nobleman could give accurate information as to her whereabouts if he would, and that she would be found not far away from the scenes of her triumphs over the affections of susceptible young men who nightly haunt the Gaity.

Premier Tisza Hooted.

PESTH, March 20.—When Herr Von Tisza arrived at the lower house of the Hungarian Diet this morning a large crowd groaned and hissed at him, shouting "Get Out," "Resign" An altercation took place in the House between Herr Polonyi and Herr Kroitsik. The quarrel will probably lead to a duel. The House held a secret sitting to discuss the matter.

The Paris Bourse Unsettled.

PARIS, March 20.—The Bourse was unsettled at the close, Influential buying supported foreign securities and rentes, but shares of French financial concerns were heavy and unsettled the market.

To Limit Copper Production.

PARIS, March 20.—It is stated that the holders of copper warrants have decided not to sell them but to continue negotiations with the mine owners with a view to reaching an agreement for a diminished production.

Antoine Enthusiastically Welcomed.

PARIS, March 20.—M. Antoine was enthusiastically greeted on his arrival here this evening. Five thousand persons were assembled at the depot and there were frequent shouts of "Vive Antoine," "Vive La France," "Vive La Republique," etc. There were several deputies and members of the municipal council present. Delegates of various patriotic societies cordially welcomed M. Antoine, who in the course of his reply said that to Alsace was due all the honor of his reception. The crowd was so demonstrative in welcoming M. Antoine that great difficulty was experienced in passing through the streets. A banquet will be given to him on Friday.

DISOBEYED ORDERS.

The Disastrous Collision on the Intercolonial—The Dead Terribly Mangled.

QUEBEC, March 20.—The collision reported on the Intercolonial yesterday is the worst as regards loss of life that has ever taken place on the line, four persons being killed and several injured. The collision took place while rounding a curve 1½ miles north of Rimouski and is attributed to the non-observance of orders by the down special, which, having lost time through sticking in the snow, should have stopped and sent out signals.

The position of the killed showed that their death must have been horrible but instantaneous. One was entirely disembowelled, another was hung up by the neck and still a third was crushed in a horrible manner. An inquest on the remains was commenced at Rimouski to-day. Of the killed Whitney was a son of the General Superintendent of the line. Jolivet, who was among the wounded, is said to have since died from his injuries. He belonged to River du Loup. Tilt, another of the wounded, belonged to St. John. The two Levesques are supposed to have belonged to Rimouski. Michaud, who was also among the dead, lived at Rimouski.

ONTARIO'S LEGISLATURE.

THE GOVERNMENT'S RAILWAY POLICY UPHELD.

Hon. A. M. Ross Explains the Resolutions—Four of the Liberal Members Vote with the Opposition

TORONTO, March 21.—For the first time this session there was a morning sitting of the Assembly yesterday, at which Mr. McKay's bill to annul the act respecting the study of anatomy, and the Attorney-General's bill respecting the administration of justice in certain cases, were read a third time and passed. The rest of the morning was consumed by a discussion on Mr. Hardy's Municipal Amendment Act. The city's clauses for the rectification of evils incidental to the present system of arbitration were adopted.

At the afternoon session the Attorney-General moved the third reading of the bill respecting registry offices. Mr. H. E. Clarke moved in amendment:

"That the said bill be not now read the third time but be forthwith referred back to the committee of the whole House with instructions to strike out all the provisions thereof relating to the division of the city of Toronto for registrative purposes and by adding thereto the following section:

"'Sec. 106 of the Registry Act is hereby repealed and the following substituted therefor:

"'Of the further fees and emoluments received by each registrar in each year in excess of $4500 not exceeding $15,000 he shall be entitled to retain to his own use 50 per cent. and no more, and of the further fees and emoluments received by each registrar in each year in excess of $15,000 he shall be entitled to retain to his own use 25 per cent. and no more.'"

Considerable discussion followed in which Messrs. E. F. Clarke, Smith, Ballantyne, Leys, Meredith, O'Connor, Wood, Creighton, the Commissioner of Crown Lands and the Attorney-General participated, after which the amendment was voted down, 53 to 33.

Mr. Meredith proposed another amendment which was declared lost on the same division.

Mr. E. F. Clarke's bill respecting the City of Toronto was about to be read a third time, when Mr. Garson objected to the clause giving Mr. Harman an annuity of $2000. He did not think it a wise precedent to create for other councils. He therefore moved an amendment that the bill be not read a third time and be referred back to committee, and the obnoxious clause struck out. The amendment was lost, 68 to 13.

Mr. Gibson moved the second reading of the bill to amend the Liquor License Act. It provides "that the purchaser of any intoxicating liquor from a person who is not licensed to sell the same, or any person who drinks upon the premises liquor so purchased at the time of the purchase thereof, shall be guilty of an offence under the act." Another provision is that all sums imposed by the municipality in excess of $200 mentioned in sec. 42 of the act shall be divided equally between the Province and such municipality. There was a good deal of opposition to the measure, but after considerable discussion it was read a second time.

Hon. A. M. Ross, in rising to introduce the Government's railway resolutions, referred to the aid given to railway enterprises in the past and the benefits resulting therefrom. He pointed out that of the $6,000,000 granted by the Government up to 1881 $4,000,000 had already been paid. He then gave figures to show the small amount received by Ontario in comparison with that received by Quebec in railway aid. The scheme which the Government proposed, Mr. Ross continued, was essentially a colonization scheme. The Province, he said, owed a duty to these new sections. Mr. Ross then referred to the Government's policy of granting land subsidies. Although they proposed to grant land they also proposed to retain the control of it. He then enumerated the roads and their bonuses, as follows:

Name of Railway.	Miles.	Cash Bonus or	By Certificate Per Year.
Ont. & Rainy River R.R.	80	$150,000	[illegible]
Manitoulin & North Shore..	[illegible]	84,000	3017
Parry Sound.	45	135,000	[illegible]
Nipissing & James' Bay.	[illegible]	150,000	[illegible]
Brockville Westport & Saulte Ste. Marie......	53	165,000	[illegible]
	[illegible]	$684,000	$31,[illegible]

Mr. Balfour of South Essex read a list of the sums of money which all the counties of the Province had received from the Government to aid railway projects and to pay railway rebates. The counties of Essex, Prescott, Lennox and Lanark were the only ones which had never received a single cent of aid from the Government. He did not think that this was a fair deal to these counties, and more particularly to Essex. He had made a solemn pledge to his constituents that if he were returned to the Assembly he would insist that Essex gets its fair share of railway aid, and if it did not he would certainly oppose the present or any other Government that refused it. He then announced that he intended to resign and ask his constituents if he had not done right.

Mr. Evanturel thought that Prescott had been badly treated and said he would vote against the Government's railway policy.

The Commissioner of Crown Lands said the Government's railway policy was a well-defined one. Had they gone in to aid all the railways that they had been requested to it would have cost between two and three millions.

Mr. Caldwell of North Lanark said he was satisfied with the decision that the Government had made. It was a colonization policy. His constituency had no grievances that he knew of.

Mr. Murray, whom Mr. Evanturel claimed had crowded his (Evanturel's) road out in the cold, said this was not the case. He would like to have seen all the roads obtain aid.

Mr. Meredith said there was no country in the world that had done so much for their railways as had the Dominion and the Province. He said the question of granting aid to railways ought to have been considered at an earlier stage of the session and concluded by moving this amendment:

That all words after "that" be struck out and that there be inserted the following: This House regrets that in opening the question of aiding out of provincial funds the building of railways a more just, equitable and satisfactory scheme has not been submitted for its consideration.

Mr. Balfour moved as an amendment to the amendment:

That this House, while approving the policy of granting liberal aid to deserving colonization railways, is of opinion that provincial aid should also be granted at the same time to deserving railway projects in the older counties, and especially to bona fide projected railways through those counties in which railways have not hitherto received provincial aid.

Only four members supported this amendment. They were Messrs. Balfour, Evanturel, Monk and Robillard. Mr. Balfour then moved another amendment of a somewhat similar nature. This was also declared lost on the same division, 79 to 4.

Then Mr. Fraser moved in amendment to the amendment that all words of the amendment after the first word "that" be omitted and instead there be inserted these words:

This House approving of a reasonable amount of provincial aid being given to needful and desirable colonization railways within this Province do forthwith resolve itself into committee to consider the resolutions relating to railway aid heretofore ordered to be considered in committee of the whole House, and that Mr. Speaker do now leave the chair.

This amendment was carried by a vote of 54 to 28, Messrs. Balfour, Evanturel, Robillard and McAndrew voting against the Government.

The House then went into committee on the resolutions and reported them back to the Speaker. Then the Treasurer at once sent up a bill giving effect to the resolutions and granting the aid to the railways named. The bill was read a first and second time without dividing.

It was midnight when all this was accomplished and the House adjourned.

STATE-AIDED EMIGRATION

The Crofters Colonization Vote Passed—Dr Barnardo and His Boys

LONDON, March 21.—In the House of Commons last night Sir George Campbell, upon the report of the Crofter Emigration Committee, condemned the decision of the Government to appoint a committee to inquire into the question of emigration from the congested districts of England and Ireland, as well as of Scotland, to the colonies or elsewhere. He demanded that the enquiry be restricted to crofter emigration and migration. The Government, however, made no reply. The report was then adopted, and the £10,500 vote for crofter colonization in the Northwest is therefore finally passed.

The Colonization Board has nearly completed arrangements for this season's settlement at Wolseley. Outside the House the opinion is frequently heard that the new committee of enquiry is merely a method of shelving for another session the difficult question of general State aided emigration. It is difficult to see what new light the committee can elicit. The crofter members, however, express pleasure over the Government pledge that no further crofter emigration will be made until the committee reports.

Dr. Barnardo's first party of 200 trained and tested boys will leave next week, 70 going to the Industrial Farm in Manitoba and the balance to Ontario. The whole party is already applied for by farmers twice over.

Canadian Pacific shares are flat, having fallen during the week upon wild statements respecting the company's new bill. Full details are awaited from Canada.

THE WINNIPEG MOCK MARRIAGE.

Deegan Convicted of Forgery—Bigamy at McLeod—Another Elopement.

WINNIPEG, March 20.—At the Assizes to-day Tom Deegan, who acted as magistrate in the mock marriage last summer, was found guilty of forgery in connection with the event, but sentence was suspended.

A bigamy case has been brought to light at McLeod, a man named Cook having married a Metis girl there while having another wife in Oregon. He has skipped to Montana.

It is expected that the new organ of the Local Government will appear in about two months.

Another elopement is reported from St. Paul's Parish near Winnipeg.

Brutal Assault at the Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 21.—The hotel kept by Mrs. John Leech at Falls View was the scene of a cowardly assault on Wednesday. A young girl named Maggie Heximer, employed in the house as a servant, while washing dishes in the kitchen was accosted by a young man named John McLeod who asked her to get him something to eat, and upon resuming the task of washing dishes McLeod grabbed her around the waist, threw her upon the floor and attempted to ravish her. The screams of the girl attracted the attention of one of the male servants who came to her rescue, whereupon McLeod ran into the bar. The girl hastened upstairs and was perceived by the scamp who tried to catch hold of her again, but she managed to get to her room and locked the door, where she remained until Mrs. Leech returned from Clifton. A charge of indecent assault was made by the girl's father against McLeod and he was arraigned before Police Magistrate A. G. Hill to-day, who after hearing both sides of the case imposed a fine of $25 and one day imprisonment. McLeod is a married man and is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Leech.

Halifax News.

HALIFAX, March 21.—The price of ice will be 25 or 30 per cent. higher in Halifax the coming season than for years past, owing to the limited crop.

L. J. Hesselein, W. K. Reynolds, H. N. Wallace and B. F. Parson have applied to the Local Legislature for the incorporation of the Bedford Hotel Company (limited), for the purpose of developing and improving the land and the natural advantages of the village of Bedford and shore of Bedford basin and making the same eligible as a summer resort, for affording facilities for stimulating travel thereto by land and by water and for promoting the general growth and wealth thereof and of the City of Halifax. The company are to have a capital of $12,000 with power to increase to $50,000.

Shocking Suicide at Montreal.

MONTREAL, March 20.—A shocking suicide took place to-day in the west end of the city. Mrs. Throsby, whose husband is employed at McDougall's mills, has for some time suffered from acute epileptic mania. Shortly before 5 o'clock this morning she slipped out of bed and going down into the kitchen inflicted several terrible wounds on her throat with a large meat knife, the head being almost severed from the body. Deceased leaves a grown-up family.

Three Buildings Burnt at Meaford.

MEAFORD, March 21.—A fire occurred here last night about 10 o'clock, completely destroying three buildings and damaging two others. The fire started in Sydie's harness shop, two doors north of Molson's Bank, spreading to Houldice's butcher shop, completely demolishing it and the old auction mart occupied by Hepenstall & Spike, both shoe shops. Loss about $3300, insurance $2000.

THE NEW SOUTH.

Andrew Carnegie's Opinion of Its Iron Interests—Pennsylvania's Rival.

BALTIMORE, March 20.—The Manufacturers' Record will publish a letter from Andrew Carnegie giving his views upon the iron interests of the south, based upon his recent investigating tour. Mr. Carnegie states that the first feature which impressed him was the general excellence of the plants in the South. The blast furnaces, the machinery in the mines, the mode of opening, handling facilites, etc., are all of the latest pattern. The character of the coal, iron ore and limestone and the ease and cost of mining are all better he says than he had expected.

As to the cost of pig iron production in Alabama Mr. Carnegie says $10 a ton for foundry iron, which is the highest grade, is a liberal estimate. Some of the best located furnaces may be able to do even better. The ability to manufacture at this price must give southern manufacturers a large market for their pig. When they seek to manufacture the pig into more advanced forms Mr. Carnegie believes it will be converted into steel by means of bessemer and open hearth basic processes.

Speculation he says has entered more or less into this southern field. Some ill-advised enterprises have been undertaken and considerable reaction may take place. Mr. Carnegie regards the south as Pennsylvania's most formidable industrial rival in the future.

THE JESUIT QUESTION.

TO COME UP IN THE HOUSE NEXT TUESDAY.

A Lot of Private Bills Put Through—Measures Which Have Received the Royal Assent—Other News From Ottawa.

OTTAWA, March 20.—The debate on the Jesuits Estates Act now stands fixed for Tuesday next, so the House was informed this afternoon. Mr. Laurier having asked if a day had yet been agreed upon Sir John Macdonald replied that having received a formal communication from Mr. Laurier he had spoken to Col. O'Brien, who proposed to bring the matter up, and it was agreed that an opportunity should be given on Tuesday next, when a motion to go into committee of supply would be made.

After recess these private bills were read a third time and passed:

Respecting the Atlantic & Northwest Railway Company—Mr. Hall; with an amendment providing that the extension of time for completion shall terminate on Jan. 14, 1890, unless it is shown that $100,000 has been spent in the work.

Respecting the Alberta and Athabasca Railway Company and changing the name to the Great Northwestern Railway Company—Mr. Davies.

Amending the act incorporating the Quebec Board of Trade—Mr. McGreevy.

Respecting the Kingston and Pembroke Railway Company and the Napanee, Tamworth and Quebec Railway Company—Mr. Kirkpatrick.

Incorporating the Northwestern Junction and Lake of the Woods Railway Company—Mr. Lariviere.

Amending the charter of incorporation of the Great Northwest Central Railway Company—Mr. Daly.

The Foresters' Incorporation.

The bill incorporating the Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters was adopted in committee of the whole with unimportant amendments.

Mr. Paterson of Brant said there were two other orders of Foresters—the Canadian and Ancient—and it had been represented to him that if the Independent order got the incorporation now asked for the other orders might be debarred from obtaining incorporation under the somewhat similar titles which they bore. He believed that a deputation was about to visit Ottawa in the interests of these other societies and he therefore asked that the third reading should not be asked until Friday.

Mr. Jamieson, the promoter, agreed to this.

Mr. Hall said he had a letter officially stating that the Independent Order would have no objection to the other orders of Foresters securing incorporation under the names they now bore.

In explanation of the authority asked for the society to hold real property to the extent of $100,000 Mr. Jamieson explained that the headquarters of the order were to be in Toronto and they would probably want to put up a building of their own in that city.

Reciprocity in Wrecking.

Mr. Kirkpatrick moved the third reading of his bill to permit foreign vessels to aid vessels wrecked or disabled in Canadian waters.

Mr. Charlton advocated that negotiations should be opened with the American Government to ascertain if they would not agree to a middle course between the American and Canadian policies in this matter. Were this bill passed as it stood the insurance companies would be able to place nearly all the wrecking in the hands of American wreckers. He believed this bill was being passed in the interest of a Kingston gentleman who thought he had patented a steam pump which would revolutionize wrecking but he might find that he was reckoning without his host. He moved in amendment that the bill be referred to committee of the whole to amend it by granting the privileges provided for only when the privilege of towing vessels and rafts from one United States port to another in waters contiguous to Canada is accorded to Canadian tugs.

Mr. Kirkpatrick spoke in support of his bill and charged that Mr. Charlton's amendment sought to make all other interests subservient to the interests of one wrecking company. If this amendment were tacked on the bill might as well be dropped.

Sir Donald Smith supported Mr. Kirkpatrick's bill in the interests of the carrying and commercial interests of Montreal.

The House divided on Mr. Charlton's amendment, which was lost on division, [illegible] to 103.

Mr. Charlton then proposed another amendment. To make the surrender complete he would move that United States tugs may tow vessels and rafts from one Canadian port to another in Canadian waters contiguous to the United States. This was declared lost without a division and Mr. Kirkpatrick's bill was read a third time and passed.

To Prevent Frauds.

Mr. Burdett's bill to provide against frauds in the supplying of milk to cheese and butter factories was read a third time and passed.

Sir Hector Langevin moved the adjournment of the House. Dr. Wilson of Elgin said as it would be a good while before the order would be reached again he would like to know if it was the intention to proceed with Mr. Boyle's bill against frauds in the sale of nursery stock. He thought it was in the interests of the trade to know. Mr. Boyle said it was the intention to proceed with it and he knew no reason why it should not become law.

Mr. Wallace said that as the Government proposed such an early adjournment he would like to know when an opportunity would be given for the consideration of his anti-combine bill. Sir Hector Langevin said he would mention the matter to the First Minister.

The House adjourned at 10.40.

NOTICE.

It is imperative that accounts due the Review Ptg. and Pub. Co'y., should be settled at once. Parties to whom accounts have been rendered should call and pay the same without delay.

Managing Director.

The Daily Review.

THURSDAY, MARCH 21, 1889.

LOOK AFTER THE LISTS!

The indications are strong that the wily Premier of the province will try again to catch the Conservatives napping, says the Empire, and spring an election when they least expect it; but whether the election is brought on prematurely or the Legislature is permitted to run its regular time, we direct attention to the fact that the elections must take place on the voters' lists to be made up from the assessment rolls now being prepared. The assessors thoughout the province are at work, time is slipping away, and we call on our friends in every municipality to be up and doing, that not one name entitled to be on may be omitted from the roll. Remember that under the new act every British subject of the full age of twenty-one, who has resided in the province for nine months preceding the 15th of February is entitled to have a vote, unless disqualified under the Election Act. Those who owe or rent property will get their names on in the ordinary course, but there will be a large number of others who are entitled to be on the lists, and whose names may be left off unless they are looked after. Let our friends see that the names of every one of those is presented to the assessors with the necessary affidavits to get them on. Do not put off the work, thinking that these names can be got on by appeal afterward. It can be done easily and effectively now; but if put off till the time for appeal, the work will be three times as difficult, and the probability is that many names will be left off that could be got on if attended to now. A few days of earnest work now in each municipality will tell in turning out the Government of humbug and hypocrisy when the time for voting comes.

LIBERAL ARGUMENTS.

The Hamilton Spectator thus neatly summarises inconsistent arguments of the Liberals:—Canada should have the right to make her own commercial treaties; therefore she should enter into a compact with the United States by which she will not be able to make any commercial treaties.

Canada needs free trade; therefore she should enter into an arrangement with the United States by which duties on imports will be doubled.

Canada should make an equitable treaty with the United States respecting the fisheries; therefore she should give her fisheries to the United States without compensation.

The Dominion government should not be permitted to disallow any provincial legislation; therefore the Dominion government ought to have disallowed the Jesuits' estate act of the province of Quebec.

ZION JOTTINGS.

A Bundle of Parties and Other Interesting Items.

Correspondence of the Review.

PARTIES OF THE SEASON.—A very pleasant and enjoyable party, given by Mrs. J. Wilson, which was held at the Grange Hall on Feb. 26th, proved to be one of the most successful events that ever took place on Zion Hill. A large number were present from Peterborough, Norwood and other parts. The music for the occasion was well selected. Mrs. Wilson was very energetic and deserved credit for the way things were conducted, and all speak well of their treatment.

CHILDREN'S PARTY.—A few nights previously Mr. B. Cooney gave the little folk of Zion a party. As the evening passed away all the necessary games and plays were produced to make things enjoyable.

OYSTER SUPPER.—On March 5th Mr. and Mrs. Shannon, of Ashburnham, gave a sumptuous oyster supper to celebrate the tenth year of their marriage. Mr. Shannon did everything to make a crowd pleasant and Professor Haight furnished the music. After spending a lively evening in Ashburnham, the crowd departed for their many homes in this vicinity.

ILL.—Mr. W. Dickson, we learn, is suffering from a very severe attack. Dr. Fife is in attendance.

HYMENEAL.—On Wednesday afternoon, March 20th, a very pleasant event occurred at the residence of Mr. R. Howson, being the marriage of Miss Mary A. Bennett, to Mr. Jno. Mather, both of Otonabee. The bride was assisted by Miss Chase, and the groom was supported by Mr. Wm. Hunter. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and costly presents.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Big Blaze in the West End—Hess' Chair Manufactory Burnt.

TORONTO, March 21.—Unlike Montreal Toronto is fortunately free from disastrous fires, the conflagrations that cause the loss of so many thousands being few and far between. Till last night the most recent fire of any magnitude had been that of Samuel, Benjamin & Co.'s premises in Yonge-street, last October, but last night there was a flame that wiped out $30,000 worth of property and came near causing much heavy damage to other property. The fire was in the premises of Hess Brothers, chair manufactory at 46 Strachan-avenue, just north of the bridge crossing the railway tracks and leading to Exhibition Park. The destroyed buildings have been land marks for some time. They were originally built for the Canada Car Works, later used by the Toronto Reaper and Mower Works Company and two years ago the Hess Brothers went into occupation, the firm consisting of George Hess, M.L.A. for North Perth, Wm. Hess and Adam Hess, who have their chief furniture factory in Listowel. Mr. George Hess, who was in attendance at the Legislative Assembly, when he was summoned to the fire said that he estimated the loss on buildings, stock and machinery at $60,000 in round numbers. On this there is an insurance of only about $20,000. There was a stock of between $30,000 and $40,000. No less than 140 men are thrown out of work. Neither Mr. Hess nor anyone connected with the firm could account for the cause of the fire. The majority of the men had quit work at 4 o'clock and a few varnishers had worked till 6 o'clock. The glare of the fire could be plainly seen at Hamilton and Whitby and telephone messages of inquiry were received from both of those places.

The three Jarvis brothers, ex-policemen Dick, Daniel and Lewis, were before Judge McDougall yesterday to answer to the charge of feloniously wounding Robert Hershey at Weston last Thursday night and of having robbed him of an overcoat. They pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by a jury but when Crown Attorney Badgerow declined to consent to bail they said they would rather be tried at once by His Honor. The Judge however read the depositions and decided to grant bail, fixing Daniel's and Lewis' at $500 each and Dick's at $1000. His Honor gave the ex-constable a good talking to and told him he had not been taught on the Toronto Police Force that three men ought to pile on one. He thought Hershey had been unwarrantably and maliciously attacked. The father of the trio was present and seemed to feel keenly the disgrace brought upon him. It is likely that he will secure bail by to-day. The trial will be at the forthcoming criminal assizes.

WHAT'S IN IT?

A Very Secretive Railway Deputation Visit the Ambitious City.

HAMILTON, March 20.—The Spectator this evening says: At the Royal Hotel this morning these names were registered by four wealthy-looking strangers: E. A. C. Pew, Toronto; E. John Miller, New York; F. C. Helm, Toronto, and C. H. Ritchie, Toronto. The gentlemen waited upon Mayor Doran this morning and arranged for an interview on railway business at 2 o'clock, but they did not enlighten His Worship as to the nature of their business, nor did they enlighten anybody else. Shortly after ex-Mayor Henry and Mr. Elliott of Brantford arrived in the city, having been asked to come here to meet the strangers. About noon Mayor Doran was called away to Toronto by a telegram from Hon. J. M. Gibson, and he left Major Moore as his deputy.

A reporter saw Mr. Pew this afternoon, but he was not very talkative. "All I can say is that we don't represent the Niagara Central nor the South Ontario Pacific company," said Mr. Pew. "We have some idea of running a line from the Niagara River to connect Hamilton with the eastern system of United States roads. We are just here looking around and to have a talk with Brantford and Hamilton railway men, but there is nothing definite yet to be given to the public."

The other members of the deputation were equally uncommunicative and referred everything to Mr. Pew. It was learned that "F. C. Helm, Toronto," is a well known Chicago capitalist, who owns all the elevators on the line of the Central Pacific and is presumably the financial vertebrae of the new scheme. Mr. Pew is also well known in railway circles as an organizer of roads, having had considerable experience in the Northwest.

Mr. Henry and Mr. Elliott are the principal owners of a road now under construction, known as the Brantford, Waterford and Lake Erie Road. It is to connect Brantford with the Canada Southern Railway, and the charter extends to within nine miles of Toronto, via either Hamilton or Dundas. The Brantford gentlemen were equally ignorant of the project which Mr. Pew et al. have under way, and said they had merely come to Hamilton to have a conference with them.

Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, March 20.—John Dickenson was to-day elected secretary-treasurer of the South Wentworth Agricultural Society and C. R. Davis was chosen secretary of the Central Fair Board, both offices having been made vacant by the death of the late Jonathan Davis.

At the Police Court to-day Susan Knoll charged John E. Harris with obtaining $6.50 from the Grand United Order of Oddfellows by fraud. The case was adjourned until to-morrow.

Last night about 11.30 Levi Potruff of Wood-street east died very suddenly of apoplexy or heart disease. He had retired for the night, but, feeling unwell, got up to get a drink. He fell unconscious, and before a doctor arrived was dead. The deceased was about 40 years of age, and leaves a wife and several children.

About 150 or 200 men gathered at the City Hall to-day to try to get tickets for work on the brick sewer to be built in York-street from Inchbury to Queen. Twenty men were started on the job yesterday and 40 more were given tickets this morning, leaving more than 100 men anxious but unable to get work.

A Victim of Remorse.

BELLEVILLE, March 20.—Facts brought out in connection with the suicide of A. D Smith show that the act was caused either by remorse for having seduced a woman at Syracuse, N. Y., or from a morbid fear of arrest for his misdoing. He came to Canada in February because of this trouble and after staying for some weeks at St. Catharines and in Toronto, where he drank heavily, he came to Belleville on March 11. He lived quietly here, drinking but little. No inquest will be held.

Belleville Desires a Boom.

BELLEVILLE, March 20.—The committee on manufacturing industries last night decided to advertise in leading newspapers that free sites and exemption from taxation will be given to new industries.

Two Sensible Women.

I was at the theatre the other night. Many fashionable people were present, and there were not many vacant seats. Just as the curtain rolled up on the first act a handsomely dressed and portly lady hurried down the middle aisle, accompanied by a young miss in her teens. Each wore a glaring red felt hat with brim as broad as that of a Mexican sombrero. They were met with looks of apprehension all along the line of seats, and as they passed still farther on toward the front, a sigh of relief would escape those who were relieved of the fear of having them just in front. They took chairs half a dozen rows removed from the stage, just in front of a man and his wife. The afflicted couple were so overcome at the sight of the hats that a violent expression of disgust escaped from the lips of the man before he thought. He looked at the hats, then at his wife, and made a motion to leave the theatre. But just at that instant the two ladies quietly removed their hats, rolled them up in the shape of big cigars and stuffed them away in convenient pockets of their wraps. A burst of laughter from the audience was interrupted by the appearance of Mrs. John Drew, for whom it was turned off to applause.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Exonerated.

"Great heavens! What is the matter? Lily, my darling, what is it? Oh, Mr. Buskin, what has happened?"

These words were uttered by William G. Simpson as he entered the luxuriously furnished drawing room of James P. Buskin, of the firm of Sock & Buskin, the great theatrical managers. He had been engaged to the lovely daughter of the house for only one week, but, oh, how blissful that period had been!

And now, what had occurred? His fiancee was in tears, and her father was in the room to meet him, with sternness upon his brow. Had the misfortune of William G. Simpson's earlier life, the awful secret of his youth, been discovered? He trembled at the thought.

His worst suspicions were confirmed when the father spoke.

"Mr. Simpson," he said, "all is over between you and my daughter. You have kept back from us a part of your life. You have been accused of crime."

William Simpson fell upon his knees. "I was innocent!" he cried. "I declare before Heaven that I was innocent!"

"That may be," responded the stern old man; "but my che-ild shall not go through life with her name linked to that of a man against whom one breath of suspicion lingers. Prove your innocence, William G. Simpson, and all may yet be well. What was the crime of which you were accused?"

"It was," sobbed the young man, "of—of stealing Mlle. Blanche de Ballet's diamonds."

"My son, my son! How could I ever have doubted you?" cried James P. Buskin, as he fell upon the other's neck. "You are innocent! We were advertising her for a summer tour."

"William, my own darling, my love, my life!" cried Lily, as her lover pressed her to his bosom.—Life.

HASTINGS HAPPENINGS.

To Ask Aid for the New Railway—A Musical Organization.

A BAND.—The Fire Brigade met on Friday evening for further organization. After some new officers and members had been elected, the advisability of forming a band in connection with the brigade was discussed. The general opinion prevailed that the idea was a good one, which if consummated, would induce the members to prepare a grand demonstration for the 24th of May. The meeting adjourned to the first Monday in April.

THE COBOURG RAILWAY.—A meeting of the ratepayers of the township of Percy was held last Wednesday evening in Warkwork for the purpose of appointing delegates to wait on the Dominion and Ontario Governments to urge that a subsidy be granted the Cobourg and Northumberland Railway. J. Humphries, A. M. Hamilton, Dr. Richards, T. B. Carlaw and Allan Speirs were appointed to wait on the Dominion Government, and W. Beasley, P. Gallagher and C. A. —TO OUR—CUSTOMERS.

Our customers and well wishers will accept our hearty thanks for their liberal support during the past year. We begin our fourth year's business in Peterborough very much encouraged. Notwithstanding dull times, bankrupt stocks, an increase of business houses, etc., we have from the first year to the present increased our business. The past year has been a large increase over other years. How can we account for this? We have not been "blowing our own horn" or in any way trying to "bait" our customers, but this we have done, bought our Goods right, kept proper styles and sold at right prices. We have watched our customers' interests. This spring we expect to do even still better for you and our only anxiety is that you see our stock.

Thanking you for past favor.

An Ashburnham Drunk.

Wm. O'Brien, of Ashburnham, an old man, was arrested early this morning by Constable Adams in a beastly state of intoxication. At the Police Court this morning the Magistrate allowed him to go and told him to keep the other side of the bridge after this when drunk.

Rowdyism on the Streets.

The police were telephoned for about two o'clock this morning from J. J. Turner's to quiet a row which was in progress near the tent and awning maker's shop. It seems that the same parties had a little scrap near Denne's feed store on Charlotte-st. early in the night. The crowd was gone when the police arrived.

The Talk of the Town.

The people are wondering why Elliott & Tierney are giving 18 lbs. bright sugar for $1, and selling teas and other goods so much cheaper than any house in Peterborough. Call at the Palace Grocery and examine the goods, which will convince you. The "Palace" is the place to get best values. Great stock-taking sale now going on.

A new name Among our Business Men.

As will be seen by the notice in another column the partnership existing between Messrs. York & Mowry, furniture dealers, has been dissolved, Mr. Mowry retiring. Mr. Andrew B. Lee, formerly of Toronto but who has for the past five years been engaged in the leading furniture establishments in town, now enters into the business and the firm will be known as York & Lee. Mr. Lee is a young man who has a practical understanding of all branches of the business and, it is hoped, will meet with success in his business venture.

Farmers' Institute Meetings.

A public meeting under the management of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute will be held at the Court House, Peterborough, on Monday next. Prof. Robertson, of the Guelph Agricultural College, will be present. Prof. Robertson is one of the best informed men on dairy matters in the Province and all interested in agriculture should make a point of hearing him. Papers will be read on interesting subjects by Messrs. J. Coyle Brown, I. P. S., R. D. Dundas, Robert Jackson and George Hilliard, ex-M. P. On the following day, Tuesday, a public meeting will be held at Keene, under the auspices of the East Riding Institute, at which Prof. Robertson will be present, as well as a number of prominent men representing the Institutes of East Durham, East and West Northumberland, and East and West Peterborough.

THE CONSTABLE'S SCUFFLE.

How Officer Stewart's eye was Gouged — Hazard gets a Month.

The space around the bar in the Police Court room this morning was packed by a crowd of men all eager to hear the trial of the young man Charles Wesley Hazard, who was charged with having assaulted Constable Stewart on Tuesday morning last. Mr. E. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, was present for the prosecution and Mr. W. A. Stratton appeared for the prisoner.

Hazard pleaded "not guilty" to the charge and elected to be tried summarily by Police Magistrate Dumble.

CONSTABLE STEWART'S STORY.

Constable Stewart, still wearing a bandage over his injured eye, was the first witness called, and he told the story of the alleged assault as follows:—At two o'clock Mr. Adams and I changed, and he made the remark to me that there were two or three young fellows gone into Ed. Welsh's oyster parlor and they were apparently drunk and to keep an eye on them. When I turned on to George-st. I could hear them; they were not making much noise, but I walked up slowly, and when I got up to the doorway there were five of them; I spoke to them civilly and asked what they were doing at that time, and Mr. Whitehair said they were going home quietly. The prisoner was sitting in Clegg's doorway; Whitehair said the prisoner was sick and I told them to take him home; the prisoner looked up and said, "You d——d farmer, what is it your business?" I then took hold of him and he sprang up. Whitehair came and put his arms around the prisoner to take him from me, and I told him the prisoner was in my charge and to let him go; in the struggle the prisoner deliberately put his thumb in my eye and tried to gouge it out; I was totally blind for a time, and when I could see Whitehair had him again; I drew my revolver and told him to come with me. The prisoner said, "You will never take me alive." I then put the revolver in my pocket and held the prisoner and started down street with him; when we were part way down I threw the prisoner down and was putting the nippers on to him, when he made a sudden bound and jumped up and ran down the street; he fell at the corner of Simcoe-st., but got up again; I then drew my whistle and Constable Adams heard it and came out and the prisoner ran into his arms.

Nightwatchman Gordon was the next witness sworn. He told of the five young fellows making unnecessary noise before they went into the oyster room and then told the story of the occurrence about the same as Stewart had done.

Dr. Clarke, who has attended Constable Stewart, gave evidence as to the injury to the optic. The injury was severe, he did not think it would be permanent.

THE DEFENCE.

Fred Billings was the first witness for the defence. He said they were in the Welsh's parlor eating and the prisoner was taken sick; when he came back he only stopped a short time and then said he would have to go home as he was not able to stand; the prisoner went out and when the others came out Hazard was sitting in Clegg's doorway and was not able to go home. Some of them asked Stewart to leave him a few minutes and they would take him home. Stewart told him he would have to go. He didn't know how the injury occurred as he didn't see prisoner attempt to hit anyone, for he was a pretty sick man. He heard the prisoner say to leave him alone and he would go home and he could summons him in the morning. He had been with the party since about ten o'clock and they were out spending the night having a time. It was the oysters, heat and the liquor that made the prisoner sick.

Hugh Robinson, jr., another one of the parties, told his story, which about tallied with Billings' evidence. He saw nothing that would lead him to believe that the gouging was done deliberately.

Angus Dow, another of the party, also told his story. He said he did not lay a hand on the prisoner, and he heard the prisoner say he would go home if he was left alone. The prisoner dared Stewart to shoot and told him he couldn't take him.

James Whitehair told the same tale as his three companions. He had not had a glass of liquor. He did not have his arms around the prisoner at any time. Prisoner was wrestling with Stewart after he got up at Clegg's.

Ed. Welsh did not see anything of the tussle, but the boys were quiet that night when he seen them.

Officer Stewart was recalled, said he was sure his eye was injured by the prisoner; he caught him with one hand and stuck the thumb of his other hand deliberately into his eye; it was done deliberately and the sight was taken out of both eyes. The prisoner had damned him and used all kinds of profane language before he laid hands on him.

THE SENTENCE.

The Magistrate took the view that the boys had been drinking and having a spree and the prisoner had undoubtedly been under the influence of liquor and the constable found him drunk sitting on a doorstep at 2 o'clock in the morning was justified in arresting him. He was satisfied by the evidence of Stewart, supported by Mr. Gordon, which was uncontradicted, that the prisoner did deliberately gouge the constable's eye and he found him guilty and sentenced him to one month in gaol at hard labor.

OTHER CHARGES DISMISSED.

The charge against Hazard of resisting a constable was not pressed.

Speaking of the charge against Whitehair, Dow and Robinson for interfering with a constable the Magistrate said he could partly understand their action. He impressed upon them the seriousness of the offence, but said he would not press the charge and allowed them to go.

Before he left the court room Hazard broke down and cried like a child.

An Eloquent Sermon at St. John's.

The service in St. John's Church last evening was attended by an unusually large congregation. The sermon, which was a very eloquent and earnest discourse, was preached by Rev. R. J. Moore, curate of St. George's, Toronto. The rev. gentleman's discourse was based on the words:—

"And it came to pass that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them and asking them questions."—Luke ii. 46.

The rev. gentleman first spoke of Lent and its observance, and then dwelt mainly on two points. First the objections which some people make to Lent and the frequent services as useless. To these he said that as Joseph and Mary found Jesus in the temple so they, if they came in the proper spirit, could find Jesus in the church. Secondly speaking of St. Andrew bringing his brother to Christ, he pointed out that they should, especially the young men, seek to bring others to Christ.

THE GREATEST REVIVAL

REV. MR. CROSSLEY TELLS OF THE GREATEST EVER KNOWN.

Rev. Mr. Hunter says a Dog Won't Squeal Unless he's hit—The Footsteps of Parents—Prayers for Card Players—Hundreds of Thousands Converted in One Day.

There was the usual packed church at St. Paul's last evening to hear the evangelists, and it does not appear to be the same crowd every night either, although, of course, there are a large number who attend the services every night. Last evening there were a few new clerical faces in the church—Rev. Messrs. Hay, of Campbellford, McAmus, of, Fraserville, and Bennett.

After the opening song and prayer service, Rev. Mr. Crossley sang the touching hymn which he has sung before, "Papa, come This Way."

DON'T SQUEAL UNLESS THEY ARE HIT.

In his remarks before reading the evening lesson Rev. Mr. Hunter, after dropping a word of warning to whisperers in general and a young lady wearing a round hat who was seated in the gallery in particular, spoke of the antipathy of some church members to attending other churches and who objected to services which were not exactly in accord with their idea of what was proper. They never said anything to hurt anybody's feelings unless it was the sinners. No one would squeal unless he was hit. There was a man in Ashburnham and another down near the station who were squealing, but they could always tell a dog when it was hit because it would squeal, and so it was with the sinners. The evangelist said they had not started to talk plain yet. He read for the lesson a part of Malachi iii. In his comments, the rev. gentleman pointed out the three "r's"—the robber (man), the robbed (God) and the robbery (in tithes and offerings). He said he would be ashamed to call himself a Christian if he gave less than one-tenth of his income to the Lord. He and Brother Crossley always gave double—if they made two hundred dollars they gave twenty of it to the church. Speaking further, he said conversion was not going to church. As Talmage had said, a man could go to hell with a catechism in each pocket and a church roll under each arm. Some church members went into all kinds of deviltry and then expected to go to heaven, and there were many who were falling right down through the church into damnation. When he came to the sixteenth verse, the evangelist asked how many had Christian conversation in their homes. How often did they take their child aside and talk to him about salvation. How many fathers would want their boys to follow in their footsteps, yet that was just what the boys would do. The boys and girls were in the footsteps of their parents, and how many of the latter would want their child to run up against them in the day of judgment and look up into their face and say "Father, I'm damned and you did it." Yet it would be so if some of them did not mend their ways. They should hear this religious conversation in the churches and talk less about church and more about Christ. They should also have Christian conversation among the unsaved.

Rev. Mr. Crossley then beautifully sang the hymn "Ashamed of Jesus."

Prayer was then offered for a number of special requests, among which was one for three young men who spent last Sunday playing cards.

THE GREATEST REVIVAL.

Rev. Mr. Crossley said he had taken for his subject that evening the greatest revival ever heard or read of. It was not that of the Pentecost, when three thousand were converted in one day, but one in which hundreds of thousands decided to serve God in one day—that of Shechem. Joshua had seen the necessity of a great revival and so he talked with his family and then called the people together and said to them "Choose you this day whom ye shall serve, but as for me and my house we will serve the Lord." People asked what do revivals amount to, they are only spasmodic, but he pointed them to the revival of Shechem as an evidence of the reality, stabiling and permanency of revivals. His text were the words:—

"Choose you this day whom ye shall serve . . . but as for me and my house we shall serve the Lord."—xxiv, 15.

The rev. gentleman said this was a suitable resolve for all present and also a suitable exhortation. They must either be serving God or some one else. He wanted them to consider themselves and get their latitude and longitude, and if they did this and think of who God was, he knew they would not have the impiousness to decide against Him. The evangelist said he learned several lessons from the text. The first was that they were to choose to serve the Lord whether others did or not—they should be independent in their choice. The second lesson was that having chosen to serve the Lord they were to profess Him. Some people said they didn't believe in coming forward and making a confession, but these people were almost antidiluvians, nearly three thousand years behind the times, for Joshua and believed in profession. They should profess not only for their own sake's but for the influence it would have over others. Thirdly he learned from the text that having chosen to serve the Lord they should seek to win others, not only by example but with their lips. Lastly he said every man, woman and child in the church had to choose that night whom they would serve before they left the building. They could choose God, or if they did not choose Him they would choose to continue serving Satan. One was a positive and the other a passive choice. He closed by earnestly pleading with the unsaved to choose for the Lord.

Rev. Mr. Hunter then exhorted the unsaved to make the great change and several stood up asking for prayers and testifying to a change of heart.

In the after meeting the church was filled and a number came forward.

NOTES.

A meeting was held in the Charlotte-st. Church this afternoon.

The union choir at the services still continues to turn out well, and the singing is excellent.

To see people starting at the head of George-st., passing all the grocery houses on the street, merely giving them the go by, and coming to a halt at the Opera House Block to secure some of W. J. Personal.

Mr. Richard B. Mowry, late of the firm of York & Mowry, left for Toronto this morning, where he has accepted a good situation in Rogers' furniture establishment.

Rev. Dr. Williams, of Cambridge-st. Methodist Church, Lindsay, is in town to-day with the view of securing, if possible, the presence in Lindsay for a week of Revs. Crossley and Hunter, on the completion of their labors here.

Mr. W. H. Stevens, who was Y.M.C.A. Secretary here and now has charge of the Methodist circuit of Grenville, Quebec, has been heartily recommended by his Quarterly Board as a suitable candidate for the ministry and unanimously invited to return to that circuit for another year. The church at Grenville has been repaired and at a re-opening concert the expense of the repairs was all provided for. Mr. Stevens friends in Peterborough will be pleased to hear of his success in his new field, and that he takes a kindly interest in this town is shown by a letter received from him by the Review in which he says:—"I often wonder how things are generally among you good people in Peterborough and devour eagerly the news contained in your weekly issue."

Photography in the Woods.

The Review was shown to-day a number of photographs, taken by Mr. R. M. Roy, giving views of scenes in the Lakefield Lumber Company's limits in North Burleigh. A series of the views show the logs drawn out on the ice waiting for the break up to be floated down to the mills. Three dumping places on Long Lake are shown, one having 30,000 logs, another 35,000 and the third 15,000 piled up, making 80,000 on this lake. On Eel's creek there are 15,000, on Jack's creek 25,000 and on Big Jack's lake 20,000. Altogether the photographs show 140,000 logs, the season's work, and they are good samples of unmanufactured lumber, two-thirds of the cut being sixteen feet long. The teams and men at work are clearly shown in the excellent photographs. Among the views is one of Brabeau's shanty, depicting the land after the timber had been stripped from it. Another excellent picture is a view of the interior of Stone's shanty at Long Lake, which, though a difficult picture to take, is so accurate and clear that even the steam rising from the kettle is seen. Mr. Roy, as a Grand Trunk man, felt an interest in the work, as that railway receives a large business from it. The Lakefield Company had 150 to 200 men and from 60 to 80 teams at work all winter. The company has commenced cutting at the Lakefield mill on the reserve stock from last season, which gives the company an advantage no other mill in the county has in commencing to saw so early in the season. All of their present season's cut of logs was made in Burleigh township and the first of the drive will reach Lakefield early in May, so the mill will have a continuous cut from now until the end of the season. They expect to cut the large quantity of ten million feet of lumber.

Brevities.

—Mass meeting of workingmen to-night.

—The market square has been scraped—and it needed it.

—The Board of Trade in Port Hope has been reorganized.

—A train load of lumber came down the Dickson spur to-day.

—A small, harmless canine was flying out of the front door of a grocery store on George-st. this afternoon and stricking on the road broke its leg.

—A charge of misappropriating money was to have been tried at the Police Court this morning, but was laid over until to-morrow morning. It is probable the case will be settled out of court.

How the Flood Came.

The aboriginal blacks of Australia have a tradition that at one time there was no water anywhere on the earth, all of it being contained in the body of a huge frog, where men and women could not get it. There was a grand council on the subject and it was ascertained that if the frog could be made to laugh the waters would run out of his mouth and the drought be ended.

Several animals danced and capered before the frog to induce him to laugh, but without success. Then the eel began to wriggle, and at that the frog laughed outright; the waters ran out of his mouth and there was a great flood, in which many people were drowned. The pelican took it upon himself to save the black people. He cut an immense canoe and went with it among the islands which appeared here and there above the waters, and with this canoe he saved a great many men and women.

It will be noticed how closely this tradition resembles our own story of the flood.—Philadelphia Times.

A Providential Escape.

A miraculous escape is recorded as having taken place at the Wright Steam Engine works, at Newburg, N. Y. A pulley weighing nearly eleven tons was being adjusted in a lathe, when suddenly the chain by which it was suspended parted, allowing the wheel to fall into the pit below, a distance of eight feet, where it was broken into eight pieces. At the time the chain parted, one of the turners was standing on the hub of the wheel and was precipitated into the pit below. Those who witnessed the accident rushed to the spot, expecting to find him crushed beneath this enormous mass of iron, but he was discovered alive and sound, although the pit was only five feet wide. Of course the shock was severe, but he was entirely uninjured, save for a few scratches received from flying fragments. With a little help he was able to climb out of the pit, when he was warmly received and congratulated by his friends and coworkers.—Scientific American.

British Live Stock Trade.

Special cables of Tuesday report a change for the worse in the condition of the British cattle markets, which have exhibited a downward inclination although prices have made no actual decline. Trade has been slow and dragging at all markets, while supplies have proven more than sufficient to cover all requirements. Receipts from Canada and the States have been heavy, while the supply generally has been fair. At Liverpool to-day there was an unsatisfactory trade. Demand was weak and uncertain and a considerable number had to be carried over. Prime steers were at 12½c, good to choice 12c, poor to medium 11c, and inferior and bulls 8½@10c. Refrigerated beef is cabled as follows:—Liverpool, hindquarters, 5d; forequarters, 3½d per lb. London hindquarters, 3s 2d; forequarters, 2s 3d per 8 lbs by the carcass.

Montreal Horse Market.

Montreal, March 16.—The demand for horses has continued good, and the market has ruled active, with a large volume of business. American buyers have been in the city and filled their wants. The prospects for this week's business are not very encouraging. The sales effected during the past week have been large, but at prices that will leave the seller light in pocket in some cases. Horses will have to be bought cheaper in the country to sell in this market at a profit. The shipments to the United States for the week ending March 16 were one stallion valued at $1,000, and 94 horses which cost $9,694, or an average of $103.12 each. At the Montreal Horse Exchange at Point St. Charles, the following sales were reported:—Forty-six horses at prices ranging from $75@$150 each. At J. H. Kimball's Horse Exchange, at the Canadian Pacific stock yards, the following sales were made:—Twenty-nine horses at from $80@$155 each.

CHINA HALL

CHINA
AND
QUEENS WA

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate cracked at that. Consider $34,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of selveres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $2,000 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $2,000 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

BEAUTIFUL JIM.

This kitchen overlooked the road, and was of irregular shape, owing to the fact that the well of the staircase was taken out of it. On the side of it furthest from the entrance gate was an empty room, and on the other were the two rooms usually appropriated to the officer commanding the detachment, though, in this case, Owen had not troubled to furnish both rooms, and had only brought a portion of his goods and chattels from headquarters. Thus the room on either side of the kitchen was empty, while on the other side of the corridor which cut that floor of the building in halves were the quarters occupied by the doctor—who preferred to be on the upper story—Beautiful Jim, Tommy Earle and young Manners.

Thus Beautiful Jim's room was exactly opposite to the kitchen; and it happened that one lonely evening at the beginning of May, after he had spent an hour with a pipe and the pleasure of dreaming about his sweet Nancy Earle, he was just beginning to think it was time to dress for mess, when Capt. Owen opened the door unceremoniously and walked in.

That something serious had happened to disturb Owen, Jim saw at once by the unusual cloud on his solemn, good phiz, which was to him the dearest in the whole regiment.

"Hallo! old man, what's up?" he demanded.

It was still chilly enough, in spite of the lovely spring weather, for all the officers to have their fires blazing half way up their chimneys, and Owen, with the usual freedom of barrack life, began to tell him what was the matter by possessing himself of the poker and vigorously smashing the big lumps of coal.

"What on earth is it?" Jim asked, his curiosity now thoroughly aroused; for Owen was a man of quite unusually equable temper, and this display of mental disturbance betrayed that something greatly out of the common had happened to ruffle him.

"That young ass, Tommy," Owen burst out in contemptuous disgust.

"What—has he been at it again?" Jim asked, not much surprised, except that Owen should think enough about Tommy to be annoyed by anything he might take it into his empty young head to do. "And what's he been after? Mischief, of course," with an amused laugh.

"Mischief! I believe you! The young fool—the idiot—the—just look here," holding out his hand.

"Why, that's Tommy's flashiest ring—beats all Evelyn Gabrielle's rings to fits," Jim exclaimed. "Where in the world did you get it? Surely young Tommy hasn't been 'reduxed' so as to pay visits to his avuncular relative?"

"If that was all there wouldn't be much harm done," returned Owen. "No, it's much worse than that. You know that pert little barmaid at the Duck's Tail?"

"Yes."

"I went in there this afternoon to get the address of that horse dealer that Whittaker told me about, and I found my lady dusting her bottles and counters and so on with this blazing on her hand. Knew the ring in a minute, and, by Jove! I was down upon her like a terrier on a rat. 'Where did you get that ring?' I asked.

"'What's that to you?' she said, with as much cheek as even Tommy himself could have shown.

"'You got it out of Mr. Earle,' said I.

"'And what if I did?' she returned, pertly.

"'A good deal,' said I; 'in fact, just this: You're a good many years older than Mr. Earle—ten at least—you're anything but a reputable woman, and, in fact, if you were as good as an angel out of heaven—which you are not—you're just about the last woman in the world that his family would ever receive if you bamboozled him into marrying you. I see you're wearing it on your engaged finger, and I suppose that means that you have inveigled him into promising to replace it by a plain one. But he will do nothing of the sort, and you will just hand that ring over at once to me. We don't allow our young officers to go about marrying any one they like, particularly such a woman as you are.'

"'And if I don't?' she asked, insolently.

"'If you don't? Well, I happen to be Mr. Earle's commanding officer just now, and unless you at once give me that ring and your solemn promise to make no further attempt to get him to marry you, I shall simply put him under arrest and keep him there until his father comes, and his father will very soon straighten him up, I promise you. Remember, he is not 19 yet—that he's an infant—a minor—and can't even make a legal marriage without his father's consent until he is one-and-twenty. He is absolutely dependent upon his father, too, for every farthing he has or ever will have; so just hand me over that ring, and I will settle the matter with him.' And the end of it all was," Owen wound up, "that she gave me the ring and her solemn pledge to have done with the young fool for good and all. Of course it was pretty nearly all bounce that I said, and would not have borne a moment's reflection if she had been a better educated woman; but it has served its turn, and it seems to me that anything is justifiable to save a young fool from coming such a cropper as that."

"Yes, that's so," murmured Jim, turning the ring over, and thinking what she would say if she knew about it.

It was a valuable and very beautiful ring, the finest one of many possessed by the object of Owen's righteous indignation. In the center was a large sapphire of great price, on which was engraved the crest and motto of the Earles. Surrounding this were diamonds of much beauty, which flashed and sparkled as the firelight fell upon them.

MR. AND MRS. BOWSER.

The Question of Pin Money and How It Was Settled.

Before our marriage mother insisted that we settle one important question, viz., what allowance I was to have weekly. When I broached the subject Mr. Bowser promptly replied:

"Half of all I have or earn is, or will be, yours. When you want money you will simply go to the family pocketbook and take it and use it as your judgment dictates."

When I told mother what he said, she replied:

"That is too generous. I never knew a man to make such an offer that he didn't afterward pinch his wife down to 50 cents a week."

When the question incidentally came up again, later on, Mr. Bowser took occasion to observe:

"There will always be money in the house, and I don't want to marry a woman whom I could not trust to use it for our best interest. It will belong to you as much as to me, and you need never ask for a dollar."

A few weeks after our marriage an agent called at our house with some fancy work, and I took $5 from the wallet in the bureau drawer and made some purchases. That evening when Mr. Bowser came home I proudly pointed to my tidies and mats and said:

"Those were purchased with our money, Mr. Bowser."

"How our money?"

"Why, I took a bill from the family wallet."

"You did! Who gave you permission to fling my money around for gimcracks?"

"Doesn't half of it belong to me?"

"Not by a long shot!"

"But before we were married you said it would."

"That's in theory, of course. I will see that you are not tempted again. When you want money ask me for it. I can then put the amount down on my cash book and figure our expenses."

The next week I wanted a new bonnet, and I asked Mr. Bowser for $15.

"Fifteen what?" he gasped as he looked up.

"Dollars."

"What for?"

"To buy a bonnet."

"Fifteen dollars to buy a bonnet! You must be crazy! I can't afford any such extravagance."

"But you said you could trust my judgment."

"Never did! No woman on earth has judgment enough to use a $10 bill."

"And you said I had only to ask you when I wanted money."

"But I meant to have explained to you, Mrs. Bowser. There are times when the best of us may be hard up. Never ask me at tax time. Never ask me when I have coal to buy. Never ask in the spring when I shall be making repairs. Don't ask during the holiday season, for then I am buying presents. In fact, when I can spare any money I will give it to you without your asking."

"But you once said a wife must feel mean without money, and that you believed in a weekly allowance," I protested.

"I still say so and I still believe so. I think it would be more satisfactory to both of us. Mrs. Bowser, name the sum you are willing to take."

"For pin money?"

"Of course. Women are always wanting little trifles, and I shall give you a weekly salary to buy them. How much?"

"I—I hardly know."

"Could you get everything on $5 a week?"

"I think I could."

"Very well. This is Saturday. Here's your salary. When Saturday comes hold out your hand for your money. I don't believe in a wife crawling and begging for money."

The next week I held out my hand and my salary was promptly handed over, but when the succeeding Saturday arrived Mr. Bowser observed:

"Let's see! You have had $10. I presume that every red cent of it has been squandered. Let's figure a little and see what you have brought."

"But wasn't it mine, to use as I thought best?"

"Theoretically, yes; but should you become a spendthrift, who would be responsible for it? The possession of plenty of money has been the ruination of many women."

"Never ruined a man, I suppose!"

"Possibly, but that's not the question. Let us figure."

"So we will, Mr. Bowser! Your income last week was $40. You gave me $5. How have you used the rest?"

"Are you crazy?" he gasped.

"No, sir! How did you use that money?"

He looked at me a long time and then handed me my salary and the subject was dropped. The next week, however, he cut me down a dollar, and the second week I got but two.

"I—I don't understand," I said as I looked at the bill.

"It's all I can spare."

"Then it's all right, and I'll try and make it do."

At the end of the sixth or seventh week I asked for my salary and arrears, and Mr. Bowser jumped up and demanded:

"What salary! What arrears! If you want money why don't you ask for it, the same as other wives do! What are you trying to get at?"

"Don't I have a weekly salary?"

"Not that I ever heard of."

"But you said—I thought you were going to—to"——

"Going to Texas! Oh, no! Mrs. Bowser, you have been exposed to the measles, and you are over excited. If you want a quarter or fifty cents here it is, but please control your nerves a little better."

"But don't I get $5 a week?"

"Not that I know of."

"And you go back on your word, do you?"

"Mrs. Bowser, the term 'go back' is slangy. Please don't use it at our fireside. If occasion should ever arise when you felt the need of money, don't hesitate to ask me. Here are a couple of street car tickets now. I always have change with me. Let us now drop the subject."—Detroit Free Press.

Found Dead in the Road

COOKSVILLE, Ont., March 21.—Last evening about 5.30 a lady who was driving along Dundas-street observed a horse and rig in the ditch about 100 yards from the railway crossing east of Cooksville station. On closer examination she found a man by the name of Robert Spiers lying under the rig dead. It is supposed the horse took fright from a passing train and ran away.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery, it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if every thing else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

No department in our store has received more marked attention than our Dress Goods Department. Every shelf is laden with the latest production of the English, French and German looms. They are unsurpassed for Style, Colorings, and elegance in design, and nothing has ever been seen like them for richness and cheapness. Every new weaving combination and texture just as cheap.

Our display of Silks in Printed Pongees and Chinas is unusually large.

DRESS TRIMMINGS.

We show Dress Trimmings in every conceivable design to match any coloring in Dress Goods and you will see novelties in these goods which is not shown by anyone else as they were made to our own order.

Our Dress Making Department is busier than we usually find it at this time of the year this is due to the fact that our Miss Neil's abilities in this line are abreast of the times.

TURNBULL'S COLUMN.

DRESS GOODS. "SATEUR CLOTH," commonly called HENRIETTA It is almost a joke the way these Goods have jumped to popularity at a single leap. but it is now at the zenith, entrenched, fortified, public favor decrees it. We are showing 36 distinct shades. We have never had the like before under 90c., the price 75c. Lift a fold, every ounce of the weight comes from good fine wool, honestly put together, by the yard stick 46 inches plump, test the dye, every shade shows as evenly as the sun on a quiet pool and are going out like the rolling sea evenly and constantly. See them, they are on the move.

In the last week, heaps of New Dress Goods have come in. The spring gathering is at its flood. Take any sort you choose. Cottons or Woollens, Silks or Satins. Another family of Cashmeres. We show 15 colorings most of which are entirely new, 44 inches wide, price 50c.

Cast your eye to the end of our Dress Goods counter and you will find a range of French Stuffs in 20 shades. We have never had the like before under 25c., but have bought them low and are selling them close price 20c.

BRADFORD GOODS in stripes and checks at 10c. a yard, fresh goods, new colors.

Those wishing to have their dresses made up can have them done on the premises if necessary by our dressmaker, Miss Mercier, who has given up her own business to take charge of this department.

ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS.—They will gladden your eyes, perhaps cheer your hearts and touch your pocket book. Gently have you noticed the progress in the art of making them so natural. They cheat you into touching or smelling to test their reality.

Lilacs, Tulips, Roses, Lillies of the Valley to be worn in profusion on Millinery this season. Case after case of Black and Colored Straw Hats, Bonnets, Trimmings, etc., have arrived, in fact nearly all the Spring Millinery is now opened out ready for inspection.

FRIDAY, MARCH 22 1889

THEIR OCCUPATION GONE.

THE ASSEMBLY TO BE PROROGUED TO-MORROW AFTERNOON.

The House Cleans Off Its Slate—Bills That Were Passed to a Third Reading—The Railway Measure.

TORONTO, March 22.—In the Assembly yesterday morning there was a discussion on Mr. Balfour's bill to amend the Otario Election Act. Mr. Wood of Hastings moved that the bill be referred back to committee to be so amended that for members of this House there shall be a secret ballot. The Commissioner of Crown Lands and others spoke against the amendment, which was supported by by Mr. Willoughby, Mr. Creighton and other members of the Opposition The House divided and the amendment was lost, 30 to 50.

In the afternoon Mr. Creighton, on behalf of Mr. Meredith, who was absent, brought up the case of Mr. S. M. Davis, who in July, 1888, in the town of Goderich, was assaulted by Mr. Macdonald, Deputy-Clerk of the County of Huron. Davis, he stated, was now going round on crutches. The Attorney-General replied that both parties had been drinking at the time which accounted for the affair having taken place, and an action was brought by Davis against Macdonald, and he had received some slight damages, and Mr. Mowat said that he had not neglected to give the matter attention. He felt sorry for Davis, who wished him to dismiss Macdonald from his position. This the Attorney-General was not disposed to do. He was an efficient officer and had always attended to his duties.

The supplementary estimates brought down on Wednesday, amounting to $148,142, were considered in committee and adopted. On motion to concur in the estimates for public institutions, howeve, Mr. Creighton moved that the following words be added to the motion: "But while willing to grant all necessary sums for the maintenance of our public institutions, this House is of opinion that the system heretofore pursued of purchasing large quantities of supplies for these institutions without public competition opens the way for gross favoritism and extravagance, is not in the public interest and ought to be discontinued."

Mr. Harcourt moved an amendment to the amendment, that all after the word "that" in the resolution be struck out and the following inserted: "There be added to the original resolution these words; and whilst concurring on such resolutions this House desires to express the opinion that, in regard to supplies for the institutions which cannot advantageously be supplied by tender, the purchasing officers should insist that where wholesale quantities are purchased, only current wholesale prices should be charged.

This was carried by a vote of 50 to 28 and a bill was at once introduced by Mr. A. M. Ross giving effect to the estimates and passed.

Mr. O'Connor's bill to provide for the sale of land for taxes by the local municipalities was on motion for its second reading so strongly opposed that he consented to withdraw it.

During the afternoon the bill giving effect to the railway resolutions, which was read a second time on Wednesday, was rushed through committee and read a third time.

These bills also received their third reading:

Respecting the City of Toronto—E. F. Clarke

To confirm a certain agreement between the City of Kingston and certain railway companies—Mr. Metcalf.

To amend the Ontario Election Act—Mr. Balfour.

Respecting the administration of justice in certain cases—the Attorney-General.

To amend the Division Courts Act—Mr. Gibson (Hamilton).

To amend the Public Health Act—Mr. Gibson (Hamilton).

To amend the Law of Slander—Mr. French.

Respecting Live Stock Insurance—Mr. Bishop.

To make further provision respecting the property of religious institutions—the Attorney-General.

Respecting the Port Arthur Light and Power Company—Mr. Conmee.

At the evening session there was the customary display of festivity which accompanies the closing hours of a parliamentary session. The members concluded their relaxation by singing the "National Anthem" and "Auld Lang Syne."

To-morrow at 3 p.m. the House will be prorogued.

Given the Three Months' Hoist.

HALIFAX, March 22.—The House of Assembly, by a vote of 19 to 18, has given the three months' hoist to the proposition to allow Dominion Government officials to vote at municipal elections in Nova Scotia.

Sir Charles Tupper arrived from Ottawa yesterday afternoon. He is the guest of Col. Clarke, and will remain till Saturday.

Whisky Raid at Whitby.

WHITBY, March 21.—License Inspector John Ferguson and Chief Constable Hugh McBrien made a raid to-day on the Royal Hotel, kept by James Black, also on the Armstrong Hotel, kept by Van Woodruff, and captured a quantity of whisky and beer in the bars.

Terrible Dynamite Explosion.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 21.—A sound like the combined roar of hundreds of cannon followed by the ascension of a huge black cloud of smoke to a towering height startled the inhabitants of Lakewood, N. J., and adjacent villages at 1 p.m. to-day. The earth was shaken as if by an earthquake. An explosion had occurred in the mixing room of the works of the United States Dynamite Company, three miles from Toms River. Thomas Haggerty and William Nicholas were the only occupants of the room. Nicholas was blown to atoms and Haggerty died in less than an hour. He was unable to explain the accident. His body was terribly mutilated and he suffered great agony. The shock was perceptible in all the towns and villages within 15 or 20 miles. At Toms River many citizens were greatly alarmed. Some buildings were violently shaken and the earth trembled. At Manchester and Farmingdale the report was distinctly heard. The United States Dynamite Company located its factory near Toms River about four years ago. Three explosions have occurred there in which five men were killed and three maimed for life.

CAPT. SEAGRAVE SACKED

SCENES OF GREAT DISORDER IN THE IMPERIAL HOUSE

A Motion to Reduce Balfour's Salary Defeated — French Deputies — After the Scalps of the Copper Speculators.

LONDON, March 21.—In the House of Commons this afternoon Baron De Worms, Parliamentary Colonial Secretary, read a telegram from the Cape in reply to inquiries concerning Captain Seagrave who commanded the constables at the Mitchellstown riots in 1887. The telegram said Seagrave was dismissed from the Cape infantry service in 1885 for gross neglect of duty and breach of trust.

A scene of great disorder followed. The Irish members rose in their places and cheered and there were cries of "Pigott!" "Pigott!" "Remember Mitchellstown!"

Secretary Balfour said he had suspended Seagrave but preferred not to dismiss him until documentary evidence of his guilt had been received.

On the vote on Mr. Balfour's salary Mr. Morley severely criticised the Government's action in carrying on a "furtive and clandestine battle behind its opponents' backs."

Mr. Bradlaugh moved that Mr. Balfour's salary be reduced by £500.

Mr. Bradlaugh's motion was rejected, 272 to 211.

Halifax to be Tied to Bermuda by Cable.

LONDON, March 21.—In the House of Commons to-day Postmaster-General Raikes announced that the Government intended to lay a submarine cable between Bermuda and Halifax.

Naughty Peers May Stay.

LONDON, March 21.—In the House of Lords to-night the Earl of Carnarvon's bill providing for the expulsion of peers from the House for discreditable conduct was rejected, 73 to 14.

The Healys Have Pigott's Diary.

LONDON, March 21.—Pigott's diary is said to be in possession of Maurice and Timothy M. Healy, National members of Parliament.

To be Produced Before the Commission.

LONDON, March 21.—Mr. Lewis, solicitor for the Parnellites, has secured Richard Pigott's diary and will produce it before the Parnell Commission.

Germany and Britain.

LONDON, March 21.—It is now admitted by diplomats in Berlin that Prince Bismarck's efforts to form an alliance between Germany and England have failed completely. Emperor William was exceedingly desirous of contracting the alliance, and it is understood that he still has hopes of bringing it about. It is this hope which has induced him to invite the Prince of Wales to visit Berlin.

An Alliance Hoped For.

BERLIN, March 21.—Count Herbert Bismarck started to-day for London. The Boersen Zeitung says the object of his journey is to personally settle the last questions at issue in connection with the rapprochement between England and Germany and adds: "The fact that only such divergence exists as personal explanations can reconcile justifies hopes of an Anglo-German alliance."

The Copper Crisis.

PARIS, March 21.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. Laur, in the discussion of an interpellation on the copper crisis, demanded that the penal code provision against monopolies be enforced. He accused the Rothschilds of causing the crisis and of leading an international plot against the French markets and urged the necessity of an enquiry into the crisis.

M. Rouvier, Minister of Finance, ridiculed M. Laur's speech as a romance.

M. Thevenet, Minister of Justice, said the law against monopolies had not been repealed, but it was difficult to prove charges of monopoly.

M. Lejeune reproached the Government for refusing to intervene in the Panama Canal affair, and yet intervening in the Comptoir d'Escompte crisis.

M. Rouvier replied that the Government had been unable to interfere in the Panama Canal affair.

M. Millerand said the Government had performed only a part of its duty; it still remained to make a salutary example. He proposed an order of the day calling for an immediate judicial enquiry into the copper monopoly.

M. Thevenet stated that the Government would scrupulously examine into the matter with the view of reaching the guilty parties, but it reserved the right to choose its own time for the investigation.

The order of the day, pure and simple, was rejected, 284 to 234.

M. Laur then withdrew his motion for the enforcement of the monopoly law, and after further discussion M. Thomson moved an order of the day declaring the government would take steps to ascertain who were responsible for the crisis and to make the law respected.

M. Thomson's motion was accepted by the Government and was adopted by a vote of 339 to 312.

Behring's to be Declared a Closed Sea.

NEW YORK, March 21.—A Washington despatch to The Post says: President Harrison will soon issue a proclamation declaring that the Behring Sea is a closed sea. In the closing hours of the last Congress an amendment was incorporated in the Inter-Territorial Salmon Fishing Act, which extends the provisions of the Salmon Fishing Act to seal fishing in Behring Sea, that is to say, the act forbids the taking of seal by anyone not authorized by the act within the waters of Behring Sea, and does not exclude them merely from fishing on certain islands. The act may give rise to important international complications. It is an attempt, by legislative enactment, to settle an international question which the great powers interested may consider still an open one.

A Baby Found in a Satchel.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Trainmen going through the train from New Haven at the Grand Central Depot this afternoon found a queer looking satchel under a seat. It was taken to the superintendent's office and opened. There was a baby boy in it, not over a month old, in a long white slip and flannel skirts packed about its feet. The old valise had been lined with cotton and in the snug nest the baby slept contentedly. The valise also contained a half-filled milk bottle, smelling strongly of paregoric. The babe was turned over to the police matron.

A Banquet Tendered Mr. Wiman.

PORTLAND, Me., March 21.—The Portland Board of Trade, with a view of discussing closer relations between the United States and Canada, have tendered a public banquet to Erastus Wiman of New York in order to afford that gentleman opportunity for the delivery of an address upon this subject. Dinner is to be given at Falmouth Hotel on the night of Saturday, March 30. A committee of prominent citizens is in charge of the matter, the chairman being W. L. Putnam, late of the fishery commission that negotiated the Chamberlain-Bayard treaty.

INTERESTING ITEMS BY WIRE.

The Quebec Legislature was prorogued yesterday.

August von Pettenkofen, the Austrian painter, is dead.

Navigation has been opened at the west end of Lake Erie.

A number of additional Provincial University examiners were appointed last night.

The Franchise Bill is expected to come up in the House at Ottawa to-day.

A little girl, 6 years old, fell from a fast express train on the M.C.R. yesterday near Attercliffe, and was not missed until the train reached Welland. She was found in a pool of water in the ditch, conscious and with no bones broken.

Found Drowned.

WELLAND, March 22.—About 2 o'clock yesterday the body of Peter Dayboll was found in the race-way at Welland. It is supposed he was intoxicated and attempted to cross on the ice, which unfortunately gave away and the poor man was drowned. He leaves a large family of children partly grown up.

FIRES OF A DAY.

A Big Blaze at Bowmanville—The Losses and Insurance.

BOWMANVILLE, March 21.—About 3.45 this morning fire was discovered in McClung's Block in the building occupied by W. Quick & Co., grocers and provision dealers, who have been moving their stock the past two days to Buckler's Block. The fire had got such headway before it was discovered that the whole upper part of the block was enveloped, and nothing was saved except some dry goods from McClung Bros.' stock on the first floor. The building was completely gutted. Nothing now remains but the bare brick walls of what was the finest brick block in the town.

The block contained two large stores on the ground floor—W. Quick & Co., groceries and provisions, and McClung Bros., dry goods. The second flat was occupied by Dr. J. M. Brimacombe as dental parlors and R. Russell Loscombe's law offices. The whole of the third flat was occupied by Chas. Ruse's school of music.

The fire brigades were unable to stay the flames, and James B. Fairbairn's brick block adjoining on the east soon fell a prey to the devouring element. The first to be cleaned out was Richard Worth's hardware store, and then David Davis' boot and shoe store. Part of the second story was occupied until a few days ago by Samuel Allin. Two larger stone houses in the rear of these two blocks and several smaller buildings, used as store rooms, were also burned

About 9.30 a second alarm was sounded, when volumes of smoke were seen issuing from the roof of John Higginbotham's block, occupied by W. Ellison & Co., dry goods, and L. E. Higginbotham, drug store and residence, and Dr. E. C. McDowell's surgery. The second story was mostly destroyed.

The losses and insurances are as follows:

	Loss.	Insurance.
Miss McClung	$12,000	$10,000
McClung Bros	15,000	15,500
Quick & Co.	3,000	2,500
J. M. Brimacombe	1,000	400
R. R. Loscombe	500	500
Chas. Ruse	800	500
J. B. Fairbairn	8,000	5,500
R. Worth	5,000	6,000
D. Davis	2,000	none
J. Higginbotham	4,000	5,000
Ellison & Co	2,000	7,000
Higginbotham & Son	5,000	2,100
E. Higginbotham	150	400

Dr. McDowell, whose office adjoined Mr. E. Higginbotham's dwelling, loses about $100 in property destroyed during removal. Mr. F. F. McArthur's block was somewhat damaged, as also was the dry goods stock of Thompson & Co. through removal.

The insurance companies are interested as follows:

Royal	$8000	Western	$8000
Phoenix	1900	Ætna	8500
Hartford	1200	B. America	8000
Caledonia	2000	Com. Union	2000

Bottling Works Burnt.

ELMIRA, N.Y., March 21.—E. B. Gardner's Eagle bottling works were burned this morning. Loss $25,000.

That Mysterious Deputation.

HAMILTON, March 21.—The deputation here yesterday comprising representatives from New York, Chicago, Toronto, Brantford and other places conferred with regard to the building of a line of railway through the city and over the mountain to the Niagara frontier to connect the Vanderbilt system in the east with the Michigan Central. Their schemes are pretty well advanced, they having already secured the transfer to them of a charter. Nothing very definite was done at the meeting here, but what was done was of a most satisfactory nature. It is proposed to build the road from the Falls through Hamilton and Toronto, taking in other places on the road, and connect with the Canada Southern near St. Thomas. It is also proposed to run a line of steamers and build wharves and elevators at this city.

Assaulted by Footpads.

HAMILTON, March 21.—Charles Hale, who keeps a fruit and confectionery store in James-street, near the market, reported to the police to-day that about eleven o'clock last night, as he was going home along King William-street, about 100 yards east of the Central Police Station, he was set upon by two men, one of whom, a big powerful fellow, held him while the other gave him a fearful blow on the head and tried to go through him. He heard one of them say, "He's got money about him," but Mr. Hale had left all his money except a little change at his store. Hale says he was half unconscious for a while, but when he came to he shouted for the police, and the men ran as they saw two people coming in the distance. His head was very badly cut and his clothes covered with blood.

Winnipeg Wire Whispers.

WINNIPEG, March 21.—There is likely to be a newspaper war between The Free Press and The Sun over circulation and the former will issue an evening edition in a few weeks.

Wheat is quoted at from 10 to 18 cents higher in Manitoba than in Dakota.

About 700 settlers arrived to-day.

There was a rise in the price of bread to-day, only fourteen loaves being now given for a dollar.

McGarigle has left for Toronto.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Another Serious Charge Against Andy Maloney, the Montreal Sport

TORONTO, March 22.—Andy Maloney, the Montreal Gambler, is in deeper water than the trouble caused by his recent arrest for the larceny of $14,000 worth of jewelry. Hattie Johnson, a woman of the town, claims to be Mrs. Maloney first, last and all the time, as against a second claimant who not only holds the title but in proof thereof has produced a pledge of affection which she claims to be the legitimate offspring of Mr. Maloney. Mrs. Maloney, alias Johnston, is so incensed against Andy for his alleged infidelity that she has initiated bigamy proceedings against him.

Mr. Frank Arnoldi, solicitor for Assignee G. M. Gardner, has been over at Buffalo endeavoring to get Burgess, the Mimico canning man, to disgorge some of the money that he carried off and to get him to come back to Toronto to assist in winding up the estate. The result is that there will be returned immediately to the estate about $14,105 of the money, and that as soon as the creditors who are pursuing Burgess are aware of the fact he will be released and return to his friends.

Sir Alexander Campbell had a slight stroke of facial paralysis the other day.

Sixty architects from various parts of the Province met at the Queen's yesterday and organized themselves into "The Ontario Association of Architects," one of the objects of which is to secure legislation regulation the practice of the profession. These officers were chosen: President, W. G. Storm, Toronto; vice-presidents, K. Arnold, Ottawa; Geo. J. Durant, London; James Balfour, Hamilton. Secretary, S. H. Townsend, Toronto; treasurer, N. B. Dick, Toronto. The next meeting will be held in Toronto on the third Wednesday of November.

Detective John Cuddy last night proceeded to one of the leading hotels and arrested John Macdonald of Paisley, Scotland, on a charge of embezzlement, at once cabling the news to the interested parties in that town. It is alleged that Macdonald, who is an auctioneer, was entrusted with a quantity of goods to sell on commission. He disposed of the goods, but failed to make a proper return, taking a jaunt to Canada instead.

Six Boys Escape From the Industrial.

MIMICO, March 21.—To-night about 7.30 six of the largest boys escaped from the Victoria Industrial School. They were not missed until they had got a good start. Their names are: Graham who comes from Dunnville, Abraham from Stratford, Warner from Lindsay, Churchill, Toner and Risley from Toronto. They were dressed when they left in the school uniform of grey with red stripes on the coats and pantaloons.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

A NUMBER OF BILLS READ A THIRD TIME AND PASSED.

The N. W. M. P. Pension Resolution Adopted—Sir John Thompson's Commercial Paper Bill Under Discussion.

OTTAWA, March 21.—The proposed increase in the salary of Toronto's postmaster was made the subject of a division of the House this afternoon. On the third reading of the bill amending the Civil Service Act so as to authorize such an increase, Sir Richard Cartwright moved an amendment fixing $3300 as the maximum salary of a postmaster. The amendment was lost, 68 to 113. The bill was then read a third time and passed. The bill amending the Winding-up Act was also read a third time and passed.

The resolution providing for certain amendments in the Customs Act, already enumerated, was considered in committee and adopted, and a bill founded upon it introduced. Among the most noteworthy provisions are those prohibiting the importation of any goods, except in railway carriage, during the night time or on statutory holidays without a permit and supervision; that the value for duty shall always include transportation charges and royalty payable, and that valuation by port appraisers may be reviewed by the Dominion Board.

Sir John Macdonald's resolution providing a system of pensions for the Northwest Mounted Police was adopted. There was considerable opposition caused by Hon. David Mills, who objected to any extension of the pension system and thought the Mounted Police were paid enough to admit of their pension allowance being collected from their daily pay.

The rest of the evening was spent in the discussion of Sir John Thompson's bill codifying and on certain points amending the laws relating to promissory notes and bills of exchange. Several members of the Opposition objected to going on with the bill because they said there would not be time for a proper discussion if the House was to adjourn by Easter, and Mr. Laurier said that if they could not prorogue by that time the chances were that the session would be extended for several weeks beyond.

Mr. Mitchell was amongst the most earnest in protesting against going on with the bill in a hurry, because he said there was a law suit in every line. Sir John Thompson decided to go on with the bill, however, and good progress was made with it, facilitated probably by the fact that the chamber contained little more than a quorum of members when the discussion was going on.

The House adjourned at 11.50.

A MILITARY DEPUTATION.

The Government Asked for a Grant to Bring Crack Regiments to Camp.

OTTAWA, March 21.—A deputation of military men from the west arrived in Ottawa today for the purpose of endeavoring to secure Government assistance towards bringing four city corps to camp to learn the new system of infantry drill just prescribed. The corps are the Queen's Own Rifles and Grenadiers of Toronto, the Thirteenth Battalion of Hamilton and the Dufferin Rifles of Brantford, and it is proposed that they should spend four days together on Niagara Common, an immense parade ground.

They first interviewed Sir Adolphe Caron, Minister of Militia. Colonel Dawson was chief spokesman of the deputation. He pointed out that the city corps, especially those of Toronto, where there was no drill shed or parade ground available, had no opportunity of learning the drill newly prescribed save by going into camp. The men were willing to give their time for nothing if the Government would pay for transport and subsistence. It was proposed that about 1200 men should take part and the Government grant asked was $3500. Major Carpenter, M.P., endorsed the application, as he did not see how the city corps could acquire the desired information without going into camp and giving a few days' hard work to it. Senator Macdonald also spoke in support of the application.

Sir Adolphe Caron said such a grant as asked for could not be taken out of the ordinary appropriations, and if special votes were proposed application would be very generally received from other places, whose requests could not consistently be refused. He was afraid that the Finance Minister or the Council would not consent to the expenditure involved. Colonel Otter said he thought if the Government would place the sum required in the estimates they would get general support from the House. Major Carpenter agreed with this. Colonel Dawson pointed out that similar applications from all city corps might be granted, and still the expenditure for 1889 would be less than for 1888, as a considerable reduction had been made in the estimates. Mr. Adam Brown said there was no body of men in Canada more deserving of encouragement than were the volunteers.

Sir Adolphe Caron said the proposition practically meant that certain corps should have sixteen days' drill instead of twelve as allowed at present. He believed himself that twelve days was too short a period and had always advocated sixteen days, but had not been able to secure sufficiently large appropriations to meet the outlay. He would lay the application before his colleagues, though he must say he thought there was little prospect of success.

The deputation and their parliamentary friends next waited upon Sir John Macdonald to make the same application to him. Having heard Col. Dawson, Col. Otter, Mr. Small, Mr. Brown and others, Sir John said he was afraid that in this year of retrenchment the Government could not grant the desired appropriation. "We must consult the military authorities, though," he added, "and I will speak to the Minister and to General Middleton. He's a good practical man." Being further pressed, on the score that the new drill could not possibly be learned this year at city headquarters, Sir John jocosely remarked that he would arrange it with President Harrison that there should be no war this year.

CAPITAL GOSSIP.

Labor Topics—Mr. Kenny's Motion Touching the C.P.R. Bill.

OTTAWA, March 21.—Messrs. Elliott, Labor Representative at the Capital, Wright of Toronto and Casey of St. Catharines waited upon the Minister of Justice to-day to request a change in the Seamen's Agreement Act so as to admit of the issue of a writ of certiorari after conviction under the act, permitting a review of the judgment rendered. Sir John Thompson expressed himself as favorably impressed with the arguments of the deputation.

Though he has not quite recovered his health General Master Workman Powderly has signified his intention of giving the promised lectures on labor topics at Toronto and Ottawa. He is not likely to speak elsewhere for the present. His Toronto lecture will be on April 13 and he will lecture at Ottawa two days later.

Mr. Cook's bill to compel owners of elevators to provide proper precautions to prevent accidents came to grief to-day in the select committee to which it had been referred. They came to the conclusion that the subject was one for provincial legislation.

Mr. Kenny of Halifax has given notice that he will move, on consideration of the Canadian Pacific Railway bill in committee of the whole, a resolution granting the powers asked for by the bill only on consideration that the railway shall expend $100,000 before Jan. 1, 1890, on the short line railway between Mattawamkeag and Harvey and Salsbury and that the company shall agree to complete this line within two years from that date.

Sir John Macdonald is credited with the statement that when the disallowance of the Jesuits Estates Act comes to a vote his party will vote solidly with him with the exception of Messrs. Wallace, McNeill, McCarthy, Tyrwhitt and O'Brien and that there will be only about twenty votes cast on the side of disallowance.

ALBANY, N.Y., March 21.—This afternoon Bradstreet's reported the embarrassment of Robert Geer, a well-known flour and salt merchant, who transferred property aggregating $50,000 to his father, James L. Geer, who lives in Connecticut, and to whom he is said to be heavily indebted.

ROBBING THE TOWN TREASURIES.

IT is claimed that in Ontario there is no direct taxation, yet the Mowat Government has, in the closing hours of the present session of the Legislature, rushed in a measure that will take money out of the pockets of the people and place it in the Government's coffers. The bill is changing the liquor license laws, and it provides that "all sums imposed by the municipality in excess of the $200 mentioned in section 42 of this Act shall be divided equally between the Province and such municipality."

Let us take a practical illustration of what this means. The Government heretofore took a large portion of the license fees from the municipalities, but this means an additional robbery of the town treasuries. In Peterborough the people decided that if licenses should be issued the license fee should be $200 more than the $200 mentioned in section 42, making the fee $400 by by-law. This was done to raise revenue for the town. But the Government steps in and says the town shall not keep the additional $200 it proposes to raise, and must hand half of it over to the Provincial treasury. There would be eighteen tavern and saloon licenses in this town, and as the saloon license fee is $100 more than that imposed for a tavern license, the Government would take from the municipal treasury of this town something over $2,000 a year. That is, the taxes of the people of Peterborough would be increased by this bill to the extent of about $2,000 a year for the benefit of the Province.

The people have submitted so quietly to the invasions the Government has made upon the municipal authority that Mr. Mowat and his colleagues may feel that they can go to any extent they wish and that the people will grin and bear it, but surely there is a limit to these impositions.

This increase of taxes is not even distributed over the Province. Toronto and other places are not affected by it, and the Government singles out a few towns to bear this increased burden for the whole Province.

A Government that professes to have a surplus of $7,000,000 and to have surpluses in its annual accounts should not fee it necessary to add to the taxes of the towns in the Province. But the fact that it does do so is evidence that its financial position is not so good as it pretends. The people have been warned again and again that the wasteful management of the Mowat Government was carrying the Province to direct taxation, and it has come now, in addition to what was taken before, to the extent of $2,000—and over that amount when another census is taken—to the town of Peterborough should licenses be issued here. The people should be prepared to express their opinion of such invasions of the municipal treasury when the proper time comes.

SMITH TOWNSHIP.

Correspondence of the Review.

A PARTY from the township will leave for Souris, Manitoba, next Tuesday. It will include Mr. T. H. Milburn and family and Messrs. George Milburn, James Wadsworth, Wm. Sanderson, F. Bestard and Thomas Godfrey. At a social entertainment held in the 4th Line Temperance Hall, Mr. Milburn, who is a Past Master of Jubilee L.O.L., was presented with an address and a beautiful family Bible and Mrs. Milburn with a handsome musical instrument. Mr. Wm. Graham presided and a good programme of music and recitations was carried out. At the conclusion of the programme the chairman read the address to Mr. Milburn, and Mr. S. Stinson presented him with the Bible, while Mr. W. Telford handed to Mrs. Milburn the musical instrument. Mr. Milburn replied briefly in suitable terms on behalf of himself and Mrs. Milburn. The address was as follows:—

To H. Milburn, Esq., P. M. Jubilee L. O. L., No. 178.

DEAR SIR AND BRO.,—We, the members of Jubilee Lodge, No. 178, L. O. L., and friends desire, on the eve of your departure from amongst us, to express to you the high regard and appreciation that we hold for you as a member of this Lodge, and as a neighbor, friend and citizen generally.

As an Orangeman we desire to bear testimony to your zeal on behalf of the principles of our Order. You have worked well and faithfully for the promotion of those interests in this Lodge, and we have no doubt but that you will carry the same spirit to your new home. During your career amongst us you have always attached yourself to those associations which promote moral interests in the community.

We also wish to bear testimony to the high respect which the character of your amiable wife, Mrs. Milburn, has won in the community, and we are sure we express the sentiments of all who may have the pleasure of her acquaintance when we say that the absence of both will be regretted and missed.

In token of the earnestness of our good wishes, we ask you to accept this family Bible, whose pages you have done so much to keep open, on behalf of this Lodge, and this musical instrument for Mrs. Milburn, coupled with the hope and wish that in your new home you may enjoy all the prosperity which your many good qualities deserve.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge,
SAMUEL STINSON, W. M.
WILLIAM TELFORD, R. S.

THE FAITH THAT SAVES

THE SUBJECT OF REV. MR. CROSSLEY'S SONG SERMON.

Another Immense Crowd at the Evangelistic Meeting—Choice Singing—The Inquiry Rooms Filled and Many Saved.

It seems as if each evangelistic meeting surpasses in interest all previous ones. The church was crowded last evening when the meeting was opened by singing "Come Believing." The choir is everything that could be desired, but is really getting better and better. Members of the English church choir were welcomed last night by the choir leaders and evangelists. The choir performs a very important part in the services by singing the invitations with such spirit and harmony. Organists Parker and Dingle show great interest and skill in the music and services generally. The ministers and churches emulate one another in seeking to gather in the loss of all classes.

THREE D'S AND THREE S'S.

After the opening exercises Mr. Hunter took for his lesson Luke xix. 1-10, the story of Zacchæus' conversion. "He was rich." There is no harm in being rich, but there is responsibility. "I must abide at thy house." Some seek for Christ as a visitor at times of sickness and trouble, but when will think they have no need of Him as they wish to have dances, cards, etc. "I restore." That is a good sign of conversion that he made restitution. Go and pay up your old doctor and grocery bills and people will think you are converted. Some don't believe in sudden conversion. Here this man went up into the tree a sinner and when he reached the ground was converted. You came here a sinner, but may go away saved. Notice the three D's and three S's. Zacchæus had (1) desire, (2) difficulties, (3) determination. Jesus, 1st, saw him, 2nd spake to him, 3rd saved him. If you desire Christ, though in difficulties, being determined you shall be saved.

Many requests for prayer were read while all heads were bowed.

THE SONG SERMON.

Mr. CROSSLEY'S subject was "Hinderances to Faith" from the text, Acts x. 43:—"To Him give all the prophets witness that through His name whosoever believeth on Him shall receive remission of sins." He spoke of faith being the simplest act the human mind can perform. God wanted everybody saved and so made the way simple. There are many hindrances to faith, however. He mentioned a few. 1st. Want of repentance. Persons are unwilling to give up sin and confess Christ. He came to save His people from their sins, not in them. He could as easily save the devil as the one who clung to sin or doubtful practices. 2nd hindrance, a wrong idea of what to believe. Most persons think they must believe they are saved in order to be saved and many teachers in effect say to seekers, as he heard one say in word, "Believe you are saved and you are saved." As well say believe you are in Texas and you are in Texas. The text says "Whosoever believeth on Him," i.e., believes on Jesus to save you now, as you believe and you are saved. 3rd hindrance, trying to believe faith is not an effort or an act to be performed at will, but is an instinctive act. You get faith in Christ as in anybody else, viz., by evidence. "Faith cometh by hearing." Peter referred to testimony of prophets and Cornelius and his house believed. Think of the testimony of prophets, apostles, your mother and thousands of others concerning Christ and doubt if you can. You think of Christ, the object of faith, and trust is so easy. 4th hindrance, seeking for the evidence, viz., peace and assurance before pardon is obtained. If thirsty you do not ask to feel the thirst satisfied, but ask water and by drinking the water the thirst is satisfied, but cannot be without. So seek Christ, the water of life, receive Him by faith and the spiritual thirst will be quenched and yours will be "peace with God," but you cannot have this peace without receiving Christ to pardon any more than thirst can be quenched without water. 5th hindrance, want of present decision. You have desires and conviction, but need decision. Decide to-night and prove that "now is the day of salvation."

NOTES.

Mr. Crossley sang "Handwriting on the Wall" again as so many had requested it.

There will be a men's meeting in the Opera House on Sabbath afternoon at four o'clock. Be on time if you want a seat or standing room.

Mr. Hunter's exhortation at the close of the sermon was very effective. Many went into the enquiry room as seekers.

Three suitable sacred songs were sung in the sermon; two solos and one duet.

The whole town seems to be one great enquiry meeting, for in the post office, barber shops, stores, streets and rooms the talk is about the meetings and Christianity. Every person not a Christian seems ready to talk upon the subject.

The Third Party.

TORONTO, March 22.—Canada's New Party, as it is officially called, opened a convention here yesterday afternoon in one of the rooms of the Y.M.C.A. Rev. Dr. Sutherland is president of the council and Mr. Wm. Munns of Parkdale is secretary. Committees were appointed on Finance, Platform, etc., and subscriptions amounting to $400 taken for the campaign fund. A public meeting was held at the Pavilion in the evening at which ex-Governor St. John of Kansas, J. W. Bengough and others spoke, and resolutions were passed, condemning the grant to the Jesuits as unconstitutional and disloyal; protesting against the course of the Dominion Government with reference thereto; advising the taking of steps to test the constitutionality of the act in the courts; condemning the attitude of the Ontario Government in regard to the use of the French language and Roman Catholic text-books in the common schools of [illegible] Ontario; hailing the advent of a new party, and deprecating in the strongest possible manner the attitude of both political parties in the Dominion Parliament towards the question of prohibition, as shown by the recent debate on Mr. [illegible]

GOOD TEMPLARS CONCERT.—After hearing further reports we wish to alter our report of last week. Several other items were enjoyed by the audience very much and altogether the affair was a success.

SCOTT ACT.—Very little interest seems to be taken in the vote on April 4th. The Scott Act party have all arrangements completed and intend to fight hard against repeal. The antis on the other hand feel confident of repealing such a fraud if they can only get a large vote polled.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.—A farmers institute will be held in the Town Hall, Keene, on Tuesday next, 26th inst. The sessions open at 10 a.m., 1.30 and 7 p.m. At the evening session a varied programme will be given, consisting of songs, choruses, &c., interspersed with speeches, addresses, &c. Dr. Harrison will give an article on milk, introducing views by a new magic lantern. For other particulars see posters.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

It Should Move for Railway Connection With the North.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I am very much pleased to see that at last some action has been taken with a view of forming a Board of Trade, and from the good representation of business men who attended the inaugural meeting last night, we may reasonably expect a good, healthy Board to be organized.

I would suggest that the first and most essential work of the Board, when organized, would be the acquirement of connection by railway with the rear of our county. The question is of vital importance to the town. We have good connections east, west and south, but the most beneficial of all, that to the north, we have not. This line would bring a large proportion of the trade of the back townships here instead of being diverted east and west as at present. Our neighbours on both sides of us are making the most strenuous efforts to obtain the trade which rightfully belongs to us and which we would certainly have if a means of communication were in existence.

While every other town is partaking of the benefits of Government subsidies to railways (in some instances where communication is being duplicated) here is a district altogether without one, and, I may say, a district which is almost altogether undeveloped for want of a railway, the trade of which may at any time be diverted to other towns.

Yours truly,
PETERBOROUGH.

GOOD Oranges 25c., per dozen. Three large tins No. 1 Corn for 25c., at Elliott & Tierney's.

Going to a New Home.

A colonist train leaves the C. P. R. station here on Tuesday next for the Northwest, and there will be a few more Peterborough county men added to the population of our great Northwest. There are about thirty residents in this district who intend leaving on the Tuesday train.

The Talk of the Town.

The people are wondering why Elliott & Tierney are giving 18 lbs. bright sugar for $1, and selling teas and other goods so much cheaper than any house in Peterborough. Call at the Palace Grocery and examine the goods, which will convince you. The "Palace" is the place to get best values. Great stock-taking sale now going on.

The Board of Trade Certificate Gone.

More than the required number of names necessary to have signed to the certificate of formation of the Board of Trade were secured this morning and the certificate was forwarded to Ottawa by Mr. J. H. Burnham, the acting secretary, and it is not likely that it will be long before the charter of the Peterborough Board of Trade will be received. When it is, another meeting will be called.

Two Thousand Expected.

Rev. M. L. Pearson writes to the Christian Guardian:—"A most glorious revival is in progress here. Messrs. Hunter and Crossley have not been here two weeks, and yet our town is being moved in a manner and to an extent never before experienced. Already 400 have manifested their determination to turn to the Lord. Thank God for such men as these evangelists are, and that they ever came to Peterborough. We expect to have 2,000 converted."

Mad Dog Excitement.

There was a little excitement on Simcoe-st. this morning, which unusual state of the community can be blamed on a small black and tan dog which was under the sidewalk on Simcoe-st., near the China Hall. The little animal was frothing at the mouth and to all appearances a "mad dog." A crowd soon collected when the cry of mad dog was raised, and Chief Roszel lent his revolver to a couple of local crack shots who had the idea that they could settle the brute in short order. Eight or ten shots were fired at the animal, but none took fatal effect, and finally a boy with a brick ended the little animal's suffering. The marksmen were crack shots, perhaps, but it all depends on the size of the crack which they intended to hit.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

A REPRESENTATIVE MEETING DISCUSS ITS FORMATION.

A Board to be Organized—Almost the Required Number Already—The Opinions of a Number of Gentlemen on the Matter—The Kingston and Paris Boards—An Outrageous Act of the Ontario Government Brought up by a Councillor.

Peterborough's prospects for having among its incorporated organizations in the near future a Board of Trade are exceedingly promising at present—in fact the result of the meeting last evening makes it an almost assured fact, and if the business men of the town will go into the inauguration with the push and spirit which it merits, there is no doubt but that the organization will be a success and the town's business interests and welfare generally will be benefitted.

WHO WERE PRESENT.

The meeting called for last night in the Council Chamber was well attended and nearly the requisite number of signatures were subscribed to the certificate of formation. Among the gentlemen who were present were:—Councillors Cahill, Kelly, A. Hall, E. H. D. Hall, Langford and Messrs. W. E. Matthews, R. McWhinnie, D. Belleghem, T. A. Hay, J. H. Burnham, J. Carey, Dr. Burnham, W. J. Minore, Wm. Lech, J. Polly, R. R. Hall, R. Fair, J. P. Hurley, A. Gough, W. J. Sherwood, A. Stevenson, E. Sherwood, A. E. Dixon, R. M. Dennistoun, Jas. G. Macdonald, R. S. Rogers, W. Manson, J. G. Macklin, F. H. Dobbin, T. E. Bradburn, E. A. Peck, W. H. Meldrum, A. Brodie, J. D. Mollmoyle, H. S. Macdonald, W. Brundrette, W. H. Moore, W. J. Green and Robt. Innis.

SOME OF THE OPINIONS.

Shortly after eight o'clock Mr. Wm. Lech was called upon to take the chair and Mr. J. H. Burnham was chosen to act as secretary.

Mr. LECH upon taking the chair hoped a Board of Trade would be formed and called upon Mr. J. H. Burnham, who had been the promoter of the scheme.

Mr. BURNHAM said he had not been the promoter, as he believed all merchants who had signed the requisition for the meeting were promoters of the organization and he explained why several leading gentlemen were absent owing to other engagements. As regarded the necessity of a Board of Trade it was not for him to speak, as there were others present who apprehended the necessity of having such an organization more than he did. He then pointed out the legal lines upon which the Board had to be organized, it being required that thirty gentlemen who were eligible should sign the certificate. The burden of organization would fall almost entirely upon the merchants and tradesmen, and the professional men, he said, could come in afterwards.

Mr. W. MANSON thought it would be a very good thing to have a Board of Trade in Peterborough. Other smaller towns had an organization of this kind.

THE KINGSTON BOARD.

Mr. J. POLLIE, who has had some experience on the Board of Trade of Kingston, said the Board of Trade was the best organization in Kingston. They had, through the influence of the Board, a dry dock built there which cost half a million dollars and two new railways had been brought about through the organization. They not only looked after that kind of thing, but if the merchants thought they were paying too much freight, the Board would send a deputation to the railway company, and they usually got what they asked for. If there was any wrong which a merchant wished to have righted, the Board as a body would furnish a fund to have the wrong investigated and made right.

A BOARD TO BE FORMED.

Mr. THOS. KELLY moved, seconded by Mr. F. H. DOBBIN,—"That this meeting resolve to form a Board of Trade and that those gentlemen qualified sign the necessary certificate."

The motion carried.

Mr. D. BELLEGHEM thought it would be a good move for the business men of Peterborough to have a Board, but he would like to hear the matter fully discussed.

Mr ROBT. INNIS said his experience with the last Board was not very satisfactory, as they could not get the business men to take an interest in it. He was, however, in favor of the formation of a Board as he thought the town should have one.

THE PARIS BOARD.

Mr. MELDRUM said he had fortunately taken an interest in the Board of Trade in Paris, and the organization there had, in the way of bonusing and inducing manufacturies to locate there, had the almost entire handling of these important interests. He thought a town like Peterborough, with all its natural advantages, should have a Board which would look to its interests, and he thought that the organization of a Board should be pushed by all the business men.

A COUNCILLOR'S OPINION.

Mr. CAHILL said although not eligible as a member at its inception, yet he was deeply interested in the welfare of the town, and from what had been told them by the gentlemen from Paris and Kingston, he thought they should have a Board here, and not be behind other towns in mercantile and manufacturing interests. There was no good reason, now that the Legislature had started the system of bonusing, why they should not get a bonus for a railway running north. They had large extent of country to the north with which there was no connection and he saw no reason why a subsidy should not be obtained from both governments. The Board could look after the interests of the town in other ways and he hoped to see one organized.

Mr. M. WILSON favored the formation of a Board.

A LAWYER'S VIEW.

Mr. R. M. DENNISTOUN said that if a Board was organized and a proper interest taken in it by the merchants it would greatly strengthen the business interests of the town. He pointed out that, besides the influence which a deputation from this Board would have and the good it would prove by furthering the manufacturing interests, if Boards were formed through the country a joint deputation from all these Boards would have great influence and would be an easy means of procuring the opinion of the entire mercantile world on any question. He hoped that a Board would be formed and would meet with success.

Mr. W. H. MOORE thought that the statute would admit legal gentlemen to membership. He also pointed out that the Board, if formed, could affiliate with the Dominion Board of Trade which was a very powerful body.

Mr. DENNISTOUN said it had been a matter of practice for professional men not to become members, and in Toronto and other large cities this class had not pressed themselves into the organization.

AN OUTRAGEOUS MEASURE.

Mr. E. H. D. HALL said he would like to call the attention of the gentlemen present to a bill which he had read in the report of the Ontario Legislature as having been brought in amending the Liquor License Act. The effect of the amendment or rather he might say "the attempt to rob municipalities," was that the Government was to get half of all the license fees over $200. As Peterborough had adopted a high license if the Scott Act was repealed, it simply meant that the Ontario Government would rob this town of between two and three thousand dollars. The bill should be vigorously opposed and at once, and he thought it showed the necessity of having some organization such as a Board of Trade, so that the business men could oppose such outrageous a measure.

THE NEW BOARD MEMBERS.

Dr. BURNHAM thought the best procedure would be to appoint a committee to canvass the merchants and procure their signatures as members. He moved that Messrs. Fair, Wilson, Belleghem and Kelly be such a committee.—Carried.

The certificate of formation was then signed by the following twenty-four gentlemen:—Wm. Lech, Thos. Kelly, R. McWhinnie, W. Manson, W. E. Matthews, R. G. Kingan, A. Hall, E. Sherwood, R. Fair, J. Carey, W. J. Minore, W. J. Green, W. J. Sherwood, M. Wilson, S. H. Macdonald, Robt. Innis, J. Pollie, W. H. Meldrum, W. Brundrett, H. Phelan, C. B. Routley, D. Belleghem, F. H. Dobbin, Wm. Langford, Thos. Cahill.

The meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the Chairman.

The Coming Sale.

How is It,

is the general remark passed by people when they call on W. J. Morrow, you sell cheaper than others. Why your 18 pound Sugar for $1.00 is so much lighter, and really your 25 cent Tea equal to tea I pay 35 cents for elsewhere? Pay no attention to those who are becoming jealous of the extensive trade, offering you inducements only as a catch, but come to us, as you have done in the past, and secure the very finest of goods at the lowest prices, and be convinced that we are the only cheap house in town. Bear in mind we always have something special for Saturdays.

Personal.

Rev. J. B. Huff, of Smith, attended the convention of the Third Party at Toronto yesterday.

Miss M. J. Sanderson has been appointed District Deputy of the Royal Templars for Peterborough district by the Grand Councillor.

Mr. Geo. A. Scofield, Peterborough, has been appointed one of the representatives of the Ramblers' Wheel Club, Belleville, to the Canadian Wheelman's Association.

The Norwood Register says that the Rev. Father Conway's numerous friends will be pleased to learn that he is rapidly recovering from the effects of his illness.

Half Day School System.

The half-day school system, which Inspector Brown has advocated at Farmers' and Teachers' Institute meetings, has been tried at Havelock. The Register correspondent says:—"Mr. Peake, of Havelock public school, having the consent of Mr. Brown and the trustees tried it for nearly a week now and the system works well. He has the Jr. and Sr. third and fourth classes attend in the morning and from the second class down in the afternoon. From his short experience he finds he can get along with the work much nicer and can do much more so that the school no doubt will make very rapid progress under his new masterly guidance. To some parents this new plan may at first seem as if the child lost half a day at school, but when they consider the advantage they derive from the attention the teacher is able to give them while they are there because they can have more classes and better order can be kept where there are fifty pupils than where there are one hundred. One thing Mr. Peake says it is much harder on him and this goes to prove that he must do more work. This system in our estimation can be worked with the greatest advantage where there is a large school and it will not be necessary when there is a new school house erected."

The Italian's Six for a Quarter.

The Police Court room this morning held a good deputation from the Italian colony in town who were present to see how the hand of justice would mete out judgment to two of their swarthy comrades—John Cheer and Geo. Keyes—who were charged with having sold goods on Sunday last contrary to the statutes. Mr. J. O'Meara appeared to plead the case of the sons of sunny Italy, while Chief Roszel examined the witnesses on behalf of the prosecution. The two foreigners have a shop on Aylmer-st. where they sell peanuts, candies, cigars, etc. They pleaded not guilty to the charge of selling on Sunday, but two young boys, probably neither of whom was over fourteen years old, swore that they got cigars and candies from Cheer Sunday night last. The boys were smoking good cigars, for one of them said he got a dozen of the Italian's choicest for fifty cents and also bought ten cents worth of candies. Neither of the lads had seen Keyes about the shop, so that the Magistrate dismissed the charge against him, but fined Cheer $10 and costs—$12.90. The Italian was badly broken up by the enormity of the fine and his personal financial standpoint, but Keyes went down deep into his pocket and drew forth a good big roll and paid the fine for his companion while the rest of the Italian colony stood outside the railing and, with a sad look in their dark eyes and no smile on their countenances, saw the "little fortune" go where the woodbine twineth.

THE HOURS OF LABOR

THE SUBJECT AGAIN DISCUSSED BY WORKINGMEN.

A Number of Contractors Agree to Nine Hours—A Trades and Labor Council Proposed—Other Subjects.

A meeting of workingmen was held on Thursday evening in the Knights of Labor hall to further consider the nine hour movement. Mr. R. McGreggor, President of the Carpenters' Union, presided.

The CHAIRMAN said the object of the meeting was to get public opinion in favor of the nine hour movement. A committee had met some of the contractors on Saturday evening and they were unanimous in favor of the nine hour movement, though there was a difference of opinion as to the time it should go into effect. July 1st was accepted as a compromise.

CONTRACTORS SIGN THE AGREEMENT.

Mr. W. BALL said that the following master carpenters had signed the agreement:—A. Rutherford, H. Carveth, H. Stabler, W. McIlwain, J. R. Donell, D. Gamble, A. Douglas, Thos. McKee and Robert Clinkscale.

The CHAIRMAN said this was a good start. There were contractors who perhaps would not sign it, but it would make little difference. There were too many contractors, and an organization of contractors was talked of and would be a good thing. The planing mill owners, with one exception, had not signed the agreement. He complained that Mr. Baptie had gone back on a promise he made on nomination day and said he would gain nothing by fighting the unions. He read the principles of the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union. In eight years it had grown to 520 unions and between 55,000 and 60,000 members. On the first of June next year the American Federation of Labor, which had 600,000 members, including the carpenters, would make an effort for eight hours. He invited carpenters to join the union.

Mr. R. SHEEHY could not see any reason why carpenters should not have nine hours as well as the bricklayers.

Mr. HICKEY said they must expect some kickers. With the contractors they had with them he believed there was no reason why they should not succeed.

Mr. W. BALL said that it was the intention to notify the other unions of any bosses who did not agree to the nine hours.

Mr. MCPHERSON thought the prospects were good.

Mr. E. ALLEN believed a majority of the workingmen would gladly accept nine hours and, as unity was strength, they would get nine hours if they co-operated.

Mr. L. TERRILL said the the unions were becoming a power and he did not see why they could not get nine hours earlier.

A UNION PLANING MILL.

The CHAIRMAN, in answer to a question, said some of the contractors had work on hand and that was the reason July was named. The easiest way was the best, though if it was necessary to fight they would do so. They could put $15,000 into a planing mill and they could get good men into the field to contract, who would have the unions at their back. He would also like to see a started. By running it on a cash system he believed it would succeed. The prospects for nine hours were bright. One contractor expressed his willingness to adopt eight hours, and perhaps next year they would give them an opportunity to do so. There were carpenters leaving the town because wages were low. Times were hard and unless they got their request carpenters would have a struggle for existence.

Mr. GEO. BALL said manufacturers were making more money and to them the country was prosperous. He compared prices with wages, and said mechanics and workingmen should receive higher wages. Capital in this country was in too few hands and the combines had too much power. He thought the carpenters had secured nine hours. They would have the support of the other unions and were in a good position to get the shorter hours on April 1st. There was nothing that caused the multiplicity of contractors so much as poorly paid mechanics. His advice was to go ahead.

Mr. HOOLIHAN said July had been accepted as the time, and it would not be advisable to re-open the question of date.

Mr. R. SHEEHY gave some of the experiences of the bricklayers and advised the carpenters to name a day for shorter hours and they would get them.

The CHAIRMAN thought it would be wise to accept the date named. He condemned some things he alleged the President of the Bricklayers' Union had done. He thought building had been overdone in the town.

Mr. SHEEHY defended the President of the Bricklayers' Union and said he was a first-class union man.

AID FROM THE ORGANIZATION.

The CHAIRMAN said that he had received a letter from the General Secretary of their organization saying they would have the sympathy and support of the organization. He again referred to the Bricklayers' President.

Mr. JAS BOGUE also defended and eulogized the President.

Mr. J. FROUD deprecated the showing of differences and bickering.

Mr. GEO. BALL said the little talk would do good in removing the differences. He advocated forming a trades and labor council. The carpenters were in a better position than any union in the country to obtain their requests. He said that the Government circulated pamphlets in the old country with misleading statements regarding the wages of mechanics. He could not understand why wages were not as high here as in the United States. Under the circumstances it would be fair to let the date remain July 1st. The unions were strong in Peterborough to-day—

The CHAIRMAN—A thousand members, I believe.

Mr. BALL—And the carpenters will have the support of all the unions.

The CHAIRMAN said he figured that if the carpenters had nine hours it would have made a difference of $800 or $900 in the cost of the Nicholls Hospital building. In ordinary buildings it would be insignificant. He believed the contractors were going to this year and it would be well if both unions would unite and work in harmony.

Mr. BOGUE said the bricklayers and masons would be ready if a fight was to come. He explained the principles of the unions. While they were meeting here to-night another union was being organized in the Council Chamber—one which it would be well for workingmen to keep their eyes on.

Mr. G. BALL believed that the Board of Trade would be capable of doing good. One object, he understood, was to test the feeling of the people in regard to purchasing water power to encourage manufacturing. Still, the Board of Trade would stand watching. Booming was a bad thing for the town, and it had been worked here for the benefit of a couple of landlords.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL.

The CHAIRMAN said the carpenters had appointed a committee to wait on the other unions to have a Trades and Labor Council organized—the proper kind of a board of trade. He did not see why those who were opposed to the nine hour system did not come here and discuss it with them. He believed, also, it was the intention to ask the Council to have the town bell rung every evening at five o'clock.

The meeting then adjourned until Monday evening, April 1st.

CHINA HALL

CHINA
AND
QUEENS WA

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate cracked at that. Consider $34,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of Sevres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $3,400 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $2,000 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. BEAUTIFUL JIM.

"Have you seen him?" Jim asked at last, looking up from the ring.

"No, I went into his room, but he has not come back from Blankhampton yet; he is due to-night, though," Owen answered. "I think if he makes any fuss about the matter I had better write to the colonel and tell him about it, and get him to send one of the other fellows here and let the young ass go back to the regiment. What do you think?"

"I think he'll get into the devil's own mischief wherever he is," Jim replied, his faith in Tommy having been shattered long before.

"Perhaps; still there are plenty of ladies in Blankhampton to keep him out of harm's way, and if he were to go and get engaged to one of the Leslie girls, her father would soon choke him off; or, if he wouldn't be choked off, old Earle couldn't possibly object to anything in the engagement but his son's youth and general idiocy. Well, I suppose I must be off to dress; it only wants ten minutes to mess now"—then, without waiting for a reply, Owen went out, shutting the door with a bang, and leaving Beautiful Jim with Tommy Earle's ring still in his hand.

They had a sort of guest night that evening, for in addition to the three officers of the Blankshire regiment and the doctor, who messed with them, they had a young fellow staying a mile or two away who was not of the millionaire type common to the Walmsbury neighborhood, the officer in charge of the commissariat department, the clergyman who acted as chaplain and the Roman Catholic priest of the district.

Thus it was quite a dinner party; and although Beautiful Jim looked once or twice across the table at Owen to see whether he had got over his annoyance, he very soon entered into a discussion on a more interesting subject than Tommy's delinquencies, with his neighbor, the priest, and speedily forgot all about the matter.

Nor did he remember it till Tommy himself came on to the scene some hours later, apparently utterly tired out with the short journey from Blankhampton, where he had been spending a two days' leave. It struck him more than once that the lad looked very white and fagged, and he put it down to his having tried to cram too much into the few hours he had had to spend in the old city.

"Any news from Blankhampton, Tommy?" he inquired, civilly.

"None in particular," returned Tommy, then got up and moved away as if he had heard enough on the subject of Blankhampton, and did not want to be questioned about it.

"Poor lad," said Beautiful Jim to himself, "he has evidently had an awakening to the real value of the charms and fascinations at the Duck's Tail. What a good thing for him! Poor old Owen will find the business easier to manage than he thought."

He looked across the room at his friend, and found his thoughts running away to his little cousin, Nell Marchmont. Jim had never said a word, and Nell had never said a word either—yet he knew that Owen had spent the greater part of his leave in London, and guessed that he had tried his fate and that Nell had said no. Suspecting this, he had purposely spoken to her of Owen more than once, and she had flushed up a little at the mention of his name, and a certain dewy tenderness had come into her eyes, a tenderness so tinged with sorrow that Jim gleaned all the information that he wanted from it. Well, it was a pity, and Jim wished to the very bottom of his heart that it had been otherwise; but still, if Nell did not see it in that light it was no use his thinking any more about it.

And by and by their guests went away and the four officers went off to their rooms, Owen going into Jim's for a last pipe instead of turning to the left toward his own. And for an hour or so they sat together smoking and chatting, and Jim told his friend his suspicions about Tommy's disenchantment, to his extreme satisfaction, it need hardly be said.

"And, by the bye, Owen, you left the young fool's ring with me. I'll give it to you. Now, what the deuce can Leader have done with my keys? 'Pon my soul, Leader's infernal tidiness is the very curse of my existence. I don't know where he has put them."

"Never mind, old chap, you can give it to me to-morrow," answered Owen, who was getting tired. "Good night, old fellow."

"Good-night, old chap," returned Jim, cheerily.

It is safe to say that he was not five minutes in throwing off his clothes and tumbling into bed, and in less than a minute after that he was sound asleep and dreaming—dreaming that he had committed some terrible misdemeanor, and that Owen—old Owen, his own especial chum—ended with, "Consider yourself under close arrest. Go to your room at once, and I will send for your sword."

The dream was so real that he awoke trembling from head to foot, to find the fire still blazing cheerfully, and the sound of footsteps going along the corridor outside."

"God, what rot a fellow can dream," he said, and turning over fell asleep once more.

CHAPTER XV.

MURDER.

Not once again did Beautiful Jim stir or move during the rest of that night; but soon after 7 in the morning he was roused by Leader coming into the room—Leader, with a face like chalk and ashes, and hands shaking like aspen leaves in a gale of wind, who shook him up with less ceremony than he had ever done before during all the time he had served him.

"Mr. Beresford—sir—for God's sake wake up!" the man panted. "The awfulest thing has happened, sir—for God's sake wake up!"

REDEYE'S DEEP GRATITUDE.

How the Editor of a Paper Won Him as a Life Long Friend.

The great truth that position in a newspaper, as in life, is everything, was brought home to me very forcibly several years ago, while acting as editor on a frontier daily which had the largest circulation and chattel mortgage in the territory, which latter fact has never been successfully contradicted to this day. The fall crop of local nominations were just in, and the nominee for sheriff on the opposition had a reputation so tough that 44 bullets would flatten against it. I felt it incumbent on me as a newly laid editor to point out wherein he was not a suitable man for the office. I told in a caustic double leaded editorial how he had, while previously holding some office, taken money from criminals who were amateurs compared with himself, and allowed them to escape to Manitoba or the Northwest territory.

I showed him up as a thief, a blackmailer and a gambler, and stated that if rumor is not hopelessly wrong he had long had the run of the ranges as an unconvicted horse thief. As a man with whom murder was a pastime, and all round crime a mere relief from the monotony of dispensing poison over a bar, I believed him unworthy of the confidence of our best people, and therefore urged his defeat at the polls. As the editorial was a little strong, I ventured to show it to the proprietor. He read it, and said: "H'm; you can run this if you choose, but you must assume all personal responsibility."

"Certainly," I answered. "I will do so, but in view of Redeye's record I don't think there is any libel suit in it."

"I am not afraid of that and will take all financial responsibility, but you must shoulder the personal responsibility." He emphasized the word "personal" so much that I wondered. He then shook hands with me in a fervid though mournful manner, a proceeding that was unusual, and quietly went out, as I learned afterward, and telegraphed back east to St. Paul to have another editor sent on at once. He was a prudent proprietor, and trusted that the new man would arrive in time to handle my obsequies and make a good story out of it. We met the next morning at the office, much to his surprise. He grasped my hand again and asked if I had heard from Col. Redeye yet. There were several others of the force present. At that instant the colonel's voice was heard in the hallway. It was a moment of sprightly activity. The meeting dissipated itself with a suddenness only equaled by the adjournment of a female convention when a mouse takes the floor. Every one believed it was a case of the quick or the dead, and they preferred to indulge in the former. All remembered some overdue appointment, to miss which might cause great monetary loss, and one in his haste took the window sash with him. I was left alone in innocent tenderfoot calmness, and the colonel entered.

"You the editor?"

I had that honor.

"Well, young feller, you're a friend of mine, and I'm not so low down as to forgit a friend or forgive an enemy, as the poet says. Of course you had to say something ag'in me, not being of my party, but you put your little game of talk on the inside of an editorial. If you had put it on the front page, with black type for a starter, I might have felt it my duty to kill you. But as it is, I appreciate the favor, and nothin' in my place is too good for you. Come down and see us."

This little event opened my eyes to the value of the front page as an advertising position, something which Gen. Boulanger must appreciate by this time, and for which he has been working for years.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

She Thought It Was a Compliment.

An ex-minister abroad, who was as popular in the northern capital where he represented our government as in his own birth place, showed his appreciation of the honors bestowed upon him by marrying the daughter of one of the high officials of the state, a beautiful girl of 18. The honorable minister was as proud of his lovely young bride as are all men of 50 who are fortunate enough to have married a girl still in her teens, and most of the honeymoon was devoted to teaching her the English language, of which she was entirely ignorant. The lovely little foreigner learned very rapidly, not only what she was taught, but every word that dropped from the lips of her husband, who would occasionally say very naughty things just to hear her sweet mouth repeat them. That this was unwise he learned to his sorrow one day, when on presenting his wife to an old friend and schoolmate, she said:

"Oh! Mr. ——, how do you do! I am indeed glad to meet you, for only the other day I heard my husband say you were the greatest bore in Washington."—New York Tribune.

An Unanswerable Argument.

Tonsorial Artist—You vant to try some of mine patent hair tonic; your hair vos got thin on top already.

Customer—Why don't you try it yourself? You're balder than I am.

Tonsorial Artist—Ya; but I rebresent "pefore using." Look at dot barber py der nexd chair; he rebresents "after using two bottles." Ve know our pesiness, ain't it!—America.

Exchange of Courtesies.

Mrs. Donohue—I wad have ye comprehind that me own family always moved in the higher circles of society.

Mrs. Doyle—I am aware of it, Mrs. Donohue. I have always heard that the scum always rises to the top.—Texas Siftings.

An Epitaph.

A much esteemed but injudicious man
Caught cold in Jan.,
And tangled thus in fate's mysterious web,
He died in Feb.

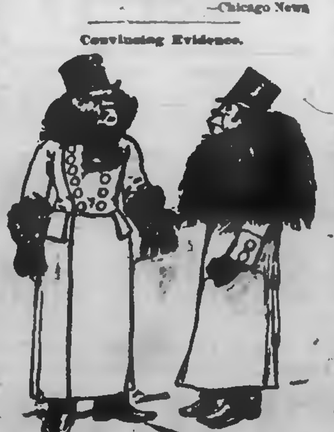
Convincing Evidence.



Binks' Coachman (colored)—I t'ought you sayed yoah folks was so doggone rich.

Jinks' Coachman (Celtic)—So they are, ye black divil.

Binks' Coachman—Huh! I guess not. I looked in de winder las' night an' seen two ob de young ladies playin' on de same pianny. Guess you all has ter economize.—America.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery, it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if every thing else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

30 YEARS PAYING RENT IN PETERBOROUGH.

I frequently hear statements akin to above followed by remarks of deep regret for having missed many golden opportunities of buying whole lots at a price they would now have to pay for one foot of the same land. Buying property in Peterborough is the safest kind of a safe and profitable investment. I have at present Cheap Homes, Medium Class Homes and a few exceedingly fine residences and grounds, some of which were built for home comforts regardless of cost. Uncontrolable circumstances have now caused these to be offered for immediate sale much under value. I commence at $475.00 for a good house and lot. I can suit any reasonable buyer. DRESS GOODS, DRESS GOODS,

No department in our store has received more marked attention than our Dress Goods Department. Every shelf is laden with the latest production of the English, French and German looms. They are unsurpassed for Style, Coloring, and elegance in design, and nothing has ever been seen like them for richness and cheapness. Every new weaving combination and texture just as cheap.

Our display of Silks in Printed Pongees and Chinas is unusually large.

DRESS TRIMMINGS.

We show Dress Trimmings in every conceivable design to match any coloring in Dress Goods and you will see novelties in these goods which is not shown by anyone else as they were made to our own order.

Our Dress Making Department is busier than we usually find it at this time of the year this is due to the fact that our Miss Neil's abilities in this line are abreast of the times.

SPRING

Millinery Opening

AT TURNBULL'S.

Wednesday and Thursday, March 27th and 28th. We give a cordial invitation to all and expect to see you on the above dates, to look through our magnificent Stock of Millinery and Millinery Trimmings, Mantles, Dolmans and Jackets. Light Plain Cloths and Fancy Checks for young people, Rich Brocade and Fancy Stripes for the older, with all the New Trimmings to match.

THE EVENT OF THE PAST WEEK—Has been Dress Goods and Dress Trimmings. We cannot begin to tell you how they have been admired. Sateen Cloths have been the favor[ed] item. There is an indescribable gentility about the Colors that makes you feel you would like to have a dress and wear it. The new Steel and Silk Gimps blend so perfectly. Our Bradford (England) Dress Cloths at 10 cents, are worth a corner in your Memory.

Our Prints in the windows and on the counters have been turning up their saucy, pretty faces at you as you pass by for the past two or three weeks and many a prudent mother has had her summer supply sent home already knowing she would not find the same assortment later.

During the past few weeks in the hurry and bustle of unpacking case after case of New Goods, we have neglected to call your attention to our Boys' Clothing and Tailoring Department. In fact was it necessary? Our old customers know and the public generally are finding out that our tailor is very hard to beat in a fit and we never take a side seat on prices. Our importations of Cloths from across the boiling sea have arrived, and lay side by side with their Canadian Cousins. It is hard to say which is the prettiest or best, but the Scotch have the name of making the color faster than we Canadians. We will not dispute their ability to-day. Our Tailoring Department is not what it was three years ago. It has grown amazingly, we mean it shall still grow by giving Good Goods, Proper Styles and Close Prices. Our Boys' Clothing is opened out. Boys, be happy, tell your parents of the fact and have them come in and pick your suit out. We are sure we can please them with the price. In the centre of the floor stands a table loaded with a job line of laces. When we say job we mean half price or under. They are all two and three cents a yard, take your choice. You cannot buy the same goods any where else less than five cents, and most of them you will pay ten cents for. The fashion sheets (which are free) for this month have arrived. A full assortment of Domestic Patterns kept.

Remember the days of our Millinery Opening when our store will be in its holiday attire, when all the novelties of the season will be displayed.

MODERATE GAINS IN THE MOVEMENT OF MERCHANDISE.

No Improvement in the General Industrial Situation—The Reaction in the Breadstuffs Market—The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The moderate gains in the movement of general merchandise throughout the country reported in special telegrams to Bradstreet's last week still continue. All through the west pleasant weather is having an effect upon trade. Groceries, boots and shoes and hardware are relatively in most active request throughout the country.

The subsidence of unfavorable foreign influences led to covering of shorts and strengthens the New York stock market. Money at New York is easy on call, but in banking circles the impression is that a firmer market will be seen about April 1. Call loans are 3 to 2½ per cent.; on time 4 to 4½ per cent. are demanded for all dates.

No general improvement has set in in the iron trade. Cuts in anthracite coal have followed the formal reduction in price. Petroleum is fractionally higher.

There is no improvement in the general industrial situation, except that the strike at Fall River does not promise to last long.

Dry goods are more active at Boston but less so at New York. Woolen goods are quiet. Prices of print cloths are nearly 1-16c. higher. Raw wool is in hand-to-mouth demand at last week's prices. Raw cotton is ⅛c. lower.

There has been a reaction in the breadstuffs markets, the lowest prices being made Tuesday. Wheat went down to 91¼c., a loss of over 5c. per bushel within a fortnight, but prices were speedily pushed up again, closing 1¾ above Tuesday's level. Flour has declined 15 to 20c. per barrel.

A free and confident movement in raw sugars, in face of relatively light stocks, advanced prices 3-16 to ¼c. Refined advanced on Friday ⅛ on scarcity of raw. At San Francisco refined has advanced ⅛c to 7¼c. At New Orleans raw has advanced ⅛c. Coffee has receded about ⅛c on depressing influences.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number for the United States 220 and for Canada 29, a total of 249, as compared with a total of 281 last week and 261 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 243, made up of 212 in the United States and 31 in the Dominion of Canada.

A MARE CLAUSUM.

President Harrison Issues His First Proclamation

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The following was issued this afternoon:

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION.

The following provisions of the laws of the United States are hereby published for the information of all concerned: Section 1956, Revised Statutes, Chapter 3, title 23, enacts that: "No person shall kill any otter, mink, martin, sable or fur seal or any other fur bearing animal within the limits of Alaska territory or in the waters thereof, and every person guilty thereof shall for each offence be fined not less than $200 nor more than $1000, or imprisoned not more than six months or both, and all vessels, their tackle, apparel, furniture and cargo found engaged in violation of this section shall be forfeited, but the Secretary of the Treasury shall have power to authorize the killing of any such mink, marten, sable or other fur bearing animal except fur seals under such regulations as he may prescribe, and it shall be the duty of the secretary to prevent the killing of any fur seal and to provide for the execution of the provisions of this section until it is otherwise provided by law, nor shall he grant any special privileges under this section."

Section 3 of the act entitled "An act to provide for the protection of the salmon fisheries of Alaska, approved March 2, 1889, provides that: Section 3.—That section 1956 of the Revised Statutes of the United States is hereby declared to include and apply to all the dominion of the United States in the waters of Behring Sea, and it shall be the duty of the President at a timely season in each year to issue his proclamation and cause the same to be published for one month at least in one newspaper (if any such there be) published at each United States port of entry on the Pacific Coast warning all persons against entering such waters for the purpose of violating the provisions of said section, and he shall also cause one or more vessels of the United States to diligently cruise said waters and arrest all persons and seize all vessels found to be or to have been engaged in any violation of the laws of the United States therein.

Now therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States, pursuant to the above recited statutes hereby warn all persons against entering the waters of Behring Sea within the dominion of the United States for the purpose of violating the provisions of said section 1956 Revised Statutes, and I hereby proclaim that all persons found to be or to have been engaged in any violation of the laws of the United States in said waters will be arrested and punished as above provided, and that all vessels so employed, their tackle, apparel, furniture and cargoes will be seized and forfeited.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington this twenty-first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and thirteenth.

THE ATTACK ON WEBSTER.

DEFEAT OF THE MOTION TO REDUCE HIS SALARY.

Labouchere Seeking to Lead the Liberals Out of "Respectability" and Aiming for the Party Leadership.

LONDON, March 22.—In the House of Commons to-day Sir William Vernon Harcourt, resuming the discussion regarding the Parnell Commission, declared that Attorney-General Webster's identification with the Commission had destroyed the impression that the Government would be impartial and added weight to The Times' charges. If the Attorney-General had not advised the Government Parliament should not vote a salary for services he had not performed. He condemned the Attorney-General's apology for the Pigott forgeries as mean, contemptible and disgraceful and expressed the hope that he would make a better apology.

Attorney-General Webster replied that but for the duty he owed those who trusted him he would not have noticed the charges made by Sir William. If he were capable of the conduct imputed to him he would be a disgrace to the English bar. He was private counsel for The Times. It was immaterial whether he had been right or wrong in assuming that position, although it was doubtful whether he had been prudent.

Mr. Redmond's motion to reduce the Attorney-General's salary was rejected, 236 to 28.

In response to a further question Attorney-General Webster defended his course at great length. Mr. Parnell also addressed the House. Some epithets were bandied across the floor, and the chair was repeatedly forced to call members to order.

Labby May Be Leader.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Mr. Smalley cables The Tribune from London: The microscopic investigation into the alleged relations between the ministry and The Times, Pigott, LeCaron and the rest is pursued daily in the House of Commons by the Gladstonians and Parnellites with ever-increasing zest. There are, however, several more important matters pending. Not the least important is the question whether Labouchere is to lead the Liberal party. He leads already, perhaps, the entire Radical left wing of the party, and he and his colleagues are impatient with the more respectable Gladstonians. "It is respectability which ruins us," he is reported to have said recently. It was not his own respectability to which he referred. His speech on Tuesday was an attempt to get rid of respectability and to take the lead into his own hands. "I will not," said Labouchere in the House of Commons, "give the Government an opportunity of getting a single sixpence; so long as they refuse to consult the country we will put every obstacle we can in the way of the transaction of public business." He has been as good or as bad as his word. With a view, as he said cynically, of giving practical effect to his policy, he the same night put down twenty notices of motion.

Labouchere's chief allies or agents seem to be Healy and Sir William Harcourt. Gladstone is absent from the House on account of his brother's death, and Sir William succeeds to his authority during his absence, which is expected to last at least a week, Gladstone having gone to Scotland to attend the funeral. Before he comes back the Liberal party may be irretrievably committed to a policy which presages nothing but disaster. That policy is something more than obstruction. If the threats mean anything, they mean that the minority will not allow the Government to be carried on. No money will be voted if they can prevent it, and no business will be done. It is a policy of paralysis. Should it be supported by the minority as a whole what Prince Albert once said will have come true. Parliamentary government will be on its trial. What Labouchere and Sir William Harcourt threaten is nothing less than a negation of the parliamentary system. That the country will never stand.

The Missing Actress Found.

LONDON, March 22.—Mabel Love, the young Gaiety Theatre actress who disappeared a few days ago, and was supposed to have eloped with a prominent young nobleman, was found to-day by detectives in Dublin. She was alone and declares that she ran away from home on account of a tiff which she had had with her mother. She will return to London to-night in charge of a detective, who will restore the young woman to her parents.

A White Book on Samoan Affairs.

BERLIN, March 22.—The Government has issued a white book on Samoan affairs. It shows that on March 9 Prince Bismarck wrote to Herr Steubel, the newly appointed consul of Germany to Samoa, describing the conduct of Dr. Knappe, his predecessor in the office, as lacking in calmness and coolness and as contrary to the lines of Emperor William's policy, with which Dr. Knappe had been well acquainted. Knappe, Prince Bismarck wrote, apparently lost his head owing to a letter from Herr Branders, Tamasese's Prime Minister, which was published in the last white book and the presence of three men-of-war at Samoa.

Referring to Knappe's subsequent proposal to annex Samoa, Prince Bismarck reiterates his view that to seek to effect a change in the political situation in Samoa without the consent of England and America would not accord with treaty arrangements. Knappe's action reverting to the question of annexation is incomprehensible because his experience and instructions ought to have shown him that his desire to annex Samoa was opposed to the policy conducted by the Chancellor in conformity with the Emperor's intentions.

The Pesth Riots.

PESTH, March 22.—In the Lower House of the Diet to-day Herr Orlean denounced the police for interfering with the students' demonstrations. Premier von Tisza replying referred to his efforts to consolidate Hungary. He deprecated appeals to the mob and said he would never admit that the majority should submit to the tyranny of the minority. The police had only done their duty.

How Kahle Supported His Mother.

FREEPORT, March 22.—Walter H. Kahle was arrested here to-day charged with extensive robbery of the mails. He has been employed in the baggage room of the Northwestern depot and it was his duty to transfer the north bound mail from the Northwestern to the Illinois Central trains. Tuesday night inspectors hid themselves in the baggage room and caught Kahle robbing one of the pouches. He said he committed the crime because he supported a mother. No idea can be formed as to the amount of his peculations. His room was found full of mail matter.

A Philadelphia Defaulter.

PHILADELPHIA, March 22.—Robt. Craven, secretary and treasurer of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Company, was yesterday found to be an embezzler to the extent of $10,000. This amount was not stolen from the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore directly, but from two branch roads. Craven confessed and was discharged from the company's service. His bondsmen will make the shortage good.

A Cincinnati Husband's Crime.

CINCINNATI, March 22.—Patrick Trainor, formerly a prosperous contractor, but who became dissipated and lost his business, quarreled with his wife to-day because she had nothing to eat in the house. Trainor thrust a red-hot poker through his wife's cheek, breaking her jaw. She will probably die. Trainor was arrested. The pair have six children.

A Victim of the Faith Cure.

PORT HURON, Mich., March 22.—Mrs. Amelia Bartlett, an old resident of this city, died yesterday morning a victim of the faith cure craze. A few days ago she was taken with pneumonia and persistently refused to allow a physician to attend her.

SENT TO THE MERCER.

A Girl Who Prefers the Reformatory to Freedom in Hamilton.

HAMILTON, March 22.—Two or three weeks ago a girl named Edith Johnston was arrested on complaint of Mrs. Susan Johnston, her mother, on a charge of vagrancy. She was kept in custody for about a week, but finally let go on promising, though very reluctantly, to reform. She had been going to low dances since the beginning of the year and had, according to her own statement, got well on in the downward path. Yesterday her mother had her arrested again and this morning she appeared before the Police Magistrate. She walked into the dock with a swagger and smiled upon a lot of toughs who had assembled in the auditorium to have a look at her. She pleaded guilty of having no visible means of support and being a common vagrant. She said the "reformity" would not do her any good, but she would rather go there than stay at home. She could not get work in the city, because no one would have her when they heard her name. She looked as bold as possible when the Magistrate spoke to her and played with a little black-and-tan dog while her mother was giving evidence, occasionally getting in a back shot at Mrs. Johnston. The Magistrate sent her to the Mercer Reformatory for 23 months, and as the girl went back to the cells she remarked, "That won't hurt me. I'll have some of my old chums there."

THAT JEWELRY CASE.

Preliminary Examination into the Larceny Charge Against Andy Maloney

MONTREAL, March 22.—A select gathering was at the Police Court this afternoon, when Andy Maloney was again brought up for preliminary investigation into the charge of constructive larceny. Thomas Morrison, a carter, testified that on or about Feb. 1 he was called upon by Andy Maloney to take two trunks from his place in Craig-street to No. 3 Argyle-avenue. Andy Maloney went with the trunks. The two trunks in court looked like the ones he took to Argyle-avenue.

Mr. C. Ellis of the firm of P. W. Ellis & Co., Toronto, deposed that the jewelry found, with the exception of four items, was the property of P. W. Ellis & Co., and was in possession of George Van Reinholts, a traveler for the firm. He recognized the trunks as the property of the firm. Van Reinholts had no right to sell any of these goods without submitting details to the firm.

Maloney was admitted to bail in $4000, himself in $2000 and two sureties of $1000 each. The case was adjourned to Wednesday next.

A deposition has been made by Detective Howie against Van Reinholts, in which he is charged with appropriating to his own use $14,000 worth of jewelry entrusted to his care as agent of the firm of P. W. Ellis & Co.

Mr. Ellis has also taken a saisie revindication against the Chief of Police.

HAMILTON YOUNG LIBERALS.

A Number of M.P.'s Speak at Their Banquet Last Night.

HAMILTON, March 22.—The fourth annual banquet of the Young Men's Liberal Club was held in Arcade Hall this evening. Mr. Lyman Lee, the president, occupied the chair, and about 250 members and guests were present, including Hon. L. H. Davies of Prince Edward Island, Mr. A. H. Gillmor, M.P. for Charlotte, N. B., C. W. Colter, M. P. for Haldimand, J. S. Willison, President of the Toronto Young Liberals, Mr. Roswell, secretary, and others.

A new departure was made by the club in having only five toasts on the list, and the affair partook of the nature of a political gathering leading off with a banquet.

The speakers of the evening were Hon. Mr. Davies, Mr. Gillmor, M.P., and Mr. Colter, M.P., who replied to the toast of "The Dominion Parliament" at considerable length. Mr. McPherson responded to the toast of "The Reform Association of Hamilton" and John Crerar and J. S. Willison responded to the toast of "The Ontario Legislature."

Another St. George Victim.

WOODSTOCK, March 22.—Scarcely had our town recovered from the shock which it received by the death of three of its municipal representatives when it was again startled to-day by the intelligence of the death of Mr. Jonathan Martin, another of the victims of the St. George railway disaster. He died at 9.30 this morning. It was at first thought that Mr. Martin's injuries were slight, but he never recovered sufficiently to be removed to his home here. He remained at the house of Dr. Kitchen at St. George.

Mr. Martin was 56 years of age, an Englishman by birth, has been a resident of this town for 34 years, and for many years has carried on a large mercantile business, and was in easy circumstances. He has served many years and at various times in our town and county council. Arrangements are being made for a public funeral next Monday at 3.30 p.m.

Arrested on Another Capias.

OTTAWA, March 22.—Mr. W. E. Brown arrived in the city last evening on the train from Brockville which came in a little before 6 o'clock. Detective Montgomery was anxiously waiting for him, and under orders from him Constable McEdward followed up Mr. Brown and arrested him on Wellington-street. In this instance Mr. Brown is arrested on a warrant issued at the instigation of James Leggatt, Montreal, boot and shoe dealer, who claims that Brown is his debtor for $8300. He was bailed to-day in $5000.

A Victory For the C. P. R.

OTTAWA, March 22.—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company secured a victory in the Railway Committee to-day, putting their bill through with a couple of minor amendments despite the strenuous opposition by the Maritime Province members, who were full of amendments all designed to compel the Canadian Pacific Railway to complete the projected lines in those provinces. The bill consolidates the entire debenture stock, including all the branch lines, and allows the issue of increased stock at the rate of $2500 per mile to the extent of $12,500,000, the rate of interest being 4 per cent. as at present. The proposed changes cannot become law until the consent of two-thirds of the shareholders is obtained.

Woodstock Jottings.

WOODSTOCK, March 22.—The municipal elections here to-day to fill the vacancies in the council were conducted quietly. In St. George's Ward Mr. Cole is elected by 166 majority over Messrs. Rippon and Oliver; in St. John's Ward Mr. West defeated Mr. Allan by a fair majority.

The death to-day of Mr. Martin, a victim of the St. George accident, will necessitate an election for the third deputy reeveship.

Six boys answering the description of those who escaped from the Mimico Industrial School arrived here on a Canadian Pacific Railway freight train early this morning, but their whereabouts is at present unknown.

The Electric Postal Railroad.

BALTIMORE, March 22.—Three hundred miles an hour is the proposed speed for the electric postal railroad of the future. An experimental line has been erected at Laurel, twenty miles from this city. A compromise between the pneumatic tube and the ordinary railroad carries a miniature train of two cars solely for mails and light parcels, without any attendants. The road has three rails, one above the car for carrying the current, and two below which carry the cars. The cars are built of sheet-iron and are two feet square and twenty-one feet long. Speed will be regulated and power or brakes applied by electricity solely. If the experiment at Laurel succeeds it is stated that similar roads will be laid between Baltimore and Washington and elsewhere.

TO CUT DOWN EXPENSES.

THE ECONOMY COMMITTEE APPOINTED BY THE COMMONS.

Col. O'Brien Loses an Opportunity to Call Up the Jesuits' Bill Question—Other Topics From the Capital.

OTTAWA, March 22.—A few days ago the Senate passed a resolution appointing a committee to meet one from the House of Commons, for the purpose of inquiring into the possibility of reducing the expenses connected with the two Houses. In the Commons this afternoon a resolution appointing Sir Hector Langevin, Hon. Mr. Bowell, Hon. Mr. Foster, Mr. Charlton and Mr. Peter White as the Commons side of the joint committee was proposed by Sir Hector Langevin in the absence of the Premier.

Hon. David Mills raised the constitutional point that the proposition should have originated in the Commons, and Mr. Kirkpatrick coincided with him in that view. Other members joined in the discussion. Sir John Macdonald entered while it was in progress, and having explained how a reduction in the expenses might be brought about under a joint management, said he thought the objection was merely "one of those constitutional fads that the member for Bothwell always takes up." He thought no serious consequences could result to the constitution.

"I think the constitution is so strong that it can resist assaults, great or small," remarked Mr. Laurier.

Hon. Edward Blake has been very quiet all session, having scarcely uttered a word, but he too joined in. Sir John had said that it was only fitting that the Senate should have brought up the question, because their expenditure was much greater proportionately than that of the Commons. "Then they might better take the beam out of their own eye rather than the mote out of ours," said Mr. Blake, to whom the Premier's attention was immediately directed.

"I am very glad to see," he said, "a beam in my honorable friend's eye. I am glad to see it glitters so."

After this exchange of civilities it was expected that the resolution would pass, but the third party had yet to be heard from. Mr. Mitchell objected that there were four Government supporters and only one member of the Opposition on the committee named. He proceeded to overhaul the four in a lively manner, and took particular exception to Mr. Bowell. "I have no confidence in that gentleman," he was commencing, when Sir John interrupted to ask that Mr. Bowell's name be struck off and Mr. Mitchell's substituted. This being done the third party could say no more and the economy resolution was adopted.

Sir John Thompson having moved the House into committee on his bill respecting bills of exchange and promissory notes, Hon. Mr. Laurier again objected that it would take three or four days more to finish with the bill and that prorogation at Easter could not be expected if it was proceeded with.

Mr. Foster crossed over and consulted a moment with Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Laurier and returning to his seat moved the House into committee of supply. Nobody objected, and in a moment the House was in committee. Had Col. O'Brien been in the House this would have been his opportunity to move his disallowance amendment but the Colonel was away. Anyhow the whole thing was done so hurriedly that the members in the back benches scarce knew what was up until the Speaker had left the chair.

The vote considered in supply was that for militia pensions and discussion immediately turned on the oft-argued case of Valiquette and Ryan, two Montreal militiamen who died in the Northwest service. Valiquette's relations get upwards of $300 a year, Ryan's less than $100. The amounts were fixed in the ordinary way, it is claimed, each case being decided purely on its merits, but the Opposition, led in this instance by Hon. A. G. Jones, have persistently claimed that there is an unjust disparity in the amounts awarded.

Col. O'Brien had come in during the discussion, and rose to say that he too thought this "a very gross case of favoritism."

After recess the bill to incorporate the Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters and also the bill incorporating the Union Railway Company were read a third time and passed.

In committee of supply the militia estimates were taken up. Col. Denison expressed pleasure at voting a proposed reduction of the expenditure on the permanent corps and the schools. Concerning these schools he thought it would be in the interest of the Dominion if we returned to the system of twenty years ago and permitted the entry of cadets to the schools. There were many young men who did not at present hold commissions but would be glad to be able to attend the schools and qualify. This they were not allowed to do unless they put on a private's uniform and lived the life of a private soldier in barracks. For reasons not necessary to dwell upon here neither the young men themselves nor their parents were willing that they should enter as private soldiers.

Col. Kirkpatrick said there was a great deal in this. There was much difficulty in getting qualified officers and he thought the school system was somewhat to blame. They did not fulfil their duty. He would like to see them made more accessible and the expense to those officers attending reduced. He believed that if the officers were allowed to board outside the schools and not compelled to join the mess, where for self-respect they had to wear the expensive mess dress, it would be better than continuing the present plan.

Sir Adolphe Caron said he thought it would be not at all practicable to carry out the idea, not only because there were not enough schools to take in other than members of the militia, but also on account of the difficulty there would be in maintaining discipline.

Col. Denison said he had attended the military schools twenty years ago when cadets were admitted as proposed, and the discipline then was just as good as it is to-day.

Mr. Barron said his experience had been similar. He desired to inquire from the minister if any step had been taken to carry out the wishes and recommendations of the Major-General who was brought from England mainly for the advice that he was able to give.

Sir Adolphe Caron said these recommendations had been carried out as far as practicable.

The public works appropriations were next taken up and discussed until 12.25 when the House adjourned.

From The Gazette.

OTTAWA, March 22.—The Canada Gazette to-morrow will contain an order-in-council providing that the special rate of two cents per ton in force last year for the passage of certain cereals—wheat, Indian corn, peas, barley and rye—through the Welland and St. Lawrence Canals shall be continued for the coming season of navigation.

The total value of goods entered for consumption in the Dominion, exclusive of British Columbia, during February, was $7,365,471; the value of dutiable goods was $4,606,574 and the duty collected $1,757,688. For the eight months of the fiscal year an increase of $4,500,000 in imports is shown, with an increase of $750,000 in duty collected.

The total value of exports during February was $3,608,882, all the produce of Canada with the exception of $168,285. In the past eight months the exports were $68,451,751, or $4,000,000 less than last year.

The postoffice savings bank statement for February shows that at the end of that month the total amount at depositors' credit was $22,420,157, an increase of $86,269 in the month. The deposits were $851,345, the interest allowed $8624 and the withdrawals $881,000.

Lost a Foot.

BARRIE, March 22.—Frank Head, a Grand Trunk brakeman, on a freight train in the vicinity of Elmvale fell between two lumber cars and his left foot passed under the wheels. He was quickly conveyed to Barrie where the foot was amputated near the ankle. He is unmarried and his parents reside at Grimsby, Ont.

A SECRET BALLOT WANTED.

THE ballot system is maintained with a view to the purity of elections and the freedom of the franchise. The arguments in its favor are that bribery is less unlikely under the ballot and coercion almost impossible. The Ontario law professes to provide this secret method of voting in Provincial elections, but that profession is a delusion. The system is not a secret one, because anyone who may obtain a glance at the numbers on the ballots as they are being counted or access to them afterwards can tell how the electors have marked their ballots. This is unjust to the people and a change is required.

But Mr. Mowat and his supporters refuse to have the law amended so as to make the ballot really secret. Mr. Mowat pretended that his objection to a secret ballot was made in the interest of justice. Perhaps he will explain why any claims of justice require a different ballot system for Provincial elections from that used in municipal elections. The municipal ballot is a secret one and no complaint has been made about it; no injustice has been shown to have arisen from it. It has not been shown that the present Provincial ballot system is at all necessary in the interest of the people, while there are reasons why the ballot should be secret.

The present system is undoubtedly retained in the interest of the Mowat Government and their candidates. When those officials, license holders or others whom they wish to coerce know that the system of voting is not really a secret one they are more easily influenced into voting as the power of the Government directs.

If the Government did not derive any advantage from the present system, why did it refuse to alter it when it could not show that injustice would be done by the change? Yet when Mr. Wood, of North Hastings, moved that the system be amended in the direction of secrecy Mr. Mowat called on his followers to vote down the resolution, which they obediently did. Mr. Mowat thinks a different system good enough for municipal purposes—as it undoubtedly is—and the Liberal members should be shown that the people will have a secret ballot in Provincial elections also and that the present bad system cannot be retained to aid the Government in securing votes by unfair, unjust and unrighteous methods.

IN the United States the people do not believe in hereditary office holders. Yet President W. H. Harrison's grandson is President and President Grant's son has been appointed to the Austrian mission.

THE impression that the Scott Act repeal vote will take place in this county on April 1st still prevails in the offices where certain city papers are printed. The date is April 4th.

THE Mowat Government brought its license grab bill into the Legislature in the last days of the session and rushed it through so that there would not be time to consider it, and in order that the municipalities would be unable to protest. But a time is coming when the people will be heard.

A BRAMPTON paper gives this new version of the old phrase esteemed contemporary:—"The mouldy old inkrag issued from the office on south Main-st." It can scarcely be considered an improvement.

OTONABEE OCCURRENCES.

A Regular Meeting of the Township Council—General Business.

Correspondence of the Review.

THE Council met on March 18th. All the members were present. Messrs. Anderson and Johnston reported that David Knox refused to sell right of way for road around O'Brien Hill. Moved by Mr. Wood, seconded by Mr. Johnston, that the road over O'Brien Hill on the eight con., opposite lot 27, be levelled and the stones taken off so as to make the hill passable for a light vehicle. On motion Jas. Armstrong is to receive for relief, 50 cents additional per week from the first Jan. Moved by Mr. Anderson, seconded by Mr. McIntyre, that $6 be granted for a foot bridge across the Indian river, opposite lot 22, in the 5 con. The following accounts was ordered to be be paid:—Thos. Egan, gravel, $4 96; J. R. Stratton, printing and stationery, $65 75; Thos. R. Howson, surveying road allowance between lots 11 and 12, con. 17, $34 00; G. Steward, assisting above survey, $4 50. Moved by Mr. Johnston, seconded by Mr. Anderson, that Samuel Sargent be allowed to commute his statute labor for 2 years opposite lots 27 and 28, con. 9. Messrs. Elmhirst and Shearer were heard with reference to the line fences opposite their lots 22, in the 3rd con., and 22 in con. 2, when it was agreed that Mr. Shearer have survey made to establish his line opposite his lot. A By-law was passed repealing By-laws No. 536 and 537. The Council adjourned to 15 April.

A PHOTOGRAPHER TALKS.

SARONY DEPLORES THE CHANGES IN THE METHODS OF HIS ART.

The Dry Plate Process Defeats Efforts to Secure a Good Portrait—Instantaneous Photography — A Serious Grievance Against Portrait Painters.

"Photography today does not give as good results as it gave eighteen years ago," said Mr. Otto Sarony when questioned as to the progress of his art.

"Do we owe nothing, then, to instantaneous photography?"

"Don't misunderstand me. I am not crying down the results of inventions that have enabled us to do all sorts of things by photography that the early photographists did not even dream of. It is undeniable, however, that as a means of reproducing artistic portraits photography today is not what it once was, and this is due in part to some of the very inventions that are regarded as the most important in the art. The dry plate, for example, enables us to take a negative in from half a second to two seconds. The old wet plate often required fifteen seconds or longer, but it gave more roundness to the picture and made a better portrait. If we should ask customers to sit fifteen seconds now we should soon lose our trade. Modern haste has sacrificed something that we obtained with ease twenty years ago."

"Instantaneous photography would enable you still further to hasten the processes; would it give less satisfactory results than you now obtain?"

"The time occupied in taking a negative by instantaneous photography is almost inappreciable, say one-tenth of a second, but that process is not used in photographic studios. To get a satisfactory portrait under a skylight we cut off some of the light and thus tone down effects. The instantaneous process needs a strong light, such as you obtain in the open air.

IN ONE-TENTH OF A SECOND.

"Here," continued Mr. Sarony, drawing from his pocket a small negative, "is an interesting little thing that illustrates what I am saying. This is a little interior that I took at home on a dark, rainy afternoon, by exploding powdered magnesium. I could have taken it quite as well at midnight. You see that the furniture is very distinct, and even that miniature of a cherub and the photographs on the mantel are perfectly produced. The boy is a little dim because he ran away when the explosion came. Yes, it is an actual fact that he was scared off by the very light that was to take his picture. He was not quick enough, however, as you see, and there he is. The process probably occupied one-tenth of a second. It is done by blowing powdered magnesium across an alcoholic flame. The flash is brief, but intense. It could not be satisfactorily used, however, in producing portraits, for the reason that the photographist would have no opportunity to pose his subject and study in the camera effects of light and shade.

"Instantaneous photograrhy has greatly aided the amateur, and the result has been to drive professional photographists out of the open air business. It does not pay a photographist to devote himself to outdoor work. There are too many amateurs in competition. I think it is not generally known, by the way, that many artists in this country and in Europe are amateur photographists, and that they use our art in aid of their own. I believe that the marvelous minuteness of Meissonier's work is due to the fact that he paints a great deal from photographs. He has been an amateur photographist since the days of the ambrotype, and I have no reason to believe that he has changed his method.

A TRICK OF PORTRAIT PAINTERS.

"I am told that Jerome also uses photography in his work, and it is easy to believe, when one recalls the character of his pictures. It seems to me a perfectly legitimate art. The artist just makes his sketch from nature and then relieves his model from laborious posing by working from photographs in the matter of detail. One thing that has been done by portrait painters is not quite so defensible. Last year a foreign portrait painter with a great reputation came over here and painted many portraits of wealthy persons at great prices. In one instance, he painted the portrait of a rich woman, and it is an absolute fact that he photographed her on canvas and painted over the photograph. It was regarded as a 'speaking likeness,' and the artist was paid $4,000 or $5,000. Now it is not many years since that sort of thing was done by photographists in this country, but the artists made such an outcry that it was stopped.

"It is an amusing thing to see the attempts at posing made by portrait painters, who bring their sitters to us for photographs. The artist believes that he can get just the right effect by posing the subject himself, and is surprised to find that the negative shows an utterly different result from what he had expected. Trained photographists understand the art of posing, and persons obtain most satisfactory portraits by giving themselves into the hands of the photographist."

"Would not photographing in colors aid you in making race distinctions?"

"There is no such thing as photographing in colors, and I see no prospect of its perfection. What is now called photographing is merely an effect of lithography. No, the future improvements in photography are likely to result from the study of posing, and the management of light and shade. Just now general excellence and novelty in style are the photographists' aims."—New York Cor. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Mine a Girl Discovered.

Among the mines here is the Sunset, which was discovered two years ago by Miss Mina Ingraham, a stepdaughter of Mr. Meylette. Wandering out from camp one day, she returned with a few specimens which she had picked up. Her mother deemed them worth investigation, and the same afternoon Miss Ingraham went with her father in quest of the place where she had found the ores. Clambering up the side of a cliff with the grace of a mountain gazelle, she stooped down and marked the spot just as the sun was sinking behind the distant ridge of the Elk range. A "discovery stake" had been prepared, and was immediately set up on the spot. About fifteen months ago this claim was leased and bonded to the Gillespie Brothers, who at once organized the Sunset Mining company and began working it.—Aspen (Colo.) Chronicle.

A Rare Set of Topazes.

Miss Cora Forbes has in her possession the only set of pink topazes in the city, perhaps in the States. They are exceedingly rare and costly, and were presented to her mother on her wedding day by her father, the late Dr. Isaiah Forbes. They are so very rare that when one of the topazes was lost from the brooch not long ago it could not be matched in the city, and was forwarded to New York, where it was found impossible to get one. Finally the set had to be sent to Europe, where, after much difficulty, a proper stone was obtained at much cost and trouble. The jewels are worn by Miss Cora on occasions of great ceremony and state and cause much admiration.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Woodstock Notes.

WOODSTOCK, March 19.—The temperance people are taking a verbatim copy of the petitions for the repeal of the Scott Act. They report that nearly one-third of all the names are from the town of Woodstock, although the whole county was thoroughly canvassed by the repealers. At least 150 of the Woodstock names are duplicates, some of them quadrupled. A large number of Scott Act meetings are being held just now throughout the county and the temperance people are resolved that the white flag shall not come down in Oxford.

Rev. W. McKinley has resigned his charge of the congregations of Innerkip and Ratho. Rev. Messrs. MaKay and Robertson with their respective elders are to confer with the people in regard to the matter.

These are the commissioners from the Paris Presbytery to the General Assembly to meet in Toronto next June: Dr. Cochrane, Rev. W. T. McMullen, Rev. John Thomson, Rev. G. Munro, Rev. W. A. McKay, Rev. D. M. Beattie. Six elders are yet to be appointed.

AN IRONDALE ITEM.

Deer, Hunted by Dogs, Appeal to Men for Protection.

A REMARKABLE instance of animals running to men for protection, in time of danger, occurred a few days ago. Some of the settlers around are guilty of a reckless disregard of the law in allowing their hounds to run at large during the close season of deer. These dogs are kept in a half starved condition, and they are knowing enough when the starvation gets to the unbearable point to go off and hunt a deer. This they have done all winter, and lately the crust on the snow has been most favourable to the dogs, the poor deer breaking through the crust, whilst the dogs run along top. This enables the famished dogs to run down their prey in a short time, when they worry the poor animal to death, take a gorge of the flesh and leave the carcass. A few days ago a lot of these dogs got after two does. The animals being hard pressed and no doubt hearing some men at work at Black Creek dam, they made for the work, and ran right amongst the men, appealing in their dumb way to be relieved of their tormentors. The men, true to their better instincts, answered the appeal, and beat off the dogs from the panting frightened deer. The beating off was not so easily done, but it was finally accomplished, the dogs secured, and the poor does heavy with young sprang away to the woods again. It is time that something was done about this as it is a shame to have the game destroyed in this wanton manner. Are there no sportsmen in the country with spirit enough to look after these people who allow their hounds to run at large.—Independent.

HAMILTON, March 19.—At the meeting of Hamilton Presbytery to-day it was decided to apply for these home mission grants: Niagara, $150; Blackheath, $65; Merritton, $100; Wentworth-street, Hamilton, $90; Port Dalhousie and Louth, $150; Haynes-avenue, St. Catharines, $150; St. David's, $150; Dunnville, $200; St. Ann's, $100. A call from Ancaster and Alberton was sustained and accepted by Rev. John McClung, formerly of Shakespeare. The induction will take place on April 5 at Alberton. Rev. D. H. Fletcher nominated Rev. Dr. Laing of Dundas, on behalf of the Hamilton Presbytery, for the position of moderator of the next general assembly. The nomination was carried unanimously.

Where is Walter?

HAMILTON, March 19.—A warrant was issued this morning for the arrest of Henry Walter, who came here from Cincinnati last fall and opened a mantle store in Copp's block. He is charged with receiving money by false pretence from John Malloy, from whom he got a phaeton valued at $165. It has also been reported to the police that a horse and set of harness he got from E. W. Ware have disappeared and have not yet been paid for. Walter cannot be found. His store is empty. The police believe he will not go back to the United States. He has been heard of there under the name of Henry Novack, Henry Wise, Frank November and Henry Engleman.

A Better Man Asleep than Awake.

Irvine Brown, a man from rural districts, was brought down to the cells last night from the evangelists' services at St. Paul's church. The man of the uncommon name had been imbibing a little and then strayed into the crowded church where the evangelists were holding forth. The seats were all filled but Mr. Brown, although a little late, had no intention of being left, so he went up the side isle nearly to the front and then comfortably arranged his weary form at full length on the softest spot that his eye could detect in the isle. Here the sweet strains of the choir soon soothed Irvine into a gentle slumber from which he awakened not until the first service was over. Then when the isle was required to allow those who so wished to leave, Mr. Brown had to be disturbed. He awoke with a start and it is hard to guess where he thought he was. In the after meeting he unfortunately did not sleep again and made himself so obnoxious that he was arrested. At the Police Court this morning he was fined $2 or ten days. He paid the fine.

How Strange it is

To see people starting at the head of George-st., passing all the grocery houses on the street, merely giving them the go by, and coming to a halt at the Opera House Block to secure some of W. J. Morrow's Celebrated Teas. One half the population of Peterboro' are using our now celebrated 25c. For the next few years we will sell goods away below other houses, so you can always rely on buying goods cheaper from us than elsewhere. Watch for our Saturday bargains and be sure to call.

A Warning to Bovine Owners.

This is the season of the year when fodder is scarce and the owners of bovines are inclined to give their cows the freedom of the streets so as to allow them an opportunity of picking up what little may be found. Several cows have been seen of late roaming the streets and, as they are liable to do a great deal of damage now when the lawns are so soft, the police have received strict instructions to prosecute any parties who allow their bovine to be at large.

How is It, is the general remark passed by people when they call on W. J. Morrow, you sell cheaper than others. Why your 18 pound Sugar for $1.00 is so much lighter, and really your 25 cent Tea equal to tea I pay 35 cents for elsewhere? Pay no attention to those who are becoming jealous of the extensive trade, offering you inducements only as a catch, but come to us, as you have done in the past, and secure the very finest of goods at the lowest prices, and be convinced that we are the only cheap house in town. Bear in mind we always have something special for Saturdays.

CAPTURED at last—a large stock of splendid tea. [illegible] lbs. for $1 at M. R. KIDD'S. d66

A Closed Restaurant.

The restaurant which has been run for the past few months by Mr. A. H. Sutton, is closed this morning and Mr. Sutton has gone to Toronto, where he expects to obtain a good situation. The restaurant, which has been operated in first-class style, has not proved a paying investment and as a result Mr. Sutton has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. Several of the young bachelors of the town who were getting their meals at the restaurant were surprised when they came down for breakfast this morning to find the door locked and they had to look elsewhere for their morning meals. It was reported that Mr. Sutton had left without warning on account of a fine for an offence against the Scott Act, but this is not correct.

St. John's Church Notes.

Two confirmation classes have been organized during the past week with a joint membership of 40, which will be largely increased. Another similar class will be begun next week.

The attendance at the two Bible classes last Sunday reached a total of 60; while upwards of 150 of the congregation were present at the weekly Bible reading last night. While it requires something more than figures to show lasting and inward results, the above numbers are certainly creditable to St. John's congregation as showing a laudable ambition and practical enterprise in regard to the systematic study of the Bible.

The committee appointed on Tuesday evening met last night and carefully considered a constitution for the Young Men's Guild. The constitution and by-laws were made as brief and simple as possible. They will be laid before the general meeting of the Guild on Monday evening for adoption.

The subject upon which the Rev. J. P. Lewis, of Grace Church, Toronto, will speak on Wednesday evening is "The Poor Man's Friend." Mr. Lewis is pastor of one of the largest churches in Toronto and a forcible speaker.

Assaulting His Teacher.

A peculiar and rather unusual case came up before the Magistrate this morning, but was amicably settled between the parties without a trial, and perhaps it is better so. Miss McAllister is a school mistress in section 5, Township of Douro, and it appears that she has had considerable trouble with one of her boys, a lad about fifteen years of age. The boy even went so far as to attack the teacher out of school, and thus the information was laid against him charging him with assault. Mr. E. B. Edwards appeared for the boy, and he said that the lad was willing to admit his guilt and would apologize most fully and publicly for his conduct, which he regretted most sincerely. The Magistrate thought that the complainant should accept this as a sufficient vindication of her authority before the other pupils and the trustees of the school. He would not like to have a conviction against a boy so young as it might stand against him in after life, and as the boy was sorry for his unseemly conduct, he thought Miss McAllister should accept the apology. This the lady did, and the Magistrate gave the culprit some good advice and the case was amicably settled, the defendant paying all the costs of the case.

Brevities.

THE TIME OF CONVERSION

REV. MR. CROSSLEY TELLS THE UNSAVED THE VERY MOMENT.

Rev. Mr. Hunter Absent—A Converted Infidel's Letter. A Request from Michigan —Three Reasons why Persons do not Seek the Lord—Notes.

Rev. Mr. Hunter was not present at the meeting last night, and needless to say his happy countenance was missed from the platform and the lack of his usual short address and words of exhortation was felt, but nevertheless Rev. Mr. Crossley made the meeting interesting for the immense audience which again filled the church to overflowing. Rev. Mr. Crossley, in speaking of the absence of his fellow evangelist, said that he supposed Mr. Hunter was that night in the bosom of his family, but though absent in person their thoughts would meet around one common mercy seat. He further stated that his colleague would, if the railway trains ran without accident, be back again to-day recuperated for the Sunday services.

A beautiful duet was sang in an exceedingly effective manner by Miss Vair and Rev. Mr. Crossley. It was the sixty-fourth hymn in the evangelist hymn book and was entitled "Ah, My Heart."

A CONVERTED INFIDEL'S LETTER.

The evangelist then read a letter which he had received that day addressed to Mr. Hunter and himself. The epistle was from Mr. A. S. Carson, a banker of Picton, Ont., who was at one time an infidel, but who was converted during the services of the evangelists in that town. Rev. Mr. Crossley said he would not tell the experience of this gentleman, as he expected him here before the services closed and he would then tell his own experience. However, the letter was an experience in itself, as, after speaking of the glorious time that was being enjoyed in Picton through the services there of Rev. Mr. Shiveres, whom Mr. Carson called an "immense man," the writer spoke of the joy and happiness which he had found since he had been led to Christ, and said he would rather have the privilege of going into the little cellar kitchen to do his work for God then go into the richest home in Ontario. It was better to give then to receive, and he wanted the evangelists to tell the people of Peterborough to try and see for themselves. The writer also stated in his letter that nearly all who had been converted during the services in Picton were remaining steadfast. Mr. Crossley said that over one thousand persons had been converted during their visit to Picton and when they had left the work had gone on until in the aggregate over twenty-five hundred had professed conversion. He said it would be so in Peterborough, and he told any who were not Christians they should seek the Lord at once or after a short time they would be left out in the cold.

A REQUEST FROM MICHIGAN.

Rev. M. L. PEARSON read the requests for prayer, which were very numerous, and offered a brief but earnest prayer for all the requests. One of the solicitations was from a Christian wife in Michigan, who had read an account of the meetings in a Peterborough paper, and who asked the prayers of Christians for her husband and also her aged father, who was 83 years old. Another request asked for prayers for some church members, that they might give up the use of intoxicating liquors and not prove a stumbling block to young men.

WHEN YOU WILL BE CONVERTED.

Rev. Mr. CROSSLEY in rising to give his usual address said: "I can tell all the unconverted the very year in which they shall be converted. Closer than that, I can tell you the very month in which you will come to the truth. I can come yet closer than that and tell you the very week when you will be saved. I can come even closer than that and tell you the very day upon which you will experience salvation. Yes, you may think that close but I can come closer than that and tell you the very moment when you will be converted. But I could not tell this unless I got it from God's Word." They could get the information from his text:—

> "And ye shall seek me and find me when ye shall search for me with all your heart." —Jeremiah xxix; 13.

The rev. gentleman said that everybody could be saved, as the text showed, and yet

THERE WERE THREE REASONS

why they were not saved—(1) they did not seek, (2) they might seek but not the Lord, (3) they might seek the Lord but not with all their hearts. He then pointed out several reasons why the unsaved did not seek. There were some who did not seek from the fear that they would not be saved, and others were too stupid and stubborn. Those God himself had said were as stupid as an ox and as stubborn as an ass, and if they looked at it they would see that the Lord had not put it any too strongly. Others again did not seek from a fear that they would fall and not be true and steadfast to God. He told of the conversion of Conductor Jones, who had been of this class, but who now was doing a good work having been converted at one of their meetings up west. Others did not seek because they did not feel. He said he could sympathise with this class as he believed they were sincere, but he told them they should not consider if they had enough feeling or interest to take them to God, but if they had feeling enough to make a start. Interest and feeling were generated far better while on the move than while standing still. He then spoke of the second class—those who thought they were seeking, were not seeking the Lord. Many, he said, had been seeking to do better or turn over a new leaf but had never been converted. Others were seeking religion or something indefinite instead of the Lord, and, he said, they were not told in the Bible anywhere to seek religion but always to seek Me. Others were seeking feeling, but they could never have the feeling until they found the Lord. Then he proceeded to the third class—those who did seek the Lord but not with all their hearts. He pointed out that some little mental reservation, or pride or self-will stood in the way of this class of seekers and he closed with an urgent appeal to all the unconverted to seek the Lord with all their hearts.

During the singing of the next hymn those who wished were allowed to retire, but the larger portion of the congregation remained to the after meeting and many seekers went into the enquiry room.

NOTES.

Both of the evangelists will be in the Baptist Church to-morrow morning and in St. Paul's in the evening.

All Christians were told to attend their own churches to-morrow and give the unsaved and non-church members an opportunity to attend the evangelistic meetings.

A meeting for men only will be addressed by the evangelists in the Opera House at 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

A children's meeting was held in St. Paul's Church yesterday afternoon and the church was filled with little ones, who enjoyed the interesting addresses and singing.

Mr. R. J. Winch, of Cobourg, is expected to relate his experience at Men's Meeting, Sunday, four p.m.

CAMPBELLFORD CULLINGS.

Washouts on the Junction Not Feared—Accident to an Aged Gentleman.

STACKS OF STRAW.—An immense quantity of straw in bales, amounting to scores of tons last week arrived by train for the Northumberland Paper Mills.

GONE TO BERMUDA.—Mr. E. G. Burke, manager of the Northumberland Paper Co., in company with his wife, left last week for the Bermuda Islands. He will not return till the 1st of April.

NO WASHOUTS.—Washouts on the Grand Junction are not feared this spring, the snow having melted so gradually and the ice in the creeks which was not very thick having broken up early and provided a channel for the freshets. The road, Mr. Alexander, the section boss, informs us, is in better condition this spring than it has been for many years.

INJURED BY FALLING.—One day last week. Mr. E. Denmark fell on the ice at his residence at Crow Bay, Seymour, and being an aged man was unable to rise to his feet again, and lay there, we are informed, for about three hours before help arrived. Mrs. Denmark, who is also old and very feeble, was unable to render him any assistance. The aged gentleman is suffering very much from the effects of the fall and the exposure for so long a time.—Herald.

LINDSAY LINES.

An Agitation for Railway Extension—Other Matters.

THE town of Lindsay is moving to have the Haliburton branch of the Grand Trunk railway extended further north. Deputations have been appointed to ask aid from the Provincial Legislature and Dominion Parliament. The Board of Trade is moving in the matter.

CHECKERS.—The checker match for the championship of Victoria between James H. Hopkins, of Lindsay, and H. A. Smith, of Woodville, going on for two days, was won yesterday by Mr. Hopkins. The match was 20 games for a prize of $25. Mr. Hopkins won 9, Smith won 3; draws 4. Smith then withdrew.

AN INVENTION.—Mr. J. A. Ellis, of Fenelon Falls, has given effect to a plan that will make the immense forests of birch in the northern country of great value. Hitherto birch could not be handled profitably owing to its sinking in the water. To float it, it required to be lashed to a pine or a cedar log. Now, Mr. Ellis has invented a successful plan as follows:—In early June when the sap is running in the birch the trees are felled, care being taken to have them lie clear of the ground. The bark, which then peels easily, is taken off, and the whole tree left to dry. In fall or winter the trees are cut into logs and placed on the ice for floating. In spring they float as easily as pine. This discovery by Mr. Ellis will yet prove of great value to Canada, for thousands of acres of birch will thus become available for market that otherwise could not be reached.—Warder.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

CHINA HALL

CHINA
AND

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate cracked at that. Consider $24,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of selveres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $3,400 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $2,800 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

Our customers and well wishers will accept our hearty thanks for their liberal support during the past year. We begin our fourth year's business in Peterborough very much encouraged. Notwithstanding dull times, bankrupt stocks, an increase of business houses, etc., we have from the first year to the present increased our business. The past year has been a large increase over other years. How can we account for this? We have not been "blowing our own horn" or in any way trying to "bait" our customers, but this we have done, bought our Goods right, kept proper styles and sold at right prices. We have watched our customers' interests. This spring we expect to do even still better for you and our only anxiety is that you see our stock.

SATURDAY, MARCH 23 1889.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER

"Eh—what?" muttered Jim, sleepily. "Mr. Manners is on duty today."

"It's not duty, sir—it's murder!" cried Leader, desperately, shaking him harder than ever.

The ominous word was enough to rouse Beautiful Jim completely. "Hey—murder—oh, is that you, Leader? Why, has anything happened?"

"Happened! Yes, sir. Mr.—Capt. Owen, that is,—is lying dead in his quarters this minute," the man gasped out as well as his chattering teeth and shaking lips would let him speak.

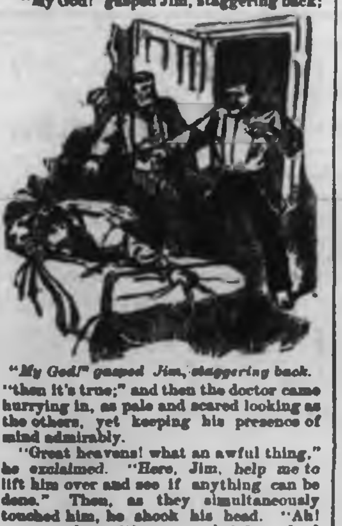
Jim sat bolt upright in his cot. "Capt. Owen dead! Good God! Leader, is it true, or are you mad, or am I dreaming?"

"True enough, sir," returned Leader, sadly. "Jones went to call him ten minutes ago and found him—dead and still."

By this time Jim was out of his cot, and getting rapidly into the first clothes that came to hand, and in less than a minute from the time he realized the information which Leader had brought him he was across the corridor and in Owen's room.

But up to that moment he had scarcely believed that it was quite as Leader had said, that Owen was really dead. Still there was no mistaking the evidence of his own eyes, for poor Owen was lying just as they found him, half on the floor and half on the cot, his hands still clutching the bed clothes, which were stained darkly and deeply by a great pool of blood which had oozed from a frightful gash at the back of his head.

"My God!" gasped Jim, staggering back; "then it's true;" and then the doctor came hurrying in, as pale and scared looking as the others, yet keeping his presence of mind admirably.



"My God!" gasped Jim, staggering back.

"Great heavens! what an awful thing," he exclaimed. "Here, Jim, help me to lift him over and see if anything can be done." Then, as they simultaneously touched him, he shook his head. "Ah! me, poor chap—it's no use—he's been dead for hours."

Ay, it was true enough; there could be no mistaking the ashen gray face, the parted lips, the blank stare of the dimmed eyes, even to the most inexperienced there in the room; and besides, as they had found him, so he remained when they laid him on the cot, with knees bent and hands stiffly clutching at nothing. Oh! awful, awful sight!

"The best friend I ever had in my life," cried poor Jim Beresford, the big tears chasing one another down his cheeks.

He was so blinded by his grief that he never noticed that Tommy Earle had come in, and was standing looking, with horror stamped on every feature, at the awful thing on the bed, all that was left of what twelve hours before had been a living, breathing, gallant man of honor.

"Who did it?" the lad asked, shaping the words with his lips rather than speaking them.

It was Owen's servant, Jones, who answered the question.

"We don't know, sir. Some dastardly coward what struck from behind;" and then he dashed the tears away from his eyes, and turning from the cot began tidying up the room in a dazed, mechanical sort of way, as if he hardly knew what he was about.

"You'd better not touch anything until the police come," said the doctor, who had kept his senses about him better than most people would have done under the circumstances. They will be here in a few minutes now. Mr. Beresford, I should advise you to have the room cleared and a guard mounted over the door. It is no use our stopping here now—we can do no good."

Thus reminded that he was now the officer commanding the detachment, Jim gave orders to have the room cleared, and having locked the door, set a double guard upon it. Then he went back to his room and dressed himself, being already in his undress uniform, by the time the police arrived from the town, half a mile away.

And although the entire barracks seemed to be paralyzed by the awful deed which had been committed in their midst, Beautiful Jim found himself with plenty of work on his hands. First he had to be with the police while they made a close examination of the room and of the dead man, together with the army surgeon and a civilian doctor, who had come up with them from the town.

"Here's the thing that did it," said one of the men, suddenly stooping to pick something off the floor.

The others all pressed forward to see what it was, Beautiful Jim among them; the man held in his hand an iron dumb bell of about seven pounds weight, which Jim at once recognized as one of his own.

"That's mine," he exclaimed, instantly. The inspector of police looked up sharply.

"You'd better say nothing, sir; anything you say now is liable to be used in evidence against you."

"Against me!" repeated Beautiful Jim, staring at the man as if he were mad, or drunk, or both. "Why, you don't mean to say that you suspect me of murdering the best friend I have in the world?"

A New York Forger Run To Earth—The New Party Convention.

TORONTO, March 23.—Through the efforts of the Toronto detectives a New York forger has been run to earth at Halifax. The man's name is Henry Hardie alias Edward W. Wilson, and it is alleged that on March 10, he, as confidential clerk for J. G. Fitzpatrick, corset maker, New York, succeeded in passing through his employer's bank a forged check for $3600, with the proceeds of which he skipped to Canada. He spent a few days in Toronto with John McDonald, the Paisley man arrested on Thursday night on suspicion of being a boodler. He bought a ticket for Liverpool, via Halifax, and had arrived in that city on Wednesday when he was arrested by the City Marshal in obedience to a despatch from Inspector Stark. Some $2300 in gold was found on him when arrested. The New York people have sent an officer after him, but he has intimated that he will fight extradition to the last extremity.

McDonald, his Toronto chum, was arraigned at the Police Court yesterday and discharged, the Paisley authorities refusing to go to the trouble of fetching him across the water.

Detectives Davis and Slemin last night raided an old dugout about a mile back in the bush from Stanley's grove, recovering a large quantity of stolen property, and arrested five young men found in the place on suspicion of being the thieves. They were taken to Dundas-street station, giving their names as Verral, Black, Regan, Smith and Haynes. The place was furnished with a stove, table and chairs and bedstead.

At the New Party convention yesterday a number of reports of committees were received and adopted. The Committee on Organization recommended that the executive employ suitable persons as organizers as soon as possible; that all members who are able and willing to work for the party shall send in their names at as early a date as possible; that we mould public opinion by holding public meetings in every constituency and the circulation of our literature as largely as possible. It was further recommended that a candidate be placed in the field in every constituency, Dominion or Provincial, and vigorous efforts made to secure his election. The finance committee reported that there had been received: cash contributions $183, cash subscriptions $588. The motto of the party is to be "For God and home and country" instead of "For God and country" as at present. Dr. Sutherland was elected chairman of the executive committee and president of the General Council.

Yesterday a local jewelry house received from Paris a parcel of diamonds valued at $60,000.

Death on the Track.

NEWBURY, March 23.—Yesterday afternoon about 3.35, shortly after No. 5 G.T.R. express had left Glencoe, a man was seen by the engineer walking on the track ahead of the train. The engineer whistled but he paid no attention and before the train could be stopped it struck him, throwing him off to one side, killing him instantly. The body was picked up by the train men and brought to Newbury. On making enquiry it was found that he was a stone dresser by trade and his name was John Partridge. Nothing but an old knife was found on his person. He appeared to be about 40 years of age. His aged mother lives in Chatham.

A Western Wedding.

LONDON, March 22.—One of the most notable weddings that has taken place in this district for years was celebrated at the residence of Squire Sifton, Arva, on Wednesday afternoon. The contracting parties were Miss Esther Sifton and Mr. Douglas A. Thurston. Archdeacon Marsh performed the ceremony. The bride wore white faille, with pearl trimmings, tulle veil and lilies of the valley. Miss Prudie Sifton and Miss Fitzgerald acted as bridesmaids. The presents were ornamental, useful and varied, and came from friends in New York, Toronto, London and elsewhere. The cash presents alone amounted to $4500, the bride's father giving $2000 along with a solid silver tea service. The party took the C.P.R. express for New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington for a couple of months' tour before settling down at their future home at Toronto.

The Capital's Big Methodist Church.

OTTAWA, March 22.—The pastorate of the Dominion Methodist Church has been accepted by Rev. Dr. Ryckman of London, Ont., and provided the consent of the conference of this district be received he will be Rev. Mr. Carson's successor.

Dr. Ryckman has filled two terms of three years each in London. He is a very prominent member of the Methodist body. He is secretary of the General Conference of Canada and Newfoundland, a member of the special committee of the General Conference, a member of the Board of Regents of Victoria University, a member of the Board of Governors of the Wesleyan Theological College of Montreal, and a member of the Board of Management of Alma College, St. Thomas. He is about 50 years old. His eldest son recently graduated from Victoria University.

License Inspector Grainger Acquitted.

BELLEVILLE, March 22.—License Inspector Grainger has been acquitted of the charges brought against him.

Rev. R. Wallace left Manchester yesterday with one hundred boys for the Marchmont House.

A large number of stolen articles were to-day found in the dwelling of a man named Douglas, who was arrested for fighting and remanded until to-morrow.

So Runs the World Away.

HAMILTON, March 22.—Mrs. Ann Fraser, widow of the late John Fraser, died of paralysis occasioned by a stroke of apoplexy at an early hour this morning. Deceased was 63 years of age and the mother of eight children, six of whom survive her.

Mr. Noble Sharpe, formerly of this city, died at his residence in Ingersoll to-day.

Soap Works at Goderich Burnt.

GODERICH, March 22.—Shortly after 11 o'clock last night fire was discovered in the large building on the Huron road occupied by the Huron Soap Company. The flames had made considerable headway before the alarm was given and the building was almost completely destroyed before the arrival of the fire brigade. Treble & Tarr, the proprietors of the works, had no insurance. There was a small insurance on the building. Cause of fire unknown.

Traced to Wilkesbarre.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 22.—Detective Rogers of Toronto has traced to this region Andrew Wilson, who murdered his sweetheart at Watford a week ago last Sunday. When last heard of Wilson was disguised as a miner.

Fire at Woodstock.

WOODSTOCK, March 22.—A fire with what might have been a serious loss to life and property occurred here early this morning. A large frame tenement building in Dundas-street west, in which dwelt about twenty persons, was seen by a neighbor to be in a blaze. On examination he found the whole of the inside to be on fire. He immediately gave the alarm, and the inmates, mostly women, barely escaped with their lives.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery, it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if every thing else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents. S. C. Wells & Co., Proprietors, LeRoy, N. Y.

WE ONLY LAUGH AT THEM!

What unlimited gall for other houses to dare to compete with us. Why we have secured the trade of Town and Country, also the confidence of the people, and must and will at all times sell Goods cheaper than any house. Merchants say our expenses are so light we can sell Goods cheaper, but we say ours are large and our business massive, hence our advantage.

Look at our Tea Sales and prices, other houses try to compete in price, not quality.

Look at our prices of Sugars, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our prices of Fruits, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our extensive Country Trade, our Town Trade and surrounding Village Trade, and in but few words, we can dare other houses to compete.

DRESS GOODS, DRESS GOODS,

No department in our store has received more marked attention than our Dress Goods Department. Every shelf is laden with the latest production of the English, French and German looms. They are unsurpassed for Style, Colorings, and elegance in design, and nothing has ever been seen like them for richness and cheapness. Every new weaving combination and texture just as cheap.

Our display of Silks in Printed Pongees and Chinas is unusually large.

DRESS TRIMMINGS.

We show Dress Trimmings in every conceivable design to match any coloring in Dress Goods and you will see novelties in these goods which is not shown by anyone else as they were made to our own order.

Our Dress Making Department is busier than we usually find it at this time of the year this is due to the fact that our Miss Neil's abilities in this line are abreast of the times.

EPPS'S COCOA
BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there was a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette

SPRING Millinery Opening AT TURNBULL'S.

Wednesday and Thursday, March 27th and 28th. We give a cordial invitation to all and expect to see you on the above dates, to look through our magnificent Stock of Millinery and Millinery Trimmings, Mantles, Dolmans and Jackets. Light Plain Cloths and Fancy Checks for young people, Rich Brocades and Fancy Stripes for the older, with all the New Trimmings to match.

THE EVENT OF THE PAST WEEK—Has been Dress Goods and Dress Trimmings. We cannot begin to tell you how they have been admired. Sateur Cloths have been the favorites. There is an indescribable gentility about the Colors that makes you feel you would like to have a dress and wear it. The new Steel and Silk Gimps blend so perfectly. Our Bradford (England) Dress Cloths at 10 cents, are worth a corner in your Memory.

Our Prints in the windows and on the counters have been turning up their saucy, pretty faces at you as you pass by for the past two or three weeks and many a prudent mother has had her summer supply sent home already knowing she would not find the same assortment later.

During the past few weeks in the hurry and bustle of unpacking case after case of New Goods, we have neglected to call your attention to our Boys' Clothing and Tailoring Department. In fact was it necessary? Our old customers know and the public generally are finding out that our tailor is very hard to beat in a fit and we never take a side seat on prices. Our importations of Cloths from across the boiling sea have arrived, and lay side by side with their Canadian Cousins. It is hard to say which is the prettiest or best, but the Scotch have the name of making the color faster than we Canadians. We will not dispute their ability to-day. Our Tailoring Department is not what it was three years ago. It has grown amazingly, we mean it shall still grow by giving Good Goods, Proper Styles and Close Prices. Our Boys' Clothing is opened out. Boys, be happy, tell your parents of the fact and have them come in and pick your suit out. We are sure we can please them with the price. In the centre of the floor stands a table loaded with a job line of laces. When we say job we mean half price or under. They are all two and three cents a yard, take your choice. You cannot buy the same goods any where else less than five cents, and most of them you will pay ten cents for. The fashion sheets (which are free) for this month have arrived. A full assortment of Domestic Patterns kept.

Remember the days of our Millinery Opening when our store will be in its holiday attire, when all the novelties of the season will be displayed.

"CLUTCH" DONOHUE DYING

HE WILL BE PERMITTED TO END HIS DAYS A FREE MAN.

A Warrant for His Release from Kingston Penitentiary Signed by the Minister of Justice on Saturday.

OTTAWA, March 23.—John Donohue, better known throughout the Niagara district as "Clutch Donohue," who for a number of years conducted the Queen's Hotel in Fort Erie, Ont., and whose trial at the suit of the United States Express Company and connection with shady doings in conjunction with a Buffalo newsdealer is still fresh in memory, is dying of consumption. His wife went from Fort Erie to the Kingston Penitentiary, where he has been serving a six years' sentence, a few weeks ago, and has remained by his bedside ever since.

His pitiable condition induced the Warden of Kingston Penitentiary and the medical officials to make representations to the Government in his behalf, and the Minister of Justice to-day signed a warrant for Donohue's release from prison. It is represented that he has but a few days—perhaps but hours—and his wife and the sick man both pleaded earnestly that he be permitted to die a free man, outside of the prison walls. His request was granted and he will be at once removed to comfortable quarters outside, where he may at least have the satisfaction of knowing that death, though certain, cannot visit him a felon.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Murderer Jacobs' Case Before the Supreme Court—The Quebec List Finished.

OTTAWA, March 24.—A case argued before the Supreme Court yesterday brings before Their Lordships the time-honored question, "What's in a name?" A Caughnawaga Indian named Jacobs is at present confined in the Montreal Jail awaiting the carrying out of sentence of execution for the murder of his wife. That he did murder the woman is undisputable, but it is claimed that the name was incorrectly stated in the indictment and that therefore the verdict against Jacobs should by voided. Mr. Cornellier, Q.C., appeared for appellant and Mr. Trenholme for the Crown. Their Lordships have reserved judgment.

Having heard the Quebec list of appeals the court has adjourned until Thursday next, when the Ontario list will be taken up.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Interesting Scenes at the Registration Places in Detroit.

DETROIT, March 23.—Registration of women by women and for women, the first ever held in Detroit, began at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Early in the day E. C. Skinner received the following from T. W. Palmer, the new Minister to Spain: "I send you congratulations. Let every women register and vote. It means greater consideration for the affluent, better wages for the struggling, better times, better officers and a better State. The morning light is breaking, the darkness disappears."

Mrs. Mary T. Morley was the first woman in Detroit to offer herself for qualification as a voter. To the questions: "Are you a married woman? Is your husband a voter?" she answered in the affirmative, and her name was registered in red ink. Jane A. Patterson registered in the Second Precinct of the Fourth Ward in the morning. When her husband went to the place of registration about noon, and discovered that his better half had registered, he declared that if his wife intended to vote he would keep the proper balance by remaining at home to mind the children. In the Twelfth Ward the ladies exhibited a portrait of Mrs. Gross, the ladies' candidate, and one of David Ferguson, her Democratic opponent, who is a member of the registration board, and who has yet to be complimented for his beauty. The comparison was expected to work wonders for the woman candidate.

It was curious to see the effect of a woman's presence in the saloons, where many of them were compelled to register. All of the saloonkeepers made some pretense of cleaning up. Some of the saloons were decorated, and none made any attempt to sell liquor while women were present. One dealer was unable to stand the sight of a woman in his saloon, and moved the office of registration next door. In the home circles last evening the one topic of conversation was the new experience of women. Many a man who abhors woman suffrage and supposed his wife did, was astonished to see her name in the newspaper lists of the registered ones.

Who Bids for This Big Railway?

CHICAGO, March 24.—The great Wabash case came to an end at 1 o'clock yesterday in the United States Circuit Court by the entry of a decree offering the railway plant for sale in this city. Judge Gresham said: "We think, inasmuch as the Wabash property is in the custody of the court and the parties all before the court, that the court has the authority to prescribe an upset bid in the decree of sale. We therefore determine to enter a decree of that kind making the bid for the four main lines the amount of the principal and interest of the indebtedness." It was decided that the sale will be four weeks from yesterday, if in ten days the manager does not appear in court and pay the amount of the debt. A deposit of $100,000 will be sufficient to secure a bid.

The Australian Wheat Crops.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Advices from Sydney announce that the Australian wheat crop has fallen short of the estimated product for the season and that stocks are being firmly held, owing to the probability of the imposition of a protective tariff by the Colonial Government at Melbourne. The total yield amounts to 6,300,000 bushels from an area of 3,000,000 acres, more than one-fifth of which is not worth reaping. The total surplus for exporting will be less than 2,000,000 bushels, compared with 16,000,000 bushels last season. The wheat shipments from the Pacific Coast ports alone this season to the Australian colonies promise to exceed those of any previous year.

The Dervishes Defeated by Emin.

CAIRO, March 24.—Mahommed Beraivi, who has arrived here from Omdurman, reports that Sheikh Senoussi's forces occupied Darfour and Kordofan and expelled the dervishes. In July last Mahomed Beraivi accompanied an expedition of 6000 Mahdists which proceeded in steamers and barges against Emin Pasha. He states that Emin defeated the dervishes near Bor, killing most of them, and capturing their steamers and much ammunition.

Mahomed Beraivi says it was reported that Emin was in good health, and that all his people and some European travellers were with him in Bahr-el-Gazel.

THE ATTY.-GEN.'S SPEECH

SIR RICHARD WEBSTER'S MEMORABLE DEFENCE.

His Honor Vindicated but Criticism Not Silenced—Mr. Chamberlain's Organ Makes an Important Announcement.

[illegible] 24.—Mr. Smalley cables The [illegible] to London: The Attorney-General [illegible] had been on the whole for [illegible] past the best abused man in England. The charges against him may be summarized. The Attorney-General sinned in acting as private counsel for The Times while the chief law officer of the Crown; sinned in his general conduct of the case before the Commission; sinned particularly in putting Pigott into the box as a witness, knowing him to be unworthy of belief; sinned in vouching for the genuineness of the letters, and in advising the appointment of the Commission on the strength of that belief. The Attorney-General has dealt with these and other matters in a speech which will long be memorable. He showed that he had, as every Attorney-General has always had and has often exercised, the right to appear as private counsel in any case in which he thought fit to accept a brief. He denied absolutely having ever vouched for the genuineness of the letters. There was not, he said, the shadow of a foundation for the suggestion that the Government had acted on his opinion or advice in proposing or constituting the Commission. He was charged with having adopted in court tactics of surprise, with concealing the names of witnesses. "I acted," replied Sir Richard, "under the direction of the Bench and with their full knowledge and approval; and this charge is a charge against the court, not against me."

He was charged with putting Pigott into the box, knowing him to be unworthy of credit, and Pigott's letter was referred to as proof. There was nothing, he replied, in the letter to suggest that Pigott did not believe the letters to be genuine.

Lastly comes The Times' withdrawal of the letters and its apology. "I framed it," said Sir Richard. "If I were to do it again I should phrase it as nearly as possible in the same terms. I went to the extreme verge of my duty. If I erred I erred in saying too much, not too little." I doubt whether on this point Sir Richard carried the House or will carry the public with him. But he has, I imagine, professional opinion on his side. He acted purely and entirely as a lawyer with reference to the conduct of a case in court, not to public opinion outside. Whatever may be thought on this one point, there can be no doubt as to the speech as a whole. It was worthy of the great days of the Bar, and, as an argumentative and oratorical effort, was worthy of the House where it was delivered. Sir Richard Webster has done nothing in public equal to this. There was no lack of fervor or of dramatic effect. It does not silence all criticism on Sir Richard's handling of the case before the Commission, nor was it meant to. But this speech is a vindication on all these points which touched his honor, whether professional or personal.

An Amazing Misstatement.

LONDON, March 24.—Mr. Lewis, solicitor for the Parnellites, writes to call attention to a amazing and important misstatement with reference to Pigott which was made by Attorney-General Webster in the House of Commons Friday. He says the letter referred to by Mr. Webster as having been placed in Sir Charles Russell's hands five days before Pigott's appearance in the witness box was a letter from Mr. Soames, solicitor for The Times, to Pigott and two other letters from Pigott to Mr. Soames, in which Pigott admitted that he feared to undergo a cross-examination, were withheld by The Times' lawyer. Mr. Lewis says it is a fact that neither counsel nor the solicitor for the Parnellites had notice of the existence of these two letters until Pigott had decamped.

Proposed Irish Legislation.

LONDON, March 24.—The Birmingham Post, the organ of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, announces upon authority that the Government has decided to deal with the Irish land question early in the parliamentary session of 1890, the lines of the measure to be so laid down that they will admit of no modification as the result of obstruction or factious opposition. The bill will be followed at the opening of the session of 1891 by a measure of reform of Irish local government, the details of which are practically the same as those published in The Post last year. This move is believed to be the result of an agreement between the Tories and the Unionists, on the basis of the Tories passing Mr. Chamberlain's scheme in return for unflinching Unionist support to such other measures as the Tories may meanwhile formulate. The only thing the Conservative leaders have to fear in carrying out the provisions of a deal of this kind is defection in their own ranks. The recent developments of the Parnell Commission have had the effect to shake the faith of a good many Tories in the wisdom of the Government's policy, and the further proceedings of that body may scarcely be relied upon to reassure the doubters.

The Gorton Election.

LONDON, March 23.—The election in the Gorton division of Lancashire, to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons caused by the death of Richard Peacock (Gladstonian), resulted in the return of Wm. Mather (Gladstonian), who received 5155 votes against 4900 for Ernest Hatch (Conservative and Liberal Unionist). At the last election Peacock received 4562 votes and Lord De Welton (Conservative) 4135.

The Statist's View of the Paris Crisis.

LONDON, March 24.—On the Stock Exchange the past week prices were firm and business was restricted. The small effect which the Paris collapse had on quotations here shows a great undercurrent of strength. In view, however, of impending failures in connection with metal in London and Paris great caution is exercised. American railroad securities were dull.

On the Berlin, Frankfort and Vienna Boerses prices closed firm yesterday.

The Statist considers that the Paris crisis has crippled the producing and consuming power of France. It says that large numbers of workmen will be thrown out of employment who will generate discontent, throwing discredit on the Government and increasing Boulanger's chances which the new repressive policy is not likely to counteract. The effect abroad will also be great. With the leading powers of France crippled Russia will be less friendly to France and the aggressive policy of Russia will be checked. Russia, Austria and Italy will find greater difficulty in borrowing and the prospects of peace will be thereby increased. The inevitable crippling of trade in France will injure trade in all Europe and disturb Eastern and South American commerce.

The Paris Bourse Recovering its Tone.

PARIS, March 24.—The Bourse yesterday was firm throughout on the recovery of prices of credit shares and in sympathy with higher prices abroad.

Mr. Bright Suffers a Serious Relapse.

LONDON, March 24.—John Bright has had a serious relapse. He was attacked to-day with a shivering fit. A doctor is in constant attendance.

Mr. Gladstone Goes to Scotland.

LONDON, March 24.—Mr. Gladstone left London for Scotland to-night.

Butterfield's Claim Against Denmark.

COPENHAGEN, March 24.—A committee of the Lower House of the Rigsdag has advised the ratification of the convention between Denmark and the United States providing for the arbitration of the claim of Mr. Butterfield for a number of vessels lost near St. Thomas many years ago. It is doubted however whether the reference of the claim to a court of arbitration will be necessary.

Firebugs in a Connecticut City.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 24.—There were four incendiary fires here last night. The loss in each case was small.

Burglary at Oshawa.

OSHAWA, March 24.—A few barrels of cider were stolen from the cellar of Dickie & [illegible] last night.

M'GARIGLE IN TORONTO.

The Noted Chicago Boodler Leaves Banff and Comes Down East.

TORONTO, March 25.—In a fine bold hand there was written on the register of the Rossin House on Saturday this name and address:

WM. J. MCGARIGLE, BANFF.

McGarigle is an uncommon name and it did not take long for the casual observer to conclude that this was the sign manual of the famous Chicago boodler, who finds Canada is a much more congenial climate than that below the border line.

The only and greatest McGarigle has a wide reputation and his second advent in Toronto created no small amount of interest. In palmy days he was the warden of Cook County Hospital, an immense public charity in Chicago at that time charges of boodling were rife and it came to pass that McGarigle and another hospital officer were arrested, tried and convicted on the charge of having connived with contractors, whereby they muchly enriched themselves. Both were sentenced to two years at Joliet, the State Prison, and McGarigle's pal went there. McGarigle was placed in charge of Sheriff Matson, who allowed him to call at his house before going to Joliet. At the house the ex-warden asked to be allowed to go to the bathroom, and the permission was granted. By the assistance of his wife he escaped through the window and left the sheriff in the soup. This was in November, 1887.

McGarigle's friends were assisting him and he was put aboard the Canadian schooner "Edward Blake," which sailed down the lakes through the fierce winter gales. When it was too late the authorities got onto the game and followed in a steamer, but McGarigle was beyond the power of the United States law. At Port Huron the Edward Blake was boarded, but the game, which throughout the whole voyage had kept secluded, his identity being unknown even to the captain, was gone. He had quietly got into a row boat and was rowed to the Canadian shore. He located for some time near St. Catharines, where he had friends, afterwards visited Montreal and then went to Banff, that delightful Northwest resort, where he has spent many pleasant months.

Mr. McGarigle left Banff a week ago and Winnipeg three days ago. The C.P.R. train from North Bay that reached the Union Station early on Saturday morning had Mr. McGarigle for one of its passengers. He drove to the residence of some friends in Berkeley-street and later came down town and registered at the Rossin House, being assigned to room No. 161. He was in fine health and good spirits and cordially greeted the few friends he met. While not caring to say much to outsiders about his Chicago affairs he admitted that he would like to have matters settled so that he might go back to Chicago. Asked about the bill which Dr. Weldon, M.P., has before the Dominion Parliament to authorize the mutual exchange of Canadian and American boodlers he said he had no fear as regards himself. While it was proposed that the measure should be retroactive he believed that this clause will be struck out. He will probably visit Ottawa this week.

Mr. McGarigle was in the Rossin House but for a few hours yesterday. He slept there Saturday night and dined there, but the rest of the day was spent with friends outside. He did not return to the Rossin till 1.30 this morning.

PLAYING COWBOY.

Serious Shooting Accident in a Winnipeg Hotel—Poison in the Tea Pot.

WINNIPEG, March 24.—W. H. Evans was accidentally shot in a bedroom of the new Douglas House this afternoon by his companion Harker. The bullet entered Evans' cheek bone below the eye and lodged near the ear, making a dangerous and perhaps fatal wound. Both young men recently arrived from England. Evans is a son of a prominent surveyor of Liverpool and Harker is a son of a minister of Bolton, Eng. Harker was playing cowboy when the accident occurred.

Meredith, a tea merchant, and his wife and child were poisoned by acid from solder in a tea pot. All are in a fair way of recovery.

A Petticoat Bank Robbed.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 24.—John Morris refused to put the saving of a life time $1255, in a bank, as he thought it would not be safe, and he and his wife sewed the money in her petticoat. Saturday night three masked men entered his wife's room, gagged her, stole the petticoat from under her pillow and escaped. Wm. Standish has been arrested and Mrs. Morris identified him as one of the thieves.

A Train Captured by Tramps.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 24. A large party of tramps boarded a freight train on the Pittsburg and Lake Erie Railroad near Alliquippa last night, and for five hours held the train, refusing to allow the crew to move it unless permitted to ride on it. A telegram was sent to Pittsburg for assistance and a special train with officers was sent to the rescue. Twelve tramps were arrested but a large number escaped.

The Northern Pacific's Acquisition.

PHILADELPHIA, March 24. The Inquirer states that a well known railroad man said to-day that the Northern Pacific Railway has secured control of the Wisconsin Central, and through it an entrance to Chicago. The directors will meet in New York Wednesday to formally approve the lease, but the company is already in practical control of the Wisconsin Central.

Killed on the Railway Track.

RIDGETOWN, March 23. Mr. Duncan Gillies, an old resident of this county, was struck by an east bound Michigan Central freight train here last night and instantly killed. He has a son traveling for a Toronto wholesale house. The cause of the accident is not definitely known.

A Mystery Cleared Up.

CUMBERLAND, Md., March 24.—In a cave on the western side of Bear's Mountain, Daniel Schram yesterday found a human skeleton. It proved to be the remains of John Hodel, an inventor of this city, who seven years ago left home while despondent and had not since been heard from. A bottle found in the cave had contained hydrochloric acid.

FIRE IN THE CITADEL.

The Royal Artillery Barracks at Halifax Burnt.

HALIFAX, March 24.—The Royal Artillery barracks inside the citadel fort were destroyed by fire last night and a large part of the city had a narrow escape from destruction owing to the close proximity of two large powder magazines. The barracks consisted of an immense three-story wooden structure, which was reduced to ruins in three hours. The conflagration is at present said to have been started by the upsetting of a stove on the second story, but nothing definite is to be learned on this point. The barracks afforded accommodation for between 200 and 300 artillerymen. Very little was got out of the building. The loss will amount to several thousand dollars.

The Oshawa S. S. Controversy.

OSHAWA, March 24.—The Catholic Church here was crowded with Catholics and Protestants to-day to hear Vicar-General Rooney of Toronto preach. During his sermon he referred to the Oshawa Separate School trouble and hoped it would be immediately settled in a friendly way. At the conclusion of his sermon he announced that the women could go home while the men were to remain, but what took place then is not known, although some were heard to say that they were not to support the Separate School. The contending parties have called a meeting for to-morrow night which in all probability will be a strong one.

Count Montercole Will Travel.

NEW YORK, March 24.—"Count" Montercole, whose marriage to Miss Knox of Pittsburg created so much comment, sailed yesterday on the steamer Rotterdam under the name of Ernesto De Meyers. He engaged his passage only an hour before the steamer sailed. Before embarking he confided to an acquaintance the information that he intended to spend the next three years in travel abroad. His "little misunderstanding" with his wife, he said, had been satisfactorily settled by the intercession of his mother-in-law and brother-in-law.

THE ASSEMBLY CLOSED.

ONTARIO'S LAWMAKERS RETURN TO THEIR HOMES.

Sir Alexander Approves of the Bills Passed at This Session and Reads the Customary Speech.

TORONTO, March 25.—At 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor appeared at the Parliament Building attended by "C" Company Infantry School. Sir Alexander gave assent in Her Majesty's name to the bills passed during the session and read this speech:

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

In bringing to a close another session of the Legislative Assembly, I desire to recognize the earnestness and zeal with which you have devoted yourselves to the work of legislation.

The measure which you have adopted for developing the unsettled portions of the Province by means of Colonization Railways meets with my hearty approval. I am glad to believe that the revenues accruing from the opening up of the mineral and other lands through which the projected railways will pass, and the profits to be derived from the sale of certain classes of timber not at present marketable, will alone reimburse to the Provincial Treasury the expenditure to be incurred in carrying into effect the policy which has received your sanction.

I am glad to give my assent to the bill for creating the new electoral district of Nipissing. The large territory embraced in that district, and the new settlements springing up within its borders, entitle the district to a voice in the Legislative Assembly, the effect will doubtless be to direct public attention more fully than before to this important section of the Province.

The measure which you have passed for affording an expeditious and simple remedy for determining the claims of settlers in the new districts for damages to their lands by flooding will, I trust, materially aid in accomplishing the object desired.

By the Voters' Lists Act and the Franchise Assessment Act you have afforded increased facilities for enabling every qualified elector to have his name placed upon the assessment roll and voters' list.

The important amendments made to the Shops Regulation Act, the Factory Act and the Workmen's Injuries Act will, I feel assured, be appreciated by all those who are concerned in the beneficial operation of these laws.

I am much gratified with the measures you have adopted for the improvement of the Pharmacy Act; the act respecting the study of anatomy and the Free Libraries Act. Each of these acts deals with important educational interests, and the amendments you have made cannot fail to exercise a salutary effect upon the special departments to which they respectively relate.

I have assented with pleasure to the bills you have submitted to me for the further improvement of our Municipal and Assessment Laws.

I thank you for the liberal appropriations which you have made for the public service. The supplies which you voted will be expended with prudence and in the public interest.

The Provincial Secretary stepped up to the Throne and said: It is His Honor's will and pleasure that this Legislative Assembly be prorogued; and this Legislative Assembly is accordingly prorogued.

Then the band outside played once more, the few interested spectators departed and the Chamber closed for 1889.

COUNT BISMARCK'S VISIT.

His Visit to London Gives Rise to Much Political Speculation.

BERLIN, March 24.—Count Herbert Bismarck's visit to England following so closely upon that of Sir Edward Malet, the British Ambassador, has given rise to all kinds of political speculations. The rumors that England is about to join the triple alliance may however be dismissed summarily, as may also the statement of the official press that the Count is merely making a holiday visit. The fact is that the visit has a double object, the most important part of which is the arrangement of details for the Emperor's visit to England during the coming summer and to ascertain the wishes of Queen Victoria as to whether the visit shall be merely of a domestic nature or shall partake of a state character. If it is to be the latter Prince Bismarck is anxious to arrange imposing accompaniments. It is even stated in some quarters that the Chancellor himself will attend the Emperor, but this is doubtful. During the past week Count Herbert has had a series of long interviews with the Emperor at which the matter of his Majesty's visit was fully discussed.

In the second place Count Herbert will take the opportunity to discuss with Lord Salisbury colonial matters effecting the two nations. It is not improbable that some kind of an agreement will be arrived at embodying the principles of a future colonial policy where British and German interests come in contact. The Boersen Zeitung says that Count Herbert Bismarck will endeavor to bring the differing colonial views of England and Germany into harmony. It instances the South Sea Islands, where difficulty has arisen through British annexation of the Herveys, which there is reason to believe Germany regards as contrary to treaty, and adds: "Count Herbert will endeavor to arrive at an understanding on the Samoan question, to which Lord Salisbury has shown himself disposed, and will aim to conclude an agreement in respect to East and West Africa. It is believed in some quarters that England's dispute with Morocco will also come under discussion."

The Post announces that the Samoan conference will be postponed probably until the beginning of May. This may be regarded as indicating a desire to await the outcome of Bismarck's mission. Prince Bismarck's reprimand of Dr. Knappe is much commented on. The Freisinnige Zeitung points out that Dr. Knappe was really driven into a state of furor consularis by Herbert Bismarck's dispatch of Jan. 8, instructing him to effect the necessary reprisals against the rebels, who he said by attacking had brought about a state of war.

The seizure by the police authorities of The Volks Zeitung has created a great sensation, and a legal decision upon the right of the police to suppress the paper is awaited with interest. Even the National Liberal press have not a word to say in defence of what is generally rated as a rash and imprudent proceeding on the part of the police, while the feelings of the Liberal papers are shown by a paragraph in The Freisinnige Zeitung entitled, "Fearless and Enduring," and advising steadfastness under threatened reactionary measures of the Government which look like a return to the times of King Frederick William. The editor of The Volks Zeitung has addressed a letter to the papers denying any relations with the Socialists. An article in The North German Gazette hinting at increased strictness of the press laws is little relished by Liberal journals. Several of last night's papers state that the Prussian Government has already submitted to the Landtag a proposal for amending the provisions of the penal code and press laws.

A Strasburg letter to The Cologne Gazette states that the Government has resolved upon a stricter measure for the Germanization of the provinces—the dismissing of schoolmasters and tutors unable to teach the German language and replacing them partly by Alsatians and partly by Germans.

A scandal has been caused by the bringing of serious charges against Dr. Wehr, a member of the West Prussian Diet, and formerly president of the permanent committee of that body. Dr. Wehr is officially charged with the fraudulent appropriation of 164,000 marks which had been voted by the committee for certain works. He will probably be compelled to resign.

The inauguration of the Bismarck-Moltke monument has been fixed for March 31.

THE MASCULINE MEETING

THE EVANGELISTS TALK TO AN IMMENSE GATHERING OF MEN.

The Meeting in St. Paul's—The Sins of Men—What we will do in Heaven—The Strivings of the Spirit—Notes.

It was announced that the evangelists would both be in the Baptist Church yesterday morning but this arrangement was not carried out. Rev. Mr. Crossley was in George-st. and Rev. Mr. Hunter was in the pulpit at the Baptist Church.

For Men Only.

In the afternoon the Opera House was packed with men to its greatest capacity. It was an immense gathering, and, as Rev. Mr. Hunter remarked, there was no doubt many of them felt more at home in the Opera House than they would have in a church. The house was filled body and gallery, and the stage was also crowded with an audience composed entirely of men, young and old, of all classes and trades, merchants, laborers, mechanics and professional men. On the platform with the evangelists were Rev. B. J. Shorey, Rev. Mr. Browning, of Belleville, Rev. Mr. McMullen, of Picton, and Messrs. R. Winch and C. Lawes, of Cobourg.

The singing, despite the absence of the ladies, was good and inspiring—the entire audience joining heartily in the opening hymns—"Rescue the perishing" and "Ring the bells of Heaven." Rev. Mr. Crossley sang "Don't go near the bar-room brother" in a touching and expressive manner.

SINS OF MEN.

Rev. Mr. Crossley first addressed the masculine assemblage. He took for the text of his address the words:—

"The wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life."—Romans vi; 23.

The rev. gentleman said there were various sins which women were not so much addicted to as men and he wanted to speak of several of these sins which led to death. The first was idleness and the rev. gentleman pointed out that this would lead to death. He asked if they had ever noticed that the sons of rich men seldom amounted to a hill of beans or that the son of a great man seldom was worth two rows of pins. He accounted for this because these young men lived in idleness and depended on their fathers for their riches and reputation. The great men, as they all knew were in most cases the sons of mechanics or farmers. Why was this? Because the mechanic's or farmer's son was brought up to work for himself, and he told them if they were going to amount to anything as men they must develop themselves, mentally and otherwise, by exercise. He next spoke of the sin of swearing and said no gentleman would swear or no boy who was not low. He pointed out how foolish and wicked the habit was and said Sam Jones had said a man who would swear would steal. He did not believe that, but he said they might better steal than swear, and he urged all those who were swearers to give up the habit and blaspheme no more. He then talked plainly and earnestly to the licentious and closed by dwelling on the sin of neglecting such a great salvation as was offered.

HABITS OF MEN.

Rev. Mr. Hunter, after another hymn had been sung, opened by speaking of the services that were being held in town and of the great work that was being accomplished, and said he was not going to give a sermon, but if he was asked for a text he would choose the words "Run, speak to that young man." There were certain reasons why he would run and speak to the young men. One was that the young men were forming habits which would prove a blessing or curse to them in after years. There was the habit of smoking and of drinking, but he specially impressed upon them the enormity of the habit of neglect. Another reason why he would speak to them was because they had a soul. The rev. gentleman said he would also run and speak to the swearer—the man who was blaspheming God's name. He had never uttered an oath in his life and Mr. Crossley had only sworn once and that was when he was a boy. After speaking earnestly to the swearer he passed on to say a few earnest words to the young man who was inclined to be skeptical in his thought. He warned them of the awfulness of this sin and told them when they got into the seat of the sinner or scoffer there was little hope for them. He next spoke to the young man who was tampering with strong drink and was specially emphatic on the dangerous custom of treating. In closing he dropped an earnest word to those who were neglecting the Lord's salvation.

After a short prayer by Rev. Mr. Browning he asked all those who wanted to be prayed for to stand and several rose in response to the call.

Mr. Fred Winch then in a few words told of his happiness and peace since he had experience conversion and appealed to the men present to come and cast their burden on the Lord.

The meeting then dispersed.

The Evening Service.

St Paul's church was filled beyond its seating capacity by half past six last evening, but nevertheless those who were unable to secure seats stood the service out—nearly two hours—apparently contentedly.

After the opening, Rev. Mr. Crossley sang a beautiful solo "Come Unto Me," and while the collection was being taken up the choir rendered the anthem "Some Sweet Day."

SUNDAY RELIGION.

Rev. Mr. Hunter said when they looked into the faces of such immense audiences night after night, they could not help but think how great was the attraction in the Gospel. He wanted them to come to the meetings every night, for some of them were trying to get to Heaven on a Sunday night religion. He said some were objecting to the revivals but he wanted these persons to look at the company they were in—the scoffers, the saloon keepers and sinners of all kinds who were against the Lord Jesus Christ.

IN HEAVEN.

After the singing of another hymn, Rev. Mr. Hunter read as the evening lesson part of the twenty-second chapter of Revelations, and commented thereon. He said he did not think of Heaven as an inactive place, where he would sit down on the banks of the river and sing and praise all the time. He expected to go off and explore. There were other worlds he knew not of and he believed they would go and visit these. He had always regretted that he had never heard John Knox, or John Wesley, or Martin Luther, or the silver-tongued Bishop Simpson or Punchson, but he expected to hear them all in Heaven. When he came to the verse "He that is unjust let him be unjust still, he that is filthy let him be filthy still, and he that is righteous let him be righteous still, and he that is holy let him be holy still," the evangelist asked what were Universalists going to do with this passage? These people thought that they could sit down here in their cushioned arm chair and the angels would come and carry them to one of the best seats in Heaven, but this verse did not teach this. Some thought if they could only squeeze through the gates of Heaven they would be all right, but he wanted to tell them they would have to be fitted for Heaven, or how could they enjoy it.

Rev. Mr. Crossley then sang "Nearer My Lord to thee," as a solo, and then Rev. Mr. Hunter asked for the prayers of all Christians for a number of special requests and also prayed specially for the aged persons present.

THE STRIVING OF THE SPIRIT.

Rev. Mr. Crossley said his text for the evening was not encouraging to the unsaved, but was intended to arouse them from their state of lethargy. It was:

"My Spirit shall not always strive with man."—Genesis vi, 3.

The rev. gentleman said God's spirit was striving with the human family in various ways—through the Word, or through a mother or wife, or by the removal of friends by death, or when disaster occurred. He said there was not a person present who had not been striven with by the Spirit. He asked those who denied the strivings of the Spirit how they were going to account for their uneasy minds and desires, unless by the striving of the Spirit. Some did not comprehend the strivings of the Spirit because they had not the feelings that others had, but he told them that it was not a power that took hold of them physically, but one that spoke to the spirit or conscience. He learned from the text that every unsaved one had the power of resistance, for if there was no resistance there could be no striving. He wished to impress upon them the fact that every unsaved person possessed the terrible veto power, and that was the reason they were still unsaved in spite of a mother's prayers or a pastor's appeal or the Spirit's striving. The speaker then referred to the various persons who resisted the Lord—the church members, backsliders, moralists, regular attendants at church, skeptics, sinners, the young men and women and the procrastinators. Then the question came what were the results or inevitable consequences of this resistance. These he pointed out would be spiritual blindness, spiritual deafness, increased power of resistance and apathy. Then they might ask what would be the ultimate result of resistance. The text told them—the spirit would leave a man. They could not tell when they would arrive at that state, but when they did ministers would let them alone, friends would not pray for them and the Spirit would cease to strive with them. What would be the result if the Spirit left a man? His doom was sealed, his spiritual preception was forever gone, which was worse than physical death—the death of the spirit. Then the question came when did God leave anybody? Was there any arbitrariness on His part? No, there was nothing arbitrary, but He never left until He saw no further hope of that individual ever turning, or until there was not the slightest probability of the person ever being moved. This withdrawal of the Spirit was merciful on God's part, for the continuance of the striving would only increase their condemnation in the future world. He urged them to act upon their feelings and come and seek salvation that night and closed by dwelling on the thought of eternity, and finished his discourse by singing most feelingly the hymn "Eternity Where?

Rev. Mr. Hunter then spoke of eternity and where they would spend it, and exhorted the unsaved to settle the question that night.

In the after meeting a large number of seekers went into the enquiry room.

NOTES.

Rev. Mr. Hunter said last night that there had been 555 names of seekers taken since the services had commenced here.

Rev. Mr. Crossley announced that tonight he would sing a new song, "The Garden of Prayer," and by request, "Papa, what will you take for Me," at tonight's meeting.

The services will be continued in St. Paul's Church this week.

Mr. Richard Winch, of Cobourg, will give his experience at Tuesday night's meeting.

There must have been nearly a thousand people turned away from St. Paul's last night.

It is remarkable how anxious people are to secure a seat at the services. Yesterday afternoon men began going into the Opera House at half past one, and in the evening there were people at St. Paul's Church at twenty-five minutes past five. They secured their seats and waited the hour and a half, doubtless thinking how true was the saying, "Patience is a virtue."

The Plate Glass trade has become an important feature in Canada. No business house would now dream of having the old sheet glass windows. Not only the design of the building is vastly improved, but the goods displayed in the windows are more inviting when plate glass is used. McCausland & Son, Toronto, supply by far the largest quantity in Canada.

New Tab on Policemen.

"Never knew a patrolman to be around when wanted," was the remark some one was heard to make.

Superintendent Kleinsteuber, of the police alarm telegraph, has just patented an invention which he claims will find a policeman when wanted. The invention includes an electrical clock apparatus, and the machine is to be put on the lamp post over and connected with the police patrol box. The invention is such as to work night and day and is operated entirely by an electric button in the electric room at the police station. By touching the button in the station four "white wings" are drawn out and displayed, a signal to the officer in the vicinity that he is wanted, so that he can immediately telephone from the patrol box to the station for instructions. By night a red globe is made to rise and inclose the light of the lamp post—thus displaying a signal which can be seen several blocks away, indicating like the day signal that the officer is wanted at the telephone for instructions. Then when the officer has received his orders the same button in the central station is touched and the apparatus resumes its original place.

While the invention might be a valuable addition to the police alarm system, it is intended to be more applicable to railroads, where it can be made to work automatically and indicate a misplaced switch either by day or by night, the signal to be so plain as to give an engineer plenty of opportunity to stop his engine in time to avoid an accident. Even should the switch be purposely misplaced and the wires to the signal be tampered with, the signal, which it is intended to erect on high poles out of any one's reach, would immediately show that the wires had been cut.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Stealing a Trade.

We have all heard of "the little black eyed rebel" who, by dint of a kiss and certain coquettish glances "from the corner of her eye," succeeded in carrying important dispatches in the enemy's very face. She is not the only patriotic girl who has made coquetry do military duty. In Margaret Sidney's "Old Concord" is the following story of Millicent Barrett, who lived in that historic town in the revolutionary days:

Milly, being young and pretty, had learned how to coquet, and while on a visit to Cambridge had captivated the hearts of some British soldiers. Especially did she fascinate one of the officers, and, woman like, used to tease him to tell her how they managed their military affairs, and how they made their cartridges.

He, man like, explained the process, but told Milly that if it were known in England that he had given her the secret, he should, on his return, lose his head—as though he had not already lost it!

After the eventful 19th of April, Milly went home to her father's house, and at once proceeded to use her newly acquired knowledge. She gathered all her mates about her and told them the secret; then busily the young fingers flew, forming after the directions given by the Englishman the cartridges that were to save her brave countrymen. The scissors that she used have been given to the Concord library by a cousin of the heroine.—Youth's Companion.

The Talk of the Town

The people are wondering why Elliott & Tierney are giving 13 lbs. bright sugar for $1, and selling teas and other goods so much cheaper than any house in Peterborough. Call at the Palace Grocery and examine the goods, which will convince you. The "Palace" is the place to get best values. Great stock-taking sale now going on.

How Strange it is

To see people starting at the head of George-st., passing all the grocery houses on the street, merely giving them the go by, and coming to a halt at the Opera House Block to secure some of W. J. For the next few years we will sell goods away below other houses, so you can always rely on buying goods cheaper from us than elsewhere. Watch for our Saturday bargains and be sure to call.

Found Dead in Bed

Mr. Daniel Houlehan, who resides with his family on Donegal-st. died very suddenly some time Sunday morning. Yesterday morning about six o'clock when one of the members of the family went into his bedroom they found the old gentleman stiff and cold in death. The deceased was 55 years of age and retired on Saturday night in his usual health. Dr. Bell, coroner, was notified of the circumstances of the death, but did not consider an inquest necessary. The cause assigned for the sudden demise is heart disease.

CAPTURED at last—a large stock of splendid tea. 5lbs. for $1 at M. R. KIDD'S. d66

How is It,

is the general remark passed by people when they call on W. J. Morrow, you sell cheaper than others. Why your 18 pound Sugar for $1.00 is so much lighter, and really your 25 cent Tea equal to tea I pay 35 cents for elsewhere? Pay no attention to those who are becoming jealous of the extensive trade, offering you inducements only as a catch, but come to us, as you have done in the past, and secure the very finest of goods at the lowest prices, and be convinced that we are the only cheap house in town. Bear in mind we always have something special for Saturdays.

A Grey-Haired Vagrant.

"Bobbie" Burns, the grey-haired old man who was up about a week ago charged with being a vagrant but who promised to take the first train for Millbrook, was arrested again on Saturday night. At the Police Court this morning Bobbie said he was willing to work and would have gone to Millbrook but the walking was so bad he could not get away. "Are you a good gardner?" asked the Magistrate. "Yes, I know all about it," replied Bobbie. "Well, I will give you a month and you can fix the garden at the gaol," remarked the Magistrate. Bobbie was sorry that he had spoken.

A Trio of Drunks.

There was a batch of three drunks on the prisoner's bench at the Police Court this morning. Patrick Kane was an old man who had been arrested not for being disorderly, but just because he had been on a quiet little drunk and got a little too far gone. He was fined $2 and was given a week to pay it in. James Cash was the name of drunk number two, and Jimmy is no stranger. "What, you here again, Jimmy Cash?" asked the magistrate, "Is this the same old drunk?" Jimmy pleaded his own case and he usually does it successfully. This morning he was fined $2 or ten days, and after a little supplicating the magistrate gave him a week in which to find the money. John Snellgrove was the third artist who had been painting the town. He was a stranger from Toronto and expected to get work at once, so he was allowed to go.

THE SCOTT ACT CAMPAIGN

TWO PUBLIC MEETINGS HELD ON SATURDAY.

Rev. Mr. Pearson Deals with Some Anti-Arguments Rev. Mr. Crossley Speaks and Sings Rev. Mr. Browning, of Belleville, Gives an Emphatic Address—Some Questions Answered.

There was a fair audience of farmers at the meeting held in the Opera House on Saturday afternoon by the friends of the Scott Act. Dr. Fife occupied the chair and, after an opening prayer, he made a few remarks in which he spoke of the recent amendment to the license law by which the Government will claim half of the license fees over the sum of $200 and pointed out that this would still further decrease the revenue of the town were the Scott Act repealed, and so nail the argument of the antis that the Scott Act reduced the revenue of municipalities.

DEALING WITH ANTI ARGUMENTS.

Rev. M. L. PEARSON was the first speaker. The rev. gentleman in opening spoke of the financial aspect of the question, and said that from this standpoint in the Town of Peterborough a larger amount of money was deriveable under the Scott Act than under the license law, and pointed out that now the bill of the Ontario Government would add $2,200 more to the taxes of the people if the Scott Act were repealed. He then referred to an article which had appeared in that morning's edition of the Times in which the editor had given some reasons why the Scott Act should be repealed. He then proceeded to refer to the article statement by statement. It first said "do not be misled by erroneous statements of paid talkers." He was confident there was not a paid speaker for the Act in this county. He had never received a dollar, nor had any others in this county. Then the article asked if they "could point to one man who by reason of the Scott Act, has abandoned drink?" Mr. Pearson said there were many men who had formerly drank, but were two honorable to violate a law of their country and had stopped drinking. He could furnish the names of quite a number who had given up the habit since the Act came in force. Then it said that $2,000 a year had to be paid a magistrate. The magistrate, he argued, had to be paid any way and did not receive anything extra on account of Scott Act work. Then the article said that $2,600 had been paid a year to lawyers to prosecute. This Mr. Pearson wanted the Times to prove. Then it said that there had been "a large number of cases of imprisonment for non-payment of Scott Act fines." The speaker did not think there had been enough men imprisoned, but he wanted the editor to give the names of a large number. Then it said there was "no stoppage in the sale of liquor." The sale had not been stopped but lessened. The speaker then read from a Victoria newspaper which gave the official figures in reference to convictions before and after the Scott Act. Since the Scott Act came into force in Ontario county, in one year there had been 77 indictable offences, while, before the Act, the offences had numbered 186. The offences which came up summarily before the Act was 420, while since the Act was in force they had only numbered 262. These were figures supplied by the Crown Attorney of Ontario County. He then spoke of the reduction of the consumption of liquor where a prohibitory law was in force. In British Columbia, where they had a license law, the consumption had been 8¾ gallons per capita, while in Prince Edward Island, where a Prohibitory law prevailed, the consumption was only ½ a gallon per head, and in Ontario, where it was part prohibitory and part license, the consumption was 3½ gallons per head. He then proceeded with the reasons given by the Times why the Scott Act should be repealed. It said that the Act had been the cause of the "opening up of drinking dives in lanes and back streets." He did not know where they were and asked the editor to give the names and locality of these places. Then it said that there had been a "removal of all control over hotels." The authorities had power to search any hotel for liquor and he asked what arrangement was made for the control of the stores or private houses. The rev. gentleman also denied that there was fifty times more perjury now than before and said he must be a man with a heart of brass who would lead a man to committ perjury and then turn around and ask them to vote for a repeal because they had led men to commit such a crime. The Times also said that a new crime had been created, but he said that it was no new crime to sell liquor contrary to law. The last statement he spoke of was that the Act had put money into the pockets of a few. He held the money had gone into the treasuries of the municipalities and showed it by figures. In closing Rev. Mr. Pearson said he believed they were going to carry the Act by a larger majority than before.

Rev. Mr. CROSSLEY was the second speaker and made a brief address in which he said that in Oakville he had seen more drunkenness after the repeal of the Scott Act than he had ever witnessed before in a small town. At the close of his address he sang the hymn "Don't go near the bar, brother."

Rev. A. C. WILSON then, in a forcible and eloquent address, spoke of the evils of intemperance and speaking of the Scott Act he said he believed that if the Act was carried again that it would be enforced a great deal better.

At the close of the meeting a collection was taken up to pay for the hall.

The Evening Meeting.

In the evening there was a good audience in the Opera House again. Dr. Fife was in the chair and on the platform were seated Revs. M. L. Pearson and A. C. Wilson, of town, and Rev. Mr. Browning, of Belleville.

The Chairman, after a few opening remarks, threw the meeting open for any of the audience to ask any questions bearing on the Scott Act which they might wish.

LAYING INFORMATIONS.

One gentleman said he knew of a place where liquor was sold until two o'clock in the morning, and he asked who should lay the information against such a place.

Dr. FIFE explained the manner of laying an information, and said that the Inspector was paid for doing this work, but for some reason did not do his duty, and the Town Council would not use their influence with the police, who could enforce the Act if the Council gave them an order to that effect.

The same gentleman then asked if he or any other private individual could follow up any case.

Dr. FIFE replied and said if he knew of such a special case he could lay the information.

Rev. Mr. PEARSON spoke in reference to the enforcement of the Act, and said he believed that if the Act was sustained it would be enforced in a more satisfactory manner by the authorities. He said he and every other elector was under an obligation to enter a complaint if they knew of circumstances that would lead to a conviction.

DRUNKENNESS DECREASING.

The gentleman from the audience said that it was said that there was more drinking now on Saturday night than there had been before the Act, but he could say, to his shame, that under the license law he had spent Saturday night and part of Sunday in saloons drinking, so that it was done before the Act was adopted, he thought, more than at present.

Rev. Mr. PEARSON said at the meeting of the District Conference the ministers and lay delegates had been asked their opinion as to whether drinking was on the decrease or not in places where the Scott Act was in force, and the unanimous verdict had been that drunkenness was on the decrease. He said that when there was a license law people expected to see drunken men, but under a prohibitory law it was more observable, because not expected.

Rev. Mr. BROWNING said that in Port Hope the figures showed that under the Scott Act drunkenness was on the decrease, for in the last year of the license law there were 169 arrests for drunkenness, while under the Scott Act there had only been 14 in a year.

Dr. FIFE said that the use of liquor must be less under the Scott Act, for the inland revenue returns under license showed the revenue in this county to have amounted to $4,000, while under the Scott Act, with Victoria and Northumberland included, Mr. J. J. Hall, the present collector, had stated that the revenue had only been $2000.

AN EMPHATIC ADDRESS.

The Chairman then called upon the speaker of the evening, Rev. Mr. Browning.

The Belleville divine is below the average height, but is a very strong and emphatic speaker and is thoroughly in earnest in the temperance work. He said he had come, not as an enlightener, but because he had strong temperance convictions. His opinion was that people did not want to hear figures or technicalities, for all the temperance people knew that this liquor business was not right, and he was simply going to talk to them just to waken them up or stiffen them up for the fight. He then proceeded to deal with the so-called temperance people. First he spoke of those who would vote for prohibition but not for the Scott Act, and, after dealing with this at length and pointing out that the Act was a step towards prohibition, he went on to speak of those men who would vote for the Act if it could be kept. The speaker blamed the non-enforcement on the weak-kneed temperance people and on party politics. On the latter, he grew most eloquent and wanted the Grits and Tories to throw politics aside and take the side of temperance as they would have to before long. Then he spoke of the men who said the Scott Act was a failure anyway, and said by the same logic as these men used he could show that every man and even God Almighty had been a failure. He closed by a most forcible appeal to the sentiments of the audience to stand by the Act.

Rev. Mr. CROSSLEY then made a short address on the strange things he had seen that day and closed his interesting little speech by singing, very beautifully, the hymn "Only Remembered by what you have Done."

The announcement was made that Mr. F. S. Spence and Mr. J. J. McLaren, Q.C., two of the leading temperance orators of Toronto, would be here on Saturday and Sunday next to address meetings, and Rev. Mr. Pearson said they would pay the expenses of any man whom the opponents of the Act might wish to bring here to defend their cause against these two giants of the temperance party.

The meeting closed with "God Save the Queen."

Stallion Owners Meet.

At the adjourned meeting of stallion owners held on Saturday afternoon at the Balmoral Hotel, nothing was done in reference to changing the rules governing owners, and things will remain the same as they were last season.

A Big Consignment.

Messrs. Lee & Thompson have received a car load of wall paper, and from the large and excellent stock they have on hand will be able to suit anyone. The consignment includes a great variety of pretty and elegant patterns and paper of the most enduring quality.

Idlers And Strangers.

A meeting of the Idlers and Strangers of the George-st. Methodist Church will be held in the Y.M.C.A. rooms to-morrow (Tuesday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock sharp. All the members of the church who have not taken any part in church work are requested to be present as this will likely be the last general meeting before Good Friday.

For the new Lodge Room.

A number of the brethren of the Sons of England have by subscription amongst themselves, purchased the excellent portrait of Lord Beaconsfield which was on exhibition in Clegg's furniture store. The face of England's great Prime Minister will adorn the walls of the new lodge room of the brethren which is to be fitted up in the Muckleson block.

Earnest Workers.

Every evening last week an open air service was held on the market square by Messrs. McClure and Telfer, of Glasgow, two earnest evangelists, who have been brought to Peterborough extensively through the efforts of Mr. G. B. Sproule. After a short service on the square a meeting is held in the Gospel Hall, corner of George and Simcoe-sts., and earnest addresses are made and the Scriptures expounded. Services were held yesterday afternoon and evening. Surely good results should follow such an evangelistic wave such as Peterborough is experiencing at present.

Lacrosse Organization.

The season for our national game is now almost here and there is no reason why Peterborough should not be heard from on the lacrosse field this season as she has in years past. Last summer the Riversides succeeded in carrying off the Association banner, although there was a little unpleasantness before the club succeeded in getting its rights. What the boys should do is to send as a representative to the Association meeting some gentleman who will stand up boldly and manfully against playing "ringers" and if the rules are made so strict that this scheme cannot be successfully carried out, there is little doubt about where the championship banner will be next year—it will remain where it is. On Thursday night next there will be a meeting of the Riverside Lacrosse Club and their friends at the Phelan House for re-organizing for the season and for the election of officers. The boys should turn out and enthuse the game this year.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

An Eloquent Sermon at George-st. by Rev. Mr. Crossley—At Charlotte-st.

Rev. A. Browning, of Belleville, occupied the Charlotte-st pulpit last evening and preached an able discourse to a good congregation.

The reason that the announcement that the evangelists would be in the Baptist church yesterday morning was not carried out, was that the ministeral association was afraid that Rev. Mr. Hunter would be too fatigued after his journey here from St. Thomas to conduct services alone, but as the rev. gentleman felt quite able to officiate alone, Rev. Mr. Crossley preached in the George-st. church.

In the George-st. church yesterday morning Rev. A. Browning, of Belleville, was present and took part in the service. The sermon was preached by the Rev. H. T. Crossley from the text "Perfect love casteth out all fear." The sermon was an admirable one, and dealt with the doctrine of perfect love. He objected to and criticized certain terms which are employed in presenting this doctrine, which he said were used in an unscriptural sense, and dealt several severe blows to cranks. He preferred the term "perfect love" in speaking of Christian perfection, as it was scriptural, easily understood and acceptable to all. During the service Mr. and Mrs. Daly sang a beautiful duet, "Jesus Lover of my Soul," the pleasing soprano of Mrs. Daly and Mr. Daly's fine voice blending beautifully.

WHY TROUSERS BAG.

A Fashionable Tailor Tells How to Prevent It Without Trouble.

A fashionable tailor up town said recently to a reporter that there was no reason why trousers should bag at the knees if the wearers would only ask for a little information.

"Do you mean to say that there is a simple and effective remedy?"

"Yes. Pressing trousers underneath the mattress of beds, having strait jacket racks to hang them up in and making them a peculiar way has nothing to do with preventing them from bagging at the knees. Some men bag their trousers more than others just as naturally as many are harder on clothing than others. There is but one way to prevent bagging, and that is to pull the trousers up a few inches over the knees whenever you sit down. This action makes the knee caps press against the cloth at a point that is below the natural standing position and there is no great pressure or strain while the wearer is seated. If the trousers were not pulled up they would have a strong pressure from the knee caps and the bag is thus made. It must be remembered, too, that the knees when walking continually press against the portions that have to stand the pressure when the wearer is seated, unless he pulls them up a few inches. By doing the latter there is no strain against the same place in walking, and the incipient bag, so to speak, is straightened out or nullified by simply having to hang in a straight line and not be the pivotal point to describe an obtuse angle at each step. Some men sit at desks all day and yet they never have their trousers bag. They pull them up every time they sit down. There are many men splendidly dressed, but if they do not have their tailors to press out their trousers every few days they bag fearfully at the knees. The reason so many countrymen are known by sharpers and bunco steerers is through the rural cut and bag of their trousers. Take any of those prominent men about town who have tailors, and they are never seen going about with baggy trousers.

"Why do I use the word trousers? I think it the proper word. Pantaloons referred originally to the clown in the pantomime, and pants is a very inelegant and inadequate term with which to designate the noble bifurcated garment. As to breeches, it is worse than either pants or pantaloons. You see I have studied up so as to be posted in every branch of my profession. A tailor may use a goose and not emulate one."—New York Mail and Express.

Red Tape in the House of Commons.

The simplicity of legislative methods in the law making bodies of both state and nation this side the Atlantic stands out prominently by comparison with the antiquated customs that still obtain across the water. A London paper consumes nearly three-quarters of a very solid column in describing how a bill is introduced in the house of commons. It seems that a member who has a bill to present must first go to the bar of the house and be recognized by the speaker. Then he must go back to the floor, stopping by the way to make three profound obeisances to the speaker. Then there is a lot more of flummery to go through, a slip in any minor detail of which brings down on the unlucky offender the jeers and derisions of his fellow members.—San Francisco Chronicle.

CHINA HALL

CHINA
AND
QUEENS WA

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate—cracked at that. Consider $24,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of silveres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $2,400 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $2,500 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

MONDAY, MARCH 25, 1889.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER

"Be quiet, old fellow," put in the doctor, soothingly. "Of course, the inspector does not suspect you, except as he suspects us all until he gets at the truth. He only warned you to say nothing that might lead to suspicions being thrown upon you. But, inspector, I suppose there would be no harm in my asking Mr. Beresford how the dumb bell came to be here?"

"Not the least, sir."

"I am sure there cannot be," said Jim, rather haughtily, "nor in anything I may say. I wish my conscience was as clear of everything as of having lifted a finger against that dear old chap. As to the dumb bells, that is simple enough. I lent mine to him weeks ago, for I've never been able to use them since I broke my collar bone last year. Capt. Owen's own are ten pounds weight, and he fancied they did him more harm than good, so he used mine for some time before we left Blankhampton."

"I can answer for that," put in Jones, who had been admitted during the examination; "and there's the other by the door there. My master always had them stand there, close by where his bath was set."

There was no doubt whatever that the dumb bell in the policeman's hand was the weapon with which the foul deed had been done, for it was dabbled with blood, to which a good many short dark hairs were still sticking.

Then the inspector, after declaring that they could do nothing further at present, locked and sealed the door and went away, leaving the sentries still on guard in the corridor.

And as I said, Beautiful Jim had enough to do—send telegrams off to headquarters and to various members of Owen's family—to be interviewed by newspaper reporters and shoals of people who flocked from all parts to learn the details of the terrible event—to carry on the work of the entire detachment and make all manner of arrangements in connection with the inquest and funeral, the like of which had happily never fallen in his way before. It was an awful time for them all; the men stood about the barrack yard in groups and the few women clustered round their doors and talked and talked it over until there was positively no light left in which they had not looked at it. The three officers, with such guests as had gathered about them, discussed the matter in the anteroom in much the same way—asking over and over again: "Who could have done it?" and "What motive could anybody have had to murder the dear old chap, who was everybody's friend, who had never been known to have an enemy in the world?"

"And he was hit from behind," Beautiful Jim wound up, bitterly, after the question had been repeated for about the fiftieth time. "That's the hardest rub of all, that old Owen, who was straightforwardness and honesty itself, should have been hit from behind. But it will all come out—mark my words, it will come home yet to the hound who did it."

"God, who is above us, grant it," said the chaplain, solemnly; "and rest assured, Mr. Beresford, that if he does not see fit to grant it in this world, the murderer will meet with his reward in the next. 'Vengeance is mine: I will repay, saith the Lord.'"

Beautiful Jim took off his cap and bared his curly head. "Amen," he said, solemnly, and one by one every man in the room followed his example, until the turn came to young Earle, who, with the slightest perceptible hesitation, took off his cap also, with a hand that shook so violently that he scarce could hold it.

"Amen!" said he, in a voice that was hardly above a whisper—and then there was a moment's dead silence, one of those solemn pauses in life's journey when we seem able to hear the very hearts of those about us beat.

It was the doctor who broke the silence. "Tommy, my lad," he said, with rough kindness, "all this terrible affair has sent your nerves to pieces. Did you have any breakfast this morning?"

Tommy shook his head, and, if possible, grew yet paler and more ghastly than before.

"I couldn't touch it," he said.

"Well, I don't suppose any of us did," the doctor returned. "I know I feel myself as if I shouldn't be able to touch food for a month. But you're such a youngster, you'll be giving way altogether if you don't eat something. Here, Simpson," addressing a man waiter who appeared at the door at that moment, "bring Mr. Earle a glass of strong brandy and water, cold, and get him a basin of good soup or beef tea as soon as possible."

The man departed, and in an incredibly short time appeared with the beef tea and brandy, whereon the doctor just stood over the lad and insisted on seeing him dispose of both.

Of course he had to do it! Doctors in general are not accustomed to stand much nonsense for a mere matter of disinclination, and it was useless for Tommy to protest that he was not hungry, that he couldn't swallow a morsel, that the brandy would be safe to go to his head, and that he would make an utter and complete fool of himself in consequence.

"Stuff and nonsense! Drink it off at once without any more argument," replied the doctor; "if you don't, I'll just get these men to help me pour it down your throat. Why, you'd better be downright drunk than look as you look this minute;" and thus pressed, Tommy did the doctor's bidding.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

ASKING FOR DISALLOWANCE.

Text of the Petition Circulated Among the Protestants of Montreal.

MONTREAL, March 24.—Copies of the following petition were furnished at the Protestant churches to-day for signature:

To His Excellency the Governor-General-in-Council:

The appeal and petition of the undersigned loyal subjects of Her Majesty residing in the Province of Quebec, made pursuant to section 93 of the British North America Act, humbly showeth, that the appellants, your petitioners, are ratepayers and electors residing in said province and form part of the Protestant minority of the population of said province.

That at the date of Confederation there were certain estates and property of the late order of Jesuits which under the provisions of the Act 19-20 Vic., cap. 54 (chapter 15 of the Consolidated Statutes of Lower Canada) formed the Lower Canada Superior Education Investment Fund, of which fund the Protestant minority of the province were entitled to a share and portion.

That the Act of the registration of the Province of Quebec, 51-52 Vic., cap. 13, intituled: "An Act respecting the settlement of the Jesuits Estates," has abolished said Lower Canada Superior Education Investment Fund and provided that the said estates and property may be applied to purposes other than those to which said fund was appropriated by said Act 19-20 Vic., cap. 54 (chapter 15 of the Consolidated Statutes of Lower Canada).

That the said act of the Legislature of the Province of Quebec, 51-52 Vic., cap. 13, has thus injuriously affected the rights of the Protestant minority by abolishing said fund.

That the Society of Jesus or order of Jesuits had not and have not any right, title or claim whatever to receive from the said Province of Quebec the sum of $400,000 granted to them by the said Act 51 and 52 Vic., cap. 13, and said act granting them that sum and also the Laprairie Common and granting $60,000 to the Protestant Committee of the Council of Public Instruction is prejudicial to the rights and interests of the Protestant minority of said Province.

That the submission of the said alleged settlement of the Jesuits Estates to the Pope of Rome, as set forth in the preamble of said Act 51 and 52 Vic., cap. 13, is unconstitutional as being contrary to the provisions of an act passed in the first year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth and declared by the Imperial Act, 14 George III., cap. 83, to have force and effect in this Province, and said unconstitutional act is prejudicial to the interests of the Protestant minority of this province.

Whereupon your petitioners hereby humbly appeal to Your Excellency-in-Council against said act of the Legislature of the Province of Quebec, 51-52 Vic., cap. 13, and pray that Your Excellency-in-Council will be pleased to disallow said act and annul and set aside the same, and your petitioners as in duty bound will ever pray.

Father Drummond's Defence.

OTTAWA, March 24.—Father Drummond, the noted Jesuit priest from Montreal, who has been conducting a Lenten retreat at the Basilica during the past week, this evening inaugurated a week's mission at St. Patrick's. Incidentally referring to the anti-Jesuit agitation he took occasion to deny that it was a precept of the order that the end justified the means or that any unlawful means, even a lie, was countenanced for the achievement of any end. He announced that he would to-morrow evening answer fully an attack made upon the Jesuit order and upon him personally by Rev. J. J. Roy, an Anglican clergyman of Winnipeg, in a pamphlet just issued.

DESPERATE BURGLARS.

A Hamiltonian Shot at by Midnight Prowlers—Suicide of Wm. Cook.

HAMILTON, March 24.—About 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning there was considerable excitement in Oxford-street, the residents in that quiet part of the city being startled and roused from their slumbers by a woman's cries for help. The cause of the commotion was a desperate attempt at burglary, which was made at the residence of Samuel G. Catchpole, 40 Oxford-street. About 2.30 o'clock Mrs. Catchpole was awakened by hearing steps coming up the stairs towards her bedroom. Seeing a light she called her husband, who got up in time to close the door in the faces of two masked men. The men tried to force Catchpole back and succeeded in getting the door partly open. The intruders fought desperately to get in, but Catchpole was equally determined and kept them out. They became angered at being baffled, and one of the men pulled a revolver and fired a shot through the panel of the door. The bullet grazed Catchpole's head and entered the wall on the other side of the room. In the meantime Mrs. Catchpole had lifted the window and called for help. Her screams scared the burglars away. The crooks first broke into Catchpole's shop and took out a brace and bit. Then they bored nine holes in the kitchen door and took out a piece large enough to put a hand through and unlock the door. Not being able to find anything downstairs they made their effort to get into the bedroom. The men were of medium height and were both masked. Nothing was stolen out of the house.

Wm. Cook, who for many years has been caretaker of the James-street market and who lived at 126 Hunter-street west, cut his throat with a penknife at noon yesterday and died twenty minutes afterwards. Mr. Cook was about 60 years old.

A writ has been issued against Thomas O'Callaghan, a wealthy London gentleman, claiming $25,000 damages for breach of promise on behalf of Miss Myra Hurrell of Gore-street, Hamilton. The plaintiff is a pretty young type-writer and formerly lived in Guelph. She came to this city to live with her uncle some years ago, and since that Mr. O'Callaghan has been paying attention to her, and, she claims, promised to marry her. R. W. Witherspoon of this city is acting for Miss Hurrell.

A Brace of Duels.

PARIS, March 24.—M. de Loulay and Gerault Richard fought a duel to-day. The former was slightly wounded in three places. M. Richard had attacked M. de Loulay in a newspaper article charging him with plagiarising a work of M. Duquel.

ROME, March 24.—In a duel with swords to-day Deputy Cavalotte slightly wounded Signor Corvese, Under Secretary of the War Department. The trouble grew out of a personal dispute.

Foreign Lotteries Barred Out.

VIENNA, March 24.—The lower house of the Reichsrath yesterday adopted a bill prohibiting the sale of foreign lottery tickets in Austria, the Finance Minister declaring that the fears that such action would give offence to Greece were unfounded.

The New Inman Liner.

LIVERPOOL, March 24.—The new steamer, City of Paris, built by Thomson of Clyde bank for the Inman Steamship Company, arrived here yesterday. She ran at an average speed of 21 knots per hour in the face of a strong wind and an adverse tide.

After the U. S. Consulate at Toronto.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—William Henry Harrison Webster of Buffalo was presented to Mr. Blaine yesterday by Congressman Farquhar, who filed his papers for the consulate at Toronto.

C. E. Chomley of Niagara Falls arrived last night. He wants to consul at Clifton, Ont.

A Gold Find in Montana.

HELENA, Mont., March 24.—Placer gold is said to have been discovered in the bluffs on the Missouri River opposite Townsend. Nearly everybody in Townsend has staked off a claim.

Murder in Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 24.—Buddy Lee, a colored peddler, was shot in the mouth and killed early this morning by Charles Allen, also colored. The murder occurred in Yellow Row, a disreputable house, and was unprovoked. Allen was intoxicated and imagined Lee had insulted his wife.

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Are you made miserable by Indigestion Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite Yellow Skin? Shiloh's Vitalizer is a positive cure. S. C. Wells & Co., proprietors, Le Roy, N. Y.

WE ONLY LAUGH AT THEM!

What unlimited gall for other houses to dare to compete with us. Why we have secured the trade of Town and Country, also the confidence of the people, and must and will at all times sell Goods cheaper than any house. Merchants say our expenses are so light we can sell Goods cheaper, but we say ours are large and our business massive, hence our advantage.

Look at our Tea Sales and prices, other houses try to compete in price, not quality.

Look at our prices of Sugars, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our prices of Fruits, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our extensive Country Trade, our Town Trade and surrounding Village Trade, and in but few words, we can dare other houses to compete.

DRESS GOODS, DRESS GOODS,
DRESS GOODS, DRESS GOODS,

No department in our store has received more marked attention than our Dress Goods Department. Every shelf is laden with the latest production of the English, French and German looms. They are unsurpassed for Style, Colorings, and elegance in design, and nothing has ever been seen like them for richness and cheapness. Every new weaving combination and texture just as cheap.

Our display of Silks in Printed Pongees and Chinas is unusually large.

DRESS TRIMMINGS.

We show Dress Trimmings in every conceivable design to match any coloring in Dress Goods and you will see novelties in these goods which is not shown by anyone else as they were made to our own order.

Our Dress Making Department is busier than we usually find it at this time of the year this is due to the fact that our Miss Neil's abilities in this line are abreast of the times.

SPRING
Millinery Opening
AT TURNBULL'S.

Wednesday and Thursday, March 27th and 28th. We give a cordial invitation to all and expect to see you on the above dates, to look through our magnificent Stock of Millinery and Millinery Trimmings, Mantles, Dolmans and Jackets. Light Plain Cloths and Fancy Checks for young people, Rich Brocade and Fancy Stripes for the older, with all the New Trimmings to match.

THE EVENT OF THE PAST WEEK—Has been Dress Goods and Dress Trimmings. We cannot begin to tell you how they have been admired. Sateen Cloths have been the favorites. There is an indescribable gentility about the Colors that makes you feel you would like to have a dress and wear it. The new Steel and Silk Gimps blend so perfectly. Our Bradford (England) Dress Cloths at 10 cents, are worth a corner in your Memory.

Our Prints in the windows and on the counters have been turning up their saucy, pretty faces at you as you pass by for the past two or three weeks and many a prudent mother has had her summer supply sent home already knowing she would not find the same assortment later.

During the past few weeks in the hurry and bustle of unpacking case after case of New Goods, we have neglected to call your attention to our Boys' Clothing and Tailoring Department. In fact was it necessary? Our old customers know and the public generally are finding out that our tailor is very hard to beat in a fit and we never take a side seat on prices. Our importations of Cloths from across the boiling sea have arrived, and beside side by side with their Canadian Cousins. It is hard to say which is the prettiest or best, but the Scotch have the name of making the color faster than we Canadians. We will not dispute their ability to-day. Our Tailoring Department is not what it was three years ago. It has grown amazingly, we mean it shall still grow by giving Good Goods Proper Styles and Close Prices. Our Boys' Clothing is opened out. Boys, be happy, tell your parents of the fact and have them come in and pick your suit out. We are sure we can please them with the price. In the centre of the floor stands a table loaded with a job line of laces. When we say job we mean half price or under. They are all two and three cents a yard, take your choice. You cannot buy the same goods any where else less than five cents, and most of them you will pay ten cents for. The fashion sheets (which are free) for this month have arrived. A full assortment of Domestic Patterns kept.

Remember the days of our Millinery Opening when our store will be in its holiday attire, when all the novelties of the season will be displayed.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

DECISION IN THE CARDWELL ELECTION CASE

Parkdale's Annexation—The Mail's Preparations for Defence in the Jesuits' Libel Case—A Hebrew Sensation.

TORONTO, March 26.—Decision in the Cardwell election case was given yesterday at Osgoode Hall. The judgment of Judge Street allows the original petitioner to withdraw his name as petitioner, and also to withdraw the $1000 deposited by him when filing the petition. Samuel Stubbs, the brother of the defeated candidate, is allowed to intervene. Upon depositing $1000, as required from the original petitioner, within two weeks from yesterday, Stubbs, the intervener, will be allowed the same position as the original petitioner, and may go on and prosecute the petition.

The Lieut.-Governor's assent to bills passed by the Local Legislature brought the annexation of Parkdale to Toronto into effect on Saturday afternoon. Mayor Booth, who will be one of the city aldermen, ordered a flag hoisted on the Town Hall in honor of the event.—Deputy Reeve Gowanlock, who also will be an alderman, but who opposed annexation, came along and tore it down. With the assistance of a big fireman, Booth had the flag hoisted again and it flew for the rest of the day.

It is understood that The Mail Printing Company is making preparations for its libel suit with the Jesuits wholly regardless of expense. The company will send a commission at once to France and Belgium for the purpose of arranging with prominent statesmen there to come over and give evidence touching the operations of the Jesuit Society in these countries. A distinguished Paris advocate will also be engaged to assist The Mail's counsel in Montreal and Toronto in preparing the interrogatories to be put at the trial to the heads of the Jesuit Order here.

The schooner Morning Star, Captain James Blowers, with stone from Port Credit, dropped anchor in the harbor Saturday and the Captain won the hat presented by the harbor master to the first who enters the harbor every year.

At last C. L. Van Wormer breathes the fresh air once more. Yesterday Judge McDougall delivered a judgment which set aside the County Court capias on which Van Wormer was held, and in the afternoon the ex-hotel man was liberated from jail. The Superior Court capiases were set aside some time ago by Mr. Justice Robertson.

The Police Magistrate yesterday committed James Gallagher, the ex-clergyman, as a lunatic. Charles Robinette, charged with the seduction of a girl named Freda Whittaker, was discharged, the Crown not being able to prove that he was 21 years old at the time the offence was committed.

The Ontario Veterinary College examinations began yesterday morning and will continue all this week. About 160 students are writing. The presentation of medals and prizes will take place at 11 o'clock next Friday morning. The annual examinations of the Toronto University Faculty of Medicine began yesterday in Convocation Hall, where they will all be held with the exception of two or three in the School of Science. In medicine 35 candidates are taking the first year examination, 55 the second year, 33 the third year, and 21 the fourth year. Eight students are taking the primary examinations in medicine and 24 the final. They close on Saturday, April 6. The examinations in dentistry also commenced yesterday and will conclude on Monday morning next, the final examination being held in the Royal College of Dental Surgeons, 13 Louisa-street. The arts examinations will be held about the second week in May.

The Hebrew quarter on York and Queen streets is discussing the domestic troubles of Moses Goldstein, second-hand dealer on the former thoroughfare. Detectives John Ceddy and Davis have also been investigating them, though not with any satisfactory result. According to the officers' account Goldstein has been in the habit of playfully threatening his wife's life. Goldstein came here two years ago from Rochester, where he had "bust up." The proprietor of a neighboring shop said "He's in love with some other woman; there's another girl he wants to get married to. A month ago," continued the dealer, "Mrs. Goldstein said that her husband had put her out of the house with little clothing on. Another time it was said he took a pistol and pointed it at her breast. The story also goes that a short time ago Goldstein strung a rope around his wife's neck, and whether in jest or earnest tried to lynch her."

Mrs. Annie McLatchie, who while walking on Queen-street fell down by reason of several planks being out of place, yesterday recovered a verdict of $750 against the city.

The two well known wholesale grocery firms of Smith & Keighley and Warren Brothers & Boomer are said to be in trouble with the customs authorities over a disagreement in valuation.

A public meeting was held in the Pavilion last night at which resolutions emphatically condemning the Jesuits Estates' Act were passed. Ex-Mayor Howland presided, and among the speakers were Rev. D. J. Macdonnell, Mr. J. J. Maclaren, Rev. Dr. Sutherland, Mr. John T. Small, Principal Caven and Rev. Mr. Courtice.

Seizure of [illegible].

NEW HAVEN, Ct., March 25.—Internal Revenue Collector Trowbridge yesterday seized 11,000 pounds of [illegible] at the factory of S. J. Nathan & Co. of this city. The seizure was made by order of the Washington authorities and neither the collector nor the firm understand the nature of the charges.

The [illegible] and [illegible] Committee of the Toronto Public School Board have decided to recommend the expenditure of about [illegible] in providing additional school accommodation by new buildings or enlargement. The sum named will cover a deficit in last year's accounts.

ATTACKING MR. WEBSTER.

SIR CHARLES RUSSELL RENEWS THE BATTLE.

Provisions of the New German Penal Code—Projected Negotiations Touching the Newfoundland Fisheries.

LONDON, March 25.—In the House of Commons this afternoon Sir Charles Russell, who upon rising was loudly cheered, said he desired to make a statement regarding the speech by Attorney-General Webster, Friday. He read a letter he had written to Sir Richard Webster in which he said he did not believe the latter had been correctly reported. It was absolutely incorrect to say that before Pigott's examination, or before Pigott fled, he (Russell) had received information, direct or indirect, to the effect that Pigott discredited the value of his own testimony. It was absolutely incorrect to say that he had either called for or referred to letters conveying such information. Attorney-General Webster in reply to the speaker's letter had written that he believed he had handed such letters to him, but he would have to refer to his shorthand notes for confirmation. The Attorney-General was mistaken in supposing that he had given him five days before Pigott testified letters discrediting Pigott's evidence. The letters in which Pigott confessed his fear of cross-examination had come upon the speaker and his colleagues as a complete surprise. After Pigott's flight they had repeatedly made open complaint in court regarding the manner in which the Attorney-General had conducted the case. He did not impute dishonorable motives to the Attorney-General, but he thought he had been led away by the political character of the case into a course of conduct which on reflection and in less exciting circumstances he would not have pursued. [Cheers.] Sir Charles said that even when Pigott had testified he did not get the letters to which reference had been made, although Sir Richard Webster offered to produce the letter of Nov. 5. He asked the Attorney-General either to admit that he was mistaken or to point out in the official report any reference to the letter of Nov. 15.

Sir Richard Webster admitted that relying upon memory he had erred when he wrote to Sir Charles. He argued that in any case the matter was unimportant.

The Attorney-General persisted that if Sir Charles had consented to have the letter from Mr. Soames to Pigott read in court he (Russell) would have been in a position to demand the correspondence to which it referred.

Mr. Asquith, of the Parnellite counsel, followed. He asserted most positively that neither he nor Sir Charles had the ghost or glimmering of a notion that a letter of Pigott's existed in which he announced that his testimony would be discredited.

Sir Wm. Vernon-Harcourt contended that no answer had been given to his charge that Mr. Webster, knowing Pigott to be a doubtful witness, had allowed The Times for two months to repeat its odious charges and further had sat silent while Houston affirmed that he had complete trust in Pigott, which statement Mr. Webster knew to be false.

Mr. Webster: "I have protested that I had no means of knowing that Houston's statement was untrue."

Sir William said an attorney might weave the cobwebs of miserable professional etiquette about the matter but the common sense of the nation would revolt against the keeping alive to the last moment charges known to be false, as an act of professional cruelty and injustice.

Sir Edward Clarke, Solicitor-General, defended Mr. Webster.

Mr. Lablanche said Mr. Houston, Mr. Soames and Mr. Webster had all avoided asking questions concerning Pigott. He attacked the Gladstonian lawyers who abstained from voting when the division was taken Friday.

Mr. Morley said he had not a word to withdraw from what he had said in Friday's debate.

The subject was then dropped.

The Newfoundland Fisheries.

PARIS, March 25.—A deputation has urged Premier Tirard and M. Spuller, Minister of Foreign Affairs, to deal with the question of the neutralization of the banks of Newfoundland during the fishing season. The deputation suggested that the matter be considered jointly with the regulations for the prevention of collisions at sea in regard to which the United States Government in 1888 proposed to enter an international conference.

M. Spuller promised that he would communicate with the countries interested.

The New German Penal Code.

BERLIN, March 25.—The new penal code provides that persons found guilty of inciting one class against another or of publicly attacking the basis of public and social order, especially religion, the monarchy, marriage or property, shall be imprisoned for a term not exceeding three years. Persons convicted of a second offence may be forbidden to reside in certain places. Newspapers which have been twice convicted of any of the offences mentioned in the code shall be suppressed. Socialists who have been expelled from the country shall not be allowed to return within five years after the adoption of the code unless by special permission of the police authorities.

Offensive Partisans.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The Postmaster-General has refused to say anything for publication regarding offensive partisanship as cause for removal of postmasters but The Star says: "On Saturday Mr. Wannamaker made the positive announcement to an unnamed member of Congress, who had a very offensive postmaster he was working to have removed, that the charge of offensive partisanship would not be regarded as a sufficient cause for removal. Some other good reason would have to be given and it did not matter whether or not that charge was attached."

Insanity of a Noted Author.

NEW YORK, March 25.—A Hartford (Conn.) dispatch states that Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's mind is almost completely gone, although she is in as good health as she has ever been of late years. The father of Mrs. Stowe, Rev. Lyman Beecher, passed the closing years of his life with a cloud resting over his mind. His symptoms were greatly similar to those which now afflict Mrs. Stowe.

Her Last Sail.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y., March 25.—Rev. Mr. Brown of North River took a sail yesterday on the upper Hudson River at that place with his wife and her mother, a Mrs. MacClellan. Losing control of the boat it was whirled through the rapids and capsized. Mr. and Mrs. Brown saved themselves but Mrs. MacClellan was drowned.

Another Tragedy from a Kentucky Feud.

PINEVILLE, Ky., March 25.—Another tragedy was enacted this morning as a result of the Sowders-Turner feud. Alvis Turner and Jeff King were going toward Cumberland Gap and James Bird was coming to town. On meeting Alvis Turner at once fired at Bird, the ball striking his gun. Bird returned the fire killing Turner and then King fired on Bird, killing him, and beat a hasty retreat up Cane Creek.

Alleged False Pretences.

MONTREAL, March 25.—Manuel Rothschild of Mattawa has been arrested at Nipissing and brought to this city on a charge laid by Alfred Eaves of having obtained [illegible] worth of watches and jewelry on false pretences. Rothschild is also charged with obtaining $4000 worth of jewelry from J. H. Jones & Co. and $2500 worth from J. B. Williamson by false pretences. He will be brought before the Police Magistrate to-morrow.

The Smallpox in Southwold.

ST. THOMAS, March 25.—But four cases of smallpox have developed in Southwold the past week, and no deaths have occurred. The record to date is 39 cases, with 13 deaths. The new cases are of a mild type of varioloid, owing to the patients having been vaccinated. There are at present 17 cases of smallpox under treatment in the infected district.

PRECOCIOUS THIEVES.

Bad Little Boys and Girls in the Ambitious City—Robbed of $115.

HAMILTON, March 25.—Mrs. Hall, 67 Stuart-street west, reported to the police this morning that some time between Saturday night and Sunday morning a cashmere dress was stolen from her place. Though the dress was a valuable one she did not feel so sad over its loss as she did over the fact that in the pocket of the dress was a purse containing $115.

Saturday evening a collision took place in York-street, near Park-street, between rigs belonging to William Barclay and Michael Healey, both of Ancaster. Barclay's wagon was smashed and the front wheel was wrenched off. Both he and his wife were thrown out and badly injured. Mrs. Barclay was cut severely about the face.

Maria Thornton, a 9-year-old girl who has been arrested five times for larceny, is charged with stealing several rolls of butter from the market.

Rev. Dr. Mockridge has been elected rector of Christ Church, Windsor, N.S., by an almost unanimous vote of the parishioners.

At the Police Court this morning John Burrows, aged 9 years, and his brother Charles, aged 7, were charged with having assaulted and robbed William Skelly, a boy of 9 years. Skelly said that the younger of the two boys put his hand into his (Skelly's) pocket and stole his money, 82 cents. The Magistrate found Charles Burrows guilty of the charge, but let him go under deferred sentence. John Burrows was acquitted.

Winnipeg Wire Whispers.

WINNIPEG, March 25.—Although Provincial Treasurer Jones will retire from the Cabinet shortly and take up his residence in Brantford he will not resign his seat in the Legislature.

Evans, the young Englishman who was accidentally shot by his comrade yesterday, is reported to be recovering.

J. Habkirk, who is demented, was found wandering on the prairie last night imagining he was near his former home at Seaforth.

It turns out that the persons supposed to be detectives chasing Tascott on Lake Winnipeg were lumber dealers on a trip to their mills.

The Ottawa Police Station Robbery.

OTTAWA, March 25.—The latest development in the police station robbery case has created a sensation greater even than that caused by the robbery itself, by which it will be remembered the safe in the Police Clerk's room at police headquarters was a few weeks ago relieved of $720. The police have come to a conclusion which to their minds warrants the arrest, if he can be caught, of a well connected young man named John C. Grant who some days ago left town on a west-bound train and is now supposed to be in the States. He is a solicitor by profession and was admitted to practice a little more than a year ago. He is a son of the late Chief of Police who died in 1887. Grant has been drinking heavily for some time.

Not Satisfied With Ontario Justice.

OTTAWA, March 25.—The Montreal creditors of W. E. Brown, Ottawa's insolvent boot and shoe merchant, are seemingly not satisfied with the course of Ontario justice, but are determined to bring him to Montreal for trial. Detectives Kellert and Carpenter of that city, who have been here for the purpose of shadowing Brown, have a warrant authorizing them to bring him to Montreal for trial. This, it is understood, they have at length succeeded in having backed by an Ottawa magistrate after having met with several refusals, and as soon as Brown is caught he is apt to be transferred to Montreal. Not relishing the prospect, probably, he has escaped their shadow, but is said to be in retirement in this city, quietly awaiting the outcome of the two cases against him now pending before the County Judge.

Drowned in a Cistern.

HOLLAND LANDING, March 26.—A sad accident occurred yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock on the farm of Mr. Wm. Mortimer. Mr. Mortimer's two children were playing in the barn and the little girl, about 4 years old, fell into a cistern near by, and before assistance came the child was drowned.

Early Closing at the Capital.

OTTAWA, March 25.—The early closing movement tried by the boot and shoe trade here under the local Government Act has received a check by the action of the City Council to-night in ordering the Bylaw Committee to bring in a bylaw repealing the early closing bylaw.

Dropped Dead On His Engine.

ROCHESTER, March 26.—Levi Wise, one of the oldest engineers on the New York Central, Railway, dropped dead on his engine near Chili last night.

THE ST. GEORGE VICTIMS.

Eleven of the Suffering Survivors Not Yet Well Enough to be Moved.

ST. GEORGE, March 25.—Of the 39 passengers who were hurt in the terrible accident here 11 are still at St. George. Thomas N. Doutney, the temperance lecturer, is doing nicely at Dr. Kitchen's and will be around again shortly. His wife is here with him. Miss Andrews of Belleville is not mending very quickly. A couple of days ago she developed paralysis of the arm, and her case is more serious than that of any of the other patients. George Margetts, who was badly scalded, is doing well and will be moved this week. Mrs. and Miss Jennings of Paris will be moved on Tuesday. Dr. LeQuesne of Cleveland is progressing favorably, but will be here for some time. Mr. Benedict of Michigan, who was burned and had his wrist badly injured, was very poorly until a couple of days ago, when he commenced to improve. It will probably be some time before he will recover. Mr. Marshall and his wife, one of the newly married couples who were on the ill-fated train and had their honeymoon suddenly eclipsed, will go home in a few days. Mrs. Marshall has been around for some time, but her husband is still confined to his bed. Mr. Hyslop of Goderich is almost well and will be sent home on Tuesday. Miss McLeod of Ingersoll, who sustained an ugly scalp wound and had her collar-bone fractured, is gradually getting better. She will likely be sufficiently recovered to be moved in ten days. Mr. McKinley, of Detroit, who had his collar-bone broken, is doing nicely. He will be here for a couple of weeks longer.

Funeral of Jonathan Martin.

WOODSTOCK, March 25.—The remains of the late Jonathan Martin were laid to rest this afternoon. In accordance with a proclamation issued by Acting Mayor Revell all places of business and all the schools were closed from 1 to 4 o'clock. The funeral has been equaled in the history of our town for size and impressiveness only by that of Mr. Martin's deceased comrades.

The condition of Mayor Karn is causing considerable anxiety in town. On Saturday he had an attack of malarial fever, but it is now stated that he is gaining again. It is the frequency with which these reverses occur that causes anxiety.

Kingston Items.

KINGSTON, March 26.—While working on a scaffold at the rear of Switzer's Hotel, John Leadbeater fell to the ground and was seriously injured.

Mrs. Kelly of Glenburnie was badly injured at Shanahan's Hotel, Princess-street. In leaving the building she opened a door leading to the cellar and thinking she was going out stepped forward and fell to the bottom.

A car of cotton, 150 bales, will leave here for China to-day.

The members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen intend erecting a hall.

About twenty-five people, mostly farmers, will leave for the Northwest to-day.

The Deadly Level Crossing.

STRATFORD, March 25.—A shocking accident occurred this morning at the crossing of Erie-street and the Sarnia line of the Grand Trunk. Thomas Walsh, 75 years of age, a farmer residing in the Gore of Downie, while crossing the track was struck by the train from London. The horse was cut in two, the buggy smashed to pieces and Walsh's remains were found strewn for several yards along the track. Deceased was partially deaf.

THE FISHERY QUESTIONS.

AN INTERVIEW WITH THE MINISTER OF FINANCE.

Mr. Foster Explains the Government's Reasons for Deciding to Issue Licenses Under the Modus Vivendi.

OTTAWA, March 25.—Regarding the decision of the Dominion Government to resume the issue of fishery licenses under the modus vivendi Hon. Mr. Foster, Minister of Finance, said to-day: "The Government has come to the conclusion to keep the modus vivendi for another year. Last year closed with President Cleveland's threat of retaliation and we had no intimation as to what would be the course of the incoming President. The modus vivendi was kept in force last year with the co-operation of the Newfoundland Government and all licenses granted under it expired at the end of the year. The fishing season will not begin until the latter part of March and there was no necessity for action regarding the policy of the current year until the fishing season commenced. Negotiations were in progress with the Newfoundland Government and both were desirous of ascertaining the tone of President Harrison's message before a final conclusion was arrived at. That message contained nothing unfriendly and did not intimate any renewal of threatened retaliation. The Government therefore came to the conclusion—acting in concert with the Newfoundland Government—to continue the modus vivendi for the present year with the view of leaving the way open for the resumption of negotiations if any desire is found on the part of the United States."

"What about the closing of Behring's Sea to foreign fishing vessels?"

"It seems to be required by law that the President of the United States shall issue each year a proclamation stating the condition of the laws which regulate fishing in that portion of the Behring Sea under United States control and warning all persons not to violate the law. This was done in preceding years and President Harrison followed the same course this year. The text shows that it covers whatever jurisdiction the United States may have there and leaves untouched the contention of Canada and Great Britain as to the extent of the jurisdiction. What may be the position of the United States we can't tell. They may claim the whole sea to the extreme westerly boundary formerly claimed by Russia. But if so it is a claim which the great maritime powers of the world are not likely to acquiesce in."

The bill to compel the placing underground of all telephone, telegraph and electric light wires, now before Parliament and for which the City Councils of Toronto and Ottawa have petitioned, is to be opposed on the grounds of unconstitutionality as well as inexpediency. James A. Wright, manager of the Federal Telephone Co. of Montreal, has arrived in the city to offer the Government expert testimony against the bill and will likely be asked to appear before the committee, before whom all representatives of various municipalities will be heard.

It is understood that the contract for the construction of the bridge at Grand Narrows on the Cape Breton Island Railway is about to be awarded to Messrs. Isbester & Reid and that the price is in the neighborhood of $400,000. The competition has been keen for this rich plum. The work is one involving considerable engineering difficulty, largely caused by the great depth of water.

Strenuous efforts are being made to defeat in the Senate Dr. Hickey's bill for the incorporation of the Ottawa, Morrisburg and New York Railway Company, acting in the interests of the Ottawa, Waddington and New York, a rival company already incorporated. The City Council to-night memorialized the Senate against the bill, which has already passed the Commons. Last year after it had passed the Commons this same bill was rejected by the Senate.

Hardie's Brief Glimpse of Freedom.

HALIFAX, March 25.—Henry Hardie, the New York forger, was discharged from custody this morning by Judge Townsend of the Supreme Court. He no sooner got outside the court door than he was hustled into a hack by Detective Power, being rearrested under a warrant sworn out before a Justice of the Peace charging him with forgery. He was driven to the police station, where his counsel demanded his release and the officers refused to give him up. Both sides are now worked up over the case, and the proceedings are becoming decidedly interesting. The second arrest was made in the face of the fact that City Marshal Cotter had already been served with papers in a suit brought by Hardie for illegal detention of his money and baggage.

A Dwelling at St. Lambert Burnt.

ST. LAMBERT, Que., March 25.—The frame dwelling in Victoria-street owned by Mr. Hicks and occupied by Mr. C. A. Stevens, wire chief of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company at Montreal, was completely destroyed by fire about 8 o'clock this evening. The fire originated from a lamp which fell from the hands of Mrs. Stevens while in the act of removing some clothing from a closet. The building was valued at about $2000 and is said to be fully insured, but there was no insurance on the furniture, most of which, however, was saved.

Woodstock Jottings.

WOODSTOCK, March 25.—J. W. Marsden, H. VanAllan and Robert Smith of Ingersoll have been convicted of violating the Scott Act and fined $50 each.

Alex. Sutherland, an old citizen, retired to rest apparently in good health Saturday night and was found dead in bed Sunday morning.

At the regular service of the Dundas-street Methodist Church last evening it was finally decided that a new church is to be built. Subscriptions amounting to $4000 were obtained and plans adopted.

Suicide at London.

LONDON, March 25.—Geo. W. McCadden, formerly a clerk in D. S. Perrin & Co.'s establishment and aged about 28, committed suicide by taking Rough on Rats at his home in William-street north, Saturday night. He had been ill for a year and at one time had an operation performed on him on account of an abscess in his stomach. His health did not improve, however, and on Saturday in a fit of despondency he decided to end his troubles at once and forever.

An old man named Dunn, a resident of Portland, dropped dead in the street yesterday.

The "Gold" Watch Racket.

LONDON, Ont., March 25.—Two [illegible] well dressed and of plausible address, have been playing a sharp trick on the farmers of West Nissouri and Dorchester townships. They represent themselves as agents of various jewelry houses in Toronto and other cities and offer what appear to be genuine gold watches at prices ranging from $30 to $60. If questioned as to the secret of their ability to sell at such a low figure, the reply is that the firm they represent had failed and that the proprietor allowed them to retain their samples in lieu of back salary. The game worked [illegible] and among the victims are Miss [illegible] the [illegible] concession, Joseph [illegible] third concession and many others. AGRICULTURAL SUBJECTS

DISCUSSED AT A WEST RIDING INSTITUTE MEETING.

Value of Underdraining—Agricultural Education—Dairy Farming and Ensilage—The Clydesdale Stallion—How to Keep Boys on the Farm.

Owing to the small attendance on Monday morning at the West Riding Farmers' Institute there was only a very brief session. In the afternoon there was a fair attendance. Mr. D. Kennedy, President, occupied the chair.

UNDERDRAINING.

The PRESIDENT read a paper prepared by Mr. R. Jackson, who, he said, was the champion drainer in the county. The paper said that it was almost impossible to estimate the value of underdraining on wet land, and it was of benefit to almost any land. By draining they could get on the land ten days to two weeks earlier. The land was more easily worked when it was thoroughly dry, and there was less danger of rust. By stirring the land early and starting the weeds labor was saved when they wanted to plant roots. When the land was in a good pulverized state it would stand drought better. The more of the rainfall they could get to soak through the land the better it was. He had miles of tile drain on his farm and had found none of them too deep. They should be beyond the frost and the deeper they were the deeper they would draw the water. He believed that in ordinary seasons drains would pay for themselves in three years. The cost of draining a ten acre field would be as follows:—Forty square rods would require fifteen drains—one main one and one fourteen spurs. The main drain would require 666 three inch tile,costing $7.39½. The spurs 7812 two inch tile would cost $75.12; the digging $26.90; laying tile, $10; filling, $7; drawing tile $20; boarding men, $30; total cost, $246.21. In answering questions Mr. Jackson said that there was a knack in tile making that the makers did not understand. In piling them in a kiln there was a pressure on them. When burned they shrunk, but the weight caused them to shrink less on the "shoe" side and it was longer, consequently they did not fit well. If tiles were well burned they would ring, and not have a dead sound. The draining or ditching machine would work well in brick clay free from stone, but he had tried one that would not work when there was stone. It was better to lay tile and hire a man to put them in than to build stone drains?

Prof. ROBERTSON, of the Guelph Agricultural College, said that a farm needed light, heat, air and water, and if the land was not drained it got too much water and not enough air. The water on which the plant fed was in the pores of the land particles, and not around the particles, and draining carried off the surplus water and left the water in the pores. By laying drains three feet deep the land was cultivated that deep. By draining deep and growing clover every four years the land would be made deeper. By draining they would escape winter killing, for cold would not injure the plant alone, but when water was present it would expand and break the roots.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION.

Mr. J. COYLE BROWN, I. P. S., was called on and again brought up the subject of agricultural education, advocating what has become known as the half-day system for rural schools.

Mr. T. E. BELL did not think the plan practicable. His opinion was, rather, that the hours were at present too short The attendance at the schools, he pointed out, was small in summer.

Mr. BROWN argued that by the plan proposed the attendance would be increased, and the mind and the body would both be developed.

Mr. H. DAVIDSON said that a boy had sufficient time before eight and after five o'clock to develop his muscle.

Mr. G. J. GALVIN approved of the proposed system.

Mr. BROWN pointed out the advantage of continuous intellectual exercise for three hours and said most of the pupils were spoiled in their first two years at school.

Mr. JACKSON said there was no use in trying to make a farmer of a boy who had no inclination for the work. They should get their boys interested in the work and treat them as interested parties or partners. He attributed the backward condition of the farmers to machinery, extravagance and partisan politics. He advocated calling meetings of farmers throughout the country to choose candidates for Parliament. "Keep out the lawyers," he said, "they're devils." He proceeded to denounce combines and said they must fight them, and said the Government should loan money to farmers.

Prof. ROBERTSON said that one trouble was that parents had relegated the entire education of the children to the schools. They had been educating two classes of people, one to work all the time and only with their minds and the other all the time and only with their hands. Every man should be able to direct his own hands. In Cornell University, N. Y., students were asked to only take 15 hours a week in classes and were only permited 21 hours. The end of education was to make a boy thoughtful and of good judgment. A boy was energetic, and education was to direct his energy aright. A training that would teach a boy the habit of careful observation was important. In school the boy should learn to read, etc., along the line of farm life, by having the readers contain agricultural information. However, the boy's education depended principally on the home training, and that is where he would make a revolution. When taught to do things they should be taught why it was done. Three hours a day was enough for sharp mental work. He would teach the boys to love their country, and it was the best country under the sun. When he visited the United States he came back convinced that there was no agricultural class superior to that of Ontario.

DAIRY FARMING.

Prof. ROBERTSON gave a talk on dairy farming and on the value of ensilage. He said the occupation of the farmer was to produce the food and the raw material of clothing, and the more he produced the better. The sun was the great force of nature, and a plant was a storehouse where it put its strength. It could not make a plant grow without the proper conditions, and it needed the assistance of air, water and soil. Soil was of no use except as it had the elements of fertility. The land was only the shelves of the shop that held the goods. Some farmers were foolish enough to sell off the elements of fertility. A plant that passed nothing on for the service of a higher life was a weed, and an animal that did the same was a scrub. A man should also be trained to pass something on for use of others. Every time a farmer sold grain he sold part of the elements of fertility and of his labor. There were three valuable elements of fertility, nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, and boys should be taught the meaning of these terms. When a man sold $200 worth of wheat at a dollar a bushel he sold $48 worth of these elements, and had the balance for his labor and skill. If a man grew $200 worth of wheat on 20 acres he would only have 80 cents a day for his labor, and if he grew that much on 10 acres he would have just as much money for his labor. Some men worked too much land. If a man sold $200 worth of wheat he had $152 for his skill and labor. Of beef $200 worth, took $17 from farm and gave $183 for labor; cheese $18, and $182 for labor; pork, $13 and $187; horse $7, $193; butter $1 25, and $198 75. Farmers should do more thinking and develop their skill. If animals did not give more than they got, the man served the animal. In one year he got returns from cheese factories and found that 75,000 cows only returned $16 a head, while it cost probably $26 to feed them, and 75,000 gave back $36. A dairy cow should have good lungs, deep chest, oblong nostrils, good heart, (full behind the fore leg), good stomach shown by healthy skin, a long udder, long body, deep at the flank, sharp at the shoulders and broad across the loins. Every farmer should keep an account with each animal and see if they paid for their board. To get the best returns from the cows they should attend to their comfort. The importance of returning the elements of fertility (the manure) to the soil was referred to. The gutters should be water-tight and a handful of gypsum sprinkled in the stable would retain the ammonia. When a man sold the product at a profit, retained the elements of fertility and kept his animals comfortable, he was doing well. He then, on the subject of feeding, took up

CORN ENSILAGE.

He said it did not pay to sow corn broadcast. It should be planted then, early and shallow, and he would plant this year on the first of May if he sowed other grain on that date. It would pay to harrow corn until it was eight inches high and to cultivate it well. He would put it in a silo because it was the cheapest way to keep it, and because it would return more food in that way. A man could build a silo in the corner of his barn to hold 100 tons for $75, and one as a lean-to that would hold 150 tons for $150. He expected to grow it this year at a cost of $1 a ton. Put it at say $1.25 a ton, and 100 tons at $125 would go as far as 50 tons of hay. He described the building of a silo and a platform, to be fastened under axles of a waggon, to draw the corn in with. In filling the silo each two foot layer should have the sides and corners tramped. By the silo the cost of keeping the dairy animal would be reduced and the profit increased. By it they could keep their cows milking in winter. In ten years he believed they would have creameries supplementing their cheese factories. It was a good plan to sow clover in August with the corn, and thus prepare it for any crop the following year. In answer to a question he said oats could be put in silos if allowed to wilt a day. He said that if anyone wishing information on ensilage would send a card to the college it would be forwarded to them.

HATS!

Hats, gentlemen, Hats!

In the name of People, Hats!

And why, Hats!

The Hat is the badge of respectability, the trade mark of civilization—that is any kind of a decent Hat. And properly, too.

Let us consider this question of Hats.

Had Bonaparte passed on the way to Waterloo to select a new Hat the result might have been different.

Had Christopher Columbus wore a shabby Hat, could he have made the fine impression he did on landing in Amerikay. No much. Not any.

Had Julius Cæsar carried a neat and taking head cover, his untimely decease might have been indefinitely postponed. History is jam full of incidents that point to the necessity of wearing a good Hat.

Men have been crossed in love, fallen off scaffolds, been beaten at the polls, arrested on suspicion, failed in business, and lost the respect of their fellow citizens by wearing a bad Hat.

The moral of all this is, come to us for your Hats. It's a new department with us, and a mighty good one. It's good because its new, and wholly new and good. We do nothing by halves. See our Stock. THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Completing the Work.

A gravel train and about 30 men began work this morning ballasting the Dickson spur of the C.P.R. The work will take about two weeks probably. Mr. Alex. McNeilly has charge of the train.

Bricklayers Leaving.

Messrs. Thomas and William McNamara, two well-known Peterborough boys, left yesterday for St. Paul's, Minn. They were to be joined in Toronto by their brother from Rochester and the three were then going on to St. Paul's, where they intend to reside.

A Painful Accident.

A painful though not serious accident occurred at the Lock Works this morning. Frank Burdett was engaged working a key-rimmer when his thumb was caught in the machine and the nail pulled completely off. Dr. Clarke dressed the injured thumb.

The Talk of the Town

The people are wondering why Elliott & Tierney are giving 18 lbs. bright sugar for $1, and selling teas and other goods so much cheaper than any house in Peterborough. Call at the Palace Grocery and examine the goods, which will convince you. The "Palace" is the place to get best values. Great stock-taking sale now going on.

Good Oranges 25c., per. dozen. Three large tins No. 1 Corn for 25c., at Elliott & Tierney's.

A Sunday Wanderer.

George Kane was summoned before the the Magistrate this morning to account for his bovine being at large on Sunday last. He failed to satisfy the magistrate and he was fined two dollars. This should serve as a warning to all owners of cows, for the police intend to strictly enforce the cow by-law and any animals found roaming on the streets will be impounded or the owner summoned before the court.

How is it, is the general remark passed by people when they call on W. J. Morrow, you sell cheaper than others. Why your 18 pound Sugar for $1.00 is so much lighter, and really your 25 cent Tea equal to tea I pay 35 cents for elsewhere? Pay no attention to those who are becoming jealous of the extensive trade, offering you inducements only as a catch, but come to us, as you have done in the past, and secure the very finest of goods at the lowest prices, and be convinced that we are the only cheap house in town. Bear in mind we always have something special for Saturdays.

A Lost Boy.

Chief Roszel has received a letter from Chief Douglas, of Port Hope, asking him to find, if possible, a young lad by the name of William Small, who ran away from his home on Thursday last and came to Peterborough. The boy's parents are very anxious about their truant son and any information regarding him will be gratefully received. It is thought that the boy has hired with some farmer. He is described as being 14 years old, but tall for his age, of ruddy complexion, dark brown hair and eye-lashes, grey eyes, brown tweed overcoat, brownish grey pants, black and brown checked coat and wore a curly black cap.

Off for the Northwest.

There was quite a lively scene at the C. P. R. station yard this morning when the colonists who were leaving for the Northwest were completing their arrangements for departure. There were about twenty tickets sold from this station and there were four cars filled with settlers' effects. These cars were packed with a queer assortment of effects and live stock, including poultry, pigs, furniture, agricultural implements, dressed lumber, laths, shingles, and in fact almost everything requisite for a man to start out to play Robinson Crusoe. The parties who are leaving here are from Emily, Cavan and Methune. They will join the colonist train which leaves Toronto for the Northwest to-night. The majority of them leaving here are going to Carberry.

SHOWING THE LATEST STYLES.

MISS E. DELANEY

has just returned from the Montreal and Toronto markets, having secured the latest novelties and goods for her Milinery and Mantle Departments. Miss Delaney's special object in visiting Toronto was to purchase a fine assortment of New York novelties, which have just been placed on the market at the wholesale centres. They comprise the latest styles in Bonnets, Hats, Trimmings, Mantles and Mantle Cloths. The materials are new, rich and handsome. The new Dolmanetts are strikingly stylish, while the Jet Vistes are a special thing this season. ON WEDNESDAY AND FOUR SUCCEEDING DAYS OF THIS WEEK Miss Delaney will be pleased to have ladies call and inspect the array of handsome styles. Personal inspection will alone afford a clear idea of the beauty of the goods, the freshness of the stock and the ample preparation made to meet the wishes of customers. 3479-1w18

SOME CHURCH MEMBERS

REV. MR. HUNTER TALKS ABOUT PREACHERS AND CHURCHES.

The Different Kinds of Sinners—Why Prayer Meetings are not Attended—Some Men Whom the Churches Should be Rid of—Rev. Mr. Crossley Speaks to the Lingerers—The Evangelists' Stay to be Shortened.

There was the usual crowd at St. Paul's last evening and it is probable that, if such can be imagined, there will be a greater crush at the meetings for the remainder of this week than there has been during the last two weeks, as in his address last evening Rev. Mr. Hunter said they had received a telegram that afternoon asking them to go to Woodstock. That town was in mourning for the officials and councillors who had been killed in the late railway disaster at St. George, and the citizens wanted the evangelists to come to their assistance in the hour of trial, and Mr. Hunter said he and Mr. Crossley had decided to cut their stay here short and go to the mourning town.

Rev. Mr. Crossley's first solo was a song he rendered for the first time and there were few probably in the congregation who had heard it before—"The Garden of Prayer."

SCOLDING WOMEN.

Rev. Mr. HUNTER opened his remarks by referring to the grumblers. He said there were many who were living on Grumblers street and he wanted them to change their residence to Thanksgiving Avenue. He could always tell a hen-pecked husband, for he was always grumbling. The scolding women were terrible persons to live with. Outside they would act like angels but when they were home they were scolding and went on like everything. They should make their homes joyful. Other people had faces that made them look like graveyards and he wanted them to cheer up and wear a smile and not scare people from religion. He said he would read a few verses from the fourth chapter of II Timothy. Commenting on the first verse the evangelist said there were many who were waiting for the time when the Lord would come to judge the quick and dead. He said it was all right to expect the Lord and be ready for His coming at any time, but that did not mean that people should be sitting down waiting for His coming, but they should be working and then if he came why it would be all right. Speaking of preaching the word, he said it was no trouble for a minister to prepare a sermon, but they could never get people to own them. People were always willing to give them away—the sermons and nothing else. He said to attract the people was to have his pulpit on fire and crowds would be sure to flock to see it burn. Some asked why were their prayer meetings not crowded. It was because they did not make them interesting. People didn't want to go and hear some old man pray for fifteen minutes but they should make their meetings interesting and attractive. Sermons were like guns—some big and some small, some old and some new, some were air guns and others pop guns, some were shotless and others were all wadding and kicked the owners over, some were complimentary and preached on special occasions and others powderless, some were useless and others dangerous, some alarmed and others missed, some aimed at nothing but hit the centre every time, some were for a long range and fell short. Some people, he said, always wanted a minister to preach in the abstract, about the Jews or the Israelites, for fear that he might hit some of the congregation. He told the ministers to fire red hot shot and hit everywhere and they would be effective. They were preaching a sermon every day. He didn't believe in reproving as some men did, who went up to a sinner and told him he was going down to hell and perdition sure. He believed in reproving a man kindly and in nine times out of ten they would be treated kindly in return. Speaking of churches, Mr. Hunter, said the church that was not a soul-saving church should not be called a church of the Lord Jesus Christ. He would rather have a church with one hundred souls converted to God than to have one filled with old whiskey men and old wretches who were living in sin. He did not like to see a church in which there were men who would run around with the women to card parties and the theatre and the horse races and to everything that was of the earth earthy. The church should be rid of such men.

Rev. Mr. Crossley then sang the pretty and touching solo, "Papa what will you take for me."

A large number of special requests for prayer were then read and Rev. Mr. Shorey offered up a brief and earnest supplication in their behalf.

THE LINGERERS.

Rev. Mr. CROSSLEY took as the text of his address the two words:—

"He lingered."—Genesis xix; 16.

The rev. gentleman said these words described the action of Lot when the angels came and directed him to leave Sodom and they also described the situation of all those who had not been converted. Lot was told that Sodom was going to be destroyed and yet he lingered and so the unsaved were again and again in His Word mercifully warned but still they lingered. He then proceeded to draw the analogy between Lot's lingering and the lingering of the unconverted. He first pointed out that as Lot believed his danger and still lingered, so many of them believed in the reality of Jesus Christ and felt their danger but still lingered. As God told Lot to flee to the mountains so He intended those not saved to escape to a place of refuge, yet still they lingered. Then the evangelist pointed out that Lot knew how to obey yet still lingered, and so it was with many of them, they knew the way and he told them that all they had to do was to make a start and God would take the responsibility of teaching them and bringing them to a consciousness of salvation. Mr. Crossley then said that while Lot lingered an angel took hold of him and led him outside the city and told him to escape for his life and so in many ways the Lord was taking hold of them and telling them to escape and get salvation, but still they lingered. The evangelist then pointed out how patiently the Lord waited for Lot and how long He had waited for many of the unsaved, and then passed on and said that as Lot lingered still he always intended to escape. That was the attitude of many of the unsaved and he impressed upon them the thought of the uncertainty of life and how delay might prove disastrous. He closed by urging all the unsaved to do as Lot did, cease to linger and escape.

When the invitation for all those who had experienced conversion at the meeting since their commencement to stand up was given by Rev. Mr. Hunter a large number arose and several others asked for the prayers of the congregation.

During the after meeting a large number of seekers went into the inquiry room.

NOTES.

Rev. Mr. Browning, of Belleville, was on the platform last evening. Mr. R. Winch was also present and will give his experience to-night.

Y.M.G. OF ST. JOHN'S.

Its Constitution and Objects—Officers Elected for the Year.

Thirty of the young men of St. John's, together with many of the older representative members of the congregation, met in the school house last night to consider the constitution framed by a committee for the new "Young Men's Guild." The Rev. J. C. Davidson was in the chair. After being read clause by clause the proposed constitution was adopted with a few unimportant amendments on motion of Mr. J. H. Burnham seconded by Mr. H. Long. It sets forth the membership and objects of the Guild and the means by which these are to be attained. The great object is the extension of Christ's Kingdom amongst young men to be attained by prayer, visiting and in other ways encouraging young men to systematic attendance at the services of the church; and by assisting the church wardens and sidesmen to welcome and assign seats to strangers and others coming to the church.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES.

After the constitution and a few necessary by-laws had been adopted the officers for the ensuing year were balloted for with the following result:—

PRESIDENT—Rev. J. C. Davidson.

VICE-PRESIDENT—Mr. A. V. R. Young.

SECRETARY-TREASURER—Mr. Parker.

Committees were then appointed for special work in the Guild as follows:—

To act as ushers in conjunction with Wardens and sidesmen.—Messrs. J. H. Burnham, Parker, Somerville, H. Long, H. Morrow, H. T. Everett, F. Clementi, H. Rush, Macdonnell, R. Hay, G. A. Smith and Forbes.

To act as special visitors.—Messrs. J. H. Long, F. E. Bell, R. Fair, G. Perry, Budden, H. Long, H. Rush, G. A. Smith and Brisley.

The chairman then announced the next meeting on Tuesday evening, April 9th, of which further notice would be given in the church.

The meeting was concluded with prayer at 10 p. m., and at its close the committee appointed to act as ushers met and unanimously agreed to act in rotation, four men to take duty for two successive Sundays, their names to be inserted after the announcement of services in Saturday's evening papers.

A Pleasant Evening With the S.O.E.

The quarterly night meeting of Peterborough Lodge No. 64, S.O.E., took place in the Lodge room last evening, when there was a good attendance and a large representation from Lansdowne Lodge was present, including Bro. F. Mitchell, Worthy President, R. Waram, Worthy Vice, E. W. Elcombe, Recording Secretary, Thos. Guns, Supreme Grand Lodge District Deputy, and Dr. Pigeon, Lodge surgeon. After the business of the Lodge was finished, Bro. Rundle, chairman of the entertainment committee, handed Worthy President Brownscombe the following programme which was very efficiently rendered and highly appreciated by those present:—

Duet "What are the Wild Waves Saying"... Bros. Rundle and Stevens
Reading...."The Irishman's Panarama"...... Bro. A. Clegg
Song...."Good-Bye Sweetheart"..Bro. Rundle
Recitation. "Eagle's Rock" Bro. O. C. Rowse
Song ...."Gay Cavalier" .....Bro. Stevens
Reading. "The Seat of True Love" Bro. Rundle
Reading. "The Northern Cobbler". Bro. A. Clegg
Reading ....."Jimmy Butler and the Owl" Bro. Rundle
Duet. 'The Larboard Watch' Bros. Rundle and Stevens

The meeting was brought to a close with "God Save the Queen" and "Auld Lang Syne."

During the intermission refreshments were served by Bro. T. Hooper. The portrait of Lord Beaconsfield which was purchased by a number of the brethren, was presented to the lodge last night and was unveiled with a short address on England's great Prime Minister by Bro. F. Foote.

EXPORT DUTY ON LOGS.

Reasons why the Export Tax should be Retained.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—As I was one of those that attended the meeting of lumbermen in Toronto lately when a resolution was carried asking the Dominion Government to take off the export duty on logs, I would like to say a few words on this subject. First of all, the report given of this meeting in the paper would lead the public to believe that there was a large representation of the lumbering interest of Canada present, and that they were unanimous in asking the Government to remove the export duty. I wish to put the public right in this matter, and to say that there were not over fifteen present and that they were not unanimous in having the export duty taken off as alleged. I have, since the meeting referred to, seen in your valuable paper an account of several interviews of lumberman with the Government urging the Government to take off the export duty. I refrained from giving my views on this subject having confidence in the Government and knowing from experience that they only act in the interest of the country, not in the interest of individuals, or as it would be in this case (by removing the export duty on logs) in the interest of individual limit speculations, but I notice in to-day's Empire that a deputation of lumbermen has again interviewed Sir John and that he has promised to give an answer in a few days. Surely after a life time given in the interest of the people of this country, Sir John is not going to do them a great injury by taking the bread and butter out of the mouth of the laboring men of this country and give it to the laboring men of a foreign country. A Canadian manufacturer of lumber employs Canadian laborers and pays out about 8 per M for every thousand feet of lumber he manufactures; to the laboring men, farmers and railroads of his country, ships his lumber say to Albany, and pays $2.00 duty. Take the export on logs off; in comes the American manufacturer. He pays out $3.00 per M probably to laborers he has brought over from his own country, floats his logs to the large lakes, tows them to Saginaw or Bay City, manufactures them in a foreign country, ships the lumber produced from Canadian logs to say Albany, without paying any duty, to compete with lumber from a Canadian manufacturer who has to pay $2.00 import duty to get in lumber to this market. This is all very true, says the limit speculator (who are composed of the Chartons, Campbells, Cooks, Burtons, &c.,) but if our Government charges export duty on logs the Americans will raise the import duty on lumber. I say, let them do so, there is not a pine tree growing in Canada to-day but what Canada will want. But there is no danger of the Americans doing anything of the kind. The day they closed their markets to Canadian lumber they would have to pay an increased price to the Michigan lumbermen equal to the increased duty on lumber coming from Canada. Another argument these limit speculators use is that the Americans export more logs to Canada than we do to the States. Well, we do not object to their putting on an export duty. I only wish they would. We do not want their logs, we can supply our home markets without their logs. The streams on which these logs are brought into Canada happen to run north, and the limit holders in the States cannot help themselves and they are availing themselves of our markets in New Brunswick and Manitoba because the streams happen to be built that way. But these anxious limit speculators say that Ontario could not supply their markets, they are too far away. And yet they say that the Southern States are now supplying the New York market with lumber double the distance. Oh, consistency thou art a jewel! I will go a little further than the limit speculator in this matter, and will venture to say that in 25 years, unless our forests are better protected by Mr. Mowat, that Canadians will be large importers of lumber from the Southern States, and further that it is the duty of every Canadian manufacturer, farmer and laborer to insist that if our local Government sell any more timber limits that they shall make it conditional on the purchaser that he shall manufacture the production of the said limit in the Dominion.

Yours,

CANADA.

A Sad Drowning Accident.

A sad drowning accident occurred yesterday afternoon at Curtis' brickyard, when Arthur Harold, the two year old son of Mr. E. Curtis, fell into the creek and was drowned. The little fellow was missed from the house and upon search being made his body was found in the water. The creek is deeper at this time of the year than at any other and it is supposed that the unfortunate child wandered away from the house and while playing near the water fell in.

A New Market Building.

Before the snow flies next winter it is probable that Peterborough will have a market building that will not be an eyesore to the public or an object of grumbling and fault-finding to the farmers and their wives, as the present one is. The Market Committee met last night and it was decided to recommend to the Council that a new market building be built or at least the old building so overhauled and repaired and added to as to make it practically a new building. Mr. J. E. Belcher will be asked to prepare the necessary plans for the proposed changes and submit the same to the Council. It is the present intention to build an extension or wing to the south of the present building about 150 feet in length. This extension will be of the style of an arcade with stalls or stands on either side for hucksters, etc. The present building will be entirely overhauled and the front re-modelled. The whole will probably entail an expenditure of six or seven thousand dollars. This recommendation of the committee has practically the sanction of the Council as there were about ten councillors present at the meeting last night.

CHINA HALL

CHINA
AND
QUEENS WA

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate cracked at that. Consider $34,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of sèvres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $3,600 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $3,000 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for as little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. BEAUTIFUL JIM.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER

CHAPTER XVI.

SUSPICION

Private Edward Leader, batman to Mr. James Beresford, of the Blankshire regiment, sat in the kitchen of his master's quarters looking and feeling that a more miserable devil than himself did not exist upon the face of the whole earth that day.

He was not a young man who had enjoyed the advantages of a liberal education; in truth, he could just read and write sufficiently well to be able to scrawl notes to his sweetheart, and to make out the addresses on his master's letters, but certainly not sufficiently well to trouble to make himself acquainted with the contents of the epistles which came to and were sent off by Mr. Beresford. Had he been a better educated young man he might have known and felt the wisdom of a certain very sensible remark which comes to us from the Italian: "The word that once escapes the tongue cannot be recalled; the arrow cannot be detained which has once sped from the bow;" but alas! Private Edward Leader was blessed with no wisdom of that kind, and only acquired it after the fashion of most blundering fools, by the aid of the expensive school of sad and bitter experience.

Now that the mischief was done and the effect of his babbling tongue had passed beyond his control, he saw but too plainly the extraordinary value of silence; but it was too late—the mischief was done—the word had escaped his tongue—the arrow had sped from the bow, and its progress could not be stopped by him who had let it fly—no, not even though it should lodge in the very heart of the one who in all the wide world least deserved it.

For, during the excitement of that fearful day on which Capt. Owen was found still and stark in his own quarters, done to the death by the dastardly hand of a murderer, Leader had, in talking over the events of the previous night with his comrades, let slip that his master and Capt. Owen had had "a shindy" in Mr. Beresford's quarters immediately before dinner.

"Some 'at must have 'appened to put the captain out," said Leader, shaking his wooden head with a great air of wisdom, "for in general he's such a quiet sort—ay, dear, was, I mean—'pon my life, it's hard to believe that 'e's really gone."

"And they 'ad a row?" asked one of the bystanders.

"Yes; of course, you know, I wasn't there in the room, but the captain, 'e come up the stairs and banged into my master's room—and then I 'eard 'igh words, and at last the captain banged out again and into his own room."

"But you don't mean to say, Leader," exclaimed another listener, "that you think Mr. Beresford did it?"

"Course not; but it looks rum that they should 'ave 'igh words that very night," returned Leader, stubbornly.

Naturally, after this, it did not take very long for a rumor to spread throughout the barracks that Leader had good reason to believe that Mr. Beresford was the murderer of Capt. Owen; and when the London detective, who came down from Scotland Yard to watch the case for the Owen family, appeared on the scene, almost the first information he received was an account of Leader's remarks, an account doctored and heightened in such a way that the unfortunate young man scarcely recognized his own story when he heard it again.

Poor wretch, when he realized what his blabbing tongue had done, what mischief he had wrought, he made every effort in his power to minimize the impression which he had given.

"My master murder any one!" he exclaimed in unmitigated horror, when the detective's meaning first dawned upon him. "No, no, master, you're on a wrong scent this time. Mr. Beresford ain't one of that sort—'e ain't capable of it."

"I don't say he is, my man; but at the same time I'll trouble you to give me an account of the row that you say took place between the two gentlemen on the night of the murder," said the detective, calmly.

"I never told you any row had taken place at all," returned Leader, in a vain attempt to fence the question.

"I never said you did, did I?" said the detective, contemptuously. "But you told it to others, and I'll trouble you to tell it to me."

"Then I'll be d——d if I tell you anything!" shouted Leader, in a blind rage of fury.

And not a single word more could the detective coax or bully out of him; and the immediate result was that Beautiful Jim was a few hours later arrested on suspicion of being the murderer of Capt. Owen.

It cannot be said that Jim was half so seriously disturbed about the matter as his now abjectly repentant servant was. He felt, with the assured consciousness of innocence, that the detective had blundered, and that close investigation would very soon set the whole matter right so far as he was concerned. It was a bore going off to the county jail, of course, but beyond this inconvenience he did not mind very much. And before this had happened, Col. Barnes had arrived from Blankhampton, full of distress at the terrible tragedy, and desperately anxious that the offender should be brought to justice.

It literally took his breath away when he returned to the barracks, after transacting some business in the town, to find that Jim Beresford had been actually arrested on suspicion of being the culprit, and he hastened off to the prison at once to try if he could not see him. The governor raised no objection, and he was at once ushered into Beautiful Jim's presence.

TRADE AND TRAFFIC.

The Business Outlook—Prices on the Grain and Produce Markets.

TORONTO, March 26.—The past week has developed a state of things in Toronto which business men find it difficult to explain. There has been no perceptible improvement in trade, collections are slow, and yet there have been only two or three little assignments reported. The assignees are surprised. They had confidently expected the week following the 18th would bring along enough business troubles to keep them all going for all they were worth, and now when the assignments made in this city during the week will total only a few thousands of dollars, and when there are no rumors of coming failures, the winders-up of estates cannot understand it. A strong belief is held by many business men that the long season of hard times is about over, that the coming spring will bring a revival of trade, and that, should the farmers be blessed with a good harvest, prosperity will reign in Canada.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

At St. Lawrence Market yesterday, where the usual Monday dulness prevailed, there was little change in quotations: Dressed hogs, $7.25 per cwt.; beef, forequarters, $4, hindquarters, $6.50; geese, per lb. 9c.; turkeys, per lb., 14c.; ducks, per pair, 70c; chickens, per pair, 85c.; butter, rolls, 20c, tubs, 18c.; lard, 12c.; eggs, 14c.; potatoes, per bag, 30c.; apples, per bbl., $1.25.

Receipts of hay were small and the demand poor. It sold at $15. The little straw offered sold at $10.

The sales of grain on the street were 200 bushels of wheat at $1.08 and $1.09 for white, $1.09 and $1.10 for red, $1.08 to $1.12 for spring and 87½ cents for goose; 300 bushels of barley at 44½ to 52 cents; one load of peas at 60 cents, and 200 bushels of oats at 37 and 38 cents.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports: Floating cargoes—Wheat, firm; corn slow. Cargoes on passage—wheat, firmly held; corn, slow. Mark Lane—Wheat, steady; corn and flour quiet. Good cargoes No. 1 Cal. wheat off coast, 37s 3d and 37s 6d, was 37s. French country markets mostly turn cheaper. English farmers' deliveries of wheat during past week, 54,419 qrs.; average price 30s 5d, was 30s 2d. Liverpool—Spot wheat rather easier; corn, slow. No. 1 Cal., 7s 7½; No. 2 Cal., 7s 4d, both ½-½ cheaper. Weather in England showery.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Liverpool reports: Wheat, dull; demand poor; holders offer freely. Corn, easy; fair demand. Spring wheat, 8s.; red winter, 7s. 6d.; No. 1 Cal. 7s. 7½d. Corn, 3s. 10½d. Peas 5s. 7d. Pork, 65s. Lard, 36s. 9d. Bacon, short and long cleared, 38s. 6d. and 34s. Tallow, 26s. Cheese, white and colored, 55s. 6d.

Belleville Briefs.

BELLEVILLE, March 27.—Farmers are kicking strongly over the hull-less oats speculative arrangement and are demanding the return of their notes.

The charges of assault, larceny and bigamy against Joseph Douglas have all been adjourned till Thursday. Another reported wife of the prisoner, making three in all, has been heard of in Cramahe township.

Three young men who were arrested Sunday for drunkenness were fined $5 and costs each or 15 days in jail.

Anti-Tax Exemptionists.

OTTAWA, March 25.—The City Council to-night passed a resolution authorizing the Mayor to call a convention of municipal representatives to discuss desired amendments to the Municipal Act. The move is promoted by the anti-tax exemptionists, but many other proposed amendments will likely be discussed by the convention. It was stated that the convention idea was strongly favored by the Ontario Government who would prefer to act upon the recommendations of such a body rather than upon those of single municipalities.

A Clergyman's Mishap.

ST. GEORGE, March 26.—Rev. Jos. Odery, Methodist minister here, had a narrow escape from being killed by a vicious horse last evening. He had gone into the stall to feed and care for it when it attacked him, knocking him down, kicking and tramping upon him. His collar bone was broken and he is very severely bruised. Luckily some one entered the stable and rescued him from his perilous position.

Seizure of a Still.

BRECHIN, March 25.—Two constables passed through here to-day about noon and returned in about two hours. They succeeded in seizing a still and arresting Duncan Calder as the still was found in his barn. It is not known whether Calder had made or sold any liquor.

WE ONLY LAUGH AT THEM!

What unlimited gall for other houses to dare to compete with us. Why we have secured the trade of Town and Country, also the confidence of the people, and must and will at all times sell Goods cheaper than any house. Merchants say our expenses are so light we can sell Goods cheaper, but we say ours are large and our business massive, hence our advantage.

Look at our Tea Sales and prices, other houses try to compete in price, not quality.

Look at our prices of Sugars, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our prices of Fruits, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our extensive Country Trade, our Town Trade and surrounding Village Trade, and in but few words, we can dare other houses to compete.

DRESS GOODS, DRESS GOODS,
DRESS GOODS, DRESS GOODS,
DRESS GOODS, DRESS GOODS,

No department in our store has received more marked attention than our Dress Goods Department. Every shelf is laden with the latest production of the English, French and German looms. They are unsurpassed for Style, Colorings, and elegance in design, and nothing has ever been seen like them for richness and cheapness. Every new weaving combination and texture just as cheap.

Our display of Silks in Printed Pongees and Chinas is unusually large.

DRESS TRIMMINGS.

We show Dress Trimmings in every conceivable design to match any coloring in Dress Goods and you will see novelties in these goods which is not shown by anyone else as they were made to our own order.

Our Dress Making Department is busier than we usually find it at this time of the year this is due to the fact that our Miss Neil's abilities in this line are abreast of the times.

SPRING
Millinery Opening
AT TURNBULL'S.

Wednesday and Thursday, March 27th and 28th. We give a cordial invitation to all and expect to see you on the above dates, to look through our magnificent Stock of Millinery and Millinery Trimmings, Mantles, Dolmans and Jackets. Light Plain Cloths and Fancy Checks for young people, Rich Brocade and Fancy Stripes for the older, with all the New Trimmings to match.

THE EVENT OF THE PAST WEEK— Has been Dress Goods and Dress Trimmings. We cannot begin to tell you how they have been admired. Sateen Cloths have been the favorites. There is an indescribable gentility about the Colors that makes you feel you would like to have a dress and wear it. The new Steel and Silk Gimps blend so perfectly. Our Bradford (England) Dress Cloths at 10 cents, are worth a corner in your Memory.

Our Prints in the windows and on the counters have been turning up their saucy, pretty faces at you as you pass by for the past two or three weeks and many a prudent mother has had her summer supply sent home already knowing she would not find the same assortment later.

During the past few weeks in the hurry and bustle of unpacking case after case of New Goods, we have neglected to call your attention to our Boys' Clothing and Tailoring Department. In fact was it necessary? Our old customers know and the public generally are finding out that our tailor is very hard to beat in a fit and we never take a side seat on prices. Our importations of Cloths from across the boiling sea have arrived, and lay side by side with their Canadian Cousins. It is hard to say which is the prettiest or best, but the Scotch have the name of making the colors faster than we Canadians. We will not dispute their ability to-day. Our Tailoring Department is not what it was three years ago. It has grown amazingly, we mean it shall still grow by giving Good Goods, Proper Styles and Close Prices. Our Boys' Clothing is opened out. Boys, be happy. tell your parents of the fact and have them come in and pick your suit out. We are sure we can please them with the price. In the centre of the floor stands a table loaded with a job line of laces. When we say job we mean half price or under. They are all two and three cents a yard, take your choice. You cannot buy the same goods any where else less than five cents, and most of them you will pay ten cents for. The fashion sheets (which are free) for this month have arrived. A full assortment of Domestic Patterns kept.

Remember the days of our Millinery Opening when our store will be in its holiday attire, when all the novelties of the season will be displayed.

Six Speeches Yesterday — Mr. McCarthy Moves the Adjournment—The Imperial Government Will Not Interfere.

That an address be presented to the Governor-General setting forth that this House regards the power of disallowing the acts of legislation of the legislative assemblies of the provinces vested in His Excellency in-Council as a prerogative essential to the existence of the Dominion. That this great power, while it should never be wantonly exercised, should be fearlessly used for the protection of the fundamental principles of the constitution and for safe-guarding the general interests of the people.

That in the opinion of this House the passage of the act by the Legislature of the Province of Quebec, entitled "An Act respecting the Settlement of the Jesuits' Estates," is beyond the power of that Legislature.

Firstly, because it endows from public funds a religious organization, thereby violating the unwritten, but undoubted, constitutional principle of the complete separation of church and state, and of the absolute equality of all denominations before the law.

Secondly, because it recognizes the usurpation of a right by a foreign authority, namely, His Holiness the Pope of Rome, declaring his consent necessary to empower the Provincial Legislature to dispose of a portion of the public domain, and also because the act is made to depend on his will and the appropriation of the grant thereby made is subject to the control of the same authority, and

Thirdly, because the Society of Jesus is a secret and politico-religious body, the expulsion of which from every Christian community wherein it had had a footing was rendered necessary by its intolerant and mischievous intermeddling with the functions of civil government.

Therefore this House prays that His Excellency will be graciously pleased to disallow the act.

OTTAWA, March 26.—The galleries of the House to-day were crowded with spectators eager to hear the long-threatened debate on the Jesuit Estates Bill. The expectant multitude were not long kept in suspense. The House had not been sitting many minutes when amid intense silence the man from Shanty Bay, Col. William Edward O'Brien, moved the resolution printed above.

Col. O'Brien declared his desire to avoid the religious side of the question and to deal only with the constitutional aspect. He would not have undertaken the responsibility of bringing before the House such a delicate subject were it not that he felt he was expressing the conviction of the people he represented and of the great majority of the people of Ontario. Though elected as a supporter of this Administration he had, speaking in anticipation of just such an event as the present, said that regardless of consequences he would oppose any attempt on the part of any religious body to exercise powers not guaranteed by treaty.

He referred to the first establishment of the Jesuits in Canada and praised the sense of duty which animated them and led to their suffering martyrdom in their efforts to Christianize the Indians. But while we could only speak in terms of admiration of those who were carrying on the work in New France, the condition of affairs in the Old World was different and the society was subsequently suppressed because of the disfavor into which it had fallen. From the time of Elizabeth downwards the Jesuits had been proscribed in the British territories as a menace to the public peace and for their attempts to overthrow the Protestant succession. They had been expelled from nearly every country in Europe.

Considering all these things it was not surprising that the Jesuits had been regarded with disfavor and suspicion by England, and when the opinion of the law officers had been taken and it was found that the title to their estates in Canada had been confiscated, the Government had concluded that this was not a society which should be permitted to carry on their operations in Canada, and that their estates should not be handed back to them as had been done in the case of the other religious bodies. Having taken possession of the property the Crown executed the legal trust attached to the property and conveyed it to the Province of Quebec to be administered for educational purposes. In his correspondence Mr. Mercier admits that the Jesuits had no legal claim but only a moral one, but Mr. O'Brien contended that there was no claim whatever, moral or equitable. The estates had become the property of the Province for educational purposes, and having taken that trust the Province had now no right to dispose of it for any reason whatever.

Concerning the grounds for disallowance the first was that a fundamental principle of the constitution was violated by the endowment of any religious body. That principle was indisputably laid down; by the act for the secularization of the clergy reserves it was distinctly declared that there should be no semblance of a state-established church in Canada. It was not a proposition to be tolerated that grants to which the Presbyterian Church and the Church of England were entitled should be set aside for a principle and yet that the grant to this suppressed Society of Jesus should be restored to them.

By the British North America Act the Jesuits estates trust was recognized by the whole Dominion as a trust to be administered for educational purposes, and it could not now be claimed that it was a matter only for the Province of Quebec. As if to cover the defect in their title the Jesuits had left the disposition of the grant from the Quebec Legislature to be dealt with by the Pope, and, as shown by the correspondence, the Pope allowed the Quebec Government to dispose of the estates. He denied that the Province of Quebec enjoyed any constitutional liberty to appeal to the Pope, and declared that there were no civil or religious rights accorded by the Quebec Act that were not controlled by the act of supremacy.

It had been said that though this Society of Jesus had once been bad, it had thrown off its evil habits and was now a society worthy of encouragement, but if the weapons it used were different the end sought to be accomplished was the same. The society was as dangerous as in the past, and in this free country it was not proper to encourage a society which inculcates principles dangerous to the public welfare. He realized that the verdict of the House would be against his resolution, but he was willing to appeal from the jury of the House to the jury of the people, who he thought would unmistakably declare that no foreign authority, civil or religious, should be allowed to have any voice in its government.

Mr. Rykert rose to reply. Declaring himself an Orangeman, he ridiculed the threats made in certain newspapers of Ontario against such of the members of that order as should dare to oppose disallowance in this House. It was one of the first principles of the Orange Order that civil and religious liberty should be maintained, but while contending for such liberty he did not feel called upon to join the alliance which had been formed against his Roman Catholic fellow citizens. He thought that a canvass of the people of Ontario would show that a large majority of the people of that province took the same view of the question. He pointed out that the inevitable result of the encouragement of an Ontario crusade against Roman Catholicism would be a crusade in the Province of Quebec against Protestantism, and that every Protestant would be [illegible] from that province.

He dwelt at some length upon what he termed the extraordinary course of The Globe on this question, and characterized The Mail as even more extraordinary in the stand it had taken of late upon every question affecting the interests of the French-Canadian and Roman Catholic people.

Referring to the agitation which had been raised in favor of appealing to the Queen to disallow the act, he declared that this power of Her Majesty applied only to acts passed by the Dominion Parliament, not to those passed by provincial legislatures. He cited authorities to show the inadvisability of Dominion interference in legislation within the competence of the provincial legislatures.

Mr. Rykert, continuing after recess, cited instances to show the impossibility of Imperial interference with provincial legislation, notably in the case of the memorial from New Brunswick in 1875, when Lord Carnarvon replied that though he had laid the petition before the Queen Her Majesty's ministers could not advise her to pass judgment upon an act of a provincial legislature.

He considered that there was no question of Dominion policy involved in this and that it was unwise and unexpected for the House to discuss such a question in the manner in which this had been presented.

Mr. Barron expressed regret that on this measure he had to vote against the party with which he had worked so harmoniously since his entry into the House and to vote against his political leader and combat his opinion. He was in taking this step imbued with no hatred of the Jesuits or of the Roman Catholics, among whom he had many warm friends. He had no sympathy with the clamor which had been raised outside the House with respect to the question, clamor which might be right or wrong but did not meet with his approval. He objected, however, that in this act the Pope was made the end of this legislation, that this foreign potentate had been given the right to veto a British act of parliament. We were taught that the right of assenting or dissenting to legislation was so peculiar a prerogative of the crown that the sovereign herself could not delegate it.

He held that the statute of Elizabeth had distinctly disavowed the jurisdiction of the Pope in Canada, that the treaty of Paris had not repealed the statute of Elizabeth, and that this was recognized in the Quebec Act of 1774, which granted the right to exercise the Catholic religion subject to the King's supremacy as provided by the act passed in the reign of Elizabeth.

The statute went on to talk about restitution, but it was impossible to restore anything except to some person who had previous possession of it. He claimed that the present Jesuit Society had nothing whatever to do with the society from whom the estates had been taken. That society had been dissolved by Parliament and by the Pope. The act incorporating them in 1887 made no reference whatever to their right to this particular property. This was not taken from the Jesuits at the time of the conquest as the statute said, and this Government should not have allowed the act to become law without having it amended in this particular.

He denied that the provinces had the right to make money grants to denominational institutions. He quoted Sir John Macdonald's contention in support of the disallowance of the Rivers and Streams bill, that all bills should be disallowed which injuriously affected the interests of the general community, and asked if anything more than religion affected the general interest.

Mr. Clarke Wallace took exception to the statement of Mr. Rykert that the organs of the Orange Order had threatened those members who might vote against disallowance. He declared that the order had but one organ and that one had shown a moderation in this discussion which might well be copied outside the order and by the occupants of several pulpits. He thought Mr. Rykert must have had in his mind The Toronto Globe threatening those members of the Liberal party who were not of its opinion.

Article 32 of the Treaty of Paris made provisions for granting religious liberties to the French-Canadians, but to the Jesuits, the Recollets and the House of Ste. Sulpice Lord Amherst withheld consent until the wish of the King in the matter should be known. The orders to the Governor in 1775 were that the Society of the Jesuits be suppressed and that their property shall be vested in the Crown, but that they might enjoy their property during their natural lives. In 1773 a brief from the Pope of Rome provided that the Society of the Jesuits should be suppressed and abolished. He thought no stronger evidence could be given of the character of that Society than that which had been given by Pope Clementine.

But they were told that the society was restored. In Canada they were restored but in no other country. In other countries they were not only not allowed to hold property but the society was abolished. In 1887 they find here an act incorporating the society, and in 1888 they found that there was an act passed by the Quebec Legislature not only allowing the sale of their property but allowing the disposal of the money in any manner they thought best. He had looked carefully over the Act of Confederation and he was unable to find any provision under which any legislature was empowered to vote money for any religious denomination. It would be a lamentable thing if a law was passed giving any province more power in such a matter than any other province.

Mr. Colby said in the discussion of the question he did not think it was necessary to go into the record of that remarkable body of men, the Jesuits, nor would he go into the fine legal points which had been raised. The proposition now before the House was an implied censure of the Government for not having disallowed an act of the Quebec Legislature, and an instruction to disallow it. This veto power should be exercised with the greatest consideration and only when it appeared that there was a positive necessity. It was a serious matter to interfere with the vote of a local legislature, especially in a case like this where the most sensitive feelings of the people of the Province were touched.

Though once suppressed this order of the Jesuits had a legal status in Quebec at present, so that an attack upon that order was an attack upon the entire body of the Roman Catholic Church. We must recognize the fact that it was the church we were asked to attack and not an obnoxious body of that church. So with all such legislation as proposed we must make up our mind to deliberately attack the religious sentiments of the majority in Quebec. We must consider, in view of the effect upon the harmony and prosperity of the country, the effect of creating a religious hostility in the country which would loose the paper bond which now binds the Confederation.

There was a grave and serious doubt as to our right to disallow. There was the grave and serious opinion of the Minister of Justice; we had the opinion of men eminent in this House and country differing from the Government on almost every point, but agreeing with them that there was a doubt about the right to disallow such an act. There being the doubt should suffice to make us pause.

He believed it was the duty of Parliament to avoid every cause of offence to the Provinces. The constitution had already stood several severe strains, but where religious strife was involved we must act very, very carefully lest we precipitate a crisis the consequences of which can but faintly be imagined.

He had no doubt that the very zealous Protestants in some sections felt that the Protestants of Quebec had been very apathetic in the matter of the passage of this Jesuits Bill. He did not believe the Protestants of that Province were disloyal to Protestant ideas, but they had for many years been associated closely with their Roman Catholic fellow-citizens and any religious animosities had been worn away by contact. If they differed they differed quietly, not making themselves obnoxious to each other. That was a happy condition of affairs which the Protestants of Quebec did not desire to see disturbed. There never was a minority more generously treated than had been the minority of Quebec. They had been permitted the entire management of their own affairs. They had not been conscious that they were a minority. The Liberal party for many years adopted a Protestant for their leader, the Treasurer of the Province had for long years been a Protestant—Mr. Robertson. The Protestant minority had nothing to complain of and they did not wish to provoke an issue which would disturb those pleasant relations.

Hon. Peter Mitchell said for one he intended to vote on the side of the Government. He told how the Protestant minority in the Province of Quebec had allowed the act to be passed without taking a division upon it, and this being the case he thought there was no justification for the clamor which had been raised in another province, ostensibly on behalf of the rights of the Quebec minority. It would ever be his wish to promote harmony and peace between Protestants and Roman Catholics. He was glad to say the Government had justified the course they had pursued.

Mr. McCarthy moved the adjournment of the debate and the House adjourned at 11.20.

Entirely a Matter for Canada.

LONDON, March 26.—A memorial from the Protestant Alliance was presented to-day to Lord Knutsford, Secretary of State for the Colonies, asking the Government to disallow the Quebec Jesuits Estates Act. Lord Knutsford said the matter rested entirely with the Canadian Government, to which the memorial would be forwarded.

WM. H. HARVEY MURDERS HIS WIFE AND TWO DAUGHTERS

They are Found Dead in Their Own Home —The Assassin Goes to Toronto to Kill His Son and is Arrested.

GUELPH, March 26.—A sensation was created in the city this morning when a report spread that W. H. Harvey, bookkeeper for J. W. Lyon, and at one time accountant for E. R. C. Clarkson, Toronto, had been arrested for embezzling $400 from J. W. Lyon, the book publisher. He was bailed out by Dr. Lett. About four o'clock this afternoon the sensation of the morning was magnified in an intense degree by another report that Harvey had shot his wife and two children.

Harvey during the forenoon had purchased a revolver at John M. Bond & Co., but what terrible use he was to make of the weapon was never dreamed of until this afternoon, when one of the most awful tragedies that ever occurred in Canada was revealed. The tragedy was discovered by Chief of Police Randall and Constable Elliott going to the house after an unsuccessful attempt before three o'clock by the latter to effect an entrance. About half-past three the chief and the constable went to Harvey's residence in Woolwich-street.

It is a long narrow cottage-looking building with two stories in front and a one story addition at the rear. On entering the front door the stairway ascends on one side the narrow hall, and the parlor is on the other side. The hall runs into a well-lighted and spacious sitting room with a bedroom off it behind the parlor. Behind the sitting-room is the dining-room. Back of that again is the kitchen and a clothes-room in the rear corner. Upstairs there is a front bedroom with closets, and a couple of other bedrooms. The chief found the house locked at both doors, but by raising the window at the back made his way inside.

All was as silent as the grave. He passed through the kitchen, dining and sitting rooms, looked into the parlor and then went up stairs where the first object on which his eyes rested as he turned to the front was Mr. Harvey's fair-haired daughter of twelve or thirteen years lying on the floor of the front bedroom with her head in a pool of blood by the closet door. The bloody hole in her head at once told the means by which she had met her death. The chief raised the little one's head from its cramped position and laid it on a pillow.

Turning from this awful sight he went through the upper hall and in the back bedroom found the eldest daughter lying beside the bed, also stone dead.

Horrified, the chief went downstairs and in the clothes room off the kitchen found Mrs. Harvey stretched at full length with a similar awful bullet wound. A further search through the house revealed nothing more, and no trace was found of the author of the dreadful triple murder. The last seen of him was as he was walking towards the Exhibition Grounds shortly after twelve o'clock. Though many are on his track no trace of him has yet been discovered.

The news spread like wildfire and in a few moments after the house was surrounded by an excited crowd. The doors were locked and only those interested admitted.

About half-past nine this morning Harvey went into J. M. Bond & Co's' store. Being well known the clerk had no hesitation in selling him a pistol. Harvey asked for "a good revolver" and he was shown the best goods in this class. Harvey stated that it was for a young man whom Mr. Lyon had employed to go to Mexico and that the revolver was to be charged to Mr. Lyon. The one he picked on was a 32 double action silver plated Smith & Wesson make. He also bought 50 cartridges, 33 calibre. The clerk states that Harvey seemed perfectly rational, and knowing him so well he had no hesitation whatever in selling him the revolver. When the story of his defalcation was known this morning the proprietors having a doubt about the propriety of Harvey having the revolver informed the police.

Dr. Howitt was the first physician who was present. He arrived about 4 o'clock. He stated that the scene was one of the most harrowing he had ever witnessed. Lying in a back pantry off the kitchen was the mother shot through the head from behind, and upstairs in the bedroom in the rear portion of the house was the eldest daughter, about 20 or 21 years of age, lying on the foot of the bed also shot from behind. In the room facing the front street was the other daughter, a young girl about twelve years of age, lying dead in the entrance to a closet. Evidently she had been going into the closet when she was shot. The doctor is of opinion that the victims had been shot four or five hours before they were discovered.

Harvey has a son a lithographer in Toronto. He was warned to beware, as it was suspected, and as subsequent events verified, that the murderer would also take his son's life.

Some Later Developments.

GUELPH, March 26.—Later developments throw no light as to the motive for the crime. He went to the central school about 11 o'clock this morning and took his youngest daughter home. His son J. W. Harvey, a lithographer in Toronto, whose address is supposed to be 40 Colborne-street, was notified and is expected here to-night. Harvey was superintendent of St. George's Church Sunday School.

CAPTURED IN TORONTO.

Detective Black Arrests the Murderer at King and Yonge-streets.

TORONTO, March 27.—The Guelph murderer, is a prisoner in a well-watched cell at Police Headquarters. He was arrested at 9.30 last evening on the southeast corner of Yonge and King-streets, immediately in front of J. E. Ellis & Co.'s jewelry store. The arrest was made quietly, and the few people who witnessed it little imagined that the man who was being hustled briskly along the south side of King-street towards the Central Police Station was the man who but a few hours before had steeped his hands in the blood of his wife and two daughters. In fact those who saw the incident paid but little attention to it, being under the impression that it was but a case of ordinary drunk.

To Detective Black belongs the credit of capturing the murderer. The circumstances are peculiar, proving that Inspector Stark's acuteness had practically sized up the situation. At 2.45 yesterday afternoon the Detective Department received a despatch from Guelph stating that William H. Harvey was wanted for embezzlement, and requesting that a sharp lookout be kept for him here, as it was suspected that he was heading for Toronto. Following close on the heels of the first telegram came a second bringing the information that to the crime of embezzlement Harvey had added that of the more frightful one of murder, and that his victims were his wife and two daughters. The despatch further stated that it was feared that, having murdered his wife and children in Guelph, he might be making for Toronto to kill his son, who was residing in this city.

Inspector Stark discovered that the son, J. W. Harvey, was employed with C. A. Sandham, engraver, at 40 Colborne-street, but before he could be seen personally he had left for Guelph, taking the 6 o'clock train, evidently even then being in complete ignorance of the terrible tragedy. Fearing that the murderer might proceed to the boarding-house of the son at No. 25 Grosvenor-street, Detective Black was detailed to go up there and await developments. This was about 8.30. At 8.45 an electric despatch messenger boy arrived at the house with the following message addressed to the son:

MY DEAR BOY: I am in town for the night. Will you come down and stay all night with me? Walk down the west side of Yonge and north side of King to Palmer House. I may come up to meet you. YOUR FATHER.

After telephoning this information to Inspector Stark, Detective Black, accompanied by two young men who knew the murderer, walked leisurely down Yonge-street, keeping a sharp lookout for him. At the south-east corner of Yonge and King-streets the officer spied his man. He was walking leisurely up and down the sidewalk with his hands in the pockets of his mackintosh and leisurely smoking a cigar. Every now and then he would glance nervously up Yonge-street, evidently on the lookout for his son. After observing him for some minutes in order to be sure that there was no mistake, Detective Black after calling in the assistance of Policeman Leonard stepped forward to make the arrest.

Harvey was facing due east when the detective, coming close up to him, seized his right arm at the wrist and informed him that he was a prisoner. The next moment, before the murderer had time to realize the situation, Policeman Leonard had control of his left hand. Realizing the desperate character of the man both officers kept a tight grip, removing the hands from the pockets of the waterproof and propelling him gently along King-street to headquarters. He made no resistance, but strode along with his head between his shoulders. When opposite Walker's store he halted for a moment and said "Boys, don't haul me along." This was the last he had to say, maintaining a dogged silence all the rest of the way.

Chief Grasett had witnessed the arrest on the corner of King and Yonge-streets, and received the important prisoner in the office of the station. Detective Black made a thorough search of his clothes, to which operation the prisoner submitted without a word of protest or single indignant look. From his inner clothing were taken a mass of papers, letters, etc., $28.98 in money, three penknives and several cigars. He was still chewing his cigar and on the station duty man removing it from his lips to place it with the others he made a slight protest, and was allowed to keep it.

The pistol, from the barrel of which there is little doubt the three fatal shots were fired, was found in the left-hand pocket of the prisoner's mackintosh. Examination showed that it held three unexploded charges and three exploded ones, the shells of the latter being still in the cylinder. The weapon was an elegant little affair, 32 calibre, mother-of-pearl handle and nickel-plated. In the same pocket were found two boxes of cartridges, six being missing. The revolver, ammunition and property were wrapped up in a newspaper and consigned to the care of Inspector Stark.

Harvey is fully six feet in height, large somewhat cloudy-looking eyes, gray beard, cut fairly close, and fairly heavy build. His age is apparently 55 or 60, and altogether he has a gentlemanly appearance and looks the last man to be guilty of the terrible deed laid to his charge. On being questioned as to his name, age and nationality he mumbled a few incoherent words, which when asked to repeat he refused, shaking his head. As registered on the slate the entry runs as follows: "WILLIAM H. HARVEY. English. Age 55. Charge: Murder. Property: $28.98, and a revolver."

After undergoing a thorough search the prisoner was conducted to a small cell on the ground floor adjacent to the cell in which females are placed. He made no protest, but as soon as he got inside sat down on the solitary stool, and buried his face in his hands. All through the proceedings Harvey seemed to be in a dazed condition and not to realize his awful position. The only time that he betrayed any emotion was when the revolver was taken from him. He followed it with a dogged kind of glance, and an expression which seemed to betoken regret that he could not use it on himself. The police are fully alive to the importance of the capture, and Inspector Stephen placed a man on duty before the cell to see that he does not do himself violence.

The police have little doubt but that Harvey intended to kill his son on sight and then shoot himself. Their impression is that he is not in his right mind, but from what cause it is hard to say. What is puzzling them particularly is at what hour he arrived in Toronto.

However, the most probable theory is that Harvey came to town on the Grand Trunk express from the west, which is due at 7.25 p.m. Last evening that train was 30 minutes late and it was 8 o'clock before it reached Union station. The train was in charge of Conductor John Morrison of 92½ Farley-avenue. Harvey, it is supposed, after committing his awful crime, is supposed to have walked towards Toronto on the Grand Trunk tracks to either Rockwood, Acton or Limehouse and there boarded Conductor Morrison's train. He would have about five hours to reach any of these stations, the furthest of which is thirteen miles from Guelph.

At 1.15 this morning a reporter called at the residence of Conductor Morrison and after having given a minute description of the murderer asked if he had seen such a man on board. He replied that although a few passengers had come on both at Rockwood and Acton he observed none answering to Harvey's description. In addition to this there were several passengers, residents of Guelph, aboard, among whom was Mr. Charles Auld, who was on his way to Montreal. As Conductor Morrison pointed out, had Harvey been on board either Mr. Auld or one of the other Guelph residents must have recognized him. The conductor also mentioned in addition that attached to his train were six colonist cars. But at St. George he had given strict instructions that none but colonists were to be admitted. In spite of this, however, it is possible that the murderer gained access to one of these coaches. It is also within the limits of probability that he secreted himself in the baggage car. Mr. Morrison stated that several stock trains followed the express and he opined that Harvey might have got aboard one of these. Another theory advanced by Mr. Morrison was that the murderer took passage on the C. P. R., a branch line of which road runs from Guelph, but this is out of the question as the C.P.R. train only arrives in Toronto at 9 p.m. and it is beyond doubt that Harvey was in the city long before that hour.

The story told by the employes of the Great Northwestern despatch office in King-street is to this effect. At about 8.50 in the evening a big stout man, who is supposed to be Harvey, came in and asked for the directory. He was given it and after looking over it for a minute he wrote a letter and addressed it to "Harvey" at 25 Grosvenor-street. At 8.55 a boy started out with the message, Harvey giving the boy car fare up and down, after saying that he would call later for an answer which he expected. When the boy reached No. 25 Grosvenor-street he rang the bell and asked for "Mr. Harvey." He handed the message to a young man who said he was Mr. Harvey, and who took it in. A moment later another man came to the door and signed the receipt with the name of "J. M. McKim."

As far as can be learned, Harvey came to this country some sixteen or seventeen years ago. He was born in England and married there. He first came to Montreal, where he resided for some time; whence he came to Toronto with Mr. John Livingstone, late of the Dominion Bolt Works, where Harvey was employed as bookkeeper at one time. After the bolt works crash Harvey was supposed to have lost what little he had.

Mr. R. H. Tomlinson of 368 Sherbourne-street rendered Harvey pecuniary assistance at this time and was the means of obtaining employment for him with E. R. C. Clarkson of this city. While in Toronto he occasionally did some work at the Board of Trade books. He resided at 143 Winchester-street. He is supposed to have left for Guelph about the fall of 1887, where he got employment with Lyon & Co. Harvey was a graduate of either the University of Cambridge or Oxford and his wife was the daughter of an English clergyman. He was about 50 years of age and leaves one son, William, who resides with Mr. Robert McKim, 25 Grosvenor-street, and is in the employ of Charles Sandham, wood engraver of this city.

The youngest daughter's photograph shows her to have been a remarkably pretty child. Her face is full and round and her hair falls in abundance around her forehead and down over her shoulders. The mother has a pleasant face and a well-developed figure. The elder daughter has no distinctive features. She is simply a girl in her teens.

AGRICULTURAL SUBJECTS

DISCUSSED AT A WEST RIDING INSTITUTE MEETING.

Value of Underdraining—Agricultural Education—Dairy Farming and Ensilage—The Clydesdale Stallion—How to Keep Boys on the Farm.

THE CLYDESDALE STALLION.

Mr. J. A. Davidson, the Secretary, read a paper by Mr. R. D. Dundas, as follows:—The Clydesdale stallion should be about 16½ hands high and weigh, in moderate flesh, 1,800 pounds. His head is a moderate size—not too puny looking, nor yet clumsy—but wide between the eyes; ears medium length and active; eye large, full and bright, expressive of both mildness and vigor; neck, good length and well arched, but not necessarily extra high for draught purposes; shoulder should be deep and powerful and not too perpendicular, or the action of the fore leg will be hampered; fore arm should be strong and heavily muscled; the knee, broad; cannon bone strong, short and broad from side view; pasterns good fair length and well sloped forward; feet pretty large and well spread, with heels prominent and tough in substance; hair on legs should be soft and silky looking—avoid coarse, matted hair and round bones; chest should be full and broad; back short and pretty straight, with ribs well sprung and coming well down on the flank; avoid long bodies, wasp waists and loose couplings; hindquarters should be lengthy, broad and powerful; thighs strong and well covered with muscle; hocks broad, clean and free from all appearance of fleshiness; legs, flat and strong, descending almost perpendicularly from point of hock to pastern point; pasterns tolerably long and sloping well forward. If pasterns are too short and steep the action cannot be free. In walking, the Clydesdale should have a long, swinging, rapid gait; and when trotting he should bend the fore knees well and move square and straight, getting well over the ground. The action of draught horses is not closely enough scrutinized in the country, many people's minds being carried away by an extra high headed animal going at a furious rate for a short distance, while he may neither have square action or staying powers—qualities of far greater importance. The Clydesdale horse never was more popular than at the present time, and should the same care be exercised by the Canadians as has heretofore been done by our Scotch friends it will have the good effect of diminishing from time to time the number of unsound horses in this country. It may possibly appear invidious to mention names, but in the last decade there has appeared quite a number of Clydesdale stallions that have earned for themselves almost a world-wide fame and whose offspring could usually be calculated on for possessing the following very desirable qualities in combination, viz. style, symmetry, substance, perfect shape, powers of endurance and first-class action. These horses are:—"Prince of Wales," "Topsman," "Time O'Day," "Top Gallant," "McGregor," "General Neil," "Belted Knight," and "Lord Erskine," as being well worthy to be placed in the same category. We should also name the well known "Darnley," "Old Times," "Farmer," the trio "Prince Charlie," "McKean's," and "Dunmore," and last but not least the great "Lord Lyons."

A discussion arose as to the insurance of foals, and the recent action of the horsemen, but no action was taken.

BOYS AND THE FARM.

Mr. R. E. Birdsall read a paper on "How to Keep Boys on the Farm." He contrasted the position of farmers with that of merchants to the advantage of the former. A farmer should be an educated man in the subjects pertaining to his business, and they were numerous, for he should know something of veterinary, architecture, etc. He would have an agricultural class in the schools and have an examination for them and certificates awarded. He dwelt on the importance of comfortable and genial home life and home recreations and amusements in keeping the boys on the farm. The local paper and educational journals would be useful. Boys on the farm should not be deprived of the holidays enjoyed by others, and besides giving all there was he would add another, Arbor Day. A boy should not be discouraged by being given the roughest work and should be given encouragement by being given an interest in the business. His ambition should be stimulated to excel in some branch of farming, and they would stay on the farm.

THE SCHOOL SYSTEM.

Mr. J. A. Davidson moved, seconded by M. A. Ross, a resolution endorsing the half day school system proposed by Mr. Brown. The motion was lost by a vote of 9 to 10.

On motion of Mr. T. T. Bell a vote of thanks was tendered to those, especially those from a distance, who had read papers, and to the press.

On motion of Mr. H. Davidson, a resolution was adopted endorsing the Scott Act, and the meeting adjourned.

Death From Bleeding.

John Drake, a young man well known around town, died this morning, death being caused by a continued bleeding at the nose. The deceased is the son of old Mrs. Sarah Drake, who is probably one of the oldest residents in the town.

Not Guilty of Misappropriation.

The man, Paxton Brown, who was brought in last week from Dummer, to stand his trial on a charge of fraud and who elected to be tried summarily before Judge Weller, came up for trial at the court house this morning. David Rose, it seems, had a chattel mortgage on Brown's goods and he was charged with doing away with these goods. Judge Weller found him not guilty and acquitted him. Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. W. H. Moore was present for the defence.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

The Farewells.

There was a great crowd at the C.P.R. station last evening to say good-bye to the colonists who were leaving for the Northwest, many of them having remained over from the 1.30 train until the 5.50. Those leaving were mostly young men and appeared to be of the proper stamp for a new country.

Who is the Assignee.

The sale of the stock of Porter Bros. did not take place to-day according to advertisement. A dispute has arisen as to who is really the proper asignee. Porter Bros. first made an assignment to Mr. R. H. Fortye and subsequently to the Sheriff and the question is who is the legal assignee. A motion was made before the courts in Toronto this morning to have the date of the sale enlarged, and judgment was entered enlarging the sale for one week. The defendants then put in a motion to set aside the first judgment and an order was granted that the sale should go on. However, the first judgment was received here and the sale of course postponed, and it was not until two hours after the appointed time for the sale that the subsequent judgment allowing the sale to go on was received. The trustees, therefore, decided to postpone the sale for one week.

Carters in Court.

A dispute between two carters was settled by the Magistrate at the Police Court this morning. Harry Wills laid an information against Jos. Langford, charging the latter with using abusive language towards him. It appeared from the stories of the two carters that they met on the road near the corner of Sherbrooke and Park-sts. and collided. Wills got off his cart and went back and blamed the collision on Langford, while the latter claimed that he was on his right side and and could not have turned out any more on account of the drain that was along his side of the street. A few words passed between the two men, and Langford swore that Wills used worse language towards him that he did towards Wills. The worst he said to Wills was "You think your a h——l of a fellow sitting up on that high seat," and then he told him to go to a place where the weather was a little warmer. The Magistrate said he could not see that there was any great personal abuse, although the language was not the nicest, but he thought they should settle such little disputes amicably, the same as two lawyers would.

HATS!

Hats, gentlemen, Hats!

In the name of People, Hats!

And why, Hats!

The Hat is the badge of respectability, the trade mark of civilization—that is any kind of a decent Hat. And properly, too.

Let us consider this question of Hats.

Had Bonaparte paused on the way to Waterloo to select a new Hat the result might have been different.

Had Christopher Columbus worn a shabby Hat, could he have made the fine impression he did on landing in Amerikay. No much. Not any.

Had Julius Cæsar carried a neat and taking head cover, his untimely decease might have been indefinitely postponed. History is jam full of incidents that point to the necessity of wearing a good Hat.

Men have been crossed in love, fallen off scaffolds, been beaten at the polls, arrested on suspicion, failed in business, and lost the respect of their fellow citizens by wearing a bad Hat.

The moral of all this is, come to us for your Hats. It's a new department with us, and a mighty good one. It's good because its new, and wholly new and good. We do nothing by halves. See our Stock. See what we offer in Style, Material, Shape and Finish. You can take your pick of the Best Goods by the Best Makers. We discount the Town on Hats.

The Talk of the Town

The people are wondering why Elliott & Tierney are giving 18 lbs. bright sugar for $1, and selling teas and other goods so much cheaper than any house in Peterborough. Call at the Palace Grocery and examine the goods, which will convince you. The "Palace" is the place to get best values. Great stock-taking sale now going on.

A Cow's Costly Call.

Another cow case was up before the Magistrate this morning. Dennis Donovan, it was said, had allowed the bovine to be at large and it meandered on to a lawn and left its footprints in the sands and a complaint was lodged against its owner. Mr. Donovan stated that his boy was with the cow all the time, but the Magistrate said that made no difference as the by-law said they should not be at large and fined him $2 and costs—$4.10.

How is It,

is the general remark passed by people when they call on W. J. Morrow, you sell cheaper than others. Why your 18 pound Sugar for $1 00 is so much lighter, and really your 25 cent Tea equal to tea I pay 35 cents for elsewhere? Pay no attention to those who are becoming jealous of the extensive trade, offering you inducements only as a catch, but come to us, as you have done in the past, and secure the very finest of goods at the lowest prices, and be convinced that we are the only cheap house in town. Bear in mind we always have something special for Saturdays.

The Lost is Found Working.

The 14-year old boy, William Small, from Port Hope, who was reported as having left his home and come to Peterborough and for whom the police wanted information, has been located. A farmer who had read in one of the evening papers of the boy's runaway, came to the police station this morning and reported that the boy had lived with a farmer in North Monaghan. Word has been sent to his parents in Port Hope. The young fellow was not long in finding work, as he only came here on Thursday last. The far reaching press again came to the aid of the police.

Improving the Grand Junction.

The Grand Trunk authorities have decided to make another improvement in the Grand Junction line by diverting the line through the village of Campbellford to the south of the village. At present the track runs to the north, and besides being longer than necessary, there are a couple of dangerous crossings and not enough yard room at the station. The new line will leave the present track a little this side of the station, at the gravel pit, and will cross the river near the cricket field, by the island in the river. It will follow a gap through the hill on the east side and connect with the present line again over the hill. A new bridge 300 feet long will be built across the Trent. The new line will be a mile long and it will save one-third of a mile in distance. Work on this change will will be begun as soon as the necessary plans are completed. A new station building will be erected on the west side of the river, and a siding will be laid to the paper mills. The paper mill siding will relieve much of the congestion at the station and there will be more available space on the new station grounds. Mr. Somerville, of the Engineer's office, went to Campbellford yesterday to complete the plans.

SHOWING THE LATEST STYLES.

has just returned from the Montreal and Toronto markets, having secured the latest novelties and goods for her Millinery and Mantle Departments. Miss Delaney's special object in visiting Toronto was to purchase a fine assortment of New York novelties, which have just been placed on the market at the wholesale centres. They comprise the latest styles in Bonnets, Hats, Trimmings, Mantles and Mantle Cloths. The materials are new, rich and handsome. The new Dolmanetts are strikingly stylish, while the Jet Vistes are a special thing this season. ON WEDNESDAY AND FOUR SUCCEEDING DAYS OF THIS WEEK Miss Delaney will be pleased to have ladies call and inspect the array of handsome styles. Personal inspection will alone afford a clear idea of the beauty of the goods, the freshness of the stock and the ample preparation made to meet the wishes of customers. 3d72-1w12

STORY OF A CONVERSION

MR. RICHARD WINCH TELLS OF HIS TURNING.

A Father's Words Prove True—Three Brothers on the Platform—Converted on a Country Road in November—Rev. Mr. Hunter Speaks About Earthly Treasures—Rev. Mr. Crossley's Address—Many Moved to Tears.

St. Paul's church was literary besieged last night by a crowd that would have almost filled two such edifices comfortably. What caused the unusual crush may be easily surmised, as Mr. Richard Winch, of Cobourg, a gentleman who is known in Peterboroug as well probably as any man in the town, was to give his experience and men were attracted to the church who had never been there before. Those who gained an entrance were not disappointed, for they heard Mr. Winch tell the story of his conversion in a manner that brought the tears to many eyes. Seated on the platform were three brothers, all of whom have experienced conversion through the evangelists' meetings, Messrs. Harry, Fred and Richard Winch.

Rev. Mr. Crossley sang his first solo, as he said, specially for the Scotch people who were present—"The land O'Leal."

THE GOSPEL A, B, C.

Rev. Mr. Hunter prefaced the evening lesson with a few remarks, in which he said there were a great many who had never learned the A, B, C, of of the Gospel. He told them what the A, B, C, stood for. "A"—"All have sinned and come short of the glory of God." "B"—"Behold the Lamb of God who taketh away the sin of the world." "C"—"Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." He then read the evening lesson from the sixth chapter of Matthew, beginning at the nineteenth verse, where it says, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth." The evangelist said they could always tell what a person's treasure was by what he talked about. Some men were living just to pile up money, and never thinking of laying up a treasure in Heaven. They should spread the money as they went along. There were some people whose hearts were converted but their pockets were not. Some of them were hoarding up the gold for their children and these same children, knowing that they had so many thousand dollars, were wishing that

THE OLD MAN WOULD HURRY UP AND DIE.

He would think he had almost committed the unpardonable sin if he were to leave a son more than $5,000. Some of them loved money so much that they squeezed a coin until it almost squealed before they would part with it. In Winnipeg they had taken up a collection of $80, and there were only three cent pieces on the plate, and some of the Winnipeg friends had remarked to them "Brethren, there must have been three men followed you here from Ontario." He wanted them not to lay up so much here on earth but to have more in heaven. He then, as he said, gave a slight hint that Mr. Crossley and himself were fond of flowers and always had them in other places on the platform. When he came to the 25th verse, "Take no thought of your life, what ye shall eat," that was as far as some of them got. "What ye shall drink," this was what was troubling some of those red-nosed men. He said he had seen in a local paper that a certain hotel keeper had paid in $2,000 for licenses. Two thousand in one balance, said the evangelist, and one hundred broken hearts and broken characters in the other. "Two thousand dollars for your boy! My God save this town from this scathing, blasting, damning curse of devils. I hate this with an enternal hatred and will fight it to the bitter end."

Rev. Mr. Crossley then sang by request, a very beautiful and touching solo entitled "The Two Lives."

Prayer was then offered for a large number of special requests.

REASONS FOR NOT BEING CHRISTIANS.

Rev. Mr. Crossley then took for the basis of his address the words in which, he said, Paul gives his experience:—

"Whose I am and whom I serve."

The rev. gentleman then, in his usual lucid and earnest style, pointed out several reasons why people were not Christians, one of which was that many had a wrong idea of Christanity. Persons thought that Christanity was to fit them for death, but this was a most erroneous idea as it was to fit them for life that Jesus died. Oftentimes as Christians, they blundered and asked people to get ready to die, when Christanity didn't get a man ready to die but to live. This was the reason that he thought that many death-bed repentances were not genuine, because the person was thinking of death and hell and not of his sins, and he said he did not believe any of them would be so contemptible as to throw the dregs of their faith into God's face on a death bed and ask for mercy. The rev. gentleman interspersed his sermon with several appropriate hymns and closed by singing "Jesus Loves Poor Sinners."

THE STORY OF A CONVERSION.

Rev. Mr. Hunter said God had given him evidence that his children would be with him in Heaven, and the three brothers (pointing to the three Winch brothers) sitting side by side on the platform, was an evidence that a father's prayers had been answered.

Mr. Richard Winch then stepped to the front of the platform and in an interesting, convincing and impressive manner told of his conversion, and as he finished there were few dry eyes in the church. In opening he said he would ask for their sympathies and prayers while in a feeble way he attempted to tell them of his conversion. He said when he looked around he saw many old friends of his whose heads had been silvered over in the journey through life and other faces of friends were missing—friends who had gone over the river. He had many friends in Peterborough who were near and dear to him and the name itself was always and ever would be a green spot in his memory. Having been born in the town, in a log house on George-st. just about where Henry Best's store now stands, it was here that he had grown up from childhood to boyhood and had gone to the old log school house which stood just east of that church. He had gone on from boyhood to manhood and then left the town and had been gone a number of years, but had come back to the town to be born again the second time. He had responded cheerfully to the request of Brothers Crossley and Hunter to give his experience, and his only object in so doing was that he might, through God, be instrumental in bringing nearer the cross some of those who were going on in the sinful way in which he had been. It was about two and a half years since Messrs. Crossley and Hunter had gone to Cobourg. He went to hear them the first time out of curiosity and was much pleased with the concise and plain way of preaching of Bro. Crossley, and was much taken up with the racy comments of Bro. Hunter. He went to the meetings regularly at first, but when they began to put those very pointed questions to the audience, asking those who were Christians or loved the Lord to stand up, and while others stood up and he was sitting down and did not like that way of doing things and decided not to go any more. Mr Winch went on and told of his striving with his feelings, and how he went to the meetings once or twice again and always felt so conspicuous when the crowd would stand up and leave him sitting in his seat, but he said he had decided that he would never stand up as a Christian until he felt prepared to see the end of a Christian's life. Things went on in this way until a certain Sunday night when he went to the meeting and decided to stay to the after meeting and see the thing out. Bro. Hunter, he said, was pleading earnestly to the unconverted and it seemed to him that it was himself that the pleadings were intended for. But he would not stand up, but decided then and there, that he would give his soul to God on Monday night. The next morning he had to come to Peterborough and drive down into Otonabee to buy some cattle. He came to Peterborough, got a horse and rig and was driving along just about half a mile out of Ashburnham, smoking his pipe, when it seemed from the direction of Cobourg, saying distinctly and plainly, "Winch, give me your heart!" He said, "Hold on until I get up and down this hill." He went on until he came to the bottom of the hill, and the voice came to him again, saying, "Winch, give me your heart!" He answered again "Hold on until I get up and down this hill." He went on, when the voice came to him a third time and said, "Winch, give me thy heart!" The answer he gave was, "Oh, Lord, I will. Oh, Lord, Thou knowest I have not prayed to you for thirty years, and I ask you to hear and answer my prayer." People might think it strange, he said, that he had not prayed in so many years, but he never believed in giving God lip service when he couldn't do it from the heart. He said he went on praying, asking God to pardon his sins, and as he was driving along the thought came to him to sing, and he started:

> "Jesus, lover of my soul,
> Let me to thy bosom fly,
> While the nearer waters roll,
> While the tempest still is high."

He went on singing, his heart getting lighter until he was coming near to Armstrong's, and just as he was coming out of the woods he began to sing:

> "Oh happy day that fixed my choice
> On Thee my Saviour and My God."

He went on singing until he reached the house, and that night when he was retiring he was getting into bed from force of habit without saying his prayers, when the thought came to him and he knelt down and asked God to watch over him through the night. He then told of his return home and of how he and a friend of his went the next Sunday morning to fellowship meeting and how he trembled when he got up to speak. He said he had had the prayers of many Christian people and of a father and a mother. Many there, he said, would remember his dear old father and he remembered when he was dying he asked for "Dick," and his mother told him that Dick was in the country. The father replied "Poor Dick is alright; he will be saved," and he could thank God that these words had proven true. As soon as he got saved he began to pray for his brothers and now they were three going on the way to Heaven and by God's grace they hoped to land on that beautiful shore. He wanted to say to mothers and fathers "Keep on praying for your sons and your prayers will be answered, although perhaps not until you have passed away." He said there were six children in their family, three boys and three girls, and they were all walking in the way to Heaven. He closed with the words:—

> I came to Jesus as I was
> Weary and worn and sad,
> I found in him a resting place
> And He has made me glad.

As Mr. Winch finished, and many a grey-haired mother had her handkerchief to her eyes, Rev. Mr. Hunter stepped forward and taking the Cobourg man's hand and looking him in the eyes he said "By the grace of God we will meet in Heaven," and a shake of the head spoke louder than words the thought of Mr. Winch—"We will." Mr. Hunter then asked all who hoped to meet them in Heaven to stand and the entire audience rose to their feet.

At the after meeting the church was filled and many seekers went into the enquiry room.

The Right Polling Place.

By an error in placing the polling places at which the vote will be taken on April 4th, for the revocation of the second part of the Canadian Temperance Act, polling place No. 16 was placed at the house of Mr. S. Norton. This has been changed to the vacant house on Stewart-st., No. 375, and of which voters will take notice.

The Mayor's Magnificent Gift.

At a meeting of the directors of the Mechanics' Institute last evening a resolution was passed expressing the thanks of the Institute to Mayor Stevenson for the handsome addition he has made to the library, by the presentation to the Institute of five large and elegant volumes of the proceedings of "The Royal Society," a work containing papers from the pens of all the leading professors and scientists of Canada, and which will indeed be a valuable addition to the library. There is also a work of reference in the library which will be of great value to the farmers and stock raisers, viz., "The Canadian Shorthorn Herdbook in twelve volumes." This book contains the names and pedigree of all the Shorthorn cattle each year in Canada.

On Good Friday.

A meeting of the "Idlers and Strangers" of the George-st. church was held yesterday afternoon to make further arrangements for the meetings on Good Friday, March 19th. The Rev. G. W. Dewey, of Lindsay, will preach at a service in the morning, and will give one of his effective song sermons. In the afternoon a tea meeting will be held for which great preparations will be made for a thoroughly enjoyable social time. A platform meeting will follow, at which Mr. Geo. A. Cox, of Toronto, will preside. It is intended to apply the proceeds of this meeting to completing the tower of the church, when it will be one of the finest churches in the Province outside of the largest churches of the largest cities. A plan of the church with the completed tower was shown at the meeting and was greatly admired. The tickets for the tea meeting will represent a brick in the tower, and thus everyone will have an opportunity of assisting to complete it. The "Idlers and Strangers" are going into the work energetically and success cannot fail to wait on their efforts.

LAKEFIELD LEVANTERS.

An Hotel Man Leaves Hurriedly—A Young Man and a Married Woman Depart.

Lakefield has had a sensation and during the last few days the population of the village has been decreased to the extent of three. The first of the villagers to shake the dust from off his feet was an hotel man who decided to seek fortunes new in preference to paying a fine of fifty dollars and costs for a conviction under the Scott Act.

The other two who left were the cause of the sensation—more particularly. "Billy" May was a young man who tended bar for Mrs. Purser, who with her husband runs an hotel in the village. There was a conviction for a breach of the Scott Act against May and this fact undoubtedly had considerable to do with his hurried departure, although other reasons will become apparent as the story proceeds. It is said that the young lemon-squeezer has been most affectionate in his attentions towards the landlady, so much so that their love-making has founded a subject for considerable gossip. On Monday night last Mrs. Purser's husband, who did not relish the idea of playing second fiddle in made the hotel a little warm for young May, and, it is rumored, went so far as to take the bar-tender for a target and fired at him with a revolver. This was another little circumstance which undoubtedly had great weight in leading him to decide to "lave the country." But he did not leave alone, for he was accompanied by his lady love and the pair left Lakefield at one o'clock yesterday morning and drove to Peterborough. They were around town all yesterday and did not leave until the 5 55 train on the C.P.R., and then they were not together.

St. John's Church.

Rev. J. P. Lewis is to give the address to-night in St. John's church. Mr. Lewis subject is "The Poor Man's Friend." It was suggested on Sunday that the Wednesday evening service of last week should be regarded as an informal gathering when too much attention need not be paid to dress. Mr. Davidson said that they would only be too glad to welcome working men in their working dress.

Annual Meeting Postponed.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association was called for last evening at the rooms over Stethem's hardware store. A fair number attended, but it was thought well, as important matters were to be discussed, to have a larger attendance. Among those present were Dr. Burnham, Dr. Brennan, and Messrs. Bell, Rogers, Young, Schofield, Hamilton and Dobbie. The Secretary, Mr. G. A. Schofield, laid on the table accounts and reports for the last year's business. After discussing some points in a conversational way the meeting adjourned until Monday evening next, April 1st, at 8 o'clock, at the same place. It is to be hoped that the Association will receive this year a very large support from all lovers of athletic sports. To have the various games and exercises conducted, as they are, under the beneficial auspices of the association cannot but be productive of good. The association, having last year made some material changes in the conditions under which matches were held, the receipts from all sources were sufficient to meet all expenses and make a handsome payment on account of debt incurred in placing the association on a sound working basis. The united effort of those interested in true manly sports is looked for and would materially encourage the officers and executive committee in carrying on the affairs successfully. While the membership is large, there is room for many more, and individual contributors will help to make matters financially easier and ensure a large measure of success this year.

CHINA HALL

CHINA
AND
QUEENS WA

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate cracked at that. Consider $34,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of Sevres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $2,000 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $2,000 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 27, 1889.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER

"Well, Beresford," said he, suiting his voice and manner to the occasion, "this is a very terrible business. I"——

"I hope it's not necessary for me to protest my innocence to you, sir," said Jim, gravely.

"My dear lad, I need not say that nothing short of your own confession could make me believe you capable of an act so cowardly," said the colonel, kindly; "but at the same time, Beresford, it would be a satisfaction to me to have your positive assurance that all was right between you."

"Col. Barnes," said Jim, solemnly holding out his hand, "I give you my word, on the honor of an officer and a gentleman, that I am absolutely innocent of this charge, and as utterly ignorant of the truth as you can be yourself."

"I believe you implicitly," said the colonel, taking the young man's outstretched hand and gripping it hard.

"It was the greatest blow to me," Beautiful Jim went on, wretchedly. "In fact, colonel, I could scarcely believe my own eyes when I went in the next morning and found him. Oh!" with a shudder, "to think it could be poor old Owen, the best friend I ever had in all my life—the dear chap who smoked his last pipe with me only seven or eight hours before"——

"He was with you the last thing?" the colonel cried.

"Yes, colonel; he generally turned into my room on his way to bed, and he did that night."

"But what is this story about your having had a quarrel with him?" the colonel asked.

"A quarrel—with Owen—I?" repeated Jim, in accents of such unmistakable astonishment that the colonel saw an explanation was necessary, and began to make one at once.

"Yes; there's a tale going about, which I suppose accounts for your being here at all, that you and Owen had a quarrel that evening just before dinner."

"Never!" exclaimed Jim, indignantly. "Never, either then or at any other time. Owen and I never had a wrong word in our lives."

"I confess it seemed to me incredible, knowing the fast friendship which had existed between you ever since you had been in the regiment," the colonel said; "but such is the tale, and from what I could gather during the few minutes I was in barracks after hearing the news of your—your"——

"Arrest," put in Jim, who was too anxious to hear what the colonel had to tell to be above calling this very unpleasant spade anything but a spade. "Yes, sir. Well?"

"I gathered," the colonel went on, relieved about having to use the obnoxious term, "that it was your servant who set the idea afloat. It seems that he was in the kitchen just before mess that night and saw Owen dart into your room and heard very high words between you afterward. He seemed to have the impression that you were quarreling, and blurted it out after Owen was found."

"Oh, Leader's a bit of an ass," said Jim, carelessly; "but I shouldn't have thought he would have imagined I was ready to murder my best friend. Utter fool as he is, he might have known better than that."

"Leader don't think it at all, poor devil," said the colonel, promptly. "He swore through thick and thin that he had never said it, and I left him blubbering like a school boy kept in on a cricket match day. But I'm afraid it will prove a troublesome business; and, by the bye, Beresford, how could Leader have got such an idea?"

"Well, colonel, in one way he was right enough," Jim answered. "Owen did come into my room that evening in a towering rage, but not with me, nor in any way concerning me. I can't tell you what about, as it is connected with another person who could not have been mixed up in the later events, for he was and is absolutely ignorant that Owen knew what he did know and was so affected by it, as I happened to know. Leader was right enough about there being high words, only they were not between us. In fact, it was simply that the poor old chap was full of disgust, and therefore came and poured it all out to me. Of course, all the other fellows will be able to speak to the fact that Owen and I were on the best of terms during the whole evening."

"Oh, of course, it won't hold water for a moment, Jim," said the colonel, kindly. "It will all come right, there's not a doubt about that; only it was so unfortunate that Private Leader should have aired the idea that there were high words between you, more particularly as you say the matter about which Owen came to you could not in any way be connected with the after events of the day."

There was a moment's silence, but then Beautiful Jim looked up at his commanding officer, who, by the bye, had never called him Jim in all his life before.

"I'm very glad that you believe in me, colonel," he said, simply, "because it puts new heart into me; but I do hope that, while these fools of detectives are trying to fasten it on me, they won't let the real man slip through their fingers. I've an idea that it will all come out—a dim and confused sort of feeling that I ought to be able to put my finger on the villain, and yet, though I've been thinking and thinking night and day ever since it happened, I can't hit it."

"It will come out, never fear," said the colonel; "and meantime, your great object must be to prove your own innocence. Better far that the poor fellow should go unavenged altogether, so far as this world is concerned, than that the wrong man should suffer for it. I'm sure Owen himself would be the very first to say so, more especially as they have picked out you as the wrong man."

IN THE GARB OF A PRIEST.

A Noted English Crook Landed in Limbo.

TORONTO, March 26.—Last night Detective Reburn and Detective McGrath marched a smooth-faced young man into the detectives' rooms at Police Headquarters. They carried with them two valises, which, when opened, revealed six beautiful gold watches, one of which was elaborately ornamented with diamonds. Three watches were in the cases of A. McMillan, Ottawa, yesterday, but were transferred therefrom by the deftness of a young man dressed as a Roman Catholic priest, giving his name as "Rev. D. Folley."

Yesterday morning a telegram from Ottawa was received at Police Headquarters to arrest this young man. Sergeant Raburn and Detective McGrath laid themselves out for him, and after an industrious search located their man at the St. James Hotel late in the evening. The reverend gentleman, who was signed on the register as "George Barnett, Ottawa," was out when the officers called, but the latter went to his room and waited, taking the opportunity to search his baggage. They found the watches and other goods. The officers went downstairs, and when his reverence came in and retired to his room they also went up and placed him under arrest.

The prisoner is a noted crook. He is known in both England and the United States. For a number of years he has been carrying on operations in a unique manner. In Liverpool last summer he advertised for £310 in American notes and gold and Canadian notes, stating that he was about to take a number of youths to Canada and that he wanted that sum. A local bullion dealer answered the advertisement and agreed to take the money to "Rev. Father McDonald" at the Roman Catholic Presbytery. The money was handed over and his reverence went out to get the exchange from the rector in charge, but the bullion dealer never saw him after. When the priests of the church were informed of the matter they were surprised, never having seen the man. He has been working similar games in Canada and the United States.

When he came to town at 9.30 yesterday morning he at once set himself to work to do up some Toronto people. He called at St. Michael's College early in the afternoon, arrayed in his priestly garb, and said that he was a clergyman from Ottawa and that he expected a parcel up shortly. He then went down to P. W. Ellis & Co's jewelry establishment in Wellington-street, and said he was a teacher in St. Michael's College and that the priests there were going to send the Pope a chalice and they wished to purchase $1500 worth of diamonds to gem the gift to His Holiness. This was about 3 o'clock, and the diamonds were to be sent up to the college at 4.30. At the appointed time Mr. Ellis went up, but gave an excuse for not bringing the diamonds. It was agreed then that the diamonds were to be delivered at 9.30 this morning. The prisoner gave a check for the $1500 on the Molson's Bank signed "Rev. Father Hanly," but no such person of course was known at the bank. Mr. Ellis' suspicions were aroused by the alleged father stating at the college that they were expecting Archbishop Lynch to arrive shortly, and it is more than likely that he would have looked out for the hard cash before he delivered the diamonds.

The prisoner took his arrest very coolly. He said he knew they couldn't send him to the States, but it was likely he would be sent to England after his time was served here. He wondered what penitentiary he would be sent to. He gave his name as Geo. Powell, and said that his mother lived on St. Urbain-street, Montreal.

Among the goods found in his effects was a silver monstrance, purchased (but not paid for) at D. & J. Sadlier & Co's Catholic publishing house, 115 Church-street.

The prisoner was locked up on a charge of larceny.

CANADIAN BANKS FLEECED.

A Sharper From Little Rhody Does Three of them Up for $20,100.

MONTREAL, March 26.—A despatch from Providence, R.I., states that an American hay merchant named Fleming of Providence has successfully fleeced three Canadian banks out of some $20,100. The banks interested are the Merchants' Bank of Canada, the Banque du Peuple and the Bank of St. Johns, which advanced money on bills of lading for hay shipped to the States. Mr. Bousquet, the Montreal manager of the Banque du Peuple, corroborated the above statement and said that the money was paid to a man in St. Johns who for years had borne an enviable reputation as a hay dealer but who it seems was an accomplice of Fleming and has since disappeared. Mr. Hague, general manager of the Merchants' Bank, stated that their loss was comparatively small.

SKIPPED FROM BUFFALO.

John Russell, a Former Torontonian, Does Up His Partner For $500.

BUFFALO, March 26.—John Russell and his wife came to this city from Toronto about a year ago. John was an expert carpenter and joiner and worked throughout the county until a month ago, when he entered into partnership with Geo. L. Rolfe, a wealthy contractor and builder. Last week Rolfe gave Russell a check for $500 to pay some bills and Russell, who had meantime worked a local jeweler for a diamond pin and a watch and ring valued at $200, got the check cashed and skipped out. Russell had a very friendly companion who roomed in Eagle-street. He was known as "Andy" and is now said to be in Toronto. Mrs. Russell is a very pretty little woman and her husband, to whom she has been married about two years, was jealous of her.

The Great Telegraph Suit.

MONTREAL, March 26.—The preliminary proceedings in the great telegraph suit between the Great Northwestern Company and the Montreal Company commenced this morning before Judge Mathieu in the Superior Court. Counsel for defendants took an exception to the form on the ground that the case could not come under the lessor and lessees act, as the agreement entered into between the parties was not a lease in the ordinary meaning of the word. Messrs. Geoffrion and Lacoste supported their contention at great length and were replied to by Messrs. Girouard and Irvine. The case was taken en delibere and judgment will be given to-morrow afternoon.

The G.T.R. Cited by the I.-C. Commission.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The Interstate Commerce Commission to-day issued an order citing the charge that the Grand Trunk Railway, incorporated under the laws of Canada and also of the laws of several states of the Union, is violating the Interstate commerce law by granting rebates and charging less than the published rates on traffic carried by it from points in the United States to points in Canada. The order therefore directs the railway to appear before the Commission April 4 to answer concerning the above charges.

Manitoba Matters.

WINNIPEG, March 26.—Wm. Lawson, a farmer of Carberry, fell from a load of hay to-day and received such serious injuries that death shortly ensued.

Evans who was shot by his comrade Sunday is still in a precarious condition.

There were no criminal or civil jury cases at the Portage Assizes and neither grand nor petit jurors were summoned.

A Baptist college is to be established here shortly.

McGrath's Long Sentence.

MONTREAL, March 26.—In the Court of Queen's Bench to-day Judge Church sentenced Luther Thomas McGrath, the murderer of Wm. Holden, to 14 years in the penitentiary.

Count Bismarck Dines With Salisbury.

LONDON, March 26.—Count Herbert Bismarck dined with Lord Salisbury this evening. Lord Hartington was also present. The three statesmen conversed until midnight.

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

WE ONLY LAUGH AT THEM!

What unlimited gall for other houses to dare to compete with us. Why we have secured the trade of Town and Country, also the confidence of the people, and must and will at all times sell Goods cheaper than any house. Merchants say our expenses are so light we can sell Goods cheaper, but we say ours are large and our business massive, hence our advantage.

Look at our Tea Sales and prices, other houses try to compete in price, not quality.

Look at our prices of Sugars, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our prices of Fruits, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our extensive Country Trade, our Town Trade and surrounding Village Trade, and in but few words, we can dare other houses to compete.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

SPRING
AT TURNBULL'S.

Wednesday and Thursday, March 27th and 28th. We give a cordial invitation to all and expect to see you on the above dates, to look through our magnificent Stock of Millinery and Millinery Trimmings, Mantles, Dolmans and Jackets. Light Plain Cloths and Fancy Checks for young people, Rich Brocade and Fancy Stripes for the elder, with all the New Trimmings to match.

THE EVENT OF THE PAST WEEK—Has been Dress Goods and Dress Trimmings. We cannot begin to tell you how they have been admired. Sateen Cloths have been the favorites. There is an indescribable gentility about the Colors that makes you feel you would like to have a dress and wear it. The new Steel and Silk Gimps blend so perfectly. Our Bradford (England) Dress Cloths at 10 cents, are worth a corner in your Memory.

Our Prints in the windows and on the counters have been turning up their saucy, pretty faces at you as you pass by for the past two or three weeks and many a prudent mother has had her summer supply sent home already knowing she would not find the same assortment later.

During the past few weeks in the hurry and bustle of unpacking case after case of New Goods, we have neglected to call your attention to our Boys' Clothing and Tailoring Department. In fact was it necessary? Our old customers know and the public generally are finding out that our tailor is very hard to beat in a fit and we never take a side seat on prices. Our importations of Cloths from across the boiling sea have arrived, and lay side by side with their Canadian Cousins. It is hard to say which is the prettiest or best, but the Scotch have the name of making the color faster than we Canadians. We will not dispute their ability to dye. Our Tailoring Department is not what it was three years ago. It has grown amazingly, we mean it shall still grow by giving Good Goods, Proper Styles and Close Prices. Our Boys' Clothing is opened out. Boys, be happy, tell your parents of the fact and have them come in and pick your suit out. We are sure we can please them with the price. In the centre of the floor stands a table loaded with a job line of laces. When we say job we mean half price or under. They are all two and three cents a yard, take your choice. You cannot buy the same goods any where else less than five cents, and most of them you will pay ten cents for. The fashion sheets (which are free) for this month have arrived. A full assortment of Domestic Patterns kept.

Remember the days of our Millinery Opening when our store will be in its holiday attire, when all the novelties of the season will be displayed.

LEARNED LAWYERS' LORE

A FIELD DAY IN THE DISALLOWANCE DEBATE.

Dalton McCarthy Speaks in Favor of Col. O'Brien's Amendment and the Minister of Justice Replies.

OTTAWA, March 27.—This was a field day in the debate on the Jesuits Estates Act. Though the subject is one which necessitates delving into the details of history and the elucidation of legal principles, yet in the hands of two such profound and able lawyers as the member for North Simcoe and the Minister of Justice, the discussion commanded the unflagging attention of the House, as it will excite the interest of the country.

The Minister of Justice was repeatedly applauded, the applause being as liberal from the Opposition as from the Government side of the House.

At the conclusion of his address he was very warmly complimented, amongst the first to tender congratulations being Hon. Edward Blake, who crossed the house for the purpose.

Resuming the debate this afternoon Mr. Dalton McCarthy said that, considering the nature of the motion before the House, it would not have been unreasonable for some member of the Government to state to the House upon what grounds they had allowed the bill, before the discussion had proceeded so far, and he would not have moved the adjournment of the debate had it not appeared that the debate was in danger of terminating for want of speakers. It was due to those who had already condemned the action of the Administration that some defence should have been made from the treasury benches. He did not think the defence made by the member for Lincoln (Rykert) required consideration, but the remarks of the member for Stanstead (Colby) he would deal with at some length.

The question had to be considered in a twofold aspect: as to its constitutionality in the narrower sense of the term and as to its constitutionality in the wider sense of the term. Whether ultra vires or intra vires of the Provincial Legislature the act should have been disallowed. It would not do to ignore the past or, as Mr. Colby had said, avoid fine-spun legal arguments. The first question which the Minister of Justice had to report upon was whether the act was beyond the power of the province before the next question came up—whether it ought to be disallowed on the ground of public policy. He would give some of the salient features of this extraordinary piece of legislation.

It commenced with a letter from Premier Mercier asking the Pope if he had any serious objection to the Quebec Government selling the property providing the settlement of the Jesuits' estates claims was held in abeyance. You might search the records of any British Parliament in vain without finding a parallel for this humiliating passage. It had not excited surprise, however, in the quarter from which permission is asked, for the answer came graciously granting the permission desired to dispose of property which for more than a century had been recognized as a part of the public domain; but the money was to be retained as a special deposit to be disposed of only with the sanction of the Holy See.

Then negotiations were entered upon with the result that the estates were to be left intact and a money compensation granted. Two millions were asked. But as half this property belonged to the Dominion he supposed that the Government of Canada would yet be asked to give recompense for this half. But to come back to the Quebec bargain—it was only to be valid when ratified by His Holiness the Pope, upon whose act the province is thus made dependent. This act in effect sneaks away from the purposes for which the Jesuits' estates had been appropriated.

He could only be astonished at the indifference which it had excited amongst the minority in the Province of Quebec. The school funds of the province were misappropriated from their original purpose without serious protest from this minority. These estates were originally given to the Jesuit body for their own purposes. It was not an uncommon thing for the Jesuit Fathers to accumulate both lands and goods. Notwithstanding the vow of poverty avarice was commonly charged against them. It was sometimes forgotten in the Province of Quebec that this was a British country and that effect must be given to the laws to which the country became subject at the conquest.

He thought that the Minister of Justice should have made some report upon this measure when he asked the Governor-General to allow it. In answer to the appeal of the Evangelical Alliance the Minister of Justice had termed it a mere fiscal matter. He claimed this designation was an erroneous one. He hoped that His Excellency would yet be pleased to disallow this act, and wipe from the statute book this blot on our legislation.

He held that this act was virtually an attempt to establish a state church amongst us—to interfere with the liberty of religion guaranteed to the people of Canada. He had never regretted the secularization of the clergy reserves. The act providing for this had prescribed the free exercise and enjoyment of all reforms of religion not in contravention of the law of the land. This act of the Quebec Legislature granting a sum of money to a particular church renewed the connection between church and state swept away by the Clergy Reserves Act. He thought no man of common sense could say that this grant was not a recognition of connection between church and state. He had heard it said that this grant was made for the purpose of education. But while the $60,000 granted the minority was tied up for purposes of education within the Province of Quebec, the rest of the grant was not so restricted.

It was no argument to say that because a certain piece of legislation was within the power of local legislation it should not be disturbed. The legislatures were not to be allowed to run in different directions. Different provincial legislatures should not be allowed to make grants of money to this or that religious body. If this were allowed they would find the bonds of Confederation in danger. If they were to say the law that has been passed is within the legislative province of the provincial legislature they would soon see that the provinces would get more and more apart. Was it possible to imagine that the establishment of such an order as he had showed it to be was not a matter of concern to the people of Ontario? The same persons who were incorporated did visit the Province of Ontario.

He could not do better than close with the language of Principal Caven. He adopted all that gentleman had said on the question. That gentleman had said that occasions did arise when it was the duty of the Dominion Government to revise provincial legislation and he believed that the Jesuits Estates Act should be revised by the Central Government.

After recess Sir John Thompson spoke. He said that in giving the reasons which justified the Government in assenting to the bill now under discussion he would have to dwell at considerable length upon details already presented. He was in the peculiar position on this occasion that to one great portion of the community nothing that he could say would be satisfactory and to another great portion nothing that he could say would be necessary. He thought it was no discourtesy to the House that no member of the ministry had hitherto risen to speak on the question. He thought that when the debate closed last evening no argument remained unanswered which called for answer from the Treasury benches. All were aware that the many grounds for disallowance would be stated by the member for Muskoka. He (Sir John Thompson) was the minister responsible for the advice upon which the Government had acted and it was only an act of fairness that he should hear the accusations before he made his defence. He did not think that courtesy to the member for Simcoe (Mr. McCarthy) demanded that before hearing his arraignment of the Government he should by making his explanations forfeit his right to answer that arraignment. A powerful reason why this House ought not to advise His Excellency to disallow the act was that Mr. McCarthy, a master of legal argument, addressed the House for three hours without removing the doubt which existed about the question.

He wished to show in what position these estates stood for the purpose, not of defending the Jesuits, but of showing that the Province were competent to deal with these questions except in so far as the rights of the Dominion were involved. As a reward for their services to this one of the great colonies of France, the Jesuit order had been endowed with these estates by the King of France and by private donors to be used for the purposes of education in Canada. At the capitulation the conquering power took only what the power conquered had held, but by the law of nations he was powerless to take the property moveable or immoveable of the people of the province. It had been said that by the terms of capitulation the Jesuits were put at the mercy of the conqueror, but he quoted from art. 34 of the terms of capitulation of Montreal, whereby all religious communities were allowed to preserve all their estates. [The conquering arms of England were arrayed against the arms of France, but not against private Frenchmen or Frenchwomen.

By the terms of the definitive treaty made at the close of the war His Britannic Majesty agreed to grant the freedom to exercise the rights of the Romish Church so far as the laws of Great Britain permit. We had been told that this last clause introduced the Supremacy Act. Now the very essence of this act is that no person outside of the realm of England shall have or exercise within the Queen's dominions any spiritual authority. Under this there would be for the Province of Quebec no bishop or priest, no sacrament for the dying, and every altar would be cast down. Obviously the treaty meant no such thing but that there should be perfect freedom of religion, subject only to the legislation which might be made from time to time. At that time in England it was treason to exercise the Catholic religion. The obvious meaning of the treaty stipulation was in so far as the laws of Great Britain permit to give the freedom of religion in her colonies.

To show how far passion had swayed some of those who had addressed the House on the question he asked an examination of the Elizabeth act to which reference had been made. There was no such ambiguity in this as in the treaty stipulation, because this completely relieved Quebec from the necessity of abjuring foreign jurisdiction in matters spiritual. Thus they were relieved from the most arduous provision of the Supremacy Act.

We were told that all the common law of England had been introduced into Canada, but this he denied most emphatically. The King of England could not introduce the common law by his proclamation contrary to the terms of the treaty of 1763 and the terms of the Treaty of Paris. In the year 1800 the last Jesuit died, and by the law of England, applicable at that time perhaps, the property in Canada escheated to the Crown. The matter was complicated by the fact that in the meantime the Pope had suppressed the Society of Jesus and it was held that the properties passed to the ordinaries of the diocese. He did not say that this was so—he cited it as one of the points raised—but granting that the property had become escheated to the Crown the Crown was always considerate enough to consider the uses to which it had been intended to put the property which reverted to it. The very brief by which these properties were taken possession of does not assert the right of escheat at all, but the right of conquest, a right repudiated by the law of nations.

There were various claimants to this property in Quebec. There were the bishops, who claimed to have inherited the moral claim of the former holders of the property. The Jesuits set up a counter claim. How was the title to be cleared? Not by compensating first one claimant and then the other; clearly by reference to some person who had authority over both. It happened that the hierarchy of Quebec and the other contesting parties were both members of the same church and as such recognized the authority of the head of their church to settle their dispute, even against their will. By their choice he had a right to say to one or the other: This is a fair settlement between you and as your supreme arbiter I have a right to so settle the dispute between you. It was only by a reference such as this that a solution could be reached involving a payment once and once only.

He would be content to rest the case here were it not that we had been taken back to the legislation of 300 years ago and were asked to apply to this measure the Supremacy Act, and had we not been told that the Dominion was to apply to one of its provinces the coercive legislation which used to exist 300 years ago? In 1765 the law officers of the Crown reported that the Roman Catholic subjects in the colonies were not subject to the same incapacities that the Roman Catholics in Great Britain were.

In dealing with this question of supremacy we should not be more restrictive on the people of this country than the sovereigns of Great Britain had been to themselves. In 1774 the Attorney-General had reported the Quebec clergy entitled to collect tithes. In 1817 the Roman Catholic Bishop of Quebec received a mandamus calling him as such to be one of the Legislative Council of the province. In 1839 Governor Colborne incorporated the Bishop of Quebec and all his successors. In 1838 a Roman Catholic college was incorporated in Prince Edward Island and the law officers of the Crown advised that this was no derogation of the Act of Supremacy, if the act could be held to apply to that province. Since then the provinces of British North America have received free institutions and legislative powers and, except in those matters of imperial concern, we are made self-governing. And yet we are told that we are under the restrictive legislation of 300 years ago.

Mr. McNeill followed in favor of disallowance. Hon. David Mills moved the adjournment of the debate and the House adjourned at 11.50.

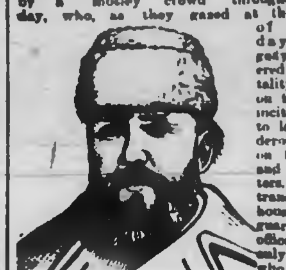
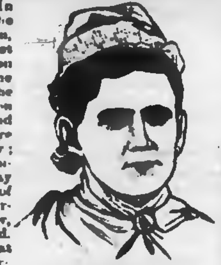
HARVEY TAKEN FROM TORONTO TO THE ROYAL CITY.

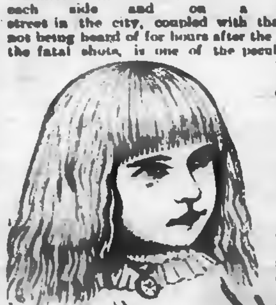
A Day of Excitement in Wellington's Capital—Coroner Herod Opens an Inquest—How the Murderer Escaped From Town.



THE MURDERER.



MRS. HARVEY.



GERALDINE HARVEY.

GUELPH, March 27.—The sward in front of William H. Harvey's home, in Woolwich-street, was trampled and trodden by a motley crowd throughout to-day, who, as they gazed at the scene of Tuesday's tragedy, wondered what fatality seized on the man inciting him to lay murderous hands on his wife and daughters. The entrances to the house were guarded by officers, and only those who were immediately interested were admitted. Everything in the house was exactly as it was when the murderer walked forth after having committed his terrible deed. In the parlor the piano stood open, with a sheet of music on the rack; in the dining room the clock ticked on the mantel, and the coal fire burned cheerily; in the chambers of death lay the victims of Harvey's murderous revolver, stiff and pallid. The fact that this triple murder was committed in broad noontide; that it was committed in a house close to others on each side and on a leading street in the city, coupled with that of its not being heard of for hours after the firing of the fatal shots, is one of the peculiar features of the tragedy. It is natural to suppose that the neighbors would have heard either the screams of the victims or the firing of the shots. This explanation accounts for the silence with which the deeds were done! He sent his elder daughter across the street to Mrs. Heyward's private school to borrow a piece of music. This must have been an excuse to get her out of the way for a few minutes. While she was away he shot his wife, and when she returned he committed the second murder. He then went across to the school and asked if Mrs. Heyward would kindly excuse little Geraldine for a few minutes, and bringing her over killed his loving little daughter. The expression on the faces of all victims shows no traces of fright. The little girl's face wears its accustomed serenity and sweetness. They must have been approached one by one from behind and the shots fired before they were aware of the designs upon their lives.

Why did Harvey murder his wife and children? The relations between husband and wife and father and children were the most happy. They were a family contented in each other's affections. Harvey was well known to be proud of his wife and daughters and very fond of them. The little girl Geraldine was his especial favorite. She regularly went to meet him on his way home from the office and danced with childish glee as she led her smiling father along the street.

There are two theories. One is that he committed the deed in insanity, and the other that he killed his family to spare them the shame that was certain to fall on them as a result of his embezzlement. The latter is more likely to be the true cause. Harvey was kind hearted and fond of his family, but a glance at the prisoner is sufficient to convince anyone that a proud man with an unbending will has been brought low. He is just the kind of man that would shield those who were dear to him from disgrace at any cost, even at the expense of their lives and his.

Willie Harvey was at the residence of Mrs. Heyward, across the street from his own house, all day. He was completely overcome by the terrible fate of his mother, sisters, and the terrible situation of his father.

Murderer Harvey, ever since his arrival in this city, has persistently refused food and will neither eat nor drink.

The way Harvey spent the afternoon and how he reached Toronto was a mystery last night. It now appears that he either walked from Guelph to Hespeler, a distance of 8 miles, or that he got a freight train to that point. At Hespeler he hired a rig at Ross's livery stable and drove to Galt. He there left the rig at McCruden & Glady's livery-stable, and stating that he would call for it again went away. He then went to Robinson's livery-stable and engaged a team to take him to Harrisburg, 14 miles away. He started out with a driver a little before 4 o'clock. When passing Galt station Harvey said: "I guess there's the train I thought I missed." The driver told him he could catch it now, but Harvey replied: "Never mind, go on to Harrisburg." He lit a cigar, gave one to the driver, and drove out of Galt. At Harrisburg Harvey gave the driver $1 extra for himself and bade him good-bye. The St. Louis express, due in Toronto at 8.20, came in 20 minutes after Harvey's arrival at Harrisburg. Harvey boarded this train and coming to Toronto was captured. This was the murderer's route from the Royal City to the Queen City. He could not have been in Toronto much more than ¾ of an hour before he was arrested.

AT TORONTO.

A Night of Remorse at Police Headquarters—The Departure for Guelph.

TORONTO, March 28.—From 9.30 p.m. Tuesday till 10.45 a.m. yesterday Harvey was confined in a small cell at Police Headquarters. Lest he should do harm to himself he was constantly watched by an officer, who never took his eyes off him. All night long he paced up and down the cell, never uttering a sound. Shame, remorse and despair were depicted on his face and he kept his terrible grief to himself. For hours he sat on a bench with his head in his hands and the tears freely flowed down his face, seeming to fully realize the enormity of the crime he had committed. In the morning Inspector Stephen visited him and asked if he would not have some breakfast. He looked at the inspector, but instead of replying by word of mouth he simply shook his head.

Great was the crowd of curious people who thronged the Police Court building yesterday morning. The morbidly curious always turn out strongly on such an occasion, but the authorities are always ready for them as they were yesterday. Many were turned away, and as it was the court room was crowded [illegible] ascended the bench. [illegible] His Worship was [illegible] some petty cases while the crowd grew impatient in their anxiety to see the murderer.

"William H. Harvey!" called the Magistrate at 10.45, and the name was repeated by several officers in attendance. All eyes were centred on the dock. Slowly the prisoner ascended the steep, narrow stairway that leads directly from the cage to the dock. He was assisted by a policeman and as he reached the dock he sat down, his eyes cast downwards and never once meeting those of a soul in the room. Being told to stand up he did so; but still kept his eyes to the floor while leaning on the railing. He said not a word but appeared as one dazed, his face expressing sullen despair.

Chief of Police Randall of Guelph, a short, spare man with red whiskers, stepped into the witness box and handed his Worship a warrant. The magistrate said: "Prisoner, there has been proven to me a warrant for your arrest on the charge of embezzlement, issued by the magistrate in Guelph. I have endorsed it and you will be taken back to that city." Harvey said not a word, not even by look did he show that he knew what was said. Slowly he was helped down-stairs.

From Mr. John Livingston, who knew Harvey well, because of twice having been his employer, a reporter yesterday gleaned much information about the murderer's history and learned fully about his upright character and his extreme personal pride. In November, 1875, Mr. Livingston, who was then manager of the Dominion Paper Company and the Dominion Bolt Company in Montreal, advertised for an assistant accountant for the latter business. Among the many applicants was Harvey. Mr. Livingston recognized in him a man of much ability and told him that the salary was only $400 and he thought he was worth a better position. Harvey, however, said that he was badly in need of money and would gladly accept the position, which was given him. He was found to be a man of superior ability and with a great knowledge of the iron business, and his salary was raised to $600, then to $700, and so on till in May of 1881 he was receiving $1400. At this time Mr. Livingston removed his business to Toronto and Harvey was left in Montreal.

In the summer of 1882 Harvey called on Mr. Livingston in Toronto and said he was destitute. He asked for a loan of $150, which was freely given, and later said he desired to secure work. Mr. Livingston was then running the bolt works at the foot of Sherbourne-street and gave Harvey a position in the office at $1000 a year. This continued till the summer of '88, when the bolt works were removed to near the Humber but Harvey did not go as one of the staff, his connection with Mr. Livingston then ending.

"As to his antecedents before I first met him in Montreal I know nothing personally," said Mr. Livingston, "but what I do know comes from good authority. He was most reticent about his affairs, and so I learned nothing from him. I understand that his father and his wife's father were the proprietors of a large iron business in England and that Harvey was connected with the business. But the firm came to grief, and Harvey early in the seventies came to America, and either in Montreal or Ottawa engaged in the publication of Zell's Cyclopædia, in which he invested all the money and lost it. Then in Montreal he opened out as an advertising agent, but was in this business only a short time. Quitting this he edited and managed Chisholm's Railway Guide for two years, till 1875, when I first engaged him."

This is what Mr. Livingston has to say about Harvey's character: "In my opinion his integrity was above question and I do not believe a word of the charge of embezzlement in Guelph. His was a strange disposition, always methodical, exact, honest and close-mouthed. I found him highly educated, of good address, and of great ability. I don't think that there was in Canada a better accountant than he. But he was overwhelmed with pride, and I have no hesitation in saying that 'death before dishonor' was the motive that prompted him to the crime. He was proud and fond of his family and was always happy in his domestic relations. He never drank."

THE ARRIVAL AT GUELPH.

Thousands Crowd the Station and Intense Excitement Prevails—The Inquest.

GUELPH, March 27.—The news that the murderer was to be brought to Guelph by the 3 o'clock train quickly spread over the city during the afternoon, and half an hour before the train was due an immense throng awaited its appearance. The platform was jammed, the yards filled and the station and neighboring fences covered with people eager to get a glance of their former respected citizen. Sheriff McKim, Mayor Gowdy and Officers Keilsley, Dooley and Hammond were on the platform keeping an entrance clear. It was thought by everybody that the train would stop at the depot. In this the assembled multitude were disappointed. The train hove in sight, bowled along down the bend and with a whiz switched past the station and going up the track a quarter of a mile stopped opposite the Police Station. The effect on the throng was like the sudden stoppage of a mountain current. One minute the crowd stood on tiptoe in expectation and the next thousands of people were precipitated into a mad race for the Police Station. Men, women and children fell over each other in the dust in their inordinate desire to see the prisoner.

Before any of the sprinting thousands reached the Police Court building Chief Randall, who had gone to Toronto to bring the murderer back, had lodged him safely in the court room and the doors were barred.

The prisoner walked quietly over from the train and sat in a chair given to him. He looked like a man who had been humiliated to the lowest degree and one who had given over all hope. He sat with his back facing the magisterial chair, his head bowed to the right side and the tail of his mackintosh thrown over his hands to conceal the handcuffs. He looked steadfastly on the floor, but the regular and quick nictation of his eyes showed plainly that he was alive to what was going on. He remained in this posture till Police Magistrate Saunders ascended the bench. Then Chief Randall went up to him and said: "Get up till I face your chair to the court." Harvey arose and when the chair was turned he sat down again.

Dr. Lett appeared before the court and stating that he produced the person of William H. Harvey, he demanded the cancellation of the bond given by him for the appearance of the prisoner charged with embezzlement.

The Court said that the bond would be cancelled.

The Court stated that the case was adjourned for one week.

After a consultation between the police magistrate and Coroner George S. Herod this information was sworn out:

The information and complaint of Frederick William Randall of the City of Guelph, of the County of Wellington, Province of Ontario, and chief constable:

Whereupon the 27th day of March, in the year of Our Lord 1889, before the undersigned, George S. Herod, one of Her Majesty's coroners, of the city of Guelph, who saith that he hath just cause to suspect and believe and doth suspect and believe that William Harvey of the city of Guelph on the 26th day of March, 1889, did feloniously, wilfully, and with malice aforethought, kill and murder one Matilda Harvey, Lilian Mary Harvey and Geraldine E. M. Harvey, contrary to the form of the statute in such case made and provided.

THE CORONER OPENS AN INQUEST.

Chief of Police Randall and Rev. Mr. Harvey Give Some Evidence.

GUELPH, March 27.—Coroner Herod opened an inquest on the bodies of the three murdered persons in the Council Chamber at 3.30 this afternoon. The chamber was crowded, but thousands who thronged around the City Hall could not get near the room in which the jury sat.

The coroner offered the usual explanations, and the jury walked up to the desolated home in Woolwich-street to view the bodies, which they did with a great deal of awe depicted on their faces.

The jury returned to the Council Chamber at 5 o'clock, when the inquest was resumed. Chief Randall and Rev. G. A. Harvey were examined but nothing was elicited beyond the facts already published.

The inquest was adjourned till to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

The New School House Contract—Social and Society News.

Correspondence of the Review.

HYMENEAL.—Mr. Samuel Ferguson, of Cartwright, and Miss Mary H. Warren, of South Verulam (Scotch Line), were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. Mr. Wilson, in the Methodist Church here, on Wednesday evening, in the presence of a large audience. We wish the young couple much happiness in their new sphere.

SOCIAL.—On Friday evening last a most pleasant evening was spent at the residence of Mrs. John Kennedy of this place. It was a social, in connection with the Methodist church here, and everybody came to have a social time, and they were not disappointed, for those present put in four or five very enjoyable hours.

CHANGE OF CONTRACT.—Mr. Donnell of this place, who had Mr. John Kennedy's planing mill, which was destroyed by fire here on Saturday evening, the 16th inst., has given up the contract of the new school here, and the School Board has accepted the tender of Mr. Lancaster of this place, who is to go on with it at once.

FROM WESTWOOD.

A Lady's Very Sudden Death while Driving with her Husband.

Correspondence of the Review.

A VERY sudden death took place on Wednesday, March 20th, on the town line between Otonabee and Asphodel. As Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Kidd were on their way to visit a sick neighbor, Mrs. Kidd got out and walked over a rough spot, caused by a snow drift. When the even road was gained she got into the buggy, gave a heavy sigh and breathed her last. Her husband, supposing that she had fainted, held her with one arm, and with the other drove home where every available means were used to no purpose. Dr. MacNaughton was summoned at once and pronounced her dead from heart disease. Mrs. Kidd was a daughter of the late James Becket, who settled in Otonabee in the year 1830. She was 40 years and for over 33 years was a consistent member of the Westwood Presbyterian Church. At the funeral the Rev. F. Andrews preached a very appropriate discourse wherein he showed that to her sudden death was sudden glory. His sermon was also full of comfort to the bereaved and admonition to the unconverted, to be always ready for the call that death is sure to make.

APSLEY AFFAIRS.

A Public Meeting on School Matters—Treacherous Ice.

Correspondence of the Review.

SCHOOL MEETING.—Pursuant to notice given, the ratepayers of S. S. No. 1, Anstruther, assembled in the Town Hall, Apsley, on March 19th, to take measures to increase the amount asked for, by the Trustees, for the erection of school house, etc. Mr. D. Anderson was elected chairman, and Mr. P.W.C. Showen secretary. The chairman explained the object of the meeting, and Mr. T.G. Eastland, for the Trustees, gave a statement, showing the necessity for increasing the amount. Moved by Rev. P. Harding, seconded by Mr. R. Elmhirst, that the Trustees apply to the Council to borrow, on debentures, the sum of $800.—Carried. On motion of Mr. T.G. Eastland, seconded by Mr. H.J. Webster, it was declared to be the wish of this meeting that the debentures be drawn for twenty years. A resolution was adopted approving of the site chosen by the Trustees, and the meeting closed, after approving the minutes read by the secretary, and a vote of thanks to the Rev. P. Harding for the interest he had manifested in the educational interests of the section.

NEW STORE.—Mr. W. Gallon's new building to be occupied by Mr. H. J. Webster as a flour and feed store, is about completed, and has already received a large consignment of flour. Mr. Webster's enterprise is commendable and merits a large patronage, which he doubtless will receive.

SPORT.—Messrs. Eastland and Postlethwaite were tempted northward by the fine weather, and report excellent trout fishing.

TEAM DROWNED.—While crossing the ice on Eagle Lake recently, a team belonging to Mr. T.G. Hazlett, of Peterborough, broke through, and in spite of all exertions to rescue them, they were drowned. Two other teams were in their company, one of which went through the ice at the same place, but was rescued. The ice is very unreliable and if the warm weather continues, it will soon have left the creeks sufficiently to allow of "driving" to be commenced.

SMITH TOWNSHIP.

Correspondence of the Review.

MARRIAGE.—On Wednesday evening, March 6th, a very pleasant event occurred in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Tindle, of Smith Township, being the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Tindle, to Mr. Alexander Sanderson, only son of Mr. Sanderson, the popular Reeve of the township. The marriage was performed by Rev. J. B. Huff, assisted by Rev. E. Roberts, of Selwyn. The bride was assisted by her sister Sarah. The groom was supported by Mr. Davidson, of Smith. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents. We extend our congratulations.

Correspondence of the Review.

NEW BLACKSMITH SHOP.—A new blacksmith shop is being built in Selwyn by Mr. Joseph Reckord, formerly of Lakehurst, Harvey. Mr. R. carried on an extensive blacksmith and general repairing shop at that place for a number of years and also ran a mail stage from Lakefield to Lakehurst. The new shop is built on the lot adjoining the Oriental Hotel. This business will prove a great boon to the village and surrounding country. Mr. R. is a native of Quebec and an advocate of temperance and has a large circle of friends in and around Selwyn.

TO THE NORTHWEST.—Some of the young men of Smith have taken the Northwest fever and some are gone, and more are going. Good luck to the boys.

PROPOSED BUILDING.—There has been some talk of a new building being erected on the vacant lot in the centre of the village, but for what purpose we have not yet learned. Perhaps it will be a flour mill and perhaps not.

LIGHT WANTED.—A lamp post is needed at the M.E. church in this place when the nights are dark. It is easy to make a mistake and take the wrong party into a rig and drive away.

SCOTT ACT.—The Scott Act is freely discussed around here at all gatherings. The people are largely in favor of the Act.

A NEED.—A guide board is very much needed at the 14th con. line where the road leaves for Buckhorn, better known as McKee's corner. At this place a great many strangers have went miles out of their way.

THE CHEESE FACTORY.—The managers of the North Smith Dairy Company are getting everything in connection with the factory in first-class order for the season's make. There are about eighty patrons who send milk to this factory and of course they are all determined to send the milk just as they get it from their cows. Hogs that are fed at the factory are to get corn as well as whey. Last season there were over one hundred hogs fed at the North Smith Dairy Company's factory. A large number were sold in mid summer.

Wheat in sight.

The total quantity of wheat in sight on this continent and afloat in Europe is 45,296,000 bushels, a decrease of 1,560,000 bushels compared with a week ago, a decrease of 2,312,000 with two weeks ago, a decrease of 3,958,000 with three weeks ago, and a decrease of 4,436,000 with four weeks ago, and a decrease of 5,319,000 with a year ago.

HATS!

Hats, gentlemen, Hats!

In the name of People, Hats!

And why, Hats!

The Hat is the badge of respectability, the trade mark of civilization—that is any kind of a decent Hat. And properly, too.

Let us consider this question of Hats.

Had Bonaparte paused on the way to Waterloo to select a new Hat the result might have been different.

Had Christopher Columbus worn a shabby Hat, could he have made the fine impression he did on landing in Amerikay. No much. Not any.

Had Julius Cæsar carried a neat and taking head cover, his untimely decease might have been indefinitely postponed. History is jam full of incidents that point to the necessity of wearing a good Hat.

Men have been crossed in love, fallen off scaffolds, been beaten at the polls, arrested on suspicion, failed in business, and lost the respect of their fellow citizens by wearing a bad Hat.

The moral of all this is, come to us for your Hats. It's a new department with us, and a mighty good one. It's good because its new, and wholly new and good. We do nothing by halves. See our Stock. See what we offer in Style, Material, Shape and Finish. You can take your pick of the Best Goods by the Best Makers. We discount the Town on Hats.

Lacrosse Men's Meeting.

To night at the Phelan House a meeting is called of the members and friends of the Riverside Lacrosse Club for the purpose of re-organizing for the coming season and the election of officers. There should be a good attendance and enthusiasm should be put into the game this year.

The Talk of the Town

The people are wondering why Elliott & Tierney are giving 18 lbs. bright sugar for $1, and selling teas and other goods so much cheaper than any house in Peterborough. Call at the Palace Grocery and examine the goods, which will convince you. The "Palace" is the place to get best values. Great stock-taking sale now going on.

"DON'T tase me no more," but go and get me a 5lb package of that fine tea for $1, from M. R. KIDD. d66

Decision in an Action Tried Here.

Decision was given yesterday by Chancellor Boyd in the case of Molsons Bank vs. Drew, which was tried at the last Peterborough Chancery sittings, when judgment was reserved. By the decision the wife (defendant) is liable on the note made in 1888 and the plaintiff is entitled to judgment as against her, adding costs to debt.

The Prodigal Returns.

A few days ago a young lad aged 14 years, named William Smart, took the notion into his head that he would strike out for himself, and consequently deserted his home and friends here. Chief Douglass on being informed of the case, communicated with Chief Rossel of Peterborough, with the result that the boy was returned to his home this morning. Chief Douglas desires to convey his thanks to the Peterborough Examiner and REVIEW for their kindness in assisting the Peterborough police in finding the boy.—Port Hope Times.

There is now on exhibition in a window of Craig & Mooney's furniture warerooms a handsomely carved walnut table, with inlaid top of rosewood and birds-eye maple. The work was executed by D. J. O'Brien, already favorably known by his works of art. Daniel has been for the past two years in the employ of the Lindsay-Seldon furniture company, and is now engaged in the ornamentation of the inside of Mr. J. B. McWilliam's new residence on Water-st., which when completed, will doubtless surpass the inside finish of any house in town.

What is It?

Simply this, that a great many are throwing away their good honest dollars without getting proper value for them. So listen—a word in time:—You no doubt have heard that W. J. Morrow proposes selling groceries not as cheap as other houses but away below them. The old maxim, "Seeing is Believing"—so call and price our goods. We modestly urge immediate consideration and you will find prompt action will pay you, so we hope to receive a call. Why, the whole town, country and surroundings are simply on fire with enthusiasm and now the name of W. J. Morrow, the only cheap grocer, resounds both near and far.

has just returned from the Montreal and Toronto markets, having secured the latest novelties and goods for her Millinery and Mantle Departments. Miss Delaney's special object in visiting Toronto was to purchase a fine assortment of New York novelties, which have just been placed on the market at the wholesale centres. They comprise the latest styles in Bonnets, Hats, Trimmings, Mantles and Mantle Cloths. The materials are new, rich and handsome. The new Delmanetts are strikingly stylish, while the Jet Vistes are a special thing this season. ON WEDNESDAY AND FOUR SUCCEEDING DAYS OF THIS WEEK Miss Delaney will be pleased to have ladies call and inspect the array of handsome styles. Personal inspection will alone afford a clear idea of the beauty of the goods, the freshness of the stock and the ample preparation made to meet the wishes of customers. 5d72-1w13

SCRIPTURAL READING

REV. MR. CROSSLEY TELLS HOW TO READ THE BIBLE.

The Ladies Take the Hint Some Still Grumbling A Sermon From an Acrostic —Practical Religion Notes.

As usual, there were many who could not gain admittance to St. Paul's church last evening, and the interest in the services continues unabated, and the undivided and close attention paid to every word that falls from the lips of the evangelists is as marked now at the end of their fourth week as it was the first Sunday night they first addressed the Peterborough people in the George-st. church. The hint thrown out by Rev. Mr. Hunter, in reference to his and his brother evangelist's fondness for flowers, was acted upon by some of the ladies of the church and a handsome bouquet of flowers stood upon the little table when the evangelists came upon the platform. The flowers were noticed by both the rev. gentlemen as soon as they mounted the platform, and Rev. Mr. Hunter in his opening remarks thanked the ladies for their kindness and said when they went back to George-st. he supposed the ladies there would have to keep up with those of St. Paul's.

Afted the opening hymns and prayers Rev. Mr. Crossley and Miss Nellie Wrighton sang, very beautifully, the hymn, "The Song of Trust."

STILL GRUMBLING.

Rev. Mr. HUNTER referred to the excellent reports of the meeting on Tuesday night and said every Christian should send copies of Mr. Winch's experience to their friends and in this way they they might accomplish some good. He said there were many still grumbling about the services, but those drinking, theatre-going, gambling members of the church were no good, and, as he had said before, the church would be well rid of all such members. He then read the evening lesson from the fourth chapter of Mark, when Christ stilled the tempest. The evangelist, as usual, commented freely on the verses.

Rev. Mr. Crossley sang as a solo entitled "The Raining Day," the verses of which were by Longfellow.

The audience then bowed their heads and prayers were offered for a large number of special requests.

A SERMON FROM AN ACROSTIC.

Rev. Mr. CROSSLEY said they would find his text and the notes on his sermon on the back of the hymn book "The songs of Salvation."—"Search the Scriptures." He told the story of the Roman Catholic priest who came along and found one of his parishioners reading the Bible, and he stopped and asked Pat why he was doing that. "Oh, your reverence," replied Pat, "I have a search warrant." The priest asked where it was, and Pat replied "John v, and 39, Search the Scriptures." The evangelist said so every individual had a search warrant and all should execute it. He took the acrostic that was on the back of the hymn book, showing them the way they should search the Scriptures and dwelt on each as he passed along. First they should read the Bible systematically—as they would a library, take a book from the Old Testament and simultaneously read a book from the New Testament. If they would do this they would find it interesting reading and the unsaved would not find it dry. It would be interesting as history, as biography and as doctrine. Then they should read carefully, reverently, intently, prayerfully, trustingly, understandingly, retentively, every day and lastly, savingly. The evangelist dwelt on each of these separately and made a very interesting and instructive address to both Christians and the unsaved.

After Rev. Hunter had spoken briefly, several signified their desire to start upon the new way and after a short prayer for these the first part of the meeting closed.

The church was filled for the after meeting and a large number went into the inquiry room.

NOTES.

In opening Rev. Mr. Hunter spoke of a sad case. He said that Tuesday evening a lady had been requested to ask him to go to the bedside of a man who had been taken ill on Saturday, but the lady had forgotten to give him the message which was sent by the sick man's wife. Yesterday morning the lady had started down to tell him of the request and on her way down she had dropped into the man's house to see how he was and found that he had passed away at five o'clock that morning. He asked the prayers of all Christians for the afflicted widow.

A lady who was seated on the west side of the church was compelled to leave early in the service on account of her babe, which evidently was not interested in the services and made its desire to leave known in a manner such as only an infant can. Rev. Mr. Hunter remarked that if some of the Christian ladies wished to carry out practical religion they might go and keep the woman's child for her the next evening and allow the mother to come to the meeting. That would be practical religion, and it is probable that many thought so.

A meeting was held in the Baptist church this afternoon.

To-night there will be the usual song sermon.

Rev. Mr. Hunter said last night that next week they intended to speak plainly on several subjects, such as dancing, card playing and the theatres. They had not touched on these things yet, as they did not think they were able to bear them, but next week they would talk plainly.

The Secretary of the Women's Christian Temperance Union writes as follows:—An appeal to each Clergyman, Reeve, Councillor and Public Officer, together with all ratepayers. In view of the contest on the 4th of April for the repeal of the Scott Act, the members of Peterborough Women's Christian Temperance Union earnestly pray that your vote and personal influence be used to prevent a return to license system, with its baneful influence upon home and society. From many sources information reaches us of the alarming increase of drunkenness in those counties where the Scott Act has been repealed. So appalling indeed are the results that many hitherto prejudiced against local prohibition are now convinced of its salutary effects upon the community. Looking at the subject from no higher standpoint than that of financial interest, it is worthy of careful consideration; as a measure was carried last week in the Local Legislature to the effect that a certain proportion of each license fee be paid to the Government, whereas under present law all fines are appropriated for municipal purposes. Having full belief in your integrity and fidelity to the interests of our country, we submit these facts for your consideration, feeling confident that the cause of truth and righteousness will be loyally upheld.

To the Workingmen.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—The Repealers boast that they have the labor vote solid, but they will find out their mistake. The saloon and hotel keepers are our enemies. They take all our hard-earned money they can get, and then kick us out when we can give them no more. Our chief, Mr. Powderly, calls upon us to boycott the whiskey business if he would be successful. By our laws, no one who sells intoxicating drink can become a member of our order. Surely we will not, then, allow them to lead us like sheep to the polls, as they boast they will be able to do, and vote for making a business legal and respectable that has destroyed and is destroying thousands of our fellow workmen, keeping their wives and children in poverty, while their hard earnings go to buy silks and satins for the wives of the sellers of whiskey, and to dress up their boys and girls to laugh at the poor inebriate working man's children.

A speaker at the meeting here on Saturday, said that while the 15 leading industries of this country pay in wages $51 out of every hundred of capital invested to their workmen, and 27 per cent. of the products, the breweries and distillers pay only $11 of each hundred of capital, and only one dollar of each hundred of the products in wages. We enrich the seller and get nothing in return for the money we pay but injured bodies and impaired health and homes of misery and want.

WORKINGMAN.

The Repeal of the Scott Act.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—The time is soon coming when we shall have an opportunity to say, "We will be good, and come out of the corner," like the children; or, if we consider the punishment beneficial, we shall be allowed to remain there. "Forced to remain there," is perhaps the better expression. I suppose that, if it had not been deemed an utter impossibility to enforce such an absurd law as the Scott Act, people would have voted against it in the first instance; as it was, very few took the trouble to go to the polls, and consequently a few fanatics carried their point. It would be as well for those who really care for their freedom, as regards what they may eat, drink, or even smoke, in the future, to assert themselves now that they have the chance to do so. Of course, it really does not matter whether the Act is passed again or not. It can never be thoroughly enforced. We should simply have the ridiculous farce acted over, and we can already boast that we have seen FREE BORN BRITISH SUBJECTS, men and women, persecuted, fined and sent to jail, for selling that which has been the Englishman's national beverage for hundreds of years—ale, and that of the Irishman and the Scotchman—whiskey. Truly, of all the wonderful events of the nineteenth century, this is the most wonderful. Let me suggest to our present oppressors—the Temperance Fanatics—a new and more startling plan of campaign. Let them pass an act by which the CONSUMER, and not the producer, shall bear the penalty. I defy them to try. And yet, if one should live to see the year nineteen hundred, it would be something to say, "Ah! when I was young I saw one of those boasted free born British subjects SENT TO JAIL FOR DRINKING A GLASS OF BEER." It might even be, for smoking a pipe. Who can tell?

Yours truly,
SIGMA.

Scott Act vs. Licenses.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—With your permission I would like to direct the attention of your readers to the effect of the late ammendment of the License Act. Under the Crooks Act, each license in town paid about $60 to the Provincial Treasury. The people of our town carried, what is called, a High License By-law. In this the license fo, a hotel is fixed at $400, per year. The recent so called, ammendment to the license law provides that when a municipality levies a license more than $200 half the excess is to be paid to the Provincial Treasurer. See how this will work! Peterborough fixes the license for a hotel at $400. By the former law $60 is to be paid to the Province, By the late ammendment half the excess over $200 in addition to the former requirement is to be paid to the Province.

Suppose we repeal the Scott Act and bring the License Law into force and issue twenty hotel licenses then the town treasurer will have to pay $180x20=$3600 to be sent to Toronto.

In the case of saloons the license in Peterborough is fixed at $600 per year. The former license law required $60 and the recent legislation requires half the excess over $200 For each saloon license the town treasurer will send to Toronto $260. Suppose we have five saloons it will be $260x5=$1400. This added to the amount estimated to be got from the hotels would be $5000. Then there would be several shop licenses that would come under the operation of the same law and its ammendment which would bring up the amount of revenue to be collected in Peterborough and handed over to Toronto to be between $5000 and $6000.

Now, Mr. Editor, I wish your readers who supported the high license by-law to re-consider what they are about in the light of recent legislation. Under the Scott Act all money coming from fines is disposed of by the town or county. If we repeal the Scott Act and bring in force the license law that same vote means that Peterborough is to pay a good many thousand dollars tribute to Toronto every year. The remedy is VOTE FOR THE SCOTT ACT and keep your money at home.

SCOTT ACT.

Scott Act and Increase of Taxes.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I never voted for the Scott Act, but I am determined to do all I can now to keep it in force. We carried a high license law last month, and thought that our town would make something out of the extra license fee, and thereby decrease our taxes. But just think of it! The Government claims the extra amount, thereby increasing our taxes by thousands of dollars. This gross injustice done our town, has changed the opinion of a large number, who will rally to the polls on election day and resent this robbing of our town of what should go to decrease our taxes. It is quite clear to me that after what has been done, to repeal the Scott Act is greatly to increase our financial burdens. What the Mayor stated on the day of his nomination, that more than twice as much came to the town under the Scott Act than under the Crooks Act, did not weigh much with me, for the increased amount from high license would make up for that if the Act was repealed. But when violent hands are laid on the increase and it is seized by the Government, so that our town is not benefitted, I will vote for what will make our taxes less. Vote then against repeal.

THE POOR MAN'S FRIEND

AN ADDRESS IN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH BY REV. J. P. LEWIS.

The Masses of the People Benefitted by Christ's Teaching—Liberty, Educational and Other Privileges Owing to His Teaching.

The Wednesday evening service in St. John's Church was largely attended. After the evening service the Rev. J. P. Lewis, of Grace Church, Toronto, gave an address on "The Poor Man's Friend."

Rev. Mr. LEWIS said immediately after the Lord's temptation in the wilderness He returned into Galilee and went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day and read the wonderful passage in Isaiah where it was said the Messiah would heal the broken-hearted, and told them that day this scripture was fulfilled. From a superficial reading one might say that scripture had not been fulfilled. But He began at once to liberate the slaves. Slavery prevailed to a very large extent in a terrible form, and the preacher related some of the terrible cruelties inflicted on the poor and slaves in ancient nations, at the time when the Saviour came into the world. Power was all in the hands of the few and labor in the hands of the many. At once the Lord began to teach great principles of brotherhood, that the poor man and the rich man was each to do to the other as they would have the other do to him. Slowly but surely the principles spread among the people. The Lord began, not to work externally, but inwardly on the heart, knowing that if the hearts of men were conquered for truth and righteousness the whole man would be so conquered. So that if the Lord apparently had not liberated the captive, yet in the best sense He was working for that result. In 300 years the change was remarkable. The slaves in Britain were released when the hearts of the people were fired by the principles taught by the Lord as brought before them by speakers and clergymen. It was simply the teaching of the blessed Lord Christ that led the American people to do away with the evil of slavery. This taught them that Jesus Christ was the mighty force that for ages had been raising the masses of the people. Everything they enjoyed was the direct outcome of His life and teaching. What a wrong they did when they treated Him coldly! With all the great mental philosophy of the ancients the masses of the people were trampled on and kept in slavery. There were no homes for orphans or asylums for the helpless or destitute in ancient Rome, and those too helpless to live had to die. There was a mighty change over the whole world, and they would find it in the life and teachings of Christ. Five years ago in countries where the Mohemmedan religion prevailed he had seen babes forsaken and dying and old people begging, but in Christian lands provision had been made for the helpless. If churches were closed and Christian principles forgotten in a hundred years they would be back where ancient Rome had been. No workingman did wisely who absented himself from the church of God. If they used their intelligence wisely they were bound to cleave to the Lord. Not only did the Lord give liberty, for he also gave the only true life. There was a life beyond. He had lifted up the people, but His work was only begun and until completed they could not judge of it. Life was too short for the complete development of a human mind and soul, and not until they saw Him and were like Him would they know all that Christ could do for them. Were they willing to give up their hopes in the Lord Christ and the liberty he had given them? Religion was not merely an outburst of enthusiasm, but could be relied upon. The common school system and great educational institutions were owing to the teachings of the Lord, their moral nature and intellectual faculties being closely allied. The liberty, the domestic happiness, the educational facilities of the people and the hope of immortality were owing to the Lord Jesus. They would never find happiness or real comfort until they found it in Christ. When trials came it was no small comfort to know they had Christ at their side. If they had not lived a life of devotion they did not know the bright side of life and were doing themselves a great wrong. Religion was not an excitement, and it appeared to him that in Toronto injury had been done by excitements called religious. They should come to the house of God with reverence. When the feverish excitements passed away the people gravitated towards infidility, and they should not be extravagant, but reverent and devoted. He asked them to love God because He was lovable, to obey Him because He was their Sovereign, and to consecrate their powers to Him.

CHINA HALL

CHINA
AND
QUEENS WA

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate—cracked at that. Consider $24,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of selveres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $3,000 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is light it is a comfort to think of $3,000 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

BEAUTIFUL JIM.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER

"Colonel," said Jim, solemnly, "he was the best and truest friend I ever had in my life, and," speaking slowly and clearly, "I give you my word that I would sooner suffer the worst myself, if it would insure the murderer being brought to justice, than that his cruel death should go unpunished and unavenged."

"Hush!" said the older man, imperatively, "you do not realize what you say. The issues of life and death and justice lie in higher hands than yours. 'Vengeance is mine. I will repay, saith the Lord,'" and as the words which the chaplain had used on the previous day fell upon his ears the hardness died out of Jim's resolute face, and he let his hands fall to his side.

"You are right, colonel," he said, humbly. "I'm unhinged and unnerved altogether. I—I—hardly know what I am saying. Don't stay here any longer, sir; you'll do me more good by looking after my interests outside."

CHAPTER XVII.

THE VERDICT.

The hour of the inquest had come, and all Walmsbury and the adjacent neighborhood was in a state of the wildest excitement.

The great criminal lawyer who had come down from London to watch the case on behalf of Beautiful Jim had given him as his cue two words, "absolute silence," and upon that line his client behaved.

There was a stormy scene with one Private Leader, who swore and foreswore himself until he was threatened with contempt of court, and was finally bundled unceremoniously out of it as a witness who was nothing better than an idiot; and his unwilling and confused evidence was the only evidence which bore in any way against the character of the dead man's friend, James Beresford.

On the other hand, there was the testimony of the officer commanding the regiment that since the time Capt. Owen and Lieut. Beresford had been in the service they had been on terms of unusual intimacy; that, on his oath, he believed they had never either quarreled or had any approach to a quarrel during all the years they had been officers of his regiment, and that, so far as he knew, Lieut. Beresford had never had any quarrel or unpleasantness with any other of his brother officers.

Then came the evidence of the other officers whose quarters were on the same landing, namely, the doctor, young Manners and Tommy Earle.

The doctor stated that he occupied a room overlooking the barrack yard, and next to that of Mr. Beresford. He was, therefore, the furthest away from the room in which the murder had taken place. It was Capt. Owen's invariable, or almost invariable, custom to spend the last half hour of the evening in Mr. Beresford's room He frequently joined them there, but on that evening he was very tired. He had had a dangerous case under his care for some days previously, and had not had much sleep the two nights before.

"But you were invited to enter Mr. Beresford's room?"

"Certainly."

"And by whom?"

"Well—practically by both of them."

"Can you give us the exact terms of the invitation?"

"Oh, yes," answered the doctor, quietly. "I went up the stairs with Capt. Owen; Mr. Beresford was immediately behind us. I said: 'Well, I'm off to bed; good night, all of you.' Whereupon Capt. Owen returned: 'Oh! don't go to bed yet, come in and smoke a pipe with us.' Mr. Beresford supplemented the invitation by taking hold of my arm. 'Yes, come in for half an hour; there's a good chap,' he said."

"But you did not go?"

"I did not. I told them that I was dead tired; that I had been up the greater part of two nights with a bad case in hospital, and wanted to get to bed while I had the chance." Dr. Foster answered: "So I bade them good night and went into my own room."

"And that was the last time you saw Capt. Owen?"

"Alive," replied the doctor.

"And you heard no quarreling or any dispute between them?"

"Not a word."

"Could any such quarrel have taken place in Lieut. Beresford's room without your knowledge?"

"I think not."

"But, being very tired, did you not fall asleep immediately? Did you go to bed at once?"

"I did; but not to sleep. In fact, I heard Capt. Owen go to his own room."

"How long after was that?"

"I should say about half an hour."

"And they were apparently on good terms then?"

"Well, I heard them laughing several times. In fact, it was their laughter which kept me awake. And then I heard the door open and Capt. Owen say: 'Well, I dare say you're right. Good night, old chap.'"

"Did Lieut. Beresford make any reply?"

"Yes; he said 'Good night, old man.'"

"You heard Capt. Owen go to his own room?"

"I did, and close the door behind him."

"Did you hear Lieut. Beresford moving about his room after that?"

"Yes. Well, I heard him, to the best of my belief, get into bed."

"How could your hear that?"

"Because I heard him moving about the room precisely as I had heard him move every night for weeks past—once or twice across the floor; then one boot dropped off after the other, and then I heard his cot creak."

To be Continued.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Is very palatable and much better than the plain oil. Dr. W. H. Cameron, of Halifax, N. S., says: "I have prescribed Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites for the past two years and found it more agreeable to the stomach, and have better results from its use than any other preparation of the kind I have ever tried." Put up in 50c. and $1 size.

WHAT MR. LYON SAYS.

He Treated Harvey Well and Gave Him a Chance to Get on His Feet Again.

GUELPH, March 28.—Mr. J. W. Lyon was seen by a reporter today. He said: Mr. Harvey was sent to my place by Mr. E. R. C. Clarkson, Toronto, a year ago last July. He was recommended as a first-class man. After being six or seven weeks with me I thought a great deal of him and engaged him permanently as bookkeeper and cashier. On one occasion I sent him to Wisconsin on some business, and before he returned I had gone to Australia. I met him in Chicago and gave him charge of my business in my absence of four or five months.

Last February I suspected that he was somewhat short in his cash, and on being asked about it he said he had put the cash in the bank. I took the explanation and resumed confidence in him. The April balance showed me to owe him $94. He seemed to be a very good accountant and methodical in business. I had such confidence in him that I readily accepted his excuses as to the state of the books from time to time.

Some two weeks ago I noticed that the books had not been balanced for four months and I told him that I wished him to have them balanced by Saturday night so that I might see them on Monday morning. I finally received the cash-book from him on Thursday last and discovered a false addition in the month of April, 1888, amounting to $800. The original figure was blotted out and a spurious one inserted. Every month since that time shows a false balance. In June, 1888, there appears $110 in false additions and in January last $75—this in the face of the fact that I gave him a cheek for $50 as a Christmas present. So far as the examination has gone about $1000 has been embezzled.

When the defalcations were known to me my wife urged me not to make them public and I intended to spare Mr. Harvey. I showed him the false entries and he acknowledged that he had embezzled, but said it was to pay his debts. I then asked him to make up a statement of the amount embezzled. He said it was only about $1000 and stated that he would make up the amount. He did not do this as promised, and when I asked him for it would not make me a satisfactory answer. He appeared to not be at all penitent. I then decided to have him arrested. The arrest took place on Monday night. He came into my office on Tuesday morning, that being the first I knew of his having got bail. I asked him to sit down but he would not do so. He said he came in to see why I changed my mind. I told him that I had not made any promise to him. He said, "Certainly, I know you did not." He then asked why I did this, and I told him it was because I did not think he was penitent. He then went out.

When Mr. Bond came into my office in the forenoon I told him that the revolver was purchased by Mr. Harvey, that I would not pay for it and further that evil would result from it. I then sent a letter to the chief of police stating the facts and demanding protection. Mr. Harvey got $25 a week salary."

Dr. Lett, medical superintendent of the Homewood Retreat situated outside this city, says that Mr. Harvey telephoned for him on Monday night from Mr. Lyon's office. When he went to the office Mr. Harvey asked him to go bail, which he readily did. Mr. Harvey was downhearted about his arrest. He said it was a scheme of Lyon's to crush him.

A NOBLE LIFE ENDED.

Death of John Bright—Brief Sketch of His Career.

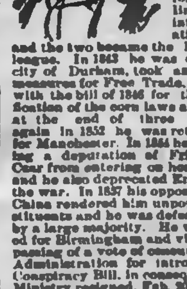
LONDON, March 27.—John Bright died at 8.30 this morning. Mr. Bright's end was peaceful and painless. He had lain in a comatose condition since yesterday. All of his family were present at his deathbed.

Mr. Bright's funeral will take place Saturday. The interment will be in the Friends' burying ground at Rochdale. The ceremonies will be as private as possible.

The sculptor Bruce Joy has taken a cast of Mr. Bright's face. Political deputations will follow the funeral. Only personal friends will be admitted to the meeting in the house.

At political meetings throughout the country this evening sympathetic references were made to Mr. Bright. Sir William Vernon Harcourt, speaking at Bradford, said no greater or purer man ever adorned political life in England. Lords Harrie and Spencer, addressing a popular meeting at Stafford, paid high tributes to Mr. Bright.

The United Ireland says of Mr. Bright: "Ireland will forget all the grievances against him at the open grave and will remember only the priceless services of his old days when his heart was warm, his mind bright and his eloquence irresistible. The real Bright died three years ago."



[John Bright was born at Greenbank near Rochdale, Lancashire, Nov. 16, 1811. He was a member of the Society of Friends, at whose school at York he was educated. Although he early gave promise of the distinction which he afterwards received he applied himself to commercial pursuits. For many years he was the head of a firm of cotton-spinners and manufacturers in Rochdale. When the Anti-Corn Law Association was formed in 1838 Mr. Bright entered heartily into its plans, co-operating with Mr. Cobden, and the two became the leading spirits of the league. In 1843 he was elected M.P. for the city of Durham, took an active part in the measures for Free Trade, and had much to do with the bill of 1846 for the immediate modification of the corn laws and their total repeal at the end of three years. In 1847 and again in 1852 he was returned to Parliament for Manchester. In 1854 he sanctioned the sending a deputation of Friends to dissuade the Czar from entering on hostilities with Turkey, and he also deprecated England taking part in the war. In 1857 his opposition to the war with China rendered him unpopular with his constituents and he was defeated in Manchester by a large majority. He was, however, returned for Birmingham and vigorously urged the passing of a vote of censure on the Palmerston Administration for introducing the Foreign Conspiracy Bill, in consequence of which the Ministry resigned, Feb. 20, 1858. Shortly afterwards Mr. Bright made a speech in favor of the reduction of the British military establishment and condemning the policy of Asiatic conquest. He also took a leading part in bringing about the commercial treaty with France. After 1857 Mr. Bright's name was mainly identified with a scheme for the reform of the electoral representation by a wide extension of the suffrage and a more equal distribution of seats. Mr. Bright was an uncompromising advocate of the North during the Civil War in America, and with the close of the struggle he renewed the agitation for Reform. He visited Ireland and was entertained at a banquet in Dublin, 1866, on the invitation of twenty Liberal Irish M.P.'s. In 1868 he was presented with the freedom of the city of Edinburgh, and in the same year he accepted office under Mr. Gladstone as President of the Board of Trade. Through ill-health he retired from office in December, 1870. In 1873 he was appointed to the Chancellorship of the Duchy of Lancaster, and he held that post till the Liberals went out of office in 1874. When that party returned to office in 1880, Mr. Bright was re-appointed Chancellor. In July, 1882, he announced in the House of Commons that he had resigned his office and retired from the Cabinet because he differed from his colleagues on their policy in Egypt, which led to the bombardment of Alexandria. On the question of Home Rule for Ireland Mr. Bright supported the Unionist opposition to Mr. Gladstone's bill, and his denunciations of the measure went far to secure its rejection and the subsequent return of the Unionist majority to Parliament. Since the general election Mr. Bright's public appearances have not been very important.]

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Will you suffer with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. S. C. Wells & Co., proprietors, Le Roy, N. Y.

Merchants say our expenses are so light we can sell Goods cheaper, but we say ours are large and our business massive, hence our advantage.

Look at our Tea Sales and prices, other houses try to compete in price, not quality.

Look at our prices of Sugars, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our prices of Fruits, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our extensive Country Trade, our Town Trade and surrounding Village Trade, and in but few words, we can dare other houses to compete.

SPRING
Millinery Opening
AT TURNBULL'S.

Wednesday and Thursday, March 27th and 28th. We give a cordial invitation to all and expect to see you on the above dates, to look through our magnificent Stock of Millinery and Millinery Trimmings, Mantles, Dolmans and Jackets. Light Plain Cloths and Fancy Checks for young people, Rich Brocade and Fancy Stripes for the older, with all the New Trimmings to match.

THE EVENT OF THE PAST WEEK—Has been Dress Goods and Dress Trimmings. We cannot begin to tell you how they have been admired. Sateur Cloths have been the favorites. There is an indescribable gentility about the Colors that makes you feel you would like to have a dress and wear it. The new Steel and Silk Gimps blend so perfectly. Our Bradford (England) Dress Cloths at 10 cents, are worth a corner in your Memory.

Our Prints in the windows and on the counters have been turning up their saucy, pretty faces at you as you pass by for the past two or three weeks and many a prudent mother has had her summer supply sent home already knowing she would not find the same assortment later.

During the past few weeks in the hurry and bustle of unpacking case after case of New Goods, we have neglected to call your attention to our Boys' Clothing and Tailoring Department. In fact was it necessary? Our old customers know and the public generally are finding out that our tailor is very hard to beat in a fit and we never take a side seat on prices. Our importations of Cloths from across the boiling sea have arrived, and lay side by side with their Canadian Cousins. It is hard to say which is the prettiest or best, but the Scotch have the name of making the color faster than the Canadians. We will not dispute their ability to-day. Our Tailoring Department is not what it was three years ago. It has grown amazingly, we mean it shall still grow by giving Good Goods, Proper Styles and Close Prices. Our Boys' Clothing is opened out. Boys, be happy, tell your parents of the fact and have them come in and pick your suit out. We are sure we can please them with the price. In the centre of the floor stands a table loaded with a job line of laces. When we say job we mean half price or under. They are all two and three cents a yard, take your choice. You cannot buy the same goods any where else less than five cents, and most of them you will pay ten cents for. The fashion sheets (which are free) for this month have arrived. A full assortment of Domestic Patterns kept.

Remember the days of our Millinery Opening when our store will be in its holiday attire, when all the novelties of the season will be displayed.

BALM FOR MISS KIRBY.

A BREACH OF PROMISE CASE AT TORONTO.

The Jury Endeavor to Console the Fair Plaintiff With a Verdict for $7000—Other Toronto Topics.

TORONTO, March 29.—George Powell, alias Jack Clarke, and a half a dozen other aliases, the bogus "Jesuit priest," came up for sentence yesterday morning. Mr. Alexander McMillan, jeweler of Ottawa, identified the half-dozen valuable gold watches which the prisoner obtained from him on Monday by pretenses similar to those under which he endeavored to swindle P. W. Ellis & Co. of this city out of a lot of diamonds valued at $1500. Powell pleaded guilty to the McMillan fraud. Sergeant Reburn handed His Worship the circular from Liverpool, Eng., describing the prisoner's tricks in that city, and Powell acknowledged having served a term of three years in an eastern penitentiary. "It seems to me," said Col. Denison, addressing the prisoner, "that you make a living by crime. I will send you to the Penitentiary for five years." "That will give him plenty of time to make a confession," remarked Father Egan of Thornhill, who had dropped into court in company with Father Lynch to look at the notorious scoundrel.

John Lee West, the New Orleans boodler, wants none of the quality of Canadian justice meted out to offenders, so he prefers to stand his chances in his native place, having expressed his desire to return to the Crescent City for trial. A constable is now on his way here to get him. He will arrive on Saturday or Sunday. The magistrate remanded West till Monday, but if the officer from New Orleans arrives in the meantime he will be brought into court.

Harry Shine, a bootblack with several convictions for larceny and shop-breaking against him, was observed in the fancy goods store of Atkinson Bros., No. 40 York-street, by a bell-boy at the Walker House. To evade arrest Shine jumped through the plate-glass window, but the bell-boy was too quick for the thief and collared him. Yesterday morning Shine was remanded till next Thursday.

The Building Committee of the Board of Trade have decided to call for tenders for the contract for the new building. It will cost $230,000, and the land will cost $69,500.

Spicy were the details and racy the evidence elicited before Mr. Justice Rose and a jury in the Kirby v Watson case yesterday. The audience was large and appreciative. The defendant, John Archibald Watson, was accused of breach of promise of marriage and seduction. He is a school teacher and was employed in that capacity in the village of Marie. The plaintiff, Alice Kirby, is a young woman of goodly appearance and about 23 years of age. Her father is a farmer in the Township of Vaughan. The plaintiff and defendant were long acquainted. Six years ago Watson began to pay attentions to Alice and to keep company with her. He became in fact a frequent visitor at her father's house, and while she was attending school correspondence passed between them. Four years ago it was agreed that they should marry, but Watson afterwards refused to live up to the contract. This was after he had seduced her, and she has since become a mother.

Alice Kirby's testimony was substantially the same as is given above. She admitted that she was a consenting party to her own despoilment. After the defendant left her last May she kept company for some time with Thomas McDonald, for whom she seemed to have a high regard. A couple of letters were read in court, in one of which she asked the defendant to return her correspondence. Evidence was taken showing that the plaintiff and defendant were in the habit of occupying a lounge together until a late hour and until the other members of the family had retired. On these occasions it was that the impropriety occurred.

Nellie and Amelia Kirby, sisters of the plaintiff, swore that the existence of the engagement of marriage was well known. The last note which Alice wrote to her lover was as follows: "John Archie: please come out immediately, I want to see you. You will know what is the matter. I wish I were dead. ALICE KIRBY."

The jury retired for about 1½ hours and returned a verdict giving $7000 to the plaintiff. This Mr. Justice Rose pointed out was too large a sum, as only $5000 had been claimed. The verdict accordingly was reduced to $5000.

Sabbath Observance.

HAMILTON, March 28.—A joint meeting of Sabbath observance committees, appointed by the church courts of Western Ontario was held in St. Paul's schoolroom to-day at 9 a.m. Rev. W.J. Maxwell was appointed chairman and Rev. J. Mordy secretary. After earnest consideration of the objects of the meeting it was moved by Rev. Dr. Laidlaw, seconded by Rev. Dr. Brethour, and resolved that a convention be held at Hamilton on the last Thursday of June next for the purpose of forming a permanent Sabbath observance alliance.

A Blaze at Guelph.

GUELPH, March 28.—Fire broke out tonight at 8.30 in the two-story stone houses in Arthur-street, owned by D. Allan and occupied by James Cherbonneau. It is supposed to have originated from a lamp which was left on the stairway exploding, as the family was absent from home, and the flames made considerable headway before it was discovered. The damage to the contents will amount to about $2000, insured in the Mercantile for $800. The loss on the building is estimated at $800, insurance unknown.

Murdered in Church.

PARIS, Ky., March 28.—Ben Kellis was shot and killed at the meeting of the colored M. E. conference last evening as he was escorting Mrs. Georgie Wheeler, a handsome quadroon, to a seat. John Page was the murderer. Jealousy was the cause. Bishop Andrews of Washington was presiding at the meeting and the room was crowded. A panic followed the shooting but no one was hurt.

A BAKER'S DOZEN.

VOTE FOR COL. O'BRIEN'S DISALLOWANCE AMENDMENT.

The House Divides After a Day and Night of Talk—The Resolution Lost by 175 Majority.

OTTAWA, March 28.—All afternoon and far into the night the debate on Col. O'Brien's disallowance resolution occupied the attention of the House. Until Sir John rose to reply to the leader of the Opposition the speakers were all from the Liberal benches.

The House divided amid great excitement, and when the vote was taken it was found that only thirteen members supported Col. O'Brien's amendment.

It was one of the most memorable sights ever witnessed in the Canadian House of Commons.

Hon. David Mills, in resuming the debate, said he never remembered any occasion in Parliament so well calculated to exhibit the tactical skill of the First Minister, who, that he might satisfactorily meet the dangerous agitation which had arisen, had divided his forces into two wings, each under a trusty lieutenant. The one wing was commanded by the Minister of Justice, the other was under the member from North Simcoe (Mr. McCarthy). He could not believe that the latter would have so ardently supported the amendment of the member for Muskoka had he not known that his action did not meet with the disapproval of the Government. As to the member for West York (Mr. Wallace), he was said to be not very serious in his opposition to the course of the Government, as he too aspired to a position on the Treasury benches; in fact it was even said that a round robin on his behalf was now in circulation around the back benches. The Government had in fact presented a two-sided shield to the House and no matter which of the lieutenants was to be followed the end was the same, the Government was to be supported.

There was, he thought, nothing more dangerous than to pass opinions on the religious belief of a portion of the community, in a popular assembly. He was not afraid that the rights of Protestants would suffer in this country. How could fair play be expected from the Catholics unless the Protestants exhibited a spirit of tolerance? He was unwilling to concede to any Roman Catholic institution in this country anything that would not be granted to a Protestant institution. If their clergymen were sincere and would preach religion not politics he thought Protestantism would be perfectly safe in Canada. While as anxious as any one to oppose encroachments by any denomination he would rather be the victim of wrongful judgment by others than be the instrument in the hands of anybody to wrong his fellow countrymen.

After recess Mr. Charlton spoke in support of the disallowance resolution. Though his convictions, which forbid his voting with the majority on the subject, would perhaps result in his being retired to private life at the close of this Parliament, he thought any encroachment upon the civil and religious liberty of the people should be jealously guarded against, and was glad to notice the rising of tens of thousands of men in Canada during the last few months to protest against the endowment of this order.

He thought the whole trouble arose out of the incorporation of the Jesuits. It seemed to him a great injustice that a loyal body like the Orange order should be denied incorporation while that privilege was granted to the Jesuits. He had at the time been opposed to the incorporation of the Orange order as not in the best interests of the community, and he thought the same principles should have governed in this instance. He held it was the bounden duty of this Parliament to inquire into the history of this organization to see if it had been guilty of all the wrong-doing ascribed to it. He considered that their establishment in Canada was detrimental to the political interests of this country. He reviewed the history of the order and held that it had been properly suppressed and should not again have been incorporated. He considered that their incorporation in British North America was unconstitutional, and as every act based upon such incorporation was unconstitutional the act under discussion should have been disallowed on that ground. Even were the measure constitutional he held that as a question of public policy it should be disallowed. The history of the order had been one of turmoil, intrigue and attempt to pull down the interests of the country wherever they have been placed.

Mr. Charlton concluded by reading a protest passed this morning by the Protestant Ministerial Association of Montreal against Mr. Curran's claim to voice the sentiments of the Protestant minority in Quebec in condemning the disallowance agitation, and he took exception to the advice of Hon. David Mills this afternoon that Protestant ministers should preach religion and not politics, and held that that minister would be but a dumb dog who did not raise his voice to proclaim the right and combat the wrong of all description.

Mr. Mulock regretted that a section of the House were willing in supporting Col. O'Brien's resolution to adopt a course which would destroy the union of the provinces. He was amazed that when there was such a simple solution to this question as an appeal to the courts anyone should have taken such a dangerous course as to bring the dispute before Parliament. Such a course he considered not statesmanlike or patriotic. He deplored that the member for Muskoka had forgotten that he was living in the nineteenth century and had thought that he was still living in old Ireland where a minority wielded the power and exercised its sway. Were the Government defeated on this question and an appeal to the country demanded who was prepared to take the consequences of placing before the country an issue such as that presented here and the war of creeds that would ensue?

Mr. Sutherland regretted the manner in which this matter had come before the House. He would vote for the disallowance of the act, not because it made a grant to the Roman Catholic Church or to the Jesuits but because he considered it unconstitutional to make a grant to any body of men for sectarian purposes.

Mr. McMillan thought the weight of argument proved the constitutionality of the act and he would therefore vote against the O'Brien resolution unless he could be satisfied before the close of the debate that it would settle the whole difficulty. [Laughter.]

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier said the day of retribution it appeared had now come upon the Government. The two chief provinces of the Dominion were differently constituted — one French and Catholic, the other English and Protestant. He charged it against the Conservative party that ever since 1854 they had maintained power by pandering to the religious prejudices of the parties. This game had for a long time succeeded. But it would not be successful much longer. The Government to-day were only reaping what they had been sowing. They had allowed a large section of the party to look upon them as champions of Protestantism and they had asked to be backed up in their policy of disallowance, now they were in turn asked to put this policy into effect in the interests of Protestantism.

The Premier had maintained again and again that he had the right to review local legislation and to say whether it was wrong or right. Thus he had disallowed the Streams Bill. The Minister of Justice had in the Jesuits Estates matter declined to interfere because the matter was one of provincial concern only—sound Liberal doctrine but it had taken a long time for this principle to penetrate the minds of the Government.

He could not ignore the agitation that was now going on in the Province of Ontario, nor view otherwise than with deep concern the attitude of a large portion of the Province of Ontario towards this Jesuits Estates Act. He hoped the attempt to arouse the feelings of the province would fail. The cause of the agitation and the legislation which had created so much turmoil was found in the hatred which France and England brought over with them when they came to Canada. All this was changed in the Old World now.

It was easy for the editor in his easy chair or the clergyman in his cabinet to settle a question on principle, but it was not so easy for the administrator in practical life. There had been only one way yet invented to govern men satisfactorily and that was to govern them according to public opinion. This question then had been settled in accordance with the public opinion of the Province of Quebec and if this opinion were overridden there would be, in place of the harmony which now existed, discord, the consequences of which he feared to contemplate.

He repudiated the charge made by the member for North Simcoe that the French-Canadian citizens of the Province of Quebec forgot that they were residents of a British Province. He declared that he was a Canadian before everything, and if to-morrow an opportunity offered to decide between allegiance to France or to England, he would unhesitatingly declare for a continuance of his allegiance to England, and if a poll was taken in Quebec he did not think that a single vote would be cast for a return to allegiance to France. If they were of French origin they were most likely to forget it. Day after day The Mail had been calling on the French Liberals to vote against the act. If they were Liberals they were not Liberals of the old French school. They were told they should not allow this act because the principles of the order of the Jesuits were inimical to liberty. He would not be surprised to hear such a statement from a Liberal of the old French school. Was not liberty to give people liberty?

Sir John Macdonald took exception to Mr. Laurier's statement that the Conservative party had since 1854 maintained themselves in power by appeals to national prejudice. He pointed out for the greater part of the time, between 1854 and 1866, he had been in a minority in his own province because of his unflinching advocacy of the rights of his Roman Catholic fellow-citizens of the Province of Quebec. In answer to the criticism made that the Government ought sooner to have declared the ground upon which they had acted in this case, he said that no defence was required for having allowed any act of a provincial legislature.

He might say here that in coming to the conclusion that this bill was one which might properly be allowed, lawyers and laymen in the Cabinet had been unanimous, and if there had any doubt remained in their minds he thought it must have disappeared upon hearing the speech of the member for Bothwell this afternoon. The act was not without precedent, for there was on the statute book the act passed thirty-seven years ago incorporating the St. Mary's College, the Jesuit College at Montreal, and the act of 1871 incorporating the Congregation de Notre Dame de Societe de Jesus.

The doctrines of the Jesuits must be such as are approved of by the head of their church, or they would soon be informed of it in a peremptory manner. We had been told about the expulsion of the Jesuits, the Act of Supremacy and a number of acts of long ago, but these acts had long been obsolete though not removed from the statute books. In England to-day the Jesuits flourished and their institution at Stoneyhurst was one of the most noted educational institutions. In England the people were not afraid; why should we be?

This after all was a mere matter of money and the present agitation went to show how easily the public were agitated. He regretted that the member for Muskoka had introduced this resolution. He hoped that the agitation over the matter would die away peacefully. There were in the whole Dominion of Canada 71 Jesuit priests. They were armed with a string of beads, a sash around their waists and a massbook or missal, and we were told that with these weapons there was a danger of their conquering Canada. The idea was absurd. He had told his staunch Protestant friend, Dr. Potts of Toronto, that he would match him bodily or spiritually against any one of these seventy-one Jesuit priests—[laughter]—and he thought he could similarly match the other seventy. The Jesuits were a teaching body exclusively in Canada now. The Jesuit share of this grant was $160,000 and over this all the row had been raised.

It reminded him of the anecdote told of a Jew who, going into an eating-house, was seduced into eating a slice of ham. As he came out there was a crash of thunder, and the poor Jew astonished, exclaimed: "Good Heavens! What a row about a little bit of pork!" As the Jew escaped the thunderbolt so he thought the effect of the agitation now heard in this country would not be so serious.

If this bill had been disallowed Mr. Mercier would have achieved a great triumph. He would have been the champion of the church, his Legislature would have been called together and the measure re-enacted. Then what would have happened? No Government could be found that would take the responsibility of again disallowing it and alarming national disturbances would ensue.

Sir Richard Cartwright followed the Premier, speaking against the amendment.

The following is the division on Col. O'Brien's amendment, the Liberals being in italics and the Conservatives in Roman. The amendment was lost by a vote of 13 to 188. Two hundred and one of the 215 members voted. Mr. Chapleau is out of the country and Mr. Pope is sick at home:

Hon. Edward Blake voted for the first time this session.

By arrangement between Catholic members none of them had taken any part in the debate with the exception of the Minister of Justice and the leader of Opposition.

An Unknown Wreck.

LEWES, Del., March 28.—The British brig Sunshine, from Parahiba, reports that March 19, 150 miles northeast of Cape Hatteras, she passed a large vessel about 200 feet long, a ship or steamer, bottom up, copper painted, evidently a recent wreck. A masthead boat waterlogged and oars were near. The weather was too rough to examine.

Death of a Centenarian.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., March 28.—Thomas Keegan of Juniata township, who was buried to-day was 108 years old. He carried a pike in the Irish rebellion of 1798 and came to this country 75 years ago. His first vote was for Andrew Jackson and his last for Cleveland.

TRIBUTES TO JOHN BRIGHT

MEN OF ALL SHADES OF OPINION JOIN IN HIS PRAISE.

Gladstone to Second the Condolence Motion in the House—Mr. Lincoln's Nomination a Pleasant Surprise to Lord Salisbury.

LONDON, March 28.—In accordance with Mr. Bright's own wish the funeral will be of the simplest description. Yesterday was the anniversary of the death of Mr. Bright's brother Samuel.

Mr. Chamberlain writes: "By Mr. Bright's death we have lost the most unique figure among English statesmen and popular leaders of the present generation. The consistency and completeness of his career and the massive simplicity of his character mark him out from all others. Now, having fought his last fight, his death is a universal loss to both party and country."

The Standard says: "Mr. Bright was not, and did not profess to be, a great statesman, but he was one of the most disinterested social reformers, powerful orators and honest politicians that the country has ever produced."

Mr. Bright has left four sons and three daughters.

It is expected that Mr. Gladstone will make the speech seconding the motion of condolence and probable adjournment of the House, moved by the leader of the Government in the Commons to-morrow.

It is believed Mr. Bright will eventually be buried in Westminster Abbey, though at first his remains will be deposited in the family burial-place near Rochdale. This would be very appropriate, as emphasising the view that "peace hath her victories no less renowned than those of war." Mr. John Morley was seen this morning. He says it would be a glory to the Abbey. The last great funeral there was the burial of Darwin. Mr. Morley says that Whittier was Mr. Bright's favorite poet.

All the blinds of the Reform Club, the dead Liberal's favorite haunt, were immediately drawn on receipt of the news of his death.

In the House of Lords this afternoon the Marquis of Salisbury, speaking of Mr. Bright, said: "He had special qualities for which he will be admired and noted in history. He was the greatest master of English oratory in the present generation, the eloquence of his style giving fitting expression to his burning noble thoughts. He possessed a singular rectitude of character. He was inspired by pure patriotism from the beginning of his career to its close."

The Alaskan Seizures.

LONDON, March 28.—Sir Geo. S. Baden-Powell asked in the House of Commons this afternoon whether the case of the three sealing ships arrested in Behring's Sea in 1887 and condemned by the Alaskan Court had been admitted to appeal by the supreme court. Sir James Ferguson, Under Foreign Secretary, replied that the time allowed for appeals had lapsed.

Salisbury Agreeably Surprised.

LONDON, March 28.—A despatch announcing that President Harrison had nominated Robert T. Lincoln as Minister to England was read at a dinner given last evening by Earl Cowper. Viscount Cranborn, son of Lord Salisbury, was a guest. He immediately hurried to Arlington-street and informed his father. The Prime Minister said the nomination was a pleasant surprise.

To Challenge the Opinion of the House.

PARIS, March 28.—It is semi-officially stated that the Cabinet will not raise a formal question of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies but will challenge the opinion of the House during the debate on the Budget.

French Legislation.

PARIS, March 28.—The Chamber of Deputies to-day passed a bill doubling the import duties on rye and adding 5 francs per hundred weight to the duty on rye meal.

The Chamber agreed to grant a credit of 20,000,000 francs for the erection of a memorial of the revolution.

The Dutch Throne.

THE HAGUE, March 28.—Parliament will assemble April 2 for the purpose of receiving a communication from the ministry in which formal announcement will be made of the King's incapacity for governing.

Entertained the Kaiser.

BERLIN, March 28.—Sir Edward B. Malet, the British ambassador, entertained the Emperor and Empress at dinner this evening. Thirty-six guests were present.

MILITIA CLOTHING.

The Public Accounts Committee Again Takes Up Mr. Mulock's Charges.

OTTAWA, March 28.—The question of militia clothing was again brought before the Public Accounts Committee to-day. Capt. Bennett, of the Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, was examined by Mr. Mulock in respect to the dissatisfaction which exists with the quality of clothing supplied by the Militia Department.

Sir Adolphe Caron raised an objection to the committee investigating the cause of dissatisfaction in the militia force on the ground that it was outside its jurisdiction. This objection was sustained by Mr. D'Alton McCarty. Mr. Mulock said he charged the Government with having granted to political favorites contracts for manufacturing clothing at extraordinarily high prices without tender, and that the Department of Militia had not exercised proper supervision over the quality of clothing supplied the troops. He proposed to show this by the witness before them.

The chairman decided that it was not within the province of the committee, and if Mr. Mulock was prepared to make these charges he should do so in the House and secure the appointment of a special committee with power to take evidence. However, it was finally decided to take the evidence. During the examination Mr. McCarthy was interrupting Mr. Mulock, when the latter retorted: "Hold on! Do you think you are a mind reader? I will have to send for the Minister of Justice to attend to you." [Laughter.]

The witness offered to send in letters from his brother officers to show that, in addition to his own evidence, he could satisfy the committee that the complaint was a general one, but this was ruled out.

Mr. Clarke Wallace said that it was not necessary to bring all the regiments in the country before the committee to give evidence about the Militia Department, but if their evidence was taken he thought their opinion would be greatly against the Minister.

The witness, on examination, stated he was a Conservative, prompted by no political motives. The evidence given by witness and others was to show that the clothing was in every way unsatisfactory to the force, and inferior in the fit, quality and everything else when compared with the English goods. The meeting will be continued to-morrow.

Mr. Lincoln May Decline.

CHICAGO, March 28.—Robert T. Lincoln received telegrams from all parts of the country to-day congratulating him on his nomination to the Court of St. James. He says he has not yet made up his mind as to whether he will accept the nomination. A friend of Mr. Lincoln's thinks he will decline it for the reason chiefly that his wife is a confirmed invalid.

Legitime Bombarding Gonaives.

NEW YORK, March 28.—A despatch from Hayti reports that Legitime's gunboats are bombarding Gonaives, one of Hyppolite's most important strongholds.

Private despatches received to-day state that Legitime has lately met with great success in the department of Lartibonite. It is reported that the army of the south has pushed north and captured the Province of Tron, directly south of Cape Haytien, where Hyppolyte's headquarters are situated. Another communication received here to-day states that Legitime's gunboat Belize had captured the American steamer Delta, but released her when her identity became known. The Delta's officers after the release were paid [illegible] by Legitime to carry three of his ministers to Hyppolyte's camp for the purpose of bringing about a settlement of the difficulty.

THE VICTIMS BURIED.

Mrs. Harvey and Her Two Daughters Laid at Rest at Guelph

GUELPH, March 28.--There is still great excitement in the city over the triple murder committed by W. H. Harvey on Tuesday. The three unfortunate victims, Mrs. Harvey, Lillian Mary and Geraldine Harvey, were buried this afternoon and this perhaps stirred up excitement and interest in the sad tragedy. The family was held in high esteem by the whole city, and the public schools were closed at noon as a mark of respect to the dead. The funeral was announced to leave the residence on Woolwich-street, at 2.30, p.m. Long before that hour hundreds of people lined the thoroughfare between the house and St. George's Church, and there must have been upwards of 3000 at the church when the cortege arrived. The crowd was so anxious to get a glimpse of the corpses that it was with difficulty that the police force could keep them back. When the doors of the sacred edifice were thrown open a great rush was made and every pew was soon filled. Hundreds could not gain admittance, and stood around the street until the church services were concluded. The floral tributes were numerous and handsome. On Mrs. Harvey's casket was placed a large wreath from St. James' Cricket Club, Toronto, together with a basket of flowers, calla lilies and other offerings from St. George's Church congregation, Guelph. On Miss Harvey's was a floral pillow, "In loving remembrance from the Communicants' Guild of St. George's church," floral cross from the Bible Association of St. George's church, lilies and cut flowers from friends in the congregation. On Miss Geraldine Harvey's casket lay a floral wreath from "Frances, Helen, Kenny and Frankie," schoolmates, together with numerous cut flowers from her playmates.

The pall bearers were as follows:

For Mrs. Harvey—Wm. Reynolds, Geo. Murton, Geo. Elliott, E. Morris, J. Hallett and J. W. Saunders.

For Lilian—W. M. Stanley, A. E. Lyon, Jas. Davidson and A. Smith.

For Geraldine—H. Taylor, G. Taylor, Frank Lace and H. Murton.

The full service of the Church of England was conducted by Ven. Archdeacon Dixon and Rev. Geo. A. Harvey. All the members of the choir were present and the musical portion was particularly impressive and sad.

The Inquest Resumed.

GUELPH, March 28—At 4.30 the inquest was again gone on with to-day. After examining Detective Inspector Stark of Toronto and the telegraph messenger from Toronto, and the livery men from Galt and Hespeler from whom Harvey procured horses to drive to Harrisburg, the hearing was adjourned until Tuesday, April 2, at 7.30 p.m.

Harvey has not yet spoken a word, and has taken only a little soup after threatening to use force and compel him to take it. He is very weak and sat all day with his head bowed low.

Mrs. Howe Liberated.

BOSTON, March 28.—Mrs. Sarah E. Howe of the Women's Bank notoriety, who has been in jail since Dec. 8 last on a charge of obtaining money by false pretences, was arraigned in court to-day. She still insisted that she was not guilty. As the Government had no evidence to sustain the allegations Mrs. Howe was allowed to go on her own recognizance.

Cornell Alumni Dinner.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The ninth annual dinner of the New York Association of Cornell University Alumni took place to-night. Prof. Goldwin Smith and others responded to toasts.

THE MEADOW-LAND.

Written for the Democrat and Chronicle by A. E. Dunble.

Far away from the crowded streets,
Is a meadow-land, where buttercups grow,
And purple asters, and marguerites
Bend o'er a brooklet, murmuring low.

Winding cows paths lead to a spring,
Where, thirsting, oft I've stooped to drink,
And drinking, heard the cat-bird sing,
And brown thrush and bob-o-link.

There, other skies I've seen below,
Bright and fair as those above,
Where fleecy clouds did come and go,
As pure as maiden thoughts of love.

And often, when by cares dismayed,
Or vexed with toil my throbbing brain,
I'd hie me to its welcome shade,
And drink, and be at peace again.

So, sometime, when these pulseless hands
Are laid across my weary breast,
I'll seek in Heavenly meadow-lands,
Eternal springs and be at rest.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

REVIEWS.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.—The March issue of this excellent periodical is to hand, an ever welcome visitor. We make the following summary of contents that our readers may know of the splendid variety within its covers:—In keeping with the spirit and interest of the day, Professor John Bach McMaster opens this April number with a paper on Washington's Inauguration, a charming compound of history and biography, and Moncure D. Conway, in the course of exploring and old map and many MSS., discovers some reminiscences which will add to our knowledge of the "real" Washington. Bjornstjerne Bjornson contributes his third and last paper on Norway and its People. He enables us to read the political mind of Norway, tells why Norway, as a land for tourists, is recognized to be the grandest in Europe. Benjamin Constant has prepared twelve drawings of scenes in Tangier and Morocco, and has put into his descriptive article some of what he calls the "light, whiteness, brilliancy" of the East. Andrew H. Smith M. D., writes upon The Family Physician; John R. Coryell, upon birds that are noted for Flying under Water, and Theodore Child, upon Characteristic Parisian Cafes, illustrated with as characteristic Parisian drawings. Two short stories, the first instalment of a novel—A Little Journey in the World—by Charles Dudley Warner, and the continuation of Constance Fenimore Woolson's Jupiter Lights form the fiction of the Number. Gabions of Abbotsford, a hitherto unpublished fragment by Sir Walter Scott, describes his home and its curiosities. George William Curtis speaks of Washington's Moderation, William Dean Howells encourages several poets, and Charles Dudley Warner dispels a misapprehension about woman's dress. Harper Bros. Publishers, New York, and for sale by all booksellers.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE.—One of the papers sure to prove of more than general interest, and which appears in the issue of Scribner's Magazine for April, is The Building of an Ocean Greyhound, as the fast liners of the Atlantic are termed. Beautifully illustrated, tersely and graphically written, the account deals with the construction of the vessel from the time the lines are laid down on paper until she sets out from port. In the fullest sense this is one of the papers for the people and will draw favorable comment from thousands of readers. Climbing Mount St. Elias is a graphic account of the perilous undertaking which carried its projecters to the summit of the highest mountain on the American continent. The article is well illustrated from sketches and photographs. Dr. Thomas Dwight, of the Harvard Medical School, describes fully for the first time in a popular article, the peculiar Anatomy of the Contortionist. The peculiar powers of these "snake men" are shown not to be chiefly the result of training, but are possible because of the unusual construction of the skeleton. A paper which is sure to cause wide discussion is The Prevention of Railroad Strikes, by Charles Francis Adams, President of the Union Pacific. The paper is, all in all, one of the most important of the Railroad Series. It will attract a deservedly wide attention from railroad men all over the continent. In other departments and in its wealth of splendid literary matter the April Scribner's is fully up to the mark. Scribner & Sons, publishers, New York, and for sale by all booksellers.

HATS!

Hats, gentlemen, Hats!

In the name of People, Hats!

And why, Hats!

The Hat is the badge of respectability, the trade mark of civilization—that is any kind of a decent Hat. And properly, too.

Let us consider this question of Hats.

Had Bonaparte paused on the way to Waterloo to select a new Hat the result might have been different.

Had Christopher Columbus worn a shabby Hat, could he have made the fine impression he did on landing in Amerikay. No much. Not any.

Had Julius Cæsar carried a neat and taking head cover, his untimely decease might have been indefinitely postponed. History is jam full of incidents that point to the necessity of wearing a good Hat.

Men have been crossed in love, fallen off scaffolds, been beaten at the polls, arrested on suspicion, failed in business, and lost the respect of their fellow citizens by wearing a bad Hat.

The moral of all this is, come to us for your Hats. It's a new department with us, and a mighty good one. It's good because its new, and wholly new and good. We do nothing by halves. See our Stock. See what we offer in Style, Material, Shape and Finish. You can take your pick of the Best Goods by the Best Makers. We discount the Town on Hats.

Personal.

Rev. Father Conway, of Norwood, has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be about again.

In an account of an entertainment given by the ladies of St. Andrew's Church, Campbellford, the Herald says:—"Miss Cameron, of Peterborough, delighted the audience by singing several songs, and received hearty applause."

The Scott Act Campaign.

Last evening a meeting was held by supporters of the Scott Act at the Indian village which was addressed by speakers from the town, and another was held in the Union Hall, in Smith township. Other meetings will be held throughout the county. To-night there will be one at the Toll-gate, and Monday night another will be held at the Town Hall in North Monaghan and a couple more will be held in Smith before Thursday.

What is It?

Simply this, that a great many are throwing away their good honest dollars without getting proper value for them. So listen—a word in time:—You no doubt have heard that W. J. Morrow proposes selling groceries not as cheap as other houses but away below them. The old maxim, "Seeing is Believing"—so call and price our goods. We modestly urge immediate consideration and you will find prompt action will pay you, so we hope to receive a call. Why, the whole town, country and surroundings are simply on fire with enthusiasm and now the name of W. J. Morrow, the only cheap grocer, resounds both near and far.

St. John's Church.

The services and meetings in connection with St. John's church to be held to-day (Friday) are as follows:—

5 p.m.—Meeting of Visiting Committee Y.M.G., at Mr. A. V. R. Young's office, to arrange for systematic work.

7.30 p.m.—Short service in the church.

8 p.m.—Weekly Bible reading in the church.

5 p.m.—Confirmation Class for men and boys at McKenrick's rooms.

3.30 p.m.—Confirmation Class for men and women in school house.

MRS. L.—"You need'nt worry about your food, because I buy all my groceries from M. R. KIDD, and when he warrants a thing pure I know its so." d66

A Feline Suicide.

The character of one excellent well in the Third Ward has been temporarily clouded. It was a well of years reputation for the clear, sparkling brightness of its water. The folks quaffed from the old oaken bucket and were refreshed. So much for the well. The family cat was slumbering beside the family stove. One of the people of the house was at the well in the summer kitchen, drawing water. The cat was seized by a sudden, and ultimately fatal exhilaration of spirit. It became active. From a cat couchant it resolved itself in a cat rampant. After a few turns around the kitchen and several leaps of extraordinary height and distance it leaped down the open well and disappeared. In less than five minutes there was a dead cat in that well. The undertaker was sent for—at least the man that undertakes to bail out a well—and he emptied the entire fluid contents of the reservoir into the back yard. The body of the cat was recovered very wet. Cause of suicide was probably the direct result of feline despondency.

A SUDDEN CONVERSION

A MAN WHIPS A PREACHER AND TWELVE HOURS AFTER IS SAVED.

Rev. Mr. Crossley Preaches on the Question of the Phillippian Gaoler—A Destitute Family—The Gold Winners' Object—The Different Denominations in Heaven—A Meeting for Men Only and Infidels Especially—The Crowds Increasing.

The crowds that nightly seeks admission to the Crossley and Hunter meetings are on the increase if anything, and last night there were hundreds unable to get even standing room in St. Paul's. Rev. Mr. Hunter in his opening remarks said they would have to do something to allow the business men to attend the meetings, and it might possibly be decided to have the meetings next week for men only. He said some Christians had been there every night and business men who were late getting away from their work had been unable to gain admittance. One business man had promised him to come to the meetings and seek conversion, Mr. Hunter said, but that he came three nights and had on each occasion been unable to get inside and had left the last time in disgust and had not been at a meeting yet. He said those Christian persons who had been there every night for four weeks should remain away and give the business men a chance. This is apparently the only way those persons whose occupation makes it impossible for them to get to the church at seven o'clock will be enabled to attend the services, as there is no building in town that will accommodate the crowds who stream to the meetings every night.

"The Bright Forever," a beautiful hymn, was rendered by Miss Nellie Wrighton, Mr. W. H. Manning and Rev. Mr. Crossley, after the opening hymns and prayers.

A DESTITUTE FAMILY.

Rev. Mr. HUNTER in the remarks with which he prefaced the reading of the evening lesson, said that he had received a letter which had touched his heart. It was from a family that was destitute and without sufficient clothing to appear in on the streets. The destitution was caused through drink. The evangelist said he believed in a practical religion, and if he thought that he was not doing what he told others to do he would leave the ministry at once. He said some of them had come to those services for four weeks on two cents, but they could now go and find out these poor people and do something for them. He said everything he had was the Lord's and Christians should consecrate their all to the Lord. Some of them would sit around and never do anything for the Lord and he did not know what they would do when they got to Heaven. Some were sponging on the Lord—poor beggars who didn't pay their pew rents. They would pray by the hour but would not do anything else. They should go and help this poor family and God would reward them. There were different persons who wanted money for different purposes. The dude, a spider-legged dude, one of those fellows with the eye-glass he had seen down town, would say win gold to wear it, the miser said win gold to save it, the spendthrift said win gold to spend it, the usurer said win gold to increase it, the fool said win gold to end it, the wiseman said win gold to give it and the Christian said be gold and live it. He then read the evening lesson from the 10th chapter of John, where it speaks of Christ as the door and the Good Shepherd. Commenting on the opening verse of the chapter he said there were some who were preparing to go into into heaven by some other way. A man had been asked once how about those would they go to Heaven? And he had answered that it was said that there was a back door for idiots and these people might get in that way. Those old sinners who were leaning on the church and trying to get into heaven by that means, but who would lie, cheat and swear, would never get to Heaven at all. When he came to the verse where it says "and there shall be one fold and one shepherd" the evangelist said in Heaven they were going to be altogether. The Episcopalians were not going to have a corner to themselves and strut around and not notice the poor Methodists. Or the Presbyterians were not going to have a seat away up and look down upon the Baptists. No. The question that would be asked would be "Are you a follower of Christ." In closing he pointed out three "d's" and three "s" for them to remember. Christ was the door of deliverance, discovery and delight and all who entered were saved, satisfied and secure.

By special request Rev. Mr. Crossley then sang the hymn which has become such a favorite—"The Handwriting on the Wall."

There were some thirty-one special requests for prayer, among which was a request for the unsaved members of the choir.

A SUDDEN CONVERSION.

Rev. Mr. CROSSLEY said he would speak of the conversion of a man who in less than twelve hours before his conversion had whipped the preacher who was the means of his conversion, and said that surely if such a man could be converted any person of that congregation could be converted that night. The man was the Governor of the gaol at Phillippi and the evangelist took for his text the gaoler's question:—

"What must I do to be saved?"

The rev. gentleman then proceeded in a clear and earnest manner to point out the different aspects of the question. First he said it was a personal question and said he wanted them each and every one to ask the question personally, as their soul was their own. Then it was necessary question, "What must I do to be saved." Thirdly it was an intelligent question, one for every intelligent man and woman. Then the evangelist went on and pointed out that it was a serious and an answered question. The answer came "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shall be saved." He said there were three elements that were required for conversion—consent of mind, assent of will and trust of heart. If they wanted to be saved and were willing they should start and the third element would follow. Then it was an important question—to be saved from sin, from the weight of sin, from the condemnation of sin and from the consequences of sin hereafter. The importance of salvation, he said, was also shown by the suffering and anguish of the Saviour and his death on the cross. In closing he pointed out that it was a present question and urged all the unsaved to put the question that night.

During the sermon the hymn "Behold what manner of love" was rendered by the trio, Miss Wrighton and Messrs. Crossley and Manning, and the evangelist closed his sermon with an appropriate hymn.

Rev. Mr. HUNTER then earnestly exhorted the unsaved to think of their position and ask the question of the sermon, and there were many who rose signifying their intention of starting a new life.

A large number of seekers went into the enquiry room during the after meeting.

NOTES.

Rev. Mr. Crossley announced that on Sunday evening next the meeting in the George-st. Church would be for men only and the subject discussed would be skepticism or infidelity. He told all the men to bring any infidel in town they could find and said that perhaps they might have a converted skeptic present from a distance.

To-night's will be the last meeting in St. Paul's. The services next week will be held in the George-st. Church.

A New Book.

Testimony of Nineteen Centuries to Jesus of Nazareth, by James Herman Whitmore, LL.B. We take unusual interest in calling the attention of our readers to this remarkable and permanently valuable book. For a combination of excellences which includes attractiveness and universality of interest in the subject, uniqueness of plan, comprehensiveness of scope, and judicial fairness in treatment, this work may justly claim to be unrivalled. Mr. Whitmore has spent nearly seven years in the preparation of this valuable work. It is now being canvassed for by Mr. T. A. McKelvie of this town. Every reader should secure a copy as it deserves the widest possible circulation.

SHOULD BUILD A PRIVATE ROAD.

A Man who Wanted to run a Train on the Midland.

There was a little excitement yesterday on Conductor Stanton's train which leaves for Belleville on the Midland at 1.30. Among the passengers who boarded the train at the station here was a man by the name of Slade, who, from his appearance, was evidently a lumberman who was returning from the woods. Slade had been imbibing a little two freely before he left town and the effect of his lubrications on his brain had given him the idea that he was a pretty nice fellow and that the train was running just for the accommodation of one certain individual by the name of Slade. Between here and Keene the man was quiet enough, but when Keene was reached the train made a stop that was of a little longer duration than Mr. Slade thought was proper or necessary, and wanted the conductor to start the train at once. Of course, the request could not be complied with, notwithstanding from whom it came, and then in his wrath Slade proceeded to make the air in the coach turn blue with his choice language and the expressive epithets which he used towards the conductor in particular and the railway men in general. Finally he said he would ride no further on such a road and got off on the platform, and for some reason or other the train officials did not attempt to pursuade him to remain. This, together with the fact that the train started to move just the same as if he was on it, so exasperated the man, that he sent a fiddle which he was carrying crashing through a coach window, breaking the musical instrument to fragments, and almost causing a commercial traveller who was sitting near the window to swallow his false teeth. When the train reached its destination the Grand Trunk authorities telegraphed to Keene to have the man arrested, but he had probably taken the great shoe line on as far as Birdsall, which was the station for which he had purchased the ticket, and he could not be found. However, the G. T. R. authorities intend to hunt the fellow up and make him pay dear for his little exhibition.

"Clutch" Donohue, whose death occurred yesterday morning, after having just been liberated from the penetentiary, was indicted for the robbery of the Peterborough post office in July 1884, but as he was convicted on another charge the Peterborough charge was not pressed. Col. Rogers, postmaster, spent a week at Welland at the time of his trial.

Salvation Army.

The many friends of Miss Ada Hind will be pleased to hear she has returned from a few days visit in Ottawa. Miss Hind is an excellent speaker and thinker and gave a most interesting and instructive address last evening. She is counted one of the best Salvation Army officers in Canada, having had charge in some of the largest towns in Ontario. The Salvation Army will no doubt grow under her leadership.

Trent Valley Canal.

In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Barron asked if the Trent Valley Canal commissioners had reported; if not, when were they likely to do so, and if the Government were aware that one of the commissioners was away on a long visit to England. Sir John Macdonald said that no report had been received, and he did not think that there was any chance of the report being transmitted to Parliament this session. He was aware that one of the commissioners was now in England, but he could not tell what the length of his visit might be.

The Deaths of a Month.

The Canadian mortuary statistics for the month of February show Peterborough's total number of deaths for the month to have been six, a ratio per 1,000 of population of .69. Toronto's ratio was 1.87, Montreal's 2.06, Hamilton's 1.28, London's .87, St. Thomas' .56, Brantford's 1.03, Guelph's 1.17, Woodstock's .66, Belleville's 1.57 and Kingston's 1.45. Peterborough's ratio is about the third lowest, and would be much lower if the town was given with its full population, the assumed population upon which the statistics are taken being 8,668, which is probably nearly one thousand short. The town's six deaths were caused as follows:—Puerperal fever, one; local diseases, four; developmental diseases, one.

Ashburnham's Clean Sheet.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Since May 1st, 1886, under the Scott Act, up to this 29th day of March, 1889, there has not been one conviction for drunkenness in the village of Ashburnham. Was it thus the three years previous under the Crooks Act? Far from it. The page is blotted dreadfully with conviction after conviction. Drunk and drunk and disorderly blot the page, sometimes four convictions all in a row, sometimes three and so on. But now under local prohibition we have a clean sheet. Will any honest man, in the face of this fact, say that the Scott Act is a failure? Will any manly man, who loves his country, his children, his home and his God, cast his vote in favor of a return to drunkenness and disorder? It must not be. What do the town records say on this line? The number of convictions under the Scott Act are less by hundreds than the number for the same time under the Crooks Act.

THE RIVERSIDE'S RE-ORGANIZED.

The Club Begins with Bright and Promising Prospects—Election of Officers.

The re-organization for the season of the Riverside Lacrosse Club took place in the parlors of the Phelan House last evening with the most favorable and encouraging prospects. There was a good attendance, among those present being many of the old Peterborough Lacrosse Club, and everyone without an exception, evinced the greatest enthusiasm in the game. Under these circumstances there is not the slightest room for a doubt but that the Riversides will play lacrosse this year and play to win, if the Association puts down a cast iron rule barring all ringers and black-listed players from playing in any of the Association clubs. The two gentlemen who were delegated to the meeting of the Association which meets at Niagara on the 16th of April, will speak in unmistakeable language on this business, and will never consent to these men being allowed to again cross sticks with the honest amateur clubs. The team which the Riversides will be able to draw up on a field this season will probably be as strong as any they have ever boasted of, as the Young Shamrocks, a local club which last year played a good game, and which comprised some first-class young material, have amalgamated with the champions, so that some young blood will be in the club which will undoubtedly show up well before the season closes.

THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Mr. Frank Fairen, one of the old lacrosse boys, presided at the meeting last evening, and Mr. C. J. Phelan pushed the secretary's pen pro tem. After the meeting had been called to order the first business proceeded with was the election of officers, which resulted as follows:—

HON. PRESIDENT.—Henry Calcutt.
PRESIDENT.—W. A. Sanderson.
FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT.—Ed. Brown.
SECOND VICE-PRESIDENT.—M. Halpin.
CAPTAIN.—F. Burnon.
SECRETARY TREASURER.—Jos. Phelan.
FIELD CAPTAIN.—Jas. Coughlin.
COMMITTEE OF MANAGEMENT.—A. Rose, J. Begley, M. Halpin and F. Guyette.
REPRESENTATIVES TO ASSOCIATION.—J. Phelan and F. Burnon.

After considerable discussion relative to the game the meeting adjourned, the boys feeling jubilant over the bright prospects for the coming season.

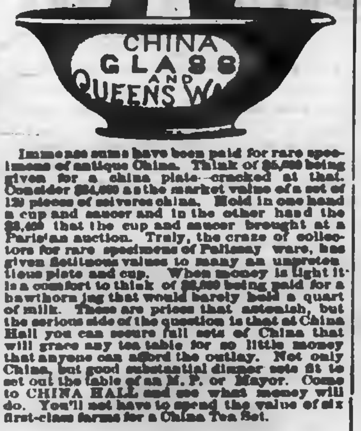
CHINA HALL



Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate—cracked at that. Consider $24,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of seivres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $3,400 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissay ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $3,500 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 1889.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER

"Through the wall?"

The doctor smiled.

"The walls are not particularly thick, and there is, I believe, only a lath and plaster partition between his room and mine, and as our cots stand in the same position, with only the partition between, I can hear it creak very distinctly."

"You can hear voices plainly through the partition?"

"I have often called out to Mr. Beresford from my room, and received an answer."

"And what more did you hear after you believed Lieut. Beresford had got into bed?"

"Nothing."

"How was that?"

"I suppose because I went to sleep; at all events, I heard nothing more until I was called in the morning to Capt. Owen's room and found him dead."

Then followed some medical evidence, and the examination of the doctor was at an end.

Mr. Earle was called next and sworn. He had very little to say. He deposed that he occupied the room on the other side of Mr. Beresford to that occupied by Dr. Foster. Yes, it was on the same side of the block, and overlooked the barrack yard. He could not say whether Capt. Owen and Mr. Beresford were on good terms at the time or not, as he had been at Blankhampton, and only reached Walmsbury late in the evening. He had been present in the anteroom about half an hour before they all retired for the night. Was rather tired, and had not especially noticed either officer.

At this point Dr. Foster was recalled.

"Did you hear any dispute between Capt. Owen and Lieut. Beresford immediately before dinner?"

"Not a dispute. I heard them talking."

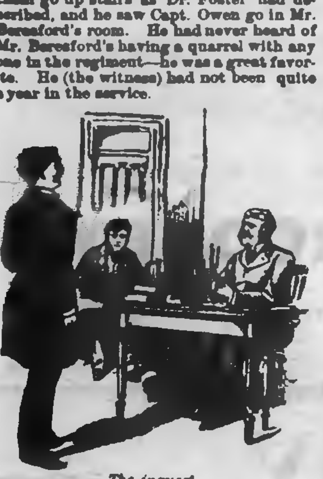
"Were they talking loudly?"

"Capt. Owen was speaking rather loudly; but as I heard Mr. Beresford laugh more than once it did not occur to me that they were quarreling."

"Thank you, that will do," and the doctor stood down again.

Then young Manners was put up, but he had less even to say than any of the others. Apparently he had noticed nothing and suspected nothing, and he had got into bed as soon as he went to his room, and he had gone to sleep immediately.

Yes, he had noticed, while in the anteroom after dinner, that Capt. Owen and Mr. Beresford kept pretty close together, and that they were laughing a good deal at some joke between them. Yes, he saw them go up stairs as Dr. Foster had described, and he saw Capt. Owen go in Mr. Beresford's room. He had never heard of Mr. Beresford's having a quarrel with any one in the regiment—he was a great favorite. He (the witness) had not been quite a year in the service.



The inquest.

There was a moment's pause in the proceedings, and then the name of Lieut. Beresford was called, and Jim stood up.

"You are a lieutenant in the Blankshire regiment?"

"I am."

"What length of service have you?"

"Eight years."

"The deceased was in the regiment when you joined it?"

"Yes; he was."

"You and he became friendly very soon?"

"Yes; he was my best friend."

"You are on friendly terms with all your brother officers?"

"Yes; and I have always been so."

"You have never had any quarrel or misunderstanding with a brother officer?"

"Never."

"When the deceased came into your quarters before dinner did any dispute arise between you?"

"No."

"He was very angry about something?"

"He was annoyed," emphasizing the last word.

"With you?"

"Oh! no. He was never either angry or annoyed with me in all his life."

"What was he annoyed about?"

"I am not at liberty to say."

"You must answer the question."

"I cannot. It was an official annoyance, about a person not in Walmsbury or very near Walmsbury at the time, and who could not possibly have been in any way connected with Capt. Owen's murder."

"How was that?"

"Because that person never knew, and, to the best of my belief, does not know now that Capt. Owen had any cause for annoyance."

"And you say it was not a personal matter?"

"Not in the very least."

"Then why cannot you disclose the particulars?"

To be Continued.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Is very palatable and much better than the plain oil. Dr. W. H. Cameron, of Halifax, N. S., says: "I have prescribed Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites for the past two years and found it more agreeable to the stomach, and have better results from its use than any other preparation of the kind I have ever tried." Put up in 50c. and $1 size.

DEATH OF "CLUTCH" DONOHUE.

The Old Fort Erie Hotelkeeper and ex-Convict Ends His Days in the Hospital.

KINGSTON, March 28.—John Donohue, better known as "Clutch," died this morning at l'Hotel Dieu. He had been a convict in the penitentiary for some time, but last Friday was pardoned and released as death was imminent from a blood disease that manifested itself in ulcerating sores all over the body. He was sentenced at Welland in 1885 for larceny and receiving stolen money. He was healthy until recently when the disease began gradually to develop and about five weeks ago he was compelled to go to the prison hospital. His wife was sent for and she remained with him until death.

When taken from the penitentiary Donohue brightened up and it was thought that he would recover. Once he made a strong effort to get up on his feet, but the effort was so exhausting that he speedily gave up the attempt. He died quite penitent. His remains will be removed to Fort Erie for burial.

Donohue for years kept a fine hotel at Fort Erie, Ont., still conducted by his wife. He was accused of having committed a robbery in the States and with the proceeds purchased the hotel business. The United States Express Company on three different occasions tried to recover the money or property, but Donohue defeated them each time.

Death of Dean Howard.

MONTREAL, March 28.—Dr. R. P. Howard, Dean of the Medical Faculty of McGill University, and one of the most distinguished medical men on this continent, died this morning. Dr. Howard was born in Montreal in 1823. He was appointed Professor of Clinical Medicine of McGill University in 1856, and on the death of Dr. Holmes in 1860 he succeeded to the chair of medicine, which he has since held.

Death of Col. Streatfeild.

OTTAWA, March 28.—A private telegram received in the city says that Col. Streatfeild, father of Mrs. Colville, wife of Captain the Hon. C. R. Colville, military secretary to the Governor-General, died to-day in London.

The Death of Tommy Smith.

DETROIT, March 28.—Tommy Smith, who 12 years ago was considered one of the best professional baseball players in the country, died to-day at St. Mary's Hospital of consumption.

Smith was an old Guelph boy and in 1876 and 1877 he was shortstop for the Maple Leafs of Guelph. Fred Goldsmith, Pete Hotaling, Phil Powers and Charlie Maddock, who afterwards won fame in the Association and National League, were members of the same team. Afterwards he played with the Tecumsehs of London, Syracuse Stars and several Eastern teams. He fell into dissipated ways and gradually lost his grip. Three years ago he made firm resolve to reform and his old friend Harry Spence of the Indianapolis League team signed him but his bad habits came back to him and he was soon dropped. For two years past he has been tending bar in Detroit. His remains will be taken to London.

Halstead Needn't Pack His Grip.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The Senate in secret session to-day discussed the nomination of Murat Halstead to be Minister to Germany. The nomination was hotly debated, the criticism of Mr. Halstead coming principally from the Republican side of the Chamber. Senators Ingalls and Teller led the attack upon him. A vote on the nomination resulted in its rejection, the Democrats voting solidly against it. The result of the vote on the nomination surprised Mr. Sherman, the chairman of the committee which reported it favorably. It is said that he demanded an explanation of the votes of Republican senators, threatening that if the nomination was rejected without cause he would oppose the confirmation of every other nomination that came before the Senate. Mr. Sherman moved a reconsideration. A motion to lay on the table Mr. Sherman's motion to reconsider was withdrawn and the debate on the motion to reconsider then ensued. The exact vote is said to have been 26 to 13, a number of Republicans withholding their votes and only enough voting to make the desired quorum.

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Will you suffer with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. S. C. Wells & Co., proprietors, Le Roy, N. Y

What unlimited gall for other houses to dare to compete with us. Why we have secured the trade of Town and Country, also the confidence of the people, and must and will at all times sell Goods cheaper than any house. Merchants say our expenses are so light we can sell Goods cheaper, but we say ours are large and our business massive, hence our advantage.

Look at our Tea Sales and prices, other houses try to compete in price, not quality.

Look at our prices of Sugars, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our prices of Fruits, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our extensive Country Trade, our Town Trade and surrounding Village Trade, and in but few words, we can dare other houses to compete.

TURNBULL'S COLUMN

Whatever the weather has been outside, it was the springiest of spring time in our store on Wednesday and Thursday last, when all the New Millinery and Millinery belongings were opened out of their close fitting boxes. For the benefit of those who could not get in on those days we will keep the display up all the first week of April. Among the leading changes noticeable in the trimming this season is Lace Ends and Scarfs and Long Veils drawn in with baby ribbon are the Leading Trimmings. The old fashion hop that used to climb up the pole on the back door is now found falling over the Black Lace Hats. Having struck a cheap line of Flowers (German make), the Germans copy the French designs and give us the goods cheaper. We have a bouquet for everybody, bunches of roses in all colors for 25c. each. Our Stock of Children's Trimmed Hats is unusually attractive. Sailor Hats in endless variety, we have not room to give them a front show. We were disappointed at not being able to show with the millinery, the new Jet Capes, Silk Visettes and Trimmed Dolmans, but there is time enough yet and we expect them in on the first freight train. A fine assortment of Cloths in the order department. All hands busy as bees in the work rooms up-stairs.

The Dress Goods Department is as lively as ever. A new line of Vigors and Cloth in 8 shades, 44 inches wide at 60c., came in this week. A glance at them will tell you they are serviceable. With them came a new line of German Dress Cloth, we have shown nothing similar before, is just what any lady would fancy for a General Dress. Will show another new make next week. Miss Mercier is always pleased to help you with her advice as to length of dress, pattern, style of making and trimming, whether you wish to have it made by her or not.

Kid Gloves, fresh from the hands of the maker in Austria at 75c. and $1.00 a pair. This line we had in stock before, but the quantity was small and we only had a pair for a lady here and there.

Corsets. Spring brings changes and this one has brought one of the nicest makes we have ever shown. All the best makes from the leading manufacturers coming in and going out again. Large size for stout ladies always in stock

SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 1889.

THIS ROBBER HAD NERVE.

A DENVER BANK DONE OUT OF $21,000 IN BROAD DAYLIGHT.

The Thief Gets the "Drop" on the President and Has a Check Cashed in the Presence of a Score of Clerks.

DENVER, Col., March 29.—The boldest and most successful bank robbery ever reported in the west was perpetrated upon the First National Bank this afternoon. Yesterday morning a well-dressed man with light mustache and complexion and of medium height walked into the bank and asked where he could see Mr. Moffatt, president of the bank. He was told he could see Mr. Moffatt, who is also president of the Denver & Rio Grande Railway, at his office in the Cheesman Block. This morning the stranger entered the railway office and asked to see Mr. Moffatt on important business. He was admitted to his private room and stated that he had discovered a conspiracy whereby the bank was to be robbed of a large sum. Mr. Moffatt being very busy asked the man to meet him at his private office at 1 o'clock. A few minutes after the hour appointed he called at the bank and was shown into the President's office. Remaining standing he inquired if Cashier S. N. Wood was in and was told that he was at lunch. He then asked for a blank check for the purpose of showing how the robbery was to be perpetrated. He laid the check upon the desk in front of Mr. Moffatt and said, "I will have to do this myself," and pulling out a large revolver placed it at Mr. Moffatt's head and in an earnest but unexcited manner said:

"I want $21,000 and am going to have it. I have considered this matter and the chances I am running and the consequences if I fail and am arrested. I am penniless and a desperate man, and have been driven during the past week to that point where I have considered suicide as the only means to escape from the poverty and misery in which I exist. You have millions, I am determined to have what I have asked for. If you make a noise or call a man or ring a bell I will blow your brains out and then blow up the building and myself with this bottle of glycerine," which at that moment he pulled out of another pocket. "Now take your choice."

Mr. Moffatt started to argue with the man but he was stopped with the information that it was useless and that he had but two minutes in which to fill out the check before him for $21,000, if he desired to live. Mr. Moffatt seeing no other alternative filled out the check and was ordered to take it to the paying teller and get it cashed. Mr. Moffatt left his office and with the man behind him with the revolver partially concealed under his overcoat and with the muzzle almost against Mr. Moffatt's back, marched behind the counter up to Paying Teller Keeley with the request that the check be immediately cashed. They then remarched into Moffatt's office without attracting the attention of the fifteen or twenty clerks who were at work within two feet of where they passed.

After they had remained in the private office three or four minutes the robber informed Mr. Moffatt that they were wasting time and that he had better step to the door and motion his teller to come to him, which he did. Mr. Moffatt instructed the teller to bring the money into his office and as the teller turned to go away the robber told him he wanted 20 $1000 bills and $1000 in gold. The money was brought in and handed to the robber, who, waiting until the teller had reached his desk, backed out to the front door making Mr. Moffatt remain standing in his door until he had reached the curb stone. He then raised his hand, walked around the corner and has not yet been heard of. Mr. Moffatt is completely prostrated with the shock. Detectives are out after the man but no trace of him has been found.

Scathing Senator Spooner.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The Senate was in executive session nearly three hours this afternoon, occupied almost entirely in considering the nomination of Murat Halstead to be minister to Germany. Senator Spooner, in the course of his speech, said that if newspaper men were for all time to be held to account for opinions expressed in the heat of a campaign but few could hope to pass unscathed into the golden realm of office holding. The Senate adjourned until noon to-morrow, leaving the question still pending on the motion to reconsider yesterday's vote of rejection.

A Big Judgment.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Clark Robinson Griggs sued Cornelius K. Garrison for an accounting, claiming that $1,000,000 would be found to be due him from Garrison. To-day judgment for $2,194,131 was given against Griggs in favor of Garrison's executors. The suit related to the construction account of the second and third sections of the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad from Wheeling to Toledo under a contract of Sept. 24, 1879.

Allowed a Differential.

BALTIMORE, March 29.—The Chicago Passenger Committee has concluded to allow the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad the differential claimed by it of $1.50 on first-class tickets and $1 on second-class tickets between Chicago and New York and other eastern points. This action averts an impending war of passenger rates between Chicago and the east.

The Longitude Expedition.

LIMA, Peru, March 29.—The American longitude expedition in charge of Lieut. Norris has arrived at San Juan del Sur. Work will probably be finished and the party leave for the United States April 9. All are well.

There Seems a Bogus Butter Industry.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The production of oleomargarine in this country from July 1, 1888, to Dec. 31, 1888, was 18,407,697 pounds, a decided increase over the preceding six months. Armour & Co. of Chicago make about one-sixth of the oleomargarine produced in this country.

THE GREAT COMMONER.

ENGLAND'S DEAD STATESMAN FITTINGLY EULOGIZED.

The Old Man Eloquent Pays a Glowing Tribute in the House of Commons to the Memory of John Bright.

LONDON, March 29.—The session of the House of Commons this evening was devoted to eulogies of John Bright. When Mr. W. H. Smith rose to speak all the members doffed their hats. Mr. Smith described Mr. Bright as a man of thorough honesty of purpose and great energy of character. If there was any defect in his character it was the intensity of his advocacy of the principles that he had adopted. If for a time he parted from his old associates under a strong sense of duty there was no trace of anger or of personal animosity left. He would go down to the grave followed by the affection and sorrow of the country.

Mr. Gladstone upon rising was received with cheers. He said: Mr. Bright has been to a very remarkable degree happy in the moment of his removal from among us. He lived to see the triumph of almost every great cause to which he specially devoted his heart and mind. He has established a special claim to the admiration of those from whom he differed through his long political life by marked concurrence with them upon the prominent and dominant question of the hour. [Hear! hear!] But though Mr. Bright came to be separated from the great bulk of the Liberals on the Irish question, on no single occasion has there been any word of disparagement.

I acknowledge that I have not through my whole political life fully embraced the character of Mr. Bright and the value of that character to the country. I was one of those who did not agree with the particular views he and some of his friends took of the Crimean contest, but felt profoundly and never ceased to think what must have been the moral elevation of men who, nurtured all their lives in the temple of popular approval, could at a moment's notice consent to part with the whole of that favor they enjoyed, which opponents might think the very breath of their nostrils. [Hear! Hear!] They accepted undoubted unpopularity, for that war commanded the enormous approval of the people.

Amongst other gifts Mr. Bright was delighted to be one of the chief guardians of the purity of the English tongue. [Hear! hear!] He was enabled as an Englishman profoundly attached to his country, the tongue of the people being to him almost an object of worship, to preserve the purity of the language of Shakespeare and Milton. [Cheers.]

Everybody is aware that office had no attractions for him, but few can be aware what extra efforts were required to induce him to become a servant of the Crown. In the crisis of 1868 when the fate of the Irish church hung in the balance it was my duty to propose to Mr. Bright that he become a minister. I never undertook so difficult a task. From 11 o'clock at night until 1 o'clock in the morning we steadily debated the subject. It was only at the last moment that he found it possible to set aside the repugnance he felt at doing anything that might in the eyes of anyone, even of the more ignorant class of his countrymen, appear to detract in the slightest degree from that lofty independence of character which I have mentioned.

It was his happy lot to unite so many attractive qualities. If I had to dwell upon them alone I should present a dazzling picture to the world. It was a happier lot to teach moral lessons by simplicity, consistency, unfailing courage and constancy of life, thus presenting a combination of qualities that carried us to a higher atmosphere. [Hear! Hear!]

His sympathies were not strong only but active, not sympathies awaiting calls to be made upon them but sympathies of a man seeking objects upon which to bestow the inestimable advantages of eloquence and courage. In Ireland when support of the Irish cause was rare; in India when support of the native cause was rarer still; in America at the time when Mr. Bright, forecasting the ultimate issue of the great struggle of 1861, stood as the representative of an exceedingly small portion of the educated community of the country, although undoubtedly representing a large part of the national sentiment—[hear! hear!]—in all these cases Mr. Bright went far outside the necessities of his calling. Whatever touched him as a man of the great Anglo-Saxon race, whatever touched him as a subject obtained unasked his sincere, earnest and enthusiastic aid. [Hear, hear!] All causes having his powerful advocacy made a distinct advance in the estimation of the world and distinct progress toward triumphant success.

Thus it has come about that he is entitled to a higher eulogy than is due to success. Of mere success indeed he was a conspicuous example. In intellect he might claim a most distinguished place. But his character lies deeper than intellect, deeper than eloquence, deeper than anything that can be described or that can be seen upon the surface. The supreme eulogy that is his due is that he elevated political life to the highest point, to a loftier standard than it had ever reached.

His name is indelibly written in the annals of time and on the hearts of the great and overspreading race to which he belonged, whose wide extension he rejoiced to see and whose power and prominence he believed to be full of promise and glory for the best interests of mankind.

HOPEFUL FINANCIERS.

The London Stock Exchange Settlement Passes Without Trouble.

LONDON, March 29.—The Stock Exchange settlement passed without trouble. The feeling was generally far more hopeful, although misgivings continued regarding some of the French financial institutions.

In view of the impending prosecution by the Government of the Comptoir d'Escompte the directors of that bank are reported to be realizing on their private property.

Strong efforts continue to be made in Parliament to induce the Government to legislate against syndicates. Mr. Smith, the Government leader in the House of Commons, has promised that if the proposals of the members are formulated he would consider them. It is stated that the paper syndicate has arranged for the purchase of all the English mills. Newspaper proprietors have consequently negotiated with foreign mills for their supplies. A large consignment of American paper has arrived.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days as reported to Dun, Wiman & Co., by telegraph number for the United States 204 and for Canada 36, a total of 240 as compared with 240 last week and 251 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 233, made up of 196 in the United States and 37 in the Dominion of Canada.

The Volunteer Will Not Race.

BOSTON, March 29.—Gen. Paine to-day said he would not put the Volunteer in commission to race the Valkyrie. At present the only yachts capable of defending the cup are the Titania, Shamrock, Katrina and Bedouin and the sloops Puritan and Mayflower.

WHITECAPS IN MORRISBURG.

They Are Appeased by a Small Sum of Money—Attempted Murder.

MORRISBURG, March 29.—Last night about 8.30 the vicinity of the Town Hall, which is occupied by the Salvation Army, was the scene of considerable excitement. A man named William Prunner drew a revolver and deliberately fired at Frank Beckstead as he passed him a few yards distant. The bullet barely missed Beckstead's head. Beckstead turned and grappling with Prunner took the pistol away. Afterwards Prunner went into the Salvation Army meeting as if nothing had occurred. Prunner had some spite against Beckstead. No steps have been taken to arrest him for the attempt at murder.

Another fracas took place about 11 p.m. at the Farmers' Hotel, when a mob of about 25, self-styled "Whitecaps," demanded the surrender of a man named Werborn, accused of wholesale blackmailing, who had taken refuge in the hotel. The doors were locked on the crowd but afterwards a compromise was effected by the alleged blackmailer handing out $15 to appease the mob. This had the desired effect and the crowd divided the spoils.

MANY NEW VETS.

The Medal and Prize Winners at the Ontario College.

TORONTO, March 30.—The annual distribution of prizes and honors to graduates of the Ontario Veterinary College took place yesterday morning in Temperance Hall. The President, Dr. Andrew Smith, V.S., was in the chair, and he and others made happy speeches. Diplomas were awarded to the graduating class, which numbered 125. These gentlemen took the medals and prizes:

In Pathology: Silver medal, J. E. Duncan; second, E. Sturge, H. H. Jenkins (equal); third, F. M. Hopkins, J. D. Nighbert (equal).

In Anatomy: Silver medal, E. Sturge; second, H. H. Jenkins; third, J. E. Duncan.

In Physiology: First, J. J. Fyfe; second, O. L. Boor; third, J. A. Kelley, E. Wilson (equal).

MR. McCARTHY'S TWO LETTERS.

Complimented by Bishop Potter of New York—An Unknown Admirer.

OTTAWA, March 29.—Mr. Dalton McCarthy to-day received a curious epistle from Boston, Mass., elicited no doubt by his speech delivered on Wednesday on the motion for the disallowance of the Jesuits Estates Act. In a large bold mercantile hand, abounding in flourishes and the plainness of which makes the orthographical weaknesses painfully apparent, Mr. McCarthy's unknown correspondent thus relieves himself:

> BOSTON, March 23.
> MR. DALTON MCCARTHY: You mean, contemptible renegade, Traitor to your nationality and your religion. Vile, dirty wretch. Beware ful or else —— FROM AN ADMIRER.

This message of hate was written upon the fly leaf of a sheet of letter paper, stamped upon the corner of which was a dove, the manufacturers' trade mark, but singularly inappropriate in the present instance.

Mr. McCarthy has received also a letter at once more noteworthy and pleasant, this being from Bishop Potter, Anglican Bishop of New York, warmly complimenting him upon his speech and endorsing the stand taken in it.

CAPITAL GOSSIP.

Hon. Mr. Pope's Illness—Echoes of the Disallowance Vote.

OTTAWA, March 29.—It is understood that Sir John Macdonald will go to England during the coming summer. The Premier's cottage at River du Loup is being "fixed up" and it is said Lady Macdonald will put in the heated term at that cool resort.

To-morrow morning a number of citizens of Ottawa will assemble at the new Parliamentary Block in Wellington-street to present an address and testimonial to Sir Hector Langevin, Minister of Public Works, in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of his becoming a Minister of the Crown, which was on March 30, 1864.

Five Orangemen voted for the O'Brien resolution out of sixteen Orangemen in the House.

Mr. Kirkpatrick's bill providing for reciprocity in wrecking came to grief in the Senate yesterday. When it came up for second reading Senator McCallum moved the six months' hoist. Senators Scott and Macdonald (Toronto) opposed the amendment, while Senators Flint and Read supported it on the ground that the bill was an attack on the National Policy. The six months' hoist was carried, 34 to 25.

A number of the parliamentary friends of Mr. George Moffat, M.P., met yesterday afternoon in the tower room to present that gentleman, who is about to return home for a period, with a token of their esteem and admiration for him. The subscribers came from both sides of politics. Mr. Temple occupied the chair and Mr. Chouquette was called upon to act as secretary. The presentation was made by Mr. Adam Brown, who handed to Mr. Moffat three handsome pipes contained in a morocco case and also a neat gold locket with his name engraved upon it. Mr. Brown made a complimentary speech expressing the kindly sentiments entertained towards Mr. Moffat. Speeches were also made by Messrs. Bergeron and Labelle. Mr. Moffat made a feeling reply.

A meeting of the Public Accounts Committee was held this morning, when Senator Sanford was examined in regard to his militia clothing contracts. He testified that since 1886 his firm got the work without any tender.

It is rumored that Mr. Charles Carroll Colby, M.P. for Stanstead, will succeed Hon. J. A. Chapleau as Secretary of State, Mr. Chapleau becoming Minister of Railways.

The excitement over the fate of the O'Brien resolution is intense. The Orangemen will hold a mass meeting Monday night to organize a national defence fund to test the validity of the act in the courts.

Dr. Osler, the celebrated physician of Philadelphia, last night held a consultation with Drs. Wright and Powell, of this city, upon the case of Hon. J. H. Pope, Minister of Railways, who is still very low. After a careful diagnosis Dr. Osler expressed the opinion that the case was not hopeless, although serious internal troubles existed. Mr. Pope was considered in a critical condition yesterday, but was much better to-day.

Where Life is Cheap.

ACCOMAC C.H., Va., March 29.—Mrs. Virginia Taylor, charged with poisoning her husband, was to-day convicted of murder in the second degree. Her punishment was fixed at five years in the Penitentiary.

The Sleeping Cars May be Kept Down.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 29.—The Supreme Court of Minnesota has decided that the railroad commissioners cannot compel the Pullman Car Company to raise upper berths in their sleepers in cases where only the lower ones are occupied.

A DULL DAY IN THE HOUSE

NEARLY THE WHOLE SESSION SPENT IN SUPPLY.

Private Bills Passed—A Ministerial Delegation Seeking to Have the Welland Canal Closed on Sundays.

OTTAWA, March 29.—This was about the slowest day of the session, scarcely any interest being manifested in the proceedings. The whole day was spent in supply save when for an hour after recess private bills were considered.

The appropriations passed related to minor expenditures on public works throughout the Dominion and to the quarantine service. The discussion was participated in mainly by the Maritime Province members, save when the appropriations for the care of public buildings and grounds at Ottawa were being discussed, when the Rideau Hall expenditure came in for the annual criticism, and the promise was elicited that steps would be taken to have it better controlled and if possible curtailed.

These bills were considered in committee and read a third time and passed:

To incorporate the Saskatchewan Railway and Mining Company.—Mr. McCarthy.

To incorporate the Assiniboine Waterpower Company.—Mr. Ross.

Respecting the Wood Mountain and Qu'Appelle Railway Company.—Mr. Macdowall.

To incorporate the Moose Jaw and Edmonton Railway Company.—Mr. Macdowall.

To incorporate the Dominion Mineral Company.—Mr. Kirkpatrick.

To incorporate the Canadian Super-phosphate Company.—Mr. Colby.

The House sat until 11.45.

The Behring Sea Proclamation.

OTTAWA, March 29.—In the Senate today Senator McInnes inquired if any steps had been taken by the Canadian Government with respect to the rights claimed by the United States in Behring Sea. He was informed that the matter was now under the consideration of the Government.

In the Commons yesterday Sir John Macdonald said he found he was misinformed when he stated the other day that the proclamation just issued by President Harrison respecting Behring Sea had been issued last year and the year before. He found that it issued under an act of Congress passed only this year and which required the annual issue of such proclamation.

A MINISTERIAL DEPUTATION.

Sir John Urged to Close the Welland Canal on Sundays.

OTTAWA, March 29.—Sir John Macdonald, who is acting as Minister of Railways and Canals, was in that capacity waited upon to-day by a deputation to urge the closing of the Welland Canal on Sundays. The deputation consisted of Rev. Mr. Burson of St. Catharines, representing the presbytery of Hamilton, and Rev. Drs. Moore and Armstrong of Ottawa. They were accompanied by Senators Vidal and Macdonald, Toronto, and Messrs Charlton, M.P., Brown, M.P., Rykert, M.P., and Ferguson, M.P. for Welland. Mr. Rykert introduced the deputation.

Rev. Mr. Burson represented that the present system under which the canal was kept open until 8 o'clock Sunday morning and opened again at 9 in the evening, had a most injurious effect upon the morals of the locality and practically kept a large number of men away from the churches. He pointed out that the number of vessels now passing through the canal on Sundays was much smaller than when the present system was inaugurated. Owing to the increased tonnage of the vessels the inconvenience caused by closing the canal would not be so great.

Sir John said he would have a report upon the matter made by the proper officer of his department.

MILITIA GENERAL ORDERS.

Appointments, Promotions and Resignations in Ontario Corps.

OTTAWA, March 29.—Militia General Orders No. 6 issued to-day contain several items of interest. Any graduate of the Royal Military College appointed lieutenant in the active militia may hereafter, if not an officer of the active militia corps, be promoted to the rank of captain, provided that within ten years from the date of his graduation he has performed at least five annual drills in a camp of exercise, attached temporarily as an officer to a corps of the active militia in camp. Under the new provision the first promotion is that of Lieut. E. W. Hubbell of Ottawa, now made captain.

Lieut.-Col. S. L. Bedson has been appointed an extra aide-de-camp to the Governor-General.

Captains Freer and Sears having left to join their respective regiments in the Imperial Army, are gazetted out of the Infantry School Corps. Captain R. L. Wadmore is gazetted as detached from C. Co., I.S.C., since March 29, 1888, and attached to D. Co.

Among other appointments, promotions and resignations in Ontario corps these are gazetted:

Durham Field Battery—To be captain, Second Lieut. W. P. Milligan, vice Edward Sanderson absent without leave from annual drill and failing to answer communication addressed to him by his commanding officer. To be second lieut. provisionally, Quartermaster-Sergt. Chas. James Snyder.

Governor-General's Foot Guards—To be lieutenant, T. M. Lambe, R. M. C.

Royal Grenadiers—To be second lieutenants provisionally, Stephen Augustus Heward, Archibald Hays Macdonnell.

Fourteenth Battalion—To be second lieutenants provisionally, William John Albert White, John Marshall.

Twentieth Halton Battalion—To be major, Captain and Brevet-Major John Kaitting from the adjutancy. To be captain of No. 2 Co., John Alexander Tracy, vice Captain W. P. Moore, who becomes captain of No. 3, vice Captain G. W. Goodwillie, now made adjutant.

Twenty-second Oxford Rifles—To be lieutenant provisionally, Charles Fox Yates, vice W. H. Bleakley, left the limits.

Thirty-second Bruce Battalion—To be lieutenant provisionally in No. 5 Co. Clarence Fowen Haycke.

Forty-third Battalion, Ottawa—To be majors, Captain Joshua Wright and Captain A. P. Sherwood. To be lieutenants in No. 1 Co., J. W. De C. O'Grady, E. D. Sutherland. To be captain of No. 2, Lieutenant C. M. Wright.

Forty-sixth West Durham Battalion—No. 3 Co., Bartonville, to be lieutenant provisionally, William Nasmith.

Ninety-sixth Algoma Rifles—To be major, Capt. F. H. Elliott from No. 1 Co. Second Lieut. D. T. Ferguson to be lieutenant of No. 3 Co. Lieut. G. A. Kobold from No. 3 Co. to be adjutant of the battalion.

Major T. P. Butler is appointed lieutenant-colonel commanding the First Prince of Wales Rifles of Montreal in succession to Lieut.-Col. Frank Bond, who retired retaining rank.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—It is reported in well-informed circles that the German Government has requested that Klein, who left Samoa immediately after the killing of the German sailors and came to San Francisco, be arrested and returned to Apia to be tried before the American consul for murderous assault.

SATURDAY, MARCH 30, 1889.

THE GOVERNMENT SUSTAINED.

PROBABLY never in the history of the Dominion has a government been sustained on a non-confidence motion by a majority such as was recorded against Mr. O'Brien's resolution regarding the disallowance of the Jesuit Estates Act. The House of Commons decided by the immense majority of 176 that the Government had followed the constitutional course in not disallowing the bill. It does not follow that all who voted against Mr. O'Brien's motion approved of the bill itself, but members of Parliament have not to act only on their preferences or feelings, but must consider the cold logic of facts and be guided by the constitutional laws of the country. Whether the Jesuits or the church of which they form a part were entitled to or had any moral claim upon the Quebec Legislature for compensation for the estates was a matter for that Legislature to consider. The leading men in the Dominion Parliament on both sides—Sir John Macdonald, Mr. Blake, Sir John Thompson, Sir Richard Cartwright, Mr. Mackenzie and others—held that the subject was within the competence of the Quebec Legislature, and that being so the House had to decide whether a measure unanimously passed by the Legislature, and which it had the power to pass, should be disallowed. Sometimes one would imagine from the discussion that the incorporation of the Jesuits was in question. As was pointed out by Sir John Macdonald they were incorporated eighteen years ago, and an amendment to the first act was passed two years ago, yet there was no agitation, and the Government, in view of that, were justified in believing, especially as this act, of less significance, had been unanimously adopted by the Legislature, that there was no serious opposition to it. Only after the Government had taken action was the agitation begun.

HUNTING AN OUTLAW.

Departure of the Montreal Officers in Search of Donald Morrison.

MONTREAL, March 29.—The absorbing topic in police circles to-day was the expedition to capture Donald Morrison, the Lake Megantic murderer. During the day the constables going on the expedition were practising at the target in the cellars of the City Hall. The carbines were carefully cleaned and oiled.

The expedition assembled at the Windsor-street depot in the afternoon, there being Sergeants Clarke, Leggott and Watson and 12 constables. Each man is armed with a carbine and fifty rounds of ammunition. The party is accompanied by Dr. Trembly of the Police Court clerical staff, who will take the deposition.

The destination of the party is Springfield near Lake Megantic. Detectives Carpenter and Campan and a constable were sent on two days ago to spy out the land. Sub-Chief Lapointe leaves for the scene of the investigation this afternoon, where he will take command of the police detachment. Judge Dugas goes, he says, simply in his magisterial capacity and will hold an enquete with the object of bringing aiders and abettors of Morrison to justice and if possible Morrison himself.

A DEPUTATION FROM TEXAS.

Ventilate Their Troubles in Hamilton's Police Court.

HAMILTON, March 29.—Benjamin Elisson used to belong to Dallas, Texas, but about three months ago he found it convenient to come to Canada. This morning Elisson prosecuted Max Burkenroad, Aaron Schuhl and W. H. Clinton, at the Police Court, on a charge of assault. Elisson said that the defendants, two of whom have also lived in Dallas, went to the house where he stays, yesterday, and walked in without ringing the bell. When they got in Burkenroad struck him and the others used threatening language. Burkenroad swore that he did not strike Elisson. He went to see Elisson about some money which Elisson had got from him under the pretence that he was going to get money from Germany. He said that Elisson had got into him for $12.50. The Justices fined Burkenroad $4 and dismissed the charge as against the other two.

The young man Cook who disappeared from his boarding-house on Wednesday has not been heard of since and the detectives have got no trace of him. Some days before he disappeared he told a companion that the people were all talking about him, and some one was going to have him arrested. He said then that he would drown himself.

The ice disappeared from the bay last night.

What Is It?

Simply this, that a great many are throwing away their good honest dollars without getting proper value for them. So listen—a word in time:—You no doubt have heard that W. J. Morrow proposes selling groceries not as cheap as other houses but away below them. The old maxim, "Seeing is Believing"—so call and price our goods. We modestly urge immediate consideration and you will find prompt action will pay you, so we hope to receive a call. Why, the whole town, country and surroundings are simply on fire with enthusiasm and now the name of W. J. Morrow, the only cheap grocer, resounds both near and far.

MINDEN.

A WOMAN KILLED BY A TREE.—Mrs. Geo. Ross, better known as White Ross, who lives about four miles north of this village, was engaged in chopping a fallow on Friday last. Mrs. Ross had occasion to visit her husband where he was at work felling trees, and without being aware of her danger, she approached too near a falling tree, one of the branches of which struck her in its descent, fracturing the skull. The poor woman lived in unconsciousness for a few hours and then breathed her last, drifted out upon the unknown sea that rolls all round the world. Mr. Ross has the sympathy of the entire neighborhood in his great trouble and bereavement. No blame, it appears, could attach to Mr. Ross, as he was quite ignorant of his wife's proximity until too late. The remains were interred in the Minden Cemetery on Sunday last, Rev. Mr. Scott officiating.—Independent.

A LEONINE EXIT.

'Tis the last days of March, but it sticks fast as starch,
From the icefields of Greenland it blows;
Like a lamb it came in, its exit makes us grin,
With the roars of a lion it goes.

The frost, snow and wind seem in fierceness combined
Just to give us the finishing storm;
Keep on your winter clothes, wipe the drop from your nose,
Or it will to an icicle form.

To-day repeats nothing that yesterday did,
Still the wind from the northwest it blows;
The clouds hang in gloom, while the sun it is hid,
Water must freeze above, for it snows.

March, blow your cold breath with your last dying chime
And exhaust all your fierce bitter store,
But a very few days and the sure hand of time
Shall lay you with your namesakes of yore.

WM. TELFORD.

HATS!

Hats, gentlemen, Hats!

In the name of People, Hats!

And why, Hats!

The Hat is the badge of respectability, the trade mark of civilization—that is any kind of a decent Hat. And properly, too.

Let us consider this question of Hats.

Had Bonaparte paused on the way to Waterloo to select a new Hat the result might have been different.

Had Christopher Columbus worn a shabby Hat, could he have made the fine impression he did on landing in Amerikay. No much. Not any.

Had Julius Cæsar carried a neat and taking head cover, his untimely decease might have been indefinitely postponed. History is jam full of incidents that point to the necessity of wearing a good Hat.

Men have been crossed in love, fallen off scaffolds, been beaten at the polls, arrested on suspicion, failed in business, and lost the respect of their fellow citizens by wearing a bad Hat.

The moral of all this is, come to us for your Hats. It's a new department with us, and a mighty good one. It's good because its new, and wholly new and good. We do nothing by halves. See our Stock. See what we offer in Style, Material, Shape and Finish. You can take your pick of the Best Goods by the Best Makers. We discount the Town on Hats.

Sunday School Service.

Instead of taking up the review of the Sunday school lessons for the past quarter there will be an open meeting of the Charlotte-st. Methodist Sunday School to-morrow afternoon. It will be a prayer and praise service. It promises to be very interesting and profitable. Friends of the school and parents especially are invited to be present.

Electric Light in Lakefield.

The Chronicle says:—Mr. H. T. Strickland, representing the Ball Electric Light Co., of Toronto, is in the village with a view of introducing this system of lighting. We understand the Messrs. Strickland with their usual enterprise have decided to use the electric light in their mills, and will put in a more extensive plant and supply the village if the necessary number of lights can be secured. By all means let us have our streets and places of worship properly lighted.

Cobourg's Proposed Railway.

The Campbellford Herald states that the proposed Cobourg and Northumberland railway will run through the townships of Hamilton, Haldimand, Percy, Seymour, touching at Campbellford, thence through the northern part of the townships of Cramahe and Brighton to the iron districts of Marmora and Belmont. The line will connect with and cross the Canadian Pacific at Havelock. The total length of the line is 65 miles. The deputation pointed out that conditional upon receiving a government subsidy, the necessary capital to build the line will be raised by the municipalities through which it will pass. Cobourg will take debentures to the amount of $75,000, and the first three municipalities to the extent of $50,000 each. The different municipalities have each faith in the road being a paying one that it is considered a reasonable certainty that the interest on the bonds will be fully met by the earnings. In the event of the line being built the C.P.R. has consented to stock and run it, allowing the company 40 per cent of the gross profits.

On Monday morning at ten o'clock Mr. Chas. Stapleton, Returning Officer, will meet all those who may wish to be appointed as agents, either for or against, in the vote on the Scott Act on Thursday next.

Disturbances in Ashburnham.

There appears to be something wrong in the village over the river lately, the cause of which cannot be said. During the last three weeks the police have received three calls to go to Ashburnham to quell disturbances.

Midland Elevator.

A Midland correspondent writes that work on the new elevator is progressing rapidly. When completed, which is to be by July 1st, there will be elevator capacity of half a million bushels, in the finest harbour in the fresh waters of the Dominion.

Provisional Promotions.

The Militia General orders issued yesterday, as will be seen in another column, contain the promotions, provisionally, of Second Lieut. W. P. Milligan to a Captaincy, and Quarter-Master Sergeant O. J. Snyder to a Lieutenancy in the Durham Field Battery.

Baptist S. School, Auburn.

A temperance service of song by the Band of Hope will be given to-morrow afternoon at 3 p. m. The chair will be taken by Mr. G. Milliard. All are invited. Those going to vote for the Scott Act, or vote against it, or those who have no vote, are invited to go and hear.

Row on George-st.

A most disgraceful row occurred on George-st. about eleven o'clock last night. Unfortunately the police did not chance to be on hand or there would most assuredly have been some arrests. It is probable that those who had a hand in the disturbance will be summoned before the Magistrate.

Scott Act Meetings.

A Scott Act meeting was held in the Opera House this afternoon, to be addressed by Rev. P. Clifton Parker and Rev. Mr. McCallum. To-night at eight o'clock another mass meeting will be held, when Messrs. F. S. Spence and J. J. McLaren, Q.C., of Toronto, two of the giants of the temperance cause, will deliver addresses.

The Talk of the Town

The people are wondering why Elliott & Tierney are giving 18 lbs. bright sugar for $1. and selling teas and other goods so much cheaper than any house in Peterborough. Call at the Palace Grocery and examine the goods, which will convince you. The "Palace" is the place to get best values. Great stock-taking sale now going on.

Peterborough Push.

Mr. J. J. Turner was at Picton, Prince Edward County, for three days this week and while there secured some twenty orders for awnings. One of them was for an eighty foot awning for the front of the Royal hotel. Mr. Turner has been compelled to refuse several orders lately owing to his inability to fill the great number that have reached him.

On the Market.

There was only a fair market this morning, the weather being none to lovely for driving. There was a large quantity of maple syrup offered for sale, at $1.25 per gallon. Eggs were selling at from 10c. to 12c., and were a good supply. Butter sold at from 20c. to 22c., chickens were not plentiful but sold at from 50c. to 60. Turkeys were buying from $1 to $1.25. Potatoes could be had in any quantity for from 50c. to 60c., a bag.

CAPTURED at last—a large stock of splendid tea. [illegible] lbs. for $1 at M. R. KIDD'S. d66

Religious Services.

The following is a list of services in the several churches to-morrow:—

A GOVERNOR'S QUESTION
REV. MR. CROSSLEY SPEAKS OF THE DESIRES OF MEN.

As to What They shall do with Jesus—The The Evangelists Last Full Week—Next Week's Services—The Work of an Evangelist—The Sectarian Fence—A Meeting in Heaven of two Ministers—The Fruits of Four Weeks' Labor.

Last evening was the last night for the Crossley and Hunter services in St. Paul's church, and needless to say the edifice was packed soon after seven o'clock. The stay of the evangelists now draws comparatively near a close, as Rev. Mr. Hunter said last evening that next week would be their last full week in Peterborough, but just what evening the week following would be their last he could not say. The remainder of the services will be held in the George-st. church. The four weeks of labor in Peterborough has not by any means proved in vain, for Mr. Hunter said the secretary had handed him the names of about seven hundred persons who had either been saved or were seeking salvation. To what number the list will swell before the closing night it is impossible to say.

Rev. Mr. Crossley sang as his first solo the beautiful hymn "My Ain Countrie."

THE MEETINGS NEXT WEEK.

Rev. Mr. HUNTER before he read the evening lesson made a number of announcements. He said the meeting on Sunday night in the George-st. church would be for men only and for skeptics specially, as the subject of the meeting would be atheism. Then on Monday evening they would give their views on the question of the parlor dance. They would speak plainly on the question and those who attended could do as they wished afterwards—if they decided it was all right to dance they could go and dance. He asked all the small children and all the elderly people who were never going to dance again to remain away on Monday to give the young and middle-aged people an opportunity of hearing the question discussed. Then on Tuesday the meeting would be for men only. "If you think," said the evangelist, "that we do nothing I wish you would just come down and hear our door bell ring and see the invitations that come in asking us to visit the sick and go to the different institutions." He said they had been up to the Protestant Home that afternoon and held a service and the inmates of the Home had enjoyed it greatly. On Saturdays even, he said, they were not to have rest, as to day they were going to take the 6 40 train for Port Hope and then go from that there to Cobourg and hold a union service in that town in the afternoon and then return to Peterborough in the evening. Next Saturday they had promised to go to Lindsay and hold a meeting. He then read the lesson from the 3rd chapter of John, where Nicodemus, the ruler, came to Jesus by night. Commenting on the verse where Christ says "Ye must be born again" the evangelist said that this was the text of Christ's sermon. They must all be born again. Why? Because they could never see God or never be happy until they were born again, and there was no true happiness outside of Jesus Christ. Some might ask how were they to be born of God. It was not by baptism or confirmation, or joining the church, but by conversion, a change of heart. He was glad that was so low that the Presbyterian ministers could reach over and shake hands with the Methodist ministers, and the Baptists with the Congregationalists and the Episcopalians. He likened the different denominations to one grand army, made up of companies and battalions under different captains, but all fighting under the one general and when they would reach the gate of Heaven they would all be one. He had pictured to himself two ministers, a Methodist and Episcopalian, meeting in Heaven and shaking hands they would say, "We have been working for the same end and what consummate fools we were down on earth hardly speaking to each other," and then they would link arm in arm and wander through the celestial city and talk over what fools they had been. The last verse, the evangelist said, was one of the most beautiful in the Bible and contained the whole gospel—"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him shall not perish but have everlasting life." He took the acrostic from the verse God, Only Son, Perish, Everlasting Life—Gospel.

After Miss Nellie Wrighton and Rev. Mr. Crossley sang the duet "The Glad Message," Rev. Mr. Hunter offered up a brief prayer for a large number of special requests.

THE QUESTION ALL MUST ANSWER.

Rev. Mr. CROSSLEY said his text was a question, a question that was asked wrongly and one that he could not answer for any of them but one that each must answer for himself. It was also a question that had been wrongly answered. His text was:—

"What shall I do with Jesus."

The rev. gentleman said actions spoke louder than words, and they could tell what persons decisions were by their action with reference to Jesus. He then proceeded to give some of the decisions that were given as what should be done with Jesus. Some said "We will not receive Him!" Others said "We'll reject Him!" as the Jews had when they cried "away with Him, away with Him." There were many present who had rejected or thrust Christ off, by stifling conviction or drowning desires. Then some said as Peter had "I'll deny Him!" Many who were Christians had denied Him in many ways—by going to places of questionable amusement or by helping in some doubtful enterprise that was not for God's glory—and many of the unsaved had also denied Him in many ways, but he told them God had no harsh words for them and if they would look at it in the proper light they would say "Lord be merciful to me a sinner." Others were saying "Desert Him," and he pointed out that as the disciples had deserted Him, so many Christians had deserted God, as well as those who were unsaved. Still God would receive them kindly if they would only go to Him. Another said with Judas "I'll sell Him" Many Christians were doing this at election time or when not standing up for a cause from fear of persecution. The unconverted said the Lord for there was always some little thing that kept them away from salvation. The meanest class of all were those who said "I'll shirk Him," and there were many of this class who were blaming the preachers for their backslidings or saying a father or members of their family were keeping them away from God. The question was not what others did but "What shall I do with Jesus." Lastly he spoke of the one decision they should all come to, "We will receive Him," and he dwelt earnestly on this point and urged all the unsaved to consider well the question "What will I do with Jesus."

After Rev. Mr. Hunter had spoken briefly a large number stood up as having been converted or had been forward as seekers since the services started.

The church was packed for the after meeting and many went into the enquiry room.

INDIAN TREATY.

A Charming Indian Objects to the Game Laws.

The following letter received by the REVIEW is given verbatim as received, the quaintness of expression detracting nothing from it:—

WHITE MAN,—Injin want to talk to you a little about the treaty you made him through his great grandfather. I am surprise to you that you do not keep your promise. I thought proclamation means warrant to rule legal and not to change. Injin don't understand your big words, but he can guess pretty near what you mean. The treaty says (so far as I can learn from the old people) I want your land and will pay you for it. This part is all right, also the island we satisfied, except the fish and game. The treaty says, the fish and game which I don't want from yout hat will be yours for ever and so many rods up each side of any river or creek for your camping grounds will be yours (including fish and game) forever as long as the sun will go round the world and as long as the rivers will run and as long as the grass will grow on earth. I often hear you say that Injin don't keep his promise. Do you, white man, fulfil your promise? No. Now to-day there is law for the game, what you did not want from us, or ever have anything to do with it; but you must interfere with us when you book two of our men to prison for killing few of their game. We don't want this law any longer, for we know just how to use our fish and game as some of your farmers do with your stock. You kill and sell to many and keep some ever for to breed. That was always our rule us Indians, and now to-day you you will find more game right around our villages than where white man had hunted. Go where white man had his camp; you will find fish, duck, hawks or even fur bearing animals laying around dead, shot by the sportsmen. Those are the ones that need law, but go to Indian camp, see if you will find fish or game spoiling round their camping grounds. We don't put the blame on our government at all. It is those sportsmen (that has lots of money) force those laws. I hope those sportsmen will stay home next summer, and not come out to take the bread out of the aboriginie's mouth.

I hope I have not said anything out the way, as I don't wish to do so. I only wish to have our just rights. Sportsmen don't have a sickly smile on me when I meet you. I only wish to remind you our agreement.

Yours, &c.,
INJIN.

Scott Act and Drunkenness.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Some very misleading reports are circulated regarding the effect the Scott Act has had upon the Police Court business, and the statement has been made by a correspondent in your columns that the number of convictions under the Scott Act in the town are less by hundreds than for the same time under the Crooks Act. I have no desire to enter into a controversy, but the people in deciding this matter should have facts before them. The following figures showing the number of convictions for drunkenness are taken from the Police Court records:—

UNDER CROOKS ACT.
1884	165
1886 (four months)	22
UNDER SCOTT ACT.
1886 (eight months)	27
1887	74
1889 (three months)	38

There was a decrease in the eight months of 1886, when drunken men were allowed to go home instead of being arrested, but the number in 1888 was larger than in either 1884 or 1885, although the numbers in 1884 were swollen by the presence of men working on the railways. So far in 1889 the record is the worst for years, as the arrests have numbered 38 for three months or at the rate of 152 a year. Ashburnham records may not show arrests for drunkenness, but how many times have our police been sent for to quell disturbances across the river? And frequently men have strayed across the bridge from the village to this side and been arrested. If we wish to test the Scott Act by Police Court records let it be done fairly.

Yours, &c.,
CITIZEN.

CHINA HALL

CHINA
AND
QUEENS WA

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate cracked at that. Consider $34,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of sèvres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $3,000 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $2,500 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

SATURDAY, MARCH 30, 1889.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER

"Because they were given to me in confidence, and I decline to break it."

"Did Capt. Owen say where he had been during the afternoon?"

At this point Beautiful Jim raised his honest eyes and beheld staring at him, with the fascinated gaze of a bird attracted by a snake, the girl who was barmaid at the Duck's Tail; her small, sharp features were strained and anxious, her dark skin was of a greenish pallor, which contrasted horribly with her profuse and unnaturally golden hair. Jim looked at her steadily for a moment, and then turned his attention back to his questioner.

"Yes; he had been into Walmsbury."

"Did he tell you where?"

"Yes; he went to the Duck's Tail."

"The Duck's Tail? What to do there?"

"To get the address of a horse dealer who had been recommended by Maj. Whittaker."

"Did he get it?"

"I don't know; he did not say."

"Was the annoyance connected with this horse dealer?"

"Not in the very least."

Then there followed a long and close examination on the after events of that day and evening, to all of which Jim returned answers precisely corroborating the evidence which had gone before. Then at last he was told to stand aside, and the name of Rose Meeking was called.

Somewhat to Jim's surprise, Rose Meeking proved to be the sharp visaged young person from the Duck's Tail; and, if fright was any sign of guilt, Miss Meeking must have had the credit of being very guilty, indeed.

She deposed that rather late in the afternoon Capt. Owen had come into the bar of the Duck's Tail. There was no one else there. She did not know the exact time, but the landlord and the family were at tea. She was busy tidying up the bar for the evening. She always did that the last thing before she went to her tea.

Capt. Owen inquired the address of a certain horse dealer, a Mr. Johns. She knew Mr. Johns' address and gave it to him. She also told him that Mr. Johns had been in the hotel that morning and had gone up to London for two or three days, upon which Capt. Owen remarked that it was no use his writing or going to him for a week or so. Capt. Owen stayed a short time, talking to her about other things, and then left. She did not know which way he went. There was no one else in the bar during the time he was there.

She was then asked whether Capt. Owen had often been in the hotel before, and whether she knew him at all intimately.

And to this she replied that she had never seen him in the hotel but once before, when he had not spoken to her. The day of the murder was the first time she had ever had any conversation with him. She was not the least intimate with him. No, he had not shown the smallest wish to be intimate with her.

After this, Miss Rose Meeking was put down, and several minor witnesses were put up, from none of whom could any evidence worth mentioning be extracted. There were various officers' servants and the men who had been on duty that night, two mess waiters and the gentlemen who had been guests at the mess table. If their united evidence was worth anything it was toward clearing Jim Beresford of the suspicion which Leader's unfortunately long tongue had caused to rise up against him; and then they all sat down to await, with what patience they might, the decision at which the jury would eventually arrive.

"You are safe enough," said the great criminal lawyer to Jim. "There's not a jot of evidence against you."

"I have never been afraid there would be," said Jim, coolly.

And presently the jury were ready with their verdict, and amid a breathless hush it was given to the public, when it is safe to say that the only person in that assembly who did not tremble was the one on whom the darkest suspicion had fallen, Beautiful Jim. While the eyes of all were dimmed with fear of what the next moment might bring forth, he stood up in his place straight and true, and awaited the verdict with the assurance of complete innocence. And the decision of the jury was:

"Willful murder against some person or persons unknown."

And oh! what a cheer burst out then, and how they all—or nearly all—pressed forward to take Jim by the hand and tell him that they had never, never believed him guilty for a moment. And then poor Leader came, shaking and pale as a ghost, to tell him if they had given a verdict against him he should have gone out and hanged himself like Judas; and then when Jim, with rough kindness, told him not to talk rot, but to get back to barracks, he burst out sobbing like a great baby and cursed himself for a blubbering fool, who had risked the neck of the best master man had ever served under.

But it was all very delightful, nevertheless, to Beautiful Jim. It is easy and well to make little of a danger when it is over; yet this danger had been very real while it had lasted, and more than once Jim, in spite of his innocence, had caught himself furtively stroking his throat and wondering what the feel of the rope would be like, if it should come to that. Oh! without doubt, it was very, very pleasant to be free once more.

On account of the dead man still lying in the room above the mess room, who had been so great a favorite with them all, there were no open demonstrations of satisfaction and joy at Beautiful Jim's release that evening. But immediately after dinner the colonel filled his glass to the brim, and, turning to Jim, who sat in the place of honor beside him, drank to him in silence, an example which was followed by every other man at the table in turn.

WAXING WARM.

The Scott Act Contest in Oxford—Death of Mr. James McKay of Woodstock.

WOODSTOCK, March 29.—McLeod & Co., boot and shoe dealers here, to-day made an assignment to James Piper of London.

Warren Totten is a candidate for the third deputy-reeveship, rendered vacant by the death of the late Mr. Martin.

Mr. James McKay died here to-day. Deceased acted as returning officer in the municipal election here last Friday, and while doing so contracted a severe cold which developed into acute inflammation of the kidneys. He was 61 years of age, a native of Sutherlandshire, and settled in Zorra when quite young, since which time he has been engaged in business here.

George Fielding, the Englishman who was arrested in Toronto on Tuesday, charged with stealing wearing apparel and who has been palming himself off as a street-corner evangelist, was quite recently released from Woodstock jail, where he served a term for stealing money from his employer.

Burglars have this week been committing serious depredations in the neighboring village of Thamesford. Dr. McWilliams' drug store, Cowper Bros.' blacksmith shop and Young & Kester's general store have been ransacked. There is no clue to the burglars.

The Scott Act contest in this county is waxing very keen. Meetings have been held in almost every schoolhouse and the ladies are on the stump. Both sides are sanguine.

A curious legal quibble growing out of the Scott Act has arisen here. Wm. Lizzard, John Nisbet and Henry Kars appeared at the Police Court yesterday charged with stealing a quantity of liquor from a hotelkeeper. The hotelkeeper was fined for having the contraband stuff on his premises, and the query now is, does the law protect him in the possession of the article?

FIRES OF A DAY.

Eight New Houses Burnt at Lachine—A Blaze at Cobourg.

MONTREAL, March 29.—About 2.30 this morning fire was discovered in a new terrace of eight houses at Lachine fronting the main road and owned by Mrs. James Howley. No water being obtainable through the appliances of the corporation there, the fire burned away threatening several houses adjoining until the private brigade of Mr. Dawes came on the scene and worked with such effect that a serious fire was averted. The houses are almost totally destroyed. The loss is estimated at $8900, partly covered by a $6800 policy in the Royal.

A Toronto Firm Loses by This Fire.

COBOURG, March 29.—A grain warehouse at the foot of Division-street owned by the commissioners of the town trust and leased by A. H. MacDonald, grain buyer, was destroyed by fire last night. The building contained about 4000 bushels of barley, the property of W. D. Matthews & Co. of Toronto, mostly covered by insurance. There was $800 insurance on the warehouse.

Manitoba's Immigration Boom.

WINNIPEG, March 29.—Two train loads of settlers which left Toronto Tuesday arrived this evening and the third is expected during the night.

This year 4130 immigrants have arrived here.

Residents of Selkirk believe that the escaped lunatic Fletcher has been eaten by wolves.

A lodge of female Orange Young Britons has been organized here.

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

What unlimited gall for other houses to dare to compete with us. Why we have secured the trade of Town and Country, also the confidence of the people, and must and will at all times sell Goods cheaper than any house. Merchants say our expenses are so light we can sell Goods cheaper, but we say ours are large and our business massive, hence our advantage.

Look at our Tea Sales and prices, other houses try to compete in price, not quality.

Look at our prices of Sugars, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our prices of Fruits, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our extensive Country Trade, our Town Trade and surrounding Village Trade, and in but few words, we can dare other houses to compete.

TURNBULL'S COLUMN

Whatever the weather has been outside, it was the springiest of spring time in our store on Wednesday and Thursday last, when all the New Millinery and Millinery belongings were opened out of their close fitting boxes. For the benefit of those who could not get in on those days we will keep the display up all the first week of April. Among the leading changes noticeable is the trimming this season is Lace Ends and Scarfs and Long Veils drawn in with baby ribbon are the Leading Trimmings. The old fashion hop that used to climb up the pole on the back door is now found falling over the Black Lace Hats. Having struck a cheap line of Flowers (German make), the Germans copy the French designs and give us the goods cheaper. We have a bouquet for everybody, bunches of roses in all colors for 20c. each. Our Stock of Children's Trimmed Hats is unusually attractive. Sailor Hats in endless variety, we have not room to give them a front show. We were disappointed at not being able to show with the millinery, the new Jet Capes, Silk Vassettes and Trimmed Dolmans, but there is time enough yet and we expect them in on the first freight train. A fine assortment of Clothe in the order department. All hands busy as bees in the work rooms up-stairs.

The Dress Goods Department is as lively as ever. A new line of Vigors and Cloth in 8 shades, 44 inches wide at 60c., came in this week. A glance at them will tell you they are serviceable. With them came a new line of German Dress Cloth, we have shown nothing similar before, is just what any lady would fancy for a Genteel Dress. Will show another new make next week. Miss Mercer is always pleased to help you with her advice as to length of dress, pattern, style of making and trimming, whether you wish to have it made by us or not.

Kid Gloves, fresh from the hands of the maker in Austria at 75c. and $1.00 a pair. This line we had in stock before, but the quantity was small and we only had a pair for a lady here and there.

Corsets. Spring brings changes and this one has brought one of the nicest makes we have ever shown. All the best makes from the leading manufacturers coming in and going out again. Large sizes for stout ladies always in stock.

THE GERMAN PENAL LAW.

NATIONAL LIBERALS DECLARE AGAINST THE BILL.

The Proposal to Muzzle the Press Antagonized—Emperor William's Love for England—Dissatisfied Workmen.

BERLIN, March 30.—A rupture in the Government groups arising from their disagreement on the press penal law is certain unless the bill is materially modified. The National Liberals declare against the bill. The semi-official press admit that under the law there can be no freedom of discussion and say the Liberals are justified in resisting it. It is reported that a commission of the Bundesrath has greatly modified the bill. This is unlikely. The absolute regulation of the press is a pet project with the Emperor. His departure from the usual etiquette to attend the parliamentary dinner was due to a desire to conciliate the deputies. He was graciously familiar with the Nationalist leaders. It is probable that the Government will rely on the Centre party, thus causing an evolution in party grouping. It is predicted that a Liberal coalition will be formed strong enough to imperil the bill.

Count Herbert Bismarck returns from England Monday. He says he has arranged for grand public demonstrations on the occasion of Emperor William's visit to England in July. The doubts as to English popular feeling towards the Emperor inspire the semi-official declaration that the Emperor's supposed dislike of England is a mistake. After Germany he loves England most.

The strike outbreak is widespread in Hamburg. The masons, plumbers and carpenters are out because their employers refused to pay them higher wages. At Elberfeld and Barmen the manufacturing works are closed. At Crefeld the workmen will strike Monday unless their demands are granted. At Nuremburg the carvers and toy makers are out. The Berlin masons have decided to inaugurate a general strike in the building trades.

A commission of the Reichstag has decided to prosecute Herr Grillenberger for offensive press comments concerning members of the Reichstag.

The Passion Play will be given at Oberammergau in the autumn of 1890. The text and music have been received.

HALSTEAD FINALLY REJECTED.

He Had Said Some Naughty Things About the U. S. Senate in His Paper.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Senate has confirmed the following among other nominations: Geo. B. Loring, Minister to Portugal; Robert T. Lincoln, Minister to Great Britain; Allan Thorndike Rice, Minister to Russia; Thomas Ryan, Minister to Mexico; F. J. Patrick Egan, Minister to Chili.

The Executive session of the Senate lasted two hours this afternoon, being devoted almost exclusively for the third time to the case of Murat Halstead, nominated to be minister to Germany. Senators Sherman, Hawley and Blair spoke in favor of his confirmation, the two last named being listened to with especially close attention. At the close of their remarks a vote was taken on the motion to reconsider the vote by which the nomination was rejected Thursday. The motion was lost by a vote of 25 to 18, Messrs. Evarts, Ingalls, Plumb and Teller voting with the Democrats in the negative and Messrs. Blackburn and Call with the Republicans in the affirmative. The Republicans named explained their votes on roll call, saying that they had no personal feeling in the matter, no antagonism against Mr. Halstead; but thought it right to defend the Senate against such attacks as had been made upon its character by him in his paper.

Turning the Rascals Out.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Since March 4, 1885 fourth-class postmasters have been appointed by the Postmaster-General; 420 were appointed to succeed postmasters who had resigned and 564 to take the places of others suspended or removed.

Must Have Separate Manifests.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Treasury Department has affirmed the action of the collector of customs at Ogdensburg in exacting a fee of 25 cents on each of 24 cars of the Rome, Waterloo and Ogdensburg Railroad brought to Ogdensburg by the ferry steamer Armstrong. These cars were laden with merchandise from Canada and objection was made to the filing of separate car manifests on the ground that the manifest filed by the master of the steamer covered the entire cargo including the cars and contents. The collector has been informed that the department is of opinion that each railroad car laden with merchandise destined to the United States from a contiguous territory is subject to the requirement of separate manifest with regard to the manner of its arrival.

Winnipeg Wire Whispers.

WINNIPEG, March 31.—A mad dog was shot on the streets of Winnipeg yesterday.

Tom Brown, proprietor of the Queen's Hotel, died this morning of congestion of the lungs.

Archbishop Tache arrived yesterday from the east.

Governor Schultz and wife leave this week for Harrison Springs.

Rev. Alex. Grant Invited to Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, March 31.—At a harmonious meeting of the Baptist Church to-day it was decided to invite Rev. Alex. Grant of Toronto to preach to them for three months with a view of offering him the charge permanently. It is understood Rev. Mr. Grant is desirous of resigning his position as Superintendent of Ontario Home Mission and accepting a settled charge.

To Strike for Nine Hours.

BUFFALO, March 30.—The union carpenters and union painters will strike tomorrow for nine hours' work at ten hours' pay. There are about 1800 carpenters and 600 painters involved.

THE NAVAL CATASTROPHE

CONFIRMATION OF THE REPORTED DISASTER AT APIA.

Two German and Two United States Men-of-War Total Losses—Fifty Americans and 96 Germans Perish.

AUCKLAND, March 30.—Despatches from Samoa state that the American men-of-war Trenton, Vandalia and Nipsic, and the German men-of-war Adler, Olga and Eber, were driven on a reef during a violent storm and totally wrecked. Of the American crews four officers and 46 men were drowned and of the German crews nine officers and 87 men lost their lives.

Admiral Kimberley's Report

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Secretary Tracy received the following cable message this morning.

AUCKLAND, March 30.—Secretary of the Navy, Washington: Hurricane at Apia, March 15. Every vessel in harbor is on shore except the English man-of-war Calliope, which got to sea. Trenton and Vandal a total losses. Nipsic beached; rudder gone; may be saved; chances against. Will send her to Auckland if possible. Vandalia lost four officers and 39 men, including Capt. Schoonmaker, Paymaster Arms, Lieutenant of Marines Sutton and Pay Clerk Roach. Nipsic lost seven men. All saved from the Trenton. The Trenton and Vandalia crews are ashore. Nipsic's is on board. All stores possible saved. German ships Adler and Eber total losses. Olga beached; may be saved. German losses, 96.—KIMBERLEY.

The Secretary of the Navy has cabled Admiral Kimberley to take such steps with regard to the Nipsic and the wrecks and sending men home as he may deem proper, full power being given him.

Admiral Kimberley's despatch is taken to indicate that he had already mailed an account of the wreck at Apia. By sharp work it may have been possible for him to have caught the mail steamer which arrives at San Francisco April 12, in which case full advices may be expected in Washington about April 20. Minister Pendleton has sent a despatch embodying the information concerning the disaster received by the Foreign Office at Berlin.

It appears that the rainy season set in this year at Samoa with severity and rather early. February 14 a heavy gale descended upon the harbor and wrecked several merchant vessels, including the American barkentine Constitution. February 23 Captain Mullan, of the Nipsic, who has had a long stay at Apia, wrote to his brother here as follows: "We are now in the midst of the hurricane season and until April 15 we may look for heavy weather. Harbor is small with reefs outside and inside bad holding ground. No coal here and nothing to eat. Everything very dear."

Naval officers generally concur in the belief that the disaster at Apia was the most severe that has ever overtaken the American navy in time of peace.

The German Loss.

BERLIN, March 30.—Advices received by the naval authorities report that the storm raged during March 16 and 17. Seventy persons from the Eber and twenty from the Adler were drowned. The Olga was stranded, but her crew were saved. All the merchant vessels anchored at Samoa foundered.

Details of the Disaster.

LONDON, March 31.—Further particulars of the disastrous storm at Apia have just been received. The hurricane burst upon the harbor suddenly. The German man-of-war Eber was the first vessel to drag her anchor. She became unmanageable and was driven helplessly on the reef which runs round the harbor. She struck broadside on at six o'clock in the morning. The shock caused her to lurch and to stagger back and she sank in a moment in deep water. Most of her men were under hatches and scarcely a soul of them escaped.

The German warship Adler was the next to succumb. She was lifted bodily by a gigantic wave and cast on her beam ends on the reef. A terrible struggle ensued among the officers and sailors aboard. Many plunged into the raging surf and struck out, some reaching the shore in safety. Others clung to the rigging until the masts fell; of the latter two gained the shore safely. The captain of the Adler and several other officers were saved.

In the meantime the United States steamer Nipsic had been dragging her anchors and drifting towards the shore. The captain, however, managed to keep control and ran her on a sand bank. Boats were immediately lowered and the whole company saved with the exception of six men who were drowned by the capsizing of a boat.

The United States steamer Vandalia was carried before the gale right upon the reef. She struck with a terrible shock and the captain was hurled against a Gatling gun and stunned. Before he could recover a great sea swept the deck and washed him away. The vessel sank fifty yards from the Nipsic. Several officers and men were washed overboard and drowned. Others perished while making desperate efforts to swim to the shore. Some remained for hours clinging to the rigging, but heavy waves dashed unceasingly over them and one by one they were swept away. By this time night had set in. Many natives and Europeans had gathered on the shore and all were anxious to render assistance to the wrecked vessels and their unfortunate crews, but darkness having fallen on the scene they were wholly unable to be of service.

Soon after the Vandalia had sunk the American warship Trenton broke from her anchorage and was driven upon the wreck of the Vandalia, whence she drifted to the shore. The bottom of the Trenton was completely stove and her hold was half full of water. As morning broke the German man-of-war Olga, which had hitherto bravely withstood the gale, although much battered by the heavy seas that constantly broke upon her, became unmanageable and was driven upon the beach, where she lay in a tolerably favorable position.

The following is a record of the officers and men lost:

Eber—The captain, all the other officers except one, and 76 men.

Vandalia—The captain, 4 officers and 40 men.

Nipsic—7 men.

Adler—Altogether 15 persons.

Mataafa sent a number of men, who rendered splendid service in trying to float the Olga.

An Unsafe Harbor.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Captain Richard W. Meade, the United States naval officer who commanded the Narragansett in Samoan waters in 1872, and now Commandant of the Washington Navy Yard, said: "The harbor of Apia in Opolu is a coral reef harbor with an entrance about 1800 yards wide and open to the north. It is not large and the anchorage ground is limited. During the yearly hurricane season, which lasts through December, January, February, March and April, it is considered rather a risk to remain in Apia, while Pago-Pago, in the neighboring island of Tutila, is perfectly safe, being land-locked and otherwise sheltered. Hurricanes, however, are not very frequent at the Samoan Islands, though they occur frequently at the Tonga group. They generally sweep up through the belt of ocean between Tonga and the Samoan groups. In April, 1850, and in January, 1870, the islands were visited by terrible hurricanes, which destroyed the cocoanut, banana and bread-fruit crops, reducing the natives to the verge of starvation for several weeks. These hurricanes are often accompanied by earthquakes, and the conjunction of the two works terrible injury. On March 28, 1883, all vessels in Apia Harbor except one small schooner were driven out to sea and lost. This was attributed at the time to a series of heavy tidal waves caused by an earthquake. Considerable damage was done on shore also. On the whole the climate of the Samoan Islands, though variable, is very pleasant, bad weather occurring only during the winter months. At this time there are long and heavy rains, attended sometimes by high winds and northerly gales. Ordinarily the winds are light and variable, with frequent and sudden squalls. For the rest of the year the weather is very fine, and from May till November the trade wind blows steadily from the southeast."

Lieutenant Edward E. Hayden, retired, is in charge of the meteorological division of the Hydrographic Office, and is regarded as an authority on the subject of marine storms. He says that the cyclonic storms are a feature of the South Pacific region. They have a motion exactly the reverse of those occurring in the northern hemisphere, but otherwise have about the same characteristics. Their path is parabolic and they occur several times a year in some years. It sometimes happens that two or three seasons go by without a storm. An experienced seaman can detect the approach of such storms in the West Indies, but the same rule might not hold good in the Pacific waters.

Sympathy From the Queen.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Queen Victoria cabled through Lord Salisbury to the British legation in this city to-day directing that her earnest sympathy be expressed to the President on the terrible naval misfortune at Samoa and the deplorable loss of life. Mr. Edwardes, the British charge, accompanied by the Secretary of State, waited upon the President this afternoon and read to him the Queen's message. The President expressed his warm appreciation and that of the whole people of the country of the Queen's considerate sympathy. A more formal reply to the message would be made, the President said, through the Department of State.

Getting the Sailors Home.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—The Auckland agent of the Oceanic Steamship Line, whose steamships ply between here and Australia has cabled John D. Spreckles, president of the company, that Lieut. Wilson desires to secure accommodation on the steamship Mariposa, which touches at Auckland on her return trip from Sydney in the latter part of April for 300 of the wrecked sailors at Samoa to be taken to San Francisco. The Mariposa is entitled to carry only 250 passengers. The Department of State has been requested by telegraph to grant permission for the steamer to take the extra passengers. The steamship Alameda left Auckland three days ago and it is estimated she touched at Samoa to-day and it is thought she will bring a large number of the shipwrecked sailors to this port without waiting for the Mariposa to receive orders. The Alameda is due here April 13.

An Expensive Cablegram.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—It is said at the Navy Department that Admiral Kimberley's cable despatch containing the news cost between $700 and $800.

Drowned in the Cabin.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Incoming vessels report unusually rough weather. Nearly every vessel arriving to-day bore evidence of damage by gale or collision. The schooner Lesta A. Lewis, from Mobile, off Neversink Highlands, to-day was run into by the steamer City of Savannah. The schooner's stern was completely cut off. She was flooded with water, and her captain was drowned while asleep in the cabin.

All Hands Lost Except One Sailor.

MOBILE, Ala., March 30.—The French bark Loong, loaded with lumber, foundered Saturday 30 miles off Pascagoula. Captain J. F. Chatelard, his wife, child and all hands were lost except one sailor, who was rescued after being four days exposed by the Norwegian bark Parmetta.

CASTOR OIL.

The Deadly Explosive Used by the Denver Bank Robber.

DENVER, March 30.—W. H. Clark, arrested yesterday on suspicion of being the man who robbed the First National Bank of $21,000 and subsequently released, was rearrested on the charge of being an accomplice. He denies any connection with the affair. Detectives to-day found in the hallway of a building in the vicinity of the bank an overcoat, in the pockets of which were a loaded revolver and a bottle apparently containing nitro-glycerine, which evidently had been thrown there by the robber as he escaped. The supposed deadly explosive proved to be simply castor oil.

Mr. Wiman's Portland Speech.

PORTLAND, Me., March 31.—Erastus Wiman speaking at a banquet given by the Board of Trade last evening, stated that political union of Canada and the United States, under existing circumstances, is impossible, and confederation by force of arms or as a result of retaliatory and hostile legislation would be impracticable. A German league formed on the principles of the German zollverein would prove of inestimable advantage to both countries.

Sudden Death at London.

LONDON, Ont., March 30.—This morning a market gardener named G. H. Warburton went to a residence in Dundas-street to deliver a bag of potatoes. He carried the potatoes down in the cellar and stayed so long that the servant went to see what was the matter with him. She found him lying dead in the bin, where he had fallen on top of the potatoes. A doctor was called in and pronounced the cause of death apoplexy.

Murdered His Brother.

NEW YORK, March 31.—During an altercation to-night in the Chelsea flats Reuben Fungs, a mulatto, 21 years old, stabbed his brother George to the heart with a jack-knife. He also cut off his brother's right hand. The murderer escaped.

A $100,000 BLAZE.

The Explosion of a Steam Still Causes a Big Fire at Long Island City.

LONG ISLAND CITY, March 30.—A steam still at the Empire Oil Works exploded this afternoon. The flames extended to the sheds and the immense coal bins and then spread to the Long Island foundry, the Water ink works, the New York iron and chemical works, Geo. E. Bulwer's storage shed and A. H. Hews' flower pot warehouse. More than an acre of ground was burnt over. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Coal Mines to Shut Down.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 30.—The indications point to a general shut down of the coal mines along the Monongahela River, April 1. A number of operators partially closed their works to-day. They say that by Saturday nearly all the mines will be closed until the miners agree to a reduction in wages to 2½ cents. The shut down will affect 6000 miners. There are now 6,000,000 bushels of coal ready for shipment.

The Chicago I.-O. Will Build.

CHICAGO, March 30.—The largest real estate deal of the season, involving $1,000,000, was consummated to-day in The Inter-Ocean coming into possession of the northwest corner of Dearborn and Madison streets. The Inter-Ocean will erect a new building which will be one of the most prominent structures in the city.

BY A REDUCED MAJORITY.

PARLIAMENTARY ELECTION FOR THE ENFIELD DIVISION.

The Unionist Candidate Returned—A Prima Facie Case Against Father McFadden for Murder.

LONDON, March 30.—The election to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons for the Enfield division of Middlesex resulted in the return of Captain Bowles, the Unionist candidate, who received 5124 votes against 3612 cast for Mr. Fairbairn, the nominee of the Gladstonians. At the last election Lord Folkestone, the Conservative candidate, received 5287 votes and Mr. Edgcombe, the Gladstonian, 1667.

Father McFadden's Case

DUBLIN, March 30.—A prima facie case has been found against Father McFadden for participating in the murder of Police Inspector Martin at Gweedore in February. He will be tried at the first assizes. Martin with a party of policemen attempted to arrest McFadden for offences under the Crimes Act. The time chosen to make the arrest was immediately after the priest had celebrated mass. Members of the congregation rescued McFadden from the police and he had nearly reached the door of his house when Martin seized him. At that moment a stone was thrown which struck the inspector on the head, inflicting injuries of which he died soon after.

Funeral of John Bright.

LONDON, March 30.—The funeral of John Bright took place to-day. Crowds of people lined the route of the procession from One Ash, Mr. Bright's late residence, near Rochdale to the cemetery. Among those present were Joseph Chamberlain, Wilfrid Lawson, Jesse Collings, Arnold Morley, Wm. Rathbone and General H. Lynedoch Gardiner, C.B., Equerry-in-Ordinary to Queen Victoria, who represented Her Majesty. A number of deputations headed the procession. Fifteen carriages containing mourners followed the hearse. Eight of Mr. Bright's workmen carried the coffin to the hearse and from the hearse to the grave. When the coffin was deposited in the grave the mourners gathered around (in silent meditation) according to the custom of the Quakers, to which sect Mr. Bright belonged.

The Dean of Founders College afterwards delivered an oration. He spoke of Mr. Bright as a man of great simplicity, who did not attribute his talents to his own efforts, but considered them gifts from God. Four wreaths remained on the coffin when it was lowered into the grave—one was sent from Biarritz by Queen Victoria—attached to it was Her Majesty's autograph. Another was from the Prince and Princess of Wales, with a card bearing the words, "as a mark of respect." The third was from Mr. Bright's work-people, and the fourth from Miss Cobden; attached to Miss Cobden's wreath was a card inscribed "In loving memory of my father's best friend."

Mr. Harrison's Foreign Ministers.

LONDON, March 31.—The nomination of Mr. Lincoln as Minister to England has been received here with what may be called respectful interest, but with an absence of enthusiasm that ought to delight our Irish friends. Mr. Lincoln, of course, is little known here, and the comments upon him cabled from New York add little to the little knowledge prevailing about him. The English are pleased to hear that he is a son of the late President, and perhaps esteem his selection a compliment for that reason. He has in other respects his own reputation to create, a task which Mr. Phelps has made difficult for any successor.

There is, however, in The Spectator a note of real sympathy, "The feeling of admiration," says that journal, "for President Lincoln, the wise man of the Union during the war, has never died away. Probably no American ever excited the same enthusiasm in England, even among the classes full of sympathy for the South and its leaders. The murder of the President was felt here like a blow to England, and his son will be the most welcome and most sought of guests. There are in the President's choice of Foreign Ministers two things which impress Europeans. First, the sweeping transformation of the entire American diplomatic service as each new Administration comes into power. Second, in this case, the appointment of so many journalists to be ministers. France is perhaps the only European country where this causes no surprise, for it is the only European country where journalism habitually confers a great reputation, and leads habitually to great posts in the public service. That an American journalist should be the American Minister to France seems to Frenchmen simply the most natural thing in the world. He will be acceptable, not in spite of, but in part because of his profession. Half the public men he meets there will hail him as a colleague on the press."

It may surprise Mr. Rice to know that he, too, is here reckoned as a journalist and that it is his editorship of a monthly periodical which is supposed to be the source of his present distinction. Mr. Halstead would have been welcomed in Berlin, though there is no capital in Europe where the promotion of an editor to diplomatic rank is a greater puzzle to both the journalistic and the official mind. Some friendly expressions of the Berlin press have been telegraphed here. Mr. Halstead's German campaign of 1870 is well remembered, and his good-will at that time and since to Germany is not forgotten.

Editors to be Dealt With Summarily.

PARIS, March 30.—The Chamber of Deputies by a vote of 288 to 230 to-day voted urgency for a bill providing that slanderous and insulting press attacks on public officials shall be summarily dealt with by a police tribunal.

Sudden Death at Oshawa.

OSHAWA, March 31.—Francis Tamblyn died suddenly at 8.30 yesterday morning from a stroke of paralysis. He was in his usual good health up to within a couple of hours of his death. Mr. Tamblyn was in his 47th year and was much esteemed by all who knew him. He was a native of England.

East Elgin Conservative Convention.

AYLMER, March 30.—At the convention called by the Liberal-Conservatives of East Elgin here to-day Mr. H. T. Godwin, reeve of Bayham and warden of the County of Elgin, was unanimously chosen as the party standard bearer at the coming election for member of the Local Legislature.

Mexico Shuts Out American Lard.

ST. LOUIS, March 30.—Late advices from the City of Mexico say the Board of Health of that city has pronounced American lard an adulteration, unfit for use and prohibited its sale. This action has been sustained by Minister Rubio, and will be effective throughout the republic, and instructions have been given to all custom houses.

A Telegrapher Killed.

MALLORYTOWN, Ont., March 30.—A young man named Seaman, telegraph operator at Sharbot Lake, jumped from a moving train near here last night and alighted in front of another, which cut him to pieces.

Suicide at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, March 31.—W. K. Chapin, a prominent business man of Rochester, committed suicide late Friday night or early Saturday morning at the Genesee House in this city by shooting himself through the head.

SPIRITUAL MYSTERIES.

REV. MR. CROSSLEY DELIVESES A POWERFUL DISCOURSE.

Two Immense Gatherings of Men—Rev. Mr. Hunter's Time Table of the Black Valley Railroad—Addresses by Mr. McLaren—Notes.

The men who turned out to the Crossley and Hunter meeting in the Opera House yesterday afternoon crowded the Opera House, floor, gallery and stage. It was just four o'clock when the meeting opened and after the singing of a number of hymns and Rev. Mr. Crossley had sang a solo "Sign a Pledge," the latter gentleman gave an earnest address, in which he first spoke to the Christians and then to the unsaved. He made his address more impressive and interesting by the singing of a number of hymns throughout his address.

THE SCOTT ACT.

Mr. J.J. McLAREN, Q.C., was on the platform and was called upon to make an address. His speech was not very lengthy, but it was delivered with a smoothness and eloquence which held the attention of the audience and undoubtedly made its impression. He passed hurriedly over the arguments which the antis would be likely to bring to bear upon the voters of Thursday next, and combatted them all saying they knew they came from the one source, from the one father,—the father of lies. He closed by asking the men present to cast their vote as before God.

Rev. Mr. HUNTER then made a very short address, or talk as he called it, which also had temperance as its theme.

The Evening Meeting

The meeting for men only in the George-st. Church last evening was one of the grandest that has been held during the four weeks in which the evangelists have been laboring in Peterborough. The Church was filled with men, the only ladies present being the members of the choir. It is seldom that such a masculine gathering is witnessed in Peterborough, and Mr. Crossley gave a most powerful discourse, which was listened to with rapt attention by his auditors.

Rev. Mr. Crossley's opening solo "Where is Heaven" was a beautiful piece of composition and was excellently rendered.

THE BLACK VALLEY RAILROAD.

Rev. Mr. HUNTER said he would give them the time table of the railway a good many of them were running on. It was called the Black Valley Railway. The lighting express train left Simpletown at 6 a. m. (this was for the old fellows that drink). Topersville at 7 a. m; Drunkard's Curve at 9; Rowdyville at 10; Quarrelsville at noon (when they went home and quarrelled with their wife). Prisonburgh at 2 p. m; Beggar's town at 3; Deliriumville at 5; Demon's Landing at 9; Blackguardville at 10; Dead River at 11 and arrived at Destruction and Damnation at midnight. Tickets for sale by all bar-keepers in town. A. L. Cohol, Superintendent; T. O. Bacco, Assistant-Superintendent. The evangelist wanted all those who were travelling on this road to get off that train and take the train to glory. He said he felt for the men who were addicted to drink for he knew the consequences from experience in his own home. He then read the evening lesson from the 16th chapter of Luke—the parable of the rich man and Lazarus, and commented thereon.

Rev. Mr. CROSSLEY then sang with great expression the very beautiful solo, "My Mother's Prayer," after which prayer was offered for a number of special requests.

SPIRITUAL MYSTERIES.

Rev. Mr. CROSSLEY said the subject of his address was "Mysteries in the Natural and Spiritual world," and he chose for the basis of his most able, eloquent and lengthy sermon the words:

"And without controversy great is the mystery of Godliness."—1 Timothy, iii; 16.

The rev. gentleman said that the text admitted the mystery in godliness at the very first and he was therefore going to speak of some of these mysteries. He wanted them to let God Almighty know some things they did not. They might just as well do this first as last, as they would have to if ever they wished to be saved. There were many who said with reference to the spiritual world that they would not believe what they could not understand or explain. The rev. gentleman said they could then apply this to the natural word, and who could tell or explain what light or mind or heat or electricity was. There were two theories concerning all of these and there were evidences to show that both theories were wrong, and if men would not believe what they could not understand or explain they would not believe in any of these, though they may be deafened by the cannon's roar, or the prespiration rolled down the backs or gathered in beads upon their brow, or they were twisted as they held the handles of an electric battery. Could they tell how water ran down hill and not up? They might say it was the law of gravitation, but what was gravitation? Some might say gravitation was the law whereby every portion of matter attracts every other portion with a force proportionate to the product of the two masses and inversely proportionate to the square of the distance between them. But who could understand or explain what that force was? He asked who could explain the action of the mind on the muscles. Some would ask what was a spirit. If they would explain what matter was then he would explain all about spirit. What was life? None could answer or explain, nor could they even tell how their finger nails grew. The rev. gentleman said some thought scientists were skeptical, but he said they were not. A few might be, but the leading men in the scientific world were men of Christain thought and experience. How could they deal with the mysteries of the spiritual world? Just as they would in the physical world, as the scientist did by testing. In the spiritual world there were certain mysteries which they could not explain, but they could prove by their own experience. He then proceeded to speak of some of the MYSTERIES OF THE SPIRITUAL WORLD.

The first was "Who and what is the nature of Lord?" The rev. gentleman spoke of those who believed in the Darwinian and evolution theories, but it was easier to believe in the existence of a God, as they had evidences that would lead them to believe that the Lord exists. First there was the evidences in nature around him, which proved that there must have been a great designer; secondly, they had the evidence of universal consciousness, every man in heathen or Christian lands had in him a consciousness that he should pay homage to some supreme being. Thirdly, there was the evidence they received in themselves when they were converted. He wanted them to come and test this and if they did not prove to themselves that there was a God they could become [illegible] out and out. The second mystery he spoke of was "The Incarnation of Jesus Christ." He could not explain this nor did he know a man who could. But they could look at him; he had a moral and physical nature and if they would explain how these combined and made the man then he would explain how the divine and human was combined in God. This again he said they must prove by coming humbly as men and seeking God. The third mystery he dealt with was the atonement of Jesus Christ. The rev. gentleman dwelt at some length on this question, pointing out the presumption of those who attempted to explain by substitution, moral or commercial theories this mystery, when they were told in Revelations that this was one of the things sealed with seven seals in the Lamb's book of life. It was not a theory but a fact, as the Bible said "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son." He told of the conversion of a gentleman in Amherstburg who would not believe in Christ's atonement and then passed on to the fourth mystery, "The regeneration of the heart." Some, he said, were seeking to understand this by their intellectual power, but they must bring their spiritual power to bear to understand or apprehend spiritual truths and he urged them also to prove by coming and seeking the Lord honestly. He here related the conversion of a St. Catharines gentleman, and then came to the fifth mystery, that of another life. He spoke of heaven and hell and said there was an impulse or instinct that told man of an after life. He did not believe that the conceptions they had of heaven or hell were any nearer the truth than the blind boy's conception of the color of blue, who said that the color of blue, he thought, was like a clap of thunder. The evangelist spoke on the hereafter at some length and closed by urging all to think of God and say "I'll prove these mysteries."

Rev. Mr. HUNTER then said they would have the testimony of a few of these men who were well known to the audience.

Mr. WILBUR DALY then testified to having been saved from a drunkard's grave and spoke of the saving power of God.

Mr. HARRY WINCH also told of his conversion at the Baptist church last Sunday morning. He had been travelling for forty years on the road to hell, but now he had taken a stand and was on the road to Heaven.

After earnestly exhorting the unsaved to turn from their sin, Rev. Mr. Hunter asked all those who desired to start in the new way to stand up and quite a number responded to the call.

At the after meeting several more gentlemen gave testimony of the saving power of God, among whom were Messrs Fred Winch, John Craig, Chas. Porter, Harry Kimison, and Wm. Cowie.

NOTES.

Rev. Mr. HUNTER said last evening that several ladies had come all the way from Millbrook and Port Hope and had been refused admission to the church. He said he would not have refused them if they had pleaded with him for he could never could withstand the pleadings of ladies.

There will be three afternoon meetings this week. Tuesday and Thursday they will be in the Charlotte-st. church and on Friday afternoon in the Mark-st. church.

The doors of George-st. church will not be opened to-night until seven o'clock so that there will be no necessity for persons getting to the church at six o'clock.

A lady who did not know that the meeting in the Opera House yesterday was for men only entered the hall and found herself the observed of over a thousand pair of eyes whose owners were horrid men. Needless to say when the lady observed the surrounding circumstances she was seen on the outside.

Another meeting for men only will be held to-morrow night.

HATS!

Hats, gentlemen, Hats!

In the name of People, Hats!

And why, Hats!

The Hat is the badge of respectability, the trade mark of civilization—that is any kind of a decent Hat. And properly, too.

Let us consider this question of Hats.

Had Bonaparte paused on the way to Waterloo to select a new Hat the result might have been different.

Had Christopher Columbus worn a shabby Hat, could he have made the fine impression he did on landing in Amerikay. No much. Not any.

Had Julius Cæsar carried a neat and taking head cover, his untimely decease might have been indefinitely postponed. History is jam full of incidents that point to the necessity of wearing a good Hat.

Men have been crossed in love, fallen off scaffolds, been beaten at the polls, arrested on suspicion, failed in business, and lost the respect of their fellow citizens by wearing a bad Hat.

The moral of all this is, come to us for your Hats. It's a new department with us, and a mighty good one. It's good because its new, and wholly new and good. We do nothing by halves. See our Stock. See what we offer in Style, Material, Shape and Finish. You can take your pick of the Best Goods by the Best Makers. We discount the Town on Hats.

MILLINERY OPENING!

SPRING 1889.

HALL, INNES & CO.

Have pleasure in announcing that their Show Rooms will be fully opened for the season on

Tuesday & Wednesday
2nd & 3rd APRIL,

with a large and full display of Spring Millinery, including Pattern Bonnets and Hats direct from Paris, Ribbons, Flowers, Feathers, Ornaments, Mantles, Dolmans, Jackets, Beaded Visites, Toques, Sombreros, &c.

Our Show Rooms are now in charge of Miss Walker (who for years held one of the best positions in Hamilton) whom we can confidently recommend as in every way thoroughly competent to superintend this large and important branch of our business.

A cordial invitation extended to all to call and inspect our novelties in all departments.

Remember the date, Tuesday and Wednesday, 2nd and 3rd April.

The Talk of the Town

The people are wondering why Elliott & Tierney are giving 18 lbs. bright sugar for $1, and selling teas and other goods so much cheaper than any house in Peterborough. Call at the Palace Grocery and examine the goods, which will convince you. The "Palace" is the place to get best values. Great stock-taking sale now going on.

Attempted Incendiarism.

A villanous attempt was made early Sunday morning to fire the new Harper block on Charlotte-st., and but for the timely discovery of the flames the incendiary's attempt might have been successful. It was about 5.30 yesterday morning when Mr. Hooper noticed the blaze and called Nightwatchman Gordon's attention to it, and the wary patrolmen extinguished the flames, which had been started in a pile of pine slabs which stood against the shed in rear of the block, with a few pails of water.

CAPTURED at last—a large stock of splendid tea. 5lbs. for $1 at M. R. Kidd's. d66

Assuming a Warlike Attitude.

Many other houses are becoming very indignant at the idea of W. J. Morrow controlling the grocery trade of the town and county. But never mind—be cautious—we will prove to all you grocers who are grappling for high prices that the time has arrived when W. J. Morrow will enlighten the public. Doing more of a cash business and a more extensive trade, he is better prepared to sell goods away down. Then again here are a lot of our best Toronto and Montreal houses clamouring for our trade, owing to our buying for cash, and hence the keen competition, thereby buying goods away below other houses. No a call will convince you that we are Peterborough's great Grocery House, 340 George-st.

Stole a Belleville Curler's Flask.

Duncan McIntyre, a young man from Keene, was before the Magistrate this morning charged with the larceny of a flask of whiskey. McIntyre pleaded guilty to the charge. It appears that when the Belleville curlers were playing at Keene last month, McIntyre and another young fellow by the name of Hurlburt went into the rink and stole two flasks of "I.X.L." from the pocket of one of the Belleville curler's overcoat. The young men drank the liquor and did not return the flasks until the next day when McIntyre, who had the better flask of the two, returned his, but Hurlburt kept his and has not returned it yet. The curling club, through Dr. Shaw, laid the charge of larceny against McIntyre. The Magistrate said he did not like to send McIntyre to gaol among felons and have the mark of a convict upon him, and seeing that he had returned the flask, he allowed him to go on his father's recognizance for $200, that the young man would appear for judgment when called upon.

THE SCOTT ACT CAMPAIGN

A MAGNIFICENT MEETING IN THE EVENING.

The Afternoon Meeting Speeches by Rev. Messrs. Pearson, Parker and Huff—Eloquent Addresses by Messrs. J. J. McLaren, Q.C., and F. S. Spence, of Toronto—Councillor Hartley Speaks Out on the Question.

Two meetings were held in the Opera House on Saturday by the supporters of the Scott Act and it is probable that these will be the closing meetings of the campaign as far as the town is concerned. In the afternoon the audience was fair, being principally composed of farmers.

ANTI-LITERATURE.

Rev. Mr. PEARSON, in the absence of Dr Fife, president of the Scott Act Association, occupied the chair and in his opening remarks referred to the unfairness and dishonesty of the opponents of the Act, who at the close of the campaign when they thought statements could not be answered, had flooded the county with an immense amount of anti-literature. The rev. gentleman spoke of the quotations from speeches of Hon. Ed. Blake and Sir John Macdonald which appeared in some of these phamplets, which were intended to show that these gentlemen were opposed to the Scott Act, and pointed out as an attempt to mislead the people by a statement, which followed those of the two gentlemen above named, which was credited to "Mr. Mowat." The antis would like the people to believe that this was Hon. Oliver Mowat when in reality it was only Moses Oates, the weather prophet, and a prominent member of the Licensed Victuallers Association. Hon. Neil Dow was also quoted in the circulars, Mr. Pearson said, as speaking against the Act, but he believed the words had been so twisted as to make Mr. Dow say what he never meant to say. In closing he said that the retaining of the Scott Act would increase the revenue of the town and spoke of an anti-writer who quoted Scripture in one of his letters. The rev. gentleman said this was the vilest blasphemy to quote the Lord in defence of such a traffic.

Rev. J. B. HUFF, Baptist minister of Smith, was the first speaker called upon and he made a short address, in which he spoke in favor of the Act and dealt with the evils of intemperance. He referred to non-enforcement of the Act by the Government and urged all the electors to support it with their votes on Thursday next.

SOME FAVORABLE FIGURES.

Rev. P. CLIFTON PARKER then rose to address the meeting. He said that this was his first opportunity of speaking in favor of the Scott Act in Peterborough, although he had worked for the Act in Norfolk county where he had resided. He referred to the objections made to the ministers of the Gospel speaking on such questions as the Scott Act. Some said they should not say anything on the question that would increase the taxes because they did not pay any taxes themselves. The speaker said he was willing to pay taxes and he believed a minister had a perfect right to have a voice in forming the public sentiment on a question like this. As to whether the Scott Act was a failure or not depended upon what they called success. He admitted that their brightest expectations had not been realized, but he did not think the act had been a failure. He had been in Cobourg a few days ago and had asked for the figures and these showed that under the Crooks Act in 1883 there had been 80 convictions for drunkenness, in 1884 there had been 90 and in 1885 the number had reached 109 Under the three years of the Scott Act the convictions had been, in 1886, 29; 1887, 24; 1888, 14; showing a decrease in crime of 75 per cent. Then he took the thirteen counties that had adopted the Scott Act. In 1884 under the Crooks Act there had been in the thirteen counties a total of 583 convictions for drunkenness, but after the adoption of the Scott Act in 1888 the total convictions had been only 287, a decrease of 296. In Peterborough, the speaker said, there was a slight decrease in the number of convictions for drunkenness, although the showing was not by any means what it should be. He then pointed out that in 1888 the consumption of liquor had been 5¼ gallons per head in Ontario and for the same year in Prince Edward Island where the Scott Act was in force the consumption had been only ¼ a gallon per capita. These figures he thought showed that the Scott Act had not been a failure. Rev. Mr. Parker then dealt with the statement made that the Act caused an increase in the breaches of civil law, but he held that the liquor-sellers had broken the Crooks Act. He then spoke of the financial aspect of the question which was favorable to the continuance of the Act, and in closing urged them to stand firm in the temperance cause and to vote for the Act on Thursday next.

After a collection had been taken up the meeting adjourned.

The Evening Meeting.

At the evening meeting the Opera House was crowded to the doors. Dr. Fife occupied the chair and on the platform were seated Rev. Messrs. Pearson, Parker, Wilson and Storey, and Councillor Hartley. The speakers of the evening, Messrs. F. S. Spence and J. J. McLaren, Q.C., arrived on the 7.50 train on the C.P.R. and came on the platform shortly after the meeting was started.

The meeting opened with the singing of the hymn "Rescue the Perishing" and Rev. A. C. Wilson offered up an earnest prayer.

THE REVIEW'S LETTERS.

Rev. Mr. Pearson then rose to make an explanation in reference to the letter signed "Citizen" which appeared in Saturday evening's REVIEW, which contradicted Mr. Carlisle's letter of Friday. The rev. gentleman said Mr. Carlisle had made the statements upon the information of the Town Clerk, although it was possible that he might have misunderstood that gentleman. Mr. Pearson said he thought the comparison made in "Citizen's" letter was unfair as it compared the convictions of twenty-eight months under the Crooks Act with thirty-five months under the Scott Act.

Rev. P. C. PARKER said that he thought this an unfair comparison also, and stated that the Town Clerk had told him that he thought it would be unfair to take in the year 1883 as in that year when the Missing Link was being built through here that there had been a large number of navvies arrested at that time. The rev. gentleman said that they should have the figures of three years under the Crooks Act and three under the Scott Act and allow the people to draw their own conclusions.

THE FOURTH WARD COUNCILLOR.

The CHAIRMAN then extended an invitation to any of those who had signed the petition asking for the repeal or any opponents of the Act to come upon the platform. He then called upon Councillor Hartley.

Councillor J. J. HARTLEY in opening wished to ask why the Scott Act should be repealed. The question was, were they going to derive any benefit by returning to the license system. He thought not. They would gain nothing financially, and he showed how the Ontario Government by its amendment to the License Act had robbed the town of the license revenue. He asked if they were prepared to spend $5,000 on liquor. What was the matter with the Scott Act? Some said it was not enforced. What had that to do with the Act itself? The hotel keepers never kept the Crooks Act and they didn't say that Act was a fraud. He didn't think they were going to throw up the sponge to the liquor men and say we're beaten, sell all you like. No. They would stand by it until it was enforced. (Cheers.) If the hotel men had observed the Crooks Act it was a question whether the Scott Act would ever have been submitted at all or not. He spoke of the evils of intemperance and the temptations of the bars, and urged all the electors to cast their vote against the repeal on April 4th. In closing he pointed out that if the liquor dealers sold more liquor under the Scott Act, why did they want it repealed, for if they sold more their profits would accordingly increase.

THE TORONTO Q. C.

The CHAIRMAN then introduced Mr. J. J. McLaren, Q. C., who, he said, was the man who had been chosen to go to England to argue the constitutionality of the Scott Act before the Privy Council.

Mr. J. J. MCLAREN then rose and was received with great applause. After a few words expressing his pleasure at addressing such a magnificent audience, he said that it was only fair that those who signed the petition should show that the change from under the Scott Act was going to be an improvement, or that the country would be in a better condition under the Crooks Act than it was at present. The speaker then proceeded to deal with the arguments that were put forward by the opponents of the Act at the time, three years ago, when the Scott Act was adopted. These arguments, he said, had been put forward by two of the chief speakers against the Act, Prof. Goldwin Smith and Mr. Mowat, better known as "Moses Oates," not particularly in this county, but throughout the Province. The first one he referred to was that the effect of the Scott Act would be to drive the beer out and that the stronger drinks would be introduced instead. Their experience, the speaker said, had shown the very reverse to be the case, and he then quoted from the different Government returns to show that there had been a great falling off in the consumption of liquor since the adoption of the Scott Act. He went back four years under the Crooks Act so as to strike an average figure. The returns showed that the quantity of spirits entered for consumption in 1884 had been 2,000,000, in 1885 2,282,000, in 1886 4,412,000 and in 1887 2,364,000 gallons, an average of 3,041,514 gallons. In 1888 under the Scott Act the quantity entered for consumption had been 2,326,000 gallons which was 700,000 gallons less than the average under the Crook's Act. Then the speaker dealt with the cry that was raised that there was more drinking now than under license law and gave as proof the figures, which have been given before, showing that in the Provinces where a prohibiting law was in force the consumption per capita was far less than in the Provinces where the license law prevailed. He then made a comparison of the number of in the counties where the Scott Act was in force. In these counties the total committals under the Crooks Act in 1884 had been 910 and under the Scott Act in 1888 the number was only 360. He then gave the committals in a similar number of counties where a license law had prevailed, which were: in 1884, 4,490; in 1886, 5 498. He further corroborated these statements by the evidence given by Mr. George Gooderham, brewer, of Toronto, under oath in an arbitration suit with the C. P. R., when that gentleman stated that his business was not so profitable now through the bringing into force of the Scott Act in so many counties. Another of Toronto's leading brewers, he said, had repudiated the statement when it had been made only that day, that the brewers sent more beer into Scott Act counties then they did before the Act. He said the fair way to compare the quantity of liquor consumed was to reduce all the liquor to alcohol and he then read from the analist's report for four years before the Scott Act came into force, and the average for these years was 7-10 of a gallon of alcohol per capita, but in the year 1888 the average consumption had only been 6-10 of a gallon per head. He then spoke of the increased drunkenness which always followed the repeal of the Act and instanced the counties of Halton, Dundas, Glengary, Simcoe and Bruce, in all of which counties the Act had been repealed a year ago and now the people were sorry that they had voted it away on account of the increase in drunkenness and crime. He then spoke of the Crooks Act and pointed out how defective it was in comparison with the license laws of other Provinces. He said the people should never consent to go back to the license system until they were offered a better license Act. He closed by referring to the statement that the crime of perjury had been increased. He said that the perjury under the Crooks Act would make a man's hair stand on end. The cause of perjury was not the Scott Act, but whiskey, and they must either prohibit liquor or stop prosecuting, if they would stop perjury. The speaker sat down amidst great applause.

THE ASSOCIATION SECRETARY.

After a collection had been taken up, the chairman introduced the Secretary of the Provincial Association, Mr. F. S. Spence, of Toronto.

Mr. SPENCE has spoken here before and his speech Saturday evening was a good one, containing however, no figures, but comparing in a rather humorous, but at the same time, plain manner, the two laws—the Crooks and Scott Acts. In commencing, he remarked that his work had been made light by the manner in which Mr. McLaren had addressed them and he impressed upon them that the statements which that gentleman had made were facts. He said he believed Peterborough was in favor of temperance and the question as he understood it now was which of two laws was better for the temperance cause—the Crooks Act or the Scott Act. He then proceeded to point out the different aspects of the two Acts from a temperance standpoint. He said sometimes the Scott Act did not do all it was expected to do, but they must remember that there was two sides to the question. The Act was merely the machine and the moral sentiment of the community must be with it as a motive power. Besides this motive power they must have the right men in the Legislature to see that the machine goes in the direction it was intended to. The Scott Act, he held, had stood the test, and if any defects had been apparent it was not the machine that was wrong, but the men who were running it. In dealing with the two Acts he first pointed out that while the Crooks Act was a very complicated one covering some sixty pages, the Scott Act was a simple one covering only a page. The difference between the reading of the the two Acts was that in this town by the Crooks Act twenty-six men could sell liquor and the other 10,974 persons could not sell, but the Scott Act said that the 10,974 persons should not sell or the 26 men either. This was the principle part of the two Acts, and the rest of the fifty pages of the Crooks Act was taken up with provisions put in to stop the twenty-six men from selling too much. Some said that the Crooks Act was a good thing because it would not allow liquor to be sold between Saturday night and Monday morning. They could have that under the Scott Act, and the only difference between the two Acts was that the Scott Act not only stopped the sale of liquor on one day and two nights in the week, but also stopped it for the other six days and five nights. The Crooks Act said liquor should not be sold on election day. Why was this? Because a man wanted a clear head and a steady hand to vote for a member of Parliament, and if it was a good thing for one day in the year it must be good for every day. The difference between the Crooks Act and the Scott Act was that it prohibited the sale on election day and on the other 364 days in the year as well, and if the prohibition was good on election day the Scott Act was 364 times better than the Crooks Act. Speaking of the crime of perjury, he said that it had been told him that there was as much perjury in counties under the Crooks Act. He spoke of the crime of perjury, and then passed on and spoke in a humorous manner of the attempts to regulate the liquor selling, which he said was just as easy to do as to regulate a mad dog. He then impressed upon them the figures which Mr. McLaren had given them in reference to the commitments for drunkenness, and called their attention to the number of homes made happy by the adoption of the Scott Act. In glowing language the speaker closed his address by speaking of our British liberty which some hotel men would say they would lose if they voted for prohibition, and he closed by telling them to drop their ballots to save the boys of the land. He was loudly cheered as he resumed his seat.

The meeting then dispersed.

Cheesemakers Meet.

The fourth annual meeting of the Peterborough Cheesemakers Association was held on Saturday afternoon, President J. W. Moore in the chair. The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:—

PRESIDENT—S. Spence, South Dummer.

SECRETARY-TREASURER—S. R. Payne, Warminster.

Some discussion took place over the matter of legislation respecting the adulteration of milk, the meeting expressing a strong preference for the Ontario Act if it should be decided to be within the competence of the local Legislation. Preparations were also made for the season's work.

A FOOLISH FORGERY.

A Youth Attempts to Cash a Forged Cheque and is Arrested.

On Saturday evening a youth named Victor Milburn, who is not more than eighteen years of age, was arrested in the act of attempting to pass a forged cheque for the amount of $100. Young Milburn is a town boy and whatever led him to attempt such a foolish and ill-conceived scheme to get a little money it is hard to say.

Milburn on Saturday afternoon was into all the leading stores trying to have a cheque for $100 cashed. The cheque was drawn in favor of "W. Snowden or bearer" and bore the signature of "Mr. T. Cavanow." It was not filled out in the usual manner, the amount being filled in in figures—"Pay to W. Snowden or bearer the sum of $100." The signature at a glance would also tell any ordinary business man that the person who signed the cheque was not in the habit of putting his name to many, else he would never have prefixed the "Mr." The young fellow was most brazen in his attempts, for when he offered the cheque to one gentleman he was told that Mr. Cavanagh did not write his name in this way, Milburn said the latter gentleman's son had written it for him, and after this he went to the store of Mr. T. W. Robinson and asked to have the cheque cashed. Mr. Robinson was suspicious and reported the case to the police and ten minutes afterwards Constable McGinty arrested Milburn in Gough Bros. store where he was trying to get money for the cheque.

The prisoner was brought before the Magistrate on Saturday night and was remanded until to-morrow morning.

MORE ALLEGED CROOKEDNESS.

A Young Man Arrested on his way to Detroit.

Another young man by the name of Chas. Foster, who was at one time a captain in the Salvation Army, and who has lately been in the employ of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, has gone wrong. Foster left town on the early train this morning for Detroit, and conveniently forgot to settle with his landlady for several weeks back board. He boarded with Mrs. Sutherland at the corner of Hunter and Aylmer-sts. and as a matter of course Mrs. Sutherland at once made enquiries at the Singer office in reference to her departed boarder. When it was known that Foster was gone and the stories with which he had been deceiving his landlady were told, it was not long before it was discovered that other transactions of the departed young man's were not exactly straight-forward. It is alleged that in one case at all events that Foster made out a bogus bill of sale for a machine so that he might get his commission on it, and it is expected that other crookedness will crop up before the case is settled. The matter was given into Chief Roszel's hands, and that officer telegraphed to St. Thomas to have Foster arrested as the train passed through that city, and a telegram was received this afternoon stating that the man had been arrested and would be held until a constable arrived.

Baptist Mission Circle.

The members of the Baptist Mission Circle will hold their regular meeting in the basement vestry, on Tuesday evening at a quarter to eight. As the evangelistic service that night is for men only, and as this is the annual meeting, at which the election of officers will take place, the ladies of the church are earnestly asked to make a special effort to be present.

Official Figures Wanted.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—A correspondent signing himself Citizen acuses me in Saturday's issue of the REVIEW of making misleading statements in connection with the number of convictions for drunkenness under the Scott Act, as compared with those for the same length of time under the Crooks Act. Now, I certainly understood Mr. Macdonald, our Town Clerk, to say that for the same time under both acts., viz. 35 months, there were two hundred more convictions under Crooks Act, than under Scott Act. If I misunderstood him, will he correct me and I will be pleased to withdraw any statement I have made contrary to facts. Will Mr. Macdonald also give to the ratepayers the number of convictions for drunkenness for 35 months under Crooks Act, from 1st May, 1883 to 1st May, 1886, also 35 months under Scott Act, from 1st May, 1886, to 1st April, 1889? This is a fair request. I am sure our Clerk will grant it. But what's the matter with Citizen that he leaves 1883 altogether out of his count and only gives 28 months under Crooks act as compared with 35 months under Scott Act? Fair play, men, fair play is all we ask. Don't try to mislead by such a bare faced, lobsided comparison as that. The Town Clerk can set us all right and I hope he will over his own signature. He may say, "I don't think it will be a fair count, as there were railway operations going on in this vicinity, also Trent Valley canal work being done north of us during those 35 months under Crooks Act, which resulted in a greater number of arrests for drunkenness than under ordinary circumstances." Now, let this be remembered, that we have had railway operations going on since Scott Act came in force to no small degree. The Trent Valley Canal work at Burleigh was not completed by any means before Scott Act came in force. And further, who will deny that the past three years has been the busiest three years of any in the town's history? Many outside men had to be called in to supply the demand in almost all the trades. The transient population has been about as great the last three years as those previous. Further, few will deny that the extra boom in drunks the last year—in order to throw into disrepute local prohibition—will more than counterbalance any extra number from whatever cause recorded in 1883. The worst thing Citizen can say about Ashburnham's clean sheet is that three men, residents of that village, were arrested on this side the river for being drunk. Where did they get drunk? Probabilities say they struck the boom this side; they were effected by the present big push in that line on this side the river.

Fellow townsmen, this whole county may well feel proud of Ashburnham's record. I question whether there is another village of the same population under law on this western hemisphere that has the same showing. Until we hear of another similar clean sheet we award the banner to Ashburnham.

Yours,
JOHN CARLISLE.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Kid Gloves! Kid Gloves!

When in Montreal last month we cleared out from a wholesale house in liquidation 19 dozen MOUSQUETAIRE KID GLOVES their price being $12.00 per dozen. These goods we now offer at the low price of 50 cents a pair. (Every pair guaranteed or money refunded.) We also show a Tan Stitched Back GLOVE at 50 cents a pair.

Dress Ornaments.

We have placed on one of our counters the largest assortment of these goods ever shown in town, bought from the same house as our Kid Gloves. The range in price from $1.00 to $1.50. Our price only 50 cents. These goods have only to be shown to be picked up at first sight.

Our stock is now nearly complete in every department. A visit will well repay you. No trouble to show goods.

CHINA HALL

CHINA
AND QUEENS W

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate—cracked at that. Consider $24,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of Sèvres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $2,400 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $2,500 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

BEAUTIFUL JIM.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER

"By the bye, where is young Tommy?" asked Jim, suddenly becoming aware that Tommy was not in the room.

"Gone to bed, or in his room. Seedy, I fancy," returned the doctor, who sat on his left. "The young duffer's not up to much; he's just about as weak as a cat. In fact, there's no stamina at all about him, and all this business has knocked him over completely."

"H'm—there's no reason why it should particularly," remarked Jim.

"No; but it has, and that's very certain," said the doctor decidedly.

Suddenly it occurred to him that it was just possible that young Tommy might have been down to see his charmer at the Duck's Tail; that that young lady, feeling herself released from silence by poor dear old Owen's death, might have disclosed to him the episode of the afternoon, when Owen had coolly taken possession of his ring. Further, that Tommy might all this time be in a mortal funk lest his well known ring should be found among poor Owen's belongings, and some very unpleasant inquiries be set afloat in consequence.

"I should think the sight of that beauty in the witness box today must have cured him completely," Jim thought, with a certain amount of compassion for the lad's foolishness. "Well, I must go up as soon as I can get off and talk to him like a father; and then I'll set his mind at rest about his precious ring."

Accordingly, as soon as he could get free of the colonel's ponderous efforts to show his pleasure at his favorite's freedom, Beautiful Jim betook himself upstairs, his eyes turning with a look which was in itself a reverence to the door before which two sentries were stationed, and with a rap upon the panel of Tommy's door opened it without further ceremony and walked in.

The lad was sitting in an easy chair, his pipe in his mouth, his elbows resting on his knees, staring into the fire. He looked up listlessly enough at Jim's entrance, but when he saw who his visitor was, sprung up into an attitude of haughty resentment.

"To what," he asked, "do I owe the honor of this visit?"

CHAPTER XVIII.

"YOU WON'T TELL HIM?"

"To what," asked Tommy Earle, with icy formality and politeness, "do I owe the honor of this visit?" For the space of quite a minute Beautiful Jim stood still and stared blankly at him, as if he had not understood the meaning of his words. At last, however, he pulled himself together, and spoke. "What on earth do you mean?" he asked.

"Exactly what I say," returned Tommy Earle, curtly.

Most men would have grown furious under such an attack from a lad of Tommy's years and regimental standing; but Beautiful Jim, just freed from the shadow of a violent and ignominious death, with the weight of his best friend's cruel murder still pressing upon him, did not lose his temper in the least—on the contrary, he became calm and still.

"Tommy," he began; when Tommy interrupted him passionately.

"Earle, if you please, sir," he cried.

"Mister Earle," said Jim, with a half smile, and strong emphasis on the word, "tell me plainly what you mean by this extraordinary behavior."

"The inference is obvious," said Tommy coldly.

"Yes," in an inquiring tone—then, finding that the lad did not speak, went on—"and I am to infer—what?" but even as the question passed his lips the pale light broke in upon him, and he grasped Tommy by the arm with a grip that made him wince and shrink.

"My God, do you mean to say that you believe I murdered him?" he cried.

Tommy turned away his head and tried to force his arm from the grip of the other's strong fingers.

"Answer me!" thundered Jim.

"Let go my arm and go out of my room, if you please, Mr. Beresford," returned the lad.

But Jim stood still and stared straight into the lad's handsome eyes, as if he would force out of them the plain words which apparently Tommy's tongue refused to speak; and as they stood so an awful thought flashed into Beautiful Jim's bewildered mind—a confused recollection of something gone by, something like a dream, and yet, oh! what was it? What was it? A memory crowded over by the mist of intense drowsiness; and yet, if he could only grasp it, a memory that had something so utterly real and vivid about it that it would show the whole truth to the light at once. But what was it?

Ay, what was it? and what was there in young Earle's eyes which gave him the clew he sought? I know not, and assuredly Beautiful Jim, to the end of his days, would never know it either; but during those terrible moments of doubt and anguish the mists were suddenly lifted off his mind, and he remembered—remembered the dream he had had that night, a dream of Owen, his dear old friend, being in anger with him, and the momentous words, "Consider yourself under close arrest. Go to your room at once and I will send for your sword." In an instant everything was perfectly clear to him, and he gripped young Tommy's arms closer and faster than ever.

"You—young—hound!" he exclaimed, between his set teeth, "I suppose you mean to come your 'last of the Earles' rot over me in this instance. The last of the Earles, and a pretty ending for the Earles—to be snuffed out by the hangman's rope."

Young Tommy's white face turned to a sickly yellow, and Jim felt a tremor run through him.

"What do you mean, sir?" he cried, trying to pass it off with a high hand and succeeding very badly.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Big Cock Fight Reported—A Chapter of Accidents.

TORONTO, April 1.—A cock fight of big proportions in which many birds and many cattle men were participants is said to have taken place last Wednesday in the south-eastern part of the city, and in a place where two or three fights had been stopped before.

A case of poisoning that just escaped a fatal termination occurred on Friday. Alice, the 3-year-old daughter of Harold Winnifrith, 726 Ontario-street, on returning home from school at noon, complained of being sick. Her mother by mistake gave her a teaspoonful of carbolic acid. The mistake was discovered about ten minutes afterwards, and Drs. Atherton and Oldright were summoned. They administered powerful emetics, and now the child is rapidly recovering.

Mounted Policeman William Ellis sustained a severe abrasion of the bones of the left ankle yesterday afternoon, caused by a fall from his horse in College-avenue.

Constable Thomas Bloodworth also had a fall yesterday in Adelaide-street. His right leg was sprained at the ankle. Packed snow in the horse's hoofs was the cause of both accidents.

Fred Pickles of 83 D'Arcy-street was severely kicked in the forehead by a horse while passing Grand's stables in Adelaide-street about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. He was badly injured and he was insensible when picked up. At latest reports the man was in a critical condition. He had been married but three or four days.

The regular ferry services between the city and the Island opened on Saturday and a service will be kept up daily till the close of the season.

Detective D. S. Gaster, attached to Police Headquarters, New Orleans, arrived in the city yesterday to take Boodler Lee back with him to that city for trial. Lee until Saturday showed a disposition to go back, but on Saturday Roland Gideon Israel Barnett of Central Bank fame, had him almost persuaded to fight the matter out here. In fact Lawyer Reaf was hired to do the law business, and called at Headquarters and asked for $132 of the boodle found on his chest, which was to have been used in Lee's defence. Sergeant Reburn politely refused, stating that it was stolen money and would not pass out of his hands until claimed by the rightful owners. Yesterday Detective Gaster saw Lee in jail and succeeded in persuading him to hold to his first resolution.

Forger Hardie Must go Back.

HALIFAX, N. S., March 30.—A decision on the legality of the second arrest of the New York forger Hardie was handed down by Judge Townsend to-day dismissing the application for his release.

Pool Rooms Raided.

LONG ISLAND CITY, March 30.—The police assisted by Comstock's men raided Kearney's pool rooms at Blissville this afternoon. Over 160 persons were arrested.

Two Oklahoma Boomers the Less.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kas., March 31.—Three Oklahoma boomers fought for the possession of a claim near Guthrie Thursday and two were fatally shot.

Dynamite Outrage at Sydenham.

SYDENHAM, March 30.—This morning about 1 o'clock the Methodist parsonage occupied by Rev. R. Stilwell was shattered by dynamite, which it is supposed was placed on the floor of the veranda. One door was blown off, the glass in the windows broken and the house otherwise damaged. None of the occupants were hurt. There is no clue to the perpetrators.

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

WE ONLY LAUGH AT THEM!

What unlimited gall for other houses to dare to compete with us. Why we have secured the trade of Town and Country, also the confidence of the people, and must and will at all times sell Goods cheaper than any house. Merchants say our expenses are so light we can sell Goods cheaper, but we say ours are large and our business massive, hence our advantage.

Look at our Tea Sales and prices, other houses try to compete in price, not quality.

Look at our prices of Sugars, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our prices of Fruits, other houses try to compete in price, not in quality.

Look at our extensive Country Trade, our Town Trade and surrounding Village Trade, and in but few words, we can dare other houses to compete.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA
BREAKFAST.
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

TURNBULL'S COLUMN

Whatever the weather has been outside, it was the springiest of spring time in our store on Wednesday and Thursday last, when all the New Millinery and Millinery belongings were opened out of their close fitting boxes. For the benefit of those who could not get in on those days we will keep the display up all the first week of April. Among the leading changes noticeable in the trimming this season is Lace Ends and Scarfs and Long Veils drawn in with baby ribbon are the Leading Trimmings. The old fashion hop that used to climb up the pole on the back door is now found falling over the Black Lace Hats. Having struck a cheap line of Flowers (German make), the Germans copy the French designs and give us the goods cheaper. We have a bouquet for everybody, bunches of roses in all colors for 35c. each. Our Stock of Children's Trimmed Hats is unusually attractive. Sailer Hats in endless variety, we have not room to give them a front show. We were disappointed at not being able to show with the millinery, the new Jet Capes, Silk Visettes and Trimmed Dolmans, but there is time enough yet and we expect them in on the first freight train. A fine assortment of Cloths in the order department. All hands busy as bees in the work rooms up-stairs.

The Dress Goods Department is as lively as ever. A new line of Vigors and Cloth in 8 shades, 44 inches wide at 60c., came in this week. A glance at them will tell you they are serviceable. With them came a new line of German Dress Cloth, we have shown nothing similar before, is just what any lady would fancy for a Genteel Dress. Will show another new make next week. Miss Bre[illegible] is always pleased to help you with her advice as to length of dress, pattern, style of making and trimming, whether you wish to have it made by her or not.

Kid Gloves, fresh from the hands of the maker in Austria at 75c. and $1.00 a pair. This line we had in stock before, but the quantity was small and we only had a pair for a lady here and there.

Corsets. Spring brings changes and this one has brought one of the nicest makes we have ever shown. All the best makes from the leading manufacturers coming in and going out again. Large sizes for stout ladies always in stock.

PRIVATE MEMBERS' DAY!

THE COMMONS' NOTICE PAPER CLEARED OF MANY MOTIONS.

The Resolution Attacking the Seat of Dr. Robertson of P. E. I. Dropped—Tilt Over the Intercolonial Railway.

OTTAWA, April 1.—This was private members' day in the Commons, and little business of general interest was transacted. The notice paper was cleared of a good number of uninteresting motions, all upon which there was to be no speaking being cleared off.

Mr. Taylor's resolution respecting Dr. Robertson, one of the Prince Edward Island members who was supposed to have violated the Independence of Parliament Act by accepting payment of public moneys of Canada for medical services rendered certain sick mariners, was dropped. The resolution asked a reference of the matter to the Committee on Privileges and Elections to decide whether or not Dr. Robertson had forfeited his seat.

Mr. Holton's resolution declaring the expediency of amending the Customs Act so as to relieve honest importers from danger of oppression, and prohibiting participation of Customs officers in the proceeds of fines or forfeitures, was also dropped. It is understood that he will bring up the subject in Committee of Supply on the customs votes.

In the Senate to-day Senator Botsford moved for returns respecting Intercolonial Railway management and expenditure, and intimated to the leader of the Government that he might here find a better field in which to practice economy than that in which the special committee on the expenditure of the Senate and Commons were about to operate.

In reply Senator Abbott, assenting to the motion, said if he were to devote himself to discovering how the Intercolonial Railway might be made to pay he thought he might hit upon a plan that would not be altogether agreeable to Senator Botsford and others from his section.

FIRES OF A DAY.

Iron Works at Youngstown, O., Destroyed—300 Men Thrown Out of Work.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 1.—This evening fire broke out in the extensive Glencoe Iron Works of Arms, Bell & Co., and by reason of the greasy machinery spread through the building so rapidly that in half an hour the entire plant was in ruins. The flames then communicated to the iron works of Brown, Bonnell & Co., destroying a warehouse and an engine house. The loss to Arms, Bell & Co. is $80,000. The fire throws 300 men out of employment. Brown, Bonnell & Co. lose $10,000, covered by insurance.

Broke Through a Burning Bridge.

WHEELING, W. Va., April 1.—As freight train No. 88 on the Baltimore and Ohio line reached the bridge over Charles Creek, 30 miles east of here, to-day Engineer Kusch noticed the bridge was burning. It was too late to check the train and his fireman with one brakeman saved themselves by jumping. The next instant the locomotive broke through the bridge, which was weakened by the fire, and followed by 14 cars fell into the creek bed, where the burning timbers from the bridge set fire to the cars and they were burned. The caboose did not leave the track and all the crew escaped. Two unknown tramps stealing a ride on the train went down with the wreck and were burned. The fire is supposed to have been caused by falling cinders.

A Blaze at Brantford.

BRANTFORD, April 1.—Fire in the residence of J. Cockshutt at 6 o'clock this morning, caused by a spark coming through a stovepipe hole in the chimney, caused a loss on the building of $1000, covered by insurance in the Phœnix; loss on furniture, etc., $1500, no insurance.

A Farmhouse Destroyed.

BELLEVILLE, April 1.—Mr. L. Reid's farm house in the 4th concession of Thurlow was destroyed by fire on Saturday night with the greater part of its contents. No insurance.

A Midnight Blaze.

COLBORNE, April 1.—At about midnight a fire was discovered in the brick store owned by Wm. Coxall. It threatens to destroy Crandell's store and the Great Northwestern Telegraph office.

A Friend of Freedom and Humanity.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—In the Senate today Mr. Stewart offered the following resolution, which was laid over till to-morrow: "Resolved that the Senate has learned with profound sorrow of the death of John Bright, and remembering his constant and unwavering friendship for the United States desires to join with the Parliament of his own country in paying a grateful tribute to one who during his long public life was conspicuous in his devotion to the cause of freedom and humanity."

A Religious Crank's Crime.

JACKSON, Mo., April 1.—Monroe Lasater of Bollinger County recently became a religious lunatic, claiming to have received from God the command to preach but first to offer his fourteen-months'-old child as a sacrifice. He made his wife strangle the infant, claiming that the Almighty had promised to resurrect the child on the third day. Lasater and his wife have been jailed. When he was arrested he had been carrying the dead infant in his arms for two days.

Business Disasters to April 1.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The failures for the first quarter of 1889 as reported by Dun, Wiman & Co.'s Mercantile Agency number 3[illegible] as against 2948 for the corresponding three months of 1888. The liabilities for the first quarter of 1889 are $42,-[illegible]00 as against $38,834,000 for the first quarter of 1888. The failures in Canada numbered 5[illegible] for the first quarter of 1889 with liabilities of $[illegible], while those in the first quarter of 1888 were [illegible] in number with liabilities of $[illegible].

MR. STANLEY'S BUSY PEN.

A LETTER FROM THE EXPLORER RECEIVED AT EDINBURGH.

M. Bouchez Displaced as Public Prosecutor Because of His Sympathy With Boulanger—Russia Bullying Rumania.

LONDON, April 1.—A letter from Henry M. Stanley has reached a friend of the explorer in Edinburgh. The letter is dated Smupturi, Sept. 4, 1888, and says he is well and in good spirits. He met Emin Pasha on the shores of the Albert Nyanza. They were together for 26 days. When Stanley left Emin the latter was enjoying good health.

Sir Francis De Winton, president of the Emin Bey Relief Committee, says the letters will make five newspaper columns, that it will not be published before to-morrow and that the Government is ignorant of its contents.

Crofter Families for the Northwest.

LONDON, April 1.—A party of crofters, consisting of nearly fifty families, leave Stornoway to-day and embark at Glasgow on Wednesday for Wolseley, in the Northwest, under the Government emigration scheme. This will be the only party this season. Arrangements have been carefully made. The emigrants will be met at Halifax and Rimouski and looked after throughout the journey. It is believed the party will start in the Northwest with much better prospects than last year's settlers.

Lord George's Proposals Approved.

LONDON, April 1.—The Committee of the House of Commons, by a vote of 231 to 75, to-night approved the proposals recently submitted by Lord George Hamilton, First Lord of the Admiralty, for increasing the strength of the navy.

For John Bright's Seat.

LONDON, April 1.—An exciting contest is expected in the Central division of Birmingham. The Liberals have selected a candidate. The Conservatives will try to induce Lord Randolph Churchill to stand for the seat.

The Curate of Luggacurran Summoned.

DUBLIN, April 1.—Rev. John Mahar, curate at Luggacurran, has been served with three summonses for offences under the Crimes Act.

The Simplon Tunnel.

GENEVA, April 1.—It is stated that a British Syndicate with a capital of 90,000,000 francs has offered to buy the concession for the building of the Simplon tunnel.

Boulanger's Friend Displaced.

PARIS, April 1.—M. Beaurepaire, Avocat-General, has been appointed Procureur-General, displacing M. Bouchez.

Exodus of Russians from Zurich.

ZURICH, April 1.—There has been a noticeable exodus of Russian students from Zurich since the discovery was made that bombs were being secretly manufactured here. The present whereabouts of the students who have gone is not known.

Russia and Roumania.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 1.—M. Hitrovo, Russian minister at Bucharest, has been instructed to demand explanations from the Roumanian Government concerning the expulsion of Russians from Roumania and the general anti Russian procedure of the Roumanian Cabinet.

Three Millions Asked for Defences.

BUCHAREST, April 1.—The Minister of War has asked the Chamber of Deputies for an appropriation of $3,000,000 with which to continue works on the fortifications around the city.

The Danish Budget Dispute.

COPENHAGEN, April 1.—In consequence of the dispute over the Budget the King will empower the Government to levy existing taxes and to authorize all expenditures necessary for the administration of public affairs.

Suicide of Countess Radetzky.

VIENNA, April 21.—Countess Josephine Radetzky committed suicide to-day with a revolver.

The Chancellor's Birthday Gift.

BERLIN, April 1.—Emperor William today gave Prince Bismarck as a birthday present an enormous hound to take the place of the Chancellor's famous Reichshund, who died some time ago.

To Replace the Wrecked Warships.

BERLIN, April 1.—The cruiser Sperber and the corvette Alexandrine will depart for Samoa to replace the German warships wrecked at Apia.

Sympathy from Gibraltar.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—A tribute from the English naval officers was contained in the following cablegram received by Secretary Tracy when he returned to Washington this morning:

GIBRALTAR, March 31.

To the Secretary of the Navy, Washington:

The officers of the English Channel fleet sympathize with the American Navy on the terrible loss of life from wrecks at Samoa.

To this message the following reply was sent:

WASHINGTON, April 1.

Admiral Commanding Her Majesty's Channel Fleet, Gibraltar:

Accept for yourself and the officers of your command my grateful acknowledgment on behalf of the United States Navy for your message of sympathy and good will occasioned by the recent disaster at Samoa.

TRACY, Secretary of the Navy.

Arrests Will Follow This Conspiracy.

NEW HAVEN, Ct., April 2.—An attempt was to have been made here yesterday afternoon to railroad a sane woman to an insane asylum, but happily it was thwarted. She was the wife of Edward Ludington. About a week ago she was taken ill and pronounced insane. Preparations were made to remove her to an asylum yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Munson, a nurse attending Mrs. Ludington, became suspicious because of the nature of the medicines given the patient, and notified the woman's parents, who immediately removed her to their home. Several of the best physicians of the city were called in to determine Mrs. Ludington's sanity, and they unanimously agreed that she was only suffering from a hard cold. An investigation is under way, and arrests will follow.

WINNIPEG'S NEW BOOM.

Increase in Customs Receipts—A $10,000 Libel Suit.

WINNIPEG, April 1.—The customs returns for March are very favorable. The duty collected is $44,515, against $26,642 the previous March. Inland revenue returns show receipts to be $20,122. The withdrawals are about $14,000 over deposits in the savings bank, the money being used for investments in property.

Seeding operations are progressing favorably throughout the whole country. The area seeded is much larger than last year.

A servant girls' excursion to Manitoba from Ontario is being arranged for.

The Manitoba and Northern Pacific Railway company will build a [illegible] hotel in Winnipeg next summer.

A libel suit for $10,000 is being entered against The Regina Leader by Brereton of Lethbridge.

The roller rink craze is beginning again here.

Prof. Ernest, who eloped with a married woman recently, is in town again, but will probably be warned to leave

TORONTO TOPICS.

City Postal Improvements—Parkdale Aldermen Take Their Seats.

TORONTO, April 2.—The new method of collecting and delivering letters in the suburbs of Toronto went into force yesterday. At Parkdale five carriers left that office at 8 a.m. sharp, with letters for their several beats, letters thus reaching their destination an hour sooner than heretofore, besides there being an extra afternoon delivery. The same at Yorkville, and in the district of which the Spadina-avenue branch office is the centre. From all parts of the city three collections of letters were received at the general post office before 4 p.m., and were delivered all over the city. The fourth collection was distributed by the letter-carriers at 4.30 p.m. in the central section of the city, lying between Simcoe and Jarvis-streets, and the Bay and the north side of Queen-street. A letter written at 10 a.m. and posted at the corner of King and Yonge-streets was delivered in Parkdale before noon, and the answer reached the house in Colborne-street to which it was addressed at 4.45 p.m. Such a system of inter-communication will be an immense convenience to the people of Toronto. The postmaster will also be enabled now to put up street letter boxes wherever a reasonable request is made for them, and where they will be in the line of collection. An immense stride has been made towards attaining the rapid interchange of letters that characterizes the work done in the largest cities in Europe and the States, and the additional expense incurred is estimated at something less than $200 per annum, or it may perhaps work out to be less costly than the old system.

Lee West, the Louisiana boodler, held here on the charge of bringing stolen money into Canada, appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning. He pleaded not guilty to the charge, elected to be tried by a jury and was defended by Mr. Reaf. The Crown asked for a week's remand in order to bring witnesses from New Orleans, which was granted. The real secret of West's being in trouble is politics. For some seven or eight years he had been a confidential clerk in the grocery store of Feeheney & Co., New Orleans, and is respectably connected in the South. He is an active Democratic politician, controls a number of Democratic votes, and at the late Presidential election he bet heavily on Cleveland. He got "into the soup" over the result and to pay his bets embezzled the money of the firm he worked for. He says that there will be plenty of Southern boodlers in Canada shortly, or just as the new administration reforms the Civil Service by weeding out Democratic office holders. The detective from New Orleans, now in the city, will remain here until West's fate is decided.

At the meeting of the City Council last night the Aldermen for St. Alban's Ward (Parkdale) took their seats for the first time.

The inland revenue collections last month were $87,635, an increase of $9182 over March, 1888. The customs returns for March were $412,679, an increase of $75,608 over the same month last year.

There is generally some little fun on 'Change, but yesterday "the crowd" was gulled nicely by Mr. George A. Chapman, who succeeded in getting in an original "April-fool" joke. During "call," Mr. Chapman handed the caller a sample bag, and offered to sell one car Manitoba wheat by sample. Amongst others, Mr. James Carruthers put in his hand, and bid a dollar. Others took out some handfuls to see the grade, and were chagrined to find the "grain" was nothing more than a mixture of wheat, oats, barley and coaldust.

Free speech in Queen's Park was discussed in a lively way at the City Council last night. The Salvation Army, Bible Christians, Temperance Reformation Society, the Secular Society and the Agnes-street Methodists each sent a band of representatives, who threw themselves on the devoted aldermen to cause them to reverse the decision of the Executive Committee prohibiting Sunday discussion in the city parks. The objectionable clause was thrown out by a large majority.

James Douglas, a cheeky youngster, was given a year in the Central yesterday morning for breaking into Hey's liquor store and Symon's provision house, on Yonge-street.

The movement to organize for the purpose of testing the constitutionality of the Jesuits' Estates Act is gaining ground in the city. The Citizens' Committee, of which Dr. Caven is president, met again yesterday morning and reported that the progress of the agitation was most encouraging.

"Prison Labor" was the subject matter of discussion by the Ministerial Association at its regular fortnightly meeting yesterday afternoon. The Montreal Association sent a letter of thanks for the support given to the movement against the disallowance of the Jesuit Act. Mr. Ray, a gentleman from Scotland, who is about to commence work here with a view to securing a large membership for the Evangelical Alliance, was introduced.

Joseph Dennis, of Toronto, an employe of the Bell Telephone Company, fell from a pole at Uxbridge and sustained serious injuries, his spine being hurt.

ALLEGED ABDUCTION.

A Girl Carried Away by Two Young Men, One Said to be Her Brother.

HAMILTON, April 1.—On Saturday evening two young men drove to the village of Oakville and put up at the Queen's Hotel. They remained there over night and all Sunday morning. Sunday afternoon they went to the house of a Mrs. Swan, just outside the village, and demanded a young girl, Lizzie Muntz, a former inmate of the Girls' Home in this city, but who was adopted by Mrs. Swan in June last. One of the young men said he was a brother of the girl and that he was going to take her away. It is alleged that, when Mrs. Swan refused to give the girl to them, they knocked her down and, getting the girl into the street, picked her up, put her in their covered buggy and drove off by way of the lake road towards Hamilton. The girl is 14 years old, and is said to have a comfortable home in Oakville. The police of this city were notified of the affair by telephone in the evening, some hours afterwards.

Woodstock Jottings.

WOODSTOCK, April 1.—A magnificent new school in Broadway-avenue was opened here to-day with an attendance of about 150 pupils.

Inspector McKay on Saturday raided the premises of Wm. Service and seized a keg of beer. An information was immediately lodged, but during the night the bird took its flight and has not since been heard of.

Messrs. Hunter and Crossley to-night opened a series of revival meetings in the Methodist Church.

About fifty of the Ingersoll Oddfellows paid a fraternal visit to their brethren here to-night. They were royally entertained to a concert and supper.

Co-Education at Columbia.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The trustees of Columbia College to-day decided to establish a sister college for women. Hitherto the young women who have attended Columbia have had limited privileges and were not given degrees.

Death of an Inventor.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., April 1.—H. F. Gaskill, vice-president of the Holly Manufacturing Company, inventor of the Gaskill [illegible] engine and member of the American [illegible] of Mechanical Engineers, died here this evening, aged 44.

DEATH OF HON. J. H. POPE.

THE MINISTER OF RAILWAYS SUCCUMBS TO HIS LONG ILLNESS.

Sir John Macdonald Announces the Decease of His Colleague to the House—The Premier Deeply Affected.

OTTAWA, April 1.—Hon. John Henry Pope, Minister of Railways and Canals, died about 5 o'clock this afternoon. His death had been hourly expected, hope for other than a fatal termination of his long illness having been abandoned. The news was at once sent Sir John Macdonald at the House of Commons. The Premier was visibly affected as he read the brief contents of the note handed him by the page, and it was apparent to all that some grief had befallen him. Sir John at once crossed the House and communicated the news to Hon. Wilfrid Laurier. He was retiring to his seat when, noticing the frail, trembling form of Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, he considerately stopped to inform the ex-Premier also.

The public intimation was not made to the House for about half an hour, Mr. Eisenhauer of Nova Scotia having the floor and speaking upon a local grievance. All unconscious he proceeded at tedious length, and after he had concluded he was answered in brief by Hon. Charles Tupper.

Then Sir John Macdonald rose, the picture of grief, and communicated the fact in trembling tones. "It is my melancholy duty," he said, "to announce the decease of the Honorable John Henry Pope, my friend and colleague. Though not unexpected the blow is so severe, now that it has fallen, that I am not able to say more at present. As the members on both sides are anxious to get through with the business of the session I will move the adjournment of the House now instead of to-morrow."

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier seconded the motion in a few simple words. The death not being unexpected the grief was not so harrowing, he said, as in the case of a young life unexpectedly cut short. All would agree, he thought, that it was no ordinary or common life which had just been terminated. As the members would have another opportunity of paying a tribute to the worth of the deceased he would say no more at present.

Hon. Peter Mitchell also spoke briefly. He declared that in passing out of the Cabinet Hon. Mr. Pope had left not a man in it superior to himself in a certain line.

The House adjourned at 5.45 until 3 o'clock to-morrow.

About five or six weeks ago the attendant physicians gave up all hope of Mr. Pope's recovery. Dr. Howard of Montreal was called in for consultation and he too considered the case almost hopeless. Since then Dr. Howard himself has met a very sudden death. Dr. Osler, formerly of Montreal but now of Philadelphia, who had come to attend Dr. Howard's funeral, was summoned to Ottawa to consult with Drs. Wright and Powell, the physicians in attendance on Mr. Pope. When he arrived he found that the passage conveying the bile from the stomach to the liver was stopped and that the cause of obstruction could not be removed.

Yesterday afternoon the patient took a severe chill and thereafter failed rapidly. The near approach of death becoming a certainty, his family gathered round to bid a last adieu, there being present his wife, his daughter, Mrs. W. B. Ives, his son-in-law, Mr. Ives, and his son, Rufus Pope.

Sir John Macdonald spent a couple of hours with him to-day and the two old friends had quite an effecting parting.

Mr. Pope passed quietly away shortly after 5 o'clock, being half unconscious at the last. He had been confined to his room for about six weeks, though the illness to which he has succumbed has been for years gaining the mastery over him. He has borne himself throughout with great fortitude, making light of all his sufferings.

The interment will take place at Cookshire, Que., the deceased's family residence. The cortege will leave by special Canadian Pacific Railway train to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the burial will be on Wednesday afternoon. At Ottawa the service will be read by Rev. H. Pollard of St. John's Episcopal Church.

AN ACTIVE LIFE.

Brief Sketch of the Dead Minister's Public Career.

[Hon. John Henry Pope, Minister of Railways and Canals for the Dominion of Canada, M.P. for Compton, was born in 1824, and received his educational training in the High School at Compton, P. Q. The earlier period of his life was directed to agricultural pursuits. Mr. Pope was fond of military life and took a lively interest in the volunteer movement. He commanded the Cookshire Volunteer Cavalry for many years, and retired in 1866, retaining his rank as major. He was president of the Intercolonial Railway Company of Maine, and also of the Compton Colonization Society. He took a deep interest in education, and for many years has been a trustee of St. Francis College, Richmond, P. Q. He was also a director of the Eastern Townships Bank. In 1854, at the general election of that year, Mr. Pope offered himself as a candidate for the Legislative Assembly of Canada for Compton, and was defeated; but in 1857 he succeeded in carrying his election and sat in this Legislature until the union of the provinces under confederation. He was then elected a member of the House of Commons by acclamation, and had been returned ever since by his old friends each time he appealed for their suffrages. On Oct. 25, 1871, Hon. Mr. Pope was sworn in a member of the Privy Council and made Minister of Agriculture, and this office he held until the defeat of the Macdonald ministry on the Pacific scandal question in November, 1873, when he retired with his leader. On the return of his party to power, on the defeat of the Mackenzie Administration, he was, on Oct. 17, 1878, reinstated into the old office of Minister of Agriculture. On Sept. 25, 1885, he was made Minister of Railways and Canals. During the summer of 1880 Hon. Mr. Pope, in company with Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir Charles Tupper, visited England and took an active part in the negotiations which led to the Pacific railway contract, subsequently ratified by Parliament. He was a Liberal-Conservative in politics. Hon. Mr. Pope was not given to debate, but whatever he had to say, in or out of Parliament, he said with a terse vigor and conciseness of language that made a mockery of ornate phrases. He had the disposition to work, an intelligent appreciation of the wants of the country, and a well-studied Parliamentary experience of nearly half an average lifetime.]

LABOR NOTES.

The Strike in the Coke Region Fails to Materialize.

PITTSBURG, April 1.—The strike or trouble over a reduction of wages in the coke region predicted for to-day failed to materialize. The Frick Company has reduced wages as per the provisions of the sliding scale which it has with its men, but the other leading operators have not made any reduction.

St. Louis Carpenters on Strike.

ST. LOUIS, April 1.—About 1200 of the 2000 carpenters in this city struck work to-day. They demanded an 8-hour day and 40 cents per hour. The bosses generally conceded the 8-hour day, but were divided about the wages, many being unwilling to give more than 30 cents. In addition the men have been much agitated because the bosses ignored the Brotherhood of Carpenters. The say they are determined to have recognition as an organization.

Denver Painters on Strike.

DENVER, April 1.—Over 200 painters struck this morning for a reduction in hours from 9 to 8 and $2.75 per day as heretofore received. The employing firms refused the demands and have telegraphed east for men.

Started with Reduced Wages.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., April 1.—All the mills of the Bethlehem Iron Company started today with a full force. Puddlers' wages are reduced from $3.50 to $3.45 a ton.

Trying to Bribe a Councilman.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 2.—Richard Sandrets, secretary of the board of school controllers of Allegheny City, and William Hadfield, a prominent livery man of the same city, were arrested yesterday on a charge of attempting to bribe J. C. [illegible], a councilman, to vote for Thomas G. [illegible] for chairman of school councils. The [illegible] has created a sensation in Allegheny City and is the general topic of discussion.

TUESDAY, APRIL 2, 1889.

THE LIGHT FANTASTIC,

THE TRIPPING TOE, IS CONDEMNED AND WILL HAVE TO GO.

Messrs. Crossley and Hunter Discuss Dancing Parties and Condemn Them—Biblical Dancing—Arguments Against the Custom.

The evangelists had announced that they would discuss dancing last evening and great interest must have been taken in the subject, for even all available standing room was occupied, and hundreds had to turn away from the doors.

Mr. HUNTER, after the opening services, made a few preliminary remarks, and then took up the subject of the evening. He gave the following

why ladies should not dance:—The crowded room and late hours; the close contact with promiscuous company; it permits freedom with the other sex; parents and friends would be anxious about them when out late; ministers and other good people disapprove of it; it had a bad name; it was generally accompanied by drinking; it was said to be a great temptation to young men; it unfitted the mind for serious reflection and prayer; and there were plenty of cheerful amusements to which none of these objections applied. He then took up

THE BIBLE VIEW OF DANCING.

The religious dance he first referred to and quoted the following passage:—Exodus xv., 20. There was not a case mentioned in the Bible where the sexes danced together, and heathens would not do it. I Samuel, vi., 14—Modern dancers dance before Satan. Psalms cxlix,3—that was not done in dances; religion and the modern dance would not mix. A Christian could not dance without losing their religion. The quotation "a time to dance" was a mere declaration as to the time these things were done. There was no more similarity between the dance of the Bible and the modern dance than there was between the Lord's Supper and drunken revelry. He then referred to the irreligious dance. Exodus xxxii., 19; I Samuel xxx, 16—those three things generally go together. He would warn young men against the billiard room, the ball room and the bar room—three bs. Job xxi, 11-14—that represented the dancing school. He would as soon have the arms of an ourang-outang around his daughter as those of a dancing master. He would not say that all dancers were rascals, but these lecherous scoundrels got into dances and hugged their daughters. Matthew xiv., 3-10—a good many lose their heads and their souls through the modern dance. Luke xv., 25—if their son was converted to God would they get up a modern dance to celebrate the conversion? He wished to give them three rules—1. Avoid those amusements that lead into bad company; 2. avoid that amusement that deadened their spiritual life; and, 3. avoid the amusement that would bring reproach upon the cause of Christ.

There was an unusually large number of requests for prayer, which were read while the audience sat with bowed heads.

PARLOR DANCES.

Mr. CROSSLEY chose for his text 2 Tim., ii, 2:—"Consider what I say, and the Lord give the the understanding in all things." He had danced at one time, but abandoned it and those sickish kissing plays, because he did not wish to take liberties with any girl that he would not wish to see taken with his sister. He agreed that young people must have amusements, but still they need not dance. It was said they could not pass in society if they did not dance, but the best society did not countenance dancing. As a recreation it was a failure, as was shown by the appearance of dancers next morning. There was a disposition to move the feet when music was heard, but there need not also be a disposition to put an arm around a young lady. It was no harm to move their feet. Some asked, what shall we do? He did not think anyone present would ask that, because anyone who had not brains enough to do anything but dance had a very weak mind. It was not expedient to dance, because it would lessen their influence for good, and they might lead Christians back into the world. A Christian would not want to dance because by becoming a child of God the character was changed—it would be beneath their dignity. The majority of those who sought the Lord abandoned the dance. If a sinner was dying would he send for a member of the church who danced to pray with him? Was it proper for a lady and gentleman to dance? It was

A MATTER OF PROPRIETY.

If it was right to put an arm around a young lady in the dance it would be right in the promenade or ordinary conversation, but who would say it would be right in the latter circumstances? There was no harm in the dance per se, but there was in certain adjuncts. If the pleasure was in the dance men would dance together for hours at a time, and the square dance would be as popular as the round. But the pleasure was not in the dance. The pleasure of the dance was in the magnetism. He did not say men danced with impure thoughts, but he did say the liberties permitted were improper. When they considered the excitement of the the music, the motion of the body and the heat of the room, it was a thousand times worse to take the liberties there than in a promenade or conversation. How would any lady like to have in the attitude in which she appeared in the ripple? No man had a right to lay a hand on a lady above the elbow, and he appealed to ladies to keep their person sacred. Was it any harm to dance? Imagine a company meeting at Rev. Mr. Pearson's and dancing until 11.30 and coming to church next day. Everyone would talk of it and condemn it. Yet what was wrong for a preacher was wrong for anyone else. Every church in christendom condemned the dance, and the hardest upon the dance was the Roman Catholics, and next to them was denunciations by Bishops of the Church of England. The Christians in whom they had confidence did not dance. Every church had rules against dancing. The vow taken at the confirmation in the Church of England prohibited the confirmed person from dancing. Dancing kept some persons from becoming Christians, and if it were not wrong it would not prevent one. It also led to backsliding. Almost everyone had a doubt in their mind upon dancing and they should give their soul the benefit of the doubt. It had led to the ruin of many a pure one. A Bishop of the Roman Catholic Church in New York said that 19 out of 20 who confessed to a departure from virtue said the incipient descents were instilled by the dance. He urged them to ask "Lord, what will thou have me to do?" and make this a subject of prayer. The prohibitions of religion were given for their good—the Lord had their good and pleasure at heart. He told of a mother who had discouraged her daughter from being converted, lest she could not go to parties, and the daughter soon after died in delerium. He urged them to allow nothing to keep them from the Lord.

After singing and prayer, and a short exhortation by Mr. Hunter, the first meeting was closed.

NOTES.

The meeting to-night will be especially for men, who will occupy the body of the church. The galleries will be reserved for ladies.

A meeting for boys and girls will be held to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

ZION.

From a Correspondent.

SCOTT ACT MEETING.—A Scott Act meeting was held here last evening. The chair was taken by Mr. J. Smithson who, in his short speech, spoke very favorably of what the Act had accomplished, though far from what he wished it had or would do when passed again. He said the liquor men say it is a failure, but he gave them a reminder that it was because they were not law abiding citizens and had no respect for the laws of Canada. The next speaker called upon was the Rev. A. C. Wilson, of Ashburnham, who has gone through all of the Scott Act campaigns and understands both sides of the question. The rev. gentleman asked who were profited by liquor. He told them in a very few words that the only men who ever were made rich by it were the brewers and retailers, not the drinker. He compared the drink traffic with the golden calf which Aaron made, and said wherever they went they must meet the monster. And as everone knew drink did more harm than good, it was their duty to stop it at once and make the towns and cities safe for the boys who must soon go out in the world for themselves, and plainly pointing out that each was his brother's keeper. He stated that drinking made a man poor, hurt his brain, made him of little or no use in the church, for men of common sense did not care much for hearing the Gospel from men who tamper with strong drink. His lecture of an hour and a half was full of facts and figures and was listened to attentively by those present. After the rev. gentlemen took his seat short addresses were given by Messrs. Walter Dixon, John Doris and Robt. Deyell, and some of them fired red hot shots at drinking, one asserting that if he voted against the Act he would be voting for crime of all kinds. A show of hands was then given for and against the Act, and all present except four said, give it us three years more. It was then moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Kindred, that a vote of thanks be given the Rev. Mr. Wilson, to which he responded in a few words, saying he hoped the Act would carry.

TRADE AND TRAFFIC.

Leading Features of the Grain and Produce Markets at Home and Abroad.

TORONTO, April 2.—There has been no particular change in the outlook during the past week. Business on the whole has been dull. There has been a slight improvement in hardware and dry goods circles, but shoe men are waiting anxiously for rough, wet weather to bring them customers. Wall paper and housefurnishing houses report the opening of the season and expect to do a good trade.

Some large shipments of leather to England, thus relieving the market of overstock, have kept up hope in the hearts of dealers, and lead them to expect an early advance in prices, but some boot and shoe merchants express fear that the bottom has not yet been reached. They claim that there are yet far too many in the trade, both manufacturing and retailing, and that more are bound to go.

There is a plethora of money in the market, but the absence of speculation keeps it locked up and makes collections very slow. The market is very quiet and rates are unchanged.

One feature that has caused a great deal of comment during the past six months is the large number of "skip outs," and there has been much speculation as to the cause of the epidemic. This reason has probably a great deal to do with it. There will frequently be noticed in the press cards reading something like this:

WANTED TO PURCHASE—A SHOE business. All communications strictly confidential.

These advertisements are inserted generally by a class of men who make it their business to find out a dealer who is weak, and who, they think, would not scruple to pocket a sum in cash and cross the lines, provided he could do so with some appearance of honesty. These sharks go to such a dealer and say to him: "Now see here. You are hard up. I will give so much for your stock," naming a ridiculously small sum. The merchant takes it, packs his valise, and departs, leaving his creditors in the soup. This game is not confined to the shoe business, but is worked in all branches of trade. Two cases have occurred in Toronto during the past few weeks, one that of a shoe dealer, the other a gents' furnisher. Other cases can be named in Guelph, Thamesville, and several other places.

TORONTO GRAIN MARKETS.

Receipts of hay and straw were very small yesterday and the demand poor. Hay sold at $18 and straw at $10.

The only sales of grain on the street were one load of barley at 50½ cents and 200 bushels of oats at 33½ to 34½ cents.

The quotations on 'change were as follows: No. 1 hard wheat offered at $1.32, with $1.28 bid; one car of No. 2 frosted offered at 90c at Woodstock. one car offered at Carleton Junction at 86c; $1 bid for one car No. 1 frosted on track, with $1 asked to arrive this month; 2 cars offered at $1.02 on track. No transactions.

At the Northern elevator there are stored 1500 barrels flour, 750 bushels fall wheat, 13,375 bushels spring wheat, 91,892, bushels barley, 600 bushels peas and 904 bushels oats, a total of 114,265 bushels. During last week 2182 bushels of barley were shipped.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

St. Lawrence Market was quiet yesterday. Quotations follows: Lard, 11 to 11½; butter, tub, 16 to 20; pound rolls, 18 to 20; eggs, 11 to 13; chickens, per pair, 70 to 90; turkeys, per pound, 13 to 14; hay, per ton, $19 to $20; straw, $11 to $12; potatoes, per bag, 45 to 50; apples, per barrel, $1.25 to $2.50; geese, per pound, 8 to 10.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports: Floating cargoes—Wheat rather easier, corn slow. Cargoes on passage—Wheat and corn dull. Mark Lane—Wheat, corn and flour a turn easier. French country markets slow. Weather in England fine. Liverpool — Spot wheat rather easier. Corn quiet. No. 1 Cal. wheat 7s 5d, No. 2 Cal. 7s 2d, A.r.w. 7s 2d, w.w. 7s 4d, all 1d cheaper. Spring nominal, flour 27s 6d, corn 3s 7d, peas 5s 6d, all unchanged.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Liverpool reports: Wheat dull, demand poor, holders offer freely. Corn steady, demand fair. Spring wheat 8s; red winter 7s 3½d; No. 1 Cal. 7s 5½d; corn 3s 9½d; peas 5s 9d; pork 64s; lard 36s 6d; bacon 33s to 34s; cheese 55s.

HATS!

Hats, gentlemen, Hats!

In the name of People, Hats!

And why, Hats!

The Hat is the badge of respectability, the trade mark of civilization—that is any kind of a decent Hat. And properly, too.

Let us consider this question of Hats.

Had Bonaparte paused on the way to Waterloo to select a new Hat the result might have been different.

Had Christopher Columbus worn a shabby Hat, could he have made the fine impression he did on landing in Amerikay. No much. Not any.

Had Julius Cæsar carried a neat and taking head cover, his untimely decease might have been indefinitely postponed. History is jam full of incidents that point to the necessity of wearing a good Hat.

Men have been crossed in love, fallen off scaffolds, been beaten at the polls, arrested on suspicion, failed in business, and lost the respect of their fellow citizens by wearing a bad Hat.

The moral of all this is, come to us for your Hats. It's a new department with us, and a mighty good one. It's good because its new, and wholly new and good. We do nothing by halves. See our Stock. See what we offer in Style, Material, Shape and Finish. You can take your pick of the Best Goods by the Best Makers. We discount the Town on Hats.

HALL, INNES & CO.

Have pleasure in announcing that their Show Rooms will be fully opened for the season on

Tuesday & Wednesday
2nd & 3rd APRIL,

with a large and full display of Spring Millinery, including Pattern Bonnets and Hats direct from Paris, Ribbons, Flowers, Feathers, Ornaments, Mantles, Dolmans, Jackets, Beaded Visites, Tuscas, Seabreezes, &c.

Our Show Rooms are now in charge of Miss Walker (who for years held one of the best positions in Hamilton) whom we can confidently recommend as in every way thoroughly competent to superintend this large and important branch of our business.

A cordial invitation extended to all to call and inspect our novelties in all departments.

Remember the date, Tuesday and Wednesday, 2nd and 3rd April.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Perfectly Lovely.

The ladies are delighted with the Millinery Opening at H. S. Griffin & Co's. Perfectly lovely is the expression so often heard. 1d77-1w14

Don't Fail to See

the largest and finest display of Spring Millinery and Parisian Novelties ever shown in Peterborough, at Hall, Innis & Co's. Opening on Tuesday and Wednesday, 2nd and 3rd April. 5d74-1w13

A Finger Crushed.

Another employee at the Central Bridge Works, named Wallace Guy, met with a painful, though not serious accident yesterday afternoon, when he had the second finger of his left hand badly crushed.

"Don't tease me no more," but go and get me a 5lb package of that fine tea for $1, from M. R. Kidd. d66

A Farm Purchased.

What was known as the Stephenson farm, in the second concession of Smith and which contains 143 acres, was sold on Saturday afternoon, the purchaser being Mr. Alex. Fitzgerald, of Ashburnham. This is a magnificent property with a fine house, barns, etc., and is only about a mile from the corporation.

The Talk of the Town

The people are wondering why Elliott & Tierney are giving 15 lbs. bright sugar for $1, and selling teas and other goods so much cheaper than any house in Peterborough. Call at the Palace Grocery and examine the goods, which will convince you. The "Palace" is the place to get best values. Great stock-taking sale now going on.

We delight in making our customers happy by giving the best groceries at lowest prices, at M. R. Kidd's. d66

To Contractors and Builders.

A machine for painting shingles, metal or zinc, paints both sides, edges and ends at once, at less cost than it would take to paint them on roof after being laid. Contractors, builders and intending builders can see sample of painted shingles and machine at Morgan House or Baptie's sash and door factory. All necessary information given. 1d78

Nicholls Hospital Report.

Number of patients in Hospital March 31st, 1889, 5. Diseases—Hip joint disease, 1; pneumonia, 1; malarial fever, 1; debility, 1; alcoholism, 1. Discharged cured, 7; improved, 1. Total number treated during month, 13. From Peterborough, 9; from county, 2; other places, 2. Pay patients, 6; non-paying, 7. Dr. Bell attending physician for March. Dr. Boucher and Dr. Pigeon in attendance on private ward patients.

At Auburn.

On Sunday afternoon a programme prepared under the Band of Hope was carried out in the Sunday school room at Auburn. Mr. Geo. Hilliard presided and their was a good attendance. Misses Hutchinson, Davidson and Hamming and Messrs M. R. Kidd and W. Graham took part in the singing. Recitations were given by Masters Adam Turner, Jas. Vought, George Vought and Miss Clara Rossiter. A dialogue by twelve members of the Band of Hope was appreciated. The service was very successful.

CAPTURED at last—a large stock of splendid tea. 5lbs. for $1 at M. R. Kidd's. d66

Assuming a Warlike Attitude.

Many other houses are becoming very indignant at the idea of W. J. Morrow controlling the grocery trade of the town and county. But never mind—be cautious—we will prove to all you grocers who are grasping for high prices that the time has arrived when W. J. Morrow will enlighten the public. Doing more of a cash business and a more extensive trade, he is better prepared to sell goods away down. Then again here are a lot of our best Toronto and Montreal houses clamouring for our trade, owing to our buying for cash, and hence the keen competition, thereby buying goods away below other houses. So a call will convince you that we are Peterborough's great Grocery House, 360 George-st.

MRS. L——"You need'nt worry about your food, because I buy all my groceries from M. R. Kidd, and when he warrants a thing pure I know its so." d66

A MONTH'S CHARITY.

Councillor ADAM HALL then presented the report of the Charity Committee which showed the charity dispensed in the month of February amounted to $212.41, as follows:—No. 1 Ward, $46 75; No. 2 Ward, $51.40; No. 3 Ward, $25.50; No. 4 Ward, $88.76.

The report was adopted.

THE NORTH WARD SCHOOL.

A by-law to provide for the issuing of debentures to the extent of $16,000 for school purposes was given its first and second readings. The money is to be expended in purchasing a site and erecting a four-room school building in the North Ward and adding two rooms to the South Ward school. The by-law will take effect on the 15th day of April, 1889. The amount levied each year for re-payment of debt will be $400 for interest and $100 for sinking fund. The vote of the ratepayers on this by-law will be taken on the 1st day of May, 1889. The returning officers and polling places for the voting will be the same as the municipal elections.

$20,000 FOR A COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

Another by-law was introduced and given its first and second readings to provide for the issuing of debentures to the extent of $20,000 for the purchase of a site and the erection of a new Collegiate Institute. The vote on this by-law will be taken on the 1st day of May next, at the same place as the vote on the other by-law.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said it was not known exactly what the School Board was going to do with the money when they got it. It had been proposed to purchase the Menzies property, but he was opposed to this. If it was necessary to erect a Collegiate Institute in the town, and he doubted if it was, he was opposed to the by-law as it did not clearly define that it was to purchase a new site and erect a new building.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL said they had nothing to do with how the money was expended. The School Board asked them to submit a by-law and they had to comply with that request according to the law.

Councillor DAWSON also favored the defining of how the money should be expended, as he thought it should be stipulated that the money was to be expended in a site and a new building.

Councillor RUTHERFORD thought the Council had a perfect right to say how their money was to be expended.

THE COURT HOUSE PARK.

Mr. J. H. ROPER, President of the Horticultural Society, was given permission to speak and asked the Council, on behalf of the Society, for the annual grant of $600 to be expended in keeping the Court House Park in order and to pay for the services of a competent caretaker.

Mr. F. J. LEWIS, Treasurer of the Society, also briefly addressed the Council, and stated that since the Society had undertaken the management of the Court House Park they had fallen behind every year and he thought the Council should make the grant or assume the management of the Park.

Councillor RUTHERFORD thought St. Paul's Church should give a grant towards the expenses of the Park for the privilege and honor of having such a beautiful park in front of their church and as many of the members of the congregation passed through it on the way to church.

Some of the Councillors remarked that they had better ask the School Board also to make a grant, as the school children passed through the park on their way to school.

Dr. BURNHAM suggested that the Council might make a grant towards paying off the debt incurred by the Society for keeping the Park in repair. One of the County Council had stated that he believed that body would make a grant towards paying off that debt.

Councillor KENDRY moved, seconded by Councillor LANGFORD,—That the annual grant of $600 be made to the Horticultural Society.—Carried.

AN ENQUIRY.

Councillor DAWSON asked what became of the petition to have a water main on Weller-st.

Councillor ADAM HALL replied that the matter was still in the hands of the Water and Light Committee and would come up at the next meeting.

Councillor KENDRY moved, seconded by Councillor LANGFORD,—That the light on Auburn-st. be taken over by the town.—Carried.

THE NEW MARKET BUILDING.

Councillor CAHILL, after a few remarks in reference to the deputation's visit to Hamilton to inspect the market building there, presented the following report:—

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Market Committee beg leave to recommend that a market building be erected on the west side of Water-st., north from the present market house to within about ten feet of Charlotte-st. The building to be of brick, two storeys high and about 35 or 40 feet wide and finished in good style. Also that the present market house be improved to correspond with the new one. The whole of the buildings when completed to be used for a market house and butcher stalls as may be hereafter determined. And that the Market Committee be authorized to proceed with the erection of said buildings, also that the market scales be removed to the north side of the present market house.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
T. CAHILL,
Chairman.

The report was received.

On motion the salary of the janitrix of the town buildings was raised from $3.00 to $3 50 a week.

THE ASSESSOR.

Councillor DAWSON asked how Mr. McGrath acted as assessor in the place of his father who was ill. He thought Mr. McGrath, sr., should resign, and then the son appointed, as he believed the latter was fully competent to perform the work, but he doubted the legality of the assessment under the present circumstances.

Councillor RUTHERFORD spoke in reference to the matter, which, he said, was a very important one, as the legality of the assessment might be questioned.

It was finally resolved to ask the opinion of the solicitor as to the legality of the assessment by Mr. McGrath, junior.

A COUPLE OF MOTIONS.

Councillor ADAM HALL moved, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—That the Fire, Water and Light Committee be allowed to call for tenders for two new watering carts.—Carried.

Councillor ADAM HALL moved, seconded by Councillor DAWSON,—That the Treasurer pay to the tax-collector the taxes on the Barnardo Home, less the school tax.—Carried.

Mayor Stevenson then left the chair, as he was leaving town on the 11 50 train, and Councillor Langford presided in his stead.

A TEMPERANCE DEBATE.

Councillor RUTHERFORD then rose and unburdened himself in reference to the Ontario Government's recent amendment to the Liquor License Act. He said if the Scott Act was repealed and the Crooks Act came into force the town would be robbed of between two and three thousand dollars by the iniquitous Act. He said that the temperance members of the Council had raised the licenses and thought they were doing great things to keep up the revenue and did not get any thanks for it, not even from the temperance people, and then the Government came in and grabbed the license money and the taxes would be raised to nearly 15 mills. The Council should signify its displeasure with the Ontario Government and ask the member for the West Riding if he had raised his voice against such an iniquitous measure.

Councillor CAHILL said if the Scott Act was defeated, and no doubt it would be, the Ontario Government would get about $2,300 which would make a difference of perhaps not more than ¼ of a mill in the rate of taxation. But they would not lose this, for they never had it to lose, but had asked it unfairly from some of the citizens. He objected to Mr. Rutherford speaking of temperance members of the Council, which was an inference that some of them were not temperance men. He was a temperance man, but the difference was not between temperance and intemperance, but the question was which was best, the Crooks Act or the Scott Act. He objected to the comparison of figures that had been made of the number of convictions for drunkenness.

Councillor LANGFORD asked upon whose motion the Council had resolved itself into a temperance meeting and some councillor called out "move we adjourn" and adjourn they did.

THE FOOLISH FORGERY.

Victor Milburn Sent up for Trial—He Tried to Bribe a Constable.

Victor Milburn, the young man who was arrested on Saturday night while attempting to cash a cheque with Mr. T. Cavanagh's name attached thereto, was given his preliminary trial by Police Magistrate Dumble this morning before a crowded court room. Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, appeared for the prosecution and Mr. G. M. Roger was present for the prisoner. It appears now that Milburn had two cheques, both having Mr. T. Cavanagh's signature, the one he tried to have cashed being payable to "V. Milburn or bearer" and the other in favor of "W. Snowden or bearer."

WHERE HE GOT THE CHEQUES.

T. CAVANAGH was the first witness called and gave evidence that he did not sign the two cheques produced or authorize them to be signed.

THOS. TRENNUM was called and testified that the prisoner asked him on Saturday morning last to procure a couple of blank Ontario Bank cheques for him and that he (Trennum) went to the Ontario Bank and got two cheques and gave them to prisoner. The latter stated to witness that there were two farmers who owed him some money and he wanted the cheques to have them filled in.

HOW HE TRIED TO PASS IT.

A. G. GOUGH, of Gough Bros., then told of the prisoner coming into his store on Saturday afternoon about 5.30 and selecting an overcoat worth $8.75. The prisoner said he would take the coat if Mr. Gough would cash a cheque he had of Mr. Cavanagh's for $160. Mr. Gough was suspicious and told Milburn that he had not that much money in the store, but would send out and get the cheque cashed. He sent a boy over to Mr. Cavanagh's with the cheque and the boy came back and said it was a forgery and that the police were looking for the prisoner. Constable McGinty then came in and arrested Milburn.

R. S. DAVIDSON also gave evidence. The young fellow came in and asked him to cash the cheque, but he told him it was not Mr. Cavanagh's signature. The prisoner said that he knew that, but Mr. Cavanagh's son Harry had signed it for his father. Mr. Davidson, however, told him he would not cash it.

ALEX. ELLIOTT also stated that the prisoner had asked him to cash a cheque.

Constable ADAMS gave evidence of having seen the prisoner in the police station, when the latter stated that he had written Mr. Cavanagh's name, but that he did it when he was drunk.

Constable MCGINTY told of arresting the prisoner and of finding the second cheque on him when searching him. The second cheque was also for $160. The prisoner offered him $10 if he would burn the paper.

After hearing the evidence the Magistrate sent the prisoner up for trial at the spring assizes, which open here on April 22nd.

Gone After Foster.

Chief Roszel left this morning for St. Thomas to bring back the man Chas. Foster, who left yesterday morning without paying his board bill, but was arrested at St. Thomas, and who it is alleged has been guilty of some crooked work while in the employ of the Singer Machine Company. The Chief will probably arrive home with his prisoner to-night and the case will come before the Magistrate to-morrow morning. A couple of the Salvation Army lassies, who supposed that Foster was in the cells here, came around this morning to see the prisoner and brought some lunch with them for his regalement, but were informed that the ex-Salvation Army captain had not arrived.

SPORTS ON THE GREEN.

THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION TELL OF LAST YEAR'S DOINGS.

Reports from the Directors—Appointment of Several Committees—Coming Celebration of the 24th—Several new Projects in Hand—Officers for 1889.

The adjourned meeting of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association was held on Monday evening in the rooms over Stethem's store. There was a good attendance of members, business being taken up shortly after 8 o'clock with the President, Dr. Geo. Burnham, in the chair.

Mr. F. E. BELL, Secretary, read the formal minutes of the last annual meeting (1888) which were adopted. The Secretary then read

THE DIRECTORS' REPORT.

The Directors in submitting their fourth Annual report have reason to be satisfied with the work of 1888; and to express the hope that the succeeding season will be as prosperous, financially as well as otherwise.

Cricket, as usual, took the lead and flourished. Ten matches were played and we had the opportunity of witnessing some good play, especially on the visit of the Seabrights, of New York. It is expected that the amendment to the constitution of the Ontario Association in having a senior and junior series will have the effect of giving cricket an impetus not only in Peterborough, but throughout the Province. The Cricket Club is making arrangements for securing the services of H. Day, the professional of last year.

Lawn Tennis was fairly successful, the club having had several meets in which the ladies took part, and it is to be hoped the club this year will make every effort to continue the meets this season.

The Directors regret that baseball was not successful from a financial point of view, but the club played a number of interesting matches both at home and abroad. Your Directors would recommend that the issue of permits to play baseball on the grounds be discontinued.

The Bicycle Club turned out much better in 1888 than in previous seasons, having held a series of weekly meets and runs in uniform. A great point of interest and profit to the Association was the excursion to Belleville on the 2nd of July, on the occasion of the Wheelmen's meet in that city. Your Directors would call the attention of the Association, that if the inducements were offered to the C. W. A. they might hold their Annual Meet in Peterborough this year, as there is a desire on the part of some members of the Association to do so. We would ask the meeting to take the matter into consideration.

In foot-ball, owing to the absence and removal from town of some of the principal players, we had no team last season, but this year there is no doubt we will be able to place a strong team on the field.

Owing to the shortness of the season and late arrival of snow, the Directors regret there was very little, if any interest, taken in this branch of sport.

The Directors would call attention to the term of our lease, which expires with the present season, and we have to consider the action necessary to secure the same grounds either by lease or purchase, or to secure some other available ground.

Your directors would call the attention of the association to the advisability of starting a gymnasium this fall, in connection with the association. Arrangements might be made with Sergt.-Major Randle to take charge of it, and it might be a source of profit to the association as well as a great benefit to the younger members thereof. We would suggest that a committee be appointed at this meeting to take into consideration the advisability of such a scheme and the best means of carrying it out, to report to the directors, or to a meeting of the Association to be called for that purpose.

The Association held, in connection with the 57th battalion, very successful sports on the 24th of May. They were a source of profit to the Battalion and the Association. It would be for this meeting to consider the best way to celebrate the Queen's Birthday this year.

The treasurer's statement shows the receipts for fees and from other sources, to have been in excess of the expenditure, leaving a small surplus. In the payments is included some accounts of previous years, showing that the association is self sustaining, although there is a small deficiency, caused, as stated in previous reports, by expenditure of a permanent nature. To reduce this debt is our first aim, and for this purpose your directors have arranged for two entertainments to be given in the latter part of April, for the benefit of the Association funds.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

F. E. BELL Secretary, G. BURNHAM President.

The PRESIDENT called attention to important subjects mentioned in the report and gave some verbal explanations regarding the getting up of a gymnasium, etc., and to the proposed celebration of the 24th of May.

The report was received and laid on the table.

The Treasurer's report was read by Mr. Geo. Schofield, Treasurer, and showed that the affairs of the association had been carefully managed and that there was a fair balance to the good in addition to paying off some indebtedness incurred in improvements to the grounds and supply of sundries. The statement was received and referred to Messrs. Parker and Smith as auditors.

Propositions for membership were declared in order and several new members were proposed and elected.

DISCUSSING THE REPORT.

The directors report was taken up with the idea of discussing the suggestions contained therein. The important matter of re-leasing the present grounds or procuring other suitable premises was referred to a committee composed of Messrs. Burnham, Hay and Bell.

The question of organizing a gymnasium was talked over. The scheme was endorsed as a good one and well within the province of the association, but nothing definite was determined other than to refer it to a committee composed of Messrs. R. Hay, Schofield and Dr. Brennan.

The matter of the celebration of 24th May was handed over to the care of the new board of directors.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers was taken up with the following result:

HON. PRESIDENT.—Dr. Halliday.

The following Board of Directors were also elected:

FOR THE BASEBALL CLUB.—Dr. Brennan and Mr. Salisbury.

FOR FOOTBALL CLUB.—R. B. Rogers.

FOR SNOWSHOE CLUB.—Geo. Schofield.

FOR LAWN TENNIS CLUB.—W. D. Parker.

FOR CRICKET CLUB.—W. J. Minore, J. Stirling.

FOR BICYCLE CLUB.—Dr. Burnham, F. E. Bell.

After some further discussion of matters of general interest the meeting adjourned.

Brevities.

CHINA HALL

CHINA
AND QUEENS W

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate cracked at that. Consider $20,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of sèvres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $2,000 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissey ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is light it is a comfort to think of $2,500 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets $8 to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

The Official Figures—What they show?

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I see by the "official figures" published in your paper, that under the Crooks Act the number of "drunks and drunk and disorderly" brought before the Police Court was steadily decreasing from year to year, notwithstanding the fact that our population has been largely increasing during those years.

I think it should be borne in mind that it is not a question of temperance or intemperance that the people will be called upon to decide to-morrow—if it were the choice would be soon made but a question of which is the better act to promote temperance, the Crooks Act or the Scott Act. We see by the "official figures" that the number of drunks has not been decreased under the Scott Act as was the case under the Crooks Act, but on the contrary immediately after its introduction have shown a tendency to largely increase and therefore it must be assumed that the Crooks Act is the better act of the two.

It should also be borne in mind that the Crooks Act is now very much more stringent in its provisions than it was three years ago, that public opinion is entirely in its favor and hence it can be enforced while the reverse is the case with the Scott Act and its enforcement.

I notice, Mr. Editor, that in all these Scott Act agitations its chief advocates come from Toronto. Then the question naturally presents itself, if the Scott Act is a good thing, why don't these people advocate it in Toronto? Are our people lower in the moral scale as to drunkenness and other crimes than the people of Toronto? I think the universal answer will be no. Toronto now gets more than its fair share of the trade of the province and the more restrictions they succeed in putting on outside towns the more still will trade concentrate in Toronto, hence the anxiety of some Toronto people to look after our business. Many honest advocates of the Scott Act will admit this.

I am in favor of temperance legislation and favored the Scott Act, but know now that it has proved an utter failure, not only here but wherever it has been tried. Rev. Bishop Manto Eastburn, D.D., says, "I am decided in favor of a license law and against a prohibitory law. I speak from observations I have made and from reports from those who have visited the poor at my suggestion."

Rev. Geo. E. Ellis, D.D., says:—"All efforts to coerce men in their private habits only tend to make them worse. The existence of prohibitory law for fifteen years shows that it met with the approbation of the legislators, but the open defiance of it in the community shows that it has not its effect upon the majority of the people. The experience of well known temperance workers like these gentlemen might be multiplied, but it is not necessary, for such as theirs is our own experience. Now, sir, I think it is quite certain that the Act will be repealed in the adjoining counties of Victoria and Northumberland and if it should not be repealed here it would be well to consider how far it would affect the business interests of our town. I leave those interested to consider the matter, and remain yours, with thanks for your valuable space,

FAIR TRADE.

Scott Act Outrage.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—The Toronto and Kingston papers give an account of the blowing up by dynamite of a portion of the house of the Rev. Mr. Stillwell, of Sydenham. Mr. S. was absent from home, attending a Scott Act meeting. He had been threatened, and when Mrs. S. and children were alone the dastardly deed was done. This is part of the policy of the whiskey party. Electors, do your duty and come out and vote to make illegal a traffic that resorts to such tatics.

Vote for Scott Act. Yours,

Our Ancestors.

Every man has two parents, four grandparents, eight great-grand parents, sixteen great-great-grandparents, thirty-two great-great-great-grand-parents, and so on ad infinitum. Reckoning twenty-five years to a generation, and carrying on this line of calculation to the time of William the Conqueror of England, it will be found that each person now living in Cincinnati must have at that time, even, the enormous number of 35,000,000 of ancestors. Make the usual allowance for crossing, or inter-marrying of families in a genealogical line, and for the same persons being in many of the intersections of the family tree, still there remains a number at that period even to cover the whole Norman and Anglo-Saxon race. What, therefore, might have been pious, princely, kingly, or aristocratic, stands side by side in line with the most ignoble, plebeian, or democratic. Each man to-day may be certain of having had not only barons and esquires, but crowned heads, dukes, princes, bishops, barristers, physicians and so on among his ancestors. If he hasn't a crest to-day it isn't the fault of his ancestors, but the fault of the record.—Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Hess Bros.' Failure—A Druggist's Death by Poison—Fatal Accident.

TORONTO, April 3.—Hess Brothers, manufacturers, have succumbed to the weight of circumstances and a meeting of creditors is called. The recent fire was a severe blow, and, coupled with other reverses which might otherwise have been tided over, has brought an unexpected tumble. The liabilities known amount to about $80,000.

The failure of Halley Brothers, wholesale boots and shoes, Yonge-street, is also announced, the liabilities amounting to something in the neighborhood of $18,000.

The Woman's Enfranchisement Association held their first ward meeting in Cecil Hall. Dr. Emily Stowe presided. Mrs. S. A. Curzon gave an account of her visit to the House of Commons, and Mrs. Vassey read a paper on the progress of woman suffrage in England.

At the Toronto Presbytery meeting yesterday morning a resolution strongly condemnatory of the Jesuits' Act allowance was unanimously carried.

Referring to the death of Hon. John Henry Pope, a private letter from Ottawa says: Sir John Macdonald was with his old colleague a few hours before his death. Mr. Pope made a great effort to say good-bye for the last time, and the two shook hands and parted. The deceased Minister was a millionaire and by his will has left the Premier a legacy of $100,000.

Charles F. Wilkes, a druggist, carrying on business at Beaverton, died under suspicious circumstances at No. 43 Stewart-street Monday night. Mrs. Wilkes has occupied furnished rooms at the above address for some time while her husband attended to his business at Beaverton. He occasionally visited her, and arrived quite unexpectedly on Saturday night, not having informed Mrs. Wilkes beforehand that he purposed visiting Toronto. Wilkes has been married for six years, and has no children. He was 30 years of age. It is stated that the deceased was in the habit of taking a strong drug to overcome the effects of intoxicants. Coroner Duncan held an inquest yesterday and it was shown that the cause of Wilkes' death was an overdose of morphia taken as an opiate.

An injunction was obtained yesterday restraining Chief of Police Grasett and J. Lee West from paying over or recovering the money found in West's possession at the time of his arrest. West is the alleged New Orleans boodler, and $1400 was found on his person when arrested. The sum is therefore tied up until Friday.

When James Jeffery took boarding at a house on Hayter-street he presented a recommendation from the Y.M.C.A. as a good Christian young man in search of board in a Christian family. This was a month ago, and on Saturday he was caught pilfering. Yesterday morning Jeffery acknowledged serving sixty days in jail, and he was committed to the Central Prison for six months.

Thomas R. Milne, veterinary surgeon, No. 2 Bloor-street east, was arrested Monday night on a very serious charge, it being alleged that he snatched a satchel from Miss Eliza Simpson on Saturday night. A remand until to-day was made. Col. Denison examined Miss Simpson relative to bail. The latter stated that she passed the defendant's office about 9.30 o'clock on the night in question. He came out and addressing her asked her if he could not carry her parcel. She walked on, unheeding him. In front of the Ladies' College the prisoner tore the satchel from her hand. It contained three pairs of glove and $1.38 in money. She positively identified the prisoner as the person who committed the robbery. He was liberated on bail.

The World this morning says: "His Lordship Bishop Walsh of London, The World is informed on undoubted authority, has been appointed to the Archdiocese of Toronto. The official announcement will be made in a few days."

Yesterday afternoon John Davins aged 33, of 81 Niagara-street, jumped off a train going west near the foot of Bathurst-street. He was struck by a train going in the opposite direction and had his left leg severed at the knee and the right leg above the ankle broken. He was taken to the Union Station, where Dr. Riordan dressed the wounds, after which the injured man was conveyed to the Hospital. He rallied and for a time was conscious but gradually sank, dying at 5.40 last evening. Deceased was a G. T. R. brakesman, but was not on duty at time of accident. He was married.

Enough of that Kind.

The poor servant girl is not always to 'blame. Sometimes it is the mistress. A girl who applied for a place to do "second work" over on the West Side astonished the lady by asking if she allowed her servants to talk above a whisper. The lady said they could make all the noise they cared to if they would only do their work well, and wanted to know why the girl asked that question. "Well," she replied, "I have been working for a North Side lady who does not permit her servants to talk aloud. The first day I was with her I had my frizzes on, ma'am, and she asked me if they were false. When I told her they were false she said I must remove them. The next day I wore a small brooch at my throat. She called me into her room when she noticed it and told me I must remove it—she did not allow her servants to wear false hair or jewelry. Then she wanted me to wear a white dress all the time. I said I was afraid I might dirty a white dress when I did my work, and she said I must do my work so that I would not get a white dress dirty. I left that lady, ma'am, and I want to understand you before I come here." She was hired. Do you blame her for quitting her North Side place?—Chicago Herald.

HATS!

Hats, gentlemen, Hats!

In the name of People, Hats!

And why, Hats!

The Hat is the badge of respectability, the trade mark of civilization—that is any kind of a decent Hat. And properly, too.

Let us consider this question of Hats.

Had Bonaparte paused on the way to Waterloo to select a new Hat the result might have been different.

Had Christopher Columbus worn a shabby Hat, could he have made the fine impression he did on landing in Amerikay. No much. Not any.

Had Julius Cæsar carried a neat and taking head cover, his untimely decease might have been indefinitely postponed. History is jam full of incidents that point to the necessity of wearing a good Hat.

Men have been crossed in love, fallen off scaffolds, been beaten at the polls, arrested on suspicion, failed in business, and lost the respect of their fellow citizens by wearing a bad Hat.

The moral of all this is, come to us for your Hats. It's a new department with us, and a mighty good one. It's good because its new, and wholly new and good. We do nothing by halves. See our Stock. See what we offer in Style, Material, Shape and Finish. You can take your pick of the Best Goods by the Best Makers. We discount the Town on Hats.

The Talk of the Town

The people are wondering why Elliott & Tierney are giving 16 lbs. bright sugar for $1, and selling teas and other goods so much cheaper than any house in Peterborough. Call at the Palace Grocery and examine the goods, which will convince you. The "Palace" is the place to get best values. Great stock-taking sale now going on.

WE delight in making our customers happy by giving the best groceries at lowest prices, at M. R. KIDD's. d66

The Bay Gives up its Dead.

Mr. John Slaven, an old resident of the city of Belleville and father-in-law of Mr. Thos. Bayeur, who carried on a boot and shoe business on George-st. in Peterborough until recently, has been missing from his home since the early part of last December and his disappearance was shrouded in mystery until yesterday morning, when the body of the old gentleman was found floating in the bay.

CAPTURED at last—a large stock of splendid tea. lbs. for $1 at M. R. KIDD's. d66

The Protestant Home.

The committee of the Peterborough Protestant Home acknowledge with thanks the following donations:—Vegetables, a friend; $100, Macfarlane Wilson; parcel clothing, Mrs. Alex. Smith; parcel clothing, Mrs. F. J. Hall; reading matter, Mrs. Poussette; reading matter, Mrs. G. A. Smith; apples, biscuits and cheese, Sons of England; biscuits, Mr. Minore; roast of beef, Mrs. Chas. McGill; window blinds, Mrs. W. B. Ferguson; $1.75 additional to Mrs. Lewis' fund; $10 from Mrs. Amys

Assuming a Warlike Attitude.

Many other houses are becoming very indignant at the idea of W. J. Morrow controlling the grocery trade of the town and county. But never mind—be cautious—we will prove to all you grocers who are grappling for high prices that the time has arrived when W. J. Morrow will enlighten the public. Doing more of a cash business and a more extensive trade, he is better prepared to sell goods away down. Then again here are a lot of our best Toronto and Montreal houses clamouring for our trade, owing to our buying for cash, and hence the keen competition, thereby buying goods away below other houses. So a call will convince you that we are Peterborough's great Grocery House, 340 George-st.

An Alleged Forgery.

Charles Foster, the young man who was arrested at St. Thomas on Monday when on his way to Detroit, was brought back to town last night by Chief of Police Roszel. At the police court this morning he was arraigned on a charge of having forged the name of Mrs. Arthur Armstrong to the receipt of a sewing machine. Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, appeared for the prosecution and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun was present for the defence. Mr. Wood asked for an enlargement of the case until Friday as witnesses would have to be brought from Millbrook. The Magistrate, however, wished the trial to proceed as soon as possible, as he did not wish to detain the young man in gaol any longer than was absolutely necessary, and he granted an enlargement until to-morrow morning and fixed bail at $400. Mr. Dennistoun remarked that he did not think the case would go further than that court. Foster was unable to procure bail and was taken gaol. Of course, the board bill of about $70 that Foster left behind him when he left cannot be collected at the Police Court, as no charge can be laid against him for that offence.

MR. STRATTON'S FAREWELL.

The following letter was read from Mr. J. R. Stratton:—

GENTLEMEN,—After a membership of many years of your Board, a legislative change has made my connection with your Board in the dual relation of newspaper publisher and member incompatable with the strict technical construction of the law, and though I am not conscious of having done anything contrary to the public interest, and though I have reason to believe I still retain the confidence of my constituents, I hereby tender my resignation as a member of your Board.

From the manner in which the Board dealt with my tenders for school supplies at its recent meeting, it seems my intention to terminate my membership was anticipated, a decision I should have given effect to at the last meeting, if my absence from town had not made my attendance impossible. In conclusion permit me to express my thanks for the courteous and kindly treatment I have received from my associates on the Board, with the assurance that my change in relations to the Board will not diminish my solicitude for the educational interests of the town, nor relax my efforts in that promotion.

I have the honor to be, yours very truly,
J. R. STRATTON.

The communication was received.

THE NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL.

Mr. RUTHERFORD reported for the Building Committee that plans for the North Ward school and the addition to the South Ward school had been selected, with the exception of heating. They had waited for the report of the deputation that went to Lindsay before deciding as to the heating. A change in the system of heating in the South Ward school would cause considerable expense, as they would have to excavate a chamber and build chimneys, but it would make no practical difference as to the North school.

THE SMEAD-DOWD SYSTEM.

Mr. DUMBLE read the report of the committee that visiting Lindsay.

The report said that the committee was received with every courtesy by the Trustees of the Lindsay schools and by the Principal of the Collegiate Institute. It stated that the new building in Linday was a handsome edifice and gave particulars regarding the rooms and equipment. It contained a large lecture room on the third storey, capable of seating 600 people, where the Literary Society held its meetings. The entire building, halls and rooms were of uniform heat. The heating apparatus was the Smead-Dowd and appeared to be the most satisfactory kind. The Principal and teachers were enthusiastic in its praise, alleging that the perfect ventilation and pure air gave teachers and scholars more vigor and ability for work than the impure air of the old system. The closets below the building were the most striking feature of the whole system, for although in use for some months one could not judge of their proximity by the senses, the foul air from the entire building being gathered and passed through the excreta compartment, dessicated, dried the contents and swept all odors up the chimney—the heat from the smoke making the draft sufficient in winter, and a very small fire in summer in a fire pot in the chimney effecting the same result. The anti-rooms of the closets were used as cloak room. The janitor said that in very cold weather he burned half a cord of good wood, which, considering the result, was a very moderate expenditure for effectually heating such a building. The perfect system of ventilation would safely allow of double windows. The entire cost of the building, heating apparatus and furnishing was about $28,000. There were six masters, and the aggregate salaries was $5,700. There were 215 pupils and the order was good. The situation of the grounds and surroundings were favorably mentioned. The report added that there was no fifth form in the Lindsay public schools. It was found that fifth form work could be more cheaply done in the Collegiate Institute. The ordinary fee of the Institute was $10 a year. There were 15 Public School teachers. Particulars as to the Public Schools were given. The head master of the Public Schools had no department to teach, but spent all his time visiting the several schools, a method which was pursued at other places with good results. The committee thought the method could be adopted here with very beneficial results. In conclusion the committee was of opinion that school matters in Peterborough both in the Institute and Public Schools must at once receive considerable more consideration from the Board, as they were satisfied that there was urgent need for improvement. Mr. Dumble added that the first cost of the Smead-Dowd system was the final cost, as it was not likely to get out of order.

The report was adopted.

Mr. ENGLISH said that for the closet part alone the Smead-Dowd system was worthy the attention of the Trustees.

Mr. RUTHERFORD said that any kind of a furnace would cost $300 or $400, a hot water system would cost about $1,100 and a steam system would cost $800. He favored putting in the best system.

Mr. DUMBLE moved that the Building Committee be authorized to use the Smead-Dowd system in the South and North Ward schools if it could make satisfactory arrangements.—Carried.

THE PUPILS' PETITION SHELVED.

The petition of the Collegiate Institute pupils was taken up. After considerable discussion, and after the opinions of several teachers had been heard, the matter was referred to the School Supervision Committee.

TEACHERS' SALARIES.

Mr. DUMBLE brought up the subject of the teachers' salaries.

After some discussion the Board adjourned and a meeting of the Appointments Committee was held.

Mr. DUMBLE, when the Board resumed, read the following report:—

The Committee on Appointments having considered the subject of salaries referred to them beg to report that they ascertained the salaries paid in the public schools of Lindsay, Port Hope and Cobourg, and after comparing them we found that the salaries paid at Peterborough were very much less than in any of these places.

We find that Port Hope has 18 teachers and pays in all to its public school teachers $4,668; Cobourg has eleven teachers, total salaries $3,926; Belleville with 22 teachers pays $9,275; Peterborough with 20 teachers pays $6,850; Lindsay with 14 teachers pays $5,500.

After careful considering the matter your committee recommend a few small changes which, while putting the salaries on a more equitable basis, will only slightly increase the total expense.

Your committee recommend that the salaries of the teachers be:—1st grade, $250 each; 2nd grade, $275; 3rd grade $300; 4th grade $350; 5th grade as at present. That the Principal of the South Ward school be paid $600. The salaries as above to run from 1st of January last.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
D. W. DUMBLE.
Chairman.

The report was adopted, and after discussion as to the duties of the janitor the Board adjourned.

The total increase in the salaries amounts to $370 a year.

TO-MORROW'S STRUGGLE.

The Voting in the Scott Act Repeal Where to Vote.

To-morrow afternoon at five o'clock the ratepayers of the County of Peterborough will have decided by their votes which, in their opinion, is the better for the interests of this county, the Canada Temperance Act or the Crooks Act. Which ever way the decision may be, it will hold good during the next three years. The interest in the voting has not been very manifest in town, although in the last few days the question has been the subject of considerable talk and prophecy. The Returning Officer, Mr. Chas. Stapleton, has completed all the preliminaries, and the different polling places throughout the County will be open at nine o'clock to-morrow morning and will remain open until five o'clock in the evening. Those who are entitled to vote are all ratepayers whose names appear on the Dominion Voters' List—that is, those who voted at the last Dominion election. The polling place in town number 14, and that voters may know where to go to cast their ballot the following list is printed:—

WHERE TO VOTE.

POLLING DISTRICT No. 9.—Consisting of that part of Ward No. One, lying south of Dalhousie-st. and east of Bethune and Park-sts., at the shop corner of George and Perry-sts.

POLLING DISTRICT No. 10.—Consisting of that part of Ward No. One lying north of Dalhousie-st., and the continuation of Sherbrook-st. west, and west of Bethune and Park-sts., at the brick house, opposite the Stove works, Wolf-st.

POLLING DISTRICT No. 11.—Consisting of that part of Ward No. One lying north of Dalhousie-st., and east of Bethune-st., at James Payton's Pump shop, 308 George-st.

POLLING DISTRICT No. 12.—Consisting of that part of Ward No. One lying north of Dalhousie-st., and the continuation of Sherbrook-st. west and west of Bethune-st., at L. Spry's tin shop, 210 Stewart-st.

POLLING DISTRICT No. 13.—Consisting of that part of Ward No. Two lying south of Simcoe-st., and east of Bethune-st. at the Old Music Hall.

POLLING DISTRICT No. 14.—Consisting of that part of Ward No. Two lying between Simcoe and Hunter-sts., and east of Bethune-st., at the shop corner of Water and Simcoe-sts.

POLLING DISTRICT No. 15.—Consisting of that part of Ward No. Two lying north of Hunter-st., and east of Bethune-st., at the office of T. Hurley, Hunter-st.

POLLING DISTRICT No. 16.—Consisting of that part of Ward No. Two lying west of Bethune-st., at the house No. 375, Stewart-st.

POLLING DISTRICT No. 17.—Consisting of that part of Ward No. Three lying east of George-st., at Metheral's carriage shop, corner of George and Murray-sts.

POLLING DISTRICT No. 18.—Consisting of that part of Ward No. Three lying between George and Bethune-sts., at John Miller's shop, 525 George-st., opposite Methodist Church.

POLLING DISTRICT No. 19.—Consisting of that part of Ward No. Three lying between Bethune and Gilchrist-sts., at J. O. Hill's shop, corner Brock and Park-sts.

POLLING DISTRICT No. 20.—Consisting of that part of Ward No. Four lying west of Gilchrist-st., at the house 12 Elm-st., near Lynch's grocery.

POLLING DISTRICT No. 21.—Consisting of that part of Ward No. Four lying south of Smith-st., west of George-st. and north of Antrim-st., east of George-st., at Adam Havery's shop, corner of George and Edinburgh-sts.

POLLING DISTRICT No. 22.—Consisting of that part of Ward No. Four north of Smith-st., west of George-st. and south of Antrim-st. east of George-st., at A. Allison's shop, 575 Water-st.

The voters will cast their ballots in the same division as they did at the last Dominion election.

HOW TO VOTE.

The vote will be by ballot and the voter will record his mark "for the Act" or "against the Act." The form of the ballot is:—

Against the Act.

For the Act.

"Against the Act" is printed in red ink, "For the Act," in black ink. Mark your cross in one of the spaces to the right of the words.

A Neat Souvenir.

Some months ago Mr. H. W. Watson was given some white lead to test by an agent of a Glasgow manufacturing firm, and tested it satisfactorily. The agent returned to Scotland and to-day Mr. Watson received a handsome watch-guard ornament in the form of a miniature silver elephant—the brand of the material—made of silver extracted from the ore in the manufacture of the lead.

Legal Legal.

At Osgoode Hall yesterday before Galt, C. J., the following case of local interest came up and is thus reported by the Mail:—Fawcett v. The Country will be Safe.

A cadet company has been organized by the male students of the Collegiate Institute. The company will number forty-two men strong and will be instructed in the regular military drill and manœuvres by Sergt.-Major Rendle. An hour in one afternoon of each week will be devoted to drill and the boys will undoubtedly make a creditable showing in a short time as soldiers as well as reap the benefit of the exercise. The company intend if possible to procure uniforms and will undoubtedly merit the term "soldier." The officers elected are:—

CAPTAIN—Harold Fife.
FIRST LIEUTENANT—W. H. Hamilton.
SECOND LIEUTENANT—E. B. Boucher.

St. John's Church.

We have great pleasure in informing our readers that the special preacher for this evening at St. John's Church is the Rev. J. C. Roper, M.A., one of the best known and most widely sought after clergymen of the city of Toronto. For several years Prof. Roper was at Trinity University, where he held the chair of Divinity, having been selected for that position by no less a dignitary than the Archbishop of Canterbury. To the great grief of both faculty and students (whose hearts he had completely won) he resigned his position three months ago and last St. Thomas' day began the arduous task of working up a parish which enjoyed the distinction of being the most ill managed and neglected in Toronto. When one of the present curates of St. John's took the evening service in St. Thomas' one Sunday last August there were seventeen persons in the congregation! But Mr. Roper has already filled his church and, no doubt, a large building will soon be erected, and St. Thomas' Church become one of the most popular in Toronto. Those who heard Mr. Roper in St. John's last Lent will doubtless appreciate the privilege of again hearing a preacher of such spiritual insight and sympathy. The subject selected by the rev. gentleman is "The Reading of the Bible." Mr. Roper will certainly have something thoroughly helpful to say on such a subject. We bespeak for him a large congregation.

HEAR YE, OH MORALISTS!

REV. MR. CROSSLEY GIVES THE WORD TO SEVERAL CLASSES.

An Able Discourse—Rev. Mr. Hunter Speaks Strongly to the Swearers The Dialect of Hell An Immense but Divided Audience Notes.

It was an uncommon sight that the vast audience which filled the George-st. church last evening presented. The galleries were packed to their fullest capacity with ladies who gazed down upon a congregation in the body of the church composed entirely of men. The meeting was more especially for men and to these the evangelists more particularly addressed themselves.

Rev. Mr. Crossley sang for his opening solo the hymn "Meet me in Heaven."

THE DIALECT OF HELL.

Rev. Mr. HUNTER read the evening lesson from the 5th chapter of James. He began at the twelfth verse, where it says "But above all things, my brethren, swear not." Then he stopped and dropped a few plain words to the swearers. He said he did not know what the devil would do when he got a swearer down into hell. The evangelist said if he was a business man he would not have a man in his employ who swore, for he did not think a man who blasphemed could be trusted. Swearing was the dialect of hell, which was enough to stifle the air of heaven and dim the light of the stars. They heard men spewing from their black hearts through their dirty mouths, oaths damning the Lord—the God that gave them everything. Then there were fathers swearing before their sons or other little boys and, of course, the example was followed. In God's name he prayed them never to swear again, for their oaths and curses would run up against them in the judgment and as they swung back they would send them down to the darkest depths of hell. There were several reasons why they should not swear—God forbide it, the conscience condemns it, the awful example, it was ungentlemanly, foolish and sinful, it pained and disgusted others and destroyed the soul. The evangelist said if he was a mother he would never give a daughter's hand in marriage to any man who drank or swore. When Mr. Hunter came to the verse "And the prayer of faith shall save the sick and the Lord shall raise him up, and if he hath committed sins he will forgive him," he said he had marked "T and P" before that verse in his Bible. "T and P"—"trusted and proved" and the evangelist pathetically told the story of the miraculous saving from death of his little girl who had been given up by the physicians but the prayers of himself and his wife had been answered.

Rev. Mr. Crossley then sang especially for the father's present the tender and touching hymn "Papa, come this way."

Prayer was then asked for a number of special request, among which was one for prayer for the young man who had that day been placed in gaol on the charge of committing a crime and another asking the prayers of all Christians for two fallen women who had that day been released from the gaol.

THE WORD OF THE LORD.

Rev. Mr. CROSSLEY said his text could be found some place in the Old Testament. It was:

"Earth, earth, hear ye the word of the Lord."

The rev. gentleman said that suggested where they were going—they were only refined dust and unto dust they must return. This suggested their mortality, and in view of this how important was the last part of the text, "Hear ye the word of the Lord." He would give them the word the Lord had sent to several different classes. First, to the moralists he said, hear ye the word of the Lord—"Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in His sight, for by the law is the knowledge of sin." The evangelist then spoke a few words to those who were depending on their morality for salvation, and said he wanted the moralists whom they specially coveted, to see that by the deed of the law they could not undo sin, but they needed the washing by the blood of Jesus. Then to the men who were absorbed in business and who were less likely to be saved than the man of twenty, he said hear ye the word of the Lord—"Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness and all things will be added unto you." The rev. gentleman said many men thought they could not follow their business or profession if they were Christians, but he said the Lord would be no impediment to the business men and he wanted them to hear the word of the Lord. To those who were seeking to be Christians secretly he said hear the word of the Lord—"With the heart man believeth unto righteousness, but with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." The

he said, were often used by outsiders to hit the church, and he wanted all who had been making an attempt to serve the Lord secretly to hear the Word of the Lord. Then to the careless and unawakened, those who were waiting for some special feeling, he said, hear ye the Lord—"Awake thou that sleepest, rise from the dead and Christ shall give thee light." Mr. Crossley said it might be that some of them had gone so far that they could not be awakened, but if there was enough spiritual preception or common sense in them to let them see their danger, he urged them to listen to the Word of God. "Awake thou that sleepest!" Those who said it was hard to be a Christian and who thought they could not be true to Christ, he asked to hear the Word of God, "If we confess our sins He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." Lastly he said to those who were tampering with strong drink, hear ye the Word of the Lord—"Look not upon wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright; at last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." The evangelist said people were talking about the Bible speaking of the use of wine, but the wine that was referred to in the Saviour's time was not the fermented and intoxicating wine. The Lord called the juice of the grape wine and said, "Look not upon the wine when it is red." The Bible in Proverbs 20 and 1 said whosoever tampered with strong drink was a fool, and the evangelist at some length and in earnest language dwelt on the danger of tampering with drink, and in concluding urged the men to come unto God who was able to save even unto the uttermost all who came unto Him.

Rev. Mr. HUNTER then exhorted the men of the vast audience who were unsaved, and spoke of the few men who were saved after thirty or forty years of age. He asked all the men of the audience who had been saved after they were fifty years of age to stand up, and there were only two answered the call. Then he asked those who had been saved after they were forty, then after thirty and then after twenty and the number increased every time. He asked all those who wished to start a new life to rise, and several responded and then the first meeting closed.

NOTES.

Rev. Mr. Crossley was unable to sing during his sermon last evening, as he was suffering from a severe cold.

Charlotte-st. Church was crowded yesterday at the afternoon meeting.

A meeting for school children was held this afternoon in the George st. Church.

Many ladies were unable to gain admittance to the church last evening.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

The Canada Stained Glass Works, of Toronto, have again increased their staff in every department. The Church and House Ornamental Glass turned out by this firm can be relied on both for durability and excellence of design. Persons requiring glass in every style or quantity whatever should address the makers, McCausland & Son, Toronto.

The Scott Act.
To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Under Dunkin Act, Crooks Act and Scott Act adulterated liquors have been sold to an alarming extent. As yet there has been no action on the part of the people to bring these offenders to justice. Canadians, the time has come when we can ill afford to stand listlessly by knowing that wholesale murder is being committed in our midst. When did we ever hear of the liquor found in the stomach of a man who died while drunk being sent to the government analyst to detect whether or not it contained poisons other than alcohol? We never hear of this kind of thing being done. The jury returns a verdict, "died from the effects of strong drink," and that settles all. It is never known how much vitriol, blue stone and other deadly ingredients were mixed with the drink. Isn't that so? Yes, that is about the state of affairs, you say. Now, should we not have a change at once? We will arise to a man and stamp out this evil. This law is going to be enforced right here in this town, and I would advise all those now engaged in the liquor trade to be certain that your liquors are not adulterated, to see the penalty attached to such a crime. If British law once gets its clutches on the devil that would dare sell these deadly poisons to his fellow men, the Lord have mercy on his soul. You men in the trade, if not certain sure that your drinks are unadulterated, close up your bars, for, perchance, ere the Scott Act is carried to-morrow at 5 o'clock a sample of your liquor may be before the Government analyst. Ye men, no! no! you fiends, who have been guilty of this crime, remember this, that every man, woman and child in this community, except yourselves, are and will be from this time forth energetic detectors, eager to bring you to justice and anxious to send you to your own place. Men of this town, don't stand by and refuse to vote for a law which prohibits the sale of poison to our brothers. Avoid the red letters on your ballot; they mean danger; vote for the Act. We have to face Scott Act or 15½ mills on the dollar on our taxes. Our Councilmen are voting for the Act. Help them to keep down taxes.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery, it is. Not only the largest air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lung, cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. CHINA HALL

GLASS
AND
QUEENS WA

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate cracked at that. Consider $24,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of seivres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $3,000 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissay ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $2,000 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

MILLINERY OPENING !
SPRING 1889.
HALL, INNES & CO.

Have pleasure in announcing that their Show Rooms will be fully opened for the season on

Tuesday & Wednesday
2nd & 3rd APRIL,

with a large and full display of Spring Millinery, including Pattern Bonnets and Hats direct from Paris, Ribbons, Flowers, Feathers, Ornaments, Mantles, Dolmans, Jackets, Beaded Visites, Toscas, Seabreezes, &c.

Our Show Rooms are now in charge of Miss Walker (who for years held one of the best positions in Hamilton) whom we can confidently recommend as in every way thoroughly competent to superintend this large and important branch of our business.

A cordial invitation extended to all to call and inspect our novelties in all departments.

Remember the date, Tuesday and Wednesday, 2nd and 3rd April.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Perfectly Lovely.

The ladies are delighted with the Millinery Opening at H. S. Griffin & Co's. Perfectly lovely is the expression so often heard. 1d77-1w14

Don't Fail to See

the largest and finest display of Spring Millinery and Parisian Novelties ever shown in Peterborough, at Hall, Innes & Co's. Opening on Tuesday and Wednesday, 2nd and 3rd April. 5d74-1w12

A Finger Crushed.

Another employee at the Central Bridge Works, named Wallace Guy, met with a painful, though not serious accident yesterday afternoon, when he had the second finger of his left hand badly crushed.

"Don't tease me no more," but go and get me a 5lb. package of that fine tea for $1, from M. R. KIDD. d66

A Farm Purchased.

What was known as the Stephenson farm, in the second concession of Smith and which contains 142 acres, was sold on Saturday afternoon, the purchaser being Mr. Alex. Fitzgerald, of Ashburnham. This is a magnificent property with a fine house, barns, etc., and is only about a mile from the corporation.

The Talk of the Town

The people are wondering why Elliott & Tierney are giving 18 lbs. bright sugar for $1, and selling teas and other goods so much cheaper than any house in Peterborough. Call at the Palace Grocery and examine the goods, which will convince you. The "Palace" is the place to get best values. Great stock-taking sale now going on.

WE delight in making our customers happy by giving the best groceries at lowest prices, at M. R. KIDD's. d66

To Contractors and Builders.

A machine for painting shingles, metal or zinc, paints both sides, edges and ends at once, at less cost than it would take to paint them on roof after being laid. Contractors, builders and intending builders can see sample of painted shingles and machine at Morgan House or Baptie's sash and door factory. All necessary information given. 1d78

Nicholls Hospital Report.

Number of patients in Hospital March 31st, 1889, 5. Diseases—Hip joint disease, 1; pneumonia, 1; malarial fever, 1; debility, 1; alcoholism, 1. Discharged cured, 7; improved, 1. Total number treated during month, 13. From Peterborough, 9; from county, 2; other places, 2. Pay patients, 6; non-paying, 7. Dr. Bell attending physician for March. Dr. Boucher and Dr. Pigeon in attendance on private ward patients.

At Auburn.

On Sunday afternoon a programme prepared under the Band of Hope was carried out in the Sunday school room at Auburn. Mr. Geo. Hilliard presided and their was a good attendance. Misses Hutchinson, Davidson and Rumming and Messrs M. R. Kidd and W. Graham took part in the singing. Recitations were given by Masters Adam Turner, Jas. Vought, George Vought and Miss Clara Rossiter. A dialogue by twelve members of the Band of Hope was appreciated. The service was very successful.

CAPTURED at last—a large stock of splendid tea. 5lbs. for $1 at M. R. KIDD's. d66

Assuming a Warlike Attitude.

Many other houses are becoming very indignant at the idea of W. J. Morrow controlling the grocery trade of the town and county. But never mind—be cautious—we will prove to all you grocers who are grappling for high prices that the time has arrived when W. J. Morrow will enlighten the public. Doing more of a cash business and a more extensive trade, he is better prepared to sell goods away down. Then again here are a lot of our best Toronto and Montreal houses clamouring for our trade, owing to our buying for cash, and hence the keen competition, thereby buying goods away below other houses. So a call will convince you that we are Peterborough's great Grocery House, 360 George-st.

MRS. L.—"You need'nt worry about your food, because I buy all my groceries from M. R. KIDD, and when he warrants a thing pure I know its so." d66

A MONTH'S CHARITY.

Councillor ADAM HALL then presented the report of the Charity Committee which showed the charity dispensed in the month of February amounted to $212.41, as follows:—No. 1 Ward, $46.75; No. 2 Ward, $51.40; No. 3 Ward, $25.50; No. 4 Ward, $88.76.

The report was adopted.

THE NORTH WARD SCHOOL.

A by-law to provide for the issuing of debentures to the extent of $10,000 for school purposes was given its first and second readings. The money is to be expended in purchasing a site and erecting a four-room school building in the North Ward and adding two rooms to the South Ward school. The by-law will take effect on the 15th day of April, 1889. The amount levied each year for re-payment of debt will be $400 for interest and $100 for sinking fund. The vote of the ratepayers on this by-law will be taken on the 1st day of May, 1889. The returning officers and polling places for the voting will be the same as the municipal elections.

$20,000 FOR A COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

Another by-law was introduced and given its first and second readings to provide for the issuing of debentures to the extent of $20,000 for the purchase of a site and the erection of a new Collegiate Institute. The vote on this by-law will be taken on the 1st day of May next, at the same place as the vote on the other by-law.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said it was not known exactly what the School Board was going to do with the money when they got it. It had been proposed to purchase the Menzies property, but he was opposed to this. If it was necessary to erect a Collegiate Institute in the town, and he doubted if it was, he was opposed to the by-law as it did not clearly define that it was to purchase a new site and erect a new building.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL said they had nothing to do with how the money was expended. The School Board asked them to submit a by-law and they had to comply with that request according to the law.

Councillor DAWSON also favored the defining of how the money should be expended, as he thought it should be stipulated that the money was to be expended in a site and a new building.

Councillor RUTHERFORD thought the Council had a perfect right to say how their money was to be expended.

THE COURT HOUSE PARK.

Mr. J. H. ROPER, President of the Horticultural Society, was given permission to speak and asked the Council, on behalf of the Society, for the annual grant of $200 to be expended in keeping the Court House Park in order and to pay for the services of a competent caretaker.

Mr. F. J. LEWIS, Treasurer of the Society, also briefly addressed the Council, and stated that since the Society had undertaken the management of the Court House Park they had fallen behind every year and he thought the Council should make the grant or assume the management of the Park.

Councillor RUTHERFORD thought St. Paul's Church should give a grant towards the expenses of the Park for the privilege and honor of having such a beautiful park in front of their church and as many of the members of the congregation passed through it on the way to church.

Some of the Councillors remarked that they had better ask the School Board also to make a grant, as the school children passed through the park on their way to school.

Dr. BURNHAM suggested that the Council might make a grant towards paying off the debt incurred by the Society for keeping the Park in repair. One of the County Council had stated that he believed that body would make a grant towards paying off that debt.

Councillor KENDRY moved, seconded by Councillor LANGFORD,—That the annual grant of $200 be made to the Horticultural Society.—Carried.

AN ENQUIRY.

Councillor DAWSON asked what became of the petition to have a water main on Weller-st.

Councillor ADAM HALL replied that the matter was still in the hands of the Water and Light Committee and would come up at the next meeting.

Councillor KENDRY moved, seconded by Councillor LANGFORD,—That the light on Auburn-st. be taken over by the town.—Carried.

THE NEW MARKET BUILDING.

Councillor CAHILL, after a few remarks in in reference to the deputation's visit to Hamilton to inspect the market building there, presented the following report:—

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Market Committee beg leave to recommend that a market building be erected on the west side of Water-st., north from the present market house to within about ten feet of Charlotte-st. The building to be of brick, two storeys high and about 36 or 40 feet wide and finished in good style. Also that the present market house be improved to correspond with the new one. The whole of the buildings when completed to be used for a market house and butcher stalls as may be hereafter determined. And that the Market Committee be authorized to proceed with the erection of said buildings, also that the market scales be removed to the north side of the present market house.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
T. CAHILL,
Chairman.

The report was received.

On motion the salary of the janitrix of the town buildings was raised from $3.00 to $3.50 a week.

THE ASSESSOR.

Councillor DAWSON asked how Mr. McGrath acted as assessor in the place of his father who was ill. He thought Mr. McGrath, sr., should resign, and then the son appointed, as he believed the latter was fully competent to perform the work, but he doubted the legality of the assessment under the present circumstances.

Councillor RUTHERFORD spoke in reference to the matter, which, he said, was a very important one, as the legality of the assessment might be questioned.

It was finally resolved to ask the opinion of the solicitor as to the legality of the assessment by Mr. McGrath, junior.

A COUPLE OF MOTIONS.

Councillor ADAM HALL moved, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—That the Fire, Water and Light Committee be allowed to call for tenders for two new watering carts.—Carried.

Councillor ADAM HALL moved, seconded by Councillor DAWSON,—That the Treasurer pay to the tax-collector the taxes on the Barnardo Home, less the school tax.—Carried.

Mayor Stevenson then left the chair, as he was leaving town on the 11.30 train, and Councillor Langford presided in his stead.

A TEMPERANCE DEBATE.

Councillor RUTHERFORD then rose and unburdened himself in reference to the Ontario Government's recent amendment to the Liquor License Act. He said if the Scott Act was repealed and the Crooks Act came into force the town would be robbed of between two and three thousand dollars by the iniquitous Act. He said that the temperance members of the Council had raised the licenses and thought they were doing great things to keep up the revenue and did not get any thanks for it, not even from the temperance people, and then the Government came in and grabbed the license money and the taxes would be raised to nearly 15 mills. The Council should signify its displeasure with the Ontario Government and ask the member for the West Riding if he had raised his voice against such an iniquitous measure.

Councillor CAHILL said if the Scott Act was defeated, and no doubt it would be, the Ontario Government would get about $2,300 which would make a difference of perhaps not more than ½ of a mill in the rate of taxation. But they would not lose this, for they never had it to lose, but had asked it unfairly from some of the citizens. He objected to Mr. Rutherford speaking of temperance members of the Council, which was an inference that some of them were not temperance men. He was a temperance man, but the difference was not between temperance and intemperance, but the question was which was best, the Crooks Act or the Scott Act. He objected to the comparison of figures that had been made of the number of convictions for drunkenness.

Councillor LANGFORD asked upon whose motion the Council had resolved itself into a temperance meeting and some councillor called out "move we adjourn" and adjourn they did.

THE FOOLISH FORGERY.

Victor Milburn Sent up for Trial—He Tried to Bribe a Constable.

Victor Milburn, the young man who was arrested on Saturday night while attempting to cash a cheque with Mr. T. Cavanagh's name attached thereto, was given his preliminary trial by Police Magistrate Dumble this morning before a crowded court room. Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, appeared for the prosecution and Mr. G. M. Roger was present for the prisoner. It appears now that Milburn had two cheques, both having Mr. T. Cavanagh's signature, the one he tried to have cashed being payable to "V. Milburn or bearer" and the other in favor of "W. Snowden or bearer."

WHERE HE GOT THE CHEQUES.

T. CAVANAGH was the first witness called and gave evidence that he did not sign the two cheques produced or authorize them to be signed.

THOS. TRENNUM was called and testified that the prisoner asked him on Saturday morning last to procure a couple of blank Ontario Bank cheques for him and that he (Trenaum) went to the Ontario Bank and got two cheques and gave them to prisoner. The latter stated to witness that there were two farmers who owed him some money and he wanted the cheques to have them filled in.

HOW HE TRIED TO PASS IT.

A. G. GOUGH, of Gough Bros., then told of the prisoner coming into his store on Saturday afternoon about 5.30 and selecting an overcoat worth $8.75. The prisoner said he would take the coat if Mr. Gough would cash a cheque he had of Mr. Cavanagh's for $100. Mr. Gough was suspicious and told Milburn that he had not that much money in the store, but would send out and get the cheque cashed. He sent a boy over to Mr. Cavanagh's with the cheque and the boy came back and said it was a forgery and that the police were looking for the prisoner. Constable McGinty then came in and arrested Milburn.

R. S. DAVIDSON also gave evidence. The young fellow came in and asked him to cash the cheque, but he told him it was not Mr. Cavanagh's signature. The prisoner said that he knew that, but Mr. Cavanagh's son Harry had signed it for his father. Mr. Davidson, however, told him he would not cash it.

ALEX. ELLIOTT also stated that the prisoner had asked him to cash a cheque.

Constable ADAMS gave evidence of having seen the prisoner in the police station, when the latter stated that he had written Mr. Cavanagh's name, but that he did it when he was drunk.

Constable MCGINTY told of arresting the prisoner and of finding the second cheque on him when searching him. The second cheque was also for $100. The prisoner offered him $10 if he would burn the paper.

After hearing the evidence the Magistrate sent the prisoner up for trial at the spring assizes, which open here on April 22nd.

Gone After Foster.

Chief Roszel left this morning for St. Thomas to bring back the man Chas. Foster, who left yesterday morning without paying his board bill, but was arrested at St. Thomas, and who it is alleged has been guilty of some crooked work while in the employ of the Singer Machine Company. The Chief will probably arrive home with his prisoner to-night and the case will come before the Magistrate to-morrow morning. A couple of the Salvation Army lassies, who supposed that Foster was in the cells here, came around this morning to see the prisoner and brought some lunch with them for his regalement, but were informed that the ex-Salvation Army captain had not arrived.

SPORTS ON THE GREEN.

THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION TELL OF LAST YEAR'S DOINGS.

Reports from the Directors—Appointment of Several Committees—Coming Celebration of the 24th—Several new Projects in Hand—Officers for 1889.

The adjourned meeting of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association was held on Monday evening in the rooms over Stethem's store. There was a good attendance of members, business being taken up shortly after 8 o'clock with the President, Dr. Geo. Burnham, in the chair.

Mr. F. E. BELL, Secretary, read the formal minutes of the last annual meeting (1888) which were adopted. The Secretary then read

THE DIRECTORS' REPORT.

The Directors in submitting their fourth Annual report have reason to be satisfied with the work of 1888; and to express the hope that the succeeding season will be as prosperous, financially as well as otherwise.

Cricket, as usual, took the lead and flourished. Ten matches were played and we had the opportunity of witnessing some good play, especially on the visit of the Seabrights, of New York. It is expected that the amendment to the constitution of the Ontario Association in having a senior and junior series will have the effect of giving cricket an impetus not only in Peterborough, but throughout the Province. The Cricket Club is making arrangements for securing the services of H. Day, the professional of last year.

Lawn Tennis was fairly successful, the club having had several meets in which the ladies took part, and it is to be hoped the club this year will make every effort to continue the meets this season.

The Directors regret that baseball was not successful from a financial point of view, but the club played a number of interesting matches both at home and abroad. Your Directors would recommend that the issue of permits to play baseball on the grounds be discontinued.

The Bicycle Club turned out much better in 1888 than in previous seasons, having held a series of weekly meets and runs in uniform. A great point of interest and profit to the Association was the excursion to Belleville on the 2nd of July, on the occasion of the Wheelmen's meet in that city. Your Directors would call the attention of the Association, that if the inducements were offered to the C. W. A. they might hold their Annual Meet in Peterborough this year, as there is a desire on the part of some members of the Association to do so. We would ask the meeting to take the matter into consideration.

In foot-ball, owing to the absence and removal from town of some of the principal players, we had no team last season, but this year there is no doubt we will be able to place a strong team on the field.

Owing to the shortness of the season and late arrival of snow, the Directors regret there was very little, if any interest, taken in this branch of sport.

The Directors would call attention to the term of our lease, which expires with the present season, and we have to consider the action necessary to secure the same grounds either by lease or purchase, or to secure some other available ground.

Your directors would call the attention of the association to the advisability of starting a gymnasium this fall, in connection with the association. Arrangements might be made with Sergt.-Major Randle to take charge of it, and it might be a source of profit to the association as well as a great benefit to the younger members thereof. We would suggest that a committee be appointed at this meeting to take into consideration the advisability of such a scheme and the best means of carrying it out, to report to the directors, or to a meeting of the Association to be called for that purpose.

The Association held, in connection with the 57th battalion, very successful sports on the 24th of May. They were a source of profit to the Battalion and the Association. It would be for this meeting to consider the best way to celebrate the Queen's Birthday this year.

The treasurer's statement shows the receipts for fees and from other sources, to have been in excess of the expenditure, leaving a small surplus. In the payments is included some accounts of previous years, showing that the association is self sustaining, although there is a small deficiency, caused, as stated in previous report, by expenditure of a permanent nature. To reduce this debt is our first aim, and for this purpose your directors have arranged for two entertainments to be given in the latter part of April, for the benefit of the Association funds.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

F. E. BELL Secretary, G. BURNHAM President.

The PRESIDENT called attention to important subjects mentioned in the report and gave some verbal explanations regarding the getting up of a gymnasium, etc. and to the proposed celebration of the 24th of May.

The report was received and laid on the table.

The Treasurer's report was read by Mr. Geo. Schofield, Treasurer, and showed that the affairs of the association had been carefully managed and that there was a fair balance to the good in addition to paying off some indebtedness incurred in improvements to the grounds and supply of sundries. The statement was received and referred to Messrs. Parker and Smith as auditors.

Propositions for membership were declared in order and several new members were proposed and elected.

DISCUSSING THE REPORT.

The directors report was taken up with the idea of discussing the suggestions contained therein. The important matter of re-leasing the present grounds or procuring other suitable premises was referred to a committee composed of Messrs. Burnham, Hay and Bell.

The question of organizing a gymnasium was talked over. The scheme was endorsed as a good one and well within the province of the association, but nothing definite was determined other than to refer it to a committee composed of Messrs. R. Hay, Schofield and Dr. Brennan.

The matter of the celebration of 24th May was handed over to the care of the new board of directors.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers was taken up with the following result:

HON. PRESIDENT.—Dr. Halliday.

The following Board of Directors were also elected:

FOR THE BASEBALL CLUB.—Dr. Brennan and Mr. Salisbury.

FOR FOOTBALL CLUB.—R. B. Rogers.

FOR SNOWSHOE CLUB.—Geo. Schofield.

FOR LAWN TENNIS CLUB.—W. D. Parker.

FOR CRICKET CLUB.—W. J. Minore, J. Stirling.

FOR BICYCLE CLUB.—Dr. Burnham, F. E. Bell.

After some further discussion of matters of general interest the meeting adjourned.

Brevities.

CHINA HALL

CHINA
GLASS
AND QUEENS W

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,780 being given for a china plate cracked at that. Consider $84,800 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of sèvres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $2,400 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $2,500 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

BEAUTIFUL JIM.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER

I mean that you—you murdered Owen, and I know it—you dastardly young hound; and you tried to fasten it on me—you scoundrel!" and forthwith Beautiful Jim set to work and shook the lad, much as a terrier shakes a rat and with as little mercy, until in fact the teeth seemed to rattle in his head, and his very knees seemed to knock together. Then, with a last burst of fury, he flung him from him into the big chair, where he lay gasping and livid, more like a limp rag than a smart young officer—to say nothing at all of his being the last of the Earles.

But even then he did not altogether give in. "You shall answer for this!" he panted.

"Answer for it!" echoed Jim, with mighty scorn. "Yes, by the heavens above us, I will answer for it. I will answer you, you damnable, cowardly hound. I say you murdered Owen, murdered him in cold blood—you struck him from behind. I have the most convincing proofs against you. I have only to disclose the subject of Owen's conversation with me that afternoon, and to show the ring that he insisted on having from that woman, to put the rope round your neck without a chance of escape."

"Ring!" gasped Tommy, in a different tone. "What ring? What woman?"

"What ring? What woman?" Jim repeated, in disgust. "Do you come that humbug over me still? Then, Mister Earle, I will enlighten you. I mean the sapphire and diamond ring, engraved with your family crest and motto, which you gave as a pledge of affection to that sharp nosed little huzzy at the Duck's Tail! Ah!—you know what ring I mean, do you?" as a groan of utter and abject despair burst from the lad's lips.

Jim went on without mercy. "Yes, I see it all—all. You went to see that woman on your way back to barracks from Blankhampton, and she—like the double faced, designing little jade she is—told you Owen had been there, that he had seen the ring on her hand and insisted on her giving it up. Then you came back and bided your time, and after Owen left my room, you followed him to his. And then, you came your 'last of the Earles' air with him and demanded your ring, and Owen refused to give it to you until he had communicated with your father"——

"He did not," broke in Tommy, eagerly.

"Ah! those were not the precise words, I dare say," said Jim, carelessly, "but I can give you the precise words which were the last the dear old chap ever spoke—they were these: 'Consider yourself under close arrest. Go to your room at once and I will send for your sword!' and then," said Beautiful Jim, speaking very slowly and distinctly, "you—went—back—and killed him!"

The lad had been lying helplessly back in the big chair staring at Jim with a fascination piteous to behold, but as the last words fell upon his ears, he sprung up, trembling in every limb.

"I never meant to do it—never—I swear it. I had no thought of harming him; it was done in blind rage; it was, indeed."

"H'm. Was it blind rage which prompted you to try to palm off your dastardly cowardice upon me?" Jim demanded, contemptuously. "Was that blind rage?"

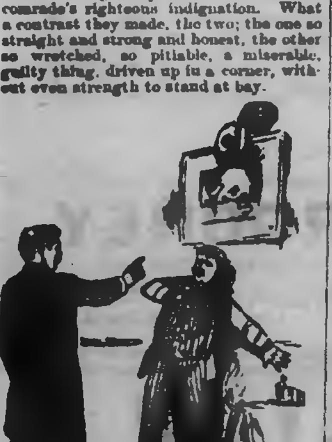
"I have been mad ever since," replied the lad abjectly. "God above only knows how and what I have suffered. I have not known what I've been doing. I haven't indeed."

"Ah! there's been a good deal of method in your madness, though," returned Jim in disgust.

"But, Beresford—Jim"—Tommy began, when the other interrupted him sharply:

"Jim to my friends only—Beresford to my equals," he said, curtly. "To you, now and for always, Mr. Beresford, if you please."

The miserable lad made no reply, but he hid his face upon his arms, shivering and shrinking away from the blaze of his comrade's righteous indignation. What a contrast they made, the two; the one so straight and strong and honest, the other so wretched, so pitiable, a miserable, guilty thing, driven up in a corner, without even strength to stand at bay.



At last he looked up. "What are you going to do?" he asked, hoarsely.

"Do!" Jim repeated. "Why, what should I do but tell the colonel the whole truth at once?"

Young Tommy shuddered and buried his face in his arms once more. "They will hang me," he moaned.

"And a good thing, too," returned Jim, coolly. "The sooner the better, before you have time to do any more mischief. And one thing is very certain, which is that you'll thoroughly deserve it."

"No, no," Tommy cried, "my family; my father. Oh! no, no, Beresford, don't help me; for the sake of my name, don't."

To be Continued.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

Absconder Walters in Baltimore — Inland Revenue and Customs Receipts.

HAMILTON, April 1.—Chief McKinnon returned this morning from Baltimore, Md., where he had an interview with Henry Walters, the absconding ladies' mantle maker. Walters was making arrangements to start business in Baltimore, and did not want to return to Hamilton. As Walters did not commit any offence for which he could be arrested, the chief had hard work in making him return the horse and buggy he got away with. He finally got possession of them and sold them for $200. Walters was living in a secluded part of the city, and had the horse and phaeton stabled at a quiet place. His wife was very cunning when she was on her way to join her husband. She purchased tickets to way stations so as to throw pursuers off her track. Chief McKinnon would not say whether he made Walters return any of the money he swindled two clerks in the post-office out of.

The receipts at the Inland Revenue office during March were $34,208, an increase of $4117 over the corresponding month last year.

The value of exports from the consular district of Hamilton to the United States during March was $41,028.

The customs receipts for March were $66,877, an increase of $6800 over March, 1888.

French-Canadian Aggression.

QUEBEC, April 1.—Yesterday Madame Roberge of St. Nicholas, a parish just above the city on the other shore, gave birth to triplets—two boys and a girl.

Harrison's Appointments.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—It seems to be the universal expectation among senators that the Senate will adjourn the present special session sine die to-morrow. If the session ends to-morrow it will have been of exactly the same length as the one convened by President Arthur to receive President Cleveland's nominations. President Harrison has sent in about 280 nominations since March 5, all of which, with a very few exceptions, have been reported from committee, and will have been confirmed before adjournment. Of the offices yet to be filled the most important are Commissioner of the General Land Office and Public Printer. It is believed they will be filled within a few days. Editor Osborne of The Los Angeles Evening Express, the discoverer of the Murchison letter, is believed to be the man selected for public printer, but no satisfactory guess can be made as to the Land Commissioner.

Two Years for a Bigamist.

BELLEVILLE, April 1.—The Police Magistrate to-day sentenced Joseph Douglas, the bigamist, to two years in the penitentiary. Douglas was married to four women, all of whom are said to be living.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery, it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if every thing else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

TURNBULL'S COLUMN

Whatever the weather has been outside, it was the springiest of spring time in our store on Wednesday and Thursday last, when all the New Millinery and Millinery belongings were opened out of their close fitting boxes. For the benefit of those who could not get in on those days we will keep the display up all the first week of April. Among the leading changes noticeable in the trimming this season is Lace Ends and Scarfs and Long Veils drawn in with baby ribbon are the Leading Trimmings. The old fashion hop that used to climb up the pole on the back door is now found falling over the Black Lace Hats. Having struck a cheap line of Flowers (German make), the Germans copy the French designs and give us the goods cheaper. We have a bouquet for everybody, bunches of roses in all colors for 35c. each. Our Stock of Children's Trimmed Hats is unusually attractive. Sailor Hats in endless variety, we have not room to give them a front show. We were disappointed at not being able to show with the millinery, the new Jet Capes, Silk Viscottes and Trimmed Dolmans, but there is time enough yet and we expect them in on the first freight train. A fine assortment of Cloths in the order department. All hands busy as bees in the work rooms up-stairs.

The Dress Goods Department is as lively as ever. A new line of Vigors and Cloth is 8 shades, 44 inches wide at 60c., came in this week. A glance at them will tell you they are serviceable. With them came a new line of German Dress Cloth, we have shown nothing similar before, is just what any lady would fancy for a Genteel Dress. Will show another new make next week. Miss Mercier is always pleased to help you with her advice as to length of dress, pattern, style of making and trimming, whether you wish to have it made by her or not.

Kid Gloves, fresh from the hands of the maker in Austria at 75c. and $1.00 a pair. This line we had in stock before, but the quantity was small and we only had a pair for a lady here and there.

Corsets. Spring brings changes and this one has brought one of the nicest makes we have ever shown. All the best makes from the leading manufacturers coming in and going out again. Large sizes for stout ladies always in stock.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT ON THE RECENT LOAN.

He Thinks it Unfavorable—The House Making Progress With the Estimates—A Long Sitting in Supply.

OTTAWA, April 2.—Most of the time of the House to-day was occupied in Committee of Supply and considerable progress was made with the estimates. Before going into supply a discussion arose with reference to the 3 per cent. loan recently negotiated by Sir Charles Tupper.

Sir Richard Cartwright inquired whether the Government considers that the language used in the prospectus of the 3 per cent. loan recently negotiated in London, whereby it is declared "that the Canadian Government intend to apply the sum annually required for redemption of the national debt in purchases of the stock now offered," requires them to use the sinking funds therein referred to in the purchase of said 3 per cent. loan in case said securities should be held at a premium at the time of purchase.

Hon. G. E. Foster, Minister of Finance, said the Government would be required to make such purchases unless at the time of the proposed purchase the bonds were unduly high by reason of undue combination.

Sir Richard Cartwright held that this provision very materially altered the character of the loan and made it one of the most unfavorable negotiated by Canada in place of, as had been admitted hitherto, a highly advantageous one. He believed that this proviso, to apply £730,000 a year to the repurchase of the loan, had the practical effect of making it a loan repayable in ten annual instalments instead of a 50 year loan as had been intended, and that we were bound to repurchase the bonds at the current rate even though much above par.

Hon. G. E. Foster said he would think the matter over and make an early statement. He would consult with Sir Charles Tupper who had negotiated the loan.

The House then went into Committee of Supply and the appropriations for immigration purposes were taken up. Objection was taken to the nature of a large part of the immigration coming to Canada and Sir Richard Cartwright suggested that some stringent steps should be taken to prevent the landing of paupers. Men of this class, he said, overflowed our large cities. In Toronto on last Christmas day 8000 free dinners had been distributed. He did not say that these 8000 were all paupers or all immigrants, but a large proportion of them were and he thought the immigration system was responsible for the fact that there were in any one city so many persons willing to accept eleemosynary doles from their fellow citizens.

Messrs. Denison, Cockburn, McNeill, Tyrwhitt and Mulock took exception to the impression being given that there were 8000 or anything like that number of persons in Toronto who could be designated as paupers in any sense of the term, and pointed out that the liberality of leading citizens had placed Christmas luxuries on the tables of very many people who were far from being in absolute want.

In connection with the criticism of the class of immigrants reaching Ontario, Dr. Sproule said the people of the west would prefer that the immigrants destined for those places should be landed at Montreal, or better still at Toronto, so that the best of them would not be diverted, as was now the case, on the way west from Quebec.

Mr. Bain of Wentworth advocated the adoption of the Castle Garden system of looking after immigrants so as to keep them out of the hands of sharks such as now fleeced them of their money.

Hon. Peter Mitchell took exception to the maintenance of an agent at Hamilton as he thought there was no use for one there.

Hon. John Carling said there were a large number of immigrants who came in by way of Suspension Bridge and over the Grand Trunk Railway who stopped at Hamilton until they found work. This was a very important point, and the agent there could not well be dispensed with.

Mr. McKay corroborated the statement that Hamilton was an important distributing point for immigrants, and thought that if Mr. Mitchell was to visit that city for a short time he would be very forcibly impressed with its importance.

After recess Messrs. Mulock and Somerville brought before the House the cases of Immigration Agents Smyth and Webster, whose accounts are now being investigated before the Public Accounts Committee. It was charged that they had rendered little or no real services for the monies paid to them but had been useful only for political work in by-elections.

Hon. John Carling warmly repudiated this charge, holding that Messrs. Webster and Smyth had rendered valuable public services for every dollar received. He condemned the course taken in bringing this matter before the House when it was still under investigation by the Committee, where he thought the gentlemen affected could make satisfactory explanations. As far as he and the Government were concerned they had acted fairly and squarely with Mr. Smyth and Mr. Webster, and he had no doubt these gentlemen had acted the same with the Government.

The immigration estimates being passed, those for Public Works were next discussed, and then those for ocean and river service.

The House adjourned at 1 a.m.

The C.P.R. Bill.

OTTAWA, April 2.—Mr. Edgar has given notice that he will move to amend the bill now before Parliament respecting the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, so as to provide that the issue of the new consolidated debenture stock shall be subject to the right of the Government of Canada to withhold all postal subsidies and other monies payable to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company from time to time by the Government, to meet payments of interest in arrear upon all bonds issued under the provision of 21 Vic., cap. 32.

IN THE DARK CONTINENT.

TANLEY'S STORY OF THE MARCH TO THE NYANZA.

A Record of Perils Braved and Difficulties Overcome—A Gloomy Trip Through the Forest—Battles With Savage Foes.

LONDON, April 2.—Henry M. Stanley's letter dated Sept. 4, 1888, describes the journey between Yambunga and Albert Nyanza. It goes much into detail and is very interesting. Mr. Stanley, after stating the orders given by him to Major Barttelot, described the advance of the column. The expedition, which consisted of 389 officers and men, started from Yambunga June 28, 1887. On the first day the expedition marched twelve miles along the river bank to Yankarde. On the approach of the column the natives set fire to their villages and under cover of the smoke attacked the pioneers. A skirmish followed lasting 15 minutes.

During the next six days the expedition marched inland in an easterly direction through a densely-populated district. The natives used every art known to them to molest and impede the advance of the party, but although several conflicts took place Stanley did not lose a man. Finally, perceiving that the path he had been following was taking him out of his proper course, Stanley struck out toward the northeast and again reached the river July 5. From this date until Oct. 18 he followed the left bank of the Aruwhimi. After 17 days of continuous marching the expedition halted for one day's rest. On Aug. 1 the first death occurred, the cause being dysentery. So far for 34 days the course had been singularly successful.

The party now entered a wild country, in their nine days' march through which their sufferings multiplied and several deaths occurred. On Aug. 13, on arriving at Airsibba, the natives presented a bold front and the party lost five men from poisoned arrows. Lieut. Stairs was wounded below the heart and suffered greatly, but he recovered.

On Aug. 31 the expedition met a party of Mangemas and their misfortunes began on this date. He had taken the Congo route to avoid Arabs, who would tempt his men. Within three days of this unfortunate meeting 26 men deserted. What Stanley describes as an awful month began on Sept. 18. Leaving the station of the Arab chief Ugarrava when the expedition numbered 263 men, having lost 66 by desertion and death and having left 56 sick with Ugarrava, the march led to the Arab settlement Kalinga Longa. The men lived on wild fruits, fungi and nuts. Before reaching Kalinga Longa Stanley lost 55 men through starvation and desertion.

A slave owner at Kalinga Longa named Abedsalim did his utmost to ruin the expedition short of open hostilities. He insisted upon purchasing rifles, ammunition and clothing, so that the expedition left the station beggared. The men were absolutely naked and were so weak that they were unable to carry the boat. Stanley was therefore obliged to leave the boat together with 70 loads of goods at Kalinga Longa under the care of Surgeon Parke and Capt. Nelson, the latter of whom was unable to march. After a five days' journey the party on Nov. 12 reached Ibwirri. The Arab devastation, which had reached within a few miles of Ibwirri, was so thorough that not a native hut was left standing between Ugarrava and Ibwirri. What the Arabs did not destroy the elephants destroyed, turning the whole region into a horrible wilderness. Mr. Stanley continues:

"Our sufferings terminated at Ibwirri. We were beyond the reach of destroyers. We were on virgin soil in a populous region abounding with food. We ourselves were mere skeletons. From 389 persons we now numbered 174, several of the party seeming to have no hope of life left. A halt was ordered for the purpose of recuperating. Hitherto our people were skeptical of what we told them, the suffering had been so awful, the calamities so numerous and the forest so endless that they refused to believe that by and by we would see plains and cattle, the Nyanza and Emin Pasha. They had turned a deaf ear to our prayers and entreaties, for, driven by hunger and suffering they sold their rifles and equipments for a few ears of Indian corn, deserted with the ammunition and became altogether demoralized.

Perceiving that mild punishment would be of no avail I resorted to the death penalty, and two of the worst cases were hanged in the presence of all.

We halted for 13 days at Ibwirri, revelling on fowls, goats, bananas, corn, yams, etc. Supplies were inexhaustible and our people glutted themselves with such effect that we had 173 sleek and robust men. One had been killed with an arrow.

"When we started for Albert Nyanza on Nov. 24 we were still 126 miles from the lake. Given food the distance seemed nothing. On Dec. 1 we sighted an open country from the top of the ridge connected with Mount Pisgah, which was so named from our first view of the land of promise and plenty. On Dec. 5 we emerged upon the plains leaving the deadly and gloomy forest behind us. After 160 days of continuous gloom we saw the light of broad day shining all around making all things beautiful. We thought we had never seen grass so green or a country so lovely. The men literally leaped and yelled with joy and raced over the ground with their burdens. This was the old spirit of former expeditions successfully completed and all suddenly revived. Woe betide the native aggressor whom we may meet! However powerful with such a spirit the men will fling themselves upon him like wolves on sheep. Numbers will not be considered. It was the eternal forest that had made them the abject slavish creatures so brutally plundered by Arab slaves at Kalinga Longa.

"On the 9th we entered the country of the powerful Chief Mazamboni. The villages were scattered so thickly that no road except through them could be found. The natives sighted us but we were prepared. We seized a hill as soon as we arrived in the centre of a mass of villages and built a zereba as fast as billhooks could cut the brushwood. The war cries were terrible from hill to hill pealing across the intervening valleys. The people gathered in hundreds at every point, war horns and drums announcing the struggle. After a slight skirmish, ending in our capturing a cow, the first beef we had tasted since we left the ocean, the night passed peacefully, both sides preparing for the morrow."

Mr. Stanley narrates how negotiations with the savages failed, Mazamboni declining a peace-offering and how a detachment of 40 persons led by Lieut. Stairs and another of 30 under command of Mr. Jephson with sharpshooters left the zereba and assaulted and carried the villages, driving the natives in a general rout. The march was resumed on the 12th. There were constant little fights all along the route.

"On the afternoon of the 13th," says Stanley, "we sighted the Nyanza, with Kavalli the objective point of the expedition. Six miles off I had told the men to prepare to see the Nyanza. They murmured and doubted, saying; 'Why does the master continually talk this way? Nyanza indeed.' When they saw the Nyanza below them many came to kiss my hand. We were now at an altitude of 5200 feet above the sea, with the Albert Nyanza 2900 feet below in 1 degree 20 minutes. The south end of the Nyanza lay largely mapped for about six miles south of this position and right across to the eastern shore. Every dent in its low flat shore was visible, and traced like a silver snake on the dark ground was the tributary Lanilki, flowing into the Albert Nyanza from the southwest.

"After a short halt to enjoy the prospect we commenced the ragged and stony descent. Before the rear guard had descended 100 feet the natives from the plateau poured after them, keeping the rear guard busy until within a few hundred feet of the Nyanza plain. We camped at the foot of the plateau wall, the aneroids reading 2500 feet above the sea level. A night attack was made, but the sentries sufficed to drive our assailants off."

At Kakongo, at the south-east corner of Albert Lake, the people would not exchange the blood of brotherhood and make friends, and as Stanley could get no boat he was forced to return to Ibwirri and send a party back to Kalinga Longa for a boat. At Ibwirri the explorer was laid up for a month with gastritis and an abscess on the arm. Returning to Mazamboni's country the chiefs took the blood of brotherhood and supplies poured in.

Upon reaching the Nyanza a note was received from Emin asking Stanley to remain where he was until Emin could communicate with him.

Stanley met Emin on April 29 and they were together until May 23.

Stanley concludes: "At Fort Bodo I have left instructions to the officers to destroy the fort and accompany the Pasha to the Nyanza. I hope to meet them all again on the Nyanza, as I intend making a short cut to the Nyanza along a new route."

Gen. Boulanger Mysteriously Disappears But is Expected to Turn Up Again.

PARIS, April 2.—The Chamber of Deputies by a vote of 306 to 236 has rejected the Senate's proposal to prosecute summarily all papers guilty of libelling Government officials. The Cocarde says that Gen. Boulanger, being warned yesterday that the Government was preparing for a coup, arranged so that he should not fall into the Government trap and left the city. The police are mystified. "The General," adds The Cocarde, "will appear when duty requires him. It is our impression that he has hidden himself temporarily, perhaps in Brussels."

Lord Randolph Declines to Run.

LONDON, April 2.—Lord Randolph Churchill has declined to become a candidate for the vacant Parliamentary seat in Birmingham.

A Disabled Sovereign.

THE HAGUE, April 2.—In Parliament today the Prime Minister read the report of the court physician on the condition of the King, which stated that His Majesty was suffering from chronic diabetes and nephritis and was unable to fulfil the duties of a sovereign. The Prime Minister announced that the Council of State, in view of the King's condition, asked Parliament to assent to the establishment of a regency. A decision on the subject will be given tomorrow.

Many Wrecks in the Pacific.

AUCKLAND, April 2.—The recent hurricane in the South Pacific Ocean swept over 1200 geographical miles, embracing in its track the Hervey and Society groups of islands. The American ship Red Cross, from New South Wales for San Francisco, was driven ashore at Raratonga and wrecked. The crew was saved. The American ship Ada Owen was wrecked at Ouara. Her crew was saved. Wreckage from the British ship Suakim, from New South Wales for San Francisco was seen at Aitutaki. It is supposed that the crew perished.

A Crime Like Harvey's.

LONDON, April 2.—A revolting deed has been committed by a police inspector of Hamburg, named Weichert. At a recent trial certain disclosures were made in which it was shown that the inspector had resorted to extortion. Overcome by the disgrace and the knowledge that he would be severely punished for his crime, Weichert deliberately cut the throats of his wife and 9-year old son and then ended his own life in a similar manner.

The Losses at Colborne.

COLBORNE, April 2.—The losses by the fire this morning were: Wm. Coxall, general store, on building, $3000, insured in Liverpool, London and Globe for $2000; on stock $23,000, insured in Lancashire for $5000, Royal $2000, Western $4000, Imperial $1000. The adjoining building, owned by A. F. Peterson and occupied by Crandell Bros. as general merchants, was badly damaged. Peterson's loss is fully covered by insurance in the Glasgow and London. Crandell Bros.' stock was almost a total loss by water and smoke, but is fully covered by insurance in Queen's, Phœnix and Imperial. The Brunswick Hotel, owned by D. L. Simons and occupied by Hicks & Co., was slightly damaged.

A Blaze at Welland.

WELLAND, April 2.—About 2 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the house and barn of Geo. Ross, C.E. After considerable difficulty the fire was got under control, but not until both buildings were completely wrecked. The buildings were insured for $1100, furniture for $200.

Chicago's Political Flop.

CHICAGO, April 2.—A landslide for the Democrats was the result of to-day's election. Returns from 207 precincts out of 390 give a majority thus far of 5428 for Cregier (Dem.). Predictions at the City Hall give Cregier the election by 8000 to 10,000 over Roche (Rep.). Two years ago Roche carried the city by a majority of 20,000.

Nearly every office in sight was captured by the Democrats. Later returns show that all their candidates in the city ticket are elected by pluralities averaging 12,000.

A Millionaire's Spring Suit

AUBURN, N.Y., April 2.—Nelson Beardsley, millionaire, has been sued by Receiver Hayes to recover $100,000 alleged to have been fraudulently obtained from the First National Bank prior to its suspension while a director and knowing the institution to be insolvent.

Jacques Cartier's Statue.

QUEBEC, April 2.—Work on the foundations for the erection of the proposed statue of Jacques Cartier on the banks of the St. Charles has been commenced. The work is to be ready for unveiling on June 24.

Salved With $15,000.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Miss Clara Totten to-day secured a verdict of $15,000 against C. H. Read, proprietor of the Hoffman House, in a suit for $100,000 for breach of promise.

Suicide at Meaford.

MEAFORD, April 2.—Joseph Hutt, a young Englishman about 23 years of age employed by the Meaford Building and Manufacturing Company, committed suicide here last night. He first tried to take his life by taking a dose of paris green, but evidently took too large a dose and threw it off. He next went to the river, a short distance from where he was boarding, and jumped in. After dragging the river some time this morning the body was discovered. No cause is known for the rash act, as he was a sober, industrious young man. His remains were taken charge of by his aunt the only relative he had in this country, and will be buried to-morrow.

A TRIBUTE TO MR. POPE.

REFERENCES IN THE SENATE TO THE DEAD MINISTER.

Mr. Scott Speaks of the Unbounded Faith Placed in Him by Those Among Whom He Had Grown Up.

OTTAWA, April 2.—Hon. Mr. Abbott, leader of the Government, and Hon Mr. Scott, leader of the Opposition, in the Senate, made touching references to-day to the death of the late Mr. Pope.

Mr. Scott alluded to it as a rare occurrence that the deceased had represented his constituency for a period of over thirty years continuously. "I know," he said, "of no other instance in this country but one in which that honor was conferred upon one individual for so long a period. Gentlemen have been in Parliament no doubt for longer terms, but constituencies are unstable and fickle, and often change from one to another. It was Mr. Pope's good fortune to be held in such esteem by those who knew him best, by his own people in the very locality where he grew up from boyhood, that most unbounded faith was placed in him."

The remains of the late Hon. J. H. Pope, Minister of Railways, were conveyed this afternoon to the Canadian Pacific Railway depot, and will be interred to-morrow in the family cemetery in Cookshire, Que. The pall-bearers were: Sir John Macdonald, Sir Hector Langevin, Hon. John Carling, Senator Cochrane, Mr. Trow, M.P., Mr. Colby, M.P., and Mr. Alonzo Wright, M.P. Rev. Mr. Pollard of the English Church read the funeral service.

Sir John Macdonald was greatly affected as the remains of his old and trusted colleague were placed in the hearse. Deceased's son-in-law (Mr. Ives) and his son were the occupants of the mourning carriage. Floral wreaths were presented by A. W. Ross, M.P., and others. The employes of the Railway Department were granted a holiday to attend the funeral. The remains were conveyed by special train. Messrs. VanHorne, Shaughnessy and Solicitor Clark of the C.P.R. were present, and also Mr. Wainwright of the G.T.R.

THE GUELPH TRAGEDY.

A Verdict of Wilful Murder Against Wm. H. Harvey.

GUELPH, April 3.—The inquest into the death of Mrs. Harvey, Lilian and Geraldine Harvey was resumed yesterday. Nothing new was elicited. The jury at 1.30 this morning returned a verdict of wilful murder against the prisoner W. H. Harvey.

FOUND IN AN "EMPTY" BAG.

Several Hundred Letters Discovered in the Montreal Postoffice Attic.

MONTREAL, April 2.—An employe of the Postoffice made a somewhat remarkable discovery in the attic of the building last week. In a number of mail bags he found three packages of letters aggregating from 300 to 400, all for Montreal, from Winnipeg, the Maritime Provinces and the United States, which had been posted at the latter end of February and in March. The postmaster was communicated with and an investigation held with the result that he was forced to the conclusion that the letters had been concealed there by some one who was only waiting a favorable opportunity to ransack them for money.

The postoffice authorities have been unable to ascertain who purloined the letters, but Mr. Lamothe thinks they were taken not by any of the clerks but by some of the workmen who have been engaged in building throughout the winter. Fortunately none of the letters were tampered with and they were sent to their destination with the somewhat peculiar announcement "Found in an empty bag."

DRIVEN OUT OF TOWN.

Winnipeggers Treat "Prof." Ernest to an Unpalatable Mixture.

WINNIPEG, April 2.—It is stated the Mormons are practising polygamy in the Macleod district.

Prof. Ernest, who eloped with a married woman, was driven out of town last night after being treated to a mixture of axle grease, syrup and paregoric.

Some unknown person deliberately fired two shots at Charles Wilson on Sunday and then disappeared.

Ice began running in the South Saskatchewan yesterday.

It is reported that Gillies, M.L.A for Minnedosa, will resign.

The Portage extension will be completed in ten days.

The investigation into the arson case at Roberts' tobacco store was finished to-day. No results were obtained.

MISSING MISS MACKELCAN.

The Absence of a Hamilton Lady Causes Uneasiness.

HAMILTON, April 2.—A great deal of uneasiness exists as to the safety of Miss Louisa Mackelcan, than whom Hamilton has no more highly respected or charitably disposed lady. For some time past Miss Mackelcan has been very ill and her mind was unable to stand the severe strain. Yesterday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, after returning from a drive, she disappeared and it has been impossible to find any trace of her since, though the members of the family and the police searched all night and to-day.

Thomas Jenkins, an alleged horse thief, was arrested last night by Detective Campbell, and brought before Police Magistrate Cahill this morning. Jenkins admitted that he took the horse from Frederick Gardner of Berlin, for whom he worked, but he claimed that it was understood that he was to go back and work out the price of the horse, which he had traded for a cow. Chief Klippert arrived this afternoon and will take the prisoner back to Berlin for trial. The detectives have not recovered the horse.

Donald Dawson, collector of statute labor tax, slipped on an icy sidewalk this morning, his head striking the corner of a stone step. He will be laid up for some days.

Rev. Arthur H. Baldwin of All Saints' Church, Toronto, has been asked to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. Hartley Carmichael, rector of the Church of the Ascension here. Mr. Baldwin will give an answer this week as to whether he will accept or not. Mr. Carmichael goes to Richmond, Va.

A Message of Sympathy.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Secretary Tracy to-day received from Lord Charles Beresford of the British Navy the following cablegram: "Allow me to express the heartfelt sympathy and regret myself and brother officers feel in the loss suffered by the American navy at Samoa." A suitable reply has been sent.

Suicide of Gen. McConnell.

TOPEKA, April 2.—Gen. H. M. McConnell, a prominent attorney of Osage, Kas., who was concerned in a sensational shooting affair with James McNamee, a wealthy contractor, two months ago, committed suicide at the Fifth-avenue Hotel this morning. McConnell was a general in the Army of the Potomac, and was a leading politician. The cause of the rash act is unknown.

The Official Figures What they show?

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I see by the "official figures" published in your paper, that under the Crooks Act the number of "drunks and drunk and disorderly" brought before the Police Court was steadily decreasing from year to year, notwithstanding the fact that our population has been largely increasing during those years.

I think it should be borne in mind that it is not a question of temperance or intemperance that the people will be called upon to decide to-morrow—if it were the choice would be soon made—but a question of which is the better act to promote temperance, the Crooks Act or the Scott Act. We see by the "official figures" that the number of drunks has not been decreased under the Scott Act as was the case under the Crooks Act, but on the contrary immediately after its introduction have shown a tendency to largely increase and therefore it must be assumed that the Crooks Act is the better act of the two.

It should also be borne in mind that the Crooks Act is now very much more stringent in its provisions than it was three years ago, that public opinion is entirely in its favor and hence it can be enforced while the reverse is the case with the Scott Act and its enforcement.

I notice, Mr. Editor, that in all these Scott Act agitations its chief advocates come from Toronto. Then the question naturally presents itself, if the Scott Act is a good thing, why don't these people advocate it in Toronto? Are our people lower in the moral scale as to drunkenness and other crimes than the people of Toronto? I think the universal answer will be no. Toronto now gets more than its fair share of the trade of the province and the more restrictions they succeed in putting on outside towns the more still will trade concentrate in Toronto, hence the anxiety of some Toronto people to look after our business. Many honest advocates of the Scott Act will admit this.

I am in favor of temperance legislation and favored the Scott Act, but know now that it has proved an utter failure, not only here but wherever it has been tried. Rev. Bishop Manto Eastburn, D.D., says, "I am decided in favor of a license law and against a prohibitory law. I speak from observations I have made and from reports from those who have visited the poor at my suggestion."

Rev. Geo. E. Ellis, D.D., says:—"All efforts to coerce men in their private habits only tend to make them worse. The existence of prohibitory law for fifteen years shows that it met with the approbation of the legislators, but the open defiance of it in the community shows that it has not its effect upon the majority of the people. The experience of well known temperance workers like these gentlemen might be multiplied, but it is not necessary, for such as theirs is our own experience. Now, sir, I think it is quite certain that the Act will be repealed in the adjoining counties of Victoria and Northumberland and if it should not be repealed here it would be well to consider how far it would affect the business interests of our town. I leave those interested to consider the matter, and remain yours, with thanks for your valuable space,

Scott Act Outrage.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—The Toronto and Kingston papers give an account of the blowing up by dynamite of a portion of the house of the Rev. Mr. Stillwell, of Sydenham. Mr. S. was absent from home, attending a Scott Act meeting. He had been threatened, and when Mrs. S. and children were alone the dastardly deed was done. This is part of the policy of the whiskey party. Electors, do your duty and come out and vote to make illegal a traffic that resorts to such tactics.

Vote for Scott Act.

Our Ancestors.

Every man has two parents, four grandparents, eight great-grand parents, sixteen great-great-grandparents, thirty-two great-great-great-grand-parents, and so on ad infinitum. Reckoning twenty-five years to a generation, and carrying on this line of calculation to the time of William the Conqueror of England, it will be found that each person now living in Cincinnati must have at that time, even, the enormous number of 35,000,000 of ancestors. Make the usual allowance for crossing, or inter-marrying of families in a genealogical line, and for the same persons being in many of the intersections of the family tree, still there remain a number at that period even to cover the whole Norman and Anglo-Saxon race. What, therefore, might have been pious, princely, kingly, or aristocratic, stands side by side in line with the most ignoble, plebeian, or democratic. Each man to-day may be certain of having had not only barons and esquires, but crowned heads, dukes, princes, bishops, barristers, physicians and so on among his ancestors. If he hasn't a crest to-day it isn't the fault of his ancestors, but the fault of the record.—Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Hess Bros.' Failure—A Druggist's Death by Poison—Fatal Accident.

TORONTO, April 2.—Hess Brothers, manufacturers, have succumbed to the weight of circumstances and a meeting of creditors is called. The recent fire was a severe blow, and, coupled with other reverses which might otherwise have been tided over, has brought an unexpected tumble. The liabilities known amount to about $80,000.

The failure of Halley Brothers, wholesale boots and shoes, Yonge-street, is also announced, the liabilities amounting to something in the neighborhood of $18,000.

The Woman's Enfranchisement Association held their first ward meeting in Cecil Hall. Dr. Emily Stowe presided. Mrs. S. A. Carson gave an account of her visit to the House of Commons, and Mrs. Vassey read a paper on the progress of woman suffrage in England.

At the Toronto Presbytery meeting yesterday morning a resolution strongly condemnatory of the Jesuits' Act allowance was unanimously carried.

Referring to the death of Hon. John Henry Pope, a private letter from Ottawa says: Sir John Macdonald was with his old colleague a few hours before his death. Mr. Pope made a great effort to say good-bye for the last time, and the two shook hands and parted. The deceased Minister was a millionaire and by his will has left the Premier a legacy of $100,000.

Charles F. Wilkes, a druggist, carrying on business at Beaverton, died under suspicious circumstances at No. 43 Stewart-street Monday night. Mrs. Wilkes has occupied furnished rooms at the above address for some time while her husband attended to his business at Beaverton. He occasionally visited her, and arrived quite unexpectedly on Saturday night, not having informed Mrs. Wilkes beforehand that he purposed visiting Toronto. Wilkes has been married for six years, and has no children. He was 30 years of age. It is stated that the deceased was in the habit of taking a strong drug to overcome the effects of intoxicants. Coroner Duncan held an inquest yesterday and it was shown that the cause of Wilkes' death was an overdose of morphia taken as an opiate.

An injunction was obtained yesterday restraining Chief of Police Grasett and J. Lee West from paying over or recovering the money found in West's possession at the time of his arrest. West is the alleged New Orleans boodler, and $1400 was found on his person when arrested. The sum is therefore tied up until Friday.

When James Jeffery took boarding at a house on Hayter-street he presented a recommendation from the Y.M.C.A. as a good Christian young man in search of board in a Christian family. This was a month ago, and on Saturday he was caught pilfering. Yesterday morning Jeffery acknowledged serving sixty days in jail, and he was committed to the Central Prison for six months.

Thomas R. Milne, veterinary surgeon, No. 2 Bloor-street east, was arrested Monday night on a very serious charge, it being alleged that he snatched a satchel from Miss Elim Simpson on Saturday night. A remand until to-day was made. Col. Denison examined Miss Simpson relative to bail. The latter stated that she passed the defendant's office about 9.30 o'clock on the night in question. He came out and addressing her asked her if he could not carry her parcel. She walked on, unheeding him. In front of the Ladies' College the prisoner tore the satchel from her hand. It contained three pairs of glove and $1.38 in money. She positively identified the prisoner as the person who committed the robbery. He was liberated on bail.

The World this morning says: "His Lordship Bishop Walsh of London, The World is informed on undoubted authority, has been appointed to the Archdiocese of Toronto. The official announcement will be made in a few days."

Yesterday afternoon John Davins aged 22, of 81 Niagara-street, jumped off a train going west near the foot of Bathurst-street. He was struck by a train going in the opposite direction and had his left leg severed at the knee and the right leg above the ankle broken. He was taken to the Union Station, where Dr. Riordan dressed the wounds, after which the injured man was conveyed to the Hospital. He rallied and for a time was conscious but gradually sank, dying at 5.40 last evening. Deceased was a G. T. R. brakesman, but was not on duty at time of accident. He was married.

Enough of That Kind.

The poor servant girl is not always to 'blame. Sometimes it is the mistress. A girl who applied for a place to do "second work" over on the West Side astonished the lady by asking if she allowed her servants to talk above a whisper. The lady said they could make all the noise they cared to if they would only do their work well, and wanted to know why the girl asked that question. "Well," she replied, "I have been working for a North Side lady who does not permit her servants to talk aloud. The first day I was with her I had my frizzes on, ma'am, and she asked me if they were false. When I told her they were false she said I must remove them. The next day I wore a small brooch at my throat. She called me into her room when she noticed it and told me I must remove it—she did not allow her servants to wear false hair or jewelry. Then she wanted me to wear a white dress all the time. I said I was afraid I might dirty a white dress when I did my work, and she said I must do my work so that I would not get a white dress dirty. I left that lady, ma'am, and I want to understand you before I come here." She was hired. Do you blame her for quitting her North Side place?—Chicago Herald.

HATS!

Hats, gentlemen, Hats!

In the name of People, Hats!

And why, Hats!

The Hat is the badge of respectability, the trade mark of civilization—that is any kind of a decent Hat. And properly, too.

Let us consider this question of Hats.

Had Bonaparte paused on the way to Waterloo to select a new Hat the result might have been different.

Had Christopher Columbus worn a shabby Hat, could he have made the fine impression he did on landing in Amerikay. No much. Not any.

Had Julius Cæsar carried a neat and taking head cover, his untimely decease might have been indefinitely postponed. History is jam full of incidents that point to the necessity of wearing a good Hat.

Men have been crossed in love, fallen off scaffolds, been beaten at the polls, arrested on suspicion, failed in business, and lost the respect of their fellow citizens by wearing a bad Hat.

The moral of all this is, come to us for your Hats. It's a new department with us, and a mighty good one. It's good because its new, and wholly new and good. We do nothing by halves. See our Stock. See what we offer in Style, Material, Shape and Finish. You can take your pick of the Best Goods by the Best Makers. We discount the Town on Hats.

Assuming a Warlike Attitude.

Many other houses are becoming very indignant at the idea of W. J. Morrow controlling the grocery trade of the town and county. But never mind—be cautious—we will prove to all you grocers who are grappling for high prices that the time has arrived when W. J. Morrow will enlighten the public. Doing more of a cash business and a more extensive trade, he is better prepared to sell goods away down. Then again here are a lot of our best Toronto and Montreal houses clamouring for our trade, owing to our buying for cash, and hence the keen competition, thereby buying goods away below other houses. So a call will convince you that we are Peterborough's great Grocery House, 340 George-st.

An Alleged Forgery.

Charles Foster, the young man who was arrested at St. Thomas on Monday when on his way to Detroit, was brought back to town last night by Chief of Police Roszel. At the police court this morning he was arraigned on a charge of having forged the name of Mrs. Arthur Armstrong to the receipt of a sewing machine. Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, appeared for the prosecution and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun was present for the defence. Mr. Wood asked for an enlargement of the case until Friday as witnesses would have to be brought from Millbrook. The Magistrate, however, wished the trial to proceed as soon as possible, as he did not wish to detain the young man in gaol any longer than was absolutely necessary, and he granted an enlargement until to-morrow morning and fixed bail at $400. Mr. Dennistoun remarked that he did not think the case would go further than that court. Foster was unable to procure bail and was taken gaol. Of course, the board bill of about $70 that Foster left behind him when he left cannot be collected at the Police Court, as no charge can be laid against him for that offence.

FEES.

The balance of fees for the Collegiate Institute for March was $2.50, and Public school $7.50.

MR. STRATTON'S FAREWELL.

The following letter was read from Mr. J. R. Stratton:—

GENTLEMEN,—After a membership of many years of your Board, a legislative change has made my connection with your Board in the dual relation of newspaper publisher and member incompatable with the strict technical construction of the law, and though I am not conscious of having done anything contrary to the public interest, and though I have reason to believe I still retain the confidence of my constituents, I hereby tender my resignation as a member of your Board.

From the manner in which the Board dealt with my tenders for school supplies at its recent meeting, it seems my intention to terminate my membership was anticipated, a decision I should have given effect to at the last meeting, if my absence from town had not made my attendance impossible. In conclusion permit me to express my thanks for the courteous and kindly treatment I have received from my associates on the Board, with the assurance that my change in relations to the Board will not diminish my solicitude for the educational interests of the town, now relax my efforts in that promotion.

I have the honor to be, yours very truly,
J. R. STRATTON.

The communication was received.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

A report of the Finance Committee was read recommending the payment of the following accounts:—

THE NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL.

MR. RUTHERFORD reported for the Building Committee that plans for the North Ward school and the addition to the South Ward school had been selected, with the exception of heating. They had waited for the report of the deputation that went to Lindsay before deciding as to the heating. A change in the system of heating in the South Ward school would cause considerable expense, as they would have to excavate a chamber and build chimneys, but it would make no practical difference as to the North school.

THE SMEAD-DOWD SYSTEM.

Mr. DUMBLE read the report of the committee that visiting Lindsay.

The report said that the committee was received with every courtesy by the Trustees of the Lindsay schools and by the Principal of the Collegiate Institute. It stated that the new building in Linday was a handsome edifice and gave particulars regarding the rooms and equipment. It contained a large lecture room on the third storey, capable of seating 600 people, where the Literary Society held its meetings. The entire building, halls and rooms were of uniform heat. The heating apparatus was the Smead-Dowd and appeared to be the most satisfactory kind. The Principal and teachers were enthusiastic in its praise, alleging that the perfect ventilation and pure air gave teachers and scholars more vigor and ability for work than the impure air of the old system. The closets below the building were the most striking feature of the whole system, for although in use for some months one could not judge of their proximity by the senses, the foul air from the entire building being gathered and passed through the excreta compartment, desiccated, dried the contents and swept all odors up the chimney—the heat from the smoke making the draft sufficient in winter, and a very small fire in summer in a fire pot in the chimney effecting the same result. The anti-rooms of the closets were used as cloak room. The janitor said that in very cold weather he burned half a cord of good wood, which, considering the result, was a very moderate expenditure for effectually heating such a building. The perfect system of ventilation would safely allow of double windows. The entire cost of the building, heating apparatus and furnishing was about $28,000. There were six masters, and the aggregate salaries was $5,700. There were 215 pupils and the order was good. The situation of the grounds and surroundings were favorably mentioned. The report added that there was no fifth form in the Lindsay public schools. It was found that fifth form work could be more cheaply done in the Collegiate Institute. The ordinary fee of the Institute was $10 a year. There were 15 Public School teachers. Particulars as to the Public Schools were given. The head master of the Public Schools had no department to teach, but spent all his time visiting the several schools, a method which was pursued at other places with good results. The committee thought the method could be adopted here with very beneficial results. In conclusion the committee was of opinion that school matters in Peterborough both in the Institute and Public Schools must at once receive considerable more consideration from the Board, as they were satisfied that there was urgent need for improvement. Mr. Dumble added that the first cost of the Smead-Dowd system was the final cost, as it was not likely to get out of order.

The report was adopted.

Mr. ENGLISH said that for the closet part alone the Smead-Dowd system was worthy the attention of the Trustees.

Mr. RUTHERFORD said that any kind of a furnace would cost $300 or $400, a hot water system would cost about $1,100 and a steam system would cost $900. He favored putting in the best system.

Mr. DUMBLE moved that the Building Committee be authorized to use the Smead-Dowd system in the South and North Ward schools if it could make satisfactory arrangements.—Carried.

THE PUPILS' PETITION SHELVED.

The petition of the Collegiate Institute pupils was taken up. After considerable discussion, and after the opinions of several teachers had been heard, the matter was referred to the School Supervision Committee.

TEACHERS' SALARIES.

Mr. DUMBLE brought up the subject of the teachers' salaries.

After some discussion the Board adjourned and a meeting of the Appointments Committee was held.

Mr. DUMBLE, when the Board resumed, read the following report:—

The Committee on Appointments having considered the subject of salaries referred to them beg to report that they ascertained the salaries paid in the public schools of Lindsay, Port Hope and Cobourg, and after comparing them we found that the salaries paid at Peterborough were very much less than in any of these places.

We find that Port Hope has 18 teachers and pays in all to its public school teachers $4,[illegible]; Cobourg has eleven teachers, total salaries $3,925; Belleville with 23 teachers pays $9,270; Peterborough with 20 teachers pays $4,[illegible]; Lindsay with 14 teachers pays $5,500.

After careful considering the matter your committee recommend a few small changes which, while putting the salaries on a more equitable basis, will only slightly increase the total expense.

Your committee recommend that the salaries of the teachers be:—1st grade, $[illegible] each; 2nd grade, $275; 3rd grade $300; 4th grade $350; 5th grade as at present. That the Principal of the South Ward school be paid $[illegible]. The salaries as above to run from 1st of January last.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
D. W. DUMBLE,
Chairman.

The report was adopted, and after discussion as to the duties of the janitor the Board adjourned.

The total increase in the salaries amounts to $370 a year.

TO-MORROW'S STRUGGLE.

The Voting in the Scott Act Repeal—Where to Vote.

To-morrow afternoon at five o'clock the ratepayers of the County of Peterborough will have decided by their votes which, in their opinion, is the better for the interests of this county, the Canada Temperance Act or the Crooks Act. Which ever way the decision may be, it will hold good during the next three years. The interest in the voting has not been very manifest in town, although in the last few days the question has been the subject of considerable talk and prophecy. The Returning Officer, Mr. Chas. Stapleton, has completed all the preliminaries, and the different polling places throughout the County will be open at nine o'clock to morrow morning and will remain open until five o'clock in the evening. Those who are entitled to vote are all ratepayers whose names appear on the Dominion Voters' List—that is, those who voted at the last Dominion election. The polling place in town number 14, and that voters may know where to go to cast their ballot the following list is printed:—

WHERE TO VOTE.

The voters will cast their ballots in the same division as they did at the last Dominion election.

HOW TO VOTE.

The vote will be by ballot and the voter will record his mark "for the Act" or "against the Act." The form of the ballot is:—

Against the Act.
For the Act.

"Against the Act" is printed in red ink, "For the Act," in black ink. Mark your cross in one of the spaces to the right of the words.

A Neat Souvenir.

Some months ago Mr. H. W. Watson was given some white lead to test by an agent of a Glasgow manufacturing firm, and tested it satisfactorily. The agent returned to Scotland and to-day Mr. Watson received a handsome watch-guard ornament in the form of a miniature silver elephant—the brand of the material—made of silver extracted from the ore in the manufacture of the lead.

Legal Legal.

At Osgoode Hall yesterday before Galt, C. J., the following case of local interest came up and is thus reported by the Mail:—Fawcett v. The Country will be safe.

A cadet company has been organized by the male students of the Collegiate Institute. The company will number forty-two men strong and will be instructed in the regular military drill and manœuvres by Sergt.-Major Rundle. An hour in one afternoon of each week will be devoted to drill and the boys will undoubtedly make a creditable showing in a short time as soldiers as well as reap the benefit of the exercise. The company intend if possible to procure uniforms and will undoubtedly merit the term "soldier." The officers elected are:—

CAPTAIN—Harold Fife.
FIRST LIEUTENANT—W. H. Hamilton.
SECOND LIEUTENANT—E. B. Boucher.

St. John's Church.

We have great pleasure in informing our readers that the special preacher for this evening at St. John's Church is the Rev. J. C. Roper, M.A., one of the best known and most widely sought after clergymen of the city of Toronto. For several years Prof. Roper was at Trinity University, where he held the chair of Divinity, having been selected for that position by no less a dignitary than the Archbishop of Canterbury. To the great grief of both faculty and students (whose hearts he had completely won) he resigned his position three months ago and last St. Thomas' day began the arduous task of working up a parish which enjoyed the distinction of being the most ill managed and neglected in Toronto. When one of the present curates of St. John's took the evening service in St. Thomas' one Sunday last August there were seventeen persons in the congregation! But Mr. Roper has already filled his church and, no doubt, a large building will soon be erected, and St. Thomas' Church become one of the most popular in Toronto. Those who heard Mr. Roper in St. John's last Lent will doubtless appreciate the privilege of again hearing a preacher of such spiritual insight and sympathy. The subject selected by the rev. gentleman is "The Reading of the Bible." Mr. Roper will certainly have something thoroughly helpful to say on such a subject. We bespeak for him a large congregation.

HEAR YE, OH MORALISTS!

REV. MR. CROSSLEY GIVES THE WORD TO SEVERAL CLASSES.

An Able Discourse—Rev. Mr. Hunter Speaks Strongly to the Swearers—The Dialect of Hell—An Immense but Divided Audience—Notes.

It was an uncommon sight that the vast audience which filled the George-st. church last evening presented. The galleries were packed to their fullest capacity with ladies who gazed down upon a congregation in the body of the church composed entirely of men. The meeting was more especially for men and to these the evangelists more particularly addressed themselves.

Rev. Mr. Crossley sang for his opening solo the hymn "Meet me in Heaven."

THE DIALECT OF HELL.

Rev. Mr. HUNTER read the evening lesson from the 5th chapter of James. He began at the twelfth verse, where it says "But above all things, my brethren, swear not." Then he stopped and dropped a few plain words to the swearers. He said he did not know what the devil would do when he got a swearer down into hell. The evangelist said if he was a business man he would not have a man in his employ who swore, for he did not think a man who blasphemed could be trusted. Swearing was the dialect of hell, which was enough to stifle the air of heaven and dim the light of the stars. They heard men spewing from their black hearts through their dirty mouths, oaths damning the Lord—the God that gave them everything. Then there were fathers swearing before their sons or other little boys and, of course, the example was followed. In God's name he prayed them never to swear again, for their oaths and curses would run up against them in the judgment and as they swung back they would send them down to the darkest depths of hell. There were several reasons why they should not swear—God forbids it, the conscience condemns it, the awful example, it was ungentlemanly, foolish and sinful, it pained and disgusted others and destroyed the soul. The evangelist said if he was a mother he would never give a daughter's hand in marriage to any man who drank or swore. When Mr. Hunter came to the verse "And the prayer of faith shall save the sick and the Lord shall raise him up, and if he hath committed sins he will forgive him," he said he had marked "T and P" before that verse in his Bible. "T and P"—"trusted and proved" and the evangelist pathetically told the story of the miraculous saving from death of his little girl who had been given up by the physicians but the prayers of himself and his wife had been answered.

Rev. Mr. Crossley then sang especially for the father's present the tender and touching hymn "Papa, come this way."

Prayer was then asked for a number of special request, among which was one for prayer for the young man who had that day been placed in gaol on the charge of committing a crime and another asking the prayers of all Christians for two fallen women who had that day been released from the gaol.

THE WORD OF THE LORD.

Rev. Mr. CROSSLEY said his text could be found some place in the Old Testament. It was:

"Earth, earth, hear ye the word of the Lord."

The rev. gentleman said that suggested where they were going—they were only refined dust and unto dust they must return. This suggested their mortality, and in view of this how important was the last part of the text, "Hear ye the word of the Lord." He would give them the word the Lord had sent to several different classes. First, to the moralists he said, hear ye the word of the Lord—"Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in His sight, for by the law is the knowledge of sin." The evangelist then spoke a few words to those who were depending on their morality for salvation, and said he wanted the moralists whom they specially coveted, to see that by the deed of the law they could not undo sin, but they needed the washing by the blood of Jesus. Then to the men who were absorbed in business and who were less likely to be saved than the man of twenty, he said hear ye the word of the Lord—"Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness and all things will be added unto you." The rev. gentleman said many men thought they could not follow their business or profession if they were Christians, but he said the Lord would be no impediment to the business men and he wanted them to hear the word of the Lord. To those who were seeking to be Christians secretly he said hear the word of the Lord—"With the heart man believeth unto righteousness, but with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." The

he said, were often used by outsiders to hit the church, and he wanted all who had been making an attempt to serve the Lord secretly to hear the Word of the Lord. Then to the careless and unawakened, those who were waiting for some special feeling, he said, hear ye the Lord—"Awake thou that sleepest, rise from the dead and Christ shall give thee light." Mr. Crossley said it might be that some of them had gone so far that they could not be awakened, but if there was enough spiritual preception or common sense in them to let them see their danger, he urged them to listen to the Word of God. "Awake thou that sleepest!" Those who said it was hard to be a Christian and who thought they could not be true to Christ, he asked to hear the Word of God, "If we confess our sins He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." Lastly he said to those who were tampering with strong drink, hear ye the Word of the Lord—"Look not upon wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright; at last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." The evangelist said people were talking about the Bible speaking of the use of wine, but the wine that was referred to in the Saviour's time was not the fermented and intoxicating wine. The Lord called the juice of the grape wine and said, "Look not upon the wine when it is red." The Bible in Proverbs 20 and 1 said whosoever tampered with strong drink was a fool, and the evangelist at some length and in earnest language dwelt on the danger of tampering with drink, and in concluding urged the men to come unto God who was able to save even unto the uttermost all who came unto Him.

Rev. Mr. HUNTER then exhorted the men of the vast audience who were unsaved, and spoke of the few men who were saved after thirty or forty years of age. He asked all the men of the audience who had been saved after they were fifty years of age to stand up, and there were only two answered the call. Then he asked those who had been saved after they were forty, then after thirty and then after twenty and the number increased every time. He asked all those who wished to start a new life to rise, and several responded and then the first meeting closed.

NOTES.

Rev. Mr. Crossley was unable to sing during his sermon last evening, as he was suffering from a severe cold.

Charlotte-st. Church was crowded yesterday at the afternoon meeting.

A meeting for school children was held this afternoon in the George st. Church.

Many ladies were unable to gain admittance to the church last evening.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething, or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

The Canada Stained Glass Works, of Toronto, have again increased their staff in every department. The Scott Act.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Under Dunkin Act, Crooks Act and Scott Act adulterated liquors have been sold to an alarming extent. As yet there has been no action on the part of the people to bring these offenders to justice. Canadians, the time has come when we can ill afford to stand listlessly by knowing that wholesale murder is being committed in our midst. When did we ever hear of the liquor found in the stomach of a man who died while drunk being sent to the government analyst to detect whether or not it contained poisons other than alcohol? We never hear of this kind of thing being done. The jury returns a verdict, "died from the effects of strong drink," and that settles all. It is never known how much vitriol, blue stone and other deadly ingredients were mixed with the drink. Isn't that so? Yes, that is about the state of affairs, you say. Now, should we not have a change at once? We will arise to a man and stamp out this evil. This law is going to be enforced right here in this town, and I would advise all those now engaged in the liquor trade to be certain that your liquors are not adulterated, to see the penalty attached to such a crime. If British law once gets its clutches on the devil that would dare sell these deadly poisons to his fellow men, the Lord have mercy on his soul. You men in the trade, if not certain sure that your drinks are unadulterated, close up your bars, for, perchance, ere the Scott Act is carried to-morrow at 5 o'clock a sample of your liquor may be before the Government analyst. Ye men, no! no! you fiends, who have been guilty of this crime, remember this, that every man, woman and child in this community, except yourselves, are and will be from this time forth energetic detectors, eager to bring you to justice and anxious to send you to your own place. Men of this town, don't stand by and refuse to vote for a law which prohibits the sale of poison to our brothers. Avoid the red letters on your ballot; they mean danger; vote for the Act. We have to face Scott Act or 15½ mills on the dollar on our taxes. Our Councilmen are voting for the Act. Help them to keep down taxes.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery, it is. Not only the largest air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate cracked at that. Consider $24,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of seivres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $3,000 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $2,000 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

BEAUTIFUL JIM.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER

"And what the devil has your name to do with it?" Jim returned, roughly. "Did the fact that you are the last of the Earles keep you from compromising yourself with a little slut that you knew your father would have died rather than receive as his daughter? Did being the last of the Earles keep your hand from murder? Did it keep you from trying to fasten the blame of that murder upon an innocent man? No; don't talk to me about your family. Show me something your family has done for you before you expect that claim to have any weight with me. No, 'pon my soul, when a long and honorable name comes to an end with such an infernal young scoundrel as you are, the sooner it is blotted out altogether the better."

"I never meant to kill him," Tommy protested, shrinking over the word as if the word was really more than the thing. "I had no such thought in my mind. I hadn't, Beresford, upon my honor."

"Your—what?" asked Jim, in genuine amazement.

The lad turned scarlet. "You think I haven't any honor," he said bitterly. "Well, I suppose I've forfeited any right to that forever. Any way, you may believe me or not, as you like, but I'll tell the whole truth. I had no thought or intention of harming Owen in the least, but I was furious at his interference in a matter which did not in the least concern him, and Owen was frightfully sarcastic and bitter about the whole affair. If he had spoken to me reasonably and told me I was a young ass I should have seen the justice of what he said. But he didn't—he jibed and jeered at me; taunted me with my youth, my family, my general idiocy; and I couldn't get back my ring. No; he meant to keep the ring until he saw my father, and he swore that nothing should induce him to keep quiet about it. I had disgraced my name, he said, and myself, and the regiment, and everything and everybody connected with me, and my father should know about it at once. And, of course, I was frightfully angry about it, for it isn't pleasant to have one's doings canvassed over to one's father, and I dare say I did answer pretty cavalierly—in fact, I believe I told him to go to the devil. Any way, he put me under arrest, and—and—and then I went back and chinked that dumb bell at him; but, Beresford, upon my soul, as sure as I am alive this moment, I had no thought of doing him a serious injury, let alone of taking his life; I had not, indeed. I was just blind with rage. I didn't know what I was doing."

"You were not blind with rage when I came in here to-night," said Beautiful Jim, who was not in the smallest degree moved by the lad's story, though he implicitly believed every word of it.

"I was worse than that, I was desperate," Tommy answered, humbly. "I—don't"— and then all at once he gave way entirely and broke down into violent weeping.

And Beautiful Jim stood looking at him, at the convulsively shaking shoulders and the fair, lovely head, so like hers—the one who did not count, but the one who was all the world to him. It was with an awful shock he realized that the news must reach her sooner or later; that, young scoundrel as he was, he was her brother, and if disgrace touched him it would of necessity touch her also.

Quick as thought his mind put into ideas all that would happen—he saw the almost certain death of the frail old man, bearing his good old name with honor to the last, but crushed completely beneath the shame and degradation of his son's end; he saw Nancy, with her pure, noble mind, and her sweet dove's eyes, left alone, quite alone—for he knew that even for justice tender Nancy would never forget that his had been the hand to bring him to punishment. "And, oh! God forgive me—Owen, dear old friend, forgive me," his heart cried within him. "I cannot be the one to break her heart—I cannot do it."

But was this a choice? Scarcely! His heart and soul were wrapped up in Nancy Earle. She was the one woman that the world held for him. No, there was no choice about the matter. The vision of Nancy decided the question, and the wretched, sobbing, craven hearted lad in the big chair was safe, or, if not actually safe, he was safe, at least, from Beautiful Jim's vengeance.

Having once come to a decision, Jim was not the man to let the grass grow under his feet. There was much to be done, for if Tommy was to be shielded he must be shielded effectually. "Here, stop that howling, you miserable young cur," he said, breaking the silence at last, and speaking in a sharp, authoritative tone. He had any amount of the tenderest and most touching pity for Nancy; but for the boy, none. He would let him, for his sister's sake, go scot free, but he was troubled by no sickly sentimentality about the lad's abject terror and expressions of sorrow. "Quite right if the young devil does feel it," he told himself as he watched Tommy's efforts to regain composure. "I hope he'll go on feeling the same way for the rest of his life. I sincerely hope it."

"Come! What good do you think that will do?" he demanded, roughly. "I'm not going to expose you, though I tell you candidly, if there was no one but yourself to think of, I should have called for the colonel long before this. But there are others to think of besides yourself; there's your family—no, I don't mean the family pedigree that you are so fond of bragging about, but your old father, and the sister who has had to play second fiddle to you all her life—the Earle that doesn't count. Just you remember, will you, that it's for her sake I do you this service, not in the very smallest degree for your own."

By an immense effort Tommy pulled himself together and looked up at Jim. And Jim thought that a more pitiable object than the lad's white and haggard face, with its wild and staring eyes, he had never seen. He strode to the door and turned the key in the lock.

To be Continued.

Chicago's Bloody Murder.

CHICAGO, April 2.—Charles Hutchinson, aged 22, was murdered early this morning by his brother-in-law, Patrick Reynolds. Hutchinson and his mother lived in Reynolds' house. Hutchinson rose from bed and entering the room where his sister and her husband were sleeping, demanded that they close their window. Reynolds ordered Hutchinson out and Hutchinson struck Reynolds in the face. Reynolds seized the water pitcher and struck Hutchinson with it with so much force that the handle was detached. Hutchinson again rushed at Reynolds and the latter struck him with the jagged handle of the pitcher, one of the edges of which severed Hutchinson's jugular vein. He fell and as he was bleeding to death Reynolds and his wife went back to bed and fell asleep. Neighbors reported the matter to the police and the entire family was arrested. This evening Mrs. Reynolds made a confession.

Maloney Threatens Retaliation.

MONTREAL, April 2.—When Andy Maloney's case was again postponed this afternoon Maloney complained of the delay and said he had been ready from the moment of his arrest to meet the charge. He openly declared in court that the goods were his and he meant to have them sooner or later. When the case was done he would have actions against the parties who had caused his arrest.

The U. S. Senate Committee on Canada.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The special Senate committee on relations with Canada, charged with investigating the commercial features of the subject, will meet in Chicago May 3 and thence take a trip probably over the Northern and Canadian Pacific Railroads. The members of the committee are Senators Hoar (chairman), Allison, Hale, Dolph, Pugh, Butler and Voorhees.

Alleged Murder on the High Seas.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Captain Hecksher and Mates Beveridge and Campbell of the English bark St. Andrew were arrested here to-day, charged with murdering Elias Neilson, a sailor, on the high seas. Six seamen assert that the accused officers beat Neilson so brutally that he died. The case has been transferred to the British Consul.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING. EPPS'S COCOA BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette

Dress Goods, Dress Goods.

We have been fortunate in securing a large lot of fine French Dress Goods at about 20 cents on the dollar, and have now placed them on sale on the table in the centre of the store. Ask to be shown the fine All Wool Dress Goods, we are selling @ 8c. per yard. Ask to see the All Wool Debeige, @9c. per yard. Fine French Dress Goods worth 40c. for 15c. In all there is about 2500 yards and the sale is extraordinary. With these came a lot of Bavarian Curtains, bought at 50c. on the dollar, which are selling very rapidly.

House Furnishing Department.

We are showing unprecedented value in all classes of Carpets and Curtains; Oilcloths from the low grades to the heaviest English floor oils.

Tailoring Department.

As usual our display of Scotch and Canadian Suitings, English and French Worsted Coatings, and many novelties in Pantings have been appreciated, from the fact that our orders are far in excess of previous seasons.

We can show you some big bargains in Tweeds. See our All Wool Halifax Tweeds @ 25, 35, and 50 cents per yard. These lines are a marvel of cheapness, and are sold elsewhere at very much higher prices.

We cannot fully describe our stock, but we have plenty of display room where you can see it conveniently, and judge for yourself.

TURNBULL'S COLUMN

Whatever the weather has been outside, it was the springiest of spring time in our store on Wednesday and Thursday last, when all the New Millinery and Millinery belongings were opened out of their close fitting boxes. For the benefit of those who could not get in on those days we will keep the display up all the first week of April. Among the leading changes noticeable in the trimming this season is Lace Ends and Scarfs and Long Veils drawn in with baby ribbon are the Leading Trimmings. The old fashion hop that used to climb up the pole on the back door is now found falling over the Black Lace Hats. Having struck a cheap line of Flowers (German make), the Germans copy the French designs and give us the goods cheaper. We have a bouquet for everybody, bunches of roses in all colors for 35c. each. Our Stock of Children's Trimmed Hats is unusually attractive. Sailor Hats in endless variety, we have not room to give them a front show. We were disappointed at not being able to show with the millinery, the new Jet Capes, Silk Visettes and Trimmed Dolmans, but there is time enough yet and we expect them in on the first freight train. A fine assortment of Cloths in the order department. All hands busy as bees in the work rooms up-stairs.

The Dress Goods Department is as lively as ever. A new line of Vigors and Cloth in 8 shades, 44 inches wide at 60c., came in this week. A glance at them will tell you they are serviceable. With them came a new line of German Dress Cloth, we have shown nothing similar before, is just what any lady would fancy for a Genteel Dress. Will show another new make next week. Miss Mercier is always pleased to help you with her advice as to length of dress, pattern, style of making and trimming, whether you wish to have it made by her or not.

Kid Gloves, fresh from the hands of the maker in Austria at 75c. and $1.00 a pair. This line we had in stock before, but the quantity was small and we only had a pair for a lady here and there.

Corsets. Spring brings changes and this one has brought one of the nicest makes we have ever shown. All the best makes from the leading manufacturers coming in and going out again. Large sizes for stout ladies always in stock.

"RANDY" AND THE TORIES.

HIS DECISION A GREAT RELIEF TO THE GOVERNMENT.

Enfield a Disappointment to the Home Rulers—The Dominion Loses a Case in the Privy Council.

LONDON, April 3.—Lord Randolph Churchill's refusal to contest the seat made vacant at Birmingham by Bright's death will be an unwelcome surprise to his Birmingham friends, but it is a great relief to Lord Salisbury and his colleagues. Nothing has so startled them as the offer. Both parties held meetings last evening and both nominated candidates. The Gladstonian nominee is Phipson Beale, a respectable chancery barrister, who requires no further notice. The Tories, by a unanimous vote, invited Lord Randolph Churchill to redeem the pledge he gave in 1885 to again contest the central division of Birmingham. That was one of the many daring episodes in his singular career. He stood against Bright, who beat him by only 400 votes, and he won the hearts of his supporters, not without some help from Lady Randolph. Since that time he has been a minister, has resigned, has been criticised, has attacked the Government of which he was a member, has been anathematized by his former friends, has been read out of the party with bell book and candle by his leading organ, and has been held up to the public and denounced in private as a politician who had forfeited the confidence of his party, who had ceased to be of importance, and who had no following anywhere in the country.

This unanimous invitation from Birmingham is the answer to all that. It appears after all that the views of the official mind are not shared by the great body of their followers, or even by the party managers so completely as the official mind would desire. In fact, they are not shared at all, and this it is which not only angers but startles Lord Salisbury and his colleagues. Had Lord Randolph accepted the nomination, his election was certain. His refusal lays the ministry under an obligation which they may or may not acknowledge, and which may or may not soften the relations between them. At Birmingham, meanwhile, the Tory camp is in confusion.

Home Rulers Disappointed.

LONDON, April 3.—Enfield is not even a moral victory for the Home Rule Liberals. They hoped to cut down the Tory majority well below a thousand. They find themselves over 1500 behind, and for once frankly own their disappointment. The voting was very heavy, and the constituency will now be looked upon as definitely lost to Liberalism. Worse than that, there is a distinct reaction against the reaction in favor of Home Rule which Kennington was hailed as insuring.

The Dominion Loses.

LONDON, April 3.—The Privy Council has reversed the decision of the Canadian court which declared that metals discovered on the coast of British Columbia belonged to Canada.

A STUPENDOUS FAILURE.

The Panama Canal a Monument of Impracticability—Reckless Extravagance.

CHICAGO, April 3.—James McArthur, the senior member of the well-known firm of McArthur Brothers of Chicago and St. Paul, probably the largest firm of railroad and bridge contractors in the Northwest, has written home his opinion of the Panama Canal, which he visited not long ago. He says: I was on the isthmus from Jan. 29 to Feb. 2, and gave most of my time to the canal. The Panama Canal is a stupendous failure! I have gone over the whole of it; the heavy work, the summit section of several miles, I travelled over on foot. Much of the work has already stopped, and it is reported that the whole of it will stop in a few days. I saw all of the machinery, and some part of every class of it at work. The canal is a monument to incompetency, both in its design and execution, so far as work has progressed on it, and it is scarcely begun.

The only work which has any business-like look is that done by the American contractors on the east end of the line. There is an immense amount of machinery, which was imported from France and Holland, much of which is rusting out, having never been used. It is of antiquated type, rude and costly in its operation. The quality of the labor is much better than I expected to see, viz.: negroes from Jamaica. Though not equal to Northern labor, they have a good amount of physical strength, and are docile and reasonably intelligent. There was no work in progress—that of the American contractors excepted—which was not costing from two to ten times what it need to have cost with proper machinery and management.

The whole scheme has been carried on in a most wasteful and extravagant manner. The original plan of an ocean level canal was almost a physical impossibility. If possible at all it would bankrupt even the Government of France to carry out such a scheme. It would cost more than did the Franco-German war—more than did our civil war. The original plan was to cut through the Isthmus, make a tide level canal without locks. This plan was changed to one with locks, raising the summit level 46 metres (over 150 feet) above tide.

The change was an improvement, only that there is no water to supply the summit level, except by pumping it up from the ocean. Now a canal without water is not useful—hardly ornamental—and to pump water 150 feet high to supply it would cost more than the revenues of the canal. Even on this changed plan, after expending more than three times the original estimate, the canal is not one-fifth completed. There are other and serious objections to it, and though better than the first plan it may still be called impracticable on account of the excessive cost of construction and maintenance.

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL

THE FRANCHISE ACT AMENDMENT PASSES ITS SECOND READING.

The Bill to Free William Gordon Lowry From His Marriage Tie Rejected in the House—Returns Brought Down.

OTTAWA, April 3.—The Franchise Act was before the House again to-day on motion for the second reading of a bill proposing some amendments in the direction of simplifying its working. As on all other occasions when it has been discussed the principle of the act was challenged by scores of speakers on the Opposition side, who advocated a return to the old system whereby the provincial lists were used in Dominion elections. Mr. Laurier moved an amendment of the bill.

The Premier at one time endeavored to check the discussion by pointing out that there would be abundant opportunity for a discussion of the principle of the bill on some other occasion before there is an appeal to the country.

Sir Richard Cartwright thereupon remarked that a dissolution might be nearer at hand than appeared to be expected by Sir John, though no doubt he and the Minister of Customs would have no little difficulty at the present time in organizing their brethren of the Orange lodges as they were wont to do.

Hon. Peter Mitchell remarked that there was no danger of dissolution, for it would be found that the Parliament would have six sessions instead of the four, because he didn't think the ministry would run any risk this time that they didn't have to.

The discussion continued until recess. After recess the attention of the House was for an hour diverted from the Franchise Bill while an act for the relief of William Gordon Lowry was discussed and defeated.

Then the Opposition returned to the attack. The discussion was continued until midnight, when the House divided on Mr. Laurier's amendment, which was lost by 75 yeas to 105 nays. The bill was read a second time, and the House then went into committee upon it.

The Lowry divorce bill was one instituted by a farmer of Huntley Township, Carleton County, for separation from his wife for adultery said to have been committed within a few weeks of their marriage. They were married in 1887. It passed the Senate on a division of 28 to 25. Sir John Thompson opposed the second reading of the bill, because, amongst other reasons, there was no proof whatever except the testimony of the parties concerned who had made an admission of guilt. As both parties appeared to have an incentive in making the admission, the opinion had been formed that the case was not free from collusion between the parties.

After some discussion the House divided, and 79 voting for and 80 against the second reading it was refused.

A return presented to-day shows that the cost of erection and improvement of Dominion public buildings in the respective provinces since Confederation has been as follows:

Nova Scotia	$ 430,680
Prince Edward Island	228,947
New Brunswick	1,710,230
Quebec	2,720,885
Ontario	4,577,088
Manitoba	896,073
Northwest Territories	1,066,440
British Columbia	422,791

The day's discussion being upon the Franchise Act, a return laid upon the table this afternoon proved very opportune. This showed the expenditure in connection with the franchise list prepared under the act to have been as follows up to Jan 1: Printing $174,340, revisors' salaries $93,767, clerks or bailiffs $79,496, other expenses $67,318, making the total $414,921, besides which there are unsettled claims amounting to $52,641, and $96,313 has been expended in connection with the second revision. Type and other material have been purchased for this revision.

THE FRUIT GROWERS.

A Large Deputation Urge a Government Grant for a Dominion Convention.

OTTAWA, April 3.—A government grant towards the holding of a Dominion fruit growers' convention was the object of a large deputation who waited this evening upon Hon. John Carling, Minister of Agriculture, and Hon. G. E. Foster, Minister of Finance. The deputation consisted of Prof. Penhallow of Montreal; Prof. Sanders, director o the Central Experimental Farm; Mr. W. H. Lynch, the well-known horticulturist of the Eastern Townships, and these members of Parliament representing all portions of the Dominion: Messrs. Fisher, Ferguson of Welland, Guillet, Borden, Baird, Mills of Annapolis, Jones of Digby, Boyle, McMillan, Hale, Robertson, Gordon, McNeill and Shanly.

It is proposed to hold the convention in Ottawa in January or February next, and to have in connection with the convention an exhibit of some of the more hardy variety of fruits which would keep through the winter and into the spring.

Dr. Borden, Mr. Mills of Annapolis, Mr. Fisher, Mr. Gordon and Dr. Ferguson of Welland supported the application. The last named held that by way of compensation if for no other reason the fruit-growers should get this, as they alone of all classes had not been protected under the general policy of protection. As representing a district interested to the extent of millions of dollars in fruit growing he pressed that this small measure of compensation should be granted.

Mr. McMillan read a letter he had received to-day from Mr. Alex. McD. Allan of Toronto, stating that a joint stock company was now being got up in that city for promoting the sale in Great Britain of fruit, butter and cheese from Canada. Mr. Matthews of the Board of Trade was among those interested in it.

Hon G. E. Foster stated his appreciation of the objects of the association represented on this deputation. He thought that greater advantage would be derivable from provincial and county conventions than from a Dominion gathering. He did not think it fair to say that nothing had been done for the fruit industry by the Government, for the work now being done by the experimental farms was of the greatest importance to fruit growers. However, Mr. Carling and himself would report the views of the association to their colleagues. There was of course the difficulty that were a grant given to them it could not consistently be refused to kindred organizations.

Hon. John Carling considered it of importance to encourage the fruit-growing interests as much as possible. He realized the benefit derivable from the holding of a convention such as proposed. He referred to the assistance obtainable by fruit-growers through the various experimental farms, and declared that anything further that could be done by his department would be done most cheerfully.

Adopting the Australian System.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 3.—The Legislature yesterday finally passed the Dortch Election Bill, which embraces the Australian system of voting.

Trouble in the Church.

NANTICOKE, Pa., April 3.—A house belonging to Rev. S. K. Hughes, pastor of the Congregational Church, was burned yesterday. There has been considerable trouble between factions in the church and scenes have been enacted approaching rioting. The fire was incendiary.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Professional Board Beat—A $20,000 Libel Suit on Trial.

TORONTO, April 4.—George Fielding, professional boarding-house beat, thief and religious fakir, was in the Police Court yesterday charged with a series of larcenies committed in different city boarding-houses. A small army of boarding-house marms told how he had defrauded them and stole articles from their houses. Wherever Fielding went he was always accompanied by a female accomplice, whom he passed off as his wife. When the Magistrate hears some further charges against him he will sentence him to a good term in prison, it is expected.

Miss Lizzie Simpson was again positive in the Police Court yesterday that it was Veterinary Surgeon T. A. Milne who snatched her satchel in Bloor-street Saturday night last. The girl was so positive that the Magistrate said he would send the case to a jury. Mr. W. G. Murdoch who appeared for the accused said that while the young lady was evidently sincere in her evidence, yet Mr. Milne could give a satisfactory account of his whereabouts at 8.30 on Saturday night, the hour of the alleged robbery. Robert Milne, a farmer of Pickering, put up a $500 bond for his brother's appearance.

The trial of Farquhar Brothers' $20,000 libel suit against John Ross Robertson, proprietor of The Telegram, was begun yesterday. The alleged libel consisted in the publication of an article containing the words "Patriotism is the Last Refuge of City Contractors," supposed to be a reference to Dr. Johnson's famous mot, "Patriotism is the Last Refuge of a Scoundrel," and other articles, and in writing to the City Engineer a letter designed to prevent the plaintiffs from obtaining a contract for the laying of the asphalt pavement in Bay-street for which they had tendered. The case is exciting considerable interest.

John Lee West was liberated from custody yesterday morning, he having agreed to the restitution of $1400 of the money found on him the day he was arrested to Charles Feahney, the New Orleans merchant, from whom it was stolen. Mr. Badgerow stated that as the witnesses from New Orleans were not willing to come here to prosecute West, and it would be impossible to proceed against him in the absence of these witnesses, therefore he would withdraw the charge. West was thereupon discharged.

The Citizens' Committee, elected to watch the interests of local Protestantism, have sent out invitations to the members of Parliament who voted for the disallowance of the Jesuits Estates Bill, to speak at the public meeting to be held here on April 22.

At the hospital Thomas Barons, a laborer working at the Don improvements, had a crushed hand amputated.

While turning the corner of Yonge and Queen-streets William Currie, express driver, was thrown from his seat on the pavement. Several bones were broken.

The failure of Hess Bros. will involve several smaller houses. The first of these to go is that of E. Willis of Queen-street west, who succumbed yesterday.

Sir Charles Tupper arrived in the city yesterday from Kingston and will testify in the Onderdonk C.P.R. arbitration to-morrow.

Rev. Elmore Harris, for seven years pastor of the Bloor-street Baptist church, has resigned.

The death is announced this morning of John Oulcott, the well-known sporting man and road-house keeper of Eglinton.

THE GUELPH TRAGEDY.

Excitement Subsiding—Harvey's Condition Improved.

GUELPH, April 3.—The excitement aroused by the terrible triple tragedy is beginning to subside. The verdict of the coroner's jury this morning fixing the charge of wilful murder upon Harvey has caused some renewed interest in the crime.

Harvey is greatly improved and has partaken of considerable nourishment. His spiritual adviser visits him daily. It is said that the prisoner converses with him upon the topic of the murder. The contents of the house were sold this afternoon, Harvey having given Dr. Lett a power of attorney for that purpose. The money obtained by the sale will be used to pay Harvey's debts and the balance given to his son.

The Embezzlement Case.

GUELPH, April 3.—The embezzlement case against Wm. H. Harvey was called in the Police Court to-day on a remand from last week. Mr. Peterson, on behalf of the Crown, stated that he did not consider it either becoming or necessary, as the prisoner was in custody on a much more serious charge, to press this charge of embezzlement, but that it would be better to have a further remand granted so that the prisoner and his friends might, if they saw fit, avail themselves of Mr. Lyon's offer to permit an investigation of his books.

Mr. Guthrie, Q.C., who appeared for Mr. Lyon, said that Mr. Lyon, except for the purpose of securing public investigation into this charge, had no desire that it should go further under existing circumstances, but that the prisoner's friends had cast doubt on the allegation of errors in the books it would be desirable, and Mr. Lyon so wished, to have a public investigation. He consented to a remand for the purpose of affording the prisoner and his friends an opportunity of examining the books if they so desired.

Mr. Kenneth Maclean, who appeared for the prisoner, was anxious that an investigation of the books should take place and competent auditors appointed by each party. He said it was the prisoner's desire that this should be the case. The Magistrate said that he had only power to remand the case for eight days, but he could remand it again at the expiration of that time. The case was therefore remanded.

The St. George Sufferers.

ST. GEORGE, April 3.—Only five of the persons injured in the bridge disaster are still under treatment. All the others have gone to their homes. Mr. Thomas Doutney, the evangelist whose injuries were very serious, left for his home yesterday.

Rumored Death of King John.

ROME, April 3.—A rumor is current that King John of Abyssinia is dead. It is said his death was due to wounds received in a battle with the forces led by the Dervish Mettema.

MORRISON'S DARING.

How He Eludes the Authorities—The Police Baffled.

STORNOWAY, Que., April 3.—There are no new developments, though there is a great anxiety for news, and the authorities are still baffled. When Morrison left here Monday morning he set across towards his father's house, which is situated about nine miles from here, on the road to Marsden. When he had gone about three miles he met a man in a sleigh and told the latter that he was not going any further because he had learned that the police were waiting for him at some part of the road. He spent the night again in the immediate vicinity of this place. Judge Dugas and escort left on a trip to Gould, Scotstown and Marsden, where everything was quiet. They have not yet returned. The Indian with Carpenter is said to be a spy, who has his tent in the woods opposite the house of Morrison's father. Two men looking like hunters and supposed to be partners of the Indian passed through Springhill to Marsden yesterday morning.

STEWART'S LITTLE GAME.

HOW HE WORKED THE WIDOWS OF THE AMBITIOUS CITY.

He Had Them on the List—Several Poor Women Cheated Out of Small Sums—The Swindler Proposes Matrimony to One.

HAMILTON, April 3.—Just how long Alexander Stewart has been working his little game in this city is not known, but it is not thought to be very long, and he is not known to have got much the better of many people. The police have, however, been notified that he has been at work, and has succeeded in cheating some widowed ladies, who could ill afford to lose much, out of small sums. As far as can be learned, Stewart came to this city a short time ago, procured a city directory and copied from it a list of widows. He then called upon Mrs. Neil, who lives on the southeast corner of Jackson and Locke-streets, and asked to be taken in as a boarder. He represented himself to be a rich man, and was accommodated with board and lodgings. He showed Mrs. Neill some rolls which he said contained $80 and which he wished to have kept safely. Mrs. Neill showed him a cupboard and said he could have a drawer. He wanted the key, but was not given it. However he put his precious rolls in the drawer, where they remained until a few days ago, when, Stewart having disappeared without paying his week's board or returning some small sums of money which he had borrowed, the rolls were opened and found to contain nothing but whiting.

Stewart also called upon Mrs. Butler, who resides at No. 89 Markland-street, and said he was looking for a housekeeper. Mrs. Butler, he said, just suited him and in a very few days he pretended to be completely infatuated and proposed matrimony. He said he owned a fine farm near Waterdown and that he was just building a house. He showed the plans of his alleged house and finally prevailed upon Mrs. Butler to agree to marry him, after she had consulted with her two sons, one of whom it was arranged should get a permanent situation on the farm at $20 a month, and the other should be kept until he was 21 years of age. The man produced some deeds, mortgages and other papers which he alleged were of great value. These he locked up in a trunk which he borrowed, and put the key in his pocket. He showed a check for $150 and, as it was too late in the day to draw from the bank he borrowed $2.50, keeping the check safely in his vest pocket. He never returned the money, nor did he pay Mrs. Butler for the time he stayed under her roof. Of course the matrimonial affair was knocked in the head. Since his departure the deeds, mortgages, etc., were found to be useless.

He also called upon a Mrs. Bell, No. 6 Locke-street north, and informed her that she had been left a lot of money and that he was interested in her case. He told Mrs. Bell that he had suddenly been called to Toronto, but as all these events occurred in the last few days he is supposed to be still in the city. He is a man of about six feet or more in height, very dark complexion, black mustache, and wears a broad brim soft felt hat, a fall overcoat, light checked trousers, heavy boots and no collar. He looks like a farmer. It is believed his intentions are to work the whole of the list of widows that he prepared, if possible.

HAMILTON'S LICENSES.

The Ministerial Association Call on the Commissioners—Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, April 3.—The Hamilton Ministerial Association met the License Commissioners in their room yesterday afternoon and presented these five requests: 1. That no licenses be granted to those houses which have dance-rooms upon their premises. 2. That saloon licenses be abolished. 3. That no shop licenses be granted to men in the grocery business. 4. That a radical reduction be made in the number of licenses. 5. That the present law be more stringently enforced. There are now 148 licenses granted here.

Every effort to find Miss Louisa Mackelcan, who disappeared from her home on Monday, has so far been unavailing.

The Police Magistrate to-day committed Henry Eydt to stand trial on a charge of fraud in a horse deal.

V. E. Fuller's famous Oaklands herd of Jerseys were sold at auction at the farm to-day. Prices obtained ranged from $40 to $300.

The Methodist Mount Zion Church in Winnipeg has extended a call to Rev. Mr. Crewe of Hamilton, which has been approved, subject to the ratification of the Transfer Committee.

An effort is being put forth by a number of ladies in this city to have Maria McCabe, who is now in Kingston Penitentiary on a sentence for life for the murder of her child in this city, released. The woman came to this city about 7 years ago from Ireland, friendless and went to work as servant in an hotel. She was betrayed and afterwards went to live at a private house in Catharine-street. The woman with whom she went to live found it impossible to keep the woman and her babe, and the unfortunate woman did away with the child by throwing it into a cistern. After two months the crime was discovered, and when spoken to by the then Chief Stewart, she made a clean breast and said she had suffered untold agonies on account of her deeds. She was tried, convicted and sentenced to death, but the sentence was afterwards commuted to imprisonment for life.

This afternoon Detectives Reid and Campbell arrested James McPhie on the strength of a telegram from Paris, where he is wanted to square up a deal about a horse. The prisoner formerly resided there.

Detective Mackenzie to-day arrested Samuel Harris on a warrant charging him with obtaining a quantity of cigars from John B. Lovell by false pretences. It is alleged that Harris represented to Lovell that he owned some property, which statement was discovered to be untrue.

Last night the shop and residence of John McDonald, 208 King-street west, was burglarised. The intruders got in through a kitchen window and entered the shop. They carried away a small desk containing $3, a promissory note for $54.85, a bank book and a Bank of Hamilton check book. The desk and the papers were found this morning by a boy in an alleyway off Queen-street. The desk was broken.

Killed on the Track.

ST. THOMAS, April 3.—About 2 o'clock yesterday morning an extra westbound freight train on the M.C.R. found the lifeless and mangled remains of a man on the track. The remains were recognized as those of John McNeil, commonly known as "Big John," well-known as a former resident of Dutton, but of late living on a farm about a mile from the village. The body was so horribly cut and mangled as to be almost unrecognizable. McNeil, who was about 40 years of age, leaves a wife and three children. He had been drinking in the evening and started for home. It is not known how he met his death, but in view of the reports that he was fighting with a companion on the track, Coroner Leitch decided to hold an inquest on the remains.

McNeil must have met his death either at 12.55 yesterday morning or before that time, as there was blood on the running gear of a train which passed Dutton at that hour.

Regular Meeting of the Municipal Fathers Gone to the West.

Correspondence of the Review.

COUNCIL MEETING.—The municipal council held its regular session on Saturday, March 30th. All the members were present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed. An application was received from Matthew Woodbeck and 26 others for obtaining a legal roadway across lots 26 and 27, con. 5, Chandos. Moved by Councillor Scott, seconded by Councillor Langford,—That Councillor W. Hales see the road and report thereon before the application be complied with.—Carried. An application was received from P. Mahoney for a refund of taxes amounting to two dollars. On motion an order was drawn for the amount. On application was received from A. Post, to compel H. McDougal to open up and clear of obstructions a road which he had forcibly closed. On motion it was ordered that a summons be issued to H. McDougal for obstructing the highways. An application from P. Rasaw for a new road was laid over until next meeting. R. Hawks' application for money to build a bridge over Talon's Creek was received and on motion the sum of $25.00 was granted him for the purpose. Thos. Bullied applied for a grant of $500 on a road. The Reeve was on motion, instructed to view the road and if he thought the outlay necessary he should draw an order for the amount. By-laws were passed for the borrowing of $800 for S. S. No. 1, Anstruther, and for the appointing of fence-viewers and Pathmasters. There are 54 road beats in the municipality. The following orders were granted:—

Jno. Mangus, statute labor	$6 00
A. Brown, audit	5 00
E Thompson, statute labor	2 00
P. Mahoney, refund of taxes	2 00
Wm. Church, statute labor	4 00

The Council then adjourned till the meeting for Court of Revision.

DEPARTURE.—Mr. Alex. Brown and his sons have departed for the golden western fields. Mr. Brown is an old settler in here, having occupied his present home for over 35 years. He has been post master and Justice of the Peace for a number of years and in every good work took a foremost place. His interest in public questions was keen, but tempered with judgment and leniency in matters of opinion, but unbending in those of principle. The community will feel his loss greatly, but on every hand hearty wishes for his prosperity are unselfishly expressed.

BURIED BY THE COMMITTEE.

The Fate of the Toronto Bill for Putting Electric Wires Underground.

OTTAWA, April 3.—The last meeting of the Committee on Railways and Canals for the session was held this morning. Mr. Skinner's bill for the incorporation of a company to build the Prince Edward Island and Continental Railway and Ferry Company was thrown out because it conflicted with an existing provincial charter.

A lively discussion took place on Mr. Small's bill for burying the wires of telephone, telegraph and electric light companies in the City of Toronto. Mr. Cockburn was promoting the measure. Hon. David Mills said that as the telegraph companies were incorporated by the Dominion Parliament it might appear that Parliament had so far jurisdiction in the matter, but telegraph companies were artificial persons, and as a person they would require to go to the appropriate Legislature to get the powers desired and conform to the local law of each province, where that local law was not ultra vires. He contended that such jurisdiction was vested in the different provinces and it was for them to say whether telegraph and other such companies incorporated by the Dominion should place all wires under the ground. This view of the question was concurred in by Mr. Weldon (St. John), Mr. Weldon (Albert), and Mr. Girouard.

Mr. Cockburn contended that the Dominion Parliament not only had jurisdiction, but had dealt with such matters heretofore. Mr. Mulock spoke of the importance of the matter as far as Toronto was concerned, and, while not giving an opinion as to the constitutionality of the question, he asked to hear the city solicitor of Toronto on the subject.

Mr. Biggar, who was present, said that under section 92 of the B. N. A. Act this power was conferred on the Dominion Parliament, in so far as it excepted "telegraph" from the jurisdiction of the Provincial Legislatures. He cited a number of cases to this point.

Mr. Biggar said he was willing to leave the question in the hands of the Minister of Justice to test its constitutionality, and Col. Tisdale put a motion to this effect. Hon. Mr. Mitchell objected. The committee, in his opinion, had a duty to perform and they ought not to shirk their responsibility.

Col. Tisdale's amendment was lost, as was the preamble of the bill.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

IN THE BANANA BELT.

Bill Nye's Surprising Adventures in Company with Mr. Riley Haggard.

Many southern people come to St. Paul and Minneapolis, it is said, in order to escape the rigors of their own winter. The banana belt, extending from Duluth to Winnipeg, reminds one of tropical Africa. Last week Mr. Riley Haggard and I started out for a little quiet elephant shooting in the country. Bidding farewell to the concierge at the hotel, we packed our heavy express rifles and smooth bore elephant guns, penetrated as far as the sleeping car could convey us, and, bidding farewell to our faithful Wan Wenga, who caressed us both with a whisk broom to the value of twenty scudi, we hired an elephant apiece and began to permeate the jungle, preceded by our trusty bird dog.

At the kraal or livery stable where we engaged our elephants we were told that game was very plenty about thirty miles across the dinglelow, and that in a small forest of jingsang trees and hoola bushes quite a covey of quagga and elephants had been scared up by a Boer who had penetrated the jungle accompanied by his brakje or dog.

The first night we camped beneath the shade of a Vienna bread fruit tree on the borders of the Karroo, and preventing the escape of our trusty elephants by attaching their trunks, we began to prepare our evening meal. I read the directions from a book of African travel, and my very faithful comrade, Mr. Riley Haggard, did the cooking.

First refreshing ourselves with a long draught from a gourd of spoopju from Peoria, marked 1842, so called because it is placed on the market eighteen hours and forty-two minutes after it is made, our faithful gun bearer, Ylang Ylang, began to carve the biltong, Melbos, and jerked muskrat for the evening meal. Making a bright fire of karroo bushes and fresh train figs, a wad of mealies was soon simmering over the coals, while the odor of Cincinnati biltong pervaded the tropical forest.

Ylang Ylang, our faithful valet, who has made his name a household word because of his search after Schwatka and One Night Stanley, said that according to the books on African exploration it was now time to bed down the elephants. After doing this he returned and proceeded with the cuisine.

We had hardly swallowed our supper, and Mr. Riley Haggard was about to climb a date palm to secure a few luscious lecture dates, when our ears were saluted by a most unearthly and ear piercing roar from the heart of the jungle. At this moment our faithful Ylang Ylang came in with eyes sticking out like a sore thumb to announce that our bird dog had flushed a large Abyssinian lion.

Hurriedly putting a little Mayonnaise dressing on our faithful Ylang Ylang, we sent him out to parley with the lion while we put on our telegraph climbers, and filling our pockets with biltong we ascended a Duluth palm tree.

We had not long to wait! The wang-wanga bushes parted and a low, heavy set performing lion crept softly into the open Karroo, preceded at a distance of about three-quarters of an inch by our faithful Ylang Ylang. As the poor fellow jumped a low Kirdish bush, I heard a crunching sound such as I never hope to hear again, and turned away my head rather than see our trusty gun bearer in the act of backing into a lion.

As soon as I could regain my courage by a small nip of spoopju, I looked back at the sickening spectacle. All was still save the distant song of the red breasted blim-blam in the Koojoo bushes.

Suddenly remembering how I had once seen a lion tamer make a lion quail, I descended from the tree and, taking a small riding whip with me, I said, "Hi!" an' whipping him across the forelegs, in the mean time frequently making the remark "Hi!" I drove him away from there. Out of the kraal, down the sloot or dry water course and across the Karroo lands he sped and so on back to Winnipeg, where he joined his congress of rare wild beasts, as I afterwards learned.

Hastily saddling our elephants and sinching them tightly, so that the howdah could not slip around under the stomach of the noble beast, we mounted by means of a freight car standing near by and returned across the transvaal, whatever that is, and hiring a diligence, we packed our remaining supply of biltong, elephant tusks, spoopju, pemmican, elephant blubber, sacred cow meat, dried yak, kroolisjam, Milwaukee Heidsieck and a glossary of hard words from Rider Haggard, and took the cars at Stanley Pool, resolving to penetrate still further into the tropical depths of the northwest.—Bill Nye in New York World.

A Profitable Suggestion.

In a town in Lower Canada, the locale of which for obvious reasons cannot be given, there lived and moved a very thriving business firm, whom we shall designate as McPherson and Parblue, the former Scotch and Presbyterian, the latter French and Catholic. That the profits of the firm should not be diminished by a too rigid observance of the holydays of the Church or the holidays of the separated brethren, it was understood between them that they were to be open for business six days in the week. Thus it happened on holydays Monsieur Parblue devoutly attended the parish church, while his partner looked after the "siller." Then on Dominion and Thanksgiving days the son of the heather attended kirk, and listened with rapt attention to the cheerful seventeenthly of the minister while Monsieur Parblue carefully gathered in the shekels. It came about on one of these latter days, just previous to Mr. McPherson's going to church, he was speaking to his partner at the door of their store, when a witty descendant of the tribe of Benjamin, who was passing, took in the situation at a glance, and said, "Gentlemen, take me into the firm, and you can keep open every day in the year."—Harper's Magazine.

HATS!

Hats, gentlemen, Hats!

In the name of People, Hats!

And why, Hats!

The Hat is the badge of respectability, the trade mark of civilization—that is any kind of a decent Hat. And properly, too.

Let us consider this question ot Hats.

Had Bonaparte paused on the way to Waterloo to select a new Hat the result might have been different.

Had Christopher Columbus worn a shabby Hat, could he have made the fine impression he did on landing in Amerikay. No much. Not any.

Had Julius Cæsar carried a neat and taking head cover, his untimely decease might have been indefinitely postponed. History is jam full of incidents that point to the necessity of wearing a good Hat.

Men have been crossed in love, fallen off scaffolds, been beaten at the polls, arrested on suspicion, failed in business, and lost the respect of their fellow citizens by wearing a bad Hat.

The moral of all this is, come to us for your Hats. It's a new department with us, and a mighty good one. It's good because its new, and wholly new and good. We do nothing by halves. See our Stock. THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Well Recommended.

Mrs. Margaret Staunton, whose card as a nurse appears in another column, before leaving Orillia, where she had lived for a number of years, received a certificate as to her ability and devotion to duty from the medical profession of the town.

An Alarm of Fire.

A few minutes after seven o'clock last evening a telephone message from Meldrum & Davidson's mill to the fire hall called the brigade out for a slight blaze in the mill. The fire started in the shafting, but was extinguished before any damage was done and before the brigade got well out of the hall.

The Talk of the Town

The people are wondering why Elliott & Tierney are giving 18 lbs. bright sugar for $1, and selling teas and other goods so much cheaper than any house in Peterborough. Call at the Palace Grocery and examine the goods, which will convince you. The "Palace" is the place to get best values. Great stock-taking sale now going on.

Presentations.

The Rev. John Farncombe received on Tuesday evening a handsome and well filled purse from the congregation of St. John's Church on the eve of his departure from Lakefield. The members of the Lakefield Band of Hope presented the reverend gentleman a few days before with a beautiful hanging lamp. These gifts were accompanied with many expressions of friendship and esteem towards Mr. and Mrs. Farncomb on the part of the donors.

CAPTURED at last—a large stock of splendid tea. [illegible] lbs. for $1 at M. R. KIDD's. d66

Assuming a Warlike Attitude.

Many other houses are becoming very indignant at the idea of W. J. Morrow controlling the grocery trade of the town and county. But never mind—be cautious—we will prove to all you grocers who are grappling for high prices that the time has arrived when W. J. Morrow will enlighten the public. Doing more of a cash business and a more extensive trade, he is better prepared to sell goods away down. Then again here are a lot of our best Toronto and Montreal houses clamouring for our trade, owing to our buying for cash, and hence the keen competition, thereby buying goods away below other houses. So a call will convince you that we are Peterborough's great Grocery House, 340 George-st.

The Board of Trade.

Another step forward has been taken in the formation of the Board of Trade for the town, and the board is now an organized body. This morning Mr. J. H. Burnham, the secretary, received from the Department of the Secretary of State, Ottawa, the certificate of the formation of the Board, and a meeting will be held as soon as possible to complete the work of organization. The Board will then be in readiness for business, and all that is required to make it of great benefit to the town is the hearty co-operation of the business men and others who feel an interest in the town's welfare and progress. Mr. Burnham has received a number of letters from cities and towns in which the action taken was commended. Among them was one from Mr. Trout, of The Monetary Times, congratulating the town on the organization of this body.

Riflemen's Rally.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Rifle Association took place last evening in the orderly room of the drill shed. The attendance was large and considerable enthusiasm is evinced in the Association's prospects for the coming season. The election of officers resulted as follows:—

PRESIDENT.—Col. H. C. Rogers.
FIRST VICE PRESIDENT.—Mr. C. Clementi.
SECOND VICE PRESIDENT.—Major R. W. Bell.
SECRETARY-TREASURER.—Capt. E. M. Dennistoun.
COUNCIL.—Messrs. F. Hall, D. Cameron and A. Mason.

The officers were authorized to procure a range as speedily as possible and they were empowered to arbitrate, if necessary, in order to ascertain the amount of compensation to be paid. It was decided to hold monthly matches and to offer special inducements to new members. The Association is in a better financial position than ever before and the prospects for the coming season are unusually promising.

HOW TO READ THE BIBLE.

Rev. J. A. Roper, of St. Thomas', Toronto, at St. John's.

There was a fair congregation at St. John's last evening, despite the miserable state of the sidewalks for pedestrians. After the evening service, Rev. J. A. Roper, formerly professor of Trinity University, but now of St. Thomas' Church, Toronto, delivered a learned and instructive lecture on "How to Read the Bible." The rev. gentleman is a calm but fluent speaker and apparently interested his audience last evening. He said that his subject was one of which he could speak with confidence and feeling, as it was one upon which they were all agreed—their Bible and the use of that Bible. The rev. gentleman asked what was the Bible and from whence came its authority and inspiration. He distinguished between the Bible and revelation, and pointed out that revelation was a supernatural message given by God for man's eternal welfare—a message which man did not invent or discover—it was too high and far above him. Then he dealt with the question of the authority of the Bible and from where that authority was to be found. To this he gave a three-fold answer. First they could go to the Bible, but this might not be safe proof of the authority of the Bible, it required something outside of the Book itself and outside of the man himself. Secondly they might go to the chair of the Vicar of the See of St. Peter who could tell with almost infallible authority what was and was not scripture, but this had again and again been found to be fallible and the proof of the Bible's authority could not start on this. Then thirdly they could go to the church which had as the keeper of the Holy writ received the Bible. Then he dwelt briefly on pointing out that they got the Bible from the church, as the church was historically before the Bible, as the apostles must necessarily have founded the churches before they wrote their epistles. Lastly the rev. gentleman came to the question how shall we read the Bible. He first spoke of the misuse of the word Gospel. In speaking they referred to Gospel books, Gospel hymns and Gospel sermons. The popular interpretation of the word Gospel was a proclamation from God or good news from God. This was not the full meaning of the word, which in its fullest interpretation was a record of the wonderful historical acts and facts of the life of Jesus. Then he spoke of how the church was teaching the Bible,—by the explanations of some special fact or thought of the Word every Sunday in the year, by the creed and Confession of Faith, by the te deum and in the form of prayer in the Litany. In speaking of reading the Bible he referred to two objections made by some that they found it so difficult and that it had became so familiar that it had lost its special message and told them to put away these obstacles. They should have a definite time for reading the Bible and they were to consider more the time they spent than the amount they read. He suggested that rising a quarter of an hour earlier in the morning would give those who were pressed for time by business an opportunity to read their Bibles. In closing he spoke of how and what part they should read. They should not read by chapters, but could take an epistle and read it right through and so get the whole thought or pith. Or they might take one miracle and read it carefully and examine it. They should read the whole Bible at some time, but were not to begin at the beginning and go through to the end, but might begin with the four gospels and then read the Psalms. In reading the latter they should do two things, think that Jesus Christ was speaking instead of the Psalmist and lay special stress on the personal pronouns.

THE HISTORY OF THE BIBLE,

ANNUAL MEETING

Of the Baptist Women's Missionary Circle Secretary's Report.

The annual meeting of the Baptist Women's Missionary Circle was held in the basement of the Murray-st. Church on Monday evening. After the opening exercises, communications were read from the Associational Director, Miss Ewing, of Cobourg, and also from Miss Frith, the returned missionary, who may soon visit the town. The annual report of the past year's work was then presented by the assistant-secretary, Miss Nicholls, as follows:—

SECRETARY'S ANNUAL REPORT.

In presenting the tenth annual report of our Women's Missionary Circle, we would gratefully acknowledge the hand of God, leading and guiding us to the present time.

During the present year we have (humanly speaking) labored under disadvantages, owing to the unavoidable absence of some of the officers, and the illness of others, with whom our sisters sincerely sympathise in their affliction. There has been one removal.

We have also been reminded that this earth is not our home, one of our members has been called to hear the Master's "Well done."

Two new members have been added, therefore, our number remains the same, forty-two. Ten meetings have been held, made interesting by gleaning missionary news from the Link, the Baptist Magazine and the Herald. An open meeting of the Mission Circle and Band was held in May, at which a musical and literary entertainment was given, members of the Circle and Band taking part. $7.06 was realized by the sale of flowers and the collection. The Circle devoted their share to Home Missions.

In June the annual meeting of the Peterborough and Belleville Association was held here, which was attended by representatives from most of the circles in the Association. It was encouraging to meet with so many co-workers in the Lord's vineyard. Mrs. Barker delivered a good address, which gave us courage to go on in the Master's work.

Two delegates were sent to Toronto from our circle in October to attend the annual meeting of the Society. Full and lengthy reports were given by these ladies on their return, showing the financial state of the Society, also the work that is being done by our missionaries, both at home and in the foreign field, and the great need of men and money to carry on this work.

In December, a union meeting of the Circle and Band was held in the afternoon. At that meeting Miss LaPorte gave an interesting address on La Grande Ligne, showing the origin and growth of the work of missions in the sister province of Quebec.

During the past year the attendance at our monthly meetings will compare favorably with that of preceding years. We trust, in the year on which we are just entering, our sisters will show greater interest by being present at our meetings.

M. A. NICHOLLS.

Miss G. McDonald, the treasurer for Foreign Missions, reported the raising of $54.08. Mrs. Grundy's report showed, that for the work of Home Missions, in Ontario, $34.55 had been given, these reports making a total of $88.63 from the circle for the year.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

PRESIDENTS.—Home, Mrs. Parker; Foreign, Mrs. Aldridge.
VICE PRESIDENTS.—Mrs. Hutchinson and Miss M. McDonald.
SECRETARY.—Mrs. Kincaid.
ASSISTANT-SECRETARY.—Miss M. Nicholls.
TREASURERS.—Foreign, Miss G. McDonald; Home, Miss Walton.

Ashburnham School.

The following is the honor roll for Ashburnham Public school for the month of March. In the Fourth and Third Classes the first six are mentioned in order of merit:—

DRAWING NEAR A CLOSE

THE EVANGELISTS WILL NOT REMAIN MUCH LONGER.

Mr. Crossley Discusses the Life and Character of Three Notable Women—Importance of a Choice and of Present Decision.

Prayer by Mr. Hunter.

Singing, "Onward, Christian Soldier."

Prayer by Rev. Mr. Parker.

Solo, "Not far from the Kingdom," by Mr. Crossley.

That was the order of the opening at the evangelistic services last evening.

There was one novelty in the meeting, and that was the audience was comfortably seated—there was room and to spare. The unfavorable weather and the fire bell had acted together to keep down the almost intolerable crush, but there was a large audience.

Mr. HUNTER said they would announce on Thursday night (to-night) on what night they would close their services. Woodstock wanted them, and they must go. They had two places in which to hold services before July 1st and would have only ten weeks. The Lord had done great things here, and the results would be permanent. He urged them to work hard while the services continued. He then referred to the Scott Act contest and spoke in favor of the Act. He offered a prayer for the success of the temperance efforts.

Mr. HUNTER read part of Genesis xiii., and commented upon it. He urged young men to be careful of the choice they made, and told of a young man back of Colborne who had given up his farm to go into the hotel business and not long after found himself in prison.

Mr. Crossley sang "Don't go near the Barroom, Brother."

A large number of requests for prayer were read, among them being one for a aged man who once was wealthy but who had been reduced through drink.

THREE NOTABLE WOMEN.

Mr. CROSSLEY said he was going to talk about three notable women—Naomi, Orpah and Ruth. Elimelech wanted to go to Moab, and, like a sensible man, talked with his wife about it. The history of the family was sketched by the speaker, during which he remarked that deaths did not come as a judgment, but came in the course of nature. Naomi gave them an example of godly consistency, the effect being shown in the salutary influence on her daughters-in-law. He condemned those who sneered at mothers-in-law. Those who lived with a person could judge of the character, and Ruth and Orpah lived with Naomi and her example led one to decide for God and almost led the other to God. They should be "living epistles." "If you," asked the speaker, "were the only evidence of Christianity would people be enamored of it?" Sinners should not read only the inconsistent Christians, but should also look at the consistent ones. Orpah was an example of an excellent character that acted contrary to her best convictions. She was an affectionate woman and good wife, but did not yield to God. She was deeply affected, yet said no, and some of them had done the same. She made a start, but turned back, and others of them had acted similarly, contrary to their highest interests and best impulses. They pitied Orpah as they saw her return, and so they pitied all who turned back. Ruth was an example of an equally excellent character that acted in accordance with her best convictions, noblest impulses and highest interest. That was what he wanted all to do. Her decision was made independently; she did not wait for her sister. They should not wait for a relative or a friend before deciding for God. Her decision was courageous, as they had to journey through a country infested with jackals and robbers. It took courage to be a Christian, but courage would bring victory. Ruth's decision was fixed. Women particularly were fixed in their purpose.

"When she will she will, you may depend on't,
And when she won't she won't, and that's the end on't."

He wished men would have more courage and determination. Two men backslided to one woman. He knew the women present would be true to God if they started, and he urged men to do like Ruth. Her decision was social, and when they became Christians they should associate with God's people. Yet they would not have to change their present society; their action would influence their friends and take them with them. Ruth's decision was whole-hearted. Everyone had a god—some particular thing that kept them from God. They should compare their gods with the Lord and they would discard their idols and whole-heartedly worship God. It was a life-long decision. They should not start as an experiment, but make a covenant for time and eternity. Ruth's was a present decision, so they should not put off coming to a decision. Ruth became the mistress of one of the best homes in Bethlehem-judah and ancestress of Jesus. If they decided for God they would become heirs of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ. Not to yield to the Lord was to decide to remain from Him, and he urged them to decide for the Lord at once.

"Jesus, Lover of my Soul" was sung while all heads were bowed and Rev. Mr. Torrance led in prayer.

EARNEST EXHORTATION.

Mr. HUNTER prayed earnestly and exhorted earnestly. "Will they be saved if they come to Him?" asked Mr. Hunter. "They will," answered Mr. Crossley. "And if they remain away from Him will they be lost eternally?" Mr. Hunter asked. "No doubt, no doubt," his colleague replied. "Some of you will die before a year," said Mr. Hunter. "Listen! This year—thou—shalt—die!" and as each of the last three words was solemnly uttered he pointed to a different part of the church.

A number went into the enquiry room and the first meeting was closed, but nearly the whole audience remained for the second.

The Battle Closing.

The voting on the repeal of the Scott Act was being taken to-day very quietly and very little unusual excitement or stir was noticeable on the streets. Both parties had all available conveyances on the go from nine o'clock this morning, but nevertheless it is doubtful if the vote will be a large one.

Brevities.

A Young Diana.

Addie Vareles, a young girl about 16 years of age, who lives with her parents on the Calaveras river, captured a deer one day, and at once became the heroine of the county. The girl heard some dogs barking in the direction of the river, and ran down to where the dogs had a buck deer bayed in a hole of water. She returned to the house, and the only weapon she could find was a butcher knife. Her presence encouraged the dogs, and when she reappeared on the scene the dogs sprang at the deer, and with the aid of Addie the buck was thrown, and in less time than it will take to tell the story the deer's throat was cut from ear to ear. Addie says it was no small task to hold the animal down with its throat cut, for she knew that to let go of the buck before it was dead would endanger her own life.—San Andreas (Cal.) Prospect.

An Experiment for Young People.

Take two tumblers—one filled half full of salt water, and one filled half full of fresh water. Put a fresh egg in the tumbler of fresh water. It will sink to the bottom. Put it in the tumbler of salt water, and it will float on top. Carefully pour the brine through a long funnel into the bottom of the tumbler containing the fresh water. The fresh water will rise to the top, and the egg will lie directly in the middle of the glass, poised between the two.

WHO SIGNED THE LEASE.

Some Peculiar Evidence Given in the Foster Case—A Woman in It.

The young man Charles Foster, the ex-captain of the Salvation Army, came up for his preliminary trial before Police Magistrate Dumble on the charge of having forged the name of Mrs. Arthur Armstrong to a lease of a sewing machine. Foster, it will be remembered, skipped out on Monday morning last and left a board bill of $20, which, however, has since been settled by the Singer sewing machine company, and had proceeded as far as St. Thomas when he was arrested on the charge of forgery. The case was a most peculiar one and some of the evidence was more peculiar than the case and until the turn that one of the witnesses took at the very last it looked as though Foster would be discharged. Mr. E. E. Wood appeared for the Crown, Mr. J. O'Meara for the Singer company, and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun defended the prisoner.

The Mrs. Arthur Armstrong, whose name was alleged to have been forged, is a sister of the prisoner, but through illness she was unable to be present to give her evidence. Her husband was present, however, but could not swear that the signature to the sewing machine lease in question was that of his wife or not, but he said he knew that she had purchased no machine during the last thirteen years.

A PECULIAR WITNESS.

Then Elizabeth Nix, of Ashburnham, gave some strong evidence for the defence, although when she was telling her story there was an excitement and nervousness apparent, which would lead to the suspicion that her story was not as straight as it might have been. She said she had been at Mrs. Armstrong's house in Millbrook when Foster came there, and she saw Mrs. Armstrong, sister of the prisoner, sign the lease, or at least a paper that looked like the lease produced. She said she was only calling at the house and did not know Mrs. Armstrong very well. Mr. Wood cross-examined her rather closely, but the witness was very sharp and emphatic in her replies and the Crown Attorney failed to shake her statement.

A DIFFERENT STORY.

Then Wm. Russell, an employee of the Singer company, told a story that conflicted with Miss Nix's. He stated that he had gone to Mrs. Arthur Armstrong's, of Millbrook, to make a collection on the sewing machine that Foster was supposed to have sold her, but he was told by Mrs. Armstrong that she had never bought a sewing machine for thirteen years and that she had not seen her brother (the prisoner) since last June and had never signed the lease. From Russell's evidence it appears that a portion of the commission is paid to an agent by the Singer company when a sale is reported and that Foster got six dollars as commission on the alleged sale of the sewing machine to Mrs. Armstrong. Miss Anderson, another employee in the Singer office here, also stated that Foster had told her that his sister had purchased a machine and gave her the lease and paid her $3 as the first instalment and she gave him $6 as his commission. Frank Coon, another Singer employee, had found the machine mentioned in the lease as having been sold to Mrs. Armstrong in the shop of Mr. Jas. McComb, on Hunter-st., where the prisoner had left it until he should call for it.

A WOMAN IN THE CASE.

Mr. Hoar, the local agent of the Singer Company, stated that the prisoner had told him that he did not sign the lease and that Mrs. Armstrong did not sign it, but that some other woman had written the signature. The prisoner also told the same story to Chief Roszel on the way from St. Thomas.

Mr. Wood then had the information changed from "forgery" to uttering a lease with intention to defraud knowing the same to be forged and asked for an enlargement so as to procure the evidence of Mrs. Armstrong.

Mr. DENNISTOUN objected to the enlargement as he said Mrs. Armstrong's evidence could not bring home the charge no matter whether she said she had or had not signed the lease.

A STARTLING CHANGE OF EVIDENCE.

Magistrate DUMBLE, while listening to the arguments of the two counsels, pointed at the evidence of Mrs. Nix who had sworn that she had seen Mrs. Armstrong sign the lease, and finally re-called Mrs. Nix, and then came the statement which probably sent the prisoner up for trial.

Mrs. NIX again stated positively that she had been at Mrs. Armstrong's at Millbrook, and had seen the leased signed. There were two ladies present, but she did not know which was Mrs. Armstrong. Then Mr. Wood began to cross-examine her and she became a little mixed in her statements about the two women and which signed the lease, and refused to tell why she called at the house.

HER SISTER DID IT.

Finally Mr. WOOD asked Mrs. Nix if the prisoner had not got her sister, Jemima Mabbit, into trouble. The witness said she did not know.

Mr. WOOD—Didn't your sister get a telegram from Foster telling her not to come to him that he was coming back?

Witness—Yes.

Mr. WOOD—Didn't you also know that he had got your sister into trouble?

Witness—No, I did not.

Mr. WOOD—Do you know that it is also said that your sister Jemima signed this lease, eh?

WITNESS (after a pause)—Yes, I might as well tell the truth, she did sign it at my house in Ashburnham, and I would have told you so before only you asked me three or four questions at once and got me all mixed.

Then the story come out to the surprise of everyone, that the lease had been signed by Jemima Mabbit, with whom the prisoner was friendly, in the presence of Foster and Mrs. Nix, and that the latter was never near Mrs. Armstrong's in Millbrook. Mrs. Nix said she had made up the yarn herself, or rather she blamed it upon Mr. Wood.

Mr. Dennistoun submitted that the prisoner should be discharged as he thought no case had been made out.

Magistrate Dumble said he thought it was a straight case of deliberate forgery and sent the prisoner up for trial.

Substantiating His Credit.

"I tell you what it is," said Tom Hardup to his friend Binks, "it has come to this—I must have a new suit of clothes. See how seedy I am getting! Now, my boy, I have hit upon a plan that I think cannot fail to answer."

"What is it?" said Binks, looking somewhat askance at Tom.

"Well, it is simply this. You've got a twenty-dollar note in your pocket, I know. Now, just lend it to me for ten minutes. I intend to go to Raymond's store, where I used to have credit, but confound it, I look such a wreck now I don't like to ask it. A few minutes after I enter the shop you stroll in and say, 'Hullo, Tom, old chap! can you let me have twenty dollars for a day or two?' I'll say, 'Certainly,' and hand you over the note you lend me. That little transaction will at once substantiate my credit, and I will be able to arrange things satisfactorily with the tailor."

Binks was a cautious man, but he could see no harm or risk in thus helping his impecunious friend along.

Accordingly Tom went into a clothing store and was busily engaged selecting a suit when Binks sauntered in.

"Hullo, Tom!" said Binks in a loud tone, "you're just the man I've been looking for. Can you lend me twenty dollars for a week or so?"

Tom turned from the cloth and remarked: "Awfully sorry, old boy, but 'pon my word I have not more than a couple of dollars or so about me."

Binks' face grew considerably longer. He winked, and nudged Tom, whispering, "Confound it, man, hand over the note."

But Tom was obdurate.

At last Binks grew tired of the game and stood outside to wait for Tom. Tom, however, went out at a side door. There will be war when these two meet again.

The Old Way the Best.

A young woman in Rushville, Ills., laid her lump of chewing gum on her pillow the other night and went to sleep. When she awoke in the morning the gum was fast and hard in one of her ears, and she suffered grievously for several days before the obstruction was removed. This shows the danger of departing from long established custom. The inside of the bureau drawer or the back of the bedstead, as all thoughtful young women know, is a much safer place of deposit for wads of gum.—Chicago Tribune.

NORTH DUMMER.

An Interesting Shooting Match—Silver Wedding Anniversary.

Correspondence of the Review.

SHOOTING MATCH.—North Dummer Rifle Club and some friends spent an exceedingly pleasant time at Mr. J. T. Jory's home on Tuesday, the 26th March. From about 3 o'clock p.m. the males of the gathering spent their ability, powder and lead in trying the target at 100 and 200 yard shots, doing creditable work. After tiring or becoming satisfied they returned to the house and, I suppose, through curiosity, asked the ladies to try their hand, who, to the surprise of our worthy shooters, did work which was reported to surpass the first party. I think Lakefield will have room to expect the game in next competition providing the ladies don't go out. Dark came and with it a splendid spread of turkey and carved flakes, with anything else that could be looked for on such an occasion. After tea had been partaken of, the evening was spent in music and readings, one of the latter giving an astonishing description of how the girls over the lines abused a man who liked kissing. It made our Ontario girls feel kind of blushy. There is no doubt but the Ontario girls will kiss a little, but they don't go to extremes, in day-light. A few charades also helped in the amusement and the evening's pleasantness was ended by singing "God be with you," "doxology" and "God save the Queen," which were sung with a heartiness and due reverence.

SUGAR MAKING.—Some quantity of maple sugar is being made in this district, although the season has not so far been fine for it.

SILVER WEDDING.—Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Payne celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary by holding a "Silver Wedding." Many valuable presents were given and a pleasant time enjoyed generally. We join in congratulations and wish them other 25 years with plenty of gold.

Signed with His Own Name.

Banker Rosenthal directed his bookkeeper to address a pretty rough letter to Baron X., who had promised several times to pay what he owed, but had neglected to do so. When the letter was written it did not suit Banker Rosenthal, who is very excitable, so the latter hastily penned the following:

MY DEAR BARON X.—Who was it that promised to pay up on the first of January?

You, my dear baron, you are the man.

Who was it that promised then to settle on the first of March?

You, my dear baron.

Who is it that didn't settle on the first of March?

You, my dear baron.

Who is it, then, who has broken his word twice and is an unmitigated scoundrel?

Your obedient servant,
MOSE ROSENTHAL.

CHINA HALL

CHINA
GLASS
AND QUEENS W

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate cracked at that. Consider $24,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of Sevres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $2,400 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $2,000 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

THURSDAY, APRIL 4, 1889.

BEAUTIFUL JIM.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER

"Look here, youngster," he said, sharply; "this sort of thing won't do! If the truth has to be kept between you and me you must manage to pull yourself together and hide your feelings a bit better. The best thing for you to do is to get a stiff glass of brandy and tumble into bed at once. And then the sooner you get out of Walmsbury the better."

"But I can't get out of Walmsbury," Tommy exclaimed, fretfully.

"You get to bed, as I tell you," returned Jim. "I'll manage that—I'll speak to the colonel about it."

"But you won't tell him, Beresford?"

"Tell him what?" contemptuously. "Get to bed and stop there. Foster is impressed with the fact that you are seedy, and you had better keep it up—it will simplify matters. Besides, you cannot go to the funeral to-morrow—I couldn't quite stand that." He turned to leave the room then, and Tommy followed him a step or so with an eager expression of gratitude on his lips. Beautiful Jim, however, promptly cut that proceeding very short.

"Look here," he said. "You had better understand clearly from the beginning that I am not doing this in any way for you. If there was no one but you to think of, I would very cheerfully see you hanged to-morrow. You richly deserve it. But there happen to be others to be thought of, and I think of them—it's lucky for you that it is so, perhaps, though being such a thorough paced young scoundrel as you are, I don't know whether hanging would not be the best thing that could happen to you." With these words Beautiful Jim went out of the room, and, as the night was yet young, down into the anteroom again.

As for Tommy, he sat down before the fire again and thought it all over; but his first thought was: "I always did dislike that fellow—I hate him now."

CHAPTER XIX.

A PAINFUL HOUR.

The colonel, who was staying at a hotel in Walmsbury had betaken himself away from the anteroom by the time Beautiful Jim returned to it, so for that night he could do nothing further to promote the scheme he had prepared for getting Tommy Earle sent back to headquarters. Therefore he had to wait until 10 o'clock in the morning, when Col. Barnes arrived in barracks.

The funeral was arranged to leave the door of the officers' quarters at 2 in the afternoon, so as soon as the colonel appeared, Beautiful Jim went into the office with him and asked him for ten minutes' private conversation before he saw any of the others.

"Certainly, Jim, certainly," said the colonel, kindly. "Now, tell me, what is it?"

"Well, sir," said Jim, gravely, "young Earle won't be able to go to the funeral—he's ill in bed, but of course the doctor will tell you about that. Still, I wanted to speak to you about him. The lad is ill—in fact, he's been ill and unlike himself ever since we came here. The place does not suit him physically or morally, and I am perfectly certain if he remains here he will go to the dogs, nothing else."

"But I don't quite understand," said the colonel, looking puzzled.

"No, sir, but I'll explain," said Jim. "It's just here. Young Earle is very young as yet, his mind is of the smallest, and the lack of society in this place is driving him to seek society that will be the ruin of him. In short, he has got mixed up with a very dangerous, designing sort of woman, and if I could induce you to get him away out of this it will be the salvation of him, nothing less. Owen, poor fellow, was very anxious about this, and almost the last thing he said to me was that he should try to get you to transfer him back to headquarters."

"Was that the subject of conversation which you would not disclose?" the colonel asked.

Beautiful Jim hesitated for a moment. "Well, sir, frankly, it was. I thought it best to keep it to myself, because I was certain that the lad did not know that Owen had found out what was going on, and it seemed hardly fair to him to tell it."

"I understand. I will respect your wishes," the colonel said, hastily.

"Thank you, sir," said Jim. "Apart from the fact that this woman will certainly marry him if she gets the chance, or rather, if she does not find herself circumvented by us, Walmsbury is about the worst place in the world for a lad of his temperament. With proper bringing up he might have been, and probably would have been, a very fine fellow; but he has not been properly brought up—quite the contrary, in fact. He's the last of a good old family and the child of his father's old age, and in consequence has been taught from his cradle to think himself a young god—nothing short of it. Now, the lad isn't a young god; he's a very ordinary addle headed young ass, as you saw for yourself, sir, the night he first dined with us, as full of self importance and conceit as it's possible to be. Therefore, apart from this entanglement, this is a very bad atmosphere for him to be in; he is a most important person, and being only one of four men practically isolated—for there is literally no society here, and I fancy the people hereabout look upon us as so much dirt than otherwise—he is able to give his opinion far more freely than is good for him. Now, with the regiment he is scarcely able to open his mouth at all, he is regularly at school, and a pretty sharp one too, and is made every hour to feel himself to be not of the very smallest importance whatever."

"Well, I'll see what I can do about it," said the colonel.

GHOULISH THIEVES

The Dead and Wounded Alleged to Have Been Robbed at St. George.

LONDON, Ont., April 3.—The Free Press says: Constable Logan and other G.T.R. detectives have been at work in the neighborhood of St. George ever since the disaster there trying to recover misappropriated property. Everything people could lay their hands on was carried off, with the exception of the remainder of the bridge, which they fortunately overlooked. Among other things taken were some eight or ten gold watches, $300 or $400 in money, all the dining-car silverware, a large quantity of jewelry, clothing, cushions, seats and everything else.

Among the goods recovered was the late Mr. Wemp's watch, two watches belonging to the two colored men killed, besides two or three other watches, a lot of jewelry, a large quantity of the upholstering of the wrecked cars, a little money and some silverware. An overcoat with $125 in it belonging to Mr. Budden of Dorchester was stolen. The late Mr. Baynes was robbed of between $40 and $60; Conductor Dan Revell dropped nearly $50, and several others large amounts.

The railway company have gone to a great deal of trouble to recover this stolen property, and have preferred to take it back quietly without any fuss. However, now that they have secured all that people are willing to give up, it is probable that they will make two or three examples for the purpose of securing the rest. Nearly all the money and silverware and three or four watches have yet to be traced.

OTTAWA, April 3.—Mr. Mulock is about to inquire of the Government whether their attention has been drawn to an article in The Engineer pointing out structural defects in the St. George bridge, whereby the recent disaster might be accounted for; also whether any steps are being taken to see whether or not other railway bridges are similarly defective.

THE EIFFEL TOWER.

An Ascent With M. Clemenceau—The Exposition Buildings.

LONDON, April 3.—The Eiffel tower in Paris, 1178 feet high, has been completed. I was up to the 1000 feet mark last week. I ascended with M. Clemenceau, Admiral Maxse and Miss Maxse, a girl of 16, who was the first lady to reach that altitude. At 1000 feet the winding stairs stopped. I crawled across the plank over the abyss on my hands and knees. On rising to my feet I stumbled out, but fortunately regained my balance and did not fall off the exposed platform, but the moment was somewhat ghastly.

Then M. Clemenceau and I began the ascent of the ladders, about thirty feet high. The wind was blowing hard, and there was a slight shower of hail. It was bitterly cold. The ladders shook under the ascent. I persuaded M. Clemenceau to desist. His hands were so cold he might have slipped, and the consequences to the Republic would have been too calamitous for description. We came down the ladder and felt much more comfortable when we were once more on the staircase.

The ascent by elevators will be accomplished in five minutes, while to walk up the spiral staircase requires forty minutes. With an electric light on the summit it is expected that a person can read a newspaper seven miles off. The light will be visible for forty miles. There is a restaurant on the first landing, at the height of the towers of Notre Dame. Messrs. Spiers & Pond were the English contractors. The tower is very graceful, and is visible from all parts of Paris. The wind whistles in the iron girders as it whistles in the rigging of a ship.

The exposition is still in great unreadiness. Great cases from the United States are lying ready for unpacking, but no exhibits are in sight. After France, England will be the chief exhibitor. The buildings are of unprecedented solidity and extent. The Champ de Mars is connected with the Invalide Esplanade by an extensive annex. The hall of machines is a magnificent expanse of glass.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery, it is. Not only the largest air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if every thing else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

EPPS'S COCOA
BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

Dress Goods, Dress Goods.

We have been fortunate in securing a large lot of fine French Dress Goods at about 50 cents on the dollar, and have now placed them on sale on the table in the centre of the store. Ask to be shown the fine All Wool Dress Goods, we are selling @ 6c. per yard. Ask to see the All Wool Debeige, @9c. per yard. Fine French Dress Goods worth 40c. for 15c. In all there is about 2500 yards and the sale is extraordinary. With these came a lot of Bavarian Curtains, bought at 50c. on the dollar, which are selling very rapidly.

House Furnishing Department.

We are showing unprecedented value in all classes of Carpets and Curtains; Oilcloths from the low grades to the heaviest English floor oils.

Tailoring Department.

As usual our display of Scotch and Canadian Suitings, English and French Worsted Coatings, and many novelties in Pantings have been appreciated, from the fact that our orders are far in excess of previous seasons.

We can show you some big bargains in Tweeds. See our All Wool Halifax Tweeds @ 25, 35, and 50 cents per yard. These lines are a marvel of cheapness, and are sold elsewhere at very much higher prices.

We cannot fully describe our stock, but we have plenty of display room where you can see it conveniently, and judge for yourself.

TURNBULL'S COLUMN

Whatever the weather has been outside, it was the springiest of spring time in our store on Wednesday and Thursday last, when all the New Millinery and Millinery belongings were opened out of their close fitting boxes. For the benefit of those who could not get in on those days we will keep the display up till the first week of April. Among the leading changes noticeable in the trimming this season is Lace Ends and Scarfs and Long Veils drawn in with baby ribbon are the Leading Trimmings. The old fashion hop that used to climb up the pole on the back door is now found falling over the Black Lace Hats. Having struck a cheap line of Flowers (German make), the Germans copy the French designs and give us the goods cheaper. We have a bouquet for everybody, bunches of roses in all colors for 35c. each. Our Stock of Children's Trimmed Hats is unusually attractive. Sailor Hats in endless variety, we have not room to give them a front show. We were disappointed at not being able to show with the millinery, the new Jet Capes, Silk Visettes and Trimmed Dolmans, but there is time enough yet and we expect them in on the first freight train. A fine assortment of Cloths in the order department. All hands busy as bees in the work rooms up-stairs.

The Dress Goods Department is as lively as ever. A new line of Vigors and Cloth in 3 shades, 44 inches wide at 60c., came in this week. A glance at them will tell you they are serviceable. With them came a new line of German Dress Cloth, we have shown nothing similar before, is just what any lady would fancy for a Genteel Dress. Will show another new make next week. Miss Mercier is always pleased to help you with her advice as to length of dress, pattern, style of making and trimming, whether you wish to have it made by her or not.

Kid Gloves, fresh from the hands of the maker in Austria at 75c. and $1.00 a pair. This line we had in stock before, but the quantity was small and we only had a pair for a lady here and there.

Corsets. Spring brings changes and this one has brought one of the nicest makes we have ever shown. All the best makes from the leading manufacturers coming in and going out again. Large sizes for stout ladies always in stock.

FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 1889.

A COLD DAY FOR THE ACT

SEVENTEEN CONSTITUENCIES "VOTED WET" YESTERDAY.

The Scott Acters Fail to Get There in Every Instance—Full Returns of the Poll—Comparison With Previous Votes.

TORONTO, April 5.—Fifteen counties and two cities voted yesterday on the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act. The elections were all in Ontario with the exception of one—Colchester in Nova Scotia.

The result was a clean sweep for repeal. Every constituency gave majorities against the act, ranging from 125 in Brant to 1700 in Kent. In Colchester the figures are not yet reported, but the majority for repeal is large.

The table below shows the majorities for repeal in the elections yesterday together with the majorities by which the act was originally adopted in the various places and the date of the last election:

Counties.	Maj. for Repeal.	Maj. Adopted by.	Last Election.
Brant	125	602	Dec. 84
Carleton	125	693	Jan. 85
Colchester, N.S.		1231	May 81
Frontenac	300	510	May 85
Kent	1700	2393	Jan. 85
Lanark	500	406	Jan. 85
Lennox & Add	546	36	Jan. 85
Lincoln	500	570	June 85
North. & Dur	600	2487	Feb. 85
Ontario	600	1351	July 85
Peterboro	430	411	Sept. 85
Victoria	800	1015	July 85
Wellington	1000	1430	April 85
Cities.
Guelph	432	168	Jan. 85
St. Thomas	371	11	March 85

Every place in Wellington gave a majority against the act.

In Lennox and Addington only two places gave majorities against repeal.

The friends of the act failed to carry a single ward in Guelph.

The greatest change was in Kent. On Jan. 15, 1885, the act was carried by 2393 majority and yesterday it was buried by 1700 majority.

"Kronk" is likely to be a drug in the market.

Gloucester is the only place in Carleton reporting a majority against repeal.

Last year fourteen counties voted on the act. Westmoreland, N.B., and Richmond, Que., gave majorities for the act. All the Ontario counties, ten in number, voted "wet."

Oxford Hotel-keepers Jubilant.

WOODSTOCK, April 4.—The interest here over the result of the Scott Act contests in the various counties to-day has been intense. It was felt that the effect, whichever way it went, would control the action of the parties in this county. This has been considered the safest county for the Scott Act in the province, and the vote has been put off till the last. The hotel-keepers are jubilant, and it is almost certain that it will be allowed to go by default.

SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES.

A Little Over Two Millions Asked—The Total for 1888-89 $37,883,389.

OTTAWA, April 4.—The supplementary estimates of expenditure for the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1889, were submitted this afternoon. The total is $2,097,167, of which $1,154,132 is chargeable to consolidated fund, $419,040 to capital account, $58,100 to territorial accounts and $466,880 to cover unprovided items for 1887-88.

Adding the amounts voted in the previous estimates the totals for 1888-89 are found to be $37,883,389 chargeable to consolidated fund and $9,712,912 chargeable to capital account. A great part of the amounts now asked to be voted have already been spent under Governor-General's warrants. A few of the more interesting items are:

C.P.R. Arbitration	$60,000
Toronto Postoffice, etc.	5000
Toronto Ast. Rec.-Gen.'s office	1110
Hamilton public building, water rates	2227
To indemnify St. C. M. & L. Co. costs	10,000
Costs in Queen v. Hodge	2046
Mail service C.P.R	61,000
Militia expenses N.W. rebellion	50,000
Seed grain to Edmonton settlers	6100

THE MOST FAVORED NATION.

Senator Wark Introduces His Anti-Unrestricted Reciprocity Resolution.

OTTAWA, April 4.—The attention of the Senate was to-day devoted to this resolution proposed by Hon. Mr. Wark:

"Resolved as the opinion of this House that in view of the fostering care extended by the Mother Country to her colonies from their infancy, as well as for the favorable terms on which their products have always been admitted in her markets, it would be unjust to the United Kingdom to levy higher duties on goods imported from thence than on goods of the same character imported from any foreign country."

Speaking in support of his own motion Senator Wark expressed regret that the movement to prevent the closer union of the colonies had been spoken of in very disrespectful terms in some quarters on this side the Atlantic. He was opposed to the Unrestricted Reciprocity movement, and on this score was sorry to have to differ from his political friends, because he thought it would give a death blow to the attempt to more closely unite the colonies and the Mother Country.

Senator Power followed and the debate was adjourned.

In Canada by This Time.

ELMIRA, N.Y., April 4.—George W. Ward, assistant postmaster in this city, has disappeared and $1500 of Government funds are missing. Ward took Erie train No. 5 for the west Wednesday morning.

A Club House Burnt.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The old club house of the New York Athletic Club on Traverse Island, in the Sound, which was used as a summer house, has been burned. The loss will be $30,000.

A FOE OF THE REPUBLIC.

PREMIER TIRARD DEMANDS BOULANGER'S PROSECUTION.

The Chamber of Deputies Divide on the Question—The Government Sustained—The Calliope Safe.

PARIS, April 4.—The Chamber of Deputies agreed to the immediate assembling of the Bureaux for the purpose of electing a committee on the prosecution of Boulanger. A committee was appointed and subsequently presented its report to the Chamber. The committee advised the House to authorize the prosecution of Boulanger.

The Chamber voted urgency for the discussion of the accusations against Boulanger and the debate proceeded.

Paul deCassagnac pronounced the charges against Boulanger a tissue of absurdity and of falsehood. He declared that the real arbiter between Boulanger and the Government was universal suffrage.

Premier Tirard called upon the Chamber to authorise the prosecution of Boulanger. He said: "We desire to prosecute a man who is seeking to overthrow the Republic. It is our duty to defend the institutions of our country against the intrigues of factions and to take every means to safeguard France from the horrors of civil war. I am convinced that the people will justify the action of the Government."

After speeches by the members a vote was taken on the question of sanctioning the prosecution of Boulanger, the Chamber deciding 355 to 203 in favor of prosecution.

MM. Laguerre, Laisant and Leherisse have gone to Brussels to consult with Boulanger. M. Laguerre, before his departure, said he and his associates would return Saturday to face judgment.

Boulanger's Flight From France.

PARIS, April 4.—The National Committee of the Boulangist party announces that Boulanger departed from France by the advice of the committee. Four members of the committee opposed the step. M. Thiebaud, the principal election organizer of the party, and Deputy Michelin have seceded from the committee as a protest against Boulanger's action in leaving the country. It is reported that M. Susini, M. Laur, and other Boulangist Deputies have adopted a similar course. M. Thiebaud also retired from the editorship of Cocarde, the Boulangist paper. He says he is disgusted with the secrecy maintained by Boulanger, which tends to mislead the latter's friends, and M. Michelin contends that Boulanger should have remained and faced even martyrdom. The Bonapartists approve the General's course, while the Royalists stigmatise his flight as an act of cowardice.

Senator Naquet, Deputies Laisant and Laguerre wrote to Boulanger about the middle of March advising him to flee. The General strongly objected to this course as he knew that he would be accused of cowardice if he left the country. Finally M. Naquet and his two deputies threatened to secede from the party unless he took their advice, and it was this threat that caused his departure.

Frustrated by the Police.

BRUSSELS, April 4.—MM. Laguerre, Laisant, Leherisse, Naquet, Millevoy and Fanconnerie have arrived here. An attempt of students to hold an anti-Boulangist demonstration on their arrival was frustrated by the police.

An Awful Threat.

BRUSSELS, April 4.—Boulanger says if he is expelled from Belgium he will go to England.

Sir Charles Russell's Defence.

LONDON, April 4.—Sir Charles Russell continued his speech in behalf of the Parnellites before the Parnell Commission today. He explained the constitution and objects of the League formed by Mr. Davitt, of which Mr. Parnell was president, and said that of the persons constituting the Executive of the League only five were connected with secret organizations. The League's appeals, he declared, were based upon the necessities of the farmers and were entirely constitutional. They were intended to guide the farmers in their distress. He pointed out that Mr. Parnell and his followers had been vilified and misrepresented like Messrs. Bright and Cobden in the early days of their reform movement. Prominent members of the League were in favor of boycotting, which up to a certain point they considered justifiable and right. He held that Parnell was not liable, criminally nor otherwise, unless he was a party to murder and outrage as a part of the agreed objects of the League.

The Naval Proposals.

LONDON, April 4.—In the House of Commons this afternoon on the report stage of the naval proposals, a motion by Mr. Childers against the financial method of the scheme was rejected by a vote of 158 to 125. Mr. Gladstone supported the motion.

Salisbury's Candidate Rejected.

LONDON, April 4.—The House of Lords by a vote of 95 to 77 to-day elected the Earl of Morley (Lib.) chairman of committees, rejecting the Marquis of Salisbury's candidate, Lord Balfour of Burleigh.

The Calliope Safe.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., April 4.—The British man-of-war Calliope, which escaped destruction in Apia Bay during the cyclone there March 15 and 16 by putting to sea, has arrived here and she reports leaving Samoa March 21 and that the United States man-of-war Nipsic had been floated off the beach, the natives lending material assistance.

Before the hurricane burst every precaution had been taken by the commander of the Calliope to render the vessel secure. Five anchors had been dropped, but when the storm was at its height four of the anchor chains snapped and the vessel began to drift. The captain then determined to leave the reefs and if possible reach the open sea. This he eventually succeeded in doing, making his way out at the rate of half a knot an hour. The heavy seas broke over the vessel, doing much damage, but not a life was lost. Thousands of people flocked to the waterside to see the Calliope and all united in praising the pluckiness of her captain.

German Warships for Samoa.

KIEL, April 4.—The German naval authorities have ordered the cruiser Habicht and the gunboat Wolf to be put in readiness at once to proceed to Samoa.

Stanley and Emin Heard From in February.

BRUSSELS, April 4.—Advices received here from Stanley Falls state that Arabs who have arrived there report that Henry M. Stanley and Emin Pasha were heard from in February. They were then marching toward Zanzibar with several thousand men, women and children. They also had 6000 tusks of ivory.

The Arabs who brought news of Stanley and Emin arrived at Stanley Falls in February. They claimed to have seen Stanley several months before that time.

Absentees Fined.

BERLIN, April 4.—One hundred and forty Alsatians have been fined 600 marks each for failing to report for service in the German army.

DEVASTATED BY FLAME.

Dakota and Minnesota Swept by Prairie Fires—Many Lives Lost.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 4.—During the last two days South Dakota and Minnesota have been swept by a series of windstorms, which have caused thousands of dollars damage to property and several lives have been lost. The storm started Monday night and swept over a large area south of the Northern Pacific road in Dakota, and extending into the southern tier of counties in this State. The greatest damage has not been caused by the wind alone, but in many places fires fanned into fury by the storms have wiped out of existence several small villages and hundreds of farmers' houses. The towns almost completely destroyed are Volin, Olivet, Pukowanna, Lesterville and Mount Vernon and three or four other villages were badly damaged. At Volin every house in the place except three was demolished and 100 people are without homes. Lesterville was flattened to the ground and twenty families are without a roof.

A terrible gale of wind struck Mount Vernon, and fire started from a small house that was blown over early Tuesday night. No human power could stop the flames, and in an hour the business portion of the place was one great raging fire, nearly 200 families are homeless and the loss will foot up $200,000. It is reported that several persons lost their lives in the fire, but no confirmation has yet been received. Four large elevators and the Milwaukee depot were destroyed. Near Blunt one man lost nearly 500 head of sheep which were caught in a prairie fire. Several head of horses were saved by swimming the river.

In many places the crops were covered by the loose sand and dust, and will have to be re-planted. Travel was suspended on some lines so great was the force of the wind. The clouds of dust prevented the engineers seeing the track. A report from Garry says the sun was almost totally obscured, and the superstitious thought the end of the world had come. Farm houses and barns were swept away and horses and cattle were burnt to death by scores. Near Milbank 50 head of live stock are reported lost and the fire has swept over twenty miles of the country, causing much loss.

The storm has abated somewhat, but the wind is yet high enough to keep the fires burning fiercely and further heavy losses are almost certain. The damage in Minnesota is much less than in Dakota. A despatch from Yankton, Dakota, says the records of the Signal Office show that during the prevalence of the fires in this region the humidity was but 7 per cent., a condition of dryness never before observed. The loss in South Dakota will foot up $2,000,000 at a low calculation.

A County Seat Destroyed.

ABERDEEN, Dak., April 4.—Leola, the county seat of McPherson County, was destroyed by a prairie fire during Tuesday's whirlwind. Sixty dwellings and business houses were burned, entailing a loss of $150,000. The only buildings remaining are the Court House, two stores and six dwellings. C. W. Old and Thomas Wardell were terribly burned and cannot live. The surrounding country is nearly devastated. Hundreds of farm houses are in ashes and the bones of burned animals are lying about.

Forty Houses Burnt.

MILLER, Dak., April 4.—Prairie fires last night destroyed about 40 houses, many barns, a large number of horses and cattle, and left about 40 families destitute in the southern part of this county. A terrible gale added to the terrors of the situation. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

A Mysterious Arrest.

DENVER, April 4.—On the receipt of telegraphic instructions from Superintendent Hubbard of the Chicago police to-day Barney McKinney and A. Larkins, two well-known horsemen, were arrested. The arrest is something of a mystery, it being alleged the prisoners are wanted in Illinois for stealing a string of racehorses from Kentucky. The horses arrived here yesterday and were in possession of McKinney and Larkins. The animals are reported to be worth between $20,000 and $25,000. The prisoners refuse to talk.

Winnipeg Wire Whispers.

WINNIPEG, April 4.—Captain Graham has retired from the Dominion Immigration Department and is succeeded by Mr. Bennett of Brandon.

Within 48 hours 32 cars of cotton goods have passed here for China.

John Mitchell formerly of Peterboro, dropped dead to-day of apoplexy.

A rich coal deposit has been discovered near Swift Current.

A Fatal Fence Dispute.

COVINGTON, Tenn., April 4.—In a quarrel over the building of a fence between their properties, D. S. Billings yesterday shot and killed his neighbor, ex-Tax Collector A. J. Yarboro. The latter had threatened Billings with a knife and an axe. Billings is a school teacher.

The Yorktown Ordered to Sail.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 4.—Secretary Tracy has ordered the new cruiser Yorktown to be made ready for sailing on April 20. All that remains to be done is, it is said, to place the stores on board. It is thought she will be sent to New York during the centennial of Washington's inauguration.

A Determined Suicide.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 4.—R. K. Lord, captain of the steamer W. R. McKeen, rowed to the middle of Lake Maxinkuckle to-day, anchored his boat, tied a heavy piece of iron to his leg, slashed himself with a razor and jumped overboard in 85 feet of water. The body was recovered.

A Cold Wave Expected in Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Government of Chili has formally signified its intention to participate in the congress of American Nations to be held in Washington this year.

Mr. Lincoln Accepts.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Robert T. Lincoln called upon the President and Secretary Blaine to-day and formally accepted the English mission. He will sail for England about May 15.

MOVED THE MILL TO CANADA.

A Michigan Firm's Scheme to Avoid Payment of a Mortgage.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., April 4.—Deputy-Sheriff Jones of Detour arrived here last night and stated that Moiles Brothers of that place, who are largely engaged in lumbering in this vicinity, have packed up their goods to leave for Canada. Hurd and Hovestain of Buffalo held a mortgage of $43,000 on the mill of the firm and it was due in a few days. Monday about 3 o'clock the tug Dowling loading two vessels from Saginaw landed at Detour presumably for a cargo of lumber, but at night a hundred men concealed in the boats came ashore and began removing all the machinery of the mill and moveable property on board. At noon to-day all was loaded except the boiler and the workmen began tearing down the mill. The sheriff received notice to stop the operations at any cost but no authority was sent. The telephone and telegraph wires are cut in three places and there is no communication with Detour. All will be loaded by midnight and the tug and vessels will be on their way to Spanish River, Canada, where the firm has lately purchased a site.

SIR JOHN'S BEST FRIEND.

THE PREMIER'S EULOGY OF HIS LATE COLLEAGUE.

Mr. Laurier and Mr. Hall Also Pay Tributes to Mr. Pope—Bills Passed in the House Yesterday.

OTTAWA, April 4.—After routine and before the business set for the day was taken up, Sir John Macdonald asked the permission of the House to make a reference to the career of his late colleague, Hon. John Henry Pope. The Premier said:

After the kind notices that have been given by the press without distinction as to politics, I do not feel warranted in occupying the time of the House but for a few moments. The acquaintance between Mr. Pope and myself commenced so long ago as 1849—forty years ago. I first met him at an assemblage of the British American League, which met at Kingston in consequence of the unhappy disturbances at the time. He came as a young representative from the Eastern Townships to represent the British inhabitants of that part of the country. Looking back to the result of that meeting, which was called with the loyal intention of calming public excitement which had been raised, from that time our friendship and acquaintance has been continued without break. Perhaps no two men in the world were more allied to each other in sentiment and feeling.

He came to Parliament with the reputation of being a man likely to be a valuable representative of the people, and those expectations were not disappointed. He was a man, perhaps the most influential that ever came from the Eastern Townships. He was a leader in that part of the country. He was looked up to as a man having the great faculty of governing and convincing men. Before he became a member of the Government he was a very valuable member of Parliament. His practical common sense, his kindliness of heart and demeanor, his great sense of humor gave him a position in the House which was almost unexampled for a man who had struggled against those disadvantages to which I have alluded.

I early learned to know his value and I was only too glad when I was able to persuade him, as I believe in the public interest, to give up his private life and take office and assist in the task of administering the affairs of the country. He was not disappointed with the result and none of his colleagues were disappointed. No one could fully know the value of Mr. Pope who did not sit with him in this Council. His great administrative ability, his freedom from all illiberality, his disinterestedness in his own affairs and his desire to do what was best for the country were so obvious to all his colleagues that they yielded to him a large degree of influence which was deserved.

His powers of administration were shown in the Department of Agriculture. Himself a practical farmer on a large scale, he brought an intimate acquaintance with the subject to the administration of his department. The same intimate acquaintance with the subject with which he had to deal was displayed by him in the Department of Railways and Canals. Engineers who were connected with the department were surprised at his intimate knowledge in every connection with railways. All his colleagues reverenced him greatly, prized his ability and deeply regret his loss. He was not only respected and esteemed but loved. It was my melancholy privilege to be present at the banquet given to Mr. Pope by those people whom he represented so long, and to see in the countenances of those who were present their realization that they were listening to him for the last time.

The country has lost a great man. The Government has lost a minister whose place they will be unable to supply and as for myself I have lost the best friend I have in the world.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier also pronounced a feeling eulogy on the deceased minister. He thought it was only due to say that the people who knew Mr. Pope little knew what a powerful mind his was. Without having had educational advantages he possessed great practical resources always at his command, and in all questions of importance he was capable of finding a solution always the best. He was endowed with a quality of perseverance which made him carry to the end anything which he undertook. There never was another man in the Eastern Townships who had such a hold on the people as Mr. Pope had. In Compton all creeds and races were his friends, all looked up to him, and would sorrow for his death.

Mr. Hall said he was sure that the sentiments expressed by the Premier and leader of the Opposition were those of all the people of the Eastern Townships, and as one of the representatives of that district he could not let the occasion pass without joining in the tribute to the memory of the deceased.

The House then went into committee on the Franchise Bill and continued in committee until 6 o'clock. The Minister of Justice explained that it would be necessary for him to examine some of the amendments to the act and the committee reported progress.

Hon. Mr. Tupper moved the second reading of his bill to amend the revised statutes respecting the safety of ships. This bill was introduced at the last session and withdrawn. It was subsequently submitted to ship owners and shippers, who approved of its provisions. The object of the bill is to make clear and strengthen the act now on the statute book and to make it similar to the English act. The bill defines unseaworthiness so as to make convictions possible, and provides for the safety of vessels carrying grain cargoes and makes provision in regard to the evasion of the deck load law. At present it is possible for a vessel to load at Montreal, taking a deck load after the time allowed by law, taking out clearing papers for the United States and sail across the Atlantic. The bill adopts the English clause relating to contracts of service by making the owner responsible for the seaworthiness of the ship and provides that all necessary means shall be taken to render the ship seaworthy.

After recess the House again went into committee on the Franchise Bill and after an hour's discussion the committee rose and reported progress.

The House then went into committee on the bill amending the act respecting the safety of ships. The bill was read a third time and passed. So also were the bills respecting the harbor of Belleville, the Western Counties Railway and the Steamboat Inspection Act.

The House adjourned at 12.45.

The Mennonite Loans.

OTTAWA, April 4.—Hon. John Carling has given notice of this resolution: "That it is expedient to provide that the amount due on certain loans amounting in the aggregate to $96,400, made to Mennonite immigrants on the security of members of that community resident in Ontario, should be computed as though the interest stipulated had been 4 per cent. simple interest instead of 6 per cent. compound interest, and that payment in full may be adopted on the basis of such computation."

An End of the Union.

LONDON, April 4.—A member of the Government will go to Birmingham to deliver speeches on behalf of Mr. Bright, who is a candidate for the parliamentary seat made vacant by the death of his father. This indicates an end of the Conservative-Union [illegible]

THE SCOTT ACT DEFEAT.

The vote yesterday was a veritable Waterloo for the Scott Act, as in the fifteen places in which it was voted upon it was defeated, the smallest majority against it, so far as has been ascertained at this writing, being a little over a hundred and the largest majority 1,700

There is one singular fact noticeable in the returns, and that is that the counties which have given the largest majorities for the repeal gave very large majorities three or more years ago for the Act. For instance Kent, which gave 2,893 for the Act, now repeals it by a majority of 1,700; Ontario gave 1,261 for the Act and now gives 1,000 against it; Wellington gave 1,489 for and now 1,571 against, and Colchester, N.S., 1,234 and now 1,600 against. The aggregate majorities in the fifteen places for the Act at the time of the former vote was 13,086, while the same counties and cities have now repealed it by aggregate majorities, so far as heard from, of over 10,500. Peterborough has turned a majority of 466 for the Act into a majority of 500 against it. These figures will no doubt be changed by completer returns, but the Act is gone in all the places.

An interesting question is, what has made this great change in public sentiment? There may have been various influences at work, but there is no doubt that the cause of the overwhelming defeat of the Act has been the indifference or disgust caused in many minds by the Act being only partially or not at all enforced. The Act was designed to suppress the liquor traffic in the localities where it was adopted. It did not do that, and although it was argued that it had had a good effect, many must have come to the opposite conclusion and thus the Act has been swept away, and its non-enforcement has brought about its defeat.

HARVEY COUNCIL.

A Regular Business Meeting of the Fathers of the Township.

Correspondence of the Review.

The Council met at Scott's Mills on the 29th March. All present. The minutes were read and confirmed. The Treasurer's bonds were received and adopted by the Council, for the current year. An order was drawn on the Treasurer for the sum of eight dollars, in favor of Mrs. Shouldice for keeping one of the Curtiss' children up to the 21st March. The Reeve was instructed to get advice, and try to compel the father to support his own family. By order, several small sums charged on the the collectors roll for 1888 were removed as the parties had moved away from Burleigh Falls. Some statute labor charged was also removed from the roll, and the parties authorized to do their work in 1889. The Council adjourned, to meet on May 27th at the Town Hall, for Court of Revision.

KEENE.

A Pointed Contradiction.—To Editor Review.—Dear Sir,—I was very much surprised at the statement of Duncan McIntyre while before the Police Magistrate having reference to my son. Those statements are a tissue of lies all through. My son did not take away a flask from the rink and McIntyre returned the flask he stole on the same day, namely, March 1st, but only after several threats from Mr. Cruickshanks, the President of the company. I would like McIntyre to back up his statements or rest under the name of falsifier. I remain, yours truly, Joseph Elmhirst.

The Musicians Released.

New York, April 4.—There was not sufficient evidence forthcoming to warrant the return to Antwerp of the 400 musicians who were landed yesterday at Castle Garden and they were permitted to leave the Garden to-day.

South Perth Conservative Convention.

St. Mary's, April 4.—The Conservatives of the South Riding of Perth met in convention at Fullarton Corner to-day. A large number of delegates were present from all parts of the riding. H. Fred Sharpe of St. Mary's was chosen as the party's candidate for the House of Commons and W. R. Davis of Mitchell for the Local Legislature. The election of officers resulted as follows: W. R. Davis, Mitchell, president; T. Kay, Usborne, vice-president; T. D. Stanley, St. Mary's, secretary; R. Switzer, Blanshard, treasurer.

The Guelph Murderer.

Guelph, April 4.—Harvey's condition is the same as heretofore reported. He takes nourishment, and converses with those who are permitted to see him. There was a rumor afloat that he had made a confession, but this statement is altogether groundless. Beyond his spiritual adviser, and one or two others, no one has been permitted to see him, and they, it is understood, never approached the question of the murder, but talked to him purely on religious and business matters.

Hardie Must Go Back.

Halifax, April 4.—Judge Ritchie delivered judgment to-day ordering the extradition of Henry Hardie, the New York forger, and remanded the prisoner for 15 days in order that the papers may be sent to Ottawa for signature. It is reported that Hardie's counsel will appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.

THE CHICAGO FOX HUNT.

Suggestions by The New York Tribune Prior to the Event.

Chicago has decided to celebrate Washington's birthday by following the hounds in an imitation fox hunt. Six months ago the leaders in her best society ceased stamping the little tin pails of lard turned out at their refineries with the familiar porker's profile, but instead emblazoned thereon a lion rampant. It was clear from that moment that American ideas and institutions were doomed in Chicago-by-the-Lake.

We are assured that the most extensive preparations are being made for the meet. Chicago, however, keeps in view the fact that discretion has long been recommended as being the most desirable part of valor, and is determined to take no risks.

To this end, we are told, those having the matter in charge, "after an earnest consultation have determined to have no jumps or obstacles of any kind on the course," even if it somewhat mars the effect, the committee being "fearful of the consequences." All dangerous American barbed wire fences, sign boards, trees, bushes, stones and other objects are being carefully removed from the course, which will be twelve miles straightaway, and the farmers along the route will be requested to keep in their cows, hogs and poultry on the day of the meet. The committee hates to take these precautions, but the consequences hang over it by a single hair and render it fearful.

Various other precautionary measures are under consideration by the committee and may be adoped. A plan for strewing the course thickly with feather beds, spring mattresses, and so forth, to ward off, in a measure, the "consequences," has been suggested, but it is thought that the cost will be too great. It is believed that by strapping pillows to various parts of the persons of the riders, practically the same result may be reached at only a fraction of the expense. The idea of strapping each rider firmly to his horse met with no approval except among some of the more timid; but a novel plan has been proposed in its place and will probably be carried out. Each rider will wear a jacket, which will be short enough, so that as he sits on his horse the lower edge of it will be some six inches from the cantle of the saddle.

The jacket edge will then be fastened to the saddle by a half dozen stout six inch spiral springs. This, it is thought, will insure great safety and leave the intrepid follower of the hounds ample freedom of motion. In case the horse falls, takes an imaginary hedge, or otherwise becomes highly unpleasant for a Chicago man, the rider will simply fly up into the air a foot or two and be drawn back quickly and surely to the padded saddle. On Washington's birthday Chicago will be in the saddle, and retained there most of the time by strong steel springs.

The hounds will be procured from Detroit. A man from Oshkosh attempted to foist some of his hounds on the committee, but the manifest superiority of Detroit hounds, coming, as they do, from so near British territory, being pointed out, the gentleman from Wisconsin did not get a bid. The committee politely but firmly advised him to take his sample dog back to Oshkosh. Whether or not semi-English horses will also be used is not stated, but it seems probable that they will.

The 22d of February promises to be a most remarkable day for Chicago. Laying aside any little animosities which may have been engendered among her society leaders by surreptitious cutting in the price of leaf lard and side pork, they will mount their spirited bob-tailed horses and dash away along the picturesque lake front twelve miles straight toward Milwaukee. With the gamey anise seed bag disappearing on the horizon, the Detroit hounds in full cry, the resolute Chicago riders clinging to the pommels of their saddles with the strength of desperation, and a physician stationed every half mile to render assistance if needed, the scene will be worth a long journey to witness. We wish the meet every success possible, and "no consequences."—New York Tribune.

HATS!

Hats, gentlemen, Hats!

In the name of People, Hats!

And why, Hats!

The Hat is the badge of respectability, the trade mark of civilization—that i any kind of a decent Hat. And properly, too.

Let us consider this question of Hats.

Had Bonaparte paused on the way to Waterloo to select a new Hat the result might have been different.

Had Christopher Columbus worn a shabby Hat, could he have made the fine impression he did on landing in Amerikay. No much. Not any.

Had Julius Cæsar carried a neat and taking head cover, his untimely decease might have been indefinitely postponed. History is jam full of incidents that point to the necessity of wearing a good Hat.

Men have been crossed in love, fallen off scaffolds, been beaten at the polls, arrested on suspicion, failed in business, and lost the respect of their fellow citizens by wearing a bad Hat.

The moral of all this is, come to us for your Hats. It's a new department with us, and a mighty good one. It's good because its new, and wholly new and good. We do nothing by halves. See our Stock. Gas and Ventilation.

Where gas is used the safety of health simply depends on securing full, free and perfect ventilation. The necessity for this precaution is highly apparent when we think of the impurities which gas sends forth into the atmosphere, and when we reflect on the evil which is wrought to health when these impurities are inhaled. If we can be assured of the ventilation of houses in which gas is employed, there need be no hesitation in employing this medium for any domestic purpose. In apartments where gas forms the illuminating medium there is often a decided lack of precautions in securing the free and perfect removal of the deleterious products of gas combustion.—Herald of Health.

The Talk of the Town

The people are wondering why Elliott & Tierney are giving 16 lbs. bright sugar for $1, and selling teas and other goods so much cheaper than any house in Peterborough. The Galway Lead.

The Galway Lead Mining Co. are getting made a number of bugles from the gold extracted in the manufacture of their celebrated B-4-Any brand of pure white lead, they intend distributing among the painters who use their goods. There will be a good many distributed in this district, as nearly all the trade know the lead is the very best and prefer to use it.

Collegiate Literary Society.

The Collegiate Institute Literary Society held a meeting yesterday afternoon, when the programme that was rendered was much enjoyed by the members of the Society who were present. J. A. Fife gave a well written essay on Arts and Miss C. Cameron also read an essay on the Ostrich. J. VanEvery contributed a first-class reading, and Miss L. Pratt closed the programme with an excellent reading.

Their Annual Meeting.

An annual meeting of a club is a more or less serious affair as large issues may be involved. To-night the Otonabee Canoe Club will gather at their annual meeting, which will be held in the rooms where the club have debated during the winter past. All members are urged to be present as the future of our inland navy may depend on the course of action to be blocked out for the club. Some member of much weight and influence will take the chair at eight o'clock, after which those arriving may be compelled to gain entrance over the transom. This is one of the possibilities incurred by being late.

Assuming a Warlike Attitude.

Many other houses are becoming very indignant at the idea of W. J. Morrow controlling the grocery trade of the town and county. But never mind—be cautious—we will prove to all you grocers who are grappling for high prices that the time has arrived when W. J. Morrow will enlighten the public. Doing more of a cash business and a more extensive trade, he is better prepared to sell goods away down. Then again here are a lot of our best Toronto and Montreal houses clamouring for our trade, owing to our buying for cash, and hence the keen competition, thereby buying goods away below other houses. So a call will convince you that we are Peterborough's great Grocery House, 369 George-st.

Died in Winnipeg.

The Winnipeg news of the Empire to-day contained the following paragraph:—

"John Mitchell, a well-known citizen, dropped dead this afternoon at his residence. Apoplexy is assigned as the cause. He formerly resided in Peterborough."

Although no definite word has been received here by any one, still it is generally believed that the Mr. Mitchell referred to is Mr. John Mitchell the carpenter and builder, and a gentleman who is well-known in town where he resided for a great many years. He left Peterborough with his family some six years ago and went to Winnipeg where he has resided ever since. He has not been able for about three years past to engage actively in his business or trade as his eye-sight was so badly impaired. Mr. Mitchell has not many near relatives living in town at present, Mrs. Edward Green, who is a sister of his, being the only member of the family remaining here, and Mr. Alfred Johnston is a nephew of the deceased. The late Chief of Police Johnston was a brother-in-law of Mr. Mitchell, but Mrs. Johnston is now in California. The news of the sudden demise, which seems to be accepted by all Mr. Mitchell's friends in town as authentic, has created feelings of deep regret and sympathy for his family and relatives.

SENSATIONAL ELOPEMENT

AN ORGANIST ELOPES WITH A MEMBER OF HIS CHOIR.

His Wife Left in Town Penniless—He Tookh is Child With Him—How the Plans were Carried Out.

An elopement which took place on Monday morning, April 1st, was by the carefully laid plans of the principal kept quiet until yesterday, when, suspicion having been aroused, enquiries were made and the truth came out. Mr. Alfred E. Carter, organist of St. Andrew's church, on Monday morning left town on the Canadian Pacific train for Toronto, and on the same morning Miss Annie Graham, daughter of Mr. Joseph Graham, of Ashburnham, and who was a member of the choir, left on the Grand Trunk train going in the same direction.

Mr. Carter came to Peterborough from Toronto last July. He had been organist of St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, and came here to take charge of the organ in St. Andrew's, a position he held until he left. He is a married man and had one child, a little girl five years of age, and lived in a terrace on George-st. near the corner of Dublin.

Mr. Carter was a man of gentlemanly appearance, always fashionably attired, and there was not a breath upon his reputation.

Miss Graham, being a member of the choir of St. Andrew's of course met the organist. She also received musical at his house, as that was where he gave lessons to his pupils. Occasionally the organist accompanied Miss Graham, and other members of the choir who lived across the river, home from practices, but it appeared only a natural act on his part and nothing was thought of it. There seems to have been no suspicion that there was any intimacy more than the ordinary between the couple until their absence aroused it.

LESSONS FROM MR. CARTER

Mr. Carter received his quarter's salary on Saturday night. He had been given notice that his present engagement would end at the end of the year—the first of July next, but it was left open to make another engagement if the church managers and he agreed upon one.

Mr. Carter proposed having a concert later in the spring, and said he would go to Toronto to see some musicians there about taking part. He had music at the church, and he told Mrs. Carter on Monday morning that he would pack it into a box at the church, because the maker of the organ was expected from Toronto to do something to it. There was no expectation that the manufacturer would be down this week, but for Mrs. Carter. The organist packed his music, but the box and music are gone. Mr. Carter proposed taking the little girl to Toronto with him to visit some friends, and while he went to the church Mrs. Carter took the child to the C. P. R. station, and it is supposed that Carter shipped the music by the Grand Trunk. Entirely unsuspicious, Mrs. Carter saw her husband and child depart.

Miss Graham left the same morning. She is a seamstress, and she told her mother that she had to go out that morning to fit a dress. Her mother was a little suspicious that she should go so early, but said nothing. The girl went to the Grand Trunk station and took passage by that road. As she did not return that night uneasiness was felt, but the fact of was not discovered until the next night. She was about nineteen or twenty years of age, and was a girl of quiet disposition. She did not go out much and was generally liked and respected—not a young lady that one would expect to take part in such an escapade. Though pleasant and somewhat pleasing in appearance, she would not be considered a beauty.

On Wednesday morning Mrs. Carter, who had become uneasy on account of the prolonged absence of her husband, spoke to officials of the church and their enquiries confirmed her worst suspicions. She was left without any money, but was the loss of her child. Mrs. Carter's father lives at or near Collingwood and a brother lives in Toronto.

Miss Graham's family feel keenly her action, and her brothers' indignation was such that it would not have fared well for the organist if he had met one of them. It is supposed that they have GONE TO THE STATES.

A short time ago Mr. Carter spoke of going across the border and taking Violet, his daughter, with him. Some members of the choir were present, and when Mrs. Carter said that if Violet went she would have to go too, he replied "Oh, no." Mrs. Carter thought it odd, but no suspicion of Miss Graham was felt.

Scott Act Supporters Organize for Political Action.

The Scott Act committee rooms were well filled last night, as the returns were being received. Their hopes of success kept up for a time, but as the returns from the county came in it became apparent that the Act was defeated.

Mr. J.J. Har[illegible] [illegible]hen order had been obtained, said [illegible] they had been defeated, but not conquered. Considering the bad roads and the influences at work perhaps it was not surprising that the Act was defeated, but they had the consciousness that they had done right. After further remarks he moved a vote of thanks to Dr. Fife for the energy and time he had put in to the campaign.

Mr. H. ROSSITER, in seconding the motion, advocated the Third Party movement.

Mr. YELLAND regretted the defeat, but was not discouraged. He believed those who had not supported the Act would regret their action. It was time they woke up and looked after a third party. Either that or they should stand together and get one of the parties to support their measures. They could hold the balance of power and should pledge themselves now.

After some remarks by Mr. A. Clegg the motion was adopted.

Dr. FIFE, in responding, expressed his disappointment with the result. He reviewed the campaign, referred to the influences that had been against them, and thanked them for their kindness in passing the motion.

Mr. J. W. FLAVELLE said they must accept the defeat for the present and turn their attention to the duty of the hour, which was the enforcement of the Crooks Act.

Mr. BOWEN made an energetic temperance address.

Mr. HARTLEY was then called to the chair and said it was time for action and proposed that they should organize.

Mr. ROSSITER again advocated an alliance with the Third Party.

Messrs Bowen and Wesley favored independent political action.

Mr. W. J. MASON favored organizing and warned them against professional politicians.

Mr. WEIR also thought the best thing they could do would be to join the Third Party.

Mr. GREEN moved that a committee be appointed to obtain information about the Third Party and report as to the action they should take.

Mr. ROSSITER moved in amendment that those willing to pledge themselves do so now and that a committee be selected from them.

The amendment was lost, the motion carried, and Messrs J. J. Hartley, R. Weir, W. J. Mason, W. Yelland, H. Rossiter, M. Bowen, P. H. Green, A. Clegg, A. Tebb, F. Brownscombe, G. J. Early and W. Patterson appointed as the committee, Mr. Hartley chairman and Mr. Brownscombe secretary.

The meeting then broke up.

EVANGELISTS INSULTED.

Rev. Mr. Hunter Speaks of three Letters—Rev. Mr. Crossley's Song Sermon—Next Thursday the Last Night for the Evangelists—Notes.

The George-st. Church was crowded to its fullest capacity again last evening, notwithstanding the excitement and interest that was manifest throughout the town over the returns of the repeal vote which were being bulletined at the committee rooms and newspaper offices.

Rev. Mr. Crossley sang as his opening solo the beautiful hymn "Sweet rest in Heaven," and followed with an earnest prayer.

THE FIRST INSULT.

Rev. Mr. HUNTER prefaced the evening lesson with a few remarks. He said there were a great many men in the congregation who committed sin in the dark that they would be ashamed to allow their wives or families [illegible] know about. That afternoon was the first time since they came to Peterborough that they had been insulted on the street. Mr. Hunter said when he and Mr. Crossley were going to the Charlotte-st. Church a young man standing in front of an hotel door made some insulting remarks to them. He then read the evening lesson from the 7th chapter of Mathew, dwelling upon the verse "Ask and it shall be given unto you, seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you," and pointed out three letters he wished wanted them to hang up in their memory—"a" for ask, "s" for seek and "k" for keep—making the acrostic of a-s-k. He said if they saw a man on the street swearing or if they saw a man drinking whiskey or a neighbor backbiting another, and they knew they were members of the church, they had a perfect right to go up and tell such men they were hypocrits straight.

Miss Vair and Rev. Mr. Crossley then rendered in an excellent manner as a duet the hymn "Ah, my heart."

Rev. Mr. Hunter then read over thirty requests for prayer and offered up a brief prayer in their behalf.

THE SONG SERMON.

Rev. Mr. CROSSLEY chose for the text of his song sermon the words:—

"People that came together for that sight."—Luke 23; 43.

The rev. gentleman said he had never heard a preacher take this text before, but he did not see why they should not, as it was one of great interest to every person. He pointed out that the sight referred to was that of Christ bearing the cross to Mount Calvary. Here the rev. gentleman beautifully rendered the hymn "Oh Calvary, Dark Calvary." Then he went on to say that there were many in the audience who were like the multitude who gazed upon the crucifixion but stood afar off as they did on that eventful day, but he pointed out that they who were in the church had a far less excuse for their position, as the Master said to those around about Him, "Ye know not what ye do," but the people of to-day knew what they were doing as they knew from the Bible that He was no impostor. He then urged upon them the necessity of coming near to the cross instead of standing afar off and he sang the appropriate hymn "Come sinner, come." Then the evangelist asked several questions. First, "Why did He die?" secondly, "For whom did he die?" thirdly, "Is that sufficient?" fourthly, "Is there another Way?" and fifthly, "Could they have helped it?" and in a very able and masterly manner answered these questions, including, Mr. Crossley sang the hymn "All for me."

Rev. Mr. HUNTER with an earnest exhortation conducted the first meeting to a close.

NOTES.

Rev. Mr. Hunter announced last evening that next Thursday night would be their last service in Peterborough.

A service was held in the Mark-st. church, Ashburnham, this afternoon.

The afternoon meeting in the Charlotte-st. church yesterday afternoon was largely attended.

Before Rev. Mr. Hunter's address last evening, Rev. Mr. Crossley sang the hymn "Jesus of Nazareth passeth by," and was accompanied by the choir.

There were some thirty seekers in the inquiry room last night.

In the report of the I.O.O.F. Concert held by the local lodge in Norwood on Friday night last, the Register says:—"Lack of space prevents us giving more than a passing notice, but we feel that we would be doing Messrs. Hendry and Nugent, of Peterborough, a marked injustice did we not particularly refer to the very excellent manner in which they rendered "Lochiel's Warning." The costume of each was faultless, the gestures perfect, and their interpretation of the characters, excellent. "Lochiel's Warning," as presented by these gentlemen, on Friday night, will bear any amount of repetition in Norwood."

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

THE SCOTT ACT DEFEATED

THE REPEAL CARRIED BY A LARGE MAJORITY.

The Town Gives 131 Against It—Reverses for the Act in the County—The Returns so far as Received.

The Scott Act is defeated and for the next three years after the first of next month this county will be under the Crooks Act. The vote of yesterday has shown that the ratepayers are of the opinion that the Scott Act, unenforced, is not as good a measure as the Crooks Act enforced. The result of the voting was a surprise to many, for although a great many were inclined to believe that the Act would be defeated, still the majority was expected to be a small one.

IN PETERBOROUGH.

In town the day passed off very quietly, no disturbances of any kind being reported during the day. The Scott Act party were out in good force all day, but the organization of the antis was complete, and, if they have been rather quiet during the campaign, yesterday morning they turned out to a man and every hack and conveyance of any description was pressed into the service and from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. the horses were kept on the run taking voters to and from the polls. The result of this is manifest in the returns, for in those districts in town where there was a comparatively small vote polled, the antis had a good majority. In three districts only in town did the Act get a majority, and these three were small to what had been anticipated. The total majority of 131 in town was not such an immense increase from that of 1886 when there were some 24 votes of a majority against the Act, but there is no doubt that the recent amendment to the Liquor License Act by the Ontario Legislature had a slight tendency to keep the majority against the Act down. In Ashburnham the majority in favor of the Act was also increased from last year, and in Lakefield a majority in 1886 of 53 for the Act was changed to one of 5 against the Act yesterday.

THE RETURNS.

The town returns, of course, were soon known and eager crowds gathered at the newspaper offices and committee rooms to ascertain the latest. However after the town figures were all known and Lakefield and Norwood had been heard from, the returns that arrived were few and far between, but enough came in to assure the antis that the day was their's by a good majority and to cause the Scott Act party to acknowledge that the voters were against them. The vote polled in town was just about as large as that of 1886, but in the county the bad roads are said to have kept many farmers from the polls. Just exactly how the figures will stand when the full returns are in cannot be guessed exactly, although the Act will probably be buried beneath a majority of four or five hundred. The returns from all the districts throughout the county could not possibly be obtained to-day and it will be Monday probably before the official figures can be secured. As far as heard from the returns are:—

Jekyll-Hyde Character Possible.

A Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde character is not inconsistent. A man may be revengeful, and [illegible] times even murderous, having all the ba[illegible] propensities in a great degree. To fit the character he must have the intellectual faculties surpassingly powerful. He can have the money making faculty fully developed. But he must have cunning, will power and vanity. He must have the cunning to cover up the lava fires after secret eruptions. He must have a supreme will power to accomplish his designs. But vanity or love of praise or fear of blame is the supremest feeling through his career. It can inflict more mental agony than outraged conscience or excite more selfish pleasure than any other faculty, sentiment or propensity. If it lie dormant because of a moment's introspective thought, conscience, if active, stealthily sends in the wan specter of remorse. So having the cunning to cover up the results of hereditary brutish propensities, and vanity impelling him to guard the honorable position in society achieved by his intellectual attainments, he lives essentially a dual life. Only when the will power loses its governing force does the man of honor become the brute—the Dr. Jekyll become the Mr. Hyde.—Boston Globe.

The Gas Combine.

ST. LOUIS, April 4.—It is announced that 20,000 of the 26,000 shares of the Laclede Gas Company have been purchased by a syndicate composed of the Vanderbilts, August Belmont and Mr. Laird, the London banker. It is also stated that this syndicate will obtain a controlling interest in the gas trust here and combine all the properties under one organization, with a capital of $12,000,000. It is said the price paid for the Laclede company stock is $140 per share.

WHAT THEY WEAR.

Pink and black is still a favorite and stylish combination.

For half mourning, gray and purple are again in vogue.

Plaids of a rather pronounced character are still worn by young women and girls.

A satin slipper with a bow of highly polished cut steel is a favorite dancing shoe.

Good black gimp in wide open patterns remains a favorite trimming for both black and colored silks.

The violet is the favorite flower for day just as white or pale blossoms are preferred for night wear.

More velvet, both black and colored, has been sold, bought and worn this season than for ten years past.

Woolens for spring and summer are very sleazily woven, with straight threads or else in canvas patterns.

The genuine leg-o'-mutton sleeve, full several inches below the elbow, will be a feature of new spring gowns.

A new garniture for black velvet bonnets is a carnation bud showing the barest tip of white, pink or scarlet.

Wide braid of gold or copper divides honors with moire ribbon as the favorite trimming for spring cloth gowns.

Black butterflies, perched on the extremest tip of the trimming, will be a favorite ornament for spring bonnets.

In spring dry goods nothing is newer than the latest India silks, for which there is a remarkable demand just now.

The shape of foundation skirts is unchanged, but the single steel is put much lower and the pad at the top is almost invisible.

The old fashioned puffed undersleeves of lace or thin muslin have been brought out for wear with silk and velvet gowns.

Loose bunches of heliotrope or a bright jonquil or two are now more chic with walking gowns than the universal violet.

Lenten dinner gowns are made without trains, and very simply draped and trimmed only with a jabot of embroidered silk muslin frills.

The high heeled shoe is rapidly disappearing. Its use is regarded vulgar and it marks the wearer as one who does not know how to dress.

Greek draperies beginning at the shoulder and falling in peplum points low on the skirt are seen upon many China and India silk gowns.

The fancy for different sides goes even to the sleeves of ball gowns, many of which now have a puff upon one arm and a flat strap on the other.

Handsome cloaks for evening wear are of gray lined with flesh pink or white. Gray velvet with salmon pink satin is a favorite combination.

CHINA HALL

CHINA
GLASS
AND QUEENS WARE

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $5,000 being given for a china plate cracked at that. Consider $24,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of seivres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $2,400 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $2,000 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the serious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

BEAUTIFUL JIM.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER

There was not much sympathy in his tone, but then, as Beautiful Jim knew, he did not particularly like Tommy, and when Col. Barnes did not like a person he was never very gracious.

"I suppose," said the colonel, after a moment's silence, "that you would like to go back to headquarters yourself, Beresford?"

"Just as you like, sir," answered Jim, indifferently. "It is pretty much all the same to me. I shall not get entangled in Walmsbury, and though of course the place is dull, one place is very much the same as another to me. But when all this terrible affair is over, sir, I should like a few days' leave. I should indeed."

"That is easily managed," returned the colonel, kindly—then hesitated, stammered a little, opened his mouth as if to speak, and flushed scarlet under his bronzed face—"Er—the—the—er—well, my dear boy, the fact is I—I thought perhaps, after all that has happened—the—the mistake of your arrest and all that, you might find it a little painful to—to remain here."

"Not a bit, sir," said Jim, promptly. "It will be painful to me ever to think about Owen, no matter what part of the world I might be in, for he was the best friend I ever had in my life; but about the matter of arresting me—well, the police thought they had a clew, and they were quite right to follow it up. I am not at all tender on that point, sir, I assure you; and besides, everybody who knows me, who knew what friends he and I were, would laugh outright at the idea that I could have murdered him."

"Very well. We will see—we will see," said the colonel, in a tone which signified that the interview was at an end.

So far as poor Owen was concerned, the day was soon over. At 2 o'clock precisely the sad procession left the officers' quarters and went slowly toward the cemetery on the outskirts of the town. The coffin was carried on a gun carriage and the pall held by officers of the dead man's regiment, Col. Barnes being on one side and Beautiful Jim on the other. In front was the band—or the greater part of it—which had come over from Blankhampton, and behind were the mourners, all members of Capt. Owen's family.

These last had been specially demonstrative to Jim Beresford, showing him by every means in their power that they had no part whatever in the suspicion which for a few hours had been cast upon him.

"It is very good of you to meet me like this, sir," Jim said to his dead friend's father, when that old gentleman held out his hand before every one assembled in the anteroom and shook it heartily.

"All I can do for my poor lad now is to stand by his friend," returned the old man, sadly.

"Thank you, sir," said Jim, gratefully; "I shall never forget that you did stand by me, never."

And then they had to take their places and the sad procession started on its way, to crawl at a foot's pace through the crowded streets, with arms reversed and the band playing the mournful strains of the "Dead March," while hundreds of eager heads were pressed forward to get a glimpse of Jim, as he paced first on the left of the gun carriage, and to point Jim out as "him as was took up for it, you know, but they couldn't prove naught again him." It was a painful hour, but Jim held his head up high and straight, and bore himself like the brave, soldierly gentleman that he was.

"I'll never believe that he did it," cried a woman in the crowd at the grave side. "If he'd had a hand in sending the poor chap there, he could never have looked into the grave so sad and sorrowful as he did. No! I'll never believe it of him."

"Well, he's not clear of it yet, and won't be until something more is found out about it," was the answer of her companion.

And then the service came to an end, and the last volleys were fired over the open grave of one who had been a universal favorite among his fellows.

So they turned away and left him to his quiet sleep forever, marching away with brisk and jaunty steps to that smooth and swinging air which has jarred so often on hearts harrowed by a great and irreparable loss:

Love not—love not,
The thing you love may die.

CHAPTER XX.

TEN DAYS' LEAVE.

As soon as Beautiful Jim had a spare hour to himself he went down to the Duck's Tail and asked for the landlord, who came to him, looking a little frightened.

"Mr. Brown," said Jim, going straight to the point at once, "I want to have ten minutes' private conversation with Miss Meeking. Have you any objection to it?"

"Not the least in the world, sir," returned Mr. Brown, civilly, "and, perhaps, Mr. Beresford, you won't be offended if I make so bold as to say I never was so pleased in my life as I was when the jury gave their verdict—never."

"That's very kind of you, Mr. Brown," said Jim, and forthwith held out his hand to him. "And now, if you can let me see Miss Meeking for ten minutes, I shall be more than obliged."

"You shall, sir," said Mr. Brown, and immediately hurried away to carry Jim's wish into effect.

In the course of a minute or two the bar maid appeared, evidently in almost as great a fright as she had been on the day of the inquest.

"Good day," said Jim, civilly—"er—do you mind shutting the door?"

Miss Meeking shut the door and advanced very slowly and unwillingly toward the fireplace, keeping her terrified eyes fixed on Jim the while.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Transfer of Methodist Ministers—A Clergyman Arrested on a Serious Charge.

TORONTO, April 5.—The Transfer committee of the Methodist Church in Canada met yesterday and made these changes:

Into the Toronto District—W. L. Scott (sup'y), J. F. Oakley, from Bay of Quinte; P. Sparling, from Guelph; Ebor Cumming, Montreal; J. V. Smith, S. T. Bartlett, London.

Into London—John Learoyd, J. W. Andrews, Bay of Quinte; A. S. Salton, J. P. Rice, Toronto; A. C. Courtice, Montreal; S. Bond.

Into Niagara—James Awde, Montreal; John Wood (sup'y), London; J. Jackson, Manitoba.

Into Guelph—Dr. Henderson, Montreal.

Into Bay of Quinte—T. H. Griffith, Ph.D., Toronto; J. M. Hodson, London; R. Johnston (sup'y), Guelph.

Into Montreal—S. P. Rose, Wm. Harris, Niagara; J. Davies (sup'y), G. S. Reynolds, Bay of Quinte; Dr. Ryckman, London; J. M. Treadrey, N. B. and P. E. I.

Into Manitoba—Albert C. Crews, W. D. Wisner, C. A. Procunier, Niagara; John Stewart, J. W. Ranions, J. A. Mussell, B.A., S. R. Brown, Montreal; F. J. Oakes, W. R. Jamieson, Toronto.

Into Nova Scotia and New Brunswick—J. P. Heald, Newfoundland.

The trial of the Farquhar Brothers' $20,000 libel suit against John Ross Robertson of The Telegram was continued all day yesterday. The evidence for the defence was not all in when the court rose. The defendant himself when in the box said he thought the only good pavements in the city were 300 feet in Toronto-street and the asphalt in Bay-street.

The closing exercises of Knox College were held yesterday afternoon. The degree of D.D. was conferred on Rev. Mr. McMullen of Knox Church, Woodstock, and Rev. D. H. Fletcher of Hamilton.

Mr. Drury, Minister of Agriculture, was seen yesterday morning as he was leaving town and asked if he had heard anything definite yet as to the result of the experiments in England, which were instituted in order to see if Canadian two-rowed barley would be a suitable grain for the English market. It was a woefully sad smile that came over that gentleman's face when he replied: "Yes, I regret to say I had a cablegram to-day which says the experiment has proven that our barley will not do. So far I have not had any particulars but expect to get a letter with the official report by first mail."

Rev. John J. Dobbin, a young married Presbyterian minister, recently in charge of the mission at Caledon East, was arrested in Toronto yesterday on a charge of indecent assault on young boys, the complainants being members of his own congregation. He was taken to Brampton by Constable Hurst of that town by last evening's train.

The arbitration between the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the Dominion was resumed this morning at 11 o'clock in the Chancery Court room, Osgoode Hall. The amount in dispute is variously estimated to be between four and five million dollars and judging from the array of counsel, the costs must have already been enormous. The railway company's claim briefly is that the Government guaranteed the portion of the road through British Columbia constructed by them to be up to a certain standard which was not carried out by the Government engineers and Mr. Onderdonk, the principal contractor. The C. P. R. are now claiming for large amounts spent on the road, accidents and other damages since receiving it from the Government. The day's sitting was taken up with the examination of Sir Charles Tupper, whose visit to Canada is for the purpose of giving evidence in the case, a commission to examine him in London having been refused by the courts. The High Commissioner was Minister of Railways at the time the work done by the Government on the line of the C. P. R. was being completed, and as such carried on the negotiations with the C.P.R. syndicate.

The Grand Trunk's Interstate Case.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Interstate Commerce Commission to-day began the hearing of the case of the Grand Trunk Company of Canada upon a charge contained in an order of the commission issued March 28 of violating the Interstate Commerce Law by granting rebates on traffic taken from points in the United States to points in Canada and by charging less than their published rates on such shipments. Otto Herchmer appeared as counsel for the Grand Trunk Company. He maintained that it was not within the jurisdiction of Congress to regulate commerce with another country. He said the question was one of the greatest importance and requested to be allowed ten days within which to file a printed brief. This was granted.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery, it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if every thing else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Shiloh's Cough and Consumption Cure is sold on a guarantee. It cures Consumption. S. C. Wells & Co., proprietors, Le Roy N. Y.

Millinery Rooms.

Our Millinery and Mantle Rooms are now in full operation and our customers can depend on seeing the latest novelties in these lines, and at the closest prices.

Dress Goods, Dress Goods.

We have been fortunate in securing a large lot of fine French Dress Goods at about 50 cents on the dollar, and have now placed them on sale on the table in the centre of the store. Ask to be shown the fine All Wool Dress Goods, we are selling at 25 cts. per yard. Ask to see the All Wool Debeige, 25c. per yard. Fine French Dress Goods worth 40c. for 15c. In all there is about 500 yards and the sale is extraordinary. With these came a lot of Bavarian Curtains, bought at 50c. on the dollar, which are selling very rapidly.

House Furnishing Department.

We are showing unprecedented value in all classes of Carpets and Curtains; Oilcloths from the low grades to the heaviest English floor oils.

Tailoring Department.

As usual our display of Scotch and Canadian Suitings, English and French Worsted Coatings, and many novelities in Pantings have been appreciated, from the fact that our orders are far in excess of previous seasons.

We can show you some big bargains in Tweeds. See our All Wool Halifax Tweed @ 25, 35, and 50 cents per yard. These lines are a marvel of cheapness, and are sold elsewhere at very much higher prices.

We cannot fully describe our stock, but we have plenty of display room where you can see it conveniently, and judge for yourself

TURNBULL'S COLUMN

Whatever the weather has been outside, it was the springiest of spring time in our store on Wednesday and Thursday last, when all the New Millinery and Millinery belongings were opened out of their close fitting boxes. For the benefit of those who could not get in on those days we will keep the display up all the first week of April. Among the leading changes noticeable in the trimming this season is Lace Ends and Scarfs and Long Veils drawn in with baby ribbon are the Leading Trimmings. The old fashion hop that used to climb up the pole on the back door is now found falling over the Black Lace Hats. Having struck a cheap line of Flowers (German make), the Germans copy the French designs and give us the goods cheaper. We have a bouquet for everybody, bunches of roses in all colors for 25c. each. Our Stock of Children's Trimmed Hats is unusually attractive. Sailor Hats in endless variety, we have not room to give them a front show. We were disappointed at not being able to show with the millinery, the new Jet Capes, Silk Visettes and Trimmed Dolmans, but there is time enough yet and we expect them in on the first freight train. A fine assortment of Cloths in the order department. All hands busy as bees in the work rooms up-stairs.

The Dress Goods Department is as lively as ever. A new line of Vigors and Cloth in 8 shades, 44 inches wide at 60c., came in this week. A glance at them will tell you they are serviceable. With them came a new line of German Dress Cloth, we have shown nothing similar before, is just what any lady would fancy for a Genteel Dress. Will show another new make next week. Miss Moore is always pleased to help you with her advice as to length of dress, pattern, style of making and trimming, whether you wish to have it made by her or not.

Kid Gloves, fresh from the hands of the maker in Austria at 75c. and $1.00 a pair. This line we had in stock before, but the quantity was small and we only had a pair for a lady here and there.

Corsets. Spring brings changes and this one has brought one of the nicest makes we have ever shown. All the best makes from the leading manufacturers coming in and going out again. Large sizes for stout ladies always in stock.

A BRANTFORD BLAZE.

Malcolm & Sons' Woolen Mill Scorched—20,000 Pounds of Wool Consumed.

BRANTFORD, April 5.—At 8 o'clock this morning fire broke out in Malcolm & Sons' woolen mill in Colborne-street. The fire started in the picker room on the second floor and quickly spread to the third story. The looms and machinery on the second and third floors are completely destroyed. There was about 20,000 pounds of wool in the store room destroyed also. The goods and machinery on the first floor are badly damaged by water. Malcolm & Sons were insured in the Phœnix for $6000, Royal Canadian $5000, Hartford $2000. The loss will be heavy. Moore's printing office next door on the first floor was damaged by water, loss $50. George H. Wilkes owns one of the stores and E. H. Webling the other. The loss on building is about $4000. Mr. Wilkes is insured in the London and Lancashire for $2000, Mr. Webling $2000 in the Hartford.

Firebugs in Gotham.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Early on Sunday morning an attempt was made by an incendiary to burn the elegant flat house No. 550 Ninth-avenue. Yesterday another attempt to burn the building was made, and still another attempt just before midnight. The flames were extinguished in each case by the tenants. The building is one of a fine row owned by the Astor Estate. The tenants are greatly alarmed. Officers are looking for the firebugs.

Manufactories Burnt at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, April 5.—The foundry and machine shops of Sheriffs & Sons and the Anchor paste works were burned last night. Loss, $30,000.

A $40,000 Fire in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Fire in the refining house of George F. Swifts' packing establishment this morning caused damage of $40,000.

THE GRAND TRUNK.

Annual Report—Satisfactory Prospects for the Current Year.

LONDON, April 5.—The Grand Trunk report was issued to-night. The directors report that the unsatisfactory result of the past half-year's working was due to the causes described by Sir Henry Tyler at the general meeting last October. They especially point to the fact that the average fare per passenger and rate per ton were lower in 1888 than ever before in the history of the company, except 1885. Many of these causes have now ceased, wholly or partially, to operate, and the company's receipts are showing each week a satisfactory increase, with fair prospect of improvement in the results as regards a profit for the current year.

VACCINATION'S VALUE.

The Imperial Government to Appoint a Commission of Inquiry.

LONDON, April 5.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Picton (Lib.) moved the appointment of a commission to inquire into vaccination. He contended that vaccination was an uncertain preventive of small-pox, while it spread other diseases.

C. T. Ritchie, President of the Local Government Board, announced that the Government assented to the appointment of the commission, believing that an inquiry would dispel the doubts as to the value of vaccination.

A Warrant Out For the General.

PARIS, April 5.—A warrant has been issued for Gen. Boulanger's arrest.

Boulanger's Trial to Begin Monday.

PARIS, April 5.—The Senate will begin the trial of Gen. Boulanger on Monday. During the trial no session of the Chamber of Deputies will be held. Count Dillon and M. Rochefort have persuaded Gen. Boulanger to withhold his proposed manifesto. The Boulangist electoral campaign has been suspended for the present.

The Opportunists and Radical press regard the vote in the Chamber of Deputies authorizing the prosecution of Boulanger by the Government as a death-blow to Boulangism.

Count Dillon and Henri Rochefort will be prosecuted by the Government for their connection with the Boulangist movement.

By Peaceful Means, Or Not at All.

BRUSSELS, April 5.—Boulanger declared yesterday that if the French Government would agree to try him before a proper tribunal he would start for Paris by the next train. No coup d'etat would ever be attempted by him in his favor. He would reach the Presidency by peaceful means, or not at all.

The Austrian Army Bill Adopted.

PESTH, April 5.—The Upper House of the Hungarian Diet to-day adopted the Army Bill.

Italy Does Not Mourn King John.

ROME, April 5.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day Signor Crispi, the Prime Minister, stated that the death of King John of Abyssinia would enable Italy to extend her possession in that country. The Government, however, did not intend to be drawn on by the outlook prospect of an easy operation, and would not take action unless it was seen to be in its clear advantage to enlarge the area occupied by Italy in Abyssinia.

Natural Gas at Drummondville.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 6.—A stock company was formed last fall under the name of the Niagara Falls Natural Gas Company and operations were commenced by sinking a well on the farm of Leonard McGlashan in the village of Drummondville. The work has proceeded slowly but surely. Their expectations were realized by striking a flow of gas Thursday evening and last night a further supply was found with a pressure of 100 pounds, giving a flame 10 feet. The company now propose to lay pipes to the town of Niagara Falls and neighboring villages for fuel and light during the coming summer.

TALKING ABOUT THE LOAN

MR. FOSTER AND SIR RICHARD DISCUSS ITS TERMS.

Sir John Macdonald Announces That the Government Has Made a New Arrangement With the C. P. R.

OTTAWA, April 5.—In the House this afternoon Hon. G. E. Foster, Minister of Finance, made the explanation promised Sir Richard Cartwright respecting the recent loan. The criticism made by Sir Richard had, he said, together with the paragraph in the prospectus, been carefully considered by himself and the officers of his department, and they had found no cause for alarm. The loans preceding this had sinking funds attached, and to effect these loans $2,000,000 per year had to be set apart and invested. The Government were precluded from buying the stock of companies because of the risk attached, and municipal debentures and Government stocks have often too to be refused. The conditions of consols were such that the Government could not buy them. For a long period therefore we had invested in our own stocks. The prospectuses of other loans called for the purchase of stocks held above par and last year we bought out of the sinking fund our 4 per cent. stock held as high as 114½. The prospectus of the 1888 loan only carried out the conditions of previous years, though perhaps the pledge was a little more explicit, but by this clause we were not obliged to buy stock which was unreasonably appreciated.

It was indisputably an advantage to buy from our own stock because there was no income tax to be paid upon it, as there was upon other stock held in England. Of the stock issued for the 1888 loan the Government had been buying since July 1 last, and far from having found it to be unduly appreciated they had bought at a lower price than was received for it. The purchase price has ranged from 94 5-16 in August to 92⅞ in December.

As to the exhaustion of the loan before its nominal termination that possibility applied to most other of our stocks as well. In his opinion there was no ground for alarm or for possible condemnation. He did not think this could possibly prove an unremunerative loan, but believed that it could still be claimed to be the best yet made.

Sir Richard Cartwright in reply held that the engagement entered into by the prospectus was unlimited and stipulated a sinking fund of 10 per cent. per annum. As to the argument that the stock had actually been bought back at a low price, it was a well-known fact that after a large loan such as this was placed there was always a large quantity of it lying loose upon the markets for the first six or eighteen months, and it would not be until the stock came into the hands of permanent investors, who realized the position in which the Government had placed themselves, that the effect of the arrangement would be felt.

He proposed at the earliest opportunity after to-day to put upon record his opinion as to the risk we have run in connection with the loan and the probable consequences.

The bill to amend the Fisheries Act was read a second time and considered in committee on motion of Hon. C. H. Tupper. The bill prohibits the use of seines for catching salmon in certain streams which the fish ascend in large numbers on their way to the spawning grounds. Objection was taken by Mr. Kirk, Mr. Ellis and others that this legislation was in the interest of the rich man—the fly fisherman—and against the interest of the man who fished for a living. This kind of legislation, said Mr. Ellis, is what makes socialism throughout the country, and he proposed to divide the House upon the bill on the third reading.

The Senate amendments to the bill respecting rules of court in relation to criminal matters were concurred in.

The House then went into committee of supply, taking up the railway appropriations. With respect to the Intercolonial Railway it was held by some members on both sides that it would be in the interests of that road to be managed from Moncton instead of from Ottawa.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Bill, several times reached on the order paper and as often put off to a more convenient season, came before the House this evening at the opening of the hour allotted for private bills. After 1½ hours' talk Mr. Laurier called time and the bill had to stand over. The first objection to it was raised by Mr. Edgar, who claimed that it lessened the security of the Government for its guarantee of the interest on the $15,000,000 loan. Sir John Macdonald answered him with the statement that the Government had ample security in the lands and earnings, and then the House went into committee.

Mr. Kirkpatrick, the promoter of the bill, offered an amendment, which passed without opposition, to the effect that the bonds might be issued on the authority of two-thirds of the votes of the shareholders, not as the bill says on the authority of the votes of two-thirds of the shareholders.

Hon. A. G. Jones then spoke in reference to the amendment of which he had given notice making it a condition of passing the bill that a sufficient amount of the bonds to be issued under its authority should be set apart for the construction of a line between Harvey and Salisbury, which he claimed had been promised by the Government, and the building of which the people of Nova Scotia had believed to be already a condition between the Government and the Canadian Pacific Company. This missing link, it may be explained, is designed for the benefit of Halifax and by the building of 120 miles of road that city will be made 14 miles closer to the eastern provinces. Mr. Jones announced that he would press his amendment unless there was a promise that the road would be built either by the company or the Government.

Sir John replied quietly that the Government had come to an arrangement with the Canadian Pacific Railway as a result of which the Government would see that the road from Harvey to Salisbury would be completed.

Mr. Jones: "When?"

Sir John Macdonald: "Oh, just as early as convenient! To-morrow perhaps." Mr. Jones looking dubious, Sir John added that it would be "at an early day."

The bill was about to be adopted by the committee, Mr. Jones being seemingly satisfied to withdraw his objection, but during the little bit of chaff the Opposition had pricked up their ears a bit and now Mr. Laurier rose to ask what the new arrangement with the Canadian Pacific Railway meant.

Sir John replied briefly that the Government was coming down with the whole arrangement this session and he had no doubt but that it would prove acceptable.

Mr. Mills next took up the enquiry, and in what Sir Robert [illegible] styled a lecture on constitutional law spoke at length on the impropriety of proceeding further with the bill before the House knew what arrangement this was that had been come to and which would impose further burdens upon the country for enterprises not in the slightest degree of any use.

Sir John made another plea for the bill, pointing out that the arrangement mentioned [illegible] to the fact that the time for private bills had lapsed. "We must stand once our rights, as sale, and the bill therefore stood over.

Now the corridors are prolific of speculation as to what the new arrangement is, and another long Canadian Pacific Railway discussion looms up.

The House next went into committee of supply in consideration of the estimates for the Intercolonial, the Cape Breton and the Oxford and New Glasgow Railways.

The bridge over the Narrows at Cape Breton, for which the contract was recently awarded to Messrs. Reid & Isfleter, was the subject of inquiry by Mr. Lister, who asked if the contract had been given to the lowest tenderer. Sir John replied that for good reasons it had not. The contract price was $415,000. Mr. Lister said he had had a letter from Messrs Neelon & Macnab, responsible contractors, who had tendered at a lower figure, and complained that they were passed over without reason. Sir John said the papers would be submitted.

Mr. McMullen gave notice of a series of inquiries respecting the contract for the bread supply for "C" School, Toronto, awarded last fall.

Mr. Charlton inquired whether it is the intention of the ministry during the present session to introduce a bill to incorporate the Orange order.

On the vote for the geological survey Hon. Mr. Dewdney detailed the destinations of officers for the coming season. A new branch of work, he said, will be undertaken by Mr. McConnell, who will prospect in the oil fields of the Peace River territory, and Mr. Tyrell will carry on similar work in the mountains of Manitoba.

The House adjourned at 1.20 till Monday.

MR. POPE'S WILL.

The Estate Valued at $400,000—No Legacy Bequeathed to Sir John.

OTTAWA, April 5.—The late John Henry Pope left an estate of $400,000, about half in cash. The investments are largely in stock of the Paton Manufacturing Company of Sherbrooke and of the Eastern Townships Bank. He bequeathed $4000 to the endowment fund of St. Peter's Church, Cookshire; $5000 to the High School at Cookshire and $2000 to the Hospital at Sherbrooke. Several old residents are remembered in the will. The bulk of the property goes to his widow, his son, Mr. Rufus Pope and his daughter, Mrs. N. B. Ives.

The report that Sir John Macdonald had been left a legacy was not correct.

Hon. Mr. Pope's wealth has been much over-estimated and it has decreased rather than increased of late years, he having it is said lost $200,000 since 1878.

CAPITAL GOSSIP.

A Big Bridge Delegation From Quebec—The Combines Bill.

OTTAWA, April 5.—Hon. Oliver Mowat, who is here attending the Supreme Court, had an interview with Sir John Thompson to-day on matters affecting the northern boundary.

A large delegation, numbering about seventy persons, arrived here to-day from Quebec to interview the Government with a view of getting a subsidy to bridge the St. Lawrence about five miles above Quebec. The Quebec Government have already devoted a sum for preparing plans and surveys, and have promised to give assistance towards the construction of the bridge if the Dominion Government would consent to do the same. It is understood that the undertaking will cost about $5,000,000. The delegation met the Government this afternoon in the Railway Committee room of the House of Commons. They asked that the Government grant a guarantee of 4 per cent. on $3,000,000 bonds for 25 years or a bonus of $2,000,000 for the construction of the bridge. Sir John Macdonald said that it was not likely the Government could afford the desired aid at present, but that it would be matter for favorable consideration in the future.

The Government intend taking hold of Clark Wallace's Combines Bill. Sir John Thompson has given notice that on Monday he will move for the removal of the bill from Public Orders to Government notice. In this case the bill will likely undergo considerable amendments.

A meeting of the Friends on Farmers' Committee was held to-day, when a committee was appointed to prepare a report, with the assistance of the Minister of Justice, and suggest such legislation as will meet the case.

Mr. Lepine, M.P. for Montreal East, has asked the Government on behalf of the Montreal Knights of Labor to send labor representatives to the Paris Exhibition to Study the relations between labor and capital in France and Germany.

A proclamation is issued prohibiting the use of snares of any kind for the purpose of catching or killing fish.

May 9 is proclaimed as the date for taking a vote in the County of Middlesex on the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act.

Notice is given that the eighth annual meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway shareholders will be held at Montreal on May 8, and that the meeting will be made special for the purpose of taking such steps as will make available any legislation of the present session of Parliament respecting the issue of consolidated debenture stock.

Woodstock Moving for a Hospital.

WOODSTOCK, April 5.—At the regular quarterly meeting of the Board of Trade a long letter was received from Rev. J. C. Farthing presenting the needs of a hospital in our town and county. A large committee was appointed to act in connection with the ministers of the town, and it is likely something definite will be done immediately.

The matter of new public buildings for the town was also discussed, President John White reported on behalf of a deputation which recently waited upon the Government in reference to the matter. Statistics were presented showing that the business done at the port of Woodstock is in excess of that of any other town where buildings have been recently erected.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days, as reported to Dun, Wiman & Co., number for the United States 187 and for Canada 35, or a total of 222 as compared with a total of 240 last week and 249 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 227 and were made up of 199 in the United States and 28 in Canada.

Death of Mr. Edward Corby.

BELLEVILLE, April 5.—Mr. Edward Corby, brother of Mr. Henry Corby, M.P., died last night from brain fever. Deceased, who was in his 52nd year, leaves a widow but no family. He was a member of the I.O.O.F. and Sons of England and was widely known and very popular.

The Rochester Car Men's Strike.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 5.—During yesterday only twenty-three street cars out of 125 were running on four lines of the ten. A gang of hoodlums dragged a heavy street roller across the tracks of the State-avenue line last night, and when the employes and police attempted to remove it they began throwing stones, one of which hit a policeman in the eye. The obstructions were removed and all cars were ordered into the barn. The strike is still on and both sides are firm. The company has 23 cars running to-day. The strikers are quiet.

DOINGS IN THE DOMINION.

LITTLE HOPE OF CAPTURING OUTLAW MORRISON.

The Hamilton Mystery—Two Dunnville Men Arrested on a Charge of Murder—Immigrants Pouring Into Winnipeg.

MONTREAL, April 5.—This dispatch dated to-day was received from High Constable Bissonnette by his son: "We leave on a journey of 30 miles in pursuit of Morrison. It is impossible to say when we will capture him and when we will return. We are all in perfect health."

Detective Carpenter, who looks considerably worn from his trip after Morrison, seems to have little hope of the outlaw's capture. "If we could locate him," he said, "there are plenty of good and courageous men there now to arrest him, but he cannot be located." Carpenter started for Megantic to-day to continue his search after Morrison.

Detective Arcand, who returned from Sherbrooke to-day, says that the populace of the district is quite a little awed by the expedition and dare not move openly in favor of the outlaw. The general opinion however seems to be that Morrison will not be arrested. His knowledge of the locality is far superior to that of his would-be captors, and everybody is willing if not directly to aid him at least to mislead the authorities to allow the outlaw to escape, if he should be in danger of arrest.

HAMILTON'S MYSTERY.

No Trace of Miss Mackelcan—Died from His Injuries—The Jersey Sale.

HAMILTON, April 5.—Jeremiah Durphy, who fell from the roof of Hendrie's stables on Monday, breaking his leg and injuring his head, died at 4.30 this morning. He leaves a widow and one child.

Although five days have elapsed since the disappearance of Miss Louisa Mackelcan no trace of the missing lady has been discovered. Some circumstances point to foul play and that theory is gaining ground. A large searching party comprising many prominent citizens has been organized and will make a systematic and thorough attempt to-morrow to probe the mystery.

The sale of the Oaklands Jersey herd realized $8,198. Twenty of the most valuable animals were reserved for sale in New York.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Two Dunnville Men Arrested for Last November's Mysterious Murder.

DUNNVILLE, April 5.—Government Detective Murray of Toronto yesterday afternoon arrested Joe Clemmo of Dunnville. He secured his prisoner about 10 miles from Essex Centre, where he was working in a saw mill, and lodged him in Cayuga jail last night. Mr. Murray came here this morning and this afternoon arrested Sam Smith and has taken him to Cayuga. The prisoners are charged with the murder of an unknown man here last November. It is charged that they first robbed the body and then threw it in the canal, where it was found on Nov. 9.

The arrest has caused great excitement here. Detective Murray deserves great credit if he has secured the right parties; all hope of finding the murderer had long since been abandoned.

THE TIDE OF IMMIGRATION.

Setting in Towards Manitoba—The Deloraine Assassination Hoax.

WINNIPEG, April 5.—Over 1000 immigrants arrived to-day.

Mounted Policeman Masterton of Calgary died suddenly yesterday of heart disease.

A Board of Trade has been organized at Rat Portage.

Edward Stamp of Morden has been fined $25 for pointing a revolver at the sheriff.

The reported attempt to assassinate Wilson of Deloraine turns out to be merely an April fool hoax.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Hangman Armstrong Fined for Drunkenness—Provincial Appointments.

TORONTO, April 6.—When William Armstrong, the man who hanged Robert Neil, was charged with drunkenness in the Police Court yesterday, he said he was not "full" when arrested Wednesday but was suffering from apoplexy, to which he was subject. Col. Denison thought he might be a sufferer from apoplexy, but at the particular time of his arrest he was no doubt filled with whisky. The hangman was therefore taxed $1 and costs. He paid his fine and then lodged a complaint with the Chief of Police against the officer who arrested him.

In the Farquhar-Robertson libel suit yesterday the entire day was spent in expert evidence.

Rev. J. J. Dobbin, the Brampton minister who rests under a terrible accusation, returned to Toronto yesterday and engaged N. G. Bigelow to undertake his defence in the trial before the Magistrate's court, which opens at Brampton this morning. He denies the allegations made, and affirms his belief that they are the outcome of a conspiracy among his enemies.

The Board of Directors of the Industrial Exhibition Association met yesterday, appointed chairmen of committees and decided to continue the special attractions this year regardless of expense.

Another detachment of 108 boys from the Fegan Boys' Home, London, Eng., have arrived in Toronto, and will at once be despatched to different parts of the country to positions already secured for nearly the whole number.

At the conclusion of Sir Charles Tupper's examination in the Canadian Pacific Railway arbitration yesterday the hearing was adjourned to June 24 at Dalhousie, N. B. Sir Charles Tupper, who was joined by Lady Tupper yesterday morning, left for Winnipeg at 11 o'clock last night, and Sir Donald Smith went to Ottawa to meet Mr. Van Horne.

The University Federation Act will be proclaimed in next week's Ontario Gazette.

The Ontario Gazette of to-day will contain the appointment of John Robinson Cartwright of Toronto as Deputy Attorney-General in place of E. F. B. Johnston resigned. Mr. Johnston's appointment as Inspector of Registry Offices (Hon. Sydney Smith resigned) will also appear.

These N.'s P. are also gazetted: J. T. Kirkland, Amherstburg; John Prester, Hanover. Clerk: Stephen Nettle, Glamorgan, Third Division Court of Haliburton. Bailiffs: John Dowell, Glamorgan, Third Division Court of Haliburton; George Greenwood, Wolfe Island, First Division Court of Frontenac; Irvin Teal, Bertie, Third Division Court of Welland.

Incorporated—The Kingston Oddfellows Building Association (limited); capital $20,000, 2000 shares, $10. The Bishop Ridley College of Ontario, St. Catharines; capital $60,000; 1200 shares, $50. The Ontario Leather Matting Co. (limited), Mount Forest; capital $25,000; 250 shares, $100. The Wanderers Bicycle Club, Toronto; capital $2000; 200 shares, $10.

The Almonte Fuel, Gas and Light Company has complied with the provisions of the Revised Statute of Ontario for supplying cities, towns and villages with gas and water.

Napoleons of Finance Indicted.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The grand jury to-day found two additional indictments against Ives, Stayner and Woodruff for [illegible] the issue of 7100 shares of the stock of the C. H. & D. R. R. [illegible] possession of the road.

THE SUN LIFE.

We publish to-day the annual report of the Sun Life Assurance Company, which shows that this company continues to increase in popularity. Its business steadily increases, and the statements bear testimony to the soundness of its plans and the carefulness of its management. The Insurance and Finance Chronicle, of Montreal, says:—

"We are favored with a copy of the customary annual statement of the Sun Life Assurance Company, of Canada, covering the business transactions of the office for the year ending Dec. 31, 1888, and showing its financial condition at that date. The whole evidences a continuous and increasing prosperity which cannot but be gratifying alike to shareholders and policy-holders and to its numerous friends as well, not only for the pleasing facts that it reveals, but for the clear and straight-forward manner in which the report is made.

While the statement of the operations of the year 1887 was, at the time of its issue, considered exceptional as exhibiting the largest increase in the various items of any previous year, the statement for 1888 surpasses that of any of its predecessors. The following comparative table will show the rapid progress of the office for the past sixteen years:

Year.	Income.	Assets.	Life Assurance in force.
1873......	$48,210 93	$546,461 95	$1,064,350 00
1878......	100,000 14	715,944 64	2,214,046 00
1883......	341,288 94	911,132 93	3,881,479 14
1884......	278,379 05	1,274,397 24	6,844,404 04
1888......	525,273 58	1,974,316 93	11,931,316 10

The assets are of the highest class, and have been carefully examined and valued by a committee to attest their correctness, while the business, judging from its results, must have been carefully selected, the loss claims for the year being $104,619, while the income exceeded the disbursements for the year in the sum of $237,631,53.

We have every reason to feel proud of the Sun Life Assurance Company as a Canadian institution, which, in spite of the opposition of local and foreign offices in the strife of business, under the proved skilful management of Mr. R. Macaulay, assisted by a carefully selected corps of agents, has already made itself a name in the community to which the future, from present indications, will but add additional lustre."

The Company's business in this district is under the able management of Mr. W. H. Hill, whose energy has done much to build up its business in central Ontario.

THE FARMERS' PICNIC.

Meeting of the Executive Committee—Arrangements Being Made.

A meeting of the union committee of the Farmers' Institutes of Peterborough, Northumberland and East Durham—five institutes in all—was held at the Morgan House to-day to arrange for the Farmers' Institute picnic to be held at Jubilee Point. Those present were Messrs. F. Birdsall and D. O'Rielly, East Peterborough; D. Kennedy, West Peterborough; T. B. Carlow, East Northumberland; W. J. Westington, West Northumberland; E. A. Powers, East Durham; W. Collins, Smith, Secretary.

Mr. Birdsall was appointed chairman of the picnic committee, and the date was fixed for Wednesday, June 5th. The Chairman, and Messrs. Kennedy, Calcutt and the Secretary were appointed to attend to the advertising.

The Secretary was instructed to correspond with Hon. John Carling, Dominion Minister of Agriculture; Hon. C. A. Drury, Provincial Minister; Professors Saunders and Fletcher, of the Dominion Experimental Farm, and Mills, Shaw and Robertson, of the Guelph College, and Mr. N. Awrey, M. P.P., President of the Central Farmers' Institute, and invite them to be present.

Special arrangements will be made with the trains and steamers for the picnic and nothing will be left undone to make this gathering successful, pleasant and also profitable for the farming community.

THE LATEST IN JEWELS.

A presentation carving and fish set is in the revived Grecian style.

A combination of twisted gold serpents, with diamond eyes, is an odd bracelet.

A diamond robin, perched on a branch of pearls, is a conspicuous hair ornament.

A new attraction is a gold lined silver powder box ornamented with a trailing vine.

A pierced silver bonbon box in the shape of a half coconut is among the latest comers.

Large emeralds, surrounded by diamonds, make a magnificent appearance set as earrings.

For evening wear a necklace of large sapphires in a diamond setting is something beautiful.

A row of four leaved clovers set on a thin gold wire as a lady's pin is charming in its simplicity.

For purity and elegance a string of matched pearls on an invisible gold wire is unsurpassed as a necklace.

A novelty in silver is a riding whip with stirrups and bridle in the center. It makes a serviceable pin.

Among finger ring fancies is one with a double row of three garnets and the same number of pearls.

A realistic figure of a polar bear in silver, on a mass of glass resembling ice, makes an odd paper weight.

A lady's pin is a thin gold knife-blade, with three large diamonds set in the center, representing a clover leaf.

Lined with dull gold, a silver oyster shell is a unique bonbon tray. A spoon or tongs to match accompanies it.

In London there are 3700 persons of either sex, who earn their living as teachers, performers or composers of music. Then there are also 1100 orchestral players, half of whom are violinists.

The Scott Act Returns.

It was impossible to-day to obtain the official returns of the voting on the Scott Act, as there are several districts in the back country which will not be heard from until to-night, and besides this the returns that have been sent in are in all kinds of shapes. The only new figures that were not published yesterday are those from Burleigh, Anstruther and Chandos, where in the four districts there was a majority of 11 votes in favor of the Act. Complete official returns of the vote throughout the entire County will be published on Monday, although there is no anticipation that any of the returns not yet in will lessen the majority against the Act, which will probably be between 500 and 600.

HATS!

Hats, gentlemen, Hats!

In the name of People, Hats!

And why, Hats!

The Hat is the badge of respectability, the trade mark of civilization—that i any kind of a decent Hat. And properly, too.

Let us consider this question of Hats.

Had Bonaparte paused on the way to Waterloo to select a new Hat the result might have been different.

Had Christopher Columbus worn a shabby Hat, could he have made the fine impression he did on landing in Amerikay. No much. Not any.

Had Julius Cæsar carried a neat and taking head cover, his untimely decease might have been indefinitely postponed. History is jam full of incidents that point to the necessity of wearing a good Hat.

Men have been crossed in love, fallen off scaffolds, been beaten at the polls, arrested on suspicion, failed in business, and lost the respect of their fellow citizens by wearing a bad Hat.

The moral of all this is, come to us for your Hats. It's a new department with us, and a mighty good one. It's good because its new, and wholly new and good. We do nothing by halves. See our Stock. See what we offer in Style, Material, Shape and Finish. You can take your pick of the Best Goods by the Best Makers. We discount the Town on Hats.

The Talk of the Town

The people are wondering why Elliott & Tierney are giving 13 lbs. bright sugar for $1, and selling teas and other goods so much cheaper than any house in Peterborough. Call at the Palace Grocery and examine the goods, which will convince you. The "Palace" is the place to get best values. Great stock-taking sale now going on.

Otonabee Canoe Club.

The annual meeting of Otonabee Canoe Club was held on Friday evening at the club rooms. There was a fair attendance although somewhat late getting to work. There was some disinclination to accept office on the part of modest members, but they were finally elected. Following is the list of those in power who will direct affairs during the incoming season:—

Commodore—John Miller.
Vice-Commodore—W. H. Hill.
Secretary—A. E. Dixon.
Asst.-Secretary—J. Tucker.
Treasurer—G. H. Allison.
Executive Committee—A. Mason, 1; A. Clegg, 2; H. Stock, 3; and F. H. Dobbin, 4.

Assuming a Warlike Attitude.

Many other houses are becoming very indignant at the idea of W. J. Morrow controlling the grocery trade of the town and county. But never mind—be cautious—we will prove to all you grocers who are grappling for high prices that the time has arrived when W. J. Morrow will enlighten the public. Doing more of a cash business and a more extensive trade, he is better prepared to sell goods away down. Then again here are a lot of our best Toronto and Montreal houses clamouring for our trade, owing to our buying for cash, and hence the keen competition, thereby buying goods away below other houses. So a call will convince you that we are Peterborough's great Grocery House, 340 George-st.

St. Luke's Church.

The Port Hope Times says:—"It is a matter of congratulation that we have in our midst musical talent of rare attainments, which are often the means of bringing outside plaudits upon the possessors. Miss Spooner, of this town, is the fortunate person in this case, for she has received the appointment of organist and leader of the English Church choir in Ashburnham, a suburb of Peterborough. Miss Spooner will remove to Ashburnham temporarily. We congratulate the young lady on her success and feel confident she will prove a valuable addition to the church to which she goes as organist. Mr. Singleton, as her musical instructor, is deserving of credit for having brought his pupil to such a state of efficiency."

The Italian Will Sell on Sunday.

John Chear, the Italian who about two weeks ago was fined ten dollars and costs for selling goods on Sunday, seems determined to sell seven days a week in defiance of the law. Chear, it will be remembered, keeps a little shop on Aylmer-st. where he sells candies, tobacco, cigars, etc., and it would seem that his principal customers are boys. John was up at the Police Court this morning again charged with having sold goods on Sunday last, but he denied the charge. The Chief, however, had about a dozen young hopefuls arrayed in the court room as witnesses, and after four of these youngsters had told their story the Italian's guilt was established to the Magistrate's satisfaction. The first lad who gave his evidence was twelve years old by the almanac but probably would rate much older according to the fun he has had. He said he went to Chear's on Sunday last and bought ten cents worth of tobacco and five cents worth of figs, for both of which he paid his money. Another "mother's joy" aged fourteen years bought two cents worth of licorice on Sunday last and another, about ten years old, had treated himself to five cents worth of candies. Another boy had bought five cents worth of figs. Chear had no defence except that he closed on Sunday and the boys came and kicked his door until he opened it, and then they had promised not to tell if he would give them what they wanted. The Magistrate fined him $20 and costs—$24.50—and warned him if he did not close on Sunday he would send him to gaol.

MRS. L.—"You need'nt worry about your food, because I buy all my groceries from M. E. Kidd, and when he warrants a thing pure I know its so." ddl

SOME POPULAR BLUNDERS

REV. MR. CROSSLEY SPEAKS OF PEOPLE'S MISTAKES.

Rev. Mr. Hunter in St. Thomas—Rev. Mr. Pearson Explains His Absence—Blunders of the Saved, Unsaved and Seekers—Notes.

Rev. Mr. Hunter was not present at the service at the George-st. Church last evening, but was, as his fellow evangelist said, in the bosom of his family in St. Thomas. The crowd was, as usual, greater than the church would hold, and the services, notwithstanding Rev. Mr. Hunter's absence, were interesting.

NOT HIS FAULT.

When Rev. Mr. Pearson rose to make the announcements, he said that before doing so that he wished to state that he was not willingly absent from town on Thursday when the Scott Act fight was raging, but that important conferencial business had called him away. He said he made the statement because some of the whiskey sellers might think that he had taken refuge in some other place in order to avoid the fight. He said in his opinion there had never been a brighter day in the history of the temperance movement for it was the great failures in the church and world that often proved the greatest blessings. He believed the great cause of temperance would go on until it was settled right. He referred to the flags that were floating over many of the hotels in honor of the victory that the liquor men thought they had achieved and said that he believed that if there were flags in perdition they would also all be floating in honor of the occasion.

Rev. Mr. Crossley then sang one of the most beautiful of his many solos, "Two Lives."

As the audience sat with bowed heads Rev. Mr. Pearson read a number of requests for prayer and offered a brief prayer in their behalf.

A NUMBER OF BLUNDERS.

Rev. Mr. Crossley said he wanted to speak them of a number of blunders which many were making and chose for his text the words:

"He is faithful that promised."—Hebrews x; 23.

The rev. gentleman said this meant a great deal, for some person had counted and found that there were some 23,300 promises in the Bible. They had the assurance that God would be faithful to these promises, and he wanted to speak of some blunders many were making in considering these promises. The first was the blunder of cavilling at God's Word, and after briefly speaking of this, he passed on to a second blunder, that of confounding temptation with doubting. He said many of them were tempted to doubt after they had made a start in the right way, but they should never confound temptations with doubts, but rather let their temptations draw them nearer to God. The third blunder was that of giving up faith because of some temptation or sinful proclivities. The great question of deliverance was the attitude of the will, and they should not think of themselves, but of the Lord, and then if they still had the sinful proclivities they could say, "Lord, I trust Thee." A fifth blunder, the evangelist said, was that of comparing themselves with other persons. He pointed out that their faith might be the same and their feeling might be vastly different, as they manifested their feelings according to their temperaments. A fifth blunder was that of examining feeling instead of faith. The Methodists were inclined to examine whether they had been in the feeling, and the Presbyterians were not much better and the Baptists were not far behind, but he impressed upon them that only one thing they were told concerning and that was in II Corinthians, xiii and 5—"Examine yourselves whether ye be in the faith." So he told them not to examine themselves as to their feeling, but as to faith, and if they had God as the ground of that faith then all would be well. Another blunder was that of confounding doubts of themselves with doubts of the Lord. After dwelling on this point he went on to speak of some blunders that those who were not the Lord's made. The first of these was that of doubting that the Lord would keep them if they were saved. He asked them which they considered the greater, the Lord or the devil. A second blunder the unconverted made was that of not having a proper conception of the sin of unbelief. This was the father of the sin against love and sin of ingratitude, and he said if they would not think of the sins against life or their fellow men but think of the great love of God and, getting a proper conception of the sin of unbelief, come trusting they would be saved by the grace of God. Another blunder was that of putting off their conversion to some future time. Then in closing, the evangelist pointed out some blunders that seekers made, first that of starting and not going through and second that of seeking feeling or wishing to feel they were saved before they became the Lord's. After dwelling on these two blunders the rev. gentleman closed his sermon by telling them that whatever their state of mind might be, if they desired to be saved, they should give the Lord the right of way in their heart and by His grace He would save them.

TO EXAMINE THEMSELVES

The first meeting then closed after the singing of hymn and Rev. Mr. Crossley had earnestly exhorted the unsaved to seek the Lord.

NOTES.

To-morrow will be the evangelists last Sunday in Peterborough.

The two evangelists were to have gone to Lindsay to-day but as Rev. Mr. Hunter was in St. Thomas the visit was cancelled.

Rev. Mr. Crossley said last night that many had the idea that Mrs. Hunter was dangerously ill, but he said he had received a telegram from St. Thomas that afternoon stating "All is well."

There is no service announced at which the evangelists will take part to-morrow morning, but in the evening they will both be in the George-st. church.

Rev. Mr. Hall, of Smith, was on the platform last evening.

An Expensive Ride.

The railway authorities are bad men to fool with for they always make an example of any person who interferes with them on their train. Wm. Slade, the man who made himself so disagreeable on Conductor Stanton's train on the Midland a week ago Thursday, the full particulars of which appeared in the REVIEW at the time, appeared at the Police Court this morning charged with having committed malicious injury to the property of the Grand Trunk Railway Company and also for having used blasphemous language in a public place. Slade, who hails from Westwood, does not look like a man who would be guilty of the actions attributed to him unless while under the influence of liquor. He pleaded not guilty to the charge. Conductor Stanton told the circumstances of the case, how Slade had swore in a most appalling manner in the presence of ladies and then finally leaving the car at Keene, had thrown a violin he was carrying through a car window. A couple of other witnesses all testified to the language that was used and the Magistrate fined Slade $10 and costs and $1 compensation for the railway, amounting in all to $17.75. G.T.R. Detective Spence was present for the railway company.

A PROSPEROUS INSTITUTION.

Annual Meeting of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada.

The annual meeting of the Sun Life Assurance Company was held on Friday, March 1st, at the Company's offices, St. James-st., Montreal. The attendance was large.

THE DIRECTORS' REPORT.

The report of the Directors is as follows:

In again meeting the shareholders at our annual gathering, it is a pleasure to the directors to be able to report another year of rapid growth and continued and increasing prosperity.

During the year we received 2,485 applications for $[illegible] of life assurance, besides 1,279 for $[illegible] accident. Of these we accepted 2,255 for $3,000,515.00 in the life branch and 1,[illegible] for $2,794,400.00 in the accident, and policies were issued therefor. The total applications for new assurances were thus 3,735 for $8,217,[illegible].56, an exceedingly satisfactory showing.

The policies remaining in force at 31st December were as follows:

Life	8,[illegible]	$11,[illegible],300 00
Accident	2,[illegible]	4,[illegible],[illegible] 00
Total	10,[illegible]	$16,[illegible],300 00

The figures are an advance of nearly $3,000,000 over those of 1887, and show the very rapid rate at which the Company is progressing.

The total income was $525,273.56. This is by far the largest amount we have ever received in one year; and the increase would have been even more marked, but for the fact that in 1887 our income was augmented from the profits which were then distributed, for, in accordance with the regulations of the Government Insurance Department, the cash value of all bonuses added to policies during the year were included in the Revenue Account as single premiums for so much additional assurance.

The amount paid for claims by death was $[illegible], which is somewhat heavier than in 1887. We must, however, expect this item to steadily increase, since our business is rapidly extending. It is satisfactory, however, to know that the total is considerably less than the mortality tables call for.

As will be seen by the annexed statements the income exceeded the expenditure by $237,631.53, which is a handsome sum to set aside from the transactions of the year. The total resources at the end of the year were almost $2,000,000, and this sum has, of course, been more than reached by the present date. It is noteworthy that we now add each year to our assets a sum which in the early history of the Company would have taken five or six years to accumulate. We have, moreover, in addition already returned to our policyholders about $1,000,000. The comfort and assistance which this sum has been to the widows and orphans of the land can hardly be appreciated.

The usual careful audit of the accounts has been made by Messrs. P. S. Ross & Sons, chartered accountants. Besides checking all entries and vouchers, they have communicated personally with each of the borrowers named in the Company's books, and have thus ascertained that the balances in the mortgage account are correct. A committee of Directors have, besides, scrutinized every bond and mortgage, and they certify that everything is in perfect order.

The directors who retire are:—Messrs. W. J. Withall, S. H. Ewing and R. Macaulay, all of whom are eligible for re-election.

THOMAS WORKMAN, President.
R. MACAULAY, Managing Director.

(Including uncalled Capital the surplus to policy holders is $[illegible],057 27).

The President, Mr. Thomas Workman, said:—I have much pleasure in moving the adoption of the report. I am not in the habit of praising things unduly, but I cannot withhold my unqualified satisfaction with the report and the condition it reveals. The first and paramount consideration with the directors has been to build up a solid and permanent structure. The foundation was firmly laid, and the superstructure we are rearing is meant to be lasting. Of late years the progress has been very rapid and in view of our limited population and the keen competition from both home and foreign sources it is marvellous that we should transact nearly three and a half millions of new life business and nearly three millions of accident assurance all in one year. Both the organization and its agents are to be congratulated on such magnificent results. It means that we had on an average $[illegible] every week, or about $[illegible] every working day the year round. Bringing it down in that way shows what a busy hive of workers the Company has, both in the field and at headquarters. I have briefly adverted to the competition from American companies. It is remarkable that not one British or Canadian life company can do business in the United States, and yet our laws allow their companies to freely compete with our home companies. I heartily coincide with my friend, the Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, in thinking that our wealthy citizens would do better in patronizing our home institutions. I am sure in regard to security they may go abroad and find less than what can be had at their own doors. Many of our wealthier people have the idea that because a company may have large assets its security and ability to pay losses are proportionately great. That view errs in overlooking the fact of a correspondingly large indebtedness. If there are millions of funds there are millions of liabilities to the policy holders, and if any of these companies, however large, were to cease to transact new business these funds would be needed to wind up the Company as the claims from deaths and endowments would come in. I wish I could strongly impress upon the insuring public that our home companies as regards security and every other desideratum, are certainly equal to foreign companies, while it should be more convenient and more agreeable to every loyal Canadian to be actively helping to build up our home institutions.

Mr. James Tucker seconded the adoption of the report. He had closely watched the progress of the Company, and found it had been very rapid and substantial. He felt convinced that in the future it will be even more marked. The gains from time to time were well illustrated by the following table:—

Period.	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.
1872 to 1876, four yrs	$ [illegible]	$ [illegible]
1876 to 1880, four yrs	[illegible]	[illegible]
1880 to 1884, four yrs	[illegible]	[illegible]
1884 to 1888, four yrs	[illegible]	[illegible]
Total in 1888	$525,273 56	$1,974,316 21

Period.	Gain in assurances.
1872 to 1876, four yrs	$ 1,1[illegible]
1876 to 1880, four yrs	1,1[illegible]
1880 to 1884, four yrs	[illegible]
1884 to 1888, four yrs	[illegible]
Total in 1888	$11,[illegible]

Mr. E. K. Greene complimented the company on the prosperous condition of its affairs. He was particularly well pleased with the amount of the new business and hoped the rate of progress would be continued.

Mr. S. H. Ewing referred to the accident business. He considered that the liberal policy and dealing of the company should enable the agents to increase the business in this branch. Under the new policy, one-third or the whole of the sum assured is paid on the loss of one, or two arms, legs, hands, or both eyes. The company has just paid the first claim under this policy to a miller who had his leg amputated, for which the company paid $1,666.67, or one-third of the sum assured.

The adoption of the report was unanimously carried.

Mr. Chas. Alexander moved a vote of thanks to the President and directors for the very able and careful manner in which they had conducted matters during the past year. Having been with the Company since its inception, it was a source of much satisfaction to him to witness its success. He also stated that he was pleased to see present one of the first agents of the company, Mr. Thos. Gilroy, who now has charge of Manitoba and the North-West Territories.

Mr. H. W. C. Meyer, Wingham, Ont., in seconding the motion, said it gave him very great pleasure to be present for the first time at a meeting of the Company. The admirable report in the hands of the meeting proved the Company to be second to none in the Dominion. Although not an agent himself he knew that a staff of first-class agents is of paramount importance to a company, and he also knew that the Sun Life has a body of men in its service that could not be duplicated in Canada. The Canadian offices need not be afraid of competition. The climate of the country is healthy, our doctors are careful and reliable and all the conditions are favorable for the best success of our native companies. It was right and advantageous to patronize them and he fully believed this would be done more and more as time went on.

The motion was carried.

The President responded, thanking the meeting on behalf of the directors and himself.

Mr. W. J. Withall proposed a vote of thanks to the managing director, office staff, medical referee, solicitor, notary and agents. After remarking upon the excellence of the report he stated that a company such as the Sun, was like a ship which could not be properly manned without good officers and men. He could vouch for the fact that the Company had both good officers and men. Mr. Macaulay, the Managing Director, was the beaver of the institution, and all the others did their part faithfully and well. He also paid a just compliment to the Medical Referee, Dr. Wilkins, and the medical examiners generally. He further referred to the very important matter of settling claims, saying that as soon as a claim is proved it is good for a cheque at sight.

Mr. A. Macpherson, in seconding the resolution, agreed with everything that had been said by Mr. Withall. He was proud of the position of the Company and the fine results shown in the report. The Directors were always glad to do anything in their power to help along the agents.

Mr. R. Macaulay, the managing director, said the statement was a very satisfactory one. The progress was general, being very noticeable in every department. The Company is well established in public confidence, and the progress will be much more rapid in the future. Should this year's crops be good, and the trade of the country prosperous, he felt sure there will be a yet greater improvement in the Company's business for 1889. While the cash income had largely increased, the expense ratio had decreased fully three per cent. These facts could not fail to give satisfaction. Every branch was being carefully watched over. Dr. Wilkins continues, with his well known ability, to supervise the medical department. Mr. Selkirk Cross, as legal counsel, and Mr. C. Cushing, as notary, are indefatigable in their attention to the investments, and the actuary and office staff have his unqualified confidence in the discharge of their duties. The agents deserve more than a passing word of thanks,—all had done well, and it was a pleasure to himself and reflected credit on the Company to have such a staff in its employ.

Mr. T. B. Macaulay, actuary, drew attention to the great progress which Canadian life companies are making in the Dominion. The following table, taken from the Government blue book is instructive:—

	New Assurance 1888	The same 1887
Canadian companies	$ 8,577,5[illegible]	$ 24,[illegible]
American companies	[illegible]	11,476,721

	Assurance in force in Canada 1888	The same 1887
Canadian companies	$[illegible]	$101,796,784
American companies	[illegible]	61,734,137

This shows that Canadians are appreciating more thoroughly every year the advantages offered by their own institutions and patronizing them more generally. The fact that the Company received the unusually high rate of 6.13 per cent. on all its realized assets is striking, and if the profits made on sales of bonds be included the rate would be raised to 6.46 per cent., a very remarkable showing in these days. The matter is a very important one for assurers, as the profits they receive depend largely on the rate of interest realized by the Company. An institution earning 6 per cent. has a great advantage over one earning only 4½ per cent. If each has $1,000,000 invested, the first one will at the end of a little over twenty years have not only as much on hand as the other, but an accumulated profit of another $1,000,000 derived from the excess of interest it has received. In view of the high rate of interest the Sun earns and the exceedingly prosperous condition of the business, he felt certain the profits of the next division will be large and satisfactory.

Mr. Selkirk Cross, solicitor, testified to the care in selecting mortgages, and the soundness of the investments generally. He was so well pleased with the management and had such unbounded confidence in the Company that he had recently largely increased his insurance in it.

Mr. Cushing also alluded briefly to the attention and prudence used in investing the funds. He even sometimes thought a little too much caution was used. It would be hard to have matters otherwise than sound and safe, as nearly every time he came to the office he found the President or some of the chief men of the Company there, which indicated the interest they took in its affairs.

Mr. J. G. Ross paid a high compliment to the manner in which the Company's books are kept. As auditor, he knew all about the Company, and was exceedingly pleased with the position of matters. He referred at length to the plan of getting acknowledgements from mortgagors of the correctness of the amounts at their debit, which is a peculiarity with the Sun.

Mr. Thos. Gilroy, Winnipeg, thanked the meeting for their kind expressions. There is a very close community of interest between the Head Office and its agents which leads all to work together for the common good, and the result is a splendid statement before them. He had been at the early meetings and certainly the difference between then and now was most striking. By steady progress the Sun has become one of the largest and best offices in the country. None are in a better position or have a better prospect; none, he believed, will be able to do more for its members.

A number of gentlemen spoke, expressing approval and confidence in the position and prospects of the Company.

During the course of the meeting a resolution was unanimously passed expressing sympathy with the President on account of the very serious illness of Mrs. Workman.

The retiring Directors were re-elected by acclamation.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board, Messrs. Thomas Workman and Senator Ogilvie were re-elected president and vice-president respectively.

A Happy Father.

On Monday last the wife of Mr. Absalom Northey, of North Smith, says the Lakefield Chronicle, gave birth to triplets—two girls and a boy. The mother and children are all doing well.

Ladies' Work Sale.

A sale of useful and fancy work under the auspices of the Ladies' Society of St. Andrew's Church, will be held on Tuesday, April 30th. The ladies contributing articles will kindly leave them at the Manse before that date. Further particulars later. 4d82

Masonic Notes.

W. Bro. D. Spence, of Peterborough Lodge No. 155, is still confined to the house by illness, though somewhat better.

A committee has been appointed from Peterborough Masonic lodge to act in conjunction with a similar committee from Corinthian Lodge in arranging details for the annual excursion under the auspices of the order.

Personal.

The Lindsay Post says:—"Mr. John Kincaid, of Peterborough, was in town Saturday, genial and hearty as usual. He purposes going to the Northwest again in a short time."

Rev. Mr. Dewey, of Lindsay, passed through to-day on his way to Norwood, where he preaches anniversary services in the Methodist church to-morrow. The rev. gentleman will remain in Peterborough on his return journey for the evangelistic services on Tuesday evening.

Local Legal.

At Osgoode Hall before Galt, C. J., the following local case is reported by the Empire:—Curry v. Berry.—Marten, for plaintiff, moved to continue an injunction restraining the defendant Berry, chattel mortgagee, from interfering with the mortgaged chattels, the action being by the assignee of the defendant Marner for the benefit of creditors, to set aside the chattel mortgage. Poussette, Q. C., for the defendant Berry, contra. Motion turned by consent into a motion for judgment and argued. Reserved.

THE ELOPEMENT.

Mr. Carter's Toronto Career—An Incorrect Rumor.

There are no new developments in the Carter elopement. It was the subject of general conversation last evening, and the particulars given in the REVIEW were eagerly read. No word has been received from either Mr. Carter or Miss Graham.

It was reported this morning that Mrs. Graham, mother of the departed girl, had died last night, but the rumor was fortunately not true. Mrs. Graham, however, is nearly prostrated with grief. Three of Miss Graham's brothers are in the States, and they have been communicated with and will keep a look out for the couple.

The choir of St. Andrew's met last evening for the regular weekly practice, but without the organist. Miss Lundy presided at the organ.

CARTER'S TORONTO RECORD.

The Toronto World says:—"The World learned last night that Carter came to this city about 1882. He was organist at the Church of the Redeemer for about two years, when he accepted a similar position in St. James' Cathedral, in which church he was married to the daughter of a man named Playter, who kept a restaurant on Church-st. Carter said he was a widower previous to this marriage. By his second marriage he had two children, one of whom died of diphtheria, and over the loss of whom he showed considerable grief. He held the position of organist at St. James' for two years, during which time he performed his duties in a very satisfactory manner, being an efficient player and attentive to his charge. He was never considered to be immoral, but was always hard up and frequently in debt. He always seemed very kind to his family. His last place of residence in town was No. 11 Hayden-st."

Those Watering Carts.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee meets to-night to consider the tenders for the two new watering carts. They will soon be needed now.

Should Have One.

J. C. Spence & Sons, makers of stained glass windows, of Montreal, have written the Town Clerk asking for a leaf of the Corporation seal of the town as they have to place it in a stained glass window in the new G. T. R. station in Montreal. Unfortunately Peterborough never had a registered seal, but will have to procure one for the occasion.

Brevities.

—The cells were tenantless last night.

—There was a good market this morning.

—John Scott, a drunk, was run in by Chief Roszel at noon to-day.

—A meeting of the corporators of the Board of Trade will be held on Thursday night next in the Council Chamber.

—Arrangements are being made to organise a lodge of the Sons of England Society in Lakefield.

—There will be a special meeting of the W.C.T.U. in their hall, George-st., on Monday at 4 p.m.

CHINA HALL

CHINA GLASS AND QUEENS WARE

Immense sums have been paid for rare specimens of antique China. Think of $3,500 being given for a china plate cracked at that. Consider $24,000 as the market value of a set of 120 pieces of Sèvres china. Hold in one hand a cup and saucer and in the other hand the $2,000 that the cup and saucer brought at a Parisian auction. Truly, the craze of collectors for rare specimens of Palissy ware, has given fictitious values to many an unpretentious plate and cup. When money is tight it is a comfort to think of $3,500 being paid for a hawthorn jug that would barely hold a quart of milk. These are prices that astonish, but the curious side of the question is that at China Hall you can secure full sets of China that will grace any tea table for so little money that anyone can afford the outlay. Not only China, but good substantial dinner sets fit to set out the table of an M. P. or Mayor. Come to CHINA HALL and see what money will do. You'll not have to spend the value of six first-class farms for a China Tea Set.

BEAUTIFUL JIM.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER

Jim handed her a chair. "You had better sit down, had you not?" he said, in the same civil tone. "I shall not keep you long, but you look ill. You had better sit down."

Miss Mocking sat down. Jim, on the contrary, stood up with his back to the fire; there was a moment's silence.

"You are perhaps a little surprised at my wishing to see you," Jim began, "and I dare say you will be more surprised still when you have heard what I have to say to you. I wanted, however, to see you about the evidence you gave at the inquest the other day."

"What about it? I told all I knew," the bar maid flashed out.

"Excuse me," said Jim, very politely, "but you did nothing of the kind—you told very little and, as it happens, you know a great deal."

Miss Mocking started up from her chair, but Jim motioned to her to sit down, motioned with a gesture so imperative that she was compelled to obey.

"You did not tell the truth, Miss Mocking," said he, severely, "and though it is possible you do not know it, they call false evidence by the ugly name of perjury."

"And what did I say false?" She framed the words with her pallid and trembling lips rather than spoke them.

"You implied a great deal. You suppressed all that passed between you and Capt. Owen about a ring you were wearing at the time. You did not tell the jury that you had given your word to Capt. Owen that you would have nothing more to do with Mr. Earle, or that the self same night you broke your word, while it was almost yet in your mouth, and actually told Mr. Earle what sent him straight back to barracks in a blind passion, and"——

"Sir," said she, rising and going toward him, "as there is a God in heaven above me I did not break my word at all. I told him—Tom, that is—that I'd have no more to do with him, that I'd seen how set against a marriage his people would be, and how it would be the ruin of him. I told him his father would never overlook it or receive me, and that we couldn't be married without his father, for we couldn't live on nothing. And then Tom went into a fury—poor boy, he is that passionate—and asked for the ring. So I had to out and tell him that I'd given it to Capt. Owen and that he could get it from him. And with that he just cursed me and Capt. Owen, too, and went; and I never saw him again till I saw him at the inquest."

"Is that true?" Jim asked, searchingly.

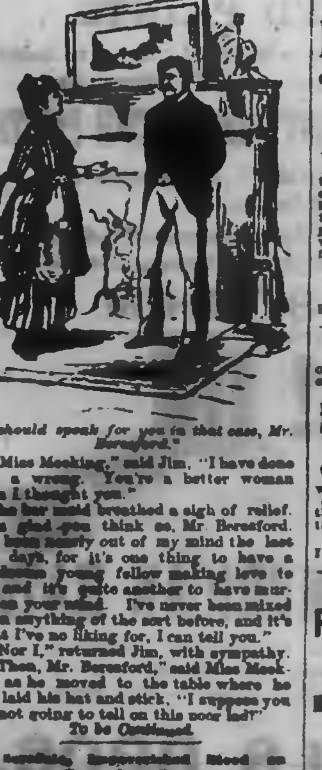
"True as that God is above us," Rose Mocking answered, solemnly. "Mr. Beresford, I'd no idea of his going back and murdering him, and if I shielded him it was because I believed in my heart the poor lad was beside himself when he did it."

"And supposing that suspicion had grown against me?" said Jim. "Would you have shielded him at the cost of my life?"

"No, Mr. Beresford, I would not. If you had not been cleared that day I should have given him the chance of getting away, and then I should have spoken out. It was that that made me so nervous and frightened before the jury. I was terrified lest I should clear one at the expense of the other."

"But do you know that I am not clear?" said Jim, gravely. "So long as this mystery remains I may be brought up again at any time and charged with my friend's murder."

"I should speak for you in that case, Mr. Beresford," said the bar maid, with dignity.



"I should speak for you in that case, Mr. Beresford."

"Miss Mocking," said Jim, "I have done you a wrong. You're a better woman than I thought you."

The bar maid breathed a sigh of relief. "I'm glad you think so, Mr. Beresford. I've been nearly out of my mind the last few days, for it's one thing to have a handsome young fellow making love to you and it's quite another to have murder on your mind. I've never been mixed up in anything of the sort before, and it's what I've no liking for, I can tell you."

"Nor I," returned Jim, with sympathy.

"Then, Mr. Beresford," said Miss Mocking, as he moved to the table where he had laid his hat and stick, "I suppose you are not going to tell on this poor lad?"

HELD BY A HOWLING MOB.

Brutal Factional Fight Between Cleveland and Hill Factions at Cohoes.

ALBANY, April 5.—Cohoes has been in the hands of a Democratic mob all day, and to-night the condition of affairs is unchanged with drunken brawlers and excited adherents of the two Democratic factions still excitedly discussing the situation. The Democratic primaries to nominate supervisors, aldermen and a city ticket were held to-day. On the one side was the Cleveland following directed by D. Cady Herrick from Albany with Postmaster Larkin and ex-County Clerk Larkin in immediate command. On the other side was the Hill following directed by Edward Murphy, jr., from Troy with Mayor Garside in immediate command. The rioting was confined to three of the wards. In the other two the Larkin regulars had things their own way, and nominated their men by majorities of 6 and 7. In the other three wards violence was the rule. The Larkin men had the inspectors, the Garside men had the police.

Some time ago one of the police commissioners was "induced" to turn the force over to the control of the mayor, who turned out the old force and formed an entirely new one. The police were present at the polls in force. Civilians sworn in as specials were left in control of the station house. In one of the wards after the regulars had admitted the watcher of the other side to the polling place one of the police endeavored to force his way in. He was warned to desist, but persisted, and with a sledge hammer battered down the door. He was struck on the head with a lead pipe. A hole was cut through his cheek and staggering back covered with blood he fell outside the poll. Then the riot began, pistols, knives and clubs were used. The ballot box was smashed and both sides claimed the victory. No one was fatally injured except, possibly, the policeman.

While this was transpiring, in another ward a policeman endeavored to make his way into the polling place through a saloon next door. He was choked by the proprietor until black in the face, thrown over the bar and kicked into the street. In another ward a policeman battered a man over the head, inflicting injuries which are reported fatal.

Small fights were of constant occurrence. A dozen men are reported seriously if not fatally disabled. The factional feeling runs so high and the disturbance is so great that it is almost impossible to secure full and reliable news.

After the regular primaries were broken up they were continued in the midst of groups of the opposing factions. Two Democratic city tickets and two [illegible] candidates in each ward will be the result. The condition of the policeman who was struck with the lead pipe cannot be definitely ascertained.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery, it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.
